PACIFIC "COMBED" IN EARHART SEARCH

SEVEN SHIPS AND 57 AIRCRAFT TAKING PART

Distress Signals Heard

AIRWOMAN'S VOICE, GROWING FAINTER AND FAINTER, HEARD IN AMERICA

The greatest rescue expedition in the history of flying is "combing" the Pacific in the Howland Island area in search for Miss Amelia Earhart and her navigator Captain Noonan.

The expedition comprises 3,000 men, 57 aeroplanes, a battleship, four destroyers, an aircraft carrier and a Coastguard cutter.

It is reported that wireless distress signals have been heard from the lost machine, growing fainter and fainter again, presumably, batteries began to run down.

"Keep Your Spirits Up"

[THOMAS NEUTER'S AGENCY]

From Miss Earhart: Others stated that they heard Miss Earhart's voice growing weaker and weaker.

Her radio messages were either telephone or Morse code.

Communications but the instruments had been damaged by water, making the broadcast of messages impossible.

Radios Heard Report

Pan-American Airways' latest message purporting to be from Miss Earhart said that she is about 300 miles from Howland Island; and that the aeroplane was in the carrier wave as they spread the instructions.

The first report on the spot—the Coastguard cutter "Tern"—arrived today in the region of Howland Island but has failed to find any trace of the airmen.

Requirement

"Keep your spirits up" was the message broadcast from the Honolulu station last night for the benefit of Miss Earhart and Captain Noonan.

There have been further reports from amateur radio stations in America of signals apparently giving birth to the legend.

INGENIOUS BOMB ATTACK ON PORTUGAL'S PREMIER

READY TO FLY ATLANTIC

Empire Flying Boat on Shannon

Two-Way Experiment

SIMULTANEOUS START FROM EAST AND WEST

July 5.

The British and American flying boats are now waiting at both ends of the Atlantic in readiness to begin the first two-way transatlantic flight. This flight will be the first stage inaugurating the regular mail and passenger air services between London and New York.

Cloud and engine trouble prevent the start of the first flight, however, before such a passenger service becomes an actuality. This summer there will be a period of trials and experimental flights, and when sufficient experience has been gained the mail service will be inaugurated. A considerable time is therefore likely to elapse before passengers are carried.

Joint Company

Yesterday, Imperial Airways' flying boat "Calypso" alighted at Foyers, County Lanarkshire, Scotland, after a nonstop flight from Foyers to Rosyth. She will carry 2,250 gallons of petrol, and a total weight of 45,000 lbs.

Three days later, a flying boat "Clipper" from Newfoundland on the eastern crossing.

Sixteen Hours?

Flying against the anticipated prevailing west wind, the "Calypso" is expected to take about 16 hours to fly from Foyers to New York. She will carry 2,250 gallons of petrol, and a total weight of 45,000 lbs.

The "Calypso" is an Imperial Airways plane of great experience, well commanded by Captains H. J. Williams and two radio operators with him.

DOCTOR SÁLAZAR ESCAPES UNHURT

Aks "Why This Excitement?"

[THOMAS NEUTER'S AGENCY]

Dr. Salazar, Premier and virtual dictator of Portugal, yesterday escaped an attempt on his life. He was about to enter a chapel to hear Mass, a bomb exploded, damaging the pavement. The Premier was unhurt.

The bomb was placed in a gutter near the entrance to the chapel where Dr. Salazar was due to enter. A 200 yard cable ran along the gutter and round a corner from the bomb. It was connected with a button which was apparently set to go off when the priest entered the church.

Several of these bombs have been seen.

Dom Basílio Wedge, the Foreign Minister, was also present at the service.

Immediately the confusion was over, Dr. Salazar said: "Now, ladies and gentlemen, why all this excitement? Let us go in and attend Mass."

These small ones are said to be no longer than three feet.

Dr. Salazar stopped from his motor car.

Immediately the confusion was over, Dr. Salazar said: "Now, ladies and gentlemen, why all this excitement? Let us go in and attend Mass."

The correspondence said to him: "The motor car is all right, the motor is something of a joke. What do you really think about it? What is your explanation of it?"

He replied: "The so-called minister has been here in this district for some time. Unfortunately it has been actionless and to some extent the same extent as the present government. I myself have seen the minister.

The length is more or less over thirty feet, and it is undoubtedly a replica of unknown origin.

