WARNINGS ON COFFEE BILL

Adverse effects outside Uganda, say Unofficials

WARNINGS that the Coffee Export Duty Bill, which passed its second reading yesterday in a division in favour, could have serious adverse effects outside Uganda if made law as it stood, were given by Unofficial Members.

The Bill provides for an export tax on coffee of 10 per cent, which is to be paid by the producer. It also provides for a 10 per cent duty on coffee imported into Uganda.

It has been recommended that the Bill should be amended so as to provide for a 5 per cent duty on coffee imported into Uganda, and a 10 per cent duty on coffee exported from Uganda.

The Bill will be passed by the Government in the next few days, and will be presented to the Queen for assent.

Critics are accused of 'skating round' Bill

The Director of Agriculture, Mr. T. Y. Wilson, has been accused of "skating round" the Coffee Export Duty Bill.

It is alleged that Wilson has been trying to get the Bill passed without any discussion of its effects on the coffee growers.

Wilson has denied the charges, saying that he has been trying to get the Bill passed as quickly as possible.

FIRST ESTIMATES OF COUNTY COUNCIL

NAKURU COUNTY COUNCILLORS have drafted estimates for 1933 showing an increase of £73,000 over the first estimates of 1930. Further expenditure totals three rural District Councils and two Urban District Councils with an estimated net charge on estates of £1,617. It was also approved.

Main item of expenditure by the County Council is the sum of £2,300 for administrative expenses, which includes the salaries and wages of the County Council's employees. The County Council also provides for the salaries of its members and the salaries of its officers and employees.

The County Council's expenditure is to be met from the County Council's own resources. The County Council has a number of properties which are let to tenants and the County Council also has a number of employees who are paid out of the County Council's funds.

The County Council's estimates show a net saving of £1,617 over the first estimates of 1930. This saving is due to a number of factors, including a reduction in the County Council's expenditure on administration and a reduction in the County Council's expenditure on the salaries of its members and officers.

The County Council's estimates also show a number of new projects which the County Council is planning to undertake in 1933. These projects include the construction of a new road and the construction of a new school.

The County Council's estimates are subject to the approval of the County Council. The County Council will meet on August 18th to consider the estimates and to make any necessary amendments. The County Council's estimates will be published in full in the Standard newspaper.

RUSSIA CALLS FOR TALKS ON GERMANY

Peace Note handed to Western Powers

WESTERN Powers have received a dramatic proposal for a German conference within the next six months, as a result of talks between the Soviet Union and the British, United States and French Governments.

The proposal also suggested the setting-up of a working party between the German Government and the East and West Governments, as well as international organizations, to prepare for the all-German elections. It called for a lightening of Communist financial obligations to the Big Four Occident Powers.

Full responsibility for German unity rests with the German people, the note stated.

The proposal is a further extension of problems which might be tackled by the German Government. These include: re-organization of international organizations during the peace treaty, working out election procedures, freedom of democratic parties and organizations, freedom of people and movement, freedom of trade, freedom of economic relations between East and West.

West German representatives will be invited to participate in the talks. It is expected that they will be invited to participate in the talks. It is expected that they will be invited to participate in the talks.

Kenya trial appeal opens in Nairobi

MR. WHYATT'S SUBMISSIONS

FOR four hours yesterday, Kenya's Attorney-General, Mr. John Whyatt, Q.C., argued the Crown's case in the appeal before the Court of Appeal for Eastern Africa, in Nairobi, against last month's decision by the Supreme Court that the Kapanguria trial of Jomo Kenyatta and his fellow African leaders is null and void.

He will resume his arguments at 10.30 this morning before Sir Barclay Niblett, Sir Newham Worrall and Sir Joseph Jackson. Appearing with him for the Crown are the Solicitor-General, Mr. P. N. Griffith-Jones, and the Deputy Public Prosecutor, Mr. A. G. Simeonchick. Mr. Whyatt is also represented by Mr. P. R. Pitt, Q.C., and Mr. A. H. Kippen, who have filed a cross-appeal.

The court was guarded by armed police and spectators were barred as they entered the Law Court, State House, Nairobi, to see the appeal.

Mr. Whyatt began his address when he called an affidavit in support of the facts. The grounds of appeal, he said, were based on the fact that the trial was held on November 17, 1952, when the Governor signed an instrument empowering his power, which was null and void.

DISCUSSING the dispute of the African mine workers in the Copper Belt, the London Times says that the complaint is the European mine workers seem determined to keep Nkana working without the Africans.

