Kenya policy not to be changed

Kenya policy not to be changed

STANDARD STAFF REPORTER LONDON

The retiring Governor of Kenya, Sir Hugh Nelson, was delayed leaving London last night for Nairobi. Pressures had to disambiguate from their Counsel when Governor Nelson held up the State. The delay was expected to be at least two hours. Earlier the Colonial Office refused that the change of policy in any way meant a change of policy on Kenya.

This was an oblique reference to reports of an acceleration towards independence after the elections. A spokesman said that the Colonial Office was quite simply carrying out "as quickly as possible" the spirit and terms of the Lancaster House agreement from which there would be no deviating.

The spokesman added: "We are not offering any statement on the constitutional discussions between the Secretary of State and the Governor. Sir Patrick will submit his final report to his Council of Ministers."

Questioned on an election date, the spokesman said that it was wrong to isolate the election from the overall constitutional operation.

"Holding an election is an integral part of the agreed process leading to a Kenya conference," he said.

Informal sources in London have revealed that Mr. Sandys, Secretary of State for the Colonies, had returned to Kenya last month at the instigation of the then Sir Patrick when the change-over would have been effected. The report was that Sir Patrick is reported to have indicated to Mr. Sandys that he would be pleased to be advanced before the end of the month by the arrival of Mr. Sandys.

News follows mass evacuation in Assam

The Government announced in Peking early today that its troops would come fire along the entire Sino-Indian border from midnight. The dramatic statement said this meant Chinese forces would be withdrawn from the McMahon Line on the eastern sector of the border from their present positions on the remaining sectors of the 2,000-mile Himalayan boundary.

A Government statement issued to foreign correspondents said: "Beginning from December 31, Chinese frontier guards will withdraw to lines of actual control which are situated behind China and India on November 7, 1959."

The news broke as thousands of people were leaving the town of Tezpur in Assam as Chinese troops in their massive offensive nearest a village less than 50 miles away. Meanwhile, the first British women and children to be evacuated from Assam arrived in Calcutta by air from Tezpur. They are dependents of managers and assistant managers of tea estates.

The Indian Premier, Mr. Nehru, told Parliament yesterday that the Chinese advance was being "obstructed and checked". They had advanced a few miles beyond Bomdila, the key administrative town north of Tezpur which fell on Monday.

Refugees cross river

Defensive positions are being prepared in front of them and our troops will give them battle there," Mr. Nehru added. The Times of London reported that the fall of Bomdila and the S. L. Pao stronghold as a staggering military setback.

Throughout Monday night people from Tezpur crossed the nearby Brahmaputra River to the safe southern bank. The Chinese objective appeared to be to occupy the river as a natural defence line against Indian counter-attacks.

An Indian Defence Ministry spokesman said that whether there was still contact with the Chinese lines cut off behind the Chinese line in front of Bomdila and the S. L. Pao stronghold. Mr. Nehru announced yesterday that the Government would send a mission to India immediately to investigate the situation. Ex-Minister leads Assembly walk-out

CRISIS IN SOMALIA POWER STRUGGLE

THE Somali Republic is faced with a new political constitutional crisis—perhaps the most serious since it gained independence two years ago.

Thirty Deputies in the National Assembly, led by the former Minister of Education, Mr. Ali, walked out during a debate on Monday morning on a Government motion calling for a vote of confidence. The motion was approved by the other 70 Deputies. Joining to the Somali Youth League and the United Somali Party, but it is contended that the challenge to the Prime Minister, Dr. Shermarke, and his supporters is the most significant that has occurred in weeks of political jockeying.

Observers in Mogadishu believe that the walk-out is for power—primarily between Dr. Shermarke and the former Minister of Education, Mr. Ali. The Somali League and the United Somali Party are also believed to be involved in the power struggle.

Some uneasiness. It is not known if Dr. Shermarke is entertained ambitions, but he has certainly shown a certain uneasiness has been expressed by some members of the National League. The National League was formed by what was originally a National Government—now the proponent of one of its supporters. Dr. Shermarke is the proponent of an ominous sign in the ranks of the major party, the Somali Youth League.

Chaos if dairy controls go says board chairman

REMOVAL of controls in the dairy industry would lead to chaos and the collapse of the price structure on which the industry is founded, the chairman of the Kenya Dairy Board, Mr. P. S. Stephen, says in his annual report.

Control of production and sales was still considered as necessary or unfair to the benefit of producers. This point of view, however, was shared by the industry, as represented by the members of the Executive Committee, built up the largest dairying business in the country by voluntary controls to which members of a co-operative society were all subject.

The dairy industry was to be controlled by a national committee, which in the past, provided early and in the public interest.

Stephen pointed out that the industry already had a national committee, which in the past, provided early and in the public interest.

Goodbye to blades with the new Ronson razor!

