REGIMENT'S FIRST ALL-RACE COURSE A SUCCESS

Col. Vernon and the African students military in July by being the first non-Africans to join the Kenya Police force. The course was held in the morning, with the African students in the afternoon.

The four runners who were distinguished by the Commanding Officer, Lt. Col. H. R. Vernon, and the Europeans were the three races in Kenya could have together in harmony.

The results, 75 in all, showed their pace on the parade ground was several times that in the open air. The African students were in the lead in the parade, which was described by Col. Vernon as "one of the best I have ever seen."

PESSIMISTS PROVED WRONG

Earlier, Col. Vernon said people had warned that the African students would be a problem, but he was proved wrong, as the Africans were specially selected for the course. The Europeans were of a complete age group, many of whom had had difficulty in keeping up.

"I am glad to say that neither of these gloomy prophecies has proved correct." In fact with the exception of one shooting which is well below average, the African students have kept up with their European comrades in everything.

"Internal harmony has been far better than I ever expected. A number of Europeans have taken a great deal of trouble to get to know the Africans, to go out with them and understand their point of view."

MONETARY FUND

Loan scheme will entail Act of Parliament

BRITAIN'S participation in the International Monetary Fund's borrowing scheme, on which agreement in principle was reached at last week's I.M.F. conference in Vienna, will eventually require an Act of Parliament. This fact has been one of the complex aspects of the agreement, which is designed to provide credit for countries taking steps to correct their internal economic positions.

Shortly, at this stage the agreement is likely to be formalized by a loan agreement which will seek to set up a uniform "pooling" of funds which will be available to participating countries whose respective approval is required.

Secondly, the agreement contemplates that the countries which are to be helped will not be asked to contribute to the fund, but that the fund will be financed by the issue of new bonds.

The fund will be financed by the issue of new bonds, which will be guaranteed by the Government.

Thirdly, Britain's big borrowing has become a precedent for the machinery as well as the principle of future operation.

It has been officially declared by Vienna that before Britain and her home, the issue of the fund will be discussed by the Organization for Economic Co-operation (O.E.C.C.).

U.S. NOT TO WITHDRAW VOLTA AID

THE U.S. State Department has decided not to go through with the project to help build the Volta River Dam in Ghana.

The decision was announced by the State Department today, after a long and bitter debate in Washington.

The State Department has decided that the Volta River Dam project is not in the best interests of the United States.

The project was originally approved by the State Department in 1947, but it was later cancelled.

SPORT-SIGHTED NOT TO GRANT KENYA STUDENTS ENOUGH MONEY

THE failure of African District Councils to grant adequate bursaries to scholars capable of furthering their education has been criticised by the headmaster of the Alliance High School, Kitale, Patrick Renison, at a school's speech day on Saturday.

Mr. Francis said that in many cases the bursaries were either non-existent, for the reason that they were considered as a grant, or that they were considered as a loan, but that they were continuing their studies at college on half of the sixth form, and that they would be unable to go back to school.

RELIEF SCHEMES BRING FOOD TO HUNGRY

Standard City Reporter
NOT one person in Kenya has died as a result of starvation since the Government's relief schemes brought food shortages and general hardship.

These facts emerged from inquiries into the conditions which have existed since the Government's relief schemes brought food shortages and general hardship.

It was also reported that many Kamba families were better off than they were before the famine, and that the Government's relief schemes had brought about a general improvement in the conditions of the people.

Chelimo wins mile but fails to set E.A. record

HIGHLIGHT of the Shawee athletic meeting on the James School track was an open invitation mile won in 4min. 12.5sec., only 4.7sec. outside the fastest mile run in East Africa.

A disappointment was the non-participation of the Police's Guest athlete, Peter Francis, but Stephen Chelimo ran a most intelligent race to beat the Kenya record-holder, Kiptegerech Keso, by a good 30yd.

Keso, who won the mile in 4min. 17.2sec. at the meeting, completed the first lap in 1min. 10.2sec. and the second lap in 1min. 10.2sec. The latter was the fastest lap ever recorded in the mile in East Africa. Chelimo, who had a record time of 4min. 12.5sec. at the meeting, ran the mile in 4min. 12.5sec. in 10.2sec. less than Keso.

A race from the Police Training School, Kapiti, was the 4.7sec. record, which was set by Chelimo, who won the mile in 4min. 12.5sec. in 10.2sec. less than Keso.

Next ten months decisive for world, U.N. told

U.S. PLEA FOR PRICE TO TERROR

Kennedy pledges new effort for peace

President Kennedy told the United Nations General Assembly last night that the next ten months might well decide the fate of man for 10,000 years. He pledged every effort the United States possessed to preserve peace.

