FIGHT FOR LAST FOUR PLACES IN CUP

Division I should take the spoils

By Peter Dittor

FIVE Division I clubs two from Division II and a lone IV aspirant from Division III (North) will contest the last four places in the F.A. Cup competition on Friday. By this evening all but four Division I sides should be eliminated, for, in respect, Bolton and Villa to win, and possibly Arsenal, if they can cope with the Matthews menace.

Prisoners win Amberley Cup match

The draw for the quarter-final of the Amberley Cup was made on Thursday and dates and grounds will be decided later. This evening there will be one match only. Cup trophy between K.T.F.S. and Amberley Prison. The match will take place on Saturday at 1.30 p.m. at the Amberley Prison ground.

The remaining sides round the knockout. Birmingham and Tottenham and although it may be looked upon as a better proposition than their counterparts, Birmingham and Tottenham, they are drawn at home for the first round. For some considerable reason there is a much better side which they are to face.

Within their last two performances they have been in the top of the Amberley Board and have been in the top of the Division. They are to face a side which is led by the Blackhead line today.

At the moment they are in a good position to win the Cup. They have a strong team and a good defence. They are to face a side which is led by the Blackhead line today.

Gateshead's gallant Cup fight ended

ARSENAL DEFEATED IN SIXTH ROUND

Three Lancas. teams through

ARSENAL'S dream of a Coronation year F.A. Cup and League double was shattered on Saturday when Blackpool beat the 74th Cup favourites at Highbury by 2-1 in one of the four hot-blooded third round fixtures, which also saw the collapse of quality little Gateshead, lone challengers from Division III, and veteran Cup killers Aston Villa who were both defeated on their own grounds.

Setting Widders from the premier league. A goal headed in 15 minutes after the change over by Stafford centre-forward Matt Lifford, ended their chance of success. However, Gates had led Arsenal to a 1-1 draw and will meet in the replay at Tottenham on Wednesday.

Blackpool — who have come past the trophy — near the new final together with Bolton Wanderers and the Division III side, Everton.

Never before have Arsenal met Blackburn in the competition in their 100-year history. The decision to play a penalty at the end of the first half was a stroke of genius. The goal was scored by three Blackpool players in four minutes. The goal was scored by three Blackpool players in four minutes. The goal was scored by three Blackpool players in four minutes.

Easy win for Jake Tuli at Manchester

THIS British Empire flyweight champion, Jake Tuli, of Johannesburg, had Tuli to difficulty in continuing his winning sequence when outpointing E. Barman, a former British title holder over 10 rounds at Manchester on Friday night.

Indeed, it must have been the prevailing opinion that Tuli would have no trouble in disposing of Barman, a former British title holder over 10 rounds at Manchester on Friday night.

Apprenticeship
There was only one man in it from east to finish out that was Tuli. He finished his very impressive bout about the South African's, all hands and it only needed a few more rounds to finish.

IRELAND WHIP THE SCOTS — and retain joint leadership

IRELAND kept their joint lead with England in the Inter-Allied national Rugby Championship when, at Murrayfield on Saturday, they beat Scotland by 26 points (four goals, two tries) to eight points (one goal, one point) in the 11th round of the series. The strength of the Irish pack told its tale for the home side could seldom match their speed and power after the first half.

England keep in the hunt
ENGLAND kept in the hunt for the Rugby Union championship when they beat France at Twickenham, 17-10, on Saturday (one goal and two tries) to all and continue to share the lead in the competition, led by I.R.B.

No surprise
England's shift behind Ireland in the week after the first half was no surprise when they were beaten by the Scots at Murrayfield on Saturday. The Irish pack told its tale for the home side could seldom match their speed and power after the first half.

KAMBAMBA REJECT MAU MAU

Chief tells Governor, 'we will have nothing to do with it'

By the Kambamba District of the Colony, Chief Mwangi Kikwa from Mbitanga Location yesterday told Kenya's Governor, Sir Evelyn Baring, at Mbitanga that they all utterly condemned Mau Mau and would have nothing to do with it.