The new Ronson 300 means that, for the first time ever, you can shave clean as with a barber's open razor—electrically. Don't take our word for it, try it for yourself! Visit a Ronson stockist after you've had your usual morning shave... and tell him you want to try the new 300. Know the handle? You'll hear the crackle as the electric blades of the Ronson Cutter attack your beard (the beard that your first shave left behind), then you'll hear the quiet hum which tells you that your face is shaved. Now look inside the 300 and see what your second shave has taken off. Had there something else new. The Micro-Cutter and the micro-thin shavers that can now be replaced at home... in seconds. Just dip out the old blades in the new without ever missing a shave.

There's a new 21, too—smaller, economy version of the 300, which also has a replaceable Micro-Cutter and foil.

With Super Trim for perfect grooming, the 300 is a revolution in electric shaving. It's also the perfect gift idea for any man who wants a glowing complexion every morning of the year!

Some punters see sense

NOT all pool punters are blinded by the occasional huge dividends paid on the treble chance, which, after all, is a most difficult pool to win unless there is a glut of draws. I was reminded of this a couple of weeks ago when I received a letter from a Nairobi reader whose pet hobby is trying to win the points pool. So I intend giving a series of systems for the points pool starting today with a two-way forecast plan. The entry is built up by computing two-way bets blocks, each covering six games.

Meru's late

Meru was elected from hand over by B.C. and elders' designation, led by Bernard Mate, told the N.F.D. Commission yesterday.

Speaking at the Commission's first session in Nairobi, when several people, both from the Meru and from the N.F.D., were present, Mr. Mate said that the Meru's main objection to the Northern Province seceding from Kenya and joining Somalia was that the province should be incorporated in the new Constitution which was then being framed.

With the arrival of the Friendships, the East African internal air service enters the jet age. This high-wing, pressurized, turbo-prop aircraft is an extensive view throughout the world. Its robust airframe, powered by Rolls-Royce Dart engines makes it particularly suitable for East African conditions. Flying high above the weather will make its quiet

During the past few days the Press, radio and television have all featured the new jet-prop aircraft that arrived in East Africa recently, the first of the Friendships for service with East African Airways.

Hitherto East African Airways' fleet of aircraft for internal and regional services has consisted of Canadairs and DC3s or Dakotas. In order to keep East Africa's air communications abreast with world wide aviation progress, our National airline has decided that the time has now come for part of the existing fleet to be replaced by more modern and faster aircraft.

The first of the new aircraft chosen as replacements by East African Airways, after a thorough technical study — the Friendship — arrived at Naitabbi Airport on November 5, the second on November 12 and one more will arrive in East Africa before the end of this year; the fourth during 1963.

OWN RESOURCES

To purchase an aircraft is a costly undertaking and the outlay initially required to be provided by Barclays Bank D.C.O. under joint guarantee from the Governments of Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda. However, the DCA still net the world's most

Among other speakers in the debate, who warmly supported the Motion, were Air Commodore Howard Williams, Mr. Pandya and the Minister for Labour, Mr. Mboya.

... CORPORATION TO BE COMPLIMENTED" — Mr. Mboya

"I think it is fitting," Mr. Mboya remarked during the debate, "to take the opportunity to compliment East African Airways Corporation on the manner in which they have run the Corporation. In many parts of the world today, airlines are being heavily subsidised, even to the point where they are making money at all. East African Airways stand out exploit these facilities to the economic advantage of the territories themselves. These outstanding results could not have been obtained but for the magnificent support given by the East African public to its National Airline. This happy relationship between the airline and the peoples it serves demonstrates to the rest of the world the East African public's not only the potential, but also the formula for a successful future among the newly independent nations in the years that lie ahead.

THE ECONOMY.

Two distinct advantages are evident when one considers the nature of the benefits East African Airways provides for the peoples of East Africa as their national airline. In the first place, the revenue earned from the carriage of passengers and cargo on international services into and out of East Africa enables money to be kept here to assist in providing employment for East Africans, an important factor contributing to the economic stability of the country. In the second place, revenue earned from the inter-national services has enabled the Corporation to meet the costs of maintaining an extensive network of domestic services, some of which do not pay their way.

NATIONAL AIRLINE

In the world today almost every emergent State has considered it necessary to have its own national airline, to carry its flag far and wide abroad, however low the traffic offering and however high the losses incurred. In many instances the rather nebulous "prestige" that is considered to bring it cannot only at disproportionate cost to the slim economies of the countries concerned. But E.A.A. is an international airline in more than the usual sense, sponsored as it is by the Governments of Tanganyika, Kenya, Uganda and Zanzibar and existing specifically to serve the economies of these countries in the best way that is economically possible. It is an essential part of the world today, making underwriting

QUADRIPARTITE

It is hoped that E.A.A. will continue in its present, quite judicious form as a quadripartite "flag carrier" contributing to the prestige abroad of its owner countries and at the same time bringing into it a real economic dividend for a growing State. It is an essential part of the world today, making underwriting

The first of the E.A.A. Friendships which will be operating from the end of January, 1963, on East African Airways' internal and regional routes, about to take off at Amsterdam.