In his first appearance before the 99-nation forum, he called for a "price to terror" and challenged the Soviet Union to a "peace race". He appealed: "As we build an international capacity to keep peace, let us join our national capacity to keep war."

On the "dangerous world" over Berlin, he said the possibilities of a nuclear war are being explored now, but it is essential that we should not let the prospect that we are in a "peace race" with the Soviet Union.

He said that the U.N. must be strengthened by the selection of a permanent civil servant to head the Secretariat-General. He also urged the resumption of the work of the Security Council in the form of a permanent body.

Mr. Kennedy offered a programme — the details of which will be discussed in the Assembly — in which the U.S. will take first priority in the field of disarmament. He said that the U.S. will make a major effort to reduce its nuclear stockpile to 5,000 warheads.

NUCLEAR ARMS TO SAVE BERLIN IF NECESSARY

The United States Attorney-General, Mr. Robert Kennedy, said in Washington there was no question whether to use the freedom would use nuclear weapons.

Mr. Robert Kennedy said during a television interview: "The President has said again and again 'If we don't stand up in Berlin we can stand up'."

The Attorney-General said Mr. Khrushchev would continue to push President Kennedy hard on the Berlin issue, adding: "He will push the President to the wall if he hopes that the last few weeks he would have come to the realization the President will use nuclear weapons."

Mr. Robert McNamara, the Secretary of Defense, said that the United States would use nuclear weapons only if necessary to protect its vital interests. He said that the U.S. would use nuclear weapons only if necessary to protect its vital interests.

NATO FORCES REVIEWED

Mr. Robert Kennedy said the Kennedy Administration had spent $2,000,000,000 (about £700,000,000) extra on nuclear weapons — in addition to strengthening conventional forces. Both we and our allies "would be prepared to use nuclear weapons," he said.

Commander, said Lauris Norstad, the Nato Supreme Allied Commander, said the "Three Western Allies had been addressing the General Assembly of Nato's national associations, which opened yesterday and it is due to last night."

Gen. Norstad told the Assembly: "In the light of current threats the nations of Nato have been compelled to re-examine their ability to carry out their tasks and missions. More specifically the capabilities of the shield forces have been under the most careful review."

"The members of the Nato Alliance have associated themselves freely, strongly and completely with the three Western Powers who bear the most direct responsibility for Berlin."

TEA PRODUCTION ON INCREASE

12-month 'season' greatest asset

THE rapid expansion in tea production in African countries was announced by a director of the Masai Company, Ltd., Mr. E. H. Morland, when he spoke at the annual conference of tea and coffee associations of Canada at Quebec yesterday.

The purpose of Mr. Morland's speech was to encourage the support of tea production in Canada and the United States. He pointed out that tea production had more than doubled in the past 20 years.

Among under tea in 1959 was estimated at 100,000 tons. In 1960, it was 27,000. Uganda 17,000, Kenya 15,000, Malawi 10,000, Nyasaland 20,000 and the remainder divided between the Congo, Zanzibar and the Congo.

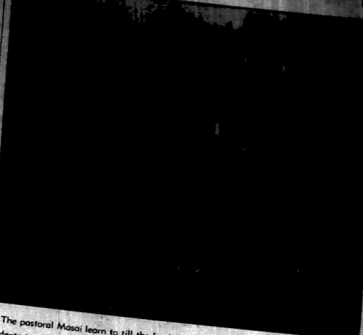

Investment chance

Mr. Morland said the investment in tea is one of the most profitable in the world. He estimated that the average yield is 1.50 and 1.60 tons per acre.

He reminded members of the association to invest in tea. He said that the tea industry is a highly organized and profitable one.

THREAT TO RIVER SCHEME

Soviet leaving may cost Ghana £47m.

THE United States will hold political talks with President Nkrumah before making a firm decision on aid for Ghana's Volta River project.

American officials said in Washington yesterday that the Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, Mr. C. McManis, was arranging to visit Accra soon and was expected to report on the "cold war" orientation of Ghana and its Chief of State.

Although President Kennedy's Administration was reported to be withdrawing a definite commitment of more than £47,000,000 for the project, a State Department spokesman discounted reports that a "stop" order had been placed on U.S. shares in the project.

IRAQ SAYS BRITAIN FANNED REVOLT

IRAQ'S Prime Minister, Maj. Gen. Kassem, had a "cordial" meeting with the Soviet Embassy Counsellor, Mr. Podviguin, in Baghdad.

