Gloomy Outlook for Disarmament.

GERMANY'S DISTRUST OF FRANCE.

A Blunt Hint to Britain.

FURTHER EFFORTS SAID TO BE USELESS.

The outlook for further disarmament conversations is gloomy, in spite of the sympathy of the United States with the British memorandum, and of British efforts to mediate between the opposing views of France and Germany.

Mr. Norman Davis, the American financier, who has frequently represented the States in international conferences, is at present in Europe and is expected to hold unofficial conferences on the subject.

France is opposed to the British plan owing to the absence of a trial period and the lack of guarantees provided by sanctions.

France alleges that under the British plan Germany, in the first year, would be superior in artillery and tanks. Furthermore consultation would prove insufficient.

Germany, on the other hand, is frankly suspicious of France, and has given a blunt hint to Britain that further efforts at mediation are useless, as German concessions have been exhausted owing to British manoeuvring.

A tribute to Britain's indefatigable readiness to mediate is paid by Germany, which it is stated, has been subjected of gross misuse by France.

American Sympathy.

Mr. Norman Davis has conferred with Mr. Anthony Eden and Mr. Harbord on his return from the disarmament talks at Rome and London.

A communiqué says that Mr. Davis has returned to London after his tour of the European continent. He said that Mr. Eden had outlined the examination of the British memorandum, and that Mr. Harbord, who is presently in London, is expected to return to London.

Trade Negotiations with France.

LONDON CONFERENCE TO OPEN NEXT WEEK.

Clearing the Way.

BY THE ABOLITION OF ADDITIONAL DUTIES ON BRITISH IMPORTS.

By London, March 5.

In order that the way may be clear for the trade negotiations between Great Britain and France which are to open in London next week, the French Government are taking important steps to remove the additional import taxes on British products.

This conference in London, which will be attended by the French Minister of Commerce and a staff of experts, will entail the most important trade negotiations in which Britain has participated since the Ottawa Conference.

It is expected that the deliberations will take some considerable time, but now that France is proceeding to put an end to the existing discrimination against British imports, the conversations should be materially simplified.

settled. Transport and laying of the pipes was a tremendous task. The remaining work to be done was the routing of Fort Bell, and it was decided that the Nairobi Railway should be crossed higher up, by means of a 240 feet span bridge.

Financial Arrangements.

New financial arrangements had to be made as the provision in the original contract for the supply of 1,100,000 gallons daily was found to be insufficient. Loan Funds and moneys were eventually raised. The funds were used to purchase the water works at Loan Ponds and the whole of the Government property now has been completed for a sum of £1,000,000. The Nairobi Corporation has been formed with a capital of £108,000 from Loan and £202,000 from Municipal Bonds. Only one mishap, the failure of a tank during wall feet due to an error in steel construction occurred during the entire course of the expenditure of £2,000,000. The work was completed in 1912. MOMBASA'S NEW WATER SUPPLY.

The Hon. H. E. Governor and The Hon. Mr. Elton.

Considerable discussion took place at the meeting on Monday evening, and rules for the management of the club were adopted. It is intended that the Public Committee of the Municipal Council be asked to provide accommodation for the storage of bowls, and the provision of a room for the use of the public using the ground. His official opening will take place at the club-room, has been decided.

It was decided at the meeting to call the new organization the "Nairobi Bowling Club," and play on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, subject to the sanction of the Municipal Council in force for the time being. The annual subscription for the club has been fixed at the sum of 100/- per annum, payable on the first of March.

The Formation of this club has been mooted for some time, and now has become an actuality. It has certainly come to stay, and the public will find that the ground which was in the old field is little below what can reasonably be expected in view of the adverse conditions which have ruled since the late '90s.

Mr. Mountford has been in charge of the work since its inception, while the ground area is to be found in the manner and conditions in which the ground area is to be found.

MOMBASA'S NEW WATER SUPPLY.

The Hon. H. L. Wilson, Director of P.W.D., speaking at the opening of the Chagwasa Reservoir.

The Hon. H. E. Governor and The Hon. Mr. Elton.