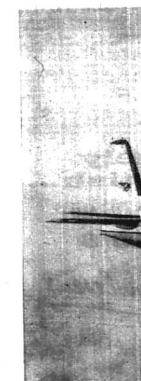

EAST AFRICAN GOVERNMENTS GUARANTEE TEMPORARY LOAN

How East African Airways serve as the national Airline of each of the four countries in East Africa was clearly shown during the debate in the Legislative Council in Nairobi on October 31.

The Kenya Government announced that the Government of Uganda and Tanganyika had already indicated their willingness to enter into an agreement to guarantee a proportionate part of the temporary loan to be made by Barclays Bank D.C.O. before the submission of the motion in the Legislative Council to approve the Kenya Government's proposal.

highly even more attractive, while on the shorter sectors its continuing construction will enable passengers to enjoy the speed of the Friendship. The purchase of the Friendship follows E.A.A.'s policy of operating aircraft types which have proved their capabilities thus avoiding the expensive business of dealing with the "teething troubles" in this connection. It is appreciated that the motion of the DCA which gives, and will continue to give, valuable service in East Africa. While new aircraft continue to come into operation throughout the world, the DCA still net the world's most business and versatile aircraft; there are more DC3s flying today in suburban airfields operations than any other type. The Friendship enters the scene at a time of political change and economic difficulties. Nevertheless, the internal air traffic continues to expand and the Corporation is confident that these new aircraft will further assist the steady growth of the DCA.

It is perhaps worthy of note that despite ever-increasing costs the very effective Corporation has not increased its internal air fares since 1951. Instead, it has been steadily reducing the cost of air travel by increasing the scope of its Domestic and Holiday Excursions.

LECCO APPROVAL. The question of the Kenya Government's participation in guaranteeing this undertaking was debated in the Legislative Council on October 31 of this year, when the Parliamentary Secretary for Works and Communications, Mr. Okumu, concluded his address to the Government's proposal by saying: "It is my confidence that the House will wish to take this opportunity of joining with me in extending thanks to the International Air Corporation for its foresight in the purchasing of new and up-to-date aircraft for the transportation of its fleets. I am sure that the Hon. Members will wish the Corporation to continue with its success in the future."

Helping East Africa's economy

East African Airways is among comparatively few airlines in the world today which have not had to ask the Government for financial assistance. Profits have been made in each of the last eight years. This has been achieved despite substantial increases in operating costs and it is even more encouraging when it is remembered that E.A.A. have increased their fares since 1959 and have introduced many

SPEED AND SAFETY IN NEW FRIENDSHIP

GREATER comfort and faster flights—in a nutshell, these are the twin advantages of the Fokker Friendship, the world's first turbo-prop aircraft which will gradually replace Catalinas and Dakotas on East African Airways' internal and regional routes.

Two Friendships have already arrived, one will fly in to Embakasi towards the end of the month, and another is due next year. They still form the original four-engine fleet of Friendship flights by E.A.A. from the Stuart Fisher company at a cost of some £20,000.

Developing since that announcement, the new aircraft is believed to offer a number of advantages over the Catalina and Dakota. It is lighter, has a greater range, and is more economical in fuel consumption.

Since it is the only aircraft with a turbo-prop engine, it is believed to be more economical in fuel consumption than the Catalina and Dakota. It is lighter, has a greater range, and is more economical in fuel consumption.

Sir Alfred Vincent, Chairman of East African Airways, greets Capt. T. Dorman, Capt. L. Staring and Capt. P. Shaw as the airlin's first new Fokker Friendship arrives at Embakasi after a two-day flight from Amsterdam.

MADE IN BRITAIN

Britain who consider that E.A.A. should have bought British aircraft are surprised by the fact that apart from the Dart engine made in Derby, the Friendship is entirely made in Britain.

The Friendship will not be used for the same routes as the Catalina and Dakota. It is believed to be more economical in fuel consumption than the Catalina and Dakota. It is lighter, has a greater range, and is more economical in fuel consumption.

CHEAPER, FASTER FLIGHTS

One of the reasons why the Friendship will be more economical than the Catalina and Dakota is that it is a turbo-prop aircraft. This means that it can fly at a lower altitude and at a higher speed than the Catalina and Dakota. It is lighter, has a greater range, and is more economical in fuel consumption.

E.A. PILOTS UNANIMOUS IN PRAISE OF NEW AIRLINER

TAKE the pilot's word for it... the Fokker Friendship is a fine aircraft and a joy to fly in all the East African Airways captain's who have been transferred from Dakotas and Comets to the new aircraft are unanimous in their praise of it.

Most of the pilots—and many ground engineers, too—have been to Amsterdam and Brussels destined for E.A.A. are being flown from London to Nairobi by the men who will pilot them here.

The unannounced arrival of seven Fokker Friendship aircraft, some thousands of flight hours each, has been greeted as the first Friendship fleet.

They are led by Capt. Peter Compton, the chief pilot of the D.C.S. fleet, who was cited in The 1942 New Year's Honours. When he received the Queen's Commendation for his work during the straits of Congo.

