ment and people of Kenya must proceed from the point of view of the Colony. The proposal to set up a Settlement Commission is a practical step. At least the settlement should be employed on a full-time basis. It is important enough to require more than half-time attention. Maize Registration Scheme Kenya Pilot's Great feat Of Endurance

In order to ensure regular supplies of maize and other main products such as wheat, the Government has introduced a registration scheme for maize. This scheme will ensure that the Government has a clear record of the maize production in the country. The registration scheme will be implemented in a pilot scheme in the Nairobi District. The Government will issue registration cards to all maize growers in the pilot scheme. These cards will be used to record the maize production of each grower. The Government will then use this information to plan the distribution of maize and other main products. The registration scheme is a great feat of endurance, as it will require a lot of time and effort to implement. However, it is a necessary step to ensure the regular supply of maize and other main products to the people of Kenya.

Who squeezed the first lime?

MEANS CAMERBERT, who invented that excellent chaser, has a statue erected to her honour in her native place. History can tell us nothing of the gentleman who invented the lime. Nor do we know the name of that far-off benefactor who first discovered that the juice of the ripe lime makes the finest three-quarter all in this dry and desiccated clime.

We do not know his name, but we drink to his memory. We toast him in Rose's Lime Juice. Rose's in long drinks, Rose's in short drinks, Rose's in Gimslet. For Rose's is the pure juice of the lime. Nothing chemical. Nothing artificial. Just the juice of the lime with its natural light-queening tang.

This is why Rose's is just a tiny bit more expensive—it happens to be the real thing. Quite an important point in our particular corner of the globe where the scientific treatment of thirst is so well understood.

COOPER'S COMMUNIQUE

The Commonsense of Spraying

CAPEX LIME SULPHUR for Coffee Thrips

Spray early before the damage is done. In many cases growers do not begin to spray until damage is apparent. It is then too late to get the full benefit. This applies especially to fungus diseases which are far easier to prevent than to control after they have once become established.

Spray every seven days. You cannot tell in advance whether your trees will be attacked. Prevention is better and cheaper than cure.

Don't spray directly or just after a shower. The extra moisture will dilute and weaken the wash.

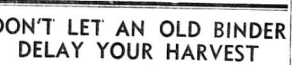

Last but not least, spray thoroughly and conscientiously, a poor spraying is a waste both of labour and material.

Preparing for a Drought

(By L. A. ELMER, Assistant Agricultural Officer)

DEVELOPING NEW LAND

The long period of dry weather already experienced has made a number of farmers uneasy, and there is a feeling that some may be due for a trying dry season before the onset of the main rains in 1934.

It is clear, should it be so, that the dry season will be a very hard one. They should start the dry season at good condition as possible. During the dry weather the work expected of us should be in proportion to the amount of water available. If the soil is in a condition to hold water, the condition should be maintained. If the soil is in a condition to hold water, the condition should be maintained. If the soil is in a condition to hold water, the condition should be maintained.

DEVELOPING NEW LAND

The following very sound criticisms and hints merit publication. When the mounds of ground with a head of water are under a rain of water it is pointed out that I make the driver's hat on the end of the furrow and then the driver's hat on the end of the furrow.

STUMPING LAND

A farmer who ordinarily requires 7 to 8 boys per acre for stumping a field with a long rope to haul over trees. He points out that before the average tree will fall over, all the roots and stems must be cut through. The driver's hat on the end of the furrow is a very good device for stumping a field.

PREPARING LAND FOR BREAKING

An economical method of filling up holes is as follows:— After stumping and clearing the land, the holes are marked out for ploughing and on the lines where the plough is to work first, the holes are filled up with a long rope to haul over trees. The driver's hat on the end of the furrow is a very good device for stumping a field.

Maize Stalks

Maize stalks are a valuable source of food for stock. They should be cut up into small pieces and mixed with other feed. They are particularly valuable for young stock.