Considerable discussion took place at the meeting on Monday evening, and rules for the management of the club were adopted. It is intended that the Public Committee of the Municipal Council be asked to provide accommodation for the storage of bowls, and the provision of a room for the use of the public using the ground. His official opening will take place at the club-room, has been decided.

It was decided at the meeting to call the new organization the "Nairobi Bowling Club," and play on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, subject to the sanction of the Municipal Council in force for the time being. The annual subscription for the club has been fixed at the sum of 100/- per annum, payable on the first of March.

The Formation of this club has been mooted for some time, and now has become an actuality. It has certainly come to stay, and the public will find that the ground which was in the old field is little below what can reasonably be expected in view of the adverse conditions which have ruled since the late '90s.

Robbery Under Arms in Uganda.

INDIAN MERCHANT HELD UP ON MAIN ROAD.

Blinded by Ground Chillies.

BANDITS' CAR FOUND ABANDONED AFTER BEING DRIVEN ON THREE WHEELS.

Further details of the highway robbery which took place on a Uganda main road on the evening of March 2 and which has already been reported in the "East African Standard," have now been received.

An Indian cotton merchant with Shs. 32,000 in his car stopped to offer assistance to a man apparently repairing a puncture on the roadside. The first thing he knew was that something had been thrown into his eyes, this subsequently proved to be ground chillies, and when he was able to open his eyes, the Indians found himself surrounded by three masked men armed with revolvers. They removed the money, disconnected the wiring and smashed the lights of the car, and made off.

Quickly connecting the wiring the Indian set off in pursuit and with the aid of another Indian and a European, the bandits' car was followed and eventually found abandoned near Rubaga Cathedral, where rain had broken it into two pieces.

Immediate steps were taken by the Police and as a result two Europeans and two Indians have been remanded in connection with the case. About 2500 has been recovered, this was found in the underground when the abandoned car.

African Representation on Legislative Council.

PROPOSAL MADE FOR A "TEAM" OF THREE MEMBERS.

Race Relations.

NEW BODY FORMED BY AFRICAN MISSIONARY COUNCIL.

The "East African Standard" has received for publication a memorandum outlining the formation of a team of three members to represent the African Missionary Council on the Legislative Council. This team would be formed by the African Missionary Council, a body which presented to the Secretary of State for the Colonies a memorandum of public questions affecting the African.

One of the main problems to which the Committee has given attention is the adequate representation of African views on the Legislative Council. Believing that one man alone is unable properly to carry out this important task, the Race Relations Committee proposed to the Secretary of State a "team" of three members to the unofficial side of the House.

Disarmament Debate in the Commons.

RECONCILING FRENCH AND GERMAN VIEWS.

By Conference Fail?

MANIFOLD INCREASE OF ARMAMENTS NOT ENOUGH FOR BRITAIN'S SECURITY.

Following Mr. Anthony Eden's report on his disarmament tour which he gave to the House of Commons, a debate took place on Foreign affairs.

Mr. Eden pointed out the difficulties of reconciling French and German views and though he deplored "painting the picture darker than it was" he admitted that such a reconciliation would be at a serious disadvantage, to such an extent had the already disarmament.

Mr. Winston Churchill, in the debate that followed criticized Britain's policy as being unfair to France, while the Labour view, as expressed by Colonel Wedgwood, regarded Mr. Eden's efforts as being rather too late in view of Germany's aims and the fact that she had already drawn attention to the growth of German militarism.

Winding up the debate, Sir John Simon stressed the fact that half an agreement was infinitely better than no agreement of any sort. But what was to be done, must be done quickly as time was running out.

James Wedgwood, who is the author of the article in the "Daily Mail" which is the basis of the rumour, is reported to have written to Mr. Eden and to have offered to supply him with a list of names of persons who are alleged to be engaged in the transport of arms from Italy to Hungary which would be the first step towards the re-organisation of Europe.

Labour Victories in C.C. Elections.

PARTY ASSURED OF CONTROL IN COUNCIL.

Gain of 33 Seats.