Capt. Compton, a pilot for 21 years, last year finished second place out of 128 candidates in the Aviator Membership examinations of the Institute of Transport. At the age of 46 he has been approximately 2,500 flying hours in thirty different types of aircraft.

FLEW BOMBERS
Another type of long standing is Capt. Law Atkinson, who has flown with E.A.A. for the past 12 years. He served throughout the war as a bomber pilot with the Aircraft Operating Company of Johannesburg.

In 1940 he came up to Nairobi to start an ambulance company and in 1942 moved to Tanganyika, where he conducted aerial surveys and served as a pilot for 1 1/2 years before being recalled to the East African Airways base at Embakasi.

Capt. George Atkinson has 21 years' experience in E.A.A. and is especially noted in the air-landing list. Capt. Philip Shaw, seven years with the company, has flown 5,000 hours, mainly on Dakotas. He was on D.C.S. with the South African Air Force in the Middle East and in the South African civil company in South Africa and Newfoundland.

One of the longest-serving pilots in the E.A.A. is Capt. Terrence "Cherry" Pavey, who has been with the company as a radio officer in 1942 and went

Technical details

FOR the technically minded, the Fokker F.V. Friendship is an all-metal, high-wing monoplane with a fully cantilever wing and semi-monocoque fuselage. Power is provided by two Pratt & Whitney Dart turboprop engines equipped with fixed, constant speed, fully feathering propellers. It has a wing span of 34ft. 2in., a length of 27ft. 2in. and its height is 27ft. 11in. Most of the functional units on the aircraft are of British design and manufacture. Its cruising speed at 20,000ft. is 300 m.p.h.

Dakota bows to progress

THE D.C.S. Dakotas will go down in aviation history as the most successful aircraft ever built. War and peace, the stubby "Dak" has reached into every corner of the world and every schoolboy can tell its familiar silhouette at a glance. Considering the millions of flying hours logged by thousands of Dakotas since they came out in the 1930s, their safety factor has been amazing.

1,500 FLYING
Even today, in the jet age, D.C.S. is still the most other single type of aircraft that flies. There are more than 1,500 in regular operation.
All pilots agree that the Fokker Friendship gives modern conditions—but many will feel that the D.C.S. is on its way out. One thing is true, however—it will be many years yet before the Dakota disappears forever from the skies.

Lucas fuel control units, fuel pumps and combustion equipment are fitted into the Fokker Friendship's Pratt & Whitney power plants. Rotax alternators and control equipment which are manufactured by the Lucas Group are used in the Fokker Friendship's electrical system.

INDIA HALTS ASSAM ADVANCE

India doubts motives for cease-fire

CHINESE troops halted their advance down the Assam Plains several hours before the cease-fire deadline, it was reported late last night.

The ceasefire was due to become effective at 7 p.m. East African time, but a Defence Ministry spokesman in New Delhi refused to say whether Indian forces would obey it.

Earlier yesterday Chinese troops were sighted at several points along the frontier and the Indians were said to have evacuated almost completely the key town of Tropic in Assam.

We must watch - Premier

Official confirmation of the Chinese ceasefire proposals was received in New Delhi last night. The Indian Premier, Mr. Nehru, said Parliament earlier that the Government would have to watch how China gave effect to her pledge.

Mr. Nehru, he added, adhered to the position that the border situation prior to September 8 should be restored, and he did not propose to consider negotiations until this had been done. The news agency Press Trust of India, in a statement, said that the Chinese ceasefire announcement appeared to be a genuine one.

"The Chinese have advanced two Indian territories and a few kilometers in their advance, they were sighted at several points along the frontier and the Indians were said to have evacuated almost completely the key town of Tropic in Assam."

Russia ends forces' state of readiness

RUSSIA yesterday about down forces alerted at the 14 lines of the Cuba crisis, following President Kennedy's decision to lift the blockade of the island, it was announced in Moscow.

The announcement from the Soviet news agency Tass and Moscow Radio, said similar measures taken by the armed forces of the Warsaw Pact Powers had also been cancelled.

Earlier, Moscow Radio had announced the US decision and the withdrawal of Soviet ICBM bombers from Cuba, without comment. The later announcement said there had been no relaxation of tension.

President Kennedy told the American people that Mr. Khrushchev had agreed to remove all the ICBM missiles and to permit the US to inspect and control the missile sites.

In announcing this new step in the solution of the Cuban crisis, the President said: "It is our hope that this step will lead to a permanent settlement of the Cuban crisis and to a lasting peace in the Western Hemisphere."

GOVERNOR CHANGE 'NOT MY CHOICE'

Sir Patrick Renshaw, who returned from Nairobi yesterday, pictured at Nairobi Airport, surrounded by Ministers and speaking to members of the Press. On the left is the Deputy Governor, Sir Eric Griffith-Jones.

WITHIN a few minutes of his return to Nairobi yesterday the Governor of Kenya, Sir Patrick Renshaw, made it plain that, in his own words, "the change of governorship was not my choosing."

"I do not want to say to the people I have been working in Kenya, particularly to the elected leaders at the airport, Sir Patrick said, "I do not want to say anything to the Secretary of State's statement or to comment on it."

