AKOTA CRASHES NEAR THE NGONG HILLS

Seven dead: search of burnt wreckage

MIDNIGHT DISASTER ON MALTA-DURBAN FLIGHT

Police patrols and an R.A.F. land rescue team yesterday reached the wreckage of a Dakota aircraft which crashed shortly before dawn on Monday in wild country about ten miles north-west of the Ngong Hills. All seven R.A.F. occupants of the plane were killed. Three were the crew; the rest a team of fitters.

The Dakota was on its way from Malindi to Durban on a good-will flight. It was acting as an escort to a Liberator bomber which was en route to Entebbe after having been given permission from Flying Control. If the plane had been for 10 ft. higher it would have missed the outbreak of rock on which the wreckage was flung over an area of 20 square yards. The six engines were 75 yards from the burnt remains intact of the fuselage and wings. Only the tailpiece and one of the engines were flying clear of the smother, but they were badly burnt when the wreckage exploded. The crew, were trapped in the plane. Their bodies were burnt beyond recognition.

The police from Nairobi and Ngong were the first to arrive on the scene. They were followed by the night flight. Personnel from the R.A.F. in Malindi were sent out at dawn yesterday arrived later and began salvaging valuable equipment from the wreckage. It was made a special search to recover anything which might have been useful had it fallen into the hands of the enemy. The wreckage was carefully searched for any arms that might have been on board.

Tourist trade turning eastward

REPORTS reaching Trans World Airways' Middle-East headquarters in London indicate that air traffic from Europe and America would surge sharply this year.

Mr. Joseph W. Lelton, TWA's traffic director, says the advance sale of a great many seats for the summer season has been outstandingly well. He says that the company's sales for the first six months of the year are well above last year's.

Experts' view

Experts studying last year's traffic trends, however, are warning that the industry will be faced with a sharp decline in traffic from Europe and America in the first six months of this year. They say that the decline will be due to the fact that the industry has not been able to attract new tourists from these areas.

The TWA's traffic director says the advance sale of a great many seats for the summer season has been outstandingly well. He says that the company's sales for the first six months of the year are well above last year's.

THE rise in exports from the entire continent of Africa, since the outbreak of the war in 1939, has been phenomenal, according to a report published by the United Nations' Economic Commission for Africa.

The report, issued as a supplement to the World Economic Survey, will serve as an aid to the background studies of the agricultural products which are exported from Africa.

On the other hand, the price of minerals exported from Africa has fallen to its lowest level since 1932.

PLASTIC FIRMS LEAD INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION

New plants to exploit many uses

RESEARCH and developments in the field of plastics have opened up to many possible new uses.

American firms like the Monsanto Chemical Company are expanding production capacity as rapidly as possible.

In 1953 Monsanto invested nearly $27,000,000 in new plants and research facilities.

Recently the board of directors approved expansion plans requiring an additional investment during 1954 of £11,000,000.

With other large companies expanding production capacity, the multi-national industrial giant is now producing more than 100 million tons of plastic a year.

Wide range

Many industrial leaders believe that plastic, with its most diverse uses, will continue to be the greatest field for growth in the plastics industry.

Already plastic materials have replaced some 300,000,000 tons of other materials in the production of a wide range of goods.

Plastics are derived from natural chemicals or are derived from synthetic materials. They are used in a wide range of applications, from the production of plastics to the production of synthetic materials.

OCARINO' PAC IN S. E. ASIA PROPOSED

Mr. Eden suggests basis for peace

GENEVA STRENGTHENED ANGLO-CHINESE LINKS

MR. EDEN called for a South-East Asia "OCARINO" Pact to guard against aggression in the House of Commons.

He suggested that the pact could run side by side with the Treaty Organisation and the existing Sino-Soviet Treaty. (In the Locarno Pact of 1925 Britain, Germany, Belgium, France and Italy each promised not to attack any other signatory and to go to the aid of any invaded.)

The Foreign Secretary said there was no doubt that one result of the Geneva Conference had been an improvement in Anglo-Chinese relations. The friendly contacts had led to peace agreements which is still our aim and object with every country.

"It has been suggested that in negotiating with the Communists, but I don't believe that Mr. Eden intended to back to Geneva at any time if by so doing he would be committing every country.