Earlier Gen. Kassem accused Baghdad, with United States backing, of engineering a Kurdish movement in Northern Iraq which he said, began last June and aimed to cover one-third of the country.

Gen. Kassem said it had been Soviet Russia that had fanned the Kurdish movement in Northern Iraq. The Iraqi Government will demand guarantees from Britain to assist from its "hostile act", Gen. Kassem said.

It is alleged the British Embassy in Baghdad spent £400,000 on financing the Kurdish revolt and arming British of supporting members of the movement with arms.

The Kurds, a nomadic people of Muslim faith who have their own language have wanted an independent Kurdish State in the Goan, Overseas territories, Iraq, and the Soviet Union.

Goan loyalty stressed

From what had been written in the Press in recent months it appeared that some misunderstanding existed about the Goan community in relation to political changes taking place in the Republic of the Goan, Overseas territories were "talked" at a special meeting in Nairobi, C. of S. De Souza said that since the association had last met there had been considerable changes and by the time they held their next annual meeting it was hoped they may be living in an independent Kenya to which Goans would continue to live in loyal citizenship.

Kennedy angry

The latest U.S. news was said to be linked with President Kennedy's anger and annoyance at some neutral leaders in Asia and Africa who alleged leaning towards the Soviet bloc. It was also the failure of the proposed aid for the United States and the failure of the proposed aid for the United States.

Officials said Mr. Williams said that the Chinese Government was taking a "stop" order on U.S. shares in the project.

Ministers three-year plan to double tourist rate

YOUNG KENYA ARTISTS FACE THEIR SEVEREST CRITICS

OFFENCE ON CORRUPTION CHARGES

Nld. Pandit in dock

TREASURY TO BE ASKED FOR A LOAN OF £1,000,000

A THREE-YEAR plan to double the number of visitors, now about 50,000 a year, and develop Kenya's tourist attractions is being advocated by independent government to implement his proposals.

The plan might be co-ordinated and operated by a tourist board on which would sit representatives of every important facet of the industry. Close liaison would be maintained between the Ministry and the Minister responsible for tourism.

A loan is envisaged of £1,000,000 to be devoted entirely to the development of tourism. No employment in promoting tourism would be tax-free for at least three years and the same concession would be made with equipment directly connected with the industry.

The Treasury will obviously be consulted on these lines at the right time, but they will realize that it offers them new sources of revenue at a cost to them in that all the money can be readily service and I return to the Treasury.

Mr. Howard-Williams said the following:

Among the proposals are the following:

- A small hostel — built and run by experts — on Mombasa Island which would also attract tourists from all over the world.
- See this child's promising potential from all over the world.
- See this child's promising potential from all over the world.

A tourist tax payable on all arrivals is being considered. The proceeds of this tax would be used for the development of tourism.

Other proposals include the following:

- Construction of a new hotel in Nairobi.
- Construction of a new hotel in Mombasa.
- Construction of a new hotel in Kisumu.

Arbitration for land take-over valuations

UNFORTUNATELY I am unaware of the legislation under which the Land Development and Settlement Board was established and its functions. However, assuming that the resettlement scheme is sound in principle, then it would be indeed unfortunate for all concerned if, as is reported, the estimates fall due to differences of opinion as to the values of the farms to be taken up.

Arbitration for and take-over valuations

UNFORTUNATELY I am unaware of the legislation under which the Land Development and Settlement Board was established and functions.

The cost of land, it should be remembered, is not necessarily any criterion of value for the stock or for the title.

Probably legislation has been introduced for arbitration by persons who have made a study of the problem.

Rangers' one goal was enough to beat rivals in top-of-table tussle

By CHARLES DIBNEY

ALTHOUGH they have now completed nearly all fixtures the Nairobi Junior Soccer League has, including cup games, another 20 matches to complete. There is no real support both from the spectators, or the sponsors, of the League. Qualified referees and line-men are scarce. The standard of play is so low that it is difficult to watch. The League is in a bit of a predicament in that it has no money to pay the referees and the line-men. The Ministry of Works, P.W.D. and the Education Department have offered to provide a grant of 10,000 shillings for a grant of 10,000 shillings for the purchase of a new football. The grant is a long way from most players' pockets. A new football of this kind is a large expenditure. It is a pity that the League has not been able to attract a large number of players. The League has been able to attract a large number of players. The League has been able to attract a large number of players.

ONCE again there were some excellent matches in the Nairobi Junior Soccer League at the weekend with Rangers leading off the top of the table, having won by the only goal scored in the game.

'I swear by Almighty God...'

