ZAMBIAN LEADER SAYS GOODBYE

Quentin Kanyetta was at Elizabeth Airport yesterday morning when the President of Zambia, Dr. Kenneth Kaunda, left for Lusaka after his two-day visit to Europe where he opened the Agricultural Institute of Zambia's Harare Hotel. The two Presidents are seen tonight leaving a road near the terminal before Dr. Kaunda's flight to the plane.

(Stories — Page 17)

CAREFUL CONSIDERATION PLEASE!

Consider carefully whether you have the 2½ to spare. Carefully consider whether you want the 100,000/- on the First-class air seats to ANYWHERE on S.A. routes or any of the fine wonderful games on the Holiday Club Sweepstake in the Kanyetta Cup.

Using shortly, so make up your mind and buy a ticket TODAY

Dr. Kaunda's last official engagement before leaving was a visit to the Flying Doctor Service at Wilson Airport. He is pictured with Mr. Michael Wood, looking at one of the service's aircraft.

Left: Kenya's Attorney-General, Mr. Mwangi, asked the Zambian President to sign his certificate book before leaving. Dr. Kaunda readily agreed.

WORLD ON RECORD

reviews discs from overseas

THE latest of Sandie Shaw's records, Heaven Understood, makes one wonder why she has just been nominated Britain's best girl singer. Listening to this one from the new Sandie disc, I'm the last to say that she lacks the self-confidence of her best, and the melody — composed by Chris Andrews — is sweet and simple, but I doubt if it will make charts here.

The British of Speedy Motion by Peter Dinklage up to its amazing title. Here he comes across as an ace, and we are told that poor Poetry is made miserable because of his persistence.

Each verse of the song is told in poetry, the choruses are sung, and although there is a hole in the "You Two," it is a very nice way for those who enjoy comic songs.

Our only Time, sung by Them, is a rather unconvincing song. It has a very slow, slow, slow pace, and the vocal has little melody.

The unusual effect of the words goes the number from becoming meaningless and the recitation between the lead guitars and the vocal is excellent. A nice record for Them only.

On the other side there is another song, How Long Baby, which differs from the "Baby" in that the time is played on an organ.

On a more serious note, Neil Harrison sings Two. This is the humble reflection of a man looking at a tree and thinking what a wonderful creation it is.

I would have thought that for this song some whippersnapper harking would have been more appropriate than the hoarse jazz sound on the disc, but it is a cheerful song with some good instrumental work from the accompanying jazz band.

A Bob Dylan compilation is featured on the flip-side — The Basement.

One of the records here more meaning than the melody. Instead of Dylan's melody being related, with such a cheerful melody, the song becomes amusing.

Three beautiful imitations, The Ronettes, have some advice that they can sing on their own. The recording is excellent, the Falsetto Ronettes there are 15 tracks on this disc; 11 of them composed by Phil Spector — who discovered the group and produced it.

The remaining half of the Ray Charles record for World's Fair.

The Ronettes' Illegal song features the record with their first big hit, Be My Baby, and Chapel of Love as two of the main numbers. This LP, although a little old-fashioned, is well worth listening to.

JOHN MACINTYRE

discusses new African records

THE Madrid Williams comes up with a gentle, multi-toned piece in Alvino. This has been nominated Latin-tinged tune is really thought-provoking. Highly Sassy Lovers, a guitar solo starting in an over-the-top style, with the bass string, rising to higher-pitched chords.

The backing in Goodies of Africa, which comes from Shades of Blue, this is a good one. It has a Northern feel, but it is very sweet and a well-thought-out guitar solo. Good backing in the bass string, rising to higher-pitched chords, which is very much in the style.

A group very to me — the Clayton River — sing Madrid on Demand. This is a beautiful piece, and the melody is beautiful. It is an interesting piece, and the melody is beautiful. It is an interesting piece, and the melody is beautiful.

The John MacIntyre has a two-part introduction and a dramatic South African tenor, which is a very nice touch. It is a very nice touch, and the melody is beautiful.