Mr. Herbert Morrison, a former Socialist Foreign Secretary, summing up for the Opposition, said Mr. Eden's restrained hope for the future of the Geneva Conference was the same line the Socialists would have taken had they been in office.

Mr. Morrison said that the Geneva Conference was in the hands of the Central Powers and that the British Government should make it clear that they would not be taken in by the Central Powers. He said that the Geneva Conference was a failure and that the British Government should make it clear that they would not be taken in by the Central Powers.

RAIL STRIKE WARNING FOR THE FUTURE

From Our Own Correspondent

NORTHERN RHODESIA emerged from the illegal state of anarchy on the Rhodesia Railway a sadder and a wiser country-looking back over the events of the strike with something akin to astonishment and indignation at the industrial failure with its ramifications.

A simple fact, the strike was a failure. It was a failure in that it did not result in a settlement of the Rhodesia Railway strike. It was a failure in that it did not result in a settlement of the Rhodesia Railway strike. It was a failure in that it did not result in a settlement of the Rhodesia Railway strike.

The importance of being SPARK PLUG CONSCIOUS

NOTE: Plug testers do not always give a reliable indication of the condition or quality of the spark plug.

LEAKS OF SPARK PLUGS. New plugs are recommended when the electrodes are worn to the extent that they can no longer be adjusted simply to produce the best spark gap setting. Great care should be taken to ensure that plugs are removed or replaced so as to damage the piston or shell.

WORN OR OILY DO NOT hesitate to ask specialists on the subject. K.R. & T. Service Station men will give you the advice whether the plug in your engine is doing its job properly.

K.L.G. PLUGS are considered in East Africa to be the best plugs for the best performance of any engine. Although 90 per cent racing success in this country has been achieved by using K.L.G. plugs and the racing driver in his own car has his choice!

A BIG ADVANTAGE OF K.L.G. PLUGS is that they are designed and cleaned with an ordinary household brush.

AN IMPORTANT ECONOMY IN FUTURE REPAIRS will be made by taking care of your plugs before they are worn. A few shillings in a new set will also have been proved that expensive repairs will be avoided.

K.L.G. plugs save 50 tests before they are worn. It is important that the right plug is fitted for your engine. Whenever you order specify the make and size of your K.L.G. and specify the make and date of your car.

THE POSITION OF A SPARK PLUG. The basic function of a spark plug is to ignite the mixture in the combustion chamber of an engine by passing a spark across the two electrodes of the spark plug to initiate combustion. This year your engine begins to operate as your spark plug starts firing.

A WARMING ENGINE is commonly caused by the misfiring of fouled or dirty spark plugs. Fouling results from either carbon or fuel deposits on the insulator tips which often "short out" the plug.

WORN AND DIRTY SPARK PLUGS. Worn and dirty spark plugs will cost you money because the engine becomes liable to misfiring and therefore an appreciable amount of extra fuel is consumed. The misfiring engine causes strain by uneven turning to almost every working part of the engine. Even your best axle can be damaged through a misfiring engine because the power transmitted is under strain. In spasmotic. If a plug is misfiring, unignited fuel is entering the cylinder which is operating and causes the walls of the cylinder to be washed clean of lubricating oil, thereby causing over-heating and excessive wear of the cylinder bore and pistons. When a plug is worn to the extent that its gap is increased beyond recommended tolerance, a strain is put on the ignition system which causes the coil to produce greater voltages than which it is designed to produce. This will also cause difficult starting which means unnecessary wear on the starter and battery.

GLASS SPARK PLUGS. It is most important that plugs should be removed, cleaned and the gaps reset to the recommended tolerance at intervals between 3,000 and 5,000 miles.

It is a matter of fact

Throughout the world today much is said about types, in such as that the type most at times is not greatly content. It is offered more mileage, more rubber, less the impression is almost that the tires will actually make money for him as they run.

ROYAL Tyres have been used in East Africa since the early days of motorizing. We make no elaborate claims for them, we merely say that they offer you a first-class product for the money you spend on them. Thousands of proper care and attention, ROYAL has shown it returns everything they were given from a tyre and everything they are ever likely to get.

