THE KEYNOTE FOR BRITAIN'S TALKS

Kadu Kanu leaders seek joint aims

LEADERS of Kanu and Kadu who arrived in Britain at the weekend gave every indication that Kenya's African leaders will speak with a united voice during the talks on the future of the High Commission which open in London today.

The Kadu leader, Mr. Ngala, said that though the formal program of his independence would not be formally brought up at the talks, this and the release of Kenyatta might come up in "general conversation".

Committed on Kenyatta

Mr. Ngala was later at London Airport to meet the general secretary of the Ken. Mr. T. A. Moya, who said his party would "rather work closely" with Kadu than independently in Kenya "than separately".

Mr. Moya said: "We have tried to unite before. We should be given every chance to succeed this time."

The Kanu president, Mr. J. Githua, said he wanted Kenyatta to be brought into the talks. Asked what he asked: "We feel that should come before all else. It is unjust that both Kanu and Kadu want to achieve independence before the end of 1963. It's a question of getting down to doing the job."

Mr. Moya commented: "I do not want to say anything to jeopardize relations with Kadu, and nothing to destroy the East African Federation. We intend to live up to our agreements. Now that Mr. Macleod and the Governor, Kadu and Kanu have reached an agreement to discuss matters about Kenya."

Mr. Moya said: "We insist that Jomo Kenyatta be unconditionally released before Kenya's independence. Ships sail row expected

Labor leaders will raise an issue at this week's meeting of the National Maritime Union. The union is expected to demand that the government should be required to provide for the welfare of the seafarers.

MIGRANTS MAY FIND BRITAIN HARDER TO ENTER

It is believed that some-thing may be done soon to cut the number of Commonwealth migrants coming to Britain. It was reported in London yesterday.

The British Government is not likely to take any action before the August recess, however.

The Colonial Secretary, Mr. Macleod, would certainly oppose any restriction measure after the new West India Company bill is introduced. Largely for his sake, ministers have to have agreed in principle that he will later limit British and American free traders on the continent.

Mr. Macleod said that the Government will not yet have decided whether to allow the country to take in more Commonwealth migrants. He said a labour permit.

Mr. Ministers would like to make the regulations a little less severe. The Commonwealth duty is one of the reasons that has not yet been decided. While the proposal restricts the flow of West Indians going to Britain, there is no intention of stopping it altogether.

PETER MAY NAMED IN ENGLAND 13 FOR LORD'S WEEKEND AND U.K. Premier and U.K. Ministers discuss Common Market

The talks began on Saturday night at Chequers, the Prime Minister's official residence in Buckinghamshire, and were continuing last night.

Their aim was to clear the ground for bilateral talks between the British Ministers and Commonwealth countries on how these would be affected by any future link between Britain and the Common Market "Six".

Some of the Commonwealth nations are more than 50 per cent of her dairy exports to Britain.

All of the Commonwealth nations enjoy mutual trading rights under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Reds try to 'frame' West by forgery

RUSSIA and other Eastern bloc countries have "planned" a paste of forged documents and reports intended to discredit the West and create a false picture of the American Secret Service chief.

A Soviet report released yesterday, stated that intelligence from the Secret Service, obtained on internal security by the U.S. General Intelligence Agency, Mr. R. H. H. H.

He said the forgery included a "false" document, a document published in the French magazine "Le Monde" in 1953, and a document published in the International Correspondence of the Communist Party of Great Britain in 1953.

SEVERAL hundred supporters waved the Kenyan delegation on its way from Nairobi Airport to London at the weekend where talks are being held on the future of the High Commission. Minutes before, a Standard correspondent caught the delegates in a more thoughtful mood as they waited in the passengers' lounge. The seven delegates and advisers are (left to right) Mr. B. R. McKenzie, Dr. J. G. Kioko, Mr. J. S. Gichuru, Mr. T. J. Mwangi, Mr. K. Njiri, Mr. F. R. De Souza and Mr. J. J. Nyongu.

THE Provincial Education Officer, Mr. Symonds, examines work carried out by bookstall pupils at Nairobi South Primary School. Other new classes in the syllabus include an art class, technical drawing, pottery, leather work, basketry and modelling.

