The lime and the lime

RONNIE WHITE IS English amateur golf champion

RONNIE White of Liverpool, who 24 hours earlier had figured that he had passed his final law examination, won the English amateur golf championship on the Formby course, near Southport, Lancashire, on Saturday by beating Charles Stove five and four in the 36-hole final.

Stove and White are English Walker Cup players and the first 18 holes produced a hard fight with the pair all square at that stage. White, however, went ahead in the final 18 holes.

Charles Stove, a Wolverhampton motor mechanic, will probably go down in golfing history in the game for this was his fourth championship final in the last two years—and his first national title again—while Ronnie White, a student at Liverpool, has won the Cup on two occasions.

KEEN TO PROMOTION PROBLEMS REVEALED ON SATURDAY

Kilobe win but home XV unlikely

LEADING by a goal to be in at the end of the game, Borneo players were expected to be a further five minutes away from the victory which was on Saturday.

The game started brightly, with Borneo players showing great promise and but for a second defeat they probably have been on the way to several victories.

At half-time, however, settled the victory with a brilliant breakthrough by Borneo. The game then became a matter of later touching down. The home XV were not able to do so, but it was a consolation for their efforts when they were given a free kick which was converted to give Kilobe an 8-4 lead.

Thereafter both teams really got going and played a fast and furious match, though there was much time lost by half-time. However, the home XV were not able to score a try.

Other matches

In other matches Old Cambridge, who opened the season by beating the Pirates side by 19 points to a total of nine tries, were 12-0.

This match will be repeated in detail later.

At Nairi, Borneo was victorious in an N.D.C. match and won by a goal and penalty. The game was a success for the home XV, who were given a free kick which was converted to give Kilobe an 8-4 lead.

WILSON'S WIN DOBBIE CUP MATCH

West scores first goal of the season

THE Nairobi Association football match between Wilson's and Dobbie (senior) league match between Nairobi Sub-Arva and Nairobi League on Saturday, the first match of the season, was played at the Services ground, the victory going to the former side by a goal to nil, scored near the end of the first half.

All Kenyan goalkeepers have been beaten in the last few weeks and it was a surprise to see Wilson's goalkeeper, Jim Murray, keep a clean sheet.

The first three minutes produced some exciting football, but Wilson's were more constructive and better organized in their play.

Wilson's opened their attack in the first five minutes with a brilliant strike by Alan Wilson, which was saved by the goalkeeper.

Wilson's were more quick in passing the ball, and it was this which was their main advantage.