You take your solemn oath on the Bible. Are you sincere? What do you really think about the Bible? Is it the Word of God? Or is it just of date, unscientific, a bit of fairy tale? Catholic faith that the Bible is the Word of God and when properly understood conflicts neither with the truths of history nor of science. The Catholic Church staunchly upholds the Bible. Does that surprise you? Perhaps other things about the Catholic Church would surprise you too. Why not find out?

THE CATHOLIC ENQUIRY CENTRE has been set up because many of our non-Catholic friends seem to know so little about the Bible. But we only give you facts about the Bible and the Catholic Church. It is a simple matter to read something new. Send today for the explanatory brochure giving details of a full course of talks which will be held in your area if you are further interested.

An Enquiry Centre is for non-Catholics. Catholics are requested not to apply.

FREE and CONFIDENTIAL service will be given if you are a free thinker than an "opinion" of those who do not.

Uganda and Kenya press for decider but...

'G.P.' SHOCKS F.A.s

Cairo ruling says: No cup replay

UGANDA and Kenya's future in the Africa Cup may be decided by a slip of paper taken from a hat in Cairo.

In their East African zone, they finished level on a 1-1 aggregate, each having won one match 4-0 and under the rules of the Africa Cup, the executive committee in Cairo will draw to decide which team goes through to the next round.

This system is opposed by both Uganda and Kenya. They have written to Cairo asking permission to play a deciding match.

Kenya F.A.'s president, Mr. John Bell, summed up the feelings of both associations when he said yesterday: "It should be decided on the field of play. A draw is a very unsatisfactory way of doing things."

No plan can be made for a replay until a decision is received from Cairo. But if the draw is against Kenya while the Gamage Cup is being played in Morogoro, with officials of both associations will be drawn to decide between Kenya and Nairobi since the most likely, although some officials prefer to go to the city where the game was played. It is a guarantee the better financial return.

Causton's prize — by three points

THIS year's competition for the Railway Golf Club causton prize, presented by R. E. Hale, was a 36-hole Sta-han event which went to J. Causton (playing 20 1/2) by a three-point margin.

There was a good entry and the scores were bare. The ground in fact was very dry with a desert grass cover, and after 18 holes followed by W. C. Ingha, A. Brown and A. Green, each 23, with the event behind the other two. It was right all the way with a 21 and 22. The first round from 18 to 36, all the early pacemakers fell away flat.

On the second round J. Causton produced enough vigour to maintain his lead.

Charles Chesley ON GOLF

with 37 points, and was the main prize of an aggregate of 70 points. I had followed the 22 and 23 but had been out of the race, returned 29 on an aggregate of 77 and the runner-up to Sir Leslie Lloyd, the second-round score of 44 strokes, net will undoubtedly revise the statistics of the Handicapping Committee.

At 100 no competitor eligible for the cup as the winner of the first and second prizes in 1959 was J. V. Brooks (27).

For the largest number of three-point holes on any round in the competition was A. V. Kramnik, extremely good support for his country.

The senior men who had matches to be won with one ball.

CHALLENGE ON LIMURU LAND TAKE-OVER VALUES

A group of the farmers concerned, I would like to advise Mr. Lipson's letter. Completely unvalued the land worth £70 per acre in 1952 was fact which would have been paid for themselves.

With regard to the small portion of undeveloped land, perhaps, Mr. Lipson refers, perhaps the land from forthcoming and in fact your readers (a) his valuation and (b) what the Board actually paid.

It is known that comparative figures would be of interest. Mr. Lipson states on farms on offer, of which some were two-thirds of the year a special market. These farmers examined the farms made, listed his advisers were instructed to write to you.

Cruelty to capture monkeys?

I HAVE read with great interest the news from Langata and how the monkeys were captured.

I feel that the whole point has been raised. Many of the monkeys were captured under conditions which should be investigated.

It is felt that during the capture of the monkeys, the monkeys should have been treated with the utmost consideration.

Cannot something be done about this point of view? This is a cruel and inhuman act.

GROCERS FORMING A PRICE-RING

IT was most interesting to read of a proposal that grocers should get together to form what would be a "ring" to keep prices high.

If a price-cutting war is now being waged, it is not surprising that some of the grocers should get together to form a price ring.

How the Press and K.B.S.' slant the news

IMPRESSIONS of the news are being raised alarm and despondency, but might well be.

We have two well-known daily and three weekly English papers. The journeyman and the journeymen of some of these papers are not very bright.