Throughout the Copper Belt, it would not be possible to maintain production. The Times traces the history of the dispute to the fact that the African workers maintain a "policy of no work" when the companies and the workers' unions are not in agreement. (Reuters)

WESTERN EUROPE as a whole would appear to be big enough for the dollar gap. According to the United States Economic Commission for Europe...

...and the European countries as a group with the United States has barely balanced. The financial position of Europe in the year up to last March, says the Commission, is not so good as that of the United States with the United States has been kept to manageable proportions.

Considering that the deficit for the year 1951-52 was over £2,000,000,000 in 1947, and set one billion in 1950, it is not surprising that the Americans, therefore, transport. Furthermore, the Marshall Plan for Europe's economic recovery has been completely successful.

Certainly the Marshall Plan was aimed at putting Europe on its feet and stabilizing the monetary position of the individual Governments. (Reuters)

Looking at this way, it is worth a study to see the Marshall Plan has succeeded. Europe has not recovered. (Reuters)

THE PERSIAN CRISIS
Queen Soraya, 31-year-old daughter of a "Christian"
Western monarch in an Eastern country

NO one can know the Shah of Persia without admiring him for his good intentions, playing him off his weakness and wondering what he and ancient Persia would be like today if a Western education had not taken such deep root in him.

SEEN through Western eyes, Dr. Ghobad Mousaei is a statesman, a fiddler, a politician, a diplomat, a man of letters, a man of letters.

His background, career and education are well known in Eastern lands. After returning to Persia in 1916 as a member of the Persian Mission, he was appointed to various posts.

After years in retirement, Mousaei served as a provincial governor in 1947. He has been active in the Persian Mission since 1947.

BIG THREE MAKE OFFER TO RUSSIA

Will drop Short Austrian Treaty — ON ONE CONDITION

A major rupture in Russia is deciding to drop their proposed "Short Treaty" for Austria, Belgium, France and the United States made their offer in a New York broadcast by their spokesman in Moscow. They told the Soviet Union that they would drop their proposed Short Treaty for Austria's independence, providing that Russia did not raise "extraneous issues" in negotiating any other treaty.

Further, the Western Allies propose "that discussions should be resumed on the Austrian Treaty by the Deputies of the Four Foreign Ministers, meeting in London for talks on August 31."

The Note delivered in Moscow yesterday was, in fact, an answer to Russia's Note of July 30, not directly to within the terms of the Moscow Declaration, but to the Russian's dramatic proposal for a German peace conference during the next six months.

The offer, with its condition, was made by the Deputies of an all-German Government from the East and West German Parliaments.

Agreement at Salisbury defence talks

UNIFIED FORCE RECOMMENDED

London, August 19.—The agreement at Salisbury defence talks between the British and American representatives, which was announced yesterday, has recommended a unified force for the defence of Western Europe.

The agreement, which was reached after three days of intensive discussions, was signed by the British Chiefs of Staff and the American Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The unified force would be composed of British and American troops, and would be commanded by a British officer.

The agreement also recommended that the British and American forces should be integrated into a single command structure.

Trieste problem

The Western Allies proposed the Trieste Treaty of some 1947, but it was never signed. The British have now offered to drop the Trieste Treaty, which would have given the city to the Yugoslavs, in return for a similar arrangement for the city of Trieste.

The British offer was made in a letter to the Yugoslavs, which was received in Belgrade yesterday.

The British offer was made in return for the Yugoslavs dropping their demand for the city of Trieste.

RAINBOW V-BELTS

The placing of the Snow-Tensil cord section distributes the pulling of the load to every last inch of every fibre to its maximum share. The RAINBOW principle produces a V-Belt that flexes with strain, grips and holds fast against wheel slippage with maximum efficiency. Add to this economy in maintenance and slow replacement and the result is a drive operating profit.

John at birth was looked upon as dead and did not breathe for half an hour. The babies were breast fed initially, supplemented with Cow & Gate Milk Food and then put wholly on to Cow & Gate. They have had no teething troubles, are wonderfully healthy, with firm limbs and sturdy bodies and appear able to walk, although only ten months old at the time of the picture." Batsmen don't like a googly

It's only fair to be helpful to left-handers too. Slow bowlers try to be accurate, especially on a rain-affected wicket. The ball is tossed on a straight and spins away from the batsman toward the slips. To a right-handed batsman that's a leg-break.

But it is bowled with the off-spinner—that is, spun with the forefinger and largely held by the first and second fingers.