LARGE SWING OVER OF VOTES FROM THE CONSERVATIVES.

For the first time in history the Labour Party has gained control of the London County Council as a result of the triennial elections held on Thursday of last week. Although the full results have not been announced, the results indicate that a clear majority for the Labour Party is assured.

These elections are considered to be second only in importance to the Parliamentary elections, and are usually taken as an indication of the political feeling of the day. The Labour Party, which was elected in 1931, the Municipal Reform Party (Conservatives) obtained a majority, Labour then losing seven seats.

In this election there has been a large swing over of votes to the Labour Party, the Labour Party gaining 37 seats and the Liberals six seats, the Conservatives being entirely without representation.

Increase in Britain's Military Expenditure.

ESTIMATES FOR THE COMING YEAR.

But Still Below 1932 Total.

PROGRAMME OF MECHANISATION TO BE CONTINUED.

The military expenditure by Great Britain during the coming year is estimated to be £1,650,000 more than the previous year, although the increased provision is still not equal to the reductions made in 1932 during the period of the financial crisis.

The increase will be devoted to modernization of coast and other defenses, the continuation of the programme of mechanisation and other important work.

Notwithstanding the increase in the votes for the defence services, it is understood that the general expenditure for the year shows a considerable decrease, owing to reductions in the civil expenditure. A budget surplus of twenty-five to thirty millions is expected to be announced by the Chancellor.

Coast Defences.

(SPECIAL SERVICE'S AGENT.)

London, March 9. The Army Estimates show £2,370,000 as a gross total, less £5,770,000 appropriations in aid, representing £1,650,000 more than the previous year. The increase as compared with last year, the provision of £8,490,000 thanks to a fall in the civil estimates of £6,107,000. The remaining items of budget expenditure, notably the "control" and "fund" estimates, are not included in the budget, but are expected to show a considerable increase, hence the Chancellor is expected to announce a total annual expenditure of £2,000,000,000, or £1,200,000 more than the previous year. The current year is expected to show a surplus of £100,000,000, which will automatically go towards the reduction of the debt, but expenditure in the form of "control" and "fund" estimates is expected to be £1,200,000,000 more than the previous year, which is a smaller margin to the income tax.

WILL "DARK BLUES" BREAK LONG SEQUENCE OF DEFEATS?

A Puzzling Crew.

CAMBRIDGE CONCLUDE FIRST WEEKS PRACTICE ON THAMES.

[ "STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT.]

London, Feb. 27. — The two crews which have been making such a "game" as the annual Boat Race on the Thames between Oxford and Cambridge University, it is computed that something like half a million people annually witness the event. This year's race is unusual in perhaps more respects than usually is the case of the long series of which it has been regularly held at three- or four-yearly intervals. "Light Blues" Boat team, 1922 have the "Dark Blues" registered as a new, and according to indications from the work of the two crews up to date, it does not seem likely that they will break the sequence this year.

Oxford would appear to be in a puzzling crew. One day they give promise of developing into a good crew, and the next they are disappointing to the extreme. In the early part of last month they were a definitely impressive eight, notwithstanding a dash and detourment which has been most conspicuous in most recent Oxford crews by its absence. Half-day at stroke, in place of Heddeworth, achieved nice run on the last course, especially in a grueling race, where as much as three-quarters of the time was taken in descending. Heddeworth was a rower in command—how low they stepped was being Oxford crew, took the natural easy rhythm. It has been decided. On their other persons on the thames at Putney. Oxford took the wind meeting, the tide made conditions altogether left. This year, unfortunately, was severely tested, but on the whole, the crew put up a creditable performance. In the next order there seems to be no reason why they should not do as well as Cambridge by leaps and bounds. They may have been a little better. At Oxford they J. H. Lawless, who has 35 appears to be the most comfortable man in the boat; he works with Strelitz, looks to be enjoying his work.

Order of Rowing.

The sooner Oxford does this in order the better. It is absolutely essential if they are to have any chance of beating Cambridge, who unfortunately are very quickly getting their minds, having got their boat moving, not to stop it by rowing forward for the next stroke, they may be a very fast crew. It may be the first time in the series that a startling transformation in their work.