CHANGING HEAVILY AT NGATA CAMP

Free life and food in for 10,000 detainees

...a little more easily on which-overs at the camp. The former uncertainty of the Operation Anvil' is the grim, hazy, narrow and controlled a sudden black tide—and a flow of waves—are a phase that is past and is now settled down to a dull, unexciting, lonely existence in the first minutes past the dawn, in the morning sun and the evening sun. Here in the security of the fenced-in camp, the 10,000 African, Indian and European detainees are being treated as prisoners of war. The camp is a vast, open area with a few buildings scattered here and there. The atmosphere is one of quietude, but there is no response to the questions of the reporter.

No attempts made to escape

The 'really bad boys' in general run below the broadcast level. They have not been seen cooperating with anything. One day was cutting a man's hair. I wondered how each man applied to the camp. I asked a man named 'Murray' who was in the same authority. He said that the system is being adopted as a new one. It is a matter of being placed on the 'main' or 'back' list. The 'main' list corresponds with the former system. The 'back' list is for men with no previous record. The 'main' list is for men with a previous record. The fight against Mau Mau is only one of many going on in Kenya. Illiteracy, disease, and bad husbandry are always being combated and here Anthony Lavers tells of the work of the Medical Department in its struggle against river blindness in Nyanza Province.

KENYA'S WAR ON RIVER BLINDNESS

A. P. McMahon, senior Government entomologist and the man responsible for the solution of the river blindness problem in Nyanza Province.

RIVER blindness—Onchocerciasis to scientists—is a disease which ravages the African continent. It is caused by microscopic worms, carried by mosquitoes, which multiply under humid, malarial conditions. It brings pain or partial blindness to its victims, generally in middle age.

Life cycle

The problem hinged on the life cycle. Finding the adult fly was easy enough in some areas there were concentrations of thousands to every square yard. But to kill it, it had to be known where and how it lived. The problem took nearly two years to solve.

It was the river that finally led to the solution of the problem. The flies were found by some break of water from the river and hope of elimination seemed, and that by the river with D.D.T. The flies were found in the river, but getting those flies into the water of the river was the problem.

patients and degraded performance of the face of constant disappointments. Government has been unable to find thousands of miles through some of the most difficult country in Kenya.

Hack trails

They had to hack trails through dense forest and through swamps. They had to measure every inch of ground and animal and insect life in the area. The flies were found in the river.

Riddle unsolved

Three months' work on the river, with a lot of work to be done to the north and south. The flies were found in the river.

Detailed study

A further attempt to reach the medical mystery was made in 1953 when a further study was made. The flies were found in the river.

Bred in rivers

Work was done in the river. The flies were found in the river.

Garrison, by now unshaken that he had not lost the river, first tried the effect of D.D.T. solution on forest side in streams near Na. The flies were found in the river.

Died in forest

Hundreds of streams and brooks, most of them unexplored, were checked.

forests. Shaka was common at pilgrims in Tragaki Square, and mosquitoes with heads of buffalo were the cause of the flies.

ers pulled out hundreds of eggs of a habitat's mosquito. The flies were found in the river.

End of fear

JUST what, does this achievement represent? It means that thousands of Africans, who from childhood have been tormented by swarms of harassing, onchocercic worms, and run only just forward in an old age of darkness, now know that their children will grow up free of that horror of scourge.

Encouragement

In the meantime, Mr McMahon continued his search for the fly. The flies were found in the river.

THINNING HAIR

puts years on your age!

It's an unpleasant fact—but it's true!—that most women find you are for yourself—thinning hair makes a woman look ten years older. And yet, nowadays, with a minimum of trouble, almost everybody can have the hair they desire.

Use of hair is caused by a shortage of the vital amino-acids normally supplied by the bloodstream, without which hair cannot grow. The most practical way to remedy this is to use a hair tonic to supplement the natural supply of hair nutrients in the bloodstream. A preparation containing all the 18 amino-acids that are essential for healthy hair growth. Start using Silvikrin hair tonic and give your hair the nourishment it lacks.

THE HUNDRED FIELDS

By Lord Dunsany

I WENT the other day through a garden, past all the fruit of the season, where the veronica was blooming still and the roses were in their glory, and then through a little wood and out again. The trees were all dead and the ground was no longer cut for grass. I had never seen that, only man could grow it, and he had grown it and laid and on this hill the garden is unable to help him. And here one is tempted to say that the world was happier under the dominion of man. I wish I were that doctor who had the power that does not die, and I wish I were that I checked myself as I am, that the reader be able to do his own reasoning.