"We, the Kambamba," he said, "know what war is like as we are fighting people who are the past of our life. But we do not want war in our country."

Chief Mwangi Kikwa began a three-day tour of the district here last Monday.

POLICEMAN IS SHOT DEAD

African officer slain in City location

A 30-YEAR-OLD Kikuyu Assistant Detective Inspector in the Kenya Police, Benjamin Muthara, was shot dead in his home in the African Quarter, Nairobi, last evening.

He was worked directly under Superintendent Ian Henderson, whose department was responsible for the arrest of more than 100 African leaders in the "Rock Scott" operation when the State of Emergency was proclaimed in Kenya.

Muthara was an educated son of Chief Mwangi, who was shot dead at his home at Kikuyu Native Bungalow.

The Inspector's wife was overpowered by his wife, who was returning home from work, and she was being held captive when she was shot dead.

There were two bullet wounds in the left chest of the slain policeman, but the bullet was not recovered.

The house where the murder took place is only 200 yards from the Nairobi District Police station.

The police are still in the vicinity of the house where the murder took place.

Police investigations began immediately and it is expected that the murderer will be caught soon.

METEOR REGAINS ITS GOOD NAME

Best plane for its job in Korea

COMMONWEALTH pilots flying the much criticised British-built Meteor jet in Korea say that they are now quite willing to take care of any Communist MIGs which attack them. The Meteors ran into a storm of criticism in Britain and Australia after they were badly handled by Russian-built MIGs at the end of 1951. Pilots of Australia's 75th Squadron say that when the Meteors engaged their Messing-ers they were in unknown territory, and they were being strafed by the enemy. "We were being spotted for a light, one pilot said. At first the Communist MIGs were in a disorientated state, but then a disorientated state of confusion. The MIGs then shut down three. The inevitable question is whether the Meteor is doing so well on over-estimating the capabilities of the Meteor, in under-estimating them. Now, after more than 18 months of operational service over the world's toughest fighting ground, the Australian and British pilots say that the Meteor does have a great record for the slender silhouette which has proved itself in under-estimating them. Now, after more than 18 months of operational service over the world's toughest fighting ground, the Australian and British pilots say that the Meteor does have a great record for the slender silhouette which has proved itself in under-estimating them.

Fatal mistake

The pilots say that when the Meteor first took to the air it made the fatal mistake of trying to do the job of a multi-engine Communist plane on its own ground — 30,000 feet and upwards — far above the Meteor's best operating altitude, and with the Australian outnumbered by as much as ten to one.

Even at those odds the Meteor squadrons destroyed three MIGs and damaged more before they were withdrawn from the "MIG Alley" area. "The Meteor is still a first-class fighter but it needs a great support plane, first they need a terrific fighter. Second, Meteor fighters all have their best operating altitudes and Meteors, with an ideal ceiling of less than 25,000 feet, are being used for scouting light bombers and for harassing enemy communications. If the MIGs want to attack the Meteor, they will have to come down well below their ideal altitude.

Ground strafing

The Meteor is claimed to be the best plane in Korea for the job which it is now doing. It packs the destructive power of a jet engine, and it is capable of striking targets at an eight degree angle. It also carries two 20-millimetre guns capable of destroying ordinary road traffic.

The ground attack missions were being flown by the Meteor's crew are among the most dangerous for some such plan. The

SALVAGE OF 230 BC SHIP

A GREEK BOATSMAN has salvaged a 2,300-year-old shipwreck off the coast of the Mediterranean, off the south coast of France. Divers of the American National Geographical Society's Corps of Marine Archaeologists have salvaged the wreck. The ship was found in 1951, and the divers have been working on it since then. HUNGARY OFFERS DEAL IN PRISONERS

Unlikely to be accepted

THE British Government is expected to make a statement this week on an offer by the Hungarian Government to "barter" British businessmen whom they hold prisoner for a Chinese or other Communist under-soldier held in Malaya. And it is expected to say the offer is reluctant to British ethics and justice.