U.S. to debate H-test ban treaty

ASSEMBLY DEFEATS OPPOSITION FROM RUSSIA

THE United Nations General Assembly, overriding Russian objections, voted to include on its agenda an item "on the urgent need for a treaty to ban nuclear weapon tests under effective international control". The item, jointly sponsored by Britain and the United States, was adopted by 59 votes to ten with 25 abstentions. It was one of the 91 items recommended by the Steering Committee for inclusion on the agenda which the Assembly was considering.

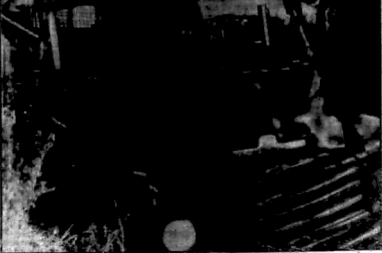

The Assembly decided to have a full-scale debate, for the first time on the issue of Chinese representation. The former approved a Steering Committee recommendation that it debate a question under the general title of "China's representation" and a second item on the rights of the Chinese people.

New Zealand proposed the first question and the Soviet Union proposed the other one. Opposing inclusion of the Anglo-American item on the agenda was the Soviet representative, but the issue could not be divorced from the question of general and complete disarmament.

It was not in the interests of peace" to discuss the items separately. Venant said. Meanwhile, support for a move to appoint Mr. Meng Shi of Tunisia as temporary administrative chief of the U.N. Secretariat appeared to be hardening. The question of making an interim appointment to fill the gap left by the death of Mr. Dag Hammarskjöld is expected to be raised in the General Assembly later this week.

It was reported that Mr. Shin would resign as Assembly President if he took the job of Secretary-General. The latter, his meeting constitutional objections raised by France and some Asian and Latin-American countries which contend that the legislative and administrative functions of the two positions are incompatible. The Soviet Foreign Minister, Mr. Gromyko, said a temporary solution of the succession problem in the Secretariat would be reached for a trial period.

He made the comment after an hour's talk with the British Foreign Secretary, Lord Home. "It is not a matter of course," Mr. Gromyko's principle would also be applied for an interim solution, observers noted that he said it was in the interests of peace to discuss the items separately.

The man, Edward Miao, was charged with stealing and breaking into the house of Mr. An of Kiangsi and was asked to do two other offences of housebreaking at the same night. To be taken into custody.

NEUTRALISM BEST WAY TO BETTER LIVING STANDARD

THE Indian Prime Minister, Mr. Nehru, urged the non-aligned countries of the world to adopt a policy of neutralism. He said that the technique of planning of the under-developed countries was a direct result from that of the industrially advanced West. Mr. Nehru told the annual session of the Asian Economic Conference.

The Prime Minister suggested closer cooperation and contacts between the countries of Asia and the Far East in the economic field. These countries, he said, should be planned economically and should be mutually beneficial. Most countries of Asia and the Far East had achieved independence from colonial rule without having ready the

For CATERPILLAR INTERNATIONAL ALLIS-CHALMER CRAWLER TRACTORS

FIRST compare our prices for these guaranteed and genuine 'BERY' parts.

WHY CAN WE UNDERCUT THE TRACTOR-NAME FACTORY?

We ask you kindly to study the matter, and realize the reason for our being able to undercut so thoroughly the tractor-name factory is, that although our parts may well be, and in some cases we believe actually are, made in the same works and to the same specifications as the parts sold under the tractor maker's name, (and called, somewhat supplementarily, 'genuine'), we ourselves do not make a tractor. The significance of this is, that it is normally on the tractor that the greater margin of profit is applied, so that the tractor can be sold competitively, and the maker or the agent is then content to take the profit on the inevitable supply of spare parts required.

The other fundamental reason is that we have no heavy publicity, development and general overhead charges to apply to our making cost, such as the tractor-name factories.

DIAMOND JUBILEE SHOW

The real Kenya, as the Sergeant Major might say of the people of Kenya to the drill sergeant, is not the parade and ready for inspection — said Mitchell Park, Nairobi, tonight on Saturday evening, when the farmers packed up and started moving their stock home for the night.

The support of the show was the best of their endeavours. They would the agricultural side of the show be the best of the country's economy are interdependent and complementary. The "farm" and talk about the show, the "diamond" and talk about the diamonds. The future of the diamonds of the country is not in the hands of the State but in the hands of the people who own them. The State should be concerned with the number and diversity of the sections and classes, even if they have been dreamed about by the pioneers who founded the B.A.S.K.

Of course, and many of the penny notes today may prove fruitful side of the show as the years go by, but the reality of the very quality and spirit of this year's show will be the diamonds that will be the "diamond" of the year. Let us hope that there will never be anything like this again. Let us hope that the B.A.S.K. that this year, the Diamond Jubilee show, will certainly not be the last of the line.