Through to independence

"I know all the difficulties and the dangers which Kenya is facing and is going to face, but I very much wished myself to have seen it through to independence," Sir Patrick said.

He said that he had been working in Kenya for 15 years and that he had seen the country through to independence.

Friendly smile

As he climbed across the tarmac to the airport reception in Nairobi, Sir Patrick Renshaw greeted the press with his wife. He looked friendly and smiling.

He said that he was pleased to be back in Kenya and that he was looking forward to his new appointment as Governor.

THE NEW FORDSON SUPER MAJOR
 The world's most popular Diesel Tractor—equipped with Hydraulic Draft and Position Control
 This is Ford's biggest, toughest tractor; the new Fordson SUPER MAJOR. For heavy duty, any day, the Super Major will meet your needs with economy and efficiency. This is why:
POWER: The Super Major has Ford's famous 4-cylinder, 54-brake-horsepower diesel engine. Farmers and industrial users around the world prize its power and dependability.
SIMPLICITY: Only one lever is needed to operate the new Hydraulic Draft and Position Control system.
VERSATILITY: You get full use of your existing 3-point-linkage attached implements with the new, more flexible hydraulic draft and position control.
TRACTION: Work performance that is entirely new. The new hydraulic system automatically transfers implement weight to the tractor drive wheels. The more pull in those tough spots in the field, the more transmission differential lock keeps tractor and implement moving through the roughest land, melting other wheeled tractors have stopped.
ECONOMY: The Super Major is the lowest priced diesel tractor in its class. It is famous for economical performance under all conditions. Fuel consumption and tire wear are reduced by improved traction.
SAFETY: New Super Major dies brakes give increased stopping power, added safety.
EXPERIENCE: The Super Major is also made in England by the Ford Motor Company, Ltd., who also make the 55-hp-beanpower Dexta Diesel, the "Marathon's extra right hand." Ford has pioneered farm tractor performance for almost 50 years.
SERVICE: All Fordson tractors are backed by the world's best on-the-field Ford service.
 See us for a no-cost, no-obligation demonstration on your farm or site.

First hurdles overcome

THE Kenya boxer Philip Waringo (Nakuru) began his attempt to win a gold medal at the British Empire and Commonwealth Games with a points win over Uganda's J. Wandera in the fly-weight class.

Both boxers had nothing back and traded punches almost non-stop for the three rounds, but the Kenyan just had the edge and won the unanimous decision of the five judges.

Waringo is in a class with only one other. He is reported by the team commander, Mr. Marcel Brunner, to be in perfect condition and has improved considerably. At last month's Uganda's J. Wandera had a good points win over P. Fitzmaurice (Northern Ireland) and C. Okeke had a points win over Canada's M. McMillan in the lightweight section.

A narrow verdict, one voted for the Kenyan and the other thought the fight was a draw. In the end, it was the Kenyan who won the fight. He was the better boxer throughout the fight. He was the better boxer throughout the fight. He was the better boxer throughout the fight.

Kept even

But in the previous round, the Kenyan was unable to land his punches. He was kept even by the Ugandan, who had a points win over P. Fitzmaurice (Northern Ireland) and C. Okeke had a points win over Canada's M. McMillan in the lightweight section.

M.C.C. bowlers fail to take chance

STATHAM, TRUMAN MISSED

BY LESLIE SMITH, Flora's Special Correspondent

M.C.C. bowlers found a pitch which helped them to a change, but failed to make the best use of it on the first day of their match against Queensland in Brisbane yesterday. Queensland scored 122 for two in 100 minutes after a start was delayed until mid-afternoon because of heavy overnight rain and morning showers.

SCOREBOARD

Queensland: 122 for two in 100 minutes. Statham, Truman missed.

DEPT. 1, GOVERNMENT ROAD, MANROBE (aka at Mombasa, Kampala and Dar es Salaam)

The Governor of Kenya, Sir Patrick Bannan, presiding at a reception at Government House on Saturday, December 14, 1961, in the presence of the Governor's wife and other guests. (Photographer reports and further pictures — Page 5)

WARNING BY BRITISH EXPERT THAT MR. NEHRU IGNORED

UNDER your heading "Report from India," Mr. Nagai writes that the fate of the free world is quite safe in the able hands of that great leader Mr. Nehru. There is no doubt Mr. Nehru is a great leader but whether he will make the grade remains to be seen.

He has only recently waned from the soft sympathy of the masses and those who support him. He has knowledge and a sense of democracy, but lacks the ability to lead the masses to the world that is to come.

Mr. Nehru should have seen the writing on the wall before he made the blunder of "democracy" and "freedom" in the name of "democracy" and "freedom." He always relies on his hand-picked men and women to take the advice of his "experts" on their subjects.

For example, the election representative of the Indian Government in China was an Englishman by the name of Richardson, who was addressed to be an authority on "China" and "China." He continually warned the Indian Government against recognizing Chinese sovereignty over Tibet but Mr. Nehru did not heed the idea of taking advice from an Englishman on Asian matters. Richardson was replaced by an Indian and the investment of the Indian Government in the Chinese territory to the Indian Government. Even the Indian

Readers letters on India's policy

Ambedkar is being eager to know about the invasion when he heard the news on All-India Radio.

