of an invasion of Japan proper 10 days later, on August 17, 1944. The British leaders of the Imperial Army Reserve Association in Tokyo, General Lord Louis Mountbatten, the Chairman of the "Reservist" organization, explained the details of calling up all the members of the Association to Japan, and to then the reservist organizations in the United Kingdom, on the coast and in certain military districts. The reservist organizations were ordered to muster the members of their organizations in Kenya for a course of training. Since then, three times in 1944, three times in 1945, when General Lord Louis Mountbatten, the Chairman of the Imperial Army Reserve Association in Tokyo, made up the Government's mind to call up the members of the reservist organizations to train in the use of arms and kit who had never served before.

In the early morning of September 11, when the "Reservist" reported for service in 20,000 Japanese towns and villages, the reservist organizations were trained persons, workers and soldiers, and were sent to the front lines. The reservist organizations were sent to the front lines in the form of a "Reservist" organization. Fast Play In Final Hockey Match

The final hockey match of the O.C.T.I. season took place on Saturday afternoon at the Nakuru Athletic Club. The match was a well-contested one, with Nakuru leading 3-1 at half-time. In the second half, the goalkeepers were not quite as reliable as they had been in the first half, and Nakuru scored three more goals to win the match 6-1.

The match was refereed by Mr. J. H. W. Adams. Nakuru's forwards were led by the late Mr. G. J. Jones. Nakuru's goalkeepers were Mr. G. J. Jones and Mr. J. H. W. Adams. Nakuru's forwards were led by the late Mr. G. J. Jones.

Special Fund for P.W. in Jay Hands Steadily Rising

The British Red Cross
The general impression is that the Special Fund for Prisoners of War in Japan
is steadily rising.

I am convinced as I have been in the past that the British Government will do all that is possible to bring about the earliest possible return of our prisoners.

Starch Coupons
The attention of all members of the Government is drawn to the fact that the value of the Starch Coupons has been increased.

The whole affair, in company with its problems in Europe and beyond, has had a widespread effect on the British people. We have been urged to meet for a meeting of the British Government and the Prime Minister.

The special appeal fund for prisoners-of-war in Japanese hands has been steadily rising.
The general impression is
that the Special Fund for

TRADITION

THE great work of manufacturing excellence and prudent promotion which characterise the Bata policy have been followed by a deeply-respected sense of responsibility in the national health. They yield the sector of continuous and reliable service during more than half a century. These self-imposed standards have even a greater significance than merely to supply reason for endurance and the successful fulfilment of past obligations... they are the necessary solid foundation to the progressive programme of today, (it is called as it is a scientific research and practical experimental device. They represent vigour and dependability. They are the traditions of Bata.

Britain's Youth Goes Back To The Land

[A "Magnificent Development of the London News Chronicle"]
The British youth has come out to meet a new type of life in the rural areas, under the artificial conditions of the modern world, but they are being attracted to the land and to the life of the farmer. With this in view, every effort is being made to encourage the youth to go to the land and to take up the life of the farmer. This is being done by the Government and by the various organizations which are working for the benefit of the youth.

On a winter's night in January 1937, the rain poured down on the hills of the Cotswolds. The villagers looked out of their windows and saw the rain pouring down on the hills. They were looking out at the rain and the hills and the villages in the distance. They were looking out at the rain and the hills and the villages in the distance. They were looking out at the rain and the hills and the villages in the distance.

That was hardly surprising because at that moment the rain was pouring down on the hills. They were looking out at the rain and the hills and the villages in the distance. They were looking out at the rain and the hills and the villages in the distance. They were looking out at the rain and the hills and the villages in the distance.

This is the first of a series of articles which will deal with the various aspects of the youth's return to the land. The first article will deal with the reasons why the youth is returning to the land. The second article will deal with the various organizations which are working for the benefit of the youth. The third article will deal with the various schemes which are being run by the Government and by the various organizations.

It is not only the youth who are returning to the land, but also the parents and the grandparents. They are also being attracted to the land and to the life of the farmer. This is being done by the Government and by the various organizations which are working for the benefit of the youth and the parents.

To have a love of the land is to have a love of life. It is to have a love of life is to have a love of the land. This is the first of a series of articles which will deal with the various aspects of the youth's return to the land. The first article will deal with the reasons why the youth is returning to the land. The second article will deal with the various organizations which are working for the benefit of the youth.

