PROSTRATE FOR 36 HOURS Woman's Bilious Attacks Had Become Chronic

THE "DAILY Dose" PUT HER RIGHT

"I have suffered all my life," writes a woman, "from bilious attacks in a most severe form, which have prostrated me for days at a time."

"You know how badly an engine runs when it gets choked up. It's the same with your body when your digestion is sluggish or stopped."

"I got all those six pills and I was cured in three days. It was a relief to me. I was so tired and so nervous."

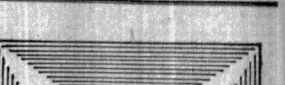

Have a GIMLET (Gin & Lime)

Once the sun has said "Good-bye" to Africa — start a "Good-evening" with a Gimlet.

Gin-and-lime is the healthiest, most invigorating drink to refresh on a hot day with — especially when it's made with Rose's Lime Juice.

For COLDS of All the Family

This modern external treatment is best

Mother prefer Vicks VapoRin for children's colds, because it avoids the common danger of disturbing delicate little sinuses.

Other members of the family, too, prefer Vicks for their own colds, because it is so convenient, and so sure of bringing relief. You just rub it on the throat and chest.

This method of treating colds originated with Vicks, Today, the whole trend of modern medical practice is away from medicine "down" the throat.

Week's Rainfall

Reports from East African Stations

Following is the R.E.A. Meteorological Service rainfall report for the week ending April 23 at certain stations in the Colony and Protectorate of Kenya and other East African Territories:

Table with 2 columns: Station Name and Rainfall (inches). Stations include Kisumu, Mombasa, Malindi, etc.

Road and Weather Report

The Clerk of the Weather has been recording conditions for this week on terrestrial roads have fallen, particularly all over East Africa and it is to be noted that any of our roads are standing up to the downpours. This is the first time in eighteen years that I have known such widely reported rains at Kisumu, Malindi, Nairobi, the Aberdares, Embu, Nyanja, Kapanga, Meru, Tabora and the Southern Tanganyika highlands to register over an inch of rain in a week.

In Kenya the wettest place this week was the Nyeri, with 4 inches, followed by Meru with just under 4 inches, the Kinabop with 3 inches, Ngong and Machakos with 2 inches, Lamuru and Fort Hall with 2 inches, Kericho and Ngong with 2 inches, and Eldama Ravine with 2 inches of rain to a landslide. The Meru-Reru road is closed to traffic at present and, in consequence of the terrestrial rain in that district, the Athi River-Mombasa road is impassable. Members wishing to proceed to Arusha, are advised to rail their cars to Nairobi.

In Tanganyika, the wettest place this week was Bahika with 3 1/2 inches, followed by Dar es Salaam with 4 1/2 inches. Most of the roads are in a very bad condition and many of those in Southern and Western Tanganyika are impassable.

In Uganda both Mankia and Kapanga roads are under 2 inches during the week. Jinja 2 1/2 inches and Fort Portal just under 2 inches. Most of the roads are in a fair condition. In the Congo, most of the state of country roads are on a telegraphic information just received.

Mahseer Fishing in India

By Hugh Copley

The Mahseer of Southern India.

The Mahseer is a hard-boned, slender fish with a long, pointed snout and a pair of barbels on each side of its mouth. It is a voracious feeder and is found in the hills and plains of India. It is a very good fish to eat and is highly esteemed in the hills and plains of India.

Two Standard Baits

In the hills, a spoon is the standard bait, but in the plains, a hook and worm is used. The fish is a voracious feeder and is found in the hills and plains of India. It is a very good fish to eat and is highly esteemed in the hills and plains of India.

A Visit to Hongkong

Let me now describe a visit to Hongkong. The fish is a voracious feeder and is found in the hills and plains of India. It is a very good fish to eat and is highly esteemed in the hills and plains of India.

After seeing the water, I looked on 18 pound fish and, after a short wait, got one about 10 p.m. It was a very good fish to eat and is highly esteemed in the hills and plains of India.

WOMEN'S WORK IN CANADA

A Chat With Dr. Cora Hind

WHEN Dr. Cora Hind, the Canadian expert on what passed through Nairobi recently, I asked her about women's work and their expansion in Canada. Canadian women of moderate means, she said, did most of their own work, with hired help perhaps once or twice a week. The house was very well supplied with modern devices for labour-saving, and she made it a point to add that it seldom "On the farm it has always been difficult to get help and at the present time not many of the farm people can afford it. The farms which are more settled in the west than in the east have been going through a period of depression, and the women's institutes have been of enormous help and encouragement."

