U.S. ATTEMPT TO HEAL SPLIT WITH FRANCE

Pineau arrives to talk with Dulles TUNISIA ARMS DEAL

The French Foreign Minister, M. Pineau, arrived yesterday in Washington for talks which, it is hoped, will soothe French feelings wounded over the Anglo-U.S. deliveries of arms to Tunisia.

Although M. Pineau's visit was originally intended for a discussion on the Nato summit meeting next month, the row between France and her two allies has assumed over-riding importance, and M. Pineau and Mr. Dulles, the U.S. Secretary of State, will have to solve this problem before they can review the Nato plans.

The Eisenhower Administration is working, before the new Allied concept of inter-dependence which includes possessing 15% laws, restricting the sharing of atomic weapons secrets, and yesterday Mr. Dulles discussed the proposals with the Democratic Party leader, Mr. Stevenson.

Mr. Stevenson, if he is still in Washington today, may be asked to help unofficially to smooth over the difficulties with France.

'Lesser of two evils'

Before leaving Paris, M. Pineau said he would explain to Mr. Dulles the "very grave situation and world opinion and Parliamentary mood" caused in France by the arm deliveries, which, it is feared, will be sent from Tunisia into the hands of Algerian rebels.

American fears that the deliveries on the basis of two evils, because of the possibility of Russia supplying arms to Tunisia, and there is therefore little doubt that M. Pineau is leaving Paris giving way to the French argument.

False hope on Russia

U.S. officials are said to be disappointed that M. Pineau has not been able to convince Mr. Dulles that the French are not planning to supply arms to the Algerian rebels. It is believed that the French are still planning to supply arms to the Algerian rebels.

Ultramodern Maiting Plant

Works 24 hours a day—7 days a week.

Built by East African Breweries Limited, this ultra modern maiting plant at Nairobi is equipped with the latest machinery for controlling the three air blowers to drive the ammonia compressor for cooling the germination box spray water.

Non-stop universal operation enables East African Breweries to process over 4000 tons of local barley into malt—supplied to breweries throughout East Africa and also to local flour mills as a wheat flour 'impure'.

The growing of maiting barley—primary ingredient of beer—calls for considerable care, attention and skill from farmers to conform to the high uniform requirements of the brewer. The maiting process—steeping, germination, curing, screening, resting—is a highly complicated operation calling for constant supervision and quality control at every stage of the 12 day cycle. Particularly important is the maintenance of strict temperature regulation. Slight variations throughout the process could result in the production of inferior and thus potent, malt.

Throughout the plant 61 English Electric motors from 1 1/2 to 93 1/2—perform a wide range of essential operations from controlling the three air blowers to driving the ammonia compressor for cooling the germination box spray water.

Typical of the highly specialized nature of the plant are Caltex Capella Oil's Capella Oil which have been particularly designed for low temperature resistance where stability, chemical and moisture resistance are vital operating factors.

Like all Caltex lubricants, Capella Oil's are being proved worldwide in the most rigorous conditions. If you have a tough job, ask the advice of the Caltex Technical Service. Their experience of lubrication problems and methods is at your disposal at any time.

TRUCK OPERATORS ASK FOR DUNLOP Roadtrak Major

Here's a Dunlop tyre that sells on sight: it combines strength, grip and long-wearing qualities in ideal proportions for on-road and off-road work. To the truck operator whose truck must tackle all surfaces, you can sell this Dunlop with every confidence that it will do every job better, that it will create both goodwill and repeat orders.

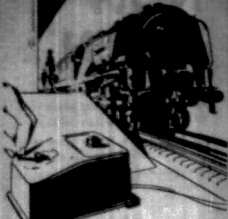

- Ribbed centre tread pattern provides even tread wear and longer tread life at high speeds.
- Bold staggered shoulder lugs for "grip" on soft rutted roads and off the road.
- Cut-resistant tread and wear-leaving tread pattern.

FINANCIAL LAXITY BY OFFICIALS IN KENYA

Colonel warns departments

LACK OF CONTROL

FINANCIAL irregularities and lack of proper control in Kenya Government departments were strongly criticised in Legislative Council on Tuesday evening by Col. S. E. Ghiesse, Member for Nairobi North.