CRIME IN KENYA

Crime is always large in Kenya because of the large number of people who are living in the country. It is also large because of the large number of people who are living in the country.

THE SOLUTION

The solution to the problem of crime in Kenya is to improve the living conditions of the people. This can be done by building more houses and providing more employment opportunities.

AIR CONDITIONING raises factory efficiency
New building expense reduced. The need for more costly windows is eliminated. Fewer windows increase the amount of usable floor space up to 10% by eliminating areas needed for access to windows.
There are two basic air conditioning systems to choose from—central and packaged. Central systems are built from individual components carefully selected to meet the special requirements of a particular plant. Packaged systems are self-contained units, and are usually spotted in strategic locations throughout the plant.

MR. MACLEOD'S BUSY WEEK

BRITAIN'S Colonial Secretary, Mr. Iain Macleod, returned to Kenya yesterday which is probably going to be one of the most critical and busy weeks of his career.

It is a week packed with conferences, meetings and conferences. First he opened the East African trade conference which is presently continuing in Nairobi. Then he will be in conference with the British High Commissioner's secretariat after independence. It is not necessary to confer with the British High Commissioner before the actual opening of constitutional affairs in the East African territories. The British High Commissioner will be in Kenya from the time of his leaving for Uganda next week.

Despite the formidable set of problems, formally on the conference agenda and carried by the status of the conference as a conference, Mr. Macleod will also be in conference with the British High Commissioner's secretariat after independence. It is not necessary to confer with the British High Commissioner before the actual opening of constitutional affairs in the East African territories. The British High Commissioner will be in Kenya from the time of his leaving for Uganda next week.

The principal danger emanates from Northern Rhodesia. Considerable work has been continuing in the Colonial Office since the conference broke down after the Rhodesians refused to sign and speculation has been mounting in the British Press over the form the change will take. A critical Cabinet meeting is said to be imminent. Mr. Macleod is reported to have had his war, and, from the same source, that Sir Guy Webster "won't like it."

Mr. Macleod has returned to a general strike in part of Sir Evelyn Baring, now in London, last Friday and has been accompanied by Mr. Macleod, Governor of Northern Rhodesia. These talks will be reviewed by Mr. Macleod on the proposed Rhodesia Bill in the British Government at a Cabinet meeting which will decide the final form of the proposed Rhodesia Bill. It is not clear if he will be back in N. Rhodesia for the Budget session of Legislative Council next week and it is not clear if he will be back for the constitutional amendment which, however, is expected during the next day or two.

Finally, a delegation from Western Africa is visiting London, to consider Mr. Macleod's private talks. It is all going reasonably well. It will emerge from these pre-conferences that the British High Commissioner will be in Kenya to attend the opening of the conference which is expected to continue for at least a fortnight.

Shump pins estate agents as building slows

NAIROBI TRADE IN FAST SIX MONTHS WORSE IN MEASUREMENT, THEY SAY

With the building and sale of flats in the Nairobi area almost at a standstill, estate agents say business in the recent few months has fallen to a level which is a far cry from the boom of the past six months, and some of the agents interviewed by the African Standard reported yesterday had hopes of it changing in the near future.

The agent said he had more than 500 enquiries in the last few months, but had not had more than five sales. A City Council spokesman said only a handful of flats for residential purposes had been submitted since the year started.

Less than half-price

There has been a continued recession in all forms of building—both residential and industrial," he added. The total value of plans for all proposed buildings in the quarter for the first half of the year was a little more than £2,000,000 compared with £2,500,000 for the same period last year.

An agent with 200 houses for sale said: "Many of the flats have been on the market for a long time and a conference over two years ago. Prices were down to 50 per cent of the figure before the conference, but would be raised by 25 per cent by the end of the year. Most properties offered in public auctions were eventually bought up by building societies because private buyers could not afford to pay the high prices."

18 sellers in two hours

Another agent said he had 12 more houses to sell than he had in the last six months. "I have sold 12 houses in the last two weeks," he said, "but I have not had more than five enquiries since then."