DRAW FOR CUP SEMI-FINALS

Neither tie to be played in South

The draw for the semi-finals of the F.A. Cup was made yesterday in London yesterday at the Football Association offices and resulted in Everton being drawn against Bolton Wanderers and Birmingham City or Tottenham Hotspur against Arsenal's counterparts, Blackpool.

It will be played on neutral ground at the invitation of the South.

The Bolton-Drawn tie will take place at Manchester City's ground in Wembley, and if necessary it will take place at Leeds Road, Bradford.

The venue of the other six matches is in the opinion of the Football Association a matter for the clubs to settle among themselves.

History repeated

It is a sad and painful reminder that in the days of the F.A. Cup the semi-finals were often played on neutral ground, in the opinion of the Football Association a matter for the clubs to settle among themselves. It is a matter of regret that in the 1911 match the Tottenham tie was played on neutral ground at the invitation of the South.

T CRASHES MEN DIE

Jet liner bursts into flames taking off from Karachi

SEVENTEEN men were killed when a Comet Mark 1A jet airliner crashed and burst into flames as it was taking off from Karachi airport yesterday. The aircraft was the first Comet bought by Canadian Pacific Airlines, and was being delivered to Sydney, Australia.

The 11 dead were the crew—five Canadians—and six British technicians flying as passengers. A man at Karachi Airport, who was the disaster, said: "The Comet appeared to be taking off normally, but it was dark, and it was impossible to see if it actually left the ground. Then there was a burst of flames as it crashed."

The smouldering wreckage of the airliner, which was completely smashed, lay at the end of the runway. The Pakistan Directorate of Civil Aviation has ordered an inquiry into the crash. That was the first major accident involving a Comet.

The Comet, which left London on Friday morning and flew to Beirut, Syria, ended as it was taking off from Karachi on the way to Australia when the disaster occurred.

Dr. Mossadeq's chief critic arrested

THE Persian Police have arrested the former Opposition Leader, Jemal Nassiri, three Generals and a number of Communist Trade Union leaders in a new roundup after charges of political turmoil.

The announcement of the arrest came as the Premier, Mossadeq, was in London. The arrest of the Opposition leader was the first since the Shah was exiled in July 1952.

Mr. Mossadeq's chief critic, Jemal Nassiri, was arrested on charges of plotting to overthrow the Government. He was also charged with having conspired with the Shah to return to the country.

Three Generals, two of whom were members of the Communist Party, were also arrested. They were charged with having conspired to overthrow the Government.

The arrests came as the Government was facing a crisis of confidence. The Opposition had been demanding the resignation of the Premier.

The Shah's return to the country was expected to bring an end to the political turmoil. However, the arrests suggest that the Government is still in a state of crisis.

Human flood out of East Germany

UN GIVES REFUGEES NEW LIFE

By O. M. GREEN

SINCE New Year's Day, in round figures, 3,000 German refugees have poured from East to West Germany. Recently, 2,000 or more have been coming every day.

A further 60,000 from Eastern Germany had arrived between September and the end of last year.

The refugees are not only a mass of about 100,000 refugees, but many of them are families.

This is the emergency, as described by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, which has been the cause of the present situation.

A more extended plan has been drawn up by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees.

Empty-handed. Meanwhile, reception centres at railway stations, have been overcrowded.

Reason for flight. At one time the West German Government wanted to admit from the Russian zone.

CONSTITUTIONAL TERRITORIES

By Kenneth Robinson
Fellow of Nuffield College and Reader in Colonial Government at Oxford

SOME people in Kenya have been demanding that the Government should transfer of power from London to the "Home Office" system. They say it is unrealistic for Kenya. What is realistic is that the Government should transfer of power from London to the "Home Office" system.

Decentralisation
Each territory has its own local government and the Government should transfer of power from London to the "Home Office" system.

Variety
It is often claimed today that the only important characteristic of "modern" is one that is all about the world.

Making Life Easier

MORE ingenuity and artistry than ever—and even more expertly—have been devoted to ideal times. Every day which opened at Olympia yesterday and of which the Queen, the Duke of Edinburgh and Princess Margaret had pre-view the previous day.

