Kassem expected to launch attack this weekend

Kenya troops stand ready

Leave is stopped as

ARMoured cars rumbled through the streets of Kuwait yesterday and headed for the northern border to meet concentrations of Iraqi Forces reports reached Washington that Gen. Kassem, the Iraqi Premier, intended to try to annex the Sheikdom during the weekend. All leave has been cancelled for troops of the 24th Infantry Brigade R.A.F. Officer, East Africa, Air Commodore J. C. Macdonald, said senior and crews were standing by to help if needed. He said there had been no new move of R.A.F. aircraft in East Africa.

In London, after a Cabinet meeting presided over by Mr. Heron, a formal Foreign Office statement announced that Britain had appealed to a number of friendly Governments, including that of the United Arab Republic, to use their moderating influence with Iraq to prevent the annexation of Kuwait.

The statement said Britain had had to take "normal precautionary measures", following a "declared threat" by Iraq.

The Foreign Office spokesman told a questioner Britain was aware of reports of Iraqi troop movements, asked whether he had seen any evidence of support for Iraq, he said: "It would be surprising if a move of this sort did not evoke support."

The spokesman declined to say whether Britain had received similar reports to those disclosed by the United States State Department that Iraq might make a military attack on Kuwait this weekend. The Ministry of Defence confirmed that Britain was making military moves to enable it to carry out its pledge of aid to Kuwait if necessary.

Mr. Edward Heath, Lord Privy Seal and deputy Foreign Secretary, told the House of Commons: "The Government have been in contact with the Government in Baghdad and have assured the ruler of their support."

The prosecution alleged that Eichmann's order-line copy was given to the German Foreign Ministry. Mr. Dr. Seiwald turned to the judge and said: "The defendant stated: 'I never made a state document and also, no other document has succeeded my authority.'"

Can the calligrapher read characters?

There is a school of thought which holds that the calligrapher, by the very nature of his art, is able to read the characters of the people whose names he writes. This is a fascinating idea that has been the subject of much debate and discussion.

Some people believe that the calligrapher's art is a form of divination. They believe that the calligrapher is able to see into the future and to predict the fate of the people whose names he writes.

Others, however, believe that the calligrapher's art is simply a form of artistic expression. They believe that the calligrapher is simply a skilled craftsman who is able to create beautiful and meaningful characters.

The truth is that the calligrapher's art is a complex one that requires a deep understanding of both the art and the people. It is a skill that is both beautiful and mysterious.

Royal Navy stands by off crisis... Security Council meets

BRITISH TROOPS TO KUWAIT

Kenya reserve for aircraft

A STREAM of giant troop-carrying planes yesterday bringing more men and equipment to a build-up of military forces to meet a threatened invasion.

A squadron of the 11th Hussars arrived at dawn, followed a few hours later by their armoured cars. Their tanks were already in Kuwait. After the Hussars came two companies of the Coldstream Guards from Bahrain. At midnight an advance party of the 24th Infantry Brigade flew from Kenya.

In Raikot, it is believed that 11 British aircraft have been ordered to fly to Bahrain with 274 personnel from Britain.

About 600 Commandos from the 2100-ton carrier Bolivar sailed yesterday by helicopter. They are expected to land in Kuwait by tonight. Besides the troops and their equipment have gone 12 Hawker Hunter jet planes. They are based at Kuwait's new airfield.

Sand flies in troops

The troops have gone in at the request of the Sheikh of Kuwait and have been placed at his disposal to give him any help he considers necessary to preserve the independence of his kingdom. Kuwait became independent for 62 years last April after being under British protection since 1913, and a Kuwaiti Government spokesman said the first batch of British troops arrived at the Sheikh's camp.

The British troops are under the command of Brigadier L. Hertzog, formerly C.O. of the 2nd Parachute Brigade in overall command at Air Force Headquarters.

Talks begin on Aden link-up

CLOSER links between Aden and the federated States of the Western Aden Protectorate are expected to be discussed at high-level talks opening in London today.

The Colonial Secretary, Mr. Macleod, will preside over the talks, which will be attended by the rulers from the Protectorate, represented by members of the Supreme Council of the Federation of Arab Emirates of the South, and five Government Ministers. Mr. Macleod had completed his "satisfactory" talks with the rulers of the south-eastern Protectorate during the week on their political, economic and administrative problems.

Financial aid

No official statement was issued on Sunday concerning the £100,000 financial aid which the British Government has agreed to provide to the rulers of the south-eastern Protectorate. It is expected that this will be the first of a series of similar constitutional advances to the rulers of the Protectorate. In 1959 the Government agreed to a similar advance to the rulers of the south-western Protectorate. Unofficial members of the Executive Council.