Women's Institutes

The women's movement, Dr. Hind told me, was very strong in Canada. The Government has a department which is known as the Woman's Bureau, which is the nucleus of the work of the women's institutes. These institutes have a membership of one or two women of one town or one village. Their objects are to help one another in all ways possible, to give them the benefit of one another's experience, and to give them the benefit of one another's experience. They help with sewing, with reading, with cooking, with domestic things, how to make their own clothes, and so on, and in spin and card their own wool, and so on.

The Women's Canadian Club, which is non-political, is very prominent in the work of the women's institutes. Their meetings are more often of an educational order, at which prominent speakers give addresses. Canadian women, explained Dr. Hind, are never up and coming, and there are some splendid speakers among them. There is now no bar of colour to women entering the professions, though in Canada, as in England, men are still to give women party invitations. Their constitutionalism is the very human reason that they want their Homesteads.

She has her earlier stages as Chief Inspector for the Manitoba Fire Protection (with which she has been associated for 15 years) industry. She is now in charge of the department which deals with fire insurance. She has a very high standard of efficiency, and she is a very human reason that they want their Homesteads.

Mrs. J. J. Farrel, wife of the Governor General, is wearing the printed linen in Vogue.

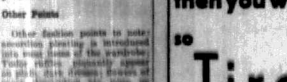

Printed Linen in Vogue

PRINTED linen is among the season's successful fabrics and is used for evening gowns as well as for frocks and suits. There is substance in the material which makes it desirable for almost any type of occasion. An attractive evening dress is made of softening material, and the underclothes taking the form of small flowers. This is a simple model, ideal for Kenya.

Short jackets of printed linen are showing with plain dresses for the first time. The designs are more noticeable printed effects. The material is not heavy stiff looking, but soft and light, making it especially attractive for the day. The full skirt, too, with a modified bustle effect, has been shown and approved.

Other Points

Other features point to better-looking evening gowns introduced into some of the wardrobe. The new designs are of a very simple style, but of a very smart type. The new designs are of a very simple style, but of a very smart type.

An example of the effect of the new printed linen dress.

FOR THE COOL WEATHER

New Swing Back Coats

DRESS paradox continues and, since fashion has more or less settled down for the season, designers are chiefly concerned with variations of accepted models and distinct new trimmings, notes which give the individual air of distinction.

In most of the silhoues I noticed a preference for little swung back coats, without fastenings, with rather important sleeves, short fronts and dipping backs, the backs having a good deal of fullness. This is a becoming line, young, wearable and gay, recommended especially to the slim woman who can wear a light skirt and an above of the swing coat to advantage. One designer calls the coat "lure" coat.

Such little swing back sweaters cut in black, white and grey and put on over a light-colored blouse.

Pewter Comes Into Its Own

Pewter is gradually making back into favour in England, after more than a century. We have seen that the revival of one of England's oldest industries, an industry in which London played a conspicuous part. At the moment, its revival is chiefly for decorative purposes, but there is a growing demand for the use of pewter in the kitchen and in the home. This movement for the revival of pewter in the home has begun in England, where it has been a revival of the art of the pewter for the past few years, but there has been a revival of the art of the pewter in the home. BABY RINGS

Fashions in Wedding Rings

THESE have been many changes in wedding ring fashions. Mr. Frank Powell, managing director of a famous Birmingham firm, said, "We made so thin as they are today. These fashions returned the heavy duty imposed on them. The tax worked out at several pounds the ounce and it was remembered to have a light ring. Gradually rings became wider and wider, and fifty years ago the ring was fashionable, simple, and had no heavy duty. The average weight being six to ten pennyweights. Recently the style of fashion reached the opposite end of the scale and the demand was for extremely narrow and light rings. There is the noticeable tendency to revert to heavier rings. The plain gold wedding ring is still most popular with brides, although many platinum and more rings are sold."

When no longer use the tiny gold or enameled ivory ring stands which used to be seen on some fashionable gowns. Instead they look their best in a neat jewelry box with an ornamental lock. The box is made so that when the lid is opened the whole of the jewelry is on view, so rings have to be lifted out and put in a decorative table where they can be knocked down, stored or forgotten.