"Such operations might conveniently exist in the dark depths of the Atlantic Ocean, where the waters are at least 300 fathoms deep and full of caves and caverns."

In Ireland

"These extend in all directions under the hills surrounding the town."

"Plenty of air holes can be found in the hills to the caverns below, and it is not unreasonable to suppose that in these whistlers' holes there may be traps prepared by persons of predatory instincts still continuing to exist."

Irish News, which would make it a suitable hiding place for a quiet life.

"The hole never freezes over in the winter months because of the salt water of the sea."

"I have not seen any signs of the salt water, but I have no reason to suppose that the water of the salt water is the salt water of the salt water."

"I was extremely interested in the American fishing boat which was definitely engaged in the salt water."

"The hole may be used as a salt water bath at the proper place, because the salt water is very strong."

If you won't clean your teeth properly, how on earth can you expect me to stop them from decaying

Many people seem to think that teeth look their themselves, and that if anything goes wrong they only have to visit a dentist. Any dentist will tell you that this is an entirely mistaken idea.

You must clean your teeth twice every day. Otherwise, particles of food settle between the teeth, decay, and break down.

Toothpastes for years have recommended ODOL Toothpaste because it is so thorough and so effective. ODOL not only cleans the back and front of the teeth, but also penetrates in between them and removes stains without damaging the enamel. ODOL helps to massage the gums and keeps them firm and healthy.

It has a pleasant, refreshing taste and is very economical in use.

"HUMAN RADIO SETS"

Strange Power of Two Men

BODIES AS MEDIUM

[STANFORD] CORRESPONDENT.]

London, June 25.—An extraordinary story has been told by Monika Ostrova, an industrial student at Crocus-Shabolovka Technical University, 20th, and Borodit Vlasyuk, aged 21, who have created a sensation because they can receive and transmit radio programmes from as far apart as London and Breda through the medium of their own bodies without the aid of any radio sets.

Suggestions that the whole affair was a trick or a practical joke were foisted on the world from time to time since to have been triggered off by the international and educational interest shown by the two Russians, who recently visited the "human radio sets" experiment at the University of Breda to test the experiment.

Dr. Ernest Litschauer, Rector of the Karlsruhe University, both came away from the experiment satisfied but without any explanation for the mystery.

Other Experiments

Before it took place they explained two main phenomena and the spectators were surprised. Although both procedures were unusual in their character, the two students, two Moravians, conjured up music out of the air, they could not hear it, but they could understand the radio signals which would not be possible until the experiment had been run on its own.

At present the students are carrying on a series of experiments in a cellar in their own room—19 ft. long and 6 ft. wide. After a few minutes of deep breathing with a severe contraction of the body muscles, there is first a trial of the radio waves which the bodies are charged with enough electricity.

The two hold hands and after a few minutes the spectators are astonished to hear the music of a radio programme coming from the loud-speakers. When the music reaches a crescendo the bodies are charged with enough electricity.

According to Frans Kitter, a local radio dealer, who followed the proceedings, the students were able to receive one transmission at least from ten stations, including Budapest, Paris, and London.

20 COUNTRIES APPROVE ANGLO-FRENCH PLAN

Some is over ready to perform the task which seems always to fall upon us in this country. In the last few weeks nearly 80,000 Spanish refugees have been granted to safety under the protection of the British flag. Before that momentous event, however, there will be thousands of Spanish women and children who have been the prisoners of British ships in Spanish waters.

"I have been told by important members of foreign countries in the long course of my work, that rearmament is weakened by many nations, because they realize that Britain is the most powerful in Europe. Brussels is the summit guarantee to peace that can exist,"—British Official Witness Testifies.

TRIUMPH FOR ATLANTIC AIR SERVICES

SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENTAL FLIGHTS

Uneventful Two-way Crossing

EAST AND WEST-BOUND CRAFT TAKE TWELVE AND FORTY-EIGHT HOURS RESPECTIVELY

Complete success attended the first experimental two-way crossing of the Atlantic preparatory to the joint Imperial Airways and Pan-American Airways mail and passenger service.

The Empire flying boat "Caledonia," flying west, crossed from Foyes, on the Shannon, to Bowood, Newfoundland, in about 144 hours. The American craft "Clipper III" did the opposite flight in just over 125 hours. Westerly winds make the east-west crossing the more difficult.

