Allied warplanes active on eve of truce talks

UNITED NATIONS aircraft continued their operations in the Middle East on the eve of the start of truce talks between Israel and the Arab States. The aircraft were seen in the skies over the region, and it was reported that they were engaged in operations against the forces of the Arab States. The operations were said to be aimed at disrupting the supply lines of the Arab States and at weakening their military position. The truce talks are expected to start in the next few days. It is hoped that the talks will lead to a permanent settlement of the conflict.

TRAIN SPANISH ARMY Officers going to United States schools

SPANISH Army Officers are to be brought to the United States for training in American Army schools. The officers are to be sent to the United States in the next few weeks. They will be sent to various schools and will receive training in modern military tactics and techniques. The training is expected to be of great value to the Spanish Army. It is hoped that the training will help to improve the military capabilities of the Spanish Army and will contribute to the stability of the country. The training is being arranged by the United States Government as part of its policy of supporting the Spanish Government.

Criticism of passport ban of scientist

DR. ERIC BERGHOFF, a prominent scientist, has been criticized for his opposition to a ban on the export of scientific information to the Soviet Union. Dr. Berghoff has argued that such a ban would be counterproductive and would only serve to strengthen the Soviet position. He has called for a more flexible approach to the issue. His views have been met with strong opposition from those who believe that the ban is necessary for national security. The issue remains a controversial one and is likely to continue to be debated in the coming months.

WHAT IS BEING DONE IN BRITAIN FOR INCREASED SETTLEMENT HERE

Five pages in the 79-page-long report for 1950 of the East African Commissioner show that the question of settlement of the East African territories is just as much a problem 6,000 miles away in the United Kingdom as it is here in Nairobi.

The report contains a detailed account of the work done in the United Kingdom during the year 1950 to increase settlement in the East African territories. It shows that the British Government has been actively engaged in promoting settlement, and that a large number of settlers have been recruited to the territories.

The report also discusses the various methods used to attract settlers, such as the provision of land, the establishment of schools and hospitals, and the offering of financial incentives. It notes that these methods have been successful in attracting a large number of settlers to the territories.

The report further states that the British Government has been successful in increasing settlement in the East African territories, and that this has been a major achievement of its policy. It concludes that the settlement of the territories is a vital part of the British Empire, and that it is essential to continue to attract settlers to the territories.

DOUBLE CENTURY BY WASHBROOK

Dollery saves Warwick from defeat

A magnificent double century, not only by Cyril Washbrook, but also by the captain, who gave Lancashire their chance to hold for the county championship honours in their vital match with Warwickshire at Edgbaston on Friday night. This is the second century in Washbrook's career, the first having come in the Championship having won the Cup. Lancashire having won the Cup, Washbrook's century was the first in the county's history.

Washbrook came out before tea and scored 100 in the first hour. He then scored 100 more in the next two hours, finishing with 120 runs. He was out for 120 runs in the first hour, and 100 in the next two hours.

SEPTEMBER A BIG BOXING MONTH

Tilt-holders will defend their crowns

It looks as though September is to be the first big month for British boxing. For then Jack Gardner will get a chance to challenge Mike van Der Merwe for his title and Peter Kavan will get a chance to take Joe Foweraker's heavyweight title from him.

After these two bouts, the spotlight will be on the British and Commonwealth titles. Lightweight titles will go to Johnny Williams and Albert Finch respectively.

The next two months will see the defence of the titles of the welterweight champion, Alan Jones, and the middleweight champion, Alan Brown. The latter will be in a very close fight with the English champion.

As well as the two new titles, there will be the defence of the titles of the welterweight champion, Alan Jones, and the middleweight champion, Alan Brown. The latter will be in a very close fight with the English champion.

The War on Locusts

The midwinter feed by the Kenyan Africa Desert Locust Survey in Nairobi last week revealed that the locusts in the area of the coast, but not of great importance than the need of a more concerted campaign.