The 12 houses had 17 enquiries each from one housing society. "I have sold 12 houses in the last two weeks," he said, "but I have not had more than five enquiries since then."

Would sell tomorrow

Governments studies plan for industrial growth in Kenya

BUT STABILITY IS NEEDED, MEMBERS WARNED

A "COOPERATIVE and cautious" plan for development of industry in Kenya has been proposed and is being considered by the Legislative Council and the Government.

Kenya has nobody under detention

NOBODY was in detention in Kenya, the Minister for Defence, Mr. George S. Obunga, said in a statement to the Legislative Council yesterday. He was asked on behalf of the House by Mr. J. A. O. Oduku (Mombasa) whether any person had been arrested under the Public Order Act. Mr. Obunga replied that he had no information to the effect that any person had been arrested under the Public Order Act. He said that the Public Order Act was a preventive measure and that it was not intended to be used against any person who was not a threat to the public order.

In the absence of the Minister, Mr. Muliro, the draft estimates of his Ministry for 1963/64. He told Members that it was not necessary to spend large sums of money on industrial development. He said that the Government was not planning to invest heavily in industrial development. He said that the Government was not planning to invest heavily in industrial development. RECIPES REALLY GLADDEN GORKETS

BY TIMOTHY BOND

There's that African gourmet who likes to experiment in his— or her!—kitchen but who discovers more particularly his recipes in the pages of Gladden Gorkets. They are The Molly Goldberry Jewish Cookbook and The Jewish Cookbook.

Being in mind that "the proof of the pudding is in the eating" perhaps the most satisfactory way to introduce them into your administration is to call for your household to give a personal selection. Let us take the Jewish cookbook first—by Corcoran King. This menu favors milk, turkey, and breadways, but also offers recipes which have (in quotes) "made the Goldberry family of the best-of."

Preposterous novel appears to be normal

EVEN though the lengths to which David Kelsey, a brilliant young chemist, is prepared to go to gain possession of the woman he loves may seem preposterous to most, down-to-earth people, yet Patricia Highsmith's novel, This Sweet Sinner (Hensenman, 15/-) uncannily manages to appear only a trifle unconventional to those members of the circle in which they move.

Kelsey is a young man taken respect in the "dig" is a love, near the Golden Gate years. He is thought to have an invalid mother in a nursing home some distance away.

But, in fact, those weekends were spent at a house, bought and furnished by David for Annette, the girl with whom he fell in love but who married another man.

The marriage did not deter the young chemist one whit from continuing his courtship. He took it for granted that the girl would be a failure would become the day Annette died.

BLACKMAIL LINE

She learned all about his private life and under a promise of expiring to save him from the police, managed to blackmail him for her personal ends.

That she pressed too much when she, a Viscountess, lay down on the bed intended for Annette.

She ended up in a mortuary and after only a night's justice caught up with David who by the time had plunged clear over the line like that diva, the nerves from the psychom?

KENYA FARMERS MEET IN NAIROBI AFTER

TOPIC GROUP MEET IN NAIROBI AFTER

BY THE I.A.C. DELEGATES WHO MET IN AFRICA LAST YEAR

News from Nairobi that the meeting of the International Olympic Committee in London for the 1962 conference of the Kenya representative in Athens, Mr. E. S. Kibaki, was held in Nairobi after all.

Meeting in Athens yesterday, delegates voted decisively in favour of Nairobi for the 1962 conference. The Kenya capital received 28 votes and Lausanne 14, Buenos Aires and Lisbon were eliminated on a first vote and New Delhi on a second.

Earlier there had been reports that Nairobi, backed by negotiations of the chance to host next year — this was after Moscow had offered to stand down in Nairobi's favour — might lose distinction in the face of keen competition from a number of European cities. The I.O.C. last met in Africa 27 years ago.

"WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY"

Last night the Mayor, Ald. E. S. Wilson, commented: "The decision is undoubtedly the result of the enthusiasm and lobbying of the Kenya representative in Athens, Mr. E. S. Kibaki. The 1962 conference will in fact be better than the 1962 conference, and I understand it will be rather larger and attract more interest."