Despite thick cloud and rain storms the flights were without incident, and constant contact with land and sea wireless receivers was maintained.

Air Minister's Congratulations

WILLIAM BETTEN'S ADDRESS.]
London, July 6.
Imperial Airways flying boat "Caledonia" successfully completed its first transatlantic flight from Foyes, on the Shannon, to Bowood, Newfoundland, in 144 hours. The American craft "Clipper III" did the opposite flight in just over 125 hours. Westerly winds make the east-west crossing the more difficult.

On the return flight the "Caledonia" had covered 1,340 miles in 120 hours, and the "Clipper III" 1,240 miles.

"Caledonia" left Foyes at 8.20 and alighted at Bowood at 10.30 a.m.

"Clipper III" arrived at Harbour at 10.50 a.m. The crossing was made in 125 hours.

Colonel Gray, in command of the "Clipper III," was officially welcomed by Foyes, on the Shannon, and Foyes by Mr. De Valera.

THICK CLOUD
Plot Reports "Buddy" to Foyes

Rugby, July 6.—From the flying boats that they planned through cloud and fog, the constant wireless communication, with their parent ship, maintained, with their movement. The journey was apparently uneventful.

Leaving Foyes last Saturday morning, the "Caledonia" had to fly on a direct route, following a straight line, although this was a shorter distance than it would avoid, the eight or nine miles along the coast being made to compensate for a particular speed. The flight, purely as test, took 144 hours, and 120 miles, and the weather was maintained at a temperature of 70° F. The "Caledonia" had been communicating by wireless, also made her passage in 144 hours, during the flight, in company with many vessels passed. At the end of the day, the weather was not to the best advantage, and for the reason that the clouds from 20 to 25 hours, owing to weather conditions.

CONDITIONS NOW ALMOST NORMAL

Practically all the ships have returned to work, after the flood, to resume their normal operations, now practically normal.

[TENNIS SECTION'S ANSWER]

Carnoustie, July 1.

Weather conditions did not look too propitious for the British Open golf championship which commenced here yesterday. On Sunday the rain had stopped but the clouds over the district with the result that both the Carnoustie and Burnside courses were practically waterlogged. The greenkeeper had to do more mowing than usual of paths of water, and there were indications that the course was not quite as dry as Hoylake last year.

Yesterday morning, however, the sun shone brightly enough to such an extent that when the play began the clouds drove away, the playing conditions were perfect.

The qualifying rounds are being played over the championship course itself, Carnoustie, and the qualifying rounds are being played over the Burnside.

Yesterday's and today's rounds were qualifying affairs, and all those fitting for the final will compete in the championship rounds.

Other sport will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Kenya, which begins to-morrow, the sixth consecutive year.

Yesterday's second round of the championship proper will play two more times, and the aggregate of the four rounds will decide the champion.

Arthur Judge, the reigning champion, is second over the Burnside course, and is not less than a two leaders. British players are well represented in the leading rounds.

THE EAST AFRICAN STANDARD

K. F. A. MARKET REPORT

Violent Fluctuations in Wheat

Following is quoted the Kenya Farmers' Association's weekly market report, dated July 6:-

Mines

The market is quiet. Americans are continuing to buy in the United Kingdom and are continuing to hold to much smaller quantities. Shippers from South Africa continue to effect sales, and have been without attracting buyers.

Rhodesian maize is quoted freely at present. It would appear that unless the plateau of prices improves, prices of White Maize will remain static.

Further information shows that both White and White Maize are now about 25/-/sd, see quote.

Wheat

WELCOME FIREBIES IN UGANDA

Kampala is Now a
Quagmire
TRANSITION STAGE

[STANDARD'S CORRESPONDENT]

Kampala, July 2.
For the past month we have been experiencing the most terrible weather conditions in Uganda. We have had a week of rain with very little sun, and the temperature has been approaching 100° F. in the evenings. It is rather interesting to note that the news from Kampala is not always reliable. In the papers about it. It is rather difficult to get a clear picture of the weather in Kampala and the saying goes but it is brought along with it a certain amount of sickness among the Europeans and very bad disease in the climate and colds have put a number of people here to combat the rainy days on end.

In Kampala

The recent rains have converted the roads into a veritable quagmire. The roads are in a terrible condition and visitors to the town should be extremely careful when driving there. Unexpected turns appear in the centre of the town and cuts and bumps are the rule rather than the exception.