That sort of bowler should develop that one specialty: the ball that doesn't turn but which comes into the batsman that is, as we say, "gone with the seam." Obviously, it is easier to just come with the seam than the left-handed bowler bowling from round the wicket.

A big mistake is to attempt a left-hander in what is known as "middle-order" or "Chickie."

Two is the limit of five catches

At ALEC BISHOP, of whom we hold pictures opposite in this page, in which he gives most advice to left-handers.

In The Club Test on Saturday, Bishop took his 99th wicket in the second innings. He has four more to go to beat the record set by the late Monty Topps in the England-Australia test.

—showing. None the "chickie" is a very difficult ball to bowl.

The stock ball of the test cricketers

There is a great deal of opinion about the "stock ball" of the batsman. It is an off-break. But it is bowled with the same grip as a right-arm bowler uses on a leg-break.

The alternative ball is the so-called "googly"—which is bowled with the off-hand.

A CHAIN of five catches is a feat which is often talked about in the cricketing world. It is an off-break. But it is bowled with the same grip as a right-arm bowler uses on a leg-break.

A first world of value to left-handers: that is, a "googly." Study a batsman's method. The grip of the ball is not left. If his hands are apart or placed low on the handle, he is likely to be a strong driver. So, you should try to grip the

PLEA FOR CHANGE IN TENURE

Memorandum to Mr. Evelynton

Mr. Evelynton

MEMORANDUM has gone from the Northern Rhodesian office chairmanship stated by Sir Roy Welensky, Sir G. B. Beckett and Mr. G. P. van Rensburg, to the Colonial Secretary Mr. Oliver Lyttelton setting out arguments for the continuation of the tenure of Crown land to freehold tenure.

The memorandum suggests that (over) a 'freehold land should not be granted until the land has been held under leasehold tenure for a least ten years and has been 'adequately developed.

It is also suggested that the leasehold tenure should be converted to freehold after ten years.

Half affected

The amount of land allocated to European settlement in Northern Rhodesia is less than 50,000 acres of which only a third is freehold.

There are 4,000 acres of Crown land still available for European settlement, but these are subject to the same terms as the land already freehold.

Northern Rhodesia leads the new Federal Party

THE Northern Rhodesian Delegation—50 strong led by Sir Roy Welensky—came back covered in glory from the inaugural congress in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, of the new Federal Party.

The original aim, without questioning the most important part of the settlement, was in favour of Federation. It was charged with the task of organizing a new political party to fight the first Federal elections in 1954, to contest territorial elections in each of the three Central African countries. It has today been regarded as a remarkable initiative throughout Southern Africa as a valuable step towards the union of the new Federal States of Rhodesia.

The first day of the congress was similar to that elsewhere where we first took up the struggle against the Government and the first large session, Mr. C. M. van Eden, a member of the Northern Rhodesian Legislative Council, introduced a motion which stated that the Federal Congress should also be a declaration of the freedom to racial, particularly white, supremacy in the new Federal States, which would be the basis of the Federal State.

Five proposals

Mr. van Eden spoke in a bold and somewhat aggressive manner and laid out the basis of the new Northern Rhodesian Delegation, the following proposals for which he asked the congress's endorsement:

(1) The desirability of conferring to a system that is simple, viable and Black to live in harmony.

(2) The realization that the European in the central area of Africa is the former settler, that the latter implies to be guided by the former and that each should be rewarded accordingly; it is his contribution to the welfare of the community.

(3) The extension of political rights and privileges to those who continue to be civilized, obedient and law-abiding.

(4) The recognition of the national and traditional status on the part of all States, to be mutually dominant, none of the States to be subordinate to any other.

(5) The fact that every human being has the right to be free, to be free of all forms of slavery, to be free of all forms of discrimination, to be free of all forms of oppression.

(6) The acceptance of the principle that persons acquiring political rights must not enjoy special privileges, and other forms of protective legislation.

Resistance

There was an immediate response by some Southern Rhodesian delegates to make the whole question, or if it had been possible, to be put in the hands of the British Government. Mr. van Eden refused to discuss the matter, but he was told that he would be welcomed in the party of the new Federal State as a full and frank member.

The Federal Congress met at the first Federal Government, it is a present move, although the Federal Party is elected in favour of the Federal Government.

Mr. van Eden, who has always been a controversial figure in Rhodesian politics, did not come out of the congress with the reputation of Sir Roy Welensky as the Federal Party's leader. He was not only that but also was in the hands of the people and he was not only that but also was in the hands of the people and he was not only that but also was in the hands of the people.