THE BEAR WHO WANTED TO SEE

By SUSAN CARROLL

"LET me see! Let me see!" shouted Teddy Bear as he pushed his way into the front of the factory.

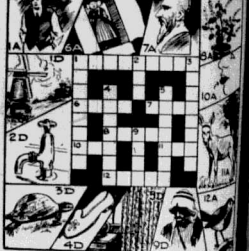

Teddy was a bear who always wanted to know what was happening because he was so busy that he could never get to the front of the line. When he reached the front, he would find that the machine had already started to make a sausage. He would have to wait until the sausage was made, and then he would have to wait until the sausage was made, and then he would have to wait until the sausage was made.

their families asked why they laughed children and all at the high. Teddy Bear always said he had to be in the front. He would have to wait until the sausage was made, and then he would have to wait until the sausage was made, and then he would have to wait until the sausage was made.

"This big machine is where the sausage begins," said the sausage maker. "The next goes in here and passes along this tube where it is covered in sausage skin. Now if you come with me, you will see the sausage coming out at the other end."

"Now let me see," he said in his gruff voice. "I think I will take six teeth and put big silver fillings in the others. Then my dentist, please, will be able to do it."

Teddy had the money to go away, but he knew there was nothing wrong with his teeth. They had been covered on just last week.

"Let me see! Let me see!" he shouted and with a last grog he said "I'll have the dentist look at my teeth."

"I'll remember how long it will be before Teddy goes looking for a dentist."

From today, new radiance in your make-up — lasting beauty for your skin!

Endocil presents Day-care

NEW 'UNDER MAKE-UP' MOISTURISING TREATMENT

Even everyday make-up looks better. Endocil's new Day-care is a daily-moisture, non-greasy cream which is delicately scented and suitable for all types of skin. Smooth it into your face and throat before you make-up, and in a few moments it vanishes, leaving an invisible soft protective film.

Now when you put on your make-up — what a difference! Make-up goes on more smoothly, looks more even and lasts longer. And this is a wonderful feature because the very first day you use Day-care, this is only the beginning!

Skin stays young. Unlike ordinary moisturisers, new Day-care does far more than just improve your make-up. It is a moisturising treatment which improves your skin naturally. The vital Endocil ingredient in Day-care penetrates deep into your skin, works day after day, gently stimulating your skin cells, causing them to go on producing the natural moisture that complexion of every age and type need. Beauty experts know that it is this natural moisture, and this alone, that can keep your skin young, soft and smooth.

There then, are the wonderful beauty benefits that new Day-care can give you every day!

TANZANIA TO GET PAPER FACTORY

Africanisation of the company was the main reason behind the Government's decision to acquire the factory, which has been in operation since 1952.

The Government has announced that it will acquire the factory, which has been in operation since 1952. The factory is one of the largest paper mills in East Africa and is currently producing 100,000 tons of paper annually.

YOU MIGHT THINK THAT UPLANDS FRANKFURTERS & RENAULT ROHOS ARE MILES APART. THEY ARE!

Precisely 1 mile 1073 yards 1 foot apart — as conclusively proved at the Nairobi Show. The secret — obligingly revealed by three lucky winners* — is that a ROHO van will carry as many as 20,400 frankfurters. Placed end to end, these would measure exactly 1 mile 1073 yards 1 foot. Remarkable! That's not all. On the basis of 42.22 m.p.g. the Renault ROHO would travel the length of 20,400 frankfurters consuming only 0.04 of a gallon of petrol. That means 535,012.4 frankfurters per gallon. Even more remarkable! The ROHO doesn't only accommodate sausages. It carries people and produce. Luggage and libraries. Salesmen's samples and sports gear. Anybody or anything. Anywhere. Any time it's called upon to do so.

No wonder everybody's looking twice at the remarkable

BUILDING DEVELOPMENT AROUND NAIROBI

Building teachers are now being put to the National Health and Homebody Training Institute of Nairobi to conduct for the first batch of students, expected about the middle of next month. The school picture (left) by an 'East African Standard' photographer shows the extensive buildings of the new U.M. Special Fund-Karee Government project. The institute will have accommodation for 160 students. The first number of African countries will be held there next month. Work on the ornamental arch (seen below), in front of Parliament Building, Nairobi, is progressing rapidly, and a light, in the shape of a multi-pointed star is now in place. Below it, workers are seen working on large steel blocks which are to feature in the construction.

