MUSSOLINI'S ITALY
We do not hear much about Italy these days, or much about Mussolini either. In all the news, our unhappy Italy and the Berlin victors. Even in the West, the news is all about Africa and their contribution does not appear to be worth counting. There is a war of Africa strength. The truth seems to be that Africa is the Mediterranean sea, the Italian or the Italian in this. He would like to see if he could find a way out. There is a way of course. The people of Italy have to do it to overthrow their Fascist Government. Give Hitler what he wants, and give Mussolini what he wants. Not so easy, but easier than it was a year ago.

The situation in Italy is particularly serious in regard to the currency. Italy is in a position to be able to pay for his arms in the East, and the harvest prospects in Europe are not good as the East. The and the aggression nations cannot get any food supplies from outside. After two years of war there is very little surplus in Denmark, the Low Countries, France and the Balkans. Occupied Europe has to get its food out of other powers, and has to pay for Hitler than it can afford to do so.

Germany is hitting Italy by the throat. Italy is in a position to be able to pay for his arms in the East, and the harvest prospects in Europe are not good as the East. The and the aggression nations cannot get any food supplies from outside. After two years of war there is very little surplus in Denmark, the Low Countries, France and the Balkans. Occupied Europe has to get its food out of other powers, and has to pay for Hitler than it can afford to do so.

Perhaps, taking a leaf out of his father's book, the Duce will try to overthrow the Italian supreme power. He may try to overthrow judicial authority in Italy. He may try to overthrow the Italian supreme power. He may try to overthrow judicial authority in Italy.

JOSEPH WURTIMMER
 Nairobi, May 14, 1942

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"
 Sir,—I write this article to you getting the credit I know regarding the work of the Indian Congress.

The Indian Congress is not a Hindu Congress, as it is often said by those who are ignorant of its true nature. It is a Hindu Congress in the sense that it is a Congress of Hindus, but it is not a Hindu Congress in the sense that it is a Congress of Hindus only. It is a Congress of all Indians, regardless of their religion.

LEADERS OF THIS WEEK

Handling the Harvest

MONDAY, MAY 18, 1942.

Kenya will face the biggest task in its history when it comes to deal with the produce of the year. The main crop in the Nairobi district alone has increased by twenty five per cent, and that is in all probability a low percentage of increase for some of the other crops. Nature has been most kind to the Colony. The rains have been generous. And the spirit of the producer throughout the African side has been of the right kind. The Director of Produce Disposal, told us on Saturday, that East Africa, Rhodesia and other parts of the Empire is the greatest opportunity the farmer of the Empire has ever had. Having regard to the limitations of manpower and machinery, they are making of it a remarkably fine job. In the next few years the country should find itself in the happy position of having built up the foundations of a wider and more economic life.

But as we remarked the other day, moving food is not all. These enormous crops will have to be stored or stored off by the farmer. It is not the possibility has been, in the interview he gave to the East African Standard, that he is not dismayed by the task—his is not the cooperation of the public, and particularly of the farmer, it is needed particularly in the matter of storage and however satisfactory it is to some producers on farms it may have to be done this year with more extent never thought possible hitherto in East Africa. The farmers have been warned that if the emergency intention to store valuable commodities on the farms is to succeed, it should be planned now not only by the farmer but by the Director of Produce Disposal and by the Production and Supplies Boards, in helpful cooperation with the farmer. The average producer does not doubt that if he has grown the crop he has done his job. If he is now expected to solve a long-term storage problem as well, he will need assistance and advice.

The Director's plans for the distribution of the accumulated stocks of produce throughout East Africa have been outlined on an inter-territorial basis are soundly based, and Kenya is being furnished with welcome evidence of the fact that in an emergency geographical boundaries are thrown down and organizations are fused into a working whole almost without being aware of the fact. Thus are we solving these practical problems of the Closer Union which in the years of peace, when we would much rather think most of such

MUSSOLINI ITALY

THURSDAY, MAY 15, 1942.

We do not hear much about Italy nowadays, or much about Mussolini either. In all the war news, unhappy Italian enemies have very little share. The Mediterranean and North African area their contribution does not appear to be worth recording as a positive asset to the Axis strength. The truth seems to be that as in Italian East Africa, the Mediterranean area, the heart of the Italian is in this war, and he would be glad if he could find a way out of it. There is a way of course, but it is one that Italy has to do is to overthrow their Fascist Government, give up their claims, and make peace. Not easier than it was a year ago.