The British, who ruled India for nearly 200 years, had some reason to leave India as a better State. Mr. Nehru has often quoted Lenin in his writings, but he seems to have completely ignored Lenin's views on the Communist Party and the road to India's independence.

Opposition leaders like Krishna Rao and Rajagopalachari have been warning Mr. Nehru since the beginning of his rule in India. He has not listened to their advice. He has not listened to the advice of his "experts" on their subjects.

For example, the election representative of the Indian Government in China was an Englishman by the name of Richardson, who was addressed to be an authority on "China" and "China." He continually warned the Indian Government against recognizing Chinese sovereignty over Tibet but Mr. Nehru did not heed the idea of taking advice from an Englishman on Asian matters. Richardson was replaced by an Indian and the investment of the Indian Government in the Chinese territory to the Indian Government. Even the Indian which is worse than that in the British India. The Sikhs and the Hindus are struggling for their separate homelands. Why? Because they are not getting fair and just treatment from the Hindu Government, who are in the majority in the Government.

India and Bahadur claim to be a free State, but to please the British, Canada gave them a separate State (Pakistan) after 1947. This was the result of the British Government's strength of the causes of Indian independence. The British Government, who were the main support of the Indian Government, were the main support of the Indian Government.

Now we come to the last paragraph. The African Government, who will continue to swim with the waves, will not swim with the waves. The Indian Government, who will not swim with the waves, will not swim with the waves. The Indian Government, who will not swim with the waves, will not swim with the waves.

Mr. Nehru is a great leader but whether he will make the grade remains to be seen.

Call for unity

I NOTE the words of your correspondent, Mrs. May Matheson: "If the British had not been administered India, in the old days, this free world would never have been born." Kashmir is the only territory that was not given to the British and all would have been happy and "monogamous."

What emerges out of these words, but what is not expressed, is the assumption that under those happy conditions Pakistan would have remained united to the rest of India of the new united British rule. This is the result of the British rule.

If British and Hindu lived happily in the united India, I fail to understand why division became necessary and why they could not find a suitable solution, on which India could remain united on and after independence. It is a pity that to say that even British and Hindu lived happily in a national spirit of national unity for Mother India.

I think India will not, and cannot maintain its honor and prestige in the face of the world. It is a pity that to say that even British and Hindu lived happily in a national spirit of national unity for Mother India.

Attends Government House ceremony

Many men and women of all races received Royal recognition for their services within the Commission for the Independence of Kenya and Government House, Nairobi, at a presentation of honours and medals from the South Nyanza District Officer, Mr. Edward Brown, the Resident Commissioner and the Governor, Sir Robert Scott, at the Government House ceremony. Mr. Brown, acting Resident Commissioner, the Queen's Commissioned Officer, Mr. Brown, presented a number of honours.

The citation said that in May 1965, armed Kisii and 400 armed Masai were facing one another in a frenzied mood in the Majoro Location of Kisii District.

Observing the trial police out of sight, he crossed the 300 yards which separated the hostile parties and by his presence caused the Masai to stop a charge.

DANGER FROM STERNS

It is considered that Mr. Brooks should commendable bravery in his attempt to prevent the two sides in dispute, he exposed himself to considerable danger for which he was almost killed between the two groups who were intent upon fighting.

After appeasing the turbulent and unoopinioned attitude of the Kisii when he first appeared, he would have been justified in withdrawing and waiting for a more favourable opportunity to deal with the incident. There is no doubt that his efforts until the arrival of the police party prevented a major clash and the consequent loss of life.

Two weeks ago, the Commission of the Most Distinguished Order of the British Empire was conferred on Mr. Brooks for his services.

Mr. Brooks, who has now spent 12 years with the South Nyanza District, was awarded the honours not only for his services as a police officer but also as a development officer in Kenya.

Mr. Brooks, who is a prominent party in constitutional matters, was also awarded the honours for his services as a member of the Kenya Council of States.

Mr. Brooks, who is a member of the Kenya Council of States, was also awarded the honours for his services as a member of the Kenya Council of States.

Mr. Nixon's address to the Queen's Commissioned Officer of the British Empire.

One of a British publishing company, Sir [Name], who has been awarded the honours for his services as a member of the Kenya Council of States, was also awarded the honours for his services as a member of the Kenya Council of States.

KENYA'S FIRST GOLD MEDAL

Antao's speed makes Jerome lose heart

SEBAFFINO ANTAO'S gold medal success in the 100 yards sprint was one of the highlights of the athletics programme on the second day of the British Empire and Commonwealth Games at Perth on Saturday. Antao was in 3.5sec. giving an impressive display of stylish running, to finish one-tenth of a sec. outside the Games record.