These are countries just at the present moment in the East African Desert Locust Survey's campaign in Kenya, Ethiopia and Somalia as well as the Sudan, India and Pakistan.

The fact that this year's locusts have been so early in the season is a cause for concern, but it can be repeated as well, with the continued assistance of local and foreign experts.

This is why the organization of a joint international campaign to deal with the locusts is being organized in the East African Desert Locust Survey's campaign.

The new plan by Dr. Urvayr Khachatryan is to have the world's greatest authority on locusts, at the disposal of the world's locust control agencies.

It is to be hoped that in this way the locusts will be kept under control and that the locusts will not be a serious pest in the future.

THE FARMER AND HIS WIFE

The young farmer bought his farm and cleared it for his wife, suggesting to her to keep it because such security as he had lay behind a bank or in bonds the surplus of his lands. According to books of money, she was told diligently to plough and spare, until the ground, well tilled, to take brought forth abundant crops, and no inconsiderable wealth therefrom.

Today, of course, such a bank would be more readily and more efficiently done with a TRACTOR and T.V.O.

SOUTH AFRICANS START WELL

Freddie Brown again fails in the toss

THANKS to a solid, though at times slow, partnership between Eric Brown and Givie van Rooy, South Africa made a good start on the first day of the Fourth Test match with England on the headingley ground, Lords, yesterday. After losing the wicket for 40 runs the South Africans battled through the warm afternoon, saving their wicket most gradually but surely.

When the tea interval was called the South African score stood at 117, and England had lost one wicket. The figures for the first hour were: South Africa—Freddie Brown, 117; Givie van Rooy, 117; Eric Brown, 117; and England—Garry Sobers, 117; Denis Compton, 117; and Geoffrey Boycott, 117.

Successive fifties

In 50 minutes to lunch Brown and van Rooy had scored successive fifties. Brown had scored his fifty first in the 10th over, van Rooy in the 11th. Brown's fifty was the 10th of his career, van Rooy's the 11th.

First success

Week by week, his problems grow more and more prickly

MR. HERBERT MORRISON'S use as Foreign Secretary is probably being by now each more prickly than the last.

A returning visitor to France, who is considered the most of a critic in the cabinet, is being treated by the British Government as a "straw man" by the French Government. Heretofore, the French Government has been regarded as an extension of the British Government, but now it is being treated as a separate entity.

The return of Mr. Herbert Morrison to the Foreign Office is being regarded as a setback to the British Government's policy in France.

MOSQUITOES PREFER MEN

Mosquitoes like to take over the bodies of men, particularly in the tropics, and it is being found that they prefer men to women.

A study of the habits of mosquitoes in the tropics has shown that they are more likely to bite men than women. This is because men are more likely to be outdoors during the day, and mosquitoes are more active during the day.

Wishy-washy

The Government's policy in the Middle East is being regarded as wishy-washy.

The Government's policy in the Middle East has been criticized for being indecisive and inconsistent. It is being said that the Government is not clear about its objectives and is not willing to stand up for its principles.

Two views

There are two views on the situation in the Middle East.

One view is that the British Government should continue its policy of support for the Jewish people in Palestine. The other view is that the British Government should withdraw its troops from Palestine and allow the Arab people to take control of the territory.

At the east end

At the east end of the Middle East, the British Government is being criticized for its policy.

The British Government's policy in the Middle East is being regarded as a failure. It is being said that the British Government has not been able to achieve its objectives and has instead created a new set of problems.

National issue

The Middle East issue is a national issue for the British people.

The British people are divided on the issue of the Middle East. Some believe that the British Government should continue its policy of support for the Jewish people, while others believe that the British Government should withdraw its troops from Palestine.

NYASALAND ORDERS A SURVEY

Plan to control the level of Lake Nyasa

The Nyasaland Government, which for many years has had under consideration the possibility of artificial stabilization of the level of Lake Nyasa and the use of the water of the Shire River for the production of hydro-electric power for irrigation of lands in the Lower Shire Valley, has now decided to appoint a firm of consulting engineers to undertake all aspects of the project.

