When Shipments are permitted
War-time legislation does not allow the unrestricted export of our various products. In certain circumstances, however, Steel Wire Ropes, Steel Wire and Manila Hemp Ropes, etc. may still be supplied, if substantially identical, and if they are essential. All such shipments will maintain fully the reputation for quality associated with the manufacture of British Ropes Limited throughout the world. When Victory crowns our efforts with success, supplies will be returned with the utmost dispatch, and they will incorporate the many improvements and developments gained by the extensive experience of the last few years.

In the meantime, we would like to remind our many friends overseas that the normal British Ropes Limited Admiralty Service is at their disposal. Our technical staff will welcome queries; they will gladly give assistance and advice on all problems submitted.

PERSONALLY SPEAKING

SPEAKING quite personally, of course, his notes and recollections of the week-end work, one way and another, and hardly by evening has gone by without some sort of entertainment—quite apart from a plethora of recollections. And then, tomorrow, we mustn't forget the Nairobi Club's "Week-end" a two-day affair this, the second day being Monday, Bank Holiday. The racing begins at 2:30 p.m.

Looking back through my remembrance book, I see that the week's social entertainment was a most enjoyable one. Mrs. W. G. Triggs, who will still be going out to the Blue Room, will have a very interesting evening with her closing performance.

On Sunday night another of those splendid musical evenings by the Nairobi Musical Society was given at the Theatre Royal in aid of the Red Cross Service. The orchestra was led by the young Mr. J. M. W. W. who, like his mother, has fine no musical sense, and music brought very considerable pleasure to all.

Very few opened with the usual concert of music by the group of young people from the Nairobi Musical Society. The programme was a most successful one, and the group, under the leadership of the young Mr. J. M. W. W., who, like his mother, has fine no musical sense, and music brought very considerable pleasure to all.

With Mrs. W. G. Triggs, who will still be going out to the Blue Room, will have a very interesting evening with her closing performance.

For Britain to act precipitately would be a dangerous affront to the Government of India. The Government in its present circumstances is not justified in permitting a decision to defect to its own detriment. It is a matter of course that the Government should be influenced by its own people, but the influence of its own people should be exercised through the proper channels. It is not the business of the Government to be influenced by its own people through the medium of its own people, but through the medium of its own people.