CANDLE LIGHT

The period trend in furniture has brought candle light back into fashion. Old candle sticks are being pulled up and, in brass and silver, decorated with the designs of modern and antique lamps. The new candle sticks are being pulled up and, in brass and silver, decorated with the designs of modern and antique lamps.

They Say—

Being extracts from references in the Press overseas to East Africa.

Tanganyika in the Limelight— Germany's peaceful Penetration— Uganda smiles; Kenya grumbles— Civilisation and Education will do no good— A Forest as large as Europe—

LORD STANHOPE ON TANGANYIKA

The East will do much more for us than we have done for it. It is not a question of giving Tanganyika to Germany.

I am sure that we would find it difficult to find a more fertile field for our civilisation and education than Tanganyika has never been, and it is my hope that we had not lost it very long.

Lord Stanhope's statement will be a striking example to the colonial administrators in Africa. It is a statement which is well worth reading.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM NEAR DAR ES SALAAM

The average yield of maize in the country has been about 100 bushels per acre. It is not a question of giving Tanganyika to Germany.

I am sure that we would find it difficult to find a more fertile field for our civilisation and education than Tanganyika has never been, and it is my hope that we had not lost it very long.

AN OPEN MIND ON THE QUESTION

"The 'Shonyi Dispatch' from the East African Standard is a most interesting and valuable contribution to the discussion of the East African question."

MOST SACAGIOUS ELEPHANT

The East African Standard is doing a most excellent job of getting on with their work in peace.

The article is well written and contains a lot of interesting facts and figures. It is a most valuable contribution to the discussion of the East African question.

There were tens of thousands of Indians in Uganda and Kenya. It would be difficult to carry on without them. The British was not a soldier. It was a man of letters. It was a man of letters. It was a man of letters.

MAIZE IS UNPROFITABLE

The average yield of maize in the country has been about 100 bushels per acre. It is not a question of giving Tanganyika to Germany.

FRANCE NOT TO GIVE UP ANY MANDATES

BUT BRITISH PREMIER STILL DECLINES TO BE DEFINITE

Future of Tanganyika

POSITION TO BE DISCUSSED AT PUBLIC MEETING IN LONDON

Interest in the future of the Mandates continues and the matter was referred to again in the House of Commons on Thursday when the Prime Minister answered a question in terms similar to other recent ministerial pronouncements.

As yet in the future of Tanganyika was expressed at the Month Chamber of Commerce by members representative of many different interests in that and neighbouring territories. The subject will be discussed further at a public meeting in London.

Meanwhile France has made it clear that she has no intention of transferring any of the Mandates she holds.

A FURTHER INDICTMENT OF GERMAN ARMAMENT

Coming Crisis

LEADING TO GLORIOUS AGE OF PROSPERITY OR WORLD CATASTROPHE

Mr. Winston Churchill held the House of Commons spell-bound by a speech in which he again referred to the colossal expenditure by Germany last year on armaments.

He declared that within the lifetime of the present Parliament Europe would experience either a glorious age of prosperity or an unimagined world catastrophe.

AIRWAYS SERVICES
Record of a Week's Activities

R.M.A. "Antares" (Capt. Atwood) arrived from North on April 14. Mr. Barteridge, Mr. Kinnear and Miss C. M. Fay of London disembarked. Transient passengers including Olga, Wilma and Monica, P. V. How and C. W. Gray, Mr. Wynham (to Nairobi), Mr. Owen (to Mombasa) and Mrs. Leckband (to Johannesburg) joined the service on April 15.

R.M.A. "Amthor" (Capt. Chownard) left for Nairobi on April 16 from South. Transient passengers included Messrs. K. A. W. R. E. Howard, Everett, Mc. and Mrs. Gillis and Dr. Anton Gray, Mr. Tom Paulings, Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Kaufman left with the plane next morning for North. Mail carried weighed 228 lbs.

Both North and South-bound services arrived to schedule on Sunday, April 19. Mr. Douglas (to Entebbe) and Messrs. W. H. Cox, A. A. Menden and Hutchinson, all from London, left at Nairobi. Messrs. Oleg Bergan and Miss Pauler and Miss Lambert joined the plane next morning for Mombasa and Mr. Gibson, Payler, for Johannesburg.