NORTHERN RHODESIAN COMMENTARY

Discussion on this matter, and in the first large session of the congress, two hours will come of the matter.

The only objection raised against the Federal Party was that it was a party of white supremacy. It is a party of white supremacy, it is a party of white supremacy, it is a party of white supremacy.

Elder statesman

The general consensus of opinion is that Sir Geoffrey Higgins is now accepted in all these countries as an able statesman. Sir Roy Welensky, however, is not so well known, but he is a man of high standing.

African strike

THE attitude of the African people in Rhodesia is a matter of concern to the Government. The Government is now in a position to take steps to deal with the situation.

KEEN SAILING ON BOTH LAKES

VICTORY SHIELD AT KISUMU

From Special Correspondents

LIFELASMEN on both Lake Victoria and Lake Naivasha have held competitive events recently and some keen and interesting small boat racing has taken place. The Victory Shield race was held last Sunday and the B.I.D. Amateur Trophy races the previous week. Both provided close finishes.

At the Naivasha Yacht Club the monthly handicaps last week took place in variable air. The best entries for the Victory Shield at Kisumu last Sunday were by Typhoon (O. Perrin), The Hawk (G. Perrin), and the single person which strengthened the field. Typhoon soon took the lead closely followed by Hawk.

Keen struggle These three boats had a very interesting struggle. For most of the race Hawk was in the lead but Typhoon was good at the end. On the lake to the South West near the latter split back and led, but when the race resumed Typhoon was again in the lead and was fortunate to catch up stronger which which put her only a few lengths behind Typhoon at the distance mark. Typhoon was a good challenge and went on to win. The result was that in three hours, minutes and seconds Typhoon - G. Perrin (1:37:50), Hawk - G. Perrin (1:41:15), and The Hawk - G. Perrin (1:54:39).

The Hawk (G. Perrin) was the force of the day in the event. The Hawk was sailed for the first time in Kisumu, and the racing was very interesting. The Hawk was sailed for the first time in Kisumu, and the racing was very interesting. The Hawk was sailed for the first time in Kisumu, and the racing was very interesting.

Draw for boats R. P. Wainwright and Mrs. B. P. P. were the winners of the trophy which is awarded to the team gaining most points in the race. Before the final race six honours were given for positions and their race.

At the Lake Victoria Yacht Club a fair start was made by Hawk and Typhoon. Hawk held the lead through out to the finish but there was a struggle for the other places. The result was: 1st - Hawk (G. Perrin), 2nd - Hawk (G. Perrin), 3rd - Hawk (G. Perrin).

Afternoon race The afternoon race began with a short boat to windward but Hawk and Typhoon were the first to cross and were recalled. At the first mark Hawk held a narrow lead but Typhoon in the race only to finish in the lead.

At Naivasha A team had started before the monthly handicaps race. The monthly handicaps race was held on Sunday, August 27, 1955.

FOR three days the Commonwealth Army Navy and Air Force elements have been attending a secret conference.

Although in all, with a sprinkling of atom activists, they have met in Cambridge to discuss atomic weapons and their use.

The military chiefs must be made clear that the conference is not a secret conference. General Bluff has made a point of saying that the Army will not be the first to use atomic weapons, and that the Navy will not be the first to use atomic weapons, and that the Air Force will not be the first to use atomic weapons.

The conference is important because the price of an atomic bomb is now so low that it is possible to have a stockpile of them in the same area as the other weapons. The conference is also important because it is the first time that the military and the atomic scientists have met to discuss the use of atomic weapons.

Regular soldiers who live in tumbledown slums

KENYA'S worst slums are not in the dusty towns of Nairobi or in the primitive mud and wattle huts of the reserves. They are in the Colony's military camps, where the African professional soldiers of the King, with their families, live in a state of squalor.

For the most part, they live in a state of squalor, but they are not the only ones. In the slums of Nairobi, there are many more who are not soldiers. They are the families of the soldiers who are not in the slums. They are the families of the soldiers who are not in the slums.

But at the present rate of progress and development from the Government, which has been making a big effort to improve the slums, it is not clear how long it will take to get them out of the slums. It is not clear how long it will take to get them out of the slums.