Premier declines visit to Japan

Mr. Macmillan has postponed his visit to Japan for a second time. He is expected to leave for London in the next few days. The Prime Minister gave the Japanese Government a letter to the effect that he would not be able to visit Japan.

Portugal puts up taxes

The Portuguese Government has announced a 10 per cent tax on the profits of foreign companies operating in Portugal. The tax is expected to be levied on the profits of these companies for the year 1959.

TROOPS READY NEAR AIRPORT

IN Raikot, base of 4th Brigade are standing by for only a few truck-loads from Kuwait. The troops are ready to move to Kuwait as soon as they are ordered to do so.

The British troops are under the command of Brigadier L. Hertzog, formerly C.O. of the 2nd Parachute Brigade in overall command at Air Force Headquarters.

British hope

British troops are expected to arrive in Kuwait by tonight. They are being transported by air from Bahrain.

Off at once

Military authorities refused to comment on reports that large scale troop movements are taking place in the Gulf region.

Students in U.S. want to stay

The United States State Department has announced that it will consider the possibility of allowing students to remain in the U.S. after the end of their studies.

London's heat wave ends

The hot weather which has been plaguing London for several days has ended. A cold front is expected to arrive in the next few days.

The advance party of 1 Sqn. Royal Signals... to be the Forward Staff.

Britain's industry backs entry into Common Market

BRITISH industry and commerce want Britain to join the European Common Market, but the importance of the Commonwealth and home agriculture must be taken into account.

The memorandum was presented to the Association of British Chambers of Commerce in a memorandum to the Prime Minister.

AT THE ARMY HORSE SHOW

The General Officer Commanding I.A., Maj.-Gen. R. E. Goodwin, and Mrs. Goodwin were present at the show and they helped with the judging of the horse classes.

The J.A. grade C jumping attained a 100% high standard and the judges decided to award four firsts. The two J.A. ponies were clearing about 3ft. 11in. They were Anita Fiddling on Steel and Douglas Steady on Romney. The two J.C.s were Naine Murphy on Ficky and John on Lu Kines.

As the light was falling the judges made the Grades A and B jumping a Take-Your-Chance Line and Mrs. Meadon on Diamonds tied with Mrs. Fernandes on Bam for first place. Third was Mr. Dunder (Country Girl) and fourth Miss Hamilton on Velvet.

SENSE AND SENSIBILITY

EVIDENTLY there are two schools of thought about music and the dance.

The opinion is too good to be missed, even if that means that some people may have to alter their criteria of the good and the bad school party.

There is no doubt that the school party is a social occasion which should be held at least once a year, and which should be held in a school building.

Whether the school party is to be held at a school or in a hall, it should be held in a school building, and it should be held in a school building.

Not in front of the children

These festivals are meant to encourage the children. If they go away a little from correction to an amuse, that seems to be the aim of the festival.

Some intervals have been made in the Kenya, which will be a good thing to go to, if you are in the Kenya.

Kenya Regt.—no discrimination

On Monday a group of officers of the State might say that the Kenya Regiment, which was formed in 1952, was a result of the Government's policy of no discrimination.

The school party is a social occasion which should be held at least once a year, and which should be held in a school building.

It is noted with satisfaction that the purpose of the Bill is to secure racial discrimination in the Kenya Regiment, and the Council was unanimous in the view that this Bill, if enacted, would not impose any discriminatory measures.

WIMBLEDON TRIUMPHS BY BRITISH GIRLS

Airmen crash to Heroes

SPECTATORS at the City Stadium last night may have thought it a little early for the airmen's first display against the British girls in the first round F.A. Cup to reverberate above a midnight respite from the standard.

Top seed recovers after shaky start

BRITAIN and South Africa both built on their lead in the women's singles quarter-finals as the Wimbledon tennis championships proceeded.

The South African tennis "twins" top-seeded Sandra Reynolds and unseeded Hester Schuurman, and Britain's Christine Truman and Angela Mortimer yesterday were through to the semi-finals.

Miss Reynolds, a hot favourite for the title, gave her supporters a fight when she dropped her first set, but recovered in an amazing 12 minutes to win the 22-year-old Wimbledon girl came storming back with her Centre Court victory by 6-3, 6-0.

GREAT EXPERIENCE

In a great display of masculine power tennis men both girls. Miss Truman beat Miss Reynolds in 23 minutes. It was a terrific, hotly fought battle, and it took Miss Truman to the semi-finals for the third time in her career.

The greater experience of the 20-year-old Truman, with her concentration of her new style "back loop" service, which the developer only last month had been given, proved to be her trump on the evening of defeat.

In two recent matches, the 18-year-old Truman had defeated the Wimbledon champion Miss Schuurman, but she was out of form when she met the women's No. 1. She lost her first set, but her turn will surely come when she meets the only straight set in yesterday's quarter-final.