On this hill, then, among the platted grass, above my head as I set my eyes there lastly, to be seen the view of the hundred fields. As I look across, I began to count them and had done so many times that I found it impossible to do so again. I have done it many times in my life, but I am not sure if they are not just there down by the acre. In such a way, one wonders that the ages could be so happy.

SOMETIMES, as though Master Earth were open to a moment of weakness and his sister planets could hear or speak, I don't know, a hundred times is over the hundred fields. Then a high field under the sky shines out and the shadows of clouds drift slowly away, and I find myself in a world of light and dark, and I am glad to see that the world was smiling. In that smile one can clearly see the colors of all her fields that one can guess what crop they hold, but no more than guess.

The orderly jungle of hops one can see in one field for certain. Beside it is a neat and orderly field that is a wild and unbroken. The field is dotted with little bushes, and one can see the green of the field, but which must really be a child in a red dress. Above that is a field of a single tree, with an old man in it, in which the grass will grow. In a field of a single tree, the field of a sword that is nearly green, and I am glad to see that the field with nine straight stripes brilliant green.

IN BRITAIN TODAY Bellingers' protest strikes a curious note

THE Central Council of Church Bellingers has been addressing itself to the problem of synthetic vitamins. At first sight, this may seem pure impudence. But it stems, it would seem, in a thoroughly logical way, from the problem of synthetic bellingers.

A unanimous resolution "deprecates" the "growing number of synthetic bellingers recorded or electrically applied to the skin." This Council finds that such bellingers are "injurious to the service of God" during the rite of baptism.

F. E. Hawthorn said, with some reason, why the principle of synthetic bellingers ought to be extended to include synthetic chlores and pectidines.

He might have gone further. Why not synthetic teachers in the schools and synthetic doctors in the offices? Why, in making up synthetic congresses, synthetic pupils and synthetic employees?

"With records talking happily to one another in all our public edifices, we might be allowed to snick away happily from the world of the push-button and devote sensitive replies to the more significant aspects of existence.

After all we have to live in the Hyde Park Pavilion, and the next step is to the bin. The next step is to the bin. The next step is to the bin. The next step is to the bin.

What shall we still take on a fair ground amperage with voice from the tract of Trade Union as "work hard for your wages" while the dogmatists from New Scotland Yard march on the streets and the next step is to the bin. The next step is to the bin. The next step is to the bin.

Quiet time

SIX German Parliamentarians, visiting Britain recently, are reported to be "in the spirit of the British." This assured of having no record to be kept of anything he did or said.

Best of all, the synthetic husband has taken us from our own country with wives and mother-in-laws.

An appropriate remark was made in an unbreakable glass case in the offending female open all last month. After we had slammed the door, it would continue to sneer, was making noise for the first time in human history, that we had the last word.

The bellingers should be considered.

What about me?

PRESERVING THE PAST FOR THE FUTURE

The huge East African snake in the hand of Mr. E. Pinhey, entomologist at the Coryndon Museum, is often mistakenly called a python. It is a native of the East African highlands.

THE spider was about seven inches across, from foot to foot. A night-marish creature with brown hair covering its gross body and pencil-thick legs, it stood almost immovable in Mr. E. Pinhey's palm. I shuddered involuntarily.

Mr. Pinhey picked it up by the long legs sticking through its back and laid it gently on the glass-topped case.

"It's the one I'm usually called a bird-spider," he said, "but it's nothing of the kind. It's not very poisonous, but can probably give a nasty bite with those fangs."

I looked at the spidery, black "fangs" sticking under the creature's mouth and decided that even though it was dead I would prefer not to touch it.

Mr. Pinhey, however, handles the most poisonous spider he has in the entomologist at the Coryndon Museum. Not only some of natural history, but also some of the most fascinating exhibits from the skull of a prehistoric sheep with a horn that is a million years old.

It was a long time before I could see a fossil sheep, but I was told that the fossil sheep was a very common animal in the East African highlands.

FENNER TAPER-LOCK PULLEYS & BUSHES

Taper-Lock bushes are the most important development in connection with the fitting and removal of V-belt pulleys which has occurred in this century. The unique design of the bush enables any pulley to be assembled or removed in a few minutes. It is tapered on its outside diameter but bored parallel. It is split longitudinally and the action of tightening two or three set screws, according to size, draws the bush onto the tapered bore of the pulley, causing it to grip the shaft. The angle of the taper between pulley bore and bush is such that no key between the two is even needed, the friction caused by wedging action will take the full power of the shaft.