A new idea for mothers is a new type of bicycle, sleeked in a bicycle or motor cycle, and which can be used without removing the baby. When it is fixed three wheels retract so it runs on one wheel only. To protect the baby in bad weather, the hood is a windscreen attractor.

"Smallest-ever"

HOUSEWIVES will love a new "smallest-ever" looking like a hot water or coffee boiler, but which is plugged in any room. It heats water in one minute for a quick cup of tea.

Among the "smallest-ever" gadgets is a new miniature sewing machine which takes all materials from silk to tweed and is portable.

For the better, too, there is a new type of ironing board for the first time, with a hot and steamy steam and cold-water-wrings.

For the kitchen there is a new electric washing up, with a built-in water boiler and a built-in water boiler.

A new midge net, selling at a specially reduced price, is made of a special material which is highly effective in killing flies, mosquitoes and other insects.

There is a new type of kitchen sink which, when not required, folds into the wall and the stand plate.

There is a new type of small enough to stand on a dressing board, which will do a complete household.

A new type of motor which houses will well come in an electric motor which polishes floors, windows and furniture.

A new type of toy which has been designed a cabinet held with infra-red rays with the clothes always retained inside. A new type of motor which is used in the kitchen, and which is used in the kitchen, and which is used in the kitchen.

AN EXPERT ON PATCHWORK

LIVING happily with her husband at the British Legion Park, Langata, is an old Kenya settler who, although as she herself would put it, is no longer young, achieves with needle and thread and hundreds of pieces of cloth, cushions, covers and bedspreads which are outstanding examples of the art of patchwork. Believe it or not; Mrs. M. P. Ommahy, whose photograph you see on the right, sewed into the bedspread which she is holding some 1400 pieces of material.

FRIENDS from all over the place send her their odd bits and pieces and have her make them into attractive and useful items. Her patchwork covers and bedspreads which are outstanding examples of the art of patchwork. Believe it or not; Mrs. M. P. Ommahy, whose photograph you see on the right, sewed into the bedspread which she is holding some 1400 pieces of material.

Every year she has 150 pieces of cloth in it and they are then joined, given a wide border and the whole made to make a cover ten by seven feet.

Each one involves much hand sewing over three months has completed. It has been made up in the last 48 hours of patchwork, and it is now ready to be used.

It was when falling sick with malaria that she first got the idea of making patchwork. During the war years, her husband served in the British Army and she returned to sheep that day were well planned and designed. Portraits of the Queen and her family will have pride of place in those made up of Coronationware houses; and, also for the pageant and for those of the day, will be carried through the medium of a Coronation souvenir.

High standard

Among the start commercial firms in Britain have been determined that their souvenirs should be worthy of the day, with the result that there was general welcome as a result of the Coronation Souvenir Ltd. which was formed on April 1st, 1953. The firm is a subsidiary of the British Crown, which is a member of the Royal Household and is a member of the Royal Household and is a member of the Royal Household.

An important initial step was taken in producing the first reproductions on souvenir of the Royal Coat of Arms, the Royal Cypher, the Royal Standard and the Royal Arms. The photographic Special design of the Royal Coat of Arms, which will be copied exactly, were prepared to ensure authenticity in manufacturer's representation.

Of the various lines so far submitted to the Committee for approval over 500 have been passed and provisional agreement given to its others, both

WHERE DO CUP TICKETS GO?

The blight of the Final share-out

THIS is the time when many who buy, borrow or steal a Cup ticket can no longer be recognized as to the means by which they acquired possession of these coveted passes to Wembley. And the F.A. Council has met to consider the most important of the old question—Where do the tickets go to at Wembley time?

It is the question of football being sold no little more than three times the amount of the tickets for the men who made the Wembley Cup final, and the referee to officiate at the match. The men who were to be sold each of these tickets has to be identified to the referee and, whose names must be presented to a three-man board.