'What's the matter, Darling—did you see?' 'Don't ask those questions, George. You know perfectly well that I keep my revolver in here.' 'And it's no longer there?' 'How does it go to you?' 'You must have been that water in the night club—the hotel?' 'A pretty good reason.' 'Very likely, I like it in the toilet when I'm alone.' 'And that time you went to the club room?' 'You, then were late of opportunities for a check-up?' 'You hardly need to be a genius to check up on me, Darling.' 'How can't you check, George. I've just remembered that I left it in here.' 'That's some odd. For goodness' sake, Darling, it's better some check.'

INDUSTRY BOARD CHECKING CLAIM

THE Pig Industry Board believe that the achievements of Kerry's pig producers during the past 12 months have not been beaten in any other country and it is trying to confirm this claim.

It is stated by Sir Robert D. Bell, president of the industry, that the high level of productivity was achieved by Kerry's pig producers in the year ending 31st December 1951, when they produced 1,000,000 pigs and 1,000,000 pounds of bacon.

The Board states that it now faces a task of introducing new grading and price schedules in 1952 which will be of great benefit to the industry.

Farmers know best

WHOSE TROUBLE COULDS

It's only natural for each manufacturer to claim that his tires give better mileage, more traction, less wear, or last longer.

But in this confusion of claims, farmers know best whose word counts most when it comes to tractor tires.

If it's the word of other farmers like themselves... farmers who have tried all makes of tractor tires... farmers with years of firsthand, day-in, day-out experience in the field. And thousands of farmers throughout the world vote Goodyear's time-proved Super-Sure-Grips their First Choice in tractor tires.

In survey after survey, year after year, they name Goodyears first by an overwhelming margin. THERE IS NO CLOSE SECOND.

What is true of Goodyear Tractor tires is equally true of Goodyear Passenger, Truck and Earthmover tires. For thirty-eight consecutive years tire buyers throughout the world have bought more Goodyears than any other make.

This overwhelming preference for Goodyears can be explained only because of their superior merit.

The Girl Behind The Footlights

By Jane Irving

of showing that she had and was not. The play, the audience remained. The same from the theatre and the masses and disgraced woman.

The State Theatre Zone told me, dramatic a similar release from an actress, on a television stage and every movement had to be plotted ahead of the actress, which means a lot of hard work on the part of the cast and Missie Minkie, the producer.

"People seem to think it's just good luck that I've been making good," she remarked.

When she was only an evening star, Missie Minkie goes the distance for the contrary of popular opinion, Missie Minkie, the producer, these stage comedies improve.

The comedy manager remained the spotlight and taking off make-up from the girls and Missie Minkie, the producer, it is always proved properly. The day, Missie Minkie has to wear a head of light-blue hair with a small comb. They were taken over by Anthony Carter, who is the theatre's chief technician. Although the girls produce the light effect themselves when she has to be ready for her busy job, she does her own make-up and down the narrow stairs to her dressing-room above the stage.

The day manager, however, she has to be ready for the footlights. The day manager, however, she has to be ready for the footlights.

Research is necessary when it comes to taking on a historical role. In the Young Elizabeth the role of the 16-year-old girl with the high-spirited voice—a voice which does not permit of any dramatic criticism—she had to be a fortune. An earnest work, it is said, at my rate, that at least the public understood what I was attempting to portray.

She explained that voice and movement were his means

Conceding, take the show of egotism for me, who always had her head in them ear at hand. She finds from a high concentration when she is hearing her lines. She is pictured, above, at work on both lines and concentration in her room at the Grosvenor Hotel. Below right are two typical rehearsing sessions. Missie Minkie gives points on about a half an hour's production.

the theatre members. Did you know that every word of whispered comment to your neighbour can be clearly heard on the stage?

During her first performance, Missie Minkie found it hard not to join in the conversation in the auditorium and had to give herself a mental job to prevent herself from listening to the feet of some particularly nice chatter.

"I always know if people like my clothes or the set, for they don't hesitate to comment with their thoughts," she said.

And now we come to the end of the day. The curtain has fallen, the audience has gone home and it is midnight.

Missie Minkie, with the rest of the Players, has just finished her work. And it is an exhausting business, and she has grown hungry, for her supper was a small snack.

Called by friends she goes along to her favourite cafe for the main treat of the day.

three sets, lawn and job at her coffee.

In the water retaining atmosphere of the cafe, Missie Minkie is at her quietest and watch the people round her.

And then she leaves for the hotel and takes a soaking bath before falling into bed.

The actress manages to do this before her in the morning and even then, she still takes a short sleep, she knows that the dawn for her will come early, it is so for everyone else. There is no question of another head to bed just because she is an actress.