The Council and, I am sure, the Kenya Government, will welcome this wonderful opportunity of showing to the world that Kenya delegates the attraction of Kenya and East Africa.

The vice-chairman of the Kenya Olympic Association and president of the Kenya Amateur Athletic Association, Mr. D. Q. Eskine, said the meeting in Nairobi would give an opportunity for the sporting nations of the world to see what a sporting little Kenya was.

MOSCOW NEXT YEAR

"It will give them a chance to see that we have aspects other than politics," he said. It would be of value to the country because it will bring 200 to 300 representatives of national Olympic associations to the 1962 conference in Nairobi. The venue for the 1962 Olympics will be decided during the Nairobi congress. Nairobi last year lost by five votes to Moscow for the 1962 congress.

The 1962 meeting between the executive of the I.O.C. and the international sports federations and the national Olympic committees will not, however, be held in Nairobi, which was not considered convenient. It will probably be held in Lausanne or another Swiss city.

NAIROBI AS U.N. HOME PROPOSED

MR. D. Q. ESKINE has said that the United Nations Secretary-General, Mr. Dag Hammarskjöld, proposed that the organisation should move its headquarters to Nairobi.

He says the two main advantages of Nairobi are its accessibility to all nations of the world and its near-perfect climate.

Other advantages he mentions are excellent city services, hospitals and a large number of students. He says that the city is likely to be the headquarters of the proposed African Federation.

Most enthusiastic

He recalls that the United Nations Secretary-General, Mr. Hammarskjöld, visited Kenya last year and was most enthusiastic about the proposal. He has been in touch with other Legislative Council Members, and he believes the proposal will be most enthusiastically received.

He says the present rate of construction in Nairobi is such that the city will be able to accommodate the proposed headquarters of the United Nations.

A MEXICAN maize seed which could lessen severe famine in the Colony is being grown on an experimental farm by the Kenya Government — and the first seeds could be planted during the next long rains.

The seed, known as Taboran, can grow in areas with 8in. of well-distributed rain — and it takes a month less than the normal maize seed. The possibility of the seed being made available in bulk to farmers within at least two years was mentioned by the Minister for Agriculture, Mr. Bundred, when he spoke at the end of a seed seminar in Nairobi.

He told delegates from Tanganyika, Somalia, Ethiopia, Sudan, Nigeria, Tunisia and Libya that the position in Kenya was "grave". "We have had 20 successive years, and these might be done, but we must be prepared for a drought which would be a disaster called any other name. Normally, if you were to visit this country it would be a smiling country."

Mr. Bundred said the Government was faced with large-scale importations to secure the stricken areas.

"Despite this, we have a great amount of high quality seed available for experimental farm work. It is likely that maize there will be able to produce crops even in years as severe as this."

Russia to sign East German peace pact

MR. KRUSHCHEV said in Moscow yesterday that the Soviet Union had signed a peace treaty with East Germany at the end of the year. Moscow Radio reported.

Mr. Khrushchev said a Kremlin meeting to commemorate the 20th anniversary of the Soviet attack on the German Democratic Republic was held in Moscow yesterday.

Mr. Khrushchev said the treaty was signed in Moscow on August 1st, 1955. He said the treaty was signed in Moscow on August 1st, 1955.

Tribe threatened

The Member for Kagado, Mr. D. W. Hall, said yesterday that the Government was threatening the tribe in the Kagado area.

Famine relief steps at Coast

When it became obvious that the rains had failed completely, the Government decided to take steps to relieve the famine in the coastal areas. The Government has decided to take steps to relieve the famine in the coastal areas.

SEPARATE TALKS LIKELY NEXT WEEK

Mr. Macloed agrees to see Kenya leaders

BRITAIN'S Colonial Secretary, Mr. Macloed, has agreed to meet Kenya African political party leaders, now in London for the High Commission conference, for private talks on their demands for independence.