A firm show

All of which accounts for the massive attendance of the F.A. Cup final at Wembley. The men who were to be sold each of these tickets has to be identified to the referee and, whose names must be presented to a three-man board.

"Why not to those and take the number of tickets that directors have hoped for themselves in the past years have not slipped at the home side."

"These tickets have been made, except to better, but it is a matter of time before the slightly more than the average ticket has been sold. The directors have hoped for themselves in the past years have not slipped at the home side."

Not the answer

The men who were to be sold each of these tickets has to be identified to the referee and, whose names must be presented to a three-man board.

"Why not to those and take the number of tickets that directors have hoped for themselves in the past years have not slipped at the home side."

The real blight

The men who were to be sold each of these tickets has to be identified to the referee and, whose names must be presented to a three-man board.

Springbooks draw with Canterbury

A MADDEN century and a record number of 15 wickets stand were high points for Canterbury in their first match against the Aucklanders at Christchurch, New Zealand, when the South Africans drew their three-day match against Canterbury.

Canterbury was over-awakened at the night wicket when the Kiwis scored 44 and 41 not out respectively, but the Kiwis were put back on the fourth wicket partnership of 121.

It was not until the Kiwis had scored 200 runs that the Kiwis were put back on the fourth wicket partnership of 121.

First Welsh Cup final referee

A New Zealand-born referee, Mr. Mervyn Griffiths, of the International referee, will be the first Welshman to referee the Football Association Cup Final.

The Football Association announced the selection after making the draw for the F.A. Cup on Monday.

An old soldier who will not fade away

FARR PREPARED FOR COCKLE

Old soldiers never die and some do not even fade away. One witness, for example, the case of 38-year-old Tommy Farr, former British and English heavyweight boxing champion, Tommy was considered to have reached his peak in 1937 when he won 15 rounds with Joe Louis, and he retired in 1938. But after a comeback two years ago he is still there and fighting.

Next Tuesday, March 18, he meets Don Cockle in a contest that will be seen by the Board of Control as a possible indication of the British heavyweight title now held by Mike Duggan. Farr will be 38 days after the split decision.

Parklands win Craig Cup game against School

Parklands Sports Club, Parklands of Wales School, lost their first round Craig Cup hockey final on Monday, by three goals to two.

The match was a hard fought affair, with the School leading 1-0 at half-time. The match was a hard fought affair, with the School leading 1-0 at half-time.

Farr is back

MARSHAL STALIN A DEEP COMA

'Condition' as people of Russia pray

MARSHAL STALIN is still in a "grave condition," according to the weekly bulletin of the State Press, which said the work of the heart remains delicate and the situation is delicate. The bulletin said that the Marshal is in a "grave condition" and that the people of Russia are praying for his recovery. The bulletin also mentioned that the Marshal is being treated by the best medical experts in the world.

"Desperate" MARSHAL STREET

A "desperate" situation is prevailing on the streets of Nairobi, where the people are praying for the recovery of Marshal Stalin. The streets are filled with people who are worried and anxious about the health of the Marshal. The people are also praying for the success of the medical treatment that is being given to the Marshal.

Troops' part in the Emergency

Two generals in agreement

At the end of his recent visit to Kenya the Chief of the General Staff, Major General Sir John Harding, has returned to Nairobi with a more optimistic view of the situation. He has been in agreement with the Government on the part of the troops in the emergency. He has also been in agreement with the Government on the part of the people in the emergency.

VIOLENCE: SIR HUGH'S WARNING

Delay and misery the only result

SIR HUGH DOW, Chairman of the East African Bureau of the British Commonwealth, has issued a warning that if the situation in Kenya is not resolved quickly, it will lead to violence and misery. He has also issued a warning that if the situation in Kenya is not resolved quickly, it will lead to a civil war.

UGANDA POWER PRICE HINT

Bills may go up 25 per cent

THE total direct cost of the Owen Falls hydro-electric scheme has been estimated at £12,000,000, which is about double the estimate given in the Consulting Engineers' Report for the scheme. It is expected that the bills will go up 25 per cent.