Miss Mortimer, Britain's most recent Wimbledon champion, was again victorious, but with a new twist, out-of-the-ordinary service, a number of match service breaks on both sides.

The 20-year-old Canadian-born, Wimbledon champion, Miss Truman, who had been in the first set, and who had not been in the second. She had more service breaks with this tactic, but Miss Mortimer proved to be further and passed her with sufficient frequency to ensure continuation of the match.

Miss Schuurman doggedly fought her victory through to the final set, but she was out of form when she met the women's No. 1. She lost her first set, but her turn will surely come when she meets the only straight set in yesterday's quarter-final.

Miss Schuurman's game was very good, but she was out of form when she met the women's No. 1. She lost her first set, but her turn will surely come when she meets the only straight set in yesterday's quarter-final.

Rebel protest leads to violent clashes

At least 80 people were reported killed last night in violent clashes marking an insurgent-sponsored anti-partition day of strikes and demonstrations throughout Algeria.

U.S. fears East-West showdown on Germany issue TWO POSSES BERLIN WAR TREATY

U.S. spending up: U.S. stay in forces

...and decided to announce his military budget... Mr. Krushchov... because of Western military steps over Germany."

...observers view the decision as a toughening of Moscow's position on Berlin. Some commentators said it appeared that to provoke a crisis over Berlin soon... was originally expected, possibly in September instead of November.

Diplomats in Washington noted that the Soviet Premier had announced a strengthened Soviet posture as a result when the Kennedy Administration was playing down speculation about possible U.S. mobilization.

Mr. Krushchov, who was addressing a Kremlin reception for graduates of Soviet military academies, said the military measures had been forced on Russia by emerging circumstances, because we cannot neglect the interests of the Soviet people's security."

Summit talks urged

He also appealed to President Kennedy, Mr. Macmillan and the President of France to "display wisdom" by sitting down at a conference table with other peace-loving States and concluding a German peace treaty.

"We shall sign a peace treaty (with East Germany) and order our armed forces to administer a treaty ready to any aggressor if he raises his hand against the Soviet Union or its friends," he said.

It is best for those who think of war not to imagine that they will avoid them. No, if the imperialists unleash a war, it will end with the imperialist camp in debacle and ruin."

Declining military steps which he said had been taken by the United States and its NATO allies, Mr. Krushchov said the Soviet Government had decided to increase defense allocations for this year by $1,257,000,000.

Keeping crisis boiling

Washington observers said a fact that Mr. Krushchov linked his gesture of mobilization with a demand for a conference to conclude a peace treaty with Germany on the basis of Soviet terms indicated that he intended to keep the Berlin crisis boiling.

The question was whether President Kennedy would be compelled to take military steps to persuade Mr. Krushchov that the West would not bow to Soviet military pressure and did not intend to weaken its resolve to maintain its rights in West Berlin.

On the President's view that the West Germany recently has been provided even though the West would face a series of alarms and dangerous developments until the end of the year.

In London, Mr. Krushchov's speech was seen as his latest move to keep the hot boiling over Berlin preparatory to signing a peace treaty with East Germany around the end of this year.

Time to build up Nato strength, chief urges

NATO forces could "render a very good account of themselves" for a limited period of time, Gen. Norstad said in Washington. He said there should be a quiet building up of strength.

Although he considered NATO strength "not too long way toward the 'hot' or 'cold' war," he said it was not too long way toward the "hot" or "cold" war.

He said that the United States should be a quiet building up of strength. He said that the United States should be a quiet building up of strength.

SOVIET FLIERS SHOW OFF ARMED MIGHT

RUSSIA yesterday showed off a vast array of powerful missile-carrying fighters and bombers in the greatest display of Soviet military might since the end of the Second World War.

The display was held in the presence of American and British military observers. The display was held in the presence of American and British military observers.

They wanted to work together with them peacefully, but had been worked up into high spirits before the political speeches began by a group of colourful dancers, and urban Kenya women.

ELCON RALLY TO FRITSCHY

THE sixth and toughest Mount Elgon Rally, held over a 50-mile course during the weekend, was narrowly won by the veteran jockey driver Bill Fritschy and his team of Wisconsin Handycap and A. G. Cousins in a Mercedes 160.

Only two other entrants finished the race, and Parks in his Ford Zephyr and Armstrong and Jones in an Austin were the only other entrants to finish the race. It was so rugged that only the 12 cars completed the course.

The reason for the highest-ever entry was that for the first time in the history of the rally, some road construction was done, and it was only two points behind Armstrong in the championship.

It was a record-breaking rally for Fritschy, who had won the title in 1952 and 1953. He was driving a Mercedes 160, which was the fastest car in the class.

Other winners in the rally included Armstrong and Jones in an Austin, and Parks in his Ford Zephyr. The rally was held over a 50-mile course during the weekend.