The main street through the town is the Banda Road. Banda Road is in a terrible condition and moving and moving vehicles are now avoiding the road from the centre of the town to the outskirts of the road which is now almost impassable.

On the Banda Road, which is planted with great trees, there are some cases of the roads are now taking shape again and the roads will ready for a year or so.

It is up to the drivers to be especially as one has to get from the outskirts of the town to the centre of the town.

The Steamer Service in Uganda is a very large one, especially for the town of Kampala which is a hill. There is a tremendous amount of concrete work to be done there raising out going up the various roads and everywhere. But it is hoped that the work will be completed, some other important work will still not start and dig out the roads and put down some cables. We are not an abnormal world.

THE SPRINGBOKS IN AUSTRALIA

First Rugby Test at Sydney

Tourists Fine Play SAFETY FIRST BACK LINE

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENTS.]
Capetown.

Determined not to risk another defeat with its consequences and the morale of the team, the Springboks decided any idea of repeat football when they were not Australia's first Rugby Test match at Sydney.

The South Africans concentrated on grim and implacable scrummaging, the tourists playing safe at every turn of the socks stood right on top of the Australian giving them no latitude whatsoever.

Indeed so eager were the Springboks on the defence that they were offside in their preventive tackling.

South Africa started the great game in winning fashion, winning the first scrum and driving the Australian "23" where a forced kick stood right on top of the Australian giving them no latitude whatsoever.

JEWS' STRONG ATTACK ON PALESTINE PLAN

ZIONISTS SAY "MANDATE IS NOT UNWORKABLE"

Commissioner's Broadcast

CALM AND NON-COMMITAL RECEPTION IN JERUSALEM

Exhorting Jews to remain calm, the executive of the Zionist Organization has issued a statement strongly criticizing the Palestine Commission's report and challenging the "underlying assumption" that the present Mandate is inherently unworkable.

The first reaction observed in Palestine to the partition proposals, which were revealed in a broadcast by the High Commissioner, Sir Arthur Waughoe, on Wednesday night, was stated to be "calm and non-committal."

The Permanent Mandates Commission has been summoned to meet at Geneva on July 30.

"Hope for Persecuted"

[THROUGH BRITISH'S AGENCEY]

LONDON, July 7.—Mandate will of course continue in operation until it has been replaced by the Executive of the Zionist Organization, which has now issued a statement challenging the "underlying assumption" that the present Mandate is inherently unworkable.

The statement challenges the report that the present Mandate is inherently unworkable, and adds firmly that the report comes at a time when the majority of persecuted Jews Palestine represents the only hope of salvation.

Broadcast from Zanzibar

Jerusalem, July 7.—The acceptance of the Committee's recommendations by the High Commissioner, Sir Arthur Waughoe, broadcasting to the British colony last night.

Immediately after the broadcast announcement of the finding of the Committee, Sir Arthur gave a speech in the High Commissioner's office in the High Commissioner's residence, and said he had undertaken to encourage co-operation between Arabs and Jews to remove the difficulties of partition. He urged urgent steps to be taken to realize the advantages of partition, and to make it a reality and create a new era of mutual respect for Arabs and Jews alike.

Meeting "Balm"

Immediately following the broadcast speech, Sir Arthur gave a speech before other officials and representatives of both peoples.

The meeting, which was held in the High Commissioner's residence, was opened by Sir Arthur, who said there had been no better solution could have been found than the one proposed.

The Daily Herald, however, pointed out that Sir Arthur's speech did not contain any specific proposal for the future of Palestine.

The Manchester Guardian pointed out that the strongest reason why the Zionists had examined closely the advantages which partition offers them. After examining the report, it adds: "There is, however, a strong case for both peoples. Does it not seem reasonable that the free ultimate self-determination of both peoples, may be found in the final partition?"—British Official.

POLO IN SOUTH AFRICA

Visit of the Kenya Team

"We had a wonderful time," said Mr. G. B. Brewster, who has come up from South Africa as a member of the polo team which won the 1936 British Open championship by 10 goals to 6 added Mr. Brewster. "We were right royally entertained and nothing was too much trouble for anyone we met or interviewed."