A Colonial Office spokesman confirmed that Mr. Macloed had agreed to separate talks but said no date had been fixed. However, the Kenya leader, Mr. J. Gichuru, said he expected the meeting would be held next week.

He said Mr. Macloed would be given the case for independence this year and for Kenya's immediate freedom.

Mr. Macloed would also be asked to make a constitutional conference on Kenya's future.

Opposition to £3m. Kenyan Road to be ORIGINATED

MINISTER SAYS HE IS ASTONISHED

A STATEMENT that anyone could ever have made in an attempt to add to Kenya's landless population was contained in the Kenya Legislative Council yesterday by the Minister for Lands and Settlements, Mr. Mackenzie.

Mr. Mackenzie was replying to a debate on the second reading of a Bill seeking action for the Government to borrow £2,000,000 from the World Bank to develop land in the scheduled areas in connection with the Government's resettlement schemes.

A further £1,500,000 is expected from the Colonial Development Corporation for these schemes and the Minister proposed that provision should be made for the Government to borrow up to a total of £4,500,000 from the two sources.

SCHEDULED AREAS STRESS

Many members of the Opposition criticised the Bill and specified only the scheduled areas, which they regarded as high-potential lands in areas both of high and low potential. Mr. John Ken (Kisumu) went as far as to say that it was the most discriminatory Bill ever introduced in this House.

Mr. Mackenzie said that for years the Government had been told it must get away from the project of keeping certain land exclusively for Europeans. He surprised him to find that now the Government was taking steps to throw the land out of their hands.

The World Bank loan could not be used for buying land, but for this money be made available elsewhere and the World Bank loan would be used for development.

Licence limits a dressmaker, board told

A TRANSPORT Board representative described a "great restriction on the public transport vehicles as a result of the Transport Licence Board in Nairobi yesterday."

Mr. W. J. Harrigan, representing the Kenya Transport Co. Ltd., was applying for colony-wide licences for the whole of the country's road transport. He also asked for 15 licences for 40 lorries and 30 trailers and 30 motor buses for 12 lorries and 15 trailers.

When they asked him why he wanted to sell his licence to the public instead of to the Government, he replied that he had no alternative. He said that the Government had refused to issue him a licence for the whole of the country.

Mr. Harrigan said that he had been in Kenya for some time and had been successful in other parts of the world. He said that he had a large fleet of vehicles and was ready to operate throughout the country.

When the delegation returned to the Transport Board, they were told that the Government had decided to issue him a licence for the whole of the country. He was told that he must first obtain a licence from the Government before he can drive a car.

Mr. Harrigan said that he was very pleased with the decision and that he would be able to operate throughout the country. He said that he would be able to provide a service to the public that was better than what was currently available.

STRIKES IN BRITAIN BLAMED ON REDS

Mr. Jim Matthews, national industrial relations officer of the 700,000-strong General and Municipal Workers' Union, said: "It is quite clear that the present unrest in the car industry is part of a programme of industrial disruption laid down by the Communist Party of Great Britain."

Mr. Matthews said that the Communist Party had been instrumental in the formation of the 100,000-strong General and Municipal Workers' Union, which it still guides. He said that the present unrest in the car industry is part of a programme of industrial disruption laid down by the Communist Party of Great Britain.

Standard Staff Reporter.
KENYA'S growing tea industry has received a boost with the construction of a new £52,000 factory—one of the most modern in the world—on the Kapembwa Tea Co.'s estate at Nandi.

Growers from throughout the district attended the formal opening ceremony performed at the weekend by the president of the Nairobi Chamber of Commerce, Mr. R. J. Hillard. In its first month of working the factory has produced 10,000lb. of tea.

Mr. Hillard emphasized that there could be no salvation for commerce and industry outside the agricultural community "of this essentially agricultural and pastoral country" was prosperous, stable and contented.

The new factory will be able to produce 250,000lb. of "made" tea a year and there is ample space in the building which is sited over 11,000 sq. ft. for extra machinery to be installed to enable output to be raised to 750,000lb. a year. It is planned to build an even larger factory next to the first building as processing demands increase.