Antao's success in the sprint, which brought him the unofficial tag of the "Commonwealth fastest man", was marked by tragedy for the favourite, the Canadian, Harry Jerome, who broke down with a pulled leg muscle and finished last in 10.6sec. Jerome shares the world record of 9.1 sec. and started favourite.

With two days of intense competition now completed, host nation Australia have already won comfortably ahead in the honours list with seven gold medals and 18 medals in all. England follow with three gold and Canada and New Zealand have medals in all. England follow with three gold and Canada and New Zealand have medals in all.

ANTAO EQUALS RECORD

M.C.C. SET FOR BIG SCORE

SILVER FOR SONGOK

EAST AFRICANS won the silver and bronze medals in the men's 100 yd. sprint at the Commonwealth Games. The gold went to Australia's E. Bush in 17.1 sec. Songok's time was 21.7 sec, and Robinson's 22.2 sec. It had been expected that the gold would go to Bert Adams. The Uganda boy dropped on the inside lane and Songok had to draw up on the inside and the Australian had to overtake him. The Kenyan was still leading on the comparative final heat but he, the Australian, fell just inside, pulled ahead by the 24.

Kenyan into 220yd. final

KENYA'S hopes of a second gold medal were frustrated when his first in his history at the Commonwealth Games in Perth yesterday.

The man who made history at the week-end at the Mombasa sprinter, Serafino Antas, equalled the Games record of 20.3 sec. in the semi-final of the 220 yd. And the man considered to be his chief rival, the Canadian, Harry Jerome, fell home for medical treatment.

In Antao's semi-final Rhoades's Du Frez was third in 21.3 sec after he and England's David Jones had had a tremendous battle for second place; the Rhodesian only being by inches.

Jones, shot world 1940 record-holder, was advised by his coach, Dr. J. J. Cunningham, to abort his attempt to win the 220 yd. race when he saw Antao's time. In the second semi-final Rhoades's Smith qualified for the final, which was held on Saturday. The final was won by M. Cleary of Australia in 21.4 sec and second was C. G. G. G. of Ghana in 21.8.

As their times were considerably slower than Antao's, Kenya second gold medal is a near-certainty.

Kenya's Peter Francis finished fourth in the final of the men's 400 yd. race. In a similar fashion, New Zealand's Peter Steel won the gold in the 400 yd. race of 1:47.4. Jamaica's G. Kerr was second in 1:47.4 and A. Stone (Australia) third in 1:49.

Antao took his first step towards the world's best in 22.9 sec.

Kenya's goals

Britain warns U.N. not to interfere in colonies

BRITAIN may refuse to participate in the work of the United Nations Committee on Government if the committee tries to intervene in territories for which the British Government is responsible, Sir Patrick Erskine, British chief U.N. representative has warned the General Assembly.

He accused the committee of proceeding improperly in hearing petitioners from various territories contrary to the wishes of the administering Powers and of the adoption of ill-considered resolutions based on inadequate understanding of the facts.

The General Assembly is to meet on the 21st inst. In the period since the last session of the British Parliament has been working on the question of the territories which would have to be transferred to the United Nations in order to ensure their peaceful development.

Russia continued to insist that the British should not interfere with the progress of the independent territories.

Earlier Sir Patrick had said that the Soviet Union was not prepared to entertain the possibility of the United Nations interfering with the progress of the independent territories.

Sir Patrick said that although the extension of British rule over territories in Africa and Asia had placed over a long period a heavy burden on the shoulders of the United Nations, it could not be regarded as a burden which had to be shouldered by the United Nations.

VOICED THEIR GRIEVANCES IN MARCH AFTER ROAD ATTACKS

17th Mayor Nairobi, Ald. Charles Rabin, yesterday condemned law-makers in the city who have been attacking the moblin involved in road accidents. He was expressing his "horror and disgust at the latest incident in which a child died as a result of a British school bus which was involved in a car crash in an accident on Kileleshwa Road.

There have been too many instances of crowds taking the law into their own hands in recent months, and as Mayor I deplore it and ask all citizens to refrain from violent mob action," Rabin said.

He said the police to apprehend law-breakers is one thing; violence against individuals in a rampage such as those which he kind of taking in this country, West and East Africa, is another matter. He said he was not sure if the police are well equipped to govern.

The police are the people to be respected, he said, and the moblin and lawless. He said he was not sure if the police are well equipped to govern. He said he was not sure if the police are well equipped to govern.

ADVOSSIES KEEP GOLD LEAD

But Linda collects prize for England

AUSTRALIA'S boys of young swimmers continued to dominate the men's events at the Commonwealth Games in Perth yesterday.

They won two more gold medals to take their golden tally to six in the seven men's events decided so far.

But England's London schoolgirl, Linda Ludgrove, 15, retained some of the balance by winning the only women's gold medal at stake yesterday in the 100-yd backstroke.

Earlier, England won three of the six gold medals in the roving competition. New Zealand took two gold medals and the other one went to Australia.

LINDA LUDGROVE

Australian first swimmer, Kerry Rose, finished away to a 200-yd freestyle victory. He broke the 2:10 mark that held for a half a century but to never his own world mark of 1:56.5 set in Christchurch last August.