Neighbours consulted

As far as the lake itself is concerned, the main object is to prevent the water level from rising above a certain level. The project will involve the construction of a dam across the lake, which will allow the water to be controlled.

WIMBLEDON GIVES LEAD TO TENNIS FASHIONS

Elis M. Sanders describes what she saw at Wimbledon

THE French have a saying that it is no so much what a woman wears as the way she wears it.

That was one of the sayings I saw written at Wimbledon this year. Certainly the players wore a more elegant and distinguished dress, than we have seen here in London and elsewhere. They had learned that lesson from the tennis stars of the United States, who have been wearing more elegant and distinguished dresses than we have seen here in London and elsewhere.

Some of the players had the same as in London. They were wearing more elegant and distinguished dresses than we have seen here in London and elsewhere.

Pique Jersey

There is a lot of talk in London about the pique jersey, a new kind of fabric, made of cotton and wool, which is said to be more comfortable and more durable than ordinary cotton. It is said to be more comfortable and more durable than ordinary cotton.

The best view

Did you know, by the way, that one of the best views of London is from the top of St. Paul's Cathedral? It is a very fine view, and one that is well worth seeing. It is a very fine view, and one that is well worth seeing.

A GREAT LADY'S GARDEN

Irene Gardner describes the late Lady Muriel Jew-Blake's beautiful garden

As we approached the house from the drive, which is surrounded by a hedge of yew, I saw a large garden, through which a path led to a beautiful garden. It was a very fine garden, and one that is well worth seeing.

Fashion parade in Moscow

By Cyril Ray

I HAVE just returned from Moscow's Central House of Fashion where the Ministry of Light Industries, which runs it, has been staging an 18-minute fashion parade—with 10 models, from beach pyjamas to evening frocks.

And this is what the great Moscow show is, a country long to be wearing some of the more striking and perhaps available designs of the capital.

Lovely teeth kept lovely because Kolyvos foam cleans IN-BETWEEN.

It's almost as well that danger lies. That's where bacteria multiply and go to work—preparing the acids that cause decay. Kolyvos foam penetrates straight to the danger zone. Kolyvos foam contains special ingredients that neutralize the acids, destroy bacteria. Report laboratory tests have proved that Kolyvos foam cleans up to 50 per cent of harmful mouth bacteria.

Kolyvos helps to keep teeth clean—keeps them wonderfully white and clean.

Colombo looks to the Royal

BY VICTOR LEWIS

Colombo, capital of Ceylon, is again and again looking to the Royal Navy for assistance in the development of its port facilities.

The port of Colombo is one of the busiest in the world and is the center of a wide area of trade. The city is a beautiful one and is a favorite resort for many of the Europeans and Americans who visit it.

The port facilities are being improved and the city is being developed as a modern one. The Royal Navy is helping in this work and is providing the Colombo government with a large sum of money for the purpose.

IS YOUR SWAHILI REALLY NECESSARY?

By R. B. Stoen

The other day, when I was sitting on a bench in the park, I saw a man with a small dog and a woman with a large dog. They were both looking at each other and smiling. I thought, 'How nice they look together!'

It was a beautiful day and the park was full of people. The children were playing and the couples were walking. I was sitting there, thinking about the man and the woman, when I saw a sign that said 'Swahili'.

Swahili is a beautiful language and is spoken by millions of people in East Africa. It is a language of peace and understanding.

PARIS HAS A BIRTHDAY

It would be extremely ill-considered to celebrate the centenary of the birth of the city of Paris on the 27th of July, the exact date on which the city was founded, as it is a day on which the city has been celebrating its centenary for many years.

By Professor D. W. Brogan

A thousand years

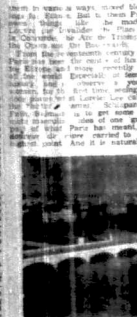

As a capital, Paris has about a thousand years of life and has been the scene of many of the most important events in the history of the world. It has been the seat of many of the great empires of the world, and it has been the home of many of the great thinkers and writers of the world.