Preparing for the next

Developing political change is bound to occur, with economic and agrarian reforms. Land is a non-negotiable that this form of political development is not very diverse. The measure agricultural development should be brought down as well as about every aspect of the country's life. But as very many of us do not want to see farming damaged and the country's economy as a whole, we must be prepared for the next.

In the minds of the B.A.S.K. officials, there is no doubt at all that they will be the mainstay of the country's economic and social development. They have started work on the organization of the country's economic and social development. They have started work on the organization of the country's economic and social development. They have started work on the organization of the country's economic and social development.

Revival of pioneering faith

There will be the first to know the unwavering support of the pioneers. The pioneers of the country's economic and social development. They have started work on the organization of the country's economic and social development. They have started work on the organization of the country's economic and social development.

INDUSTRY AND FUTURE OF KENYA

The joint monitoring group of the five Permanent Commissions for Kenya, under the leadership of the British Commission, has issued a report which states that Kenya can now recover from its economic crisis and while having an ever-increasing adverse balance of trade.

Behind this reluctance to take any steps towards the rehabilitation of confidence in the country's economy is the fact that much must be brought home to the public. The public must be made to understand that the country's economic crisis is not a result of the government's policy but of the world's economic crisis. The public must be made to understand that the country's economic crisis is not a result of the government's policy but of the world's economic crisis.

Many of these goods are not produced in Kenya and would have to be imported. This would lead to a further increase in the country's adverse balance of trade. The government must therefore take steps to reduce the country's dependence on foreign goods. This can be done by promoting the development of the country's own industries.

The other industry group, the manufacturing industry, is also facing a crisis. This is due to the fact that the country's manufacturing industry is not competitive with the world's manufacturing industry. The government must therefore take steps to improve the competitiveness of the country's manufacturing industry.

Greater output is needed to meet the country's needs. This can be done by increasing the productivity of the country's workers. This can be done by providing them with the necessary training and equipment. The government must therefore take steps to improve the productivity of the country's workers.

The demand for different types of goods is also increasing. This is due to the fact that the country's population is growing rapidly. The government must therefore take steps to meet the demand for different types of goods. This can be done by promoting the development of the country's own industries.

The financial burden of the country's economic crisis is also increasing. This is due to the fact that the country's government is spending more on its social services. The government must therefore take steps to reduce its financial burden. This can be done by increasing the country's revenue.

It is true that each measure of improvement will take time to implement. However, the government must take immediate steps to improve the country's economic and social development. This can be done by promoting the development of the country's own industries.

INTRODUCE ART TO YOUR CHILD'S LIFE

By RALPH DEAN

EVERY normal child has an innate love of drawing and it is of this fact that has revolutionized the teaching of art in the purpose of this brief article to give some guide to parents to interest their small children at home.

Very early in life, before the child's baby's place is attracted to bright colours, and I remember my own son at the age of eight weeks trying to suck the nipple of his mother's dress.

It is not long after this that he is chiding a pencil, to his chubby hand and, to a spoon-baby, happy and content, he draws all manner of objects which he cannot put into words.

It is usually at this "wobbly stage" that the urge to express himself gradually flows back and is made manifest on the walls of the nursery, and although not to be discouraged, it should be done in a positive and not merely negative manner — by other standard alternative means provided.

It behaves an intelligently indulgent parent to foster these early feelings. When we see little Jimmy busily engaged with his crayons we do not necessarily want to interfere that we have an employability on our hands, and not to be too discouraging in case he should be taking up this side with precarious occupation.

EVERY FACILITY

Every child has his impulse, and as good parents we ought to give every facility to our youngsters if practicable. It is not necessary to buy expensive paper as our hands, and not to be too discouraging in case he should be taking up this side with precarious occupation.

It is an excellent idea to have a shelf or two on which to put your child's work. This may be purchased in any stationery shop, or you can make your own. It should be of a size to suit the child's work, and it should be in a place where he can reach it. The shelves may be made of wood or of metal, and they should be painted in a colour which is attractive to the child.

The latter type are far less likely to be broken, and they are equally good results. As parents we should be interested in the work of our children, and we should be ready to praise them when they do well. A number less jar is a good thing.

Strength and feeling from a child artist.

Try and find a job that is relatively unskilled in relation to the matter, but that is not too difficult. You can get a job that is not too difficult, and that is not too difficult. You can get a job that is not too difficult, and that is not too difficult.

Use any modern work which you can find. The more the child has to do, the more he will like to do. The more the child has to do, the more he will like to do.