In a way it was a rather unique tour as the polo team which had ever visited South Africa, and a great deal was made of it, as one of the highlights of the tour. In addition, we were the guests of Sirs of the Imusa Polo Club at the Royal Club, and were shown the sights of another golf course in Kenya by a tour of the South African golf course, our first game.

One impression Mr. Brewster got and which he will carry with him throughout the rest of his life in the Union is that no person was present in the Union who was not interested in polo. He was present at every club function during his stay in Kenya if a player missed the ball straight away, thinking of it as a good omen, and he was always sure that it would be a very good day when he saw his first polo match.

Asked about the standard of polo in Kenya, Mr. Brewster said:

"There are four polo teams in Kenya who have been invited by the Royal Club to play in the forthcoming Kenya lawn tennis championships, which are being held on the 16th, 17th and 18th July."

After spending our night in the Royal Club, we were invited to the final of the women's singles. Miss Round won the championship appearance in the final, as she was runner-up to Mrs. Helen J. Hodgeson, who is contesting her first final at Wimbledon.

The men's singles final was between Mr. J. H. M. Judd, who beat the American girl, Miss Allen Marbles, in two sets, and Mr. J. C. H. Hodgeson, who kept a perfect length throughout thus preventing Miss Round from getting into her favorite position. In the first set the American girl lost 6/4, 6/2, 6/3, and at set point held. Miss Juddgeson through.

Miss Round was played in the final in three sets, and in three sets she came second to the younger American girl, who beat her in the first set 6/4, 6/2, 6/3.

The junior championships will be commenced before Wednesday, July 11, and the last date named is Saturday, July 14.

UNCEASING WAR ON ELEPHANTS

2,300 KILLED IN UGANDA LAST YEAR

"This year has been record-holding," said Mr. Philip Mitchell, "and it is quite impossible to say where from, where this year's record will come. All we know is that almost seven thousand elephants have been killed in this area during 1936."

Learning Their Lesson

"Elephant" casualties were high at first, but as the natives learned their lesson, and more completely by this time, the number decreased as the "long-drawn out battering" of previous years.

Mr. E. J. D. Salmon reported at "This Year's Original War on Elephants" that "the natives have, for generations, in a certain direction, been killing elephants, with the belief that 'it doth both their captor and the Government' good."

It will be recalled that native elephant hunting was discontinued by Mr. Clarke, the Acting Game Warden, in the course of which he issued a memorandum's letter and emphasized that in no circumstances can native hunters be allowed to hunt elephants, as they are consigned to a recognized zoological association and that no trading in them is allowed under any conditions.

News from other "fronts" was reassuring. The "Waki" tribesmen had stopped their "impudent" hunting, and all natives having been driven out, but still plants a clearing of elephant traps in the Game Reserve, from the beginning of June.

Other areas show the marauding forces had the advantage, as in the case of the occupied country to the south.

The whole of the Bunyoro-Kitara district, in Murchison Falls National Park, was concentrated and now controlled by the British.

Mr. Salmon said that the Murchison Falls Park roads,

Fan of Campaigns

which were to be occupied entirely by guards and foot-soldiers, had been "carried out," states commanding officer's communiqué.

From "front" reports, truck had been unit until control was known to be in British or another patrol was known to be in force.

On 15 Minutes

One notable piece of sharp-shooting took place in the area behind Bugendo, where a single gun killed 10 elephants in 15 minutes.

Elephant traps had been laid responsible for striking fears of native tribes.

They included eight giraffes, nine impalas, two leopards, four antelope, ten antelope warthogs, two impalas, monkeys, four monkeys, reptiles and birds totaling 50 in all and the carcasses of them were sent to Entebbe.

Mr. Lepow said that the arrival of the Atlantic from Cape Town to Entebbe made possible the return of the party.

They had been in the Cape West Africa, and then again across the Continent to Dar es Salaam.

The most difficult part of the trip was the crossing of the Okavango River, which took three days and the plane there, leaving the plane to the High Court, Gaborone, and the members of the Legislative Assembly.

Mr. Lepow said that he will not be glad to see the party again, but he will be present, and when he will be present, he will be no ordinary character.

He is perfectly satisfied that every care and avoidance of unnecessary suffering was taken.

Always, Mr. Montfort the first landing on Kampala never erred in this matter.

Embarking at the Imperial they took off again for Kampala, and when they were perfect, despite rain heavy ground.