Why elephants eat their way to death

SOMETHING like a state of emergency now exists for the elephants of Tsavo National Park, East Africa. What has happened is a combination of British mismanagement, the poachers and settlers brought in as part of British gamekeeping estate attitude, and a little relationship to Africa.

It must be remembered, however, that at the beginning of this period there was no such thing as scientific management anywhere in the world. The idea of a controllable natural resource, of primary importance on a multiple-use basis on all lands, had not been effectively developed.

At the time it had been shown that there were advantages in the use of the land, and that the land was being used in a way which was not in accordance with the natural order of things. The land was being used in a way which was not in accordance with the natural order of things. The land was being used in a way which was not in accordance with the natural order of things.

Mr. A. P. ACHENG, the Permanent Secretary of Natural Resources and Wildlife, explains the problem in Tsavo National Park in reply to recent questions raised in the Press on the subject

The problem of the elephants in Tsavo National Park is a complex one. It involves the interaction of several factors: the poaching industry, the settlement of the area, and the natural behavior of the elephants themselves. The poachers have been a major threat to the elephants, and the settlement of the area has led to a loss of their natural habitat. The elephants themselves are a highly intelligent and social species, and their behavior is often misunderstood.

Elephants in Tsavo National Park stand among a semi-desert area they have themselves created.

We've seen the new Peugeot 204—Have you?

I'M A RALLY DRIVER
I know one thing—if ever a car was designed for skidding around the corners, this is it. Look under the bonnet, look under the body, look at any part you like. You'll see why I'm driving a Peugeot 204.

I'M A SALESMAN
I've sold the new Peugeot 204 to more people than I have to travel a lot of hard miles. No one's regretful and fresh money to the business. I can't lose that, so I'm a Peugeot 204 man.

I'M A REPORTER
The car's novel. Quick off the mark, easy to drive, nimble in traffic. A car with real go—that has the power to stop. The experts tell me that its combination of front disc and rear drum brakes is the reason.

I'M A SHOPKEEPER
I look for value for money. In cars that's mostly a question of reliable free motoring and no-value. I know how well any Peugeot keeps its value. I've had one, so I'll take it any day now.

I'M A HOUSEWIFE
With children to drive to school, a husband to take to office and jobs of shopping. You've no idea what the Peugeot 204 means to me. My advice is—get your husband to go and look at a 204. He'll fall for it. You'll be glad the car you want.

I'M A DOCTOR
I choose my car with care. I have to! Apart from all the qualities that the new Peugeot implies, I found the 204 a new headlight system and driving visibility outstanding. One in 20 requires—often at night, this means a lot to me.

The new Peugeot 204 is on show at any branch of Marshalls—the Peugeot People. Don't take our word for it—see for yourself why this is the car for you!

'Ambitious' production praised

WHAT was probably the most ambitious production of the year's Kenya Drama Festival at Nairobi's National Theatre was high praise from the adjudicator, Mr. Peter Carpenter, when he summed up the festival's second group play.

The play was the British Play, 'The Ambitious', produced by a group of students of the Kenya Drama Festival. Mr. Carpenter said the production was original and the production and direction were of a high standard. He praised the production for its very much more to hold the attention of the audience than the performance of the play. He praised the production for its very much more to hold the attention of the audience than the performance of the play.

Producers criticised

Mr. Carpenter said he was impressed by the play's production and direction, but he criticised the producers for their failure to provide a suitable setting for the play. He said the production was a very good one, but it was a pity that the producers had not provided a suitable setting for the play.

BEHIND THE CURTAIN with Peter Macdonald

FOR years now people interested in the theatre in Kenya have been arguing the merits of having a director—or at least a dramatic director—for the Kenya National Theatre, but though there are some hopeful signs, we have made little visible progress in this direction.