Straus

The straw of every grain crop is a valuable source of food for stock. It should be cut up into small pieces and mixed with other feed. It is particularly valuable for young stock.

DRAINAGE OF PESI-NAROK SWAMP

The problem of water supply for those farmers and tribesmen who depend upon the water system of the Lase Nyiro River has long been a matter of concern. A plan to afford a better water supply for some of these, particularly those watered by the Pesi and Narok rivers, but not by the Lase Nyiro was started on October 2.

This is an excellent feed much required by cattle and sheep. It should be planted now to serve as a reserve fodder for dry seasons.

Sunflowers

In addition to its value as a high yielding sunflower, it is also a good source of oil. It should be planted now to serve as a reserve fodder for dry seasons.

Miscellaneous Fodders

There are a number of wholesome plants which may be available in bulk quantities. These include various types of grasses and legumes.

QUESTION OF LIVING WAGE FOR AFRICAN EMPLOYEES OF GOVERNMENT

The Minister for the East Africa and Uganda Department, Mr. A. G. Cooke, has announced that the Government is considering the question of living wages for African employees of the Government. He stated that the Government is aware of the fact that the wages of African employees are generally lower than those of European employees, and that this is a matter which requires attention. He said that the Government is considering the possibility of introducing a minimum wage for African employees, and that this would be done in a way which would be fair to both sides.

Christmas Issue Of Rice And Potatoes

The special committee on rice and potatoes has issued a report on the supply situation for Christmas. The report indicates that there is a shortage of both commodities, and that the Government is taking steps to ensure that supplies are available for the festive season. The committee has recommended that the Government should increase production and improve distribution to meet the demand.

Maize Movements To Be Avoided

The Government has issued instructions to avoid unnecessary movements of maize. This is to ensure that the available stock is used efficiently and that there is no wastage. The instructions apply to all areas where maize is produced and stored. The Government is also taking steps to improve the storage facilities for maize to prevent losses due to spoilage.

FOOD SUPPLIES CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor, "F.A. Standard"
I am writing to you regarding the food supplies situation in our country. I have noticed that the prices of many essential food items have risen sharply. This is a cause for concern, especially for the lower income groups. I hope that the Government will take steps to control prices and ensure that food supplies are adequate for all.

WAR ON THE UNION'S DOORSTEP

Dear Sir: The war is a great affliction, but it is not a disaster. It is a challenge to the human spirit. It is a test of our courage and our faith. It is a time when we must stand together and fight for our common good. We must not let the enemy divide us. We must stand firm and true to our principles.

It is also a source of wealth and prosperity for the colonies. The colonial empire is a testament to the greatness of the British race. It is a source of pride and honor for all who are proud to be British.

AFRICAN LABOUR

The Editor of the Standard writes: African labour is the backbone of the East African economy. It is the main source of the raw materials and the services that are needed for the development of the continent. Diet for FINICKY Children

It isn't always cautioned that makes children go off their food. More often it's "nervous" and "irritable." The stimulus of a new, palatable energy giving and easily digested food is called for.

Finicky children respond very readily to Horlicks. They love to flavour it, it keeps them regular and provides constant nourishment in a form that the most quavary stomach can take.

Soon you notice a wonderful change. The appetite becomes keener, perspiration goes. The little body begins to fill out, colour returns to the cheeks. Horlicks gives a child all the energy needed for rapid growth and strenuous play.

Measles In Relation To Beef Production

A MEMORANDUM ADOPTED BY THE STOCKOWNERS' ASSOCIATION

THE incidence of cattle measles in Kenya apart from its high cost the cattle industry some £50,000 per annum in condemned carcasses, is so widespread that it cannot be effectively combated there is no hope of extending a beef industry beyond the borders of Eastern Africa, and farmers must face the fact that they are producing for what is, in normal times, a very limited market, which in the past has been frequently saturated.

The eradication of cattle measles staff, but rather should be undertaken at once by the Government with a view to its total eradication by the farmer.