HERE'S LUCK

My word! This is fine Whisky! There's an unmistakable delicacy about it. No mistaking such velvet smoothness. No mistaking the bouquet, strengthening glow which has never a trace of false taste. No mistaking when whisky has quality like that of a fine liquor.

Maintaining The Health of The Union's Stock

By Dr. P. J. du Toit, Director of Veterinary Services

THE very civilized industry today... In the maintenance of the health of its farm animals is regarded as a major function of the State. South Africa is no exception in this regard.

The main duty of the Field Service is to control infectious diseases in this country. In the first place the introduction of diseases from outside the Union has to be prevented. For this purpose all ports of entry have to be visited and along the coast and inland routes the posts are visited very carefully.

Amongst the diseases caused by micro-organisms which can be transmitted from one animal to another... The vaccine against rabies is one of the most important vaccines used in the Union.

HOUSEWIVES IN WARTIME

Quick peeps into busy days in Britain. When we visit Mrs. B. we find her in the kitchen, busy as a bee. She is a housewife in wartime, and her life is a constant struggle to keep her household running smoothly. She has to make do with less, and she has to be creative in her use of resources. She has to be a good manager, and she has to be a good cook. She has to be a good mother, and she has to be a good citizen. She has to be a good housewife in wartime.

NURSES

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard". The dearth of nurses in East Africa is a serious problem. It is a problem that has been discussed many times in the past, and it is a problem that is still with us today. The shortage of nurses is a result of many factors, including the fact that many nurses are leaving the profession, and the fact that few new nurses are being trained. The shortage of nurses is a problem that is affecting the health of the people of East Africa, and it is a problem that must be solved.

V-E Day In The Seychelles

Fun Victoria week on V.E. Day in the spirit of the late and lamented King of the Allied operations, and Antons of every material were in some way. Government officials were with each other to prepare the day.

On V.E. Day, church bells were rung to celebrate the good tidings to some of the outlying islands. All ships in harbour were hoisted at their customary way.

Next morning there was a massed band concert in the Gordon Square where H.E. the Administrator, the Mayor, and a large crowd of civilians, the band of the Royal Company of the Seychelles, played for the morning and afternoon.

On Sunday evening H.E. the Administrator broadcast Mr. Oliver Bousquet's message to the Colonies from the studio of Radio Victoria. It was the message broadcast from the Station 2200 and relayed to other parts of the island.

On May 16, H.E. the Governor, Sir Marston Loudon returned after his motorcade from the British Legation and was welcomed by all the leading citizens in the Church Hall, where he was given a hearty welcome.

On Monday, H.E. the Governor, Sir Marston Loudon returned after his motorcade from the British Legation and was welcomed by all the leading citizens in the Church Hall, where he was given a hearty welcome.

THE WEEK'S LEADERS

Monday, June 11, 1948.

There is every reason for the Director of the Interim Report to be pleased with the Government's recommendations. A study has been generally well-received in most quarters. What was not to be expected, however, is that the recommendations should be carried out. The recommendations are of a very important nature and should be referred to the Director of Statistics for detailed proposals. It is recommended that the Director of Statistics should study the various methods in use of the various countries and, if possible, without further delay, should report to the Government.

Government's Reaction Plans And To Interim Report On Development

INNER WHEEL CLUB TALK

THE Kenya Government has been pleased to receive the Interim Report on Development submitted by the Government's Development Committee. A study has been generally well-received in most quarters. What was not to be expected, however, is that the recommendations should be carried out. The recommendations are of a very important nature and should be referred to the Director of Statistics for detailed proposals. It is recommended that the Director of Statistics should study the various methods in use of the various countries and, if possible, without further delay, should report to the Government.

It is interesting to note that the recommendations are of a very important nature and should be referred to the Director of Statistics for detailed proposals. It is recommended that the Director of Statistics should study the various methods in use of the various countries and, if possible, without further delay, should report to the Government.

Another recommendation is that a general census should be held as soon as possible after the end of the Government. What is also being considered is the possibility of holding a census in the East African countries. It is recommended that the Government should consider the possibility of holding a census in the East African countries.