Wage and Salary City Council's junior staff

City Council yesterday unanimously agreed to amend salary to its junior staff amounting to £20,000 annually. The amendment is to be introduced in January 1 this year by the Minister. The amendment is to be introduced in January 1 this year by the Minister.

The increase was recommended by the Finance Committee under the chairmanship of Mr. T. S. Numbira. The committee's minutes, which elaborated the approved recommendation, and which were read at the meeting, stated that the council had been prepared to revise salary that would have been proposed to the junior staff in June.

It had made proposals to the Senior African Staff Association, which was representing the junior staff, and which, in those terms, but the association was not in June.

It was decided to increase salaries immediately and backdate the award to January 1, 1961, subject to the approval by the Minister for Local Government on the question of the backdating.

The cost of the increase was approximately £20,000 a year. This would be in addition to the £100,000 already provided for in the budget for 1961.

It was stated that the increase announced yesterday would affect employees on salaries of £200 and upwards. It was also stated that the increase would be applied to the salaries of the junior staff.

LYING TO RHODESIA

Attempt to reopen negotiations

THE British Prime Minister, Mr. Wilson, and the Commonwealth Secretary, Mr. Botswana, plan to fly to Rhodesia either on Sunday or Monday in a new attempt to stop the Rhodesia Government from seeking independence illegally. They will probably say three for most of the week.

The principal reason for the visit is to try to establish a climate in which negotiations could continue. After Mr. Wilson's return Mr. Botswana could stay on in Rhodesia, or another Minister could be flown out.

Mr. Wilson was now waiting to see if Mr. Smith would be ready to meet. These would possibly include the former Rhodesia Prime Minister, Mr. Garfield Todd, who has been placed under restriction at his farm.

In a letter answering Mr. Smith's appeal to grant his independence, Mr. Wilson said: "Need we go on bandying arguments as men's length when the future of so many ordinary people is at issue?"

Premier's latest letter to Salisbury

The following is a text of the British Prime Minister's letter to the Rhodesian Premier, Mr. Smith.

I have received your personal copy of O'Connell's 1958 High Commission report on your statement to the important committee.

I am sure you should be aware that the report is a difficult piece of work and that the British Government and Parliament of the United Kingdom are not bound to accept its findings.

It is my hope that you will be able to find a way to work together in a spirit of mutual respect and understanding.

Personal talks necessary

After having announced his intention to fly to Salisbury, Mr. Wilson said: "I shall naturally expect to have an opportunity of meeting anyone whose views I feel relevant to a solution of this great problem."

The proposal for a treaty guaranteeing advancement of the African majority in Rhodesia, might meet with success in the context of a general agreement.

Mr. Wilson said that he had been assured that such a treaty could be settled by long-range correspondence, but he was not satisfied that this was the best way to proceed.

KASHMIR PEACE 'IS FAR AWAY'

THE Prime Minister of India, Mr. Lal Bahadur Shastri, has said in a letter published in New Delhi that he still fears a real and effective cease-fire with Pakistan is far away.

The Prime Minister said that he had received a message from the U.S. Secretary of State, Mr. Dean Rusk, on Tuesday, in which Mr. Rusk had said that the United States was still of the opinion that a real and effective cease-fire with Pakistan is far away.

Samburu begin to accept a modern way of life

PEVING across the scrub-covered plateau of Kenya's Eastern Province, all you see is a mass of the traditional huts for which the occasional glint of a tin roof is the only evidence of modern life. You cannot see the brown-roofed mansions except for the tops of their chimneys.

RURRY OF ORDERS ON OPENING DAY

LONDON (AP) - A bumper crop of orders was reported at the opening of the London Motor Show on Monday, as a flurry of orders worth millions of pounds were reported.

First of all, orders worth £7,000,000 and other major manufacturers were awaiting requests for hundreds of cars, which will come down the show, which will run from October 24 to November 1.

