The London Correspondent discusses:

A MERRY MOMENT IN PARLIAMENT. J.M. TAXES, AND INEXPENSIVE TELEVISION

OCCASIONALLY there are some odd moments in our House and one of them was seen in the House of Commons on the 16th of February.

Comedy relief in fateful defence debate

There is something very odd about the House of Commons on the 16th of February.

Another example of an odd moment in our House was seen in the House of Commons on the 16th of February. The House was discussing the defence budget and the speaker made a remark which was interpreted as a joke.

Mr. GATFIELD's allusion to the "comedian" effect of treatment of the defence budget was a humorous reference to the fact of the House of Commons being a debating chamber.

MERGER OF SOUTH AFRICAN MINES: WEST GERMANY AND PAYMENTS UNION

A MERGER of Rand Selection Trust and South African Townships seems a settled matter with Rand Selection's offer to acquire Townships on a basis of one Selection share for two Townships.

The offer is favourable to Townships holders as regards both to interest and to the fact that Rand Selection is a public company at more than twice the price of Townships and their dividend is four times as high.

Rand Selection's offer to maintain the dividend rate on its enlarged company and to increase the rate of Townships from 10 to 15 per cent is a very attractive one.

COMMUNISTS AT WORK
AMONG BRITISH STRIKERS

During the past few weeks a wave of industrial unrest has had a hampering effect on the British rearmament programme. This week comes news that railway workers are striking. Here Richard Denman gives a survey of the part Communist propaganda is playing in the actions of the strikers.

The general orientation, and the priority which is being assigned to Communist propaganda by British leaders, has not changed since the outbreak of the war. It has been great and significant changes in the character and composition of the Communist party of the United Kingdom since the end of the Second World War and the delivery and acceptance of the party's programme has seen the disappearance of the British party and was almost entirely obliterated by the new programme of the party.

At the time of the outbreak of the war, the party was a small and obscure group of individuals who were in general, and in particular, of the party's programme. The party's programme was to be a complete reorganisation of the party, and the party's programme was to be a complete reorganisation of the party.

Curious duality

The party's programme was to be a complete reorganisation of the party, and the party's programme was to be a complete reorganisation of the party. The party's programme was to be a complete reorganisation of the party, and the party's programme was to be a complete reorganisation of the party.

Railway's third hockey trophy of the season

THE hockey section of the Railway Club added to their successes for this season on Saturday when the Ladies' team beat the Commercial Knowledge Club in the Railway Cup.

The men's team, led by the captain, played the Commercial Knowledge Club in the Railway Cup for the Women's League.

NEW LEAGUE MAKES GOOD PROGRESS

African footballer will benefit most

The Commercial Football League, although attended by the inevitable footballing troupe, has seen some really solid and satisfactory progress made. Naturally the better-known European and Asian players taking part have been outstanding due to superior football sense.

But the most promising development is the improvement in the African standards of football as a result of playing in international teams.

The African speed and stamina are no greater football asset. A better understanding of the nature of the game, and good technical skill, are the factors which will make the African a useful member of any team.

The first week made it obvious that some of the better-known players were not so good as they were in their own countries.

Made a difference

But what really amazes us is the variety in South Africa. You can have all days in the sun at some part of the coast all the year round. The Atlantic - is very keen to have the cool sea water bathing as the Cape. It picks the warm waters of the Indian Ocean and then leads to the beauty of South Africa. So much for everyone. People here are so friendly and so happy you really feel at home. It was a great trip because it was a great trip. I'll be back all about it beforehand from the Bureau Office in Nairobi.

Differing views on Asiatics in Africa

STANDARD Correspondent
THE High Commissioner in London for the Union of South Africa, Dr. A. L. Govan, was "taken to task" at the London meeting of the Royal Empire Society over his reference to the infiltration of Asiatics into Eastern Africa.
In his address dealing with South African relations in the world scene, the High Commissioner had said "Colours" of "Black" Africa was huge areas in which, except for very small patches, the climate prevented the White man ever making a permanent home.
But the climate, he continued, does not exclude the Asiatic. "I fear there has been a steady increase from retrospective data," he said.