Tribal capital

The tribal capital of the Paris, London, was not, it might be said, a very important city in the early days of its history. It was a small town, and it was not until the 12th century that it became a city of any importance.

One of its charms

No capital has had such a short history as Paris. It has been a city of great importance for only a few centuries, and yet it has become one of the most famous cities in the world.

Parisian Paris landmark, the Eiffel Tower.

think of Paris in the light even if you are a man.

City of surprises

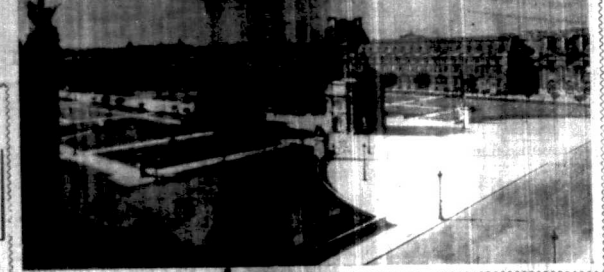

THIRD Paris is a city of surprises, offering very little of the type of development to which the eyes of the visitor are accustomed. It is a city of surprises, offering very little of the type of development to which the eyes of the visitor are accustomed.

Sunday best

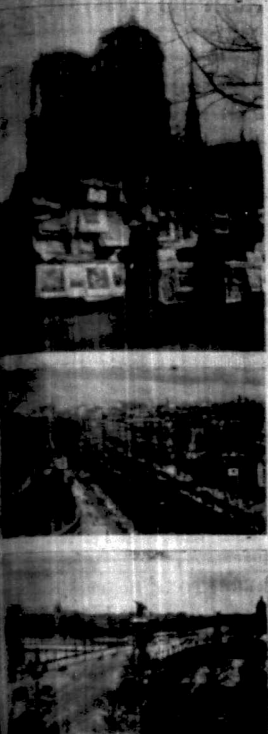

Going to a football game for a Sunday afternoon is a political tradition in this country. It is a tradition that has been going on for many years, and it is one of the most popular pastimes of the people.

These pictures of Paris would give a very good idea of the city. They show the city from a variety of angles, and they show the city in its most beautiful and interesting aspects.

THE DESERT CAN BE RECLAIMED

Well-known writer on science, RITCHIE CALDER tells in this article how, in the Sahara Desert, plants and trees grow in an experimental nursery and scientists carry on their work of discovering and revitalizing the system of wells and canals which made the region a rich granary 2,000 years ago.

What does the desert look like? At present the Saharan desert looks like a vast, flat, featureless expanse of sand and silt, with a few scattered, stunted, scrubby bushes and a few small, hardy trees. The ground is a uniform, light brown color, and the sky is a pale, hazy blue. The air is hot and dry, and the wind is a constant, irritating presence. The only sound is the low, rhythmic hum of the wind as it whistles through the sparse vegetation.

Thousands of miles

To get some idea of what kind of a vast, featureless expanse of sand and silt the Saharan desert is, imagine a square of land the size of the United Kingdom, and multiply it by 100,000. That is the size of the Saharan desert. It covers an area of about 3,000,000 square miles, and it is one of the largest and most desolate regions on the planet.

Man to blame

At the moment I looked to regret the "total search" of the desert, but the conditions of the desert's desert, they, they have a habit of being so hot, that the ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig.

The climate

One of the most important factors in the desert's climate is the amount of rainfall. The desert receives very little rain, and the rain that it does receive is usually in the form of short, heavy showers. The temperature is also very high, and the humidity is very low. The result is a very dry and hot climate, which is not suitable for most types of agriculture.

Walking on water

It is a well-known fact that the desert is a very dry and hot region. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig.

The desert is a very dry and hot region. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig.

What could be...

The desert is a very dry and hot region. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig.

Functioning again

The desert is a very dry and hot region. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig. The ground is so hard, that it is almost impossible to dig.