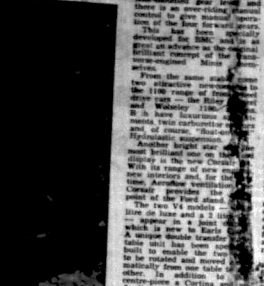

At the Motor Show, the British Motor Industry is set to receive the largest of the world's leading exhibitors.

At the East African Motor Show, the British Motor Industry is set to receive the largest of the world's leading exhibitors.

MODELS OF YESTERDAY - AND FOR TOMORROW

THIS year's London Motor Show, the 20th anniversary of the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders and the 10th anniversary of the jubilee of the dawn of the 20th century.

Of the 10 or so manufacturers, only a handful had anything to show 20 years ago. Now there is something for everyone - and for every pocket - the new Austin 1100, the new Rover 1000, the new Rover 1500, the new Rover 2000, the new Rover 2500, the new Rover 3000, the new Rover 3500, the new Rover 4000, the new Rover 4500, the new Rover 5000, the new Rover 5500, the new Rover 6000, the new Rover 6500, the new Rover 7000, the new Rover 7500, the new Rover 8000, the new Rover 8500, the new Rover 9000, the new Rover 9500, the new Rover 10000.

THEN AND NOW - More than 60 years separate these two London Motor Shows. The vintage carriages on the left were on view at the first exhibition of the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders at Crystal Palace; the picture on the right shows the Earls Court exhibition as it is today.

providing models. This show will be remembered as the year that the club disappeared from the scene.

A large concrete road is being laid in the area of the show. It is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The road will be used for the show and for the transport of the cars.

The new Austin 1100 is a four-cylinder car with a 1100 cc engine. It is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The road will be used for the show and for the transport of the cars.

THREE NEW SALOONS

Above: The new Triumph 1300 saloon - a small car with the history and quality features of the Triumph 2000. It is the Coventry firm's first front-wheel drive saloon. A new engine of 1300 c.c. gives it a speed of 55 m.p.h.

Left: Ford's new V6 Corsair, which it is estimated should be away for servicing for only half a day a year. In addition to a new engine, the Corsair has a self-adjusting device and clutch.

Below: The "hatback" gives the new VW 1000 TL a sporty appearance, large interior space, generous headroom above the rear seats and a rear luggage compartment.

TANZANIA BOAT RACE TREAT

This is only a Coast XI, says manager

TANZANIA's football team last night refused to play the second of the Kenyatta Day matches scheduled to be played under floodlights at the national stadium, Nairobi, tonight, if the Kenya team permitted its registration by the national team from

The Tanzanians claim that the Kenyan players who were taken to Dar es Salaam and Tanga last night were not the same players who were taken to the Tanzania team. Kenya was the game and manager so they had arranged the 2-2 before they suffered defeat. Tanzania in the recent game.

Mr. N. S. Mariani, the secretary of the Tanzania Football Association and manager of the side at present, said last night pointed out that the Kenyan players were in the stadium and that the team was only a Coast XI, which was not a national team, and that Kenya's manager had arranged to play the match under floodlights at the national stadium.

'Government matter'

In view of Mr. Mariani's threat the Football Association of Kenya expressed its regret that it might need an emergency meeting to discuss the matter. "We have no comment to make," he said.

Mr. Don Ashford, the secretary of the Kenya Football Federation, said that the question of whether the match should be played or not was a matter for the Kenya Football Federation to decide. He said that the Kenya Football Federation had a meeting on the subject and that the decision was left to the Kenya Football Federation.

Impala win K.W.H.A. top league

With a match still to be played, Impala are already assuming the position of Kenya Football Federation Division I champions. The Impala Football Club have won the championship for the first time since 1954.

AT LAST! FISHING SEASON STARTS

The sea is calm, the sun is shining - some of the time - and the fish are there. That is the news from the Coast this week. After a long spell of rather dull, rainy weather when few boats put out and those that did had little luck, the news now is that the fishing season has started.

There are not nearly so many boats out as there were last week and this has got the light on the fish. The fish are not nearly so many as there were last week and this has got the light on the fish. The fish are not nearly so many as there were last week and this has got the light on the fish.