Col. Ghiesse, who is chairman of the Public Accounts Committee, was moving the adoption of the committee's report for the year ended June 30, 1956.

Dealing with evidence taken by his committee in April this year, he pointed out that while there might have been improvement in accounting procedure in certain departments, it was obvious that money was being lost and nothing had been done to carry out the recommendations of the committee. "I must emphasize that such neglect cannot be tolerated," he said.

Promotion for inefficiency

Col. C. C. W. Hamber, Government Member, Member of the Public Accounts Committee, seconded the motion. He said that people who gave evidence appeared to be doing so in a very unbusinesslike manner, but that they were in fact doing so in a very businesslike manner.

He also criticised the tendency of some senior officers to blame their juniors for departmental deficiencies, and he thought such a tactic should be adopted for the future. "It is difficult to be a witness in a civil servant. The chances are that you will be a witness in a civil servant's department on a promotion rather than on a demotion."

More audit sections

The committee stated that the number of audit sections should be increased to 10, and that the number of auditors should be increased to 15. The committee also recommended that the number of audit sections should be increased to 10, and that the number of auditors should be increased to 15.

Staff shortage

Within the introduction of the new financial year, the committee recommended that the number of staff should be increased to 10, and that the number of auditors should be increased to 15.

It is the first of a series of letters received by the Editor which are intended to provide a platform for the expression of views on the various subjects which are discussed in the "Letters to the Editor" column of this paper.

I was very interested to read the article on "The State of the Nation" and thought that it would be worth pointing out to the Editor that you are not alone in your views on the subject.

In regard to the article on "The State of the Nation" I have a number of points to raise. First, I would like to see a more detailed analysis of the economic situation of the country. Second, I would like to see a more detailed analysis of the political situation of the country. Third, I would like to see a more detailed analysis of the social situation of the country.

I am sure that the Editor will be glad to receive such contributions and will be glad to publish them in the "Letters to the Editor" column of this paper.

Social standard

I am extremely disappointed to hear that the Government is planning to reduce the social standard of the country. This is a very serious matter and I am sure that the people of the country will be very disappointed to hear this news.

The Government should be aware that the social standard of the country is one of the most important factors in determining the country's economic growth. If the social standard is reduced, the country's economic growth will be severely affected.

I am sure that the Government will be glad to receive such contributions and will be glad to publish them in the "Letters to the Editor" column of this paper.

Kenya development

I am sure that the Government will be glad to receive such contributions and will be glad to publish them in the "Letters to the Editor" column of this paper.

Police Fund

I am sure that the Government will be glad to receive such contributions and will be glad to publish them in the "Letters to the Editor" column of this paper.

Looking for work

I am sure that the Government will be glad to receive such contributions and will be glad to publish them in the "Letters to the Editor" column of this paper.

POPS. PLAN FOR AFRICAN HUNTERS

Smaller game reserves

The Poplar Party has proposed the creation of smaller game reserves for African hunters. The party believes that this will provide a better opportunity for Africans to enjoy the game and to benefit from the tourism industry. The current reserves are often too large and are managed in a way that does not take into account the needs of the local population. Smaller reserves would be more manageable and would provide a more sustainable source of income for the local people.

The Poplar Party's proposal is part of its broader programme for the development of the country. It aims to improve the lives of the people and to create a more equitable society. The party believes that the creation of smaller game reserves is a key element of this programme and will help to reduce poverty and improve the standard of living.

Thoughts of Christmas

Terms of Government loan 'fantastic'

WARNING ON COST

The terms of the £2,000 million Government loan to Kenya are described as 'fantastic' by some observers. They warn that the loan could have a significant impact on the country's economy if it is not managed carefully. The loan is to be repaid over a period of 30 years and the interest rate is 8 per cent. This is a high interest rate for a developing country and could place a heavy burden on the Government's budget. The Government must ensure that the loan is used for productive investment and that it does not lead to a large increase in the country's foreign debt.

EFFECT OF MOISTURE ON ROADS

Millers looking for wage increases are warned that their demands may be rejected. The employers are concerned that a wage increase will lead to an increase in costs and to a higher risk of unemployment. They are calling for a more moderate approach to wages. The workers are also concerned that a wage increase will be used as an excuse to cut jobs. The Government is trying to mediate between the two sides and to find a way forward.