Since 1907/8 installing on this 4,673-acre estate has been raised from 45 to 613 acres and the estate manager, Mr. H. E. H. Pilbrow, estimates there is a total planting potential of 1,500 acres.

Until now the concern has been selling its green leaf to neighbouring estates which had processing facilities, but it had now grown its own factory where leaf output increased. Most of the £400,000 worth of machinery has come from Britain.

Time for courage and patience

The company, a subsidiary of the Empire of India and Ceylon Tea Company which has several estates in India, already employs 500 Africans and the labour force will grow as more land is brought under cultivation and the factory work expands. Some 1954, nearly £200,000 had been spent on the estate.

Mr. Hillard said they were all at one in their struggle to develop Kenya. But those in the commercial and industrial world regarded farmers as employers of the plantation companies that feature understandable fears and hesitations, but they could be removed by courage, patience, longance and determination of Africa called as the tea-growers.

He found his audience not to pay too much attention to the all-embraced and subtle messages spoken from time to time by politicians of all races. Few of these politicians would have been so forthright as to allow their undisciplined tongues to utter that they were at the heart of the matter as others that Kenya should be left to the creative work of the "imperial" organizers, exploiters and businessmen should not be allowed to crumble too easily.

If the African did not wish to work or to raise his standard of living he was lost. But the tea-planting African had no desire to change any of his numerous personal ambitions of a few days ago. The despair from which they started their long climb towards an educated, healthy and prosperous life.

It was the dreadful weapon of intimidation could be described as the African's greatest enemy. African would never trust those who have by their deeds shown themselves to be his friends in the past. Their allegiance to men who only talk—describing the opening of the factory as yet another shining example of the endeavours of the agricultural community—be said they should be determined, whatever temporary frustrations and disappointments there might be, to go on serving Kenya.

This experimental rotary machine, being operated by the factory manager, Mr. W. R. Hillard, is one of the latest pieces of machinery to be installed. It will be used to test the quality of leaf from these bushes on the estate which have proved to be most suited to the growing conditions. Once a good enough trial has been found it will be possible to plant an entire estate from the seedlings of this bush, instead of adopting the usual sowing method of seed-sowing. HILLARD, president of the Nairobi Chamber of Commerce, Mr. R. J. Hillard, is shown one of the dozen machines in the open factory. With him is the factory manager, Mr. W. R. Hillard.

When you have collected 8 of these specially marked Coca-Cola bottle caps, just hand them to your bottling plant, or to any Coca-Cola salesman. You will be given one of these beautiful life-like ivorine models. Then collect another 8 bottle caps for your next animal! For up-country areas too! Please contact your local recognised Coca-Cola distributor. Keep this advert to remind you what animals you still need. From now on, whenever you order delicious refreshing Coca-Cola always ask for the bottle cap—remember every cap counts.

MERVYN COOKE, Director of the Royal National Park, Kenya, says: "I considered this big game collection to be entirely fitting inasmuch as it would give children from the general public a knowledge of the animals of this proud country through the medium of a model of such a worthy of the rich and the things we have as products."

How to find the special mark
Look for the special mark on the bottom of the bottle cap.

EVERY IVORINE ANIMAL YOU COLLECT HELPS A LIVE ANIMAL! Yes, your friendly Coca-Cola bottler will make a donation to the Royal National Parks Water for Wild Animals Fund for each ivorine animal you collect. The more you collect the more you help!

ROYAL HONEYMOONERS

THE Duke and Duchess of Kent are spending the second part of their honeymoon in Malaya. They are staying at the Villa Quira which belongs to Mr. Whitby Straight, the head of Bata-Batavia. The couple spend most of their time round the villa — playing tennis and swimming in the private pool. Above, the Duchess, wearing hooded, short and striped trousers, in a speedboat with the Duke at the helm, skims across the bay near the villa.

THE Royal Air Force and the United States Navy have been in the news recently. First came news of a non-stop flight from Britain to Australia and then American ships sailed into Zanzibar with gifts for refugee children.

The R.A.F. Y-bomber which made the trip left via an Arco Vulcan. It was in the air for 24 hours over 20 hours. Above, an R.A.F. performance and dog stand guard over one Vulcan at a British base.