THE FRIDAY MISCELLANY

It may be 47 years of age but I don't mind a few trivial details - such as the fact that I remember a dinner and the cook said he could not make a fire because the firewood was in the garden and it was a lion!

This story of olden Kenya is almost beyond believing for so many of us, nowadays who are permanent residents of the white towns to know that the Kenya of 1906 was a land of wild beasts and not a land of wild people. It is a story that is worth reading for the interest it affords in the life of a country which is now a part of our own.

Holiday Clothes In Wool

UNFORTUNATELY holiday-time does not necessarily bring sunshine. We are always at the mercy of the vagaries of the weather. And so often happens, perhaps there will be many occasions when rain or woolies. So don't leave them behind when packing your holiday trunk.

Whether on holiday or the coming with an eye for clothes, always remember to wear the right clothes at the right time. For example, in certain instances the wool sweaters the road for trousers, whether they are extra checks, or serge, or flannel. In this connection, there is no end of things to mention.

THE FASHION BATTLE RAGES By Louise Petric

WHETHER Dior will succeed in changing the shape of fashion remains a moot point even in Paris. While Dior created the sensation with his "New Look" in 1947, it was not until 1954 that he introduced his "Linee X" collection. This was a reaction to the "New Look" and was characterized by a more relaxed, androgynous silhouette. Dior's "Linee X" was a departure from the structured, cinched waists of the "New Look" and was characterized by a more relaxed, androgynous silhouette.

SIX MEN WITH A MISSION CLIMB KILIMANJARO

ON the snow-capped summit of Mount Kilimanjaro a scientific instrument is making recordings connected with experiments with nuclear emulsions exposed to cosmic rays. The instrument was left there at the beginning of August by a 12-man-old Malindi Indian youth, Mr. L. M. Nagai, who is the only son of a group of six Nairobian Indians in a recent mission to the top of the mountain.

Request from Bombay

The story begins with Professor Dixit, of the Institute of Science at Bombay, who is engaged on these experiments. As they need to be carried out at heights of approximately 10,000 feet and above, at different altitudes of the earth's surface, and as the mountains in East Africa are situated in the Equatorial belt and are ideally suited for Professor Dixit's purposes, he sought the assistance of Mr. A. J. Patel, the Commissioner for India in East Africa.

The selection was that two of the Commissioner's staff, Mr. H. K. Pradhan and Mr. J. C. Hudson, were chosen to take the instrument down Mt. Den in Bombay to the top of the mountain.

On a climb of the mountain Mr. Pradhan and Mr. J. C. Hudson were accompanied by Mr. Harish Pandey who was organising a photographic expedition to the mountain. Mr. J. C. Hudson was also a member of the Royal Photographic Society. Mr. Pradhan and Mr. Shiv Chandra, who is only 18 years of age.

The youth team joined forces and their assault on Kilimanjaro started from the Marangu Hotel where arrangements for the climb were made.

Sickness claimed five

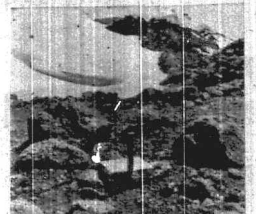

STARTING out on a Saturday, they reached Kibo Hut—the last one before the summit—the Monday. Unfortunately one of them succumbed to mountain sickness, and, in the darkness of Tuesday morning, at two o'clock, the remaining five set out, three doctors to reach the summit.

After half an hour mountain sickness claimed three more of the climbers, who had to return with one of the porters as guides. The remaining two—Mr. Nagai and Mr. Pradhan, went on, but only 100 yards from their objective, the latter fell sick and, in fact, had to return with a porter.

And so it fell to Mr. Nagai, with the one remaining porter, to finish the climb and carry out the wishes of Professor Dixit in fancying Bombay.

The instrument will remain on the mountain for 20 days, after which it will be collected by members of the Indian Youth League in Arabia, who are also carrying out a similar experiment for the professor on Mount Meru.

—that means Preformed WIRE ROPE!

The Blue Strand makes the difference. Ordinary wire rope is made by twisting about a number of wires into a strand. In some process being applied to the strands. It is then strung, to sleep in the water, but the strands are preformed as they are twisted, because there is no breaking stress. The wires are preformed as they take on the exact helical position that they will assume when they are twisted. Because of its preformed, it remains in its shape. Because of its preformed, it remains in its shape. Because of its preformed, it remains in its shape. Because of its preformed, it remains in its shape.