The South-bound service carried six transit passengers, Mr. and Mrs. Wynne, Johannesburg; London, Mr. and Mrs. Harter (Johannesburg-Entebbe), Mr. Van de Hoe (Hroben, Hill-Brindley) and Mr. Horvath (Hroben, Hill-Kampala). Capt. Barteridge (to Kinshasa), Const. Summers (to Paris) and Baron Puchowicz (to London) joined the service at Nairobi.

Plans are being implemented for the prevention of the flooding of Nairobi aerodrome during the rains, by improvements to drains.

Wilson Airways Service
 On the Coastal Service which left Nairobi on April 13 and returned on April 14 the following passengers were carried—
 Mr. Perkins, Mr. Van Pashers, Mr. Kason, Mr. Randall, Mr. Moran, Mr. Glaswell, Mr. Kraglic and Mr. Johnston.

The following special charters were carried out—April 14: Miss M. W. Parry's Bank staff transfer; April 14: Mr. Reynolds to Lodogon, returning on April 15; April 14: Mr. Morgan, Kinross to Entebbe to join Imperial Airways North-bound service; April 15: Mr. and Mrs. Gill to Nairobi.

STRIKING SPEECH BY MR. CHURCHILL

The speech made by Mr. Churchill on the 24th inst. at the meeting of the Executive of the Kenya Chamber of Commerce and Industry did not need to Mr. Churchill's eloquence to make his message clear. It was a striking and powerful statement in support of the Government's policy of maintaining the status quo in the East African territories. The speech was a masterpiece of statesmanship and was a model of clear and concise thought. It was a pleasure to hear Mr. Churchill speak and to see the effect of his words on the audience.

Reply to Labour
 In reply to Labour criticism as to the effect that it was a very short speech Mr. Churchill said that the Government was entitled to ask whether Labour Members stood by the Labour position. As they were prepared to stand, to go to whatever expense may be necessary in order to prevent, so let us say, Mr. Churchill of the House of Commons or the House of Lords say that they will not see the Government.

The debate ended without a division.

MANDATES NOT DISCUSSED WITH THE DOMINIONS

Dismissing Effect. The fact that the present situation had been a product of administration in practice. The whole country was disturbed from the administrative point of view, and this feeling was right through until it got down to the individual, where there was a sense of trouble—some today, or to-morrow, but for many years to come. He believed that there was only one solution to be found in the matter, and that was for the Chamber to approach Mr. M. Government and to discuss from time to time the underlying thing which would be prepared to discuss all British investments in that country. That would be the most realistic attitude to the British Government's attitude, that the Chamber get a hold in Tanganyika which would not stop there.

AN AMERICAN MODEL

Mr. O'Connell said, as representing one mining company, who stated development on the definite assurance that the mandate would be permanent. He thought that the economic and financial aspects, having political aspect to them, but later at the proposed meeting. He thought that in order to get a satisfactory answer from the Government they should first try to get a satisfactory answer from the population.

THE CEREAL MARKET

French Subsidising Wheat Export. Following is the weekly cereal market report, issued by the Kenya Farmers Association (Kenya) Ltd. The wheat market is still out of the groove. The demand for flour is rather stronger than was expected a week ago. The new crop is still three weeks late in being sown, and this is a serious matter. The average price of wheat is falling slightly. The Argentine area of the opinion that they will make a serious bid to limit their activities very carefully.

A Revolution

On the proposal of Major Walsh, seconded by Mr. Wigglesworth the meeting unanimously agreed to send a resolution to the Colonial and Foreign Office. The resolution is that while the meeting could not believe that there was any possibility of the mandate for Tanganyika being handed over after five assurances of successive Governments, they strongly protested against any suggestion of such a move.

Other Commodities

Barley. The Indian market unchanged. Canadian Western barley is now at 15/10d. Oats. Good Western, 17/-; Good Eastern, 16/6d. Potatoes. Early at 46/100; Polish at 42/100. Beans. Dutch Marilla 41/7. Bitter Beans, 41/10. Lentils. Bona at 43/10. Peas. Good at 44/10. Sunflower Seed. 44/10.