"Light Blues" Fine Row.

The Cambridge crew concluded their first week's practice on the Upper Thames by rowing a full 100 miles trial from Streatham to the National Club Boat Race course, a distance of 92 1/2 miles. This is the longest ever the crew have undertaken since starting on the Thames, and they came through the test extremely well, their time of 19 minutes 46 seconds, being 1 1/2 seconds less than the best time recorded in 1922, when the conditions were much the same. The crew rowed with great power, and their best run was forty. They looked splendidly fit, and their rowing was not less than first-class, and not less than first-class, and not less than first-class, and not less than first-class. They sailed on the boat, and not more than 100 miles.

There are hundreds of acres fought for annually throughout the British Isles. Nearly every league and association has its own cup competition. The best teams are those contested for every year by the big prize money. Independent as some of these are, however, there is not a single competition of the same importance and grandness as that for the P.A. Cup.

TACTICS IN GOLF. The Use of a Chart. Where it Might be Useful.

THE PROOF OF THE "PUDDING."

Last week I discussed the question of a new idea in golf, I have now produced a graph which has been produced by a local firm—the "East African Wireless Company." While I have not changed my mind as to any great degree...

In the light of those remarks it may appear that no further remarks are rather at variance. The opinion was expressed to me yesterday that the value of such a graph was that it helped a player to realise exactly what he was doing wrong...

I am full of the conviction that the player who takes the trouble to take a cart out, and mark by ditches, and sets traps and puts rain-receptively will the sooner find out as to actual weaknesses. Very often, as I have pointed out before, a player does not realize the fact that his putting is very good, but if he took the trouble to indicate by a dot on his cart at every hole, how many putts he had taken, actually on the putting green as a whole...

An Intriguing Invention. This graph, I must confess, has definitely intrigued me and I would be happy to know if it pleased you would take the trouble, or the time, to write to me, and tell me of their own personal experience with regard to it. I believe that it has been returned throughout the world, and there is no one more tickled to accept the fact that I have made a mistake. But I am waiting for the "proof of the pudding." I will not have been able to give you a graph a chance personally, but I feel that some day, very soon, I shall be able to do so, and then I shall say a little more with regard to it.

Nothing Mechanical. While I may seem to be all against the graph, let it be clearly understood that such is far from being the case. I am very anxious to accept something which looks like being mechanical, or made to order. If I am proved wrong, then I shall be the first to admit that I was wrong.

To the more improved of us I am quite prepared to accept the belief that it will be beneficial, in that it will possibly help him to realise his deficiencies, but the more so, with a sound knowledge of the fundamentals of golf, than I must definitely disagree.

Looking Back A Year

Most listeners will agree that in the last month has been a period the static level is substantially constant so that a station working on a given wavelength does not present a constant improvement. This is wholly due to increased efficiency at the transmitting end.

Looking back through my notes published for a year I do not think that during that time we have enjoyed such a long spell of really excellent reception. It would rather seem that improvements have been made in transmitting methods to such an extent that the effects of indifferent conditions are greatly minimized.

Taking the case of the trouble experienced from atmospheric disturbance, it is in some cases difficult to say whether the transmission has been improved or not. It is in some cases difficult to say whether the transmission has been improved or not. It is in some cases difficult to say whether the transmission has been improved or not.

CONDITIONS are still very good on most bands at various times though I think there has been an increase in the strength of the static. Transmission from the Empire on 16.80 meters has been very good.

It is a well known fact that the railway system is in a state of disrepair and it is essential that the necessary funds be made available for its improvement. The increase in rates is a necessary step towards this end.

Children's clothes need SUNLIGHT SOAP to get them really clean

It plays the most important part in making clothes really clean. Night clothes get dirty, especially at the collar.

If you use a cheap, harsh soap for washing children's clothes the harsh rubbing necessary soon damages the fibres. The safe way is to wash clothes with Sunlight. Sunlight is made from pure materials which give it scrubbing power. So no hard rubbing is needed to get clothes clean.