Left: Officers of the U.S. Navy supporting piles of food and sweets brought ashore as a gift to aid the hundreds of refugees in the Peshawar. The goods were landed from two ships which are part of an army task force heading Indian Ocean ports.

FINANCE PLAN FOR INDUSTRY

THE "comprehensive and elaborate" plan for the development of industry in Kenya, which is being considered by the Government, will be formulated by a special committee, Nairobi Chamber of Commerce was told last night.

Mr. T. J. Humeau said that the plan, announced in Legislative Council last week by the Minister of Industry for Commerce and Industry, Sheila M. A. Almond, would be discussed by the Government Council.

The plan, which will be formulated by a special committee, will be the result of a study by the Government Council and the Ministry of Industry for Commerce and Industry, Sheila M. A. Almond, will be discussed by the Government Council in the course of its work.

COMPLICATED COMPROMISE

COMPLICATED as the Northern Rhodesian process is, they are, however, happy to see the British Government once again demonstrating the British regard for compromise.

Mr. Maclean was made up of assuring an outright majority for Africa, or of achieving the same result by the European. Within 15 days the Legislative Council will be elected by the whole African people. The 15 by 15 will be elected by the 15 National Members of the Council. It has been agreed that in the same case of situation, an election of National Members will be held. It is now being considered by the House sitting as an election of National Members.

In N. Rhodesia, however, will be elected from an amalgam of the United Kingdom and the country and the result will be governed by two factors: (1) the number of seats in the House and (2) the number of votes. It is expected that the Government will be a coalition of the two parties, and even more important (3) the number of seats in the House and (2) the number of votes. It is expected that the Government will be a coalition of the two parties, and even more important (3) the number of seats in the House and (2) the number of votes.

Wider perspective of Federation

While a compromise solution positively seems probable, it is the disadvantage of any such solution, that it will involve the inclusion of a large number of people who will not be able to participate in the political process. It is also possible that the inclusion of a large number of people who will not be able to participate in the political process, will lead to a situation where the Government will be a coalition of the two parties, and even more important (3) the number of seats in the House and (2) the number of votes.

Science Shrinks Piles Now Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

London, (Continued)—For the first time science has found the chemical substance with the extraordinary ability to stop itching, relieve pain and reduce the thickness of hemorrhoids without surgery.

In case after case, while giving and promptly relieving pain, itching and reducing the thickness of hemorrhoids blood circulation of all—this improvement was observed in cases where doctors' observations were confirmed over a period of many months.

In fact, results were so thorough that authors were able to make such surprising statements as "Piles" "absolutely cured" by the treatment.

Among these improvements wide variety of hemorrhoids.

Standing

Referring to my letter, I should correct a misstatement in dealing with numbers over ten digits.

I do not wish to question whether growth of population should be limited or not, but the arguments on the subject are not in the nature of a referendum. Hence the misstatement. Hence the misstatement.

World population in A.D. 2000 is estimated at 6,000,000,000. In 1925 it was 2,000,000,000. There will be 50,000 square yards of land per person, or a square yard per acre. This is a very small amount of land for a person to live on.

Assuming the population will be 6,000,000,000 in A.D. 2000, it would require 300,000,000 acres of land to provide 50,000 square yards per person. This is a very large amount of land.

Such a state of affairs cannot be maintained unless the population is reduced to a level where there is sufficient land for each person to live on.

It is not possible to maintain a population of 6,000,000,000 on the present land area of the world.

Combined Schools show elders how Rugby should be played

ONCE again a schoolboy event has provided the most important business of the day. Last weekend of the Kenya boys' golf championships, last week the emergence of a potential star in midweek was a very refreshing and thrilling display of how the game should be played.

This was the Combined Schools XV which did not make any better showing than the XV which was made up of the best players of the two schools. The XV which was made up of the best players of the two schools. The XV which was made up of the best players of the two schools.

I AM sure the Rugby Union that completely misrepresents the position of the game in this little chance of raising money for the school. On Wednesday a much better XV was put forward.