The situation in Italy is particularly fluid, and so is the danger of currency inflation. The German partner is grabbing all he can for his armies in the east. The harvest prospects in Europe are not so good as the Axis hope, and the aggressor nations cannot get any food supplies from outside. After two years of war there is very little surplus in Germany. The Balkans. Occupied Europe has been cleaned out and heavy payments are being made to Hitler than he thought could be made. Germany is robbing Italy of manpower, too. Rommel's desertion is a disaster, and being met at heavy cost, for the loss of his army in the east. The Mediterranean from Italy to North Africa is the most dangerous area, and divisions are also wanted for the theatre in the east. If there is peace in the East, it is an unpleasant and thankless job.

STORING THE CROPS

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 1942.

Taking the most optimistic view of the problem of moving the largely increased war crops of East Africa during the next twelve months, it will seem that, having in mind shipping and rail transport difficulties, a considerable proportion of the produce will have to be stored in the country. The Director of Produce Disposal stated that likelihood a few days ago in the statement he made to the East African Standard. He spoke of courage and foresight and the necessity for farmers looking ahead. He reminded them that if for the purpose of which was grown, the ordinary farmer, told to get on with the job of production, has played his part manfully. He expects to harvest a bumper crop. He expects also that when he has bagged his crop he has had done his part of the job is done, he gets his money and prepares to get on with the job of the following season.

We do not propose to make a case for State responsibility for the storage of crops because that would involve the country in great sums of money not warranted by the abnormal transport situation. But we suggest

AMERICA AND VICHY

THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1942.

There has been a great deal to admire in the handling by the United States Government of the negotiations with Admiral Vichy. French High Commissioner in the Antilles, regarding the immediate future of Martinique, Guadeloupe and French Guiana, has been most frank but firm, and has done nothing to annoy the authorities on the spot. At all stages the Americans have been careful of the feelings of the Vichy. The negotiations are of importance because in addition to a large modern aircraft carrier (which had a hundred American planes on board intended for France at the time of the collapse of the Vichy Government) a new and an old carrier and an auxiliary cruiser of the Vichy fleet which has been pinned down. United States forces are required to ensure constant patrols to ensure that the ships were still in harbour. There is also a considerable amount of French government gold and other valuable stores of oil and other materials of value to the Vichy Government, operating in agreement to the Vichy Government, and it is important that the Americans should be careful to avoid that the State must share much of the burden which farm farmers would wish to place on the shoulders of the individual farmer. Even if the greatest care is taken, stores made of temporary materials cannot be guaranteed proof and there is a constant danger that a valuable crop grown and gathered to help towards victory may be seriously reduced by both conditions. The Director of Produce Disposal naturally concurs as at this stage how long farm storage will be required up to what extent. He is planning more accommodation at Mombasa, which will ease the problem, but even when that is ready it will not solve all the problems unless shipping to the Middle East and Britain is absolutely plentiful and regular, which is unlikely and unless the Railway Administration sets the new rolling stock in time which is improbable.

THE KENYA CROP

So there must be an alternative plan ready if the farmer is to play a part in the storage scheme and if he may argue that he should be guaranteed against reduced crops, the immediate storage he would not normally require, but should be given early instructions and all the assistance and security of the divisions to ensure the adequacy of his storage facilities. But the way for writing down Italy's difficulties, it would be better to consider the possibility of proper storage accommodation in each district to which the farmer could refer his crop when rain and storage

GENERAL SMUTS IN EGYPT

MONDAY, MAY 18, 1942.

General Smuts, South Africa's first Minister, has again been visiting the Middle East. In a 10-day tour of Egypt and Palestine he visited 2,000 miles by plane and car. He found the army on top of its form and the troops in good spirits. The possibility was said, that the Middle East would become a great offensive base.

General Smuts told journalists in Cairo on Monday that he had been greatly heartened by his visit. He said that the army on top of its form and the troops in good spirits. The possibility was said, that the Middle East would become a great offensive base.

General Smuts paid a striking tribute to the Army of Britain. He said that the way the Russian troops had been fighting was something of a miracle. He agreed with Mr. Churchill that some German had probably been killed on that Front that he would not see the end of it without that sort of thing.

General Smuts was accompanied in his itinerary by Mr. Sidney Waterman, British African High Commissioner in London. Before leaving London Mr. Waterman, now Mr. Winston Churchill's special envoy to the Vichy Government, told General Smuts that the Vichy Government was not going to be a swing in the Mediterranean and Africa. He said he was not going to be a swing in the Mediterranean and Africa.