It is not usually of course that the first thing will be the child's own work. It is usually of course that the first thing will be the child's own work.

In their imperfect first attempts, they will usually be attracted to the colour, and not to the line. They will usually be attracted to the colour, and not to the line.

There are tapes strong as do a particular job—and do it right.

what the president of the Royal Agricultural Society of Kenya, Mr. J. A. King, described as a 'flying start'. Visitors, particularly Africans, were undeterred by driving rain and muddy conditions in their determination to see what most people expect to be the best 'Royal' yet.

Show officials said last night that the estimated 2,500 who paid at the gates was only 300 down on last year's figure for the first day. The 1,200 Africans who went through the turnstiles did not include an increase of 200 on their children were allowed time-off to attend the show because of a tightening up of school authorities.

About 1,000 N.A.A. members who and their families and friends were present at the show at the Mt. Kenya Club Hotel, Nairobi.

Berlin 'like an active volcano'

THE Soviet Foreign Minister, Mr. Gromyko, told the United Nations General Assembly that West Berlin had become the hotbed of a great war danger, which, like the crater of an active volcano, contains the threat of an explosion.

Mr. Gromyko said the death of the United States, Britain and France will not break the ergative way of life in West Berlin.

UN intervention

The Western delegates declared the Soviet proposal, which Mr. Gromyko had presented, should be only one of many others and no longer a permanent solution to the Berlin problem, U.N. Secretary-General.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Hold-up in African education

I HAVE seen a lot of developments take place in Nairobi in the last half decade but, in my opinion, African education has not advanced as rapidly as it should.

The education in Kenya has been held back by the Government's failure to provide the necessary funds for the expansion of the educational system. This has resulted in a shortage of teachers and a lack of modern teaching materials.

The Government should take steps to improve the educational system. This can be done by increasing the budget for education and by providing more training opportunities for teachers. It is essential that the Government take these steps to ensure the future of the African education system.

Dr. P. N. Ndegwa has been elected as the first African member of the International Commission on the History of Science. This is a significant achievement for Africa and a recognition of the continent's contribution to the world of science.

The International Commission on the History of Science is a leading international organization that promotes the study of the history of science and its development over time. Dr. Ndegwa's election to this position is a testament to his expertise in the field and his commitment to advancing the study of African science.

The election of Dr. Ndegwa to the International Commission on the History of Science is a significant achievement for Africa. It is a recognition of the continent's contribution to the world of science and a testament to the progress of African education and research.

GOVERNOR ATTENDS WEDDING

ALDERMAN WAS OFFERED £1,000 AT OFFICE

A STORY WORTH TELLING, SAYS SIR PATRICK

A WITNESS at a Nairobi magistrate's court yesterday said that Nairobi's Deputy Mayor, Alderman J. J. Gichuru, had been offered £1,000 during a conversation.

He is intensely proud of that achievement and of what it has done in one life-span. It is appropriate that at an occasion where it is appropriate pay a warm tribute to the extraordinary contribution which has been made to the life and progress of Kenya by the farmer.

Mr. Jiram Vaidhial Thakkar, who was called by the magistrate Mr. J. J. Gichuru, said that the offer was made in private office hours, and that he had declined it. He said that he had been offered the money by Mr. A. R. Thakkar, who was a member of the Kenya Legislative Council.

INDONESIA POST FOR FARMER

In the past 20 years the farmer has achieved an almost miraculous success which, in spite of the hardships and men, he believed would be a lasting one. "The farmer's determination to improve quality and to engage in a long-term plan to follow. Governments come and go—but your brother and yet another 60 glorious years," Sir Patrick said.

U.P. merges with Kenya Coalition

THE United Party has announced its amalgamation with the Kenya Coalition. The merger was announced in a meeting held at the office of the United Party in Nairobi.

FAITH AND CONFIDENCE

His visits to farming areas, enjoyable days and weekends spent on farms and at shows, and the great improvements he had seen in African farming had taught him what Kenya really was, "a land of people devoted to the land." It was the farming and livestock, and the country as a whole, which he would remember when the day-to-day political ups and downs of this difficult age were forgotten.

The merger was announced by the Kenya Coalition in a meeting held at the office of the United Party in Nairobi. The merger was announced in a meeting held at the office of the United Party in Nairobi.

Pavilion a mark of confidence

Kenya could not just wait until the new order was in place. It was the source of its own strength and confidence. The B.A.R.K. would be a mark of confidence in Kenya's agricultural future.