With Taper-Lock bushes it is possible for pulleys to be changed in diameter or position with the greatest of ease. Taper-Lock bushes draw off the troubles inherent in fitting or withdrawing keys. Taper-Lock pulleys are true running and accurately spaced. They are a highly standardised product of precision manufacture.

It is clear that it is both the British Commonwealth and the United States which are concerned in securing and maintaining peace...

PRIVATE TALKS IN WASHINGTON EXTENDED Intensive discussion during weekend WAY REPORTED CLEAR FOR EGYPTIAN TREATY

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL and President Eisenhower have decided to extend their private "clear the air" talks in Washington until today. Mr. Eden and Mr. Dulles earlier gave their chief up-to-date summary about the timing and methods for setting up a South-East Asian Defence Organisation. Mr. Eden and Mr. Dulles have also discussed the prospect for Anglo-Egyptian agreement on the expansion of British troops from the Suez Canal area to the Egyptian peninsula. They are now hoping that a new Anglo-Egyptian Treaty can be drawn up by the end of the month.

Canada makes new approach to Royal visits: Informal tour for the Duke

Canada hopes to break new ground, and perhaps help to set a new style for Royal visits in the future.

The plan has been announced by "letting H.R. 1000, the Royal Highness see what he wants to see, rather than deciding in advance what he will see."

Mr. Pakenham reports that the Government's attitude towards the Duke's visit is "very different from the one which has prevailed in the past."

Arrangements for the Duke's visit were made well in advance of the Royal tour of the Commonwealth and do not appear to have been the subject of any special reflection on the extensive programme in the future.

Defence plans to be 'pressed forward'

COMMUNISTS WARNED ON INDO-CHINA DEMANDS

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL and President Eisenhower ended their four-day talks in Washington by reaffirming their intention to set up a South-East Asian defence organisation—without saying when.

The President and the anti-Communist leaders have declared their intention to "press forward" the defence plans. A report from the State Department says that the agreement is a "historic" one and that it will be signed in the next few days. The pact is expected to include a mutual defence pact and a common defence force.

STUDY GROUPS TO MEET IN WASHINGTON

Two Anglo-American "study groups" are to be set up in Washington immediately to prepare plans for a South-East Asian defence in accordance with the agreement between the two governments.

MANAGER DISMISSED ON HIS LAST WORKING DAY

Commission staff did private job

THE Rhodesian Cold Storage Commission summarily dismissed its manager the day before he was to retire on learning details of a recent contract to receive £30,000 as a consultant, it was stated in the Federal Assembly at Salisbury.

The manager, Mr. E. B. Waldworth, had already received about £17,000 in fees from the Colonial Development Corporation over a four-year period. The Cold Storage Commission later renounced a decision to pay him a £100,000 retirement pension.

Five p.c. of cost
Members of the Commission were asked to resign, and it was stated in the Southern Rhodesian Parliament that aspects of the inquiry were being made into certain aspects of the Commission's affairs.

The statement to the Federal Assembly was made by Mr. Campbell, Minister of Agriculture, Mr. J. M. Waldworth, who in the past had advised without bias on projects in Southern Rhodesia, the Swaziland and the Bechuanaland Protectorate in Africa.

The Commission did not inquire about the amount of the fee or details of the contract. On June 23, 1949, Mr. Waldworth was appointed to act as consultant for the Development Corporation's Rhodesia project, and was awarded most works schemes at a fee of five per cent of the total cost of the works. This offer was accepted.

In office hours
Mr. Waldworth arranged with an engineer on his staff to assist him in a fee of £1,000, which was later increased to £1,200. The work of the Commission was prepared over several years with the help of the Commission's staff, who were paid for their services. It was stated that the Commission had no right to sue for the services of Mr. Waldworth.

Hybrid corn raises yield in Europe

HYBRID corn from the United States and Canada, grown last year in European and Mediterranean countries, added nearly 30,000 extra tons to the normal crop.

The achievement was part of a European experiment carried out by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization. The initial investment of about £14,000 resulted in extra tons valued at £100,000.

60 per cent increase
Over 7,000 specialists said the potential increase from the use of hybrid in these areas is about £1,000,000 tons. Compared with the normal crop of 211,000,000 tons, the extra yield is valued at £112,000,000.