'Room for Indians'

In Asia, Australia, South Africa and Eastern Africa, and also in the West Indies, the South African Government, the High Commissioner said, had shown that the Asiatic race could be made to live in the same areas as the White man, and that the Asiatic race could be made to live in the same areas as the White man, and that the Asiatic race could be made to live in the same areas as the White man.

Extra problem

The High Commissioner said that the Asiatic race could be made to live in the same areas as the White man, and that the Asiatic race could be made to live in the same areas as the White man.

BRITAIN EARMARKS £143 MILLION FOR SINGLE YEAR'S STOCKPILING

STOCKPILING of strategic raw materials and food will cost Britain £143 million on top of the £1,090 million she is spending on defence this year. Civil estimates presented in Parliament show that, in addition, substantial sums will be spent on capital expenditure on defence contractors and factories.

Including such items, Britain's total armaments programme for the next three years will cost about £5,000 million. Defence does not enter into the national account for the year's total expenditure, but the figure is made up of the sum spent on stockpiling raw materials and food, which will be about £1,090 million, and the sum spent on the various services, which, at the present rate, will be about £4,000 million.

Civil Defence is up from £8 million in 1949 to £15 million this year. It is included in the total of £5,000 million.

FRANCE'S stockpile of strategic materials is up to 600,000 tons. The Government's expenditure on stockpiling is £1,000 million this year. The total stockpile of strategic materials is up to 600,000 tons. The Government's expenditure on stockpiling is £1,000 million this year.

BROWN TAKES HONOURS IN MELBOURNE TEST

Hassett alone saves Australian rout

ENGLAND did well after F. R. Brown had lost the test for the fourth time in the series, but restricted Australia's scoring to 40 for eight wickets in the fifth and final Test match at Melbourne yesterday.

To Brown, still limping as a result of injuries received in his car accident, went the chief Carlton honour in an inspired spell during the afternoon of cricket. The back of Australia, led by Harvey and Miller, all potential century-makers, were in a state of confusion without conceding a run.

Brown failed to get a batsman but took the wicket of Miller. Harvey's "vertical" delivery was part of the over as first after dinner and the first of the evening after tea.

IMPLICATIONS OF HIGHER PAY FOR RAILWAYMEN: THE COTTON SITUATION

Special cable to the "East African Standard"

THE full report of the International Cotton Advisory Committee which met in Lahore in the first half of last month showed that while pressure of demand on the stocks of raw cotton is still driving prices upward, the India estimated crop would end the cotton year in July with a carry-over slightly in excess of one million bales.

She was producing an additional 90,000 bales this season and would maintain production due to immigration from Uganda and the Sudan.

Other news had complaints of falling supplies available because of a shortage of the Chinese dollar in the China port about 200 million dollars for the Chinese dollar. The Chinese cotton supply is expected to be maintained and there is a possibility of expanding and raising a further 100,000 bales in the cotton year in 1955-56.

BRISTOL PROVIDE BIGGEST SHOCK OF F.A. CUP

Twenty second goal puts favourites out

BIRMINGHAM CITY OF Division II and Bristol Rovers of Division III (South) provided the shocks in the sixth round of the F.A. Cup, Birmingham reaching the semi-finals for the first time through their defeat of the favourites, Manchester United.

United Rovers, whose side lost only a matter of hundreds starting, led the multi-faceted and very costly Newcastle United to a goalless draw at St. James's Park and put up probably the best performance of the season—certainly the best little Bristol has recorded in days.

Line winners was a feature of the Cup ties for the first time since 1933. Manchester United, Liverpool and Newcastle, the three runners-up, all scored two or more goals.

A total of 209 goals were scored in the four rounds. Birmingham Rovers led the Division II group and finished the season as a team of 25 goals in 20 matches.

Not intimidated by the fact that the main body of the crowd had departed, Birmingham Rovers were more than ready to go on and score the first goal in the match at 19 minutes. The goal was scored by a player who had been playing for the club since 1933.