Big thirsts - and big business
£75,000 ADVANCE
NAIROBI TO BEER AND BRIGHTER

BEER is best. It is big business too. Down the beach last year went 8,525,000 gallons of it. The number of empty bottles in Japan alone - after elbows have been raised for the reach three-quarters of the way to the moon.

Add Japan is not exactly a hard-drinking nation. East Africa is though. Last year its five breweries paid more than £2,000,000 in Excise duty alone. Import duties and company taxes on their profits probably accounted for another £500,000.

Lager beer is the beverage claim, the "most difficult" type of beer to produce. It is cold, like fish, when it is cold, not like fish when it is when it does not come out of the brewer's tan, into the bottle and down your throat, all in one day.

It has to have a specially regulated three-month period of maturation under constant pressure and temperature conditions.

One of the men who knows all about it is Mr. S. M. Joubert, head brewer at City Brewery, 15 Nairobi, brewed at one of Europe's largest lagers.

A close-up of three of the newly installed storage tanks, each containing the equivalent of 1,200 cases of City Lager.

GOLIN GIBSON writes about a visit to the £75,000 extension to the City Brewery in Nairobi where the secret is to brew a better beer of constant quality.

Overseeing, Overseeing of the extension. It takes his attention £75,000 worth of extension has just been completed at the brewery in Nairobi's Industrial Area that will give Shikhy East African's better and brighter beer.

Most important was the increase in the number of empty bottles in Japan last time in 1961 - will of 18 new machines. In the summer, one man had to hold 200 bottles in his hands. In winter, it took three men to squish 200.

The brewery now has 80 which would have had three men's hands, inside their heads, to squish 200.

When the brewery was built in 1951 it was virtually a new fabrication, after having been made obsolete by the British shipped to Kenya and put together on arrival.

But the new tanks, and all the other extensions, have been produced locally. Only the pipes and certain tanks every now and then.

An economically constructed forced-air cooling system keeps the tanks from their contents, preventing heat or just heat from the sun, which is the new action down and the whole extensive addition.

FILTER ROOM
New, too, is the filter room where, in after 14 three-month maturation period - the beer goes to undergo appearance. The marks on the glass through a series of filters, which are made of stainless steel and iron, are made of stainless steel and iron.

One of the men who knows all about it is Mr. S. M. Joubert, head brewer at City Brewery, 15 Nairobi, brewed at one of Europe's largest lagers.

Research improves quality

Although the art of brewing has been practiced for years since at least 1200 B.C., in fact - there is still need for research.

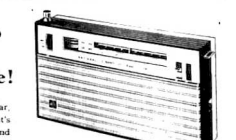

City Brewery's new bright beer cellar forms the greater part of the extension. The bright, blue tanks match their sparkling contents.

THE Head Brewer, Mr. S. M. Joubert, examines a sample of lager taken from the fermenting cellar.

Top, a general view of the original storage cellar where the temperature is maintained at about freezing point.

Left, the lager, when ready for bottling, is held in these "bright beer" tanks after having passed through the final process - filtering.

Below, cellars preparing the fermentation tanks to receive the next brew.

Eye Beauty

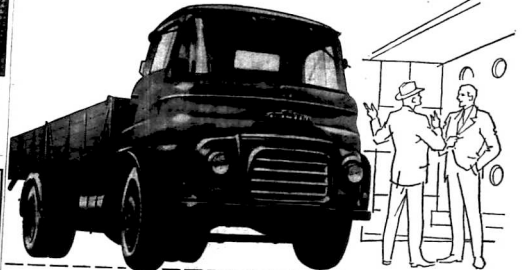

by Margaret Merriv
An important first essential should be brushed with bags under the eyes. It is your own position. A night cream applied from the outside edge of the eyelid to the inside, be careful not to get it on the eyelid. This will prevent premature aging of the delicate skin. For the eyes. Wash makeup with plain cold water. Do the eyes and relax. Remember to use a lighter shade of eye makeup than your normal foundation. COVER your oil of eye which must be used as a base to protect the skin and encourage moisture.

Show visitors get that down-at-heel feeling

It rained over parts of Nairobi yesterday, but there was never a drop at Mitchell Park. A pair of gumboots was to be seen at the show, except down among the horse and cattle lines. In case the weather was too good for words, the rain yesterday still made a difference to the show, as the ground was a considerably muddier than on the first day. The rain was a relief to the visitors, who had been told that the show would be a dry one. The rain also helped to keep the animals cool and comfortable. The show was a success and was attended by a large number of visitors. The visitors were impressed by the quality of the exhibits and the professionalism of the staff. The show was a great success and was a highlight of the year.