A Safeguard against Infection. You know that feeling—so difficult to express—you don't feel ill—but you don't feel well—you have little energy—no appetite—very irritable and no desire to do anything. These symptoms are indications of lowered resistance. This is the time when you are off your guard against infection. Don't be taken unawares—take a bottle of Ibroin Amara handy. After a few doses of this wonderful tonic your appetite will return and time and your country restored to the entire system.

FEW SURPRISES IN FRENCH ELECTIONS

INDECISIVE VOTING IN CONSTITUENCIES

HEAVY POLLING

BIG LEFT GAINS. COMMUNISTS MAY DOUBLE THEIR REPRESENTATION

The first ballot in the French elections has produced no sensational results, the chief features being the heavy polling and the abnormal number of constituencies in which the vote was indecisive owing to the plethora of candidates. Only ten per cent. of the electorate did not vote.

Latest figures indicate that the second ballot next Sunday will be necessary in 412 constituencies. Of the 179 candidates so far shown in the returns as definitely elected, the Right have 75, the Centre 42 and the Left 62.

Predictions have been realized in that there has been a marked swing-over to the Left. The Communists have secured the biggest gains and are expected to double their present representation in the Chamber. It is believed possible that the Socialists will replace the Radicals as the strongest party in the new Chamber.

ORDERLY POLLING

Paris, April 26.—The elections opened very quietly and in the same atmosphere of calm as those of the whole of the previous year.

The polling stations opened at 8 a.m. but it was almost not till before the first voters began to trickle in. M. Lohry, the President, was among the first to arrive. He walked to the polling station. The voting was broken by rain-factors arriving at the polls about half a minute. The Communist candidates of this area were not affected.

The results will be announced from the Ministry by the Minister at the next hours of the meeting; but the real test is in the struggle between the Left and the Right which has taken place.

First Surprise

The first surprise in the elections was the failure of the Right, the Radical-Conservative leader, to secure an absolute majority in the first ballot at Lyons.

M. Flaudin, Minister of Foreign Affairs; M. Ponsard, Minister of Labour; M. Heese, Minister of Education; and M. Dulaider, the Premier, have been elected. M. Cahais, formerly Minister of Agriculture, M. Gieron, Minister of Finance, and M. Paut, Secretary of State for the Colonies, were elected to vacant chairs.

Heavy Polling

Paris, April 27.—Heavy polling with only 10 per cent. of the electorate voting, was a feature of yesterday's elections, together with an abnormal state of indecision in which the voting was indecisive owing to the large number of candidates.

The state of the parties at 8.45 a.m. was as follows: Right — 60 Centre — 85 Left — 34

Of the 523 results so far known it appears the second ballot next Sunday. There have been no sensational defeats in any constituency. All the Ministers have been re-elected with the exception of M. Gieron, Minister of Education, and M. Deat, Minister of Air. M. Gieron, however, was re-elected in the Seine-Saint-Denis.

It is generally admitted that with the extreme Left gain in the second ballot classifies the situation, especially of the Radicals, as being a momentary moment. The Communist, who have

ITALIAN THREATS TO ADDIS ABABA

POPULACE MUST SUBMIT OR WILL BE MASSACRED

Leaflets Dropped

RACE TO CAPITAL BETWEEN NORTHERN AND SOUTHERN ARMIES

Italian aeroplanes circling over Addis Ababa have dropped leaflets threatening the populace that unless they submit they will be massacred and their houses razed to the ground.

The leaflets point out that if the Abyssinians submit they will benefit as the Italians will bring trade, property and civilization.

There has been fierce fighting on the southern front. It is felt that if the Italians are successful at Sannabash the way to Harar and the Djibouti railway will be open, and that there may therefore be a race between the northern and southern Italian armies to reach Addis Ababa first.

Fierce Fighting

It is officially confirmed that the Italian army captured Djibouti on the 24th. The capture of Djibouti is a serious blow to the Ethiopian army.

The Italian army has captured Djibouti, and is now moving towards Addis Ababa.

western States. The public mind is approximately that of a flourishing industrial country. It has been spent almost entirely on equipment for agriculture with capital assets such as railways, docks and public buildings which have been built during the last few years. The problem, at the moment, is not so much of adjustment to the fact that before the war, the country was a vast, undeveloped and backward country. It is the fact that the country has been unable to make the necessary adjustments to the new situation. It has been unable to do so because of the economic depression which has been imposed on the world.