The favorite lead, the Captain of Edinburgh and a capable crowd of 1500 saw Rose get home in 1:56.5. He was taking three days to drive Australia a clean sweep.

There was a thrilling finish to the men's 200-yd backstroke final with the Australian, Julian Carroll, beating his compatriot, Peter Sanderson, by 0.2 seconds in a race that had been very tight.

In the 400-yd freestyle, England's swimmer of the year, Stewart, overtook 16-year-old "wonder boy" Mike Liddell, who had taken the women's backstroke.

For Miss Ludgrove it was a record for the best of the Commonwealth Games.

British swimming coach, Don Lane, said that the men's 200-yd backstroke was the most exciting race he had ever seen. He said that the men's 200-yd backstroke was the most exciting race he had ever seen.

broken down to New Zealand with two medals and a bye. The two medals came in the 100-yd freestyle and the 100-yd backstroke.

Points after the 200-yd freestyle were: 1. Australia, 2. New Zealand, 3. England, 4. Canada, 5. South Africa, 6. India, 7. Pakistan, 8. Sri Lanka, 9. Hong Kong, 10. New Zealand.

Scotland and England finished the only women's events in the 100-yd backstroke.

In the 100-yd backstroke, Linda Ludgrove of England won the gold medal with a time of 1:56.5. She was followed by New Zealand's Linda Ludgrove with a time of 1:58.0.

Marshall ruling

Despite a warning from the medical commission that it would be "taken measure" to start in the heat of the afternoon, the MARATHON tomorrow will still begin promptly at the Commonwealth Games, 10.30 a.m. on the 1000-yd track at the Commonwealth Games Centre.

END AMATEUR AND 'PRO', MCC ADVISED

THE distinction between an amateur and professional status in English first-class cricket will disappear as a recommendation of the Advisory County Cricket Board announced in London yesterday.

The board's meeting at Lord's recommended that in future all players, amateur and professional, should be known as "cricketers". This recommendation is added to confirmation by the M.C.C. committee.

A statement issued after the meeting said that the M.C.C. is also asking the Cricket Council to amend the law and slightly amend the rules to bring the amateur and professional status into line with the M.C.C. committee.

RECORD RAIL ELECTRIFICATION

Higher charges only as last resort

EAST African Railways and Harbours will have a deficit of nearly £1,250,000 for the end of 1962. The chairman of the Ministerial Communications Committee, Mr. J. T. Simpson, told the Central Legislative Assembly, meeting in Kampala yesterday.

It is the largest deficit budget presented by E.A.R. and H. O. since 1957, has there been a constant deficit in any year's working and it was not £250,000, an amount wiped out in the next two years' operation. The deficit is made up of £750,000 loss carried forward from this year and £500,000 loss expected in 1963.

It is a ugly amount, and one which it will not be easy to recover, said Mr. Simpson and he stressed that the railway is "a bleak economic fact". However, the railway's constitution was sound and there was no reason why it should not climb to recovery and enjoy future good health. The need, said Mr. Simpson, was for hard work and efficient operation at all levels was perhaps greater than ever before.

Steady rise in goods traffic

Mr. Simpson assured the assembly that rates and charges would only be raised as a last resort. Revenue in the railway was not being affected by goods. The total estimated revenue for 1962, originally estimated at £201,000, had now been set at about £210,000, which would be the highest figure ever earned by the railway. Increased revenue was almost solely due to goods traffic, which had shown a steady rise.

The railways could reasonably expect to earn £230,000 in 1963. The political situation still dominated the views of the commercial community, and while signs of a recovery were being seen, a cautious attitude towards trade generally and not much evidence of appreciable foreign capital investment in export industries.

The East African Police and the Uganda Police were roughly parallel to that of the East African Police and the Uganda Police. The total estimated revenue for 1962, originally estimated at £201,000, had now been set at about £210,000, which would be the highest figure ever earned by the railway.

Postal Staffs NOT to STRIKE

Mr. Simpson assured the assembly that rates and charges would only be raised as a last resort. Revenue in the railway was not being affected by goods. The total estimated revenue for 1962, originally estimated at £201,000, had now been set at about £210,000, which would be the highest figure ever earned by the railway.

THEY Cried to East Africa's Christmas mail will lift off at night when the East African Police and the Uganda Police are reached.

The unions had said they would strike on Christmas Eve. The East African Police and the Uganda Police were roughly parallel to that of the East African Police and the Uganda Police. The total estimated revenue for 1962, originally estimated at £201,000, had now been set at about £210,000, which would be the highest figure ever earned by the railway.

Boxing medals for East Africans

KIRIWA Ah Juma last night ensured another silver or gold medal for his country by winning his way into the final of the Commonwealth and Empire Games featherweight boxing class.

He outpointed New Zealand's T. George in the second final. In the final he meets Scotland's John McDermott.

Uganda's lightweight boxer, East African, also ensured another silver or gold medal by qualifying for the final when his English opponent, Brian Whelan, withdrew from their semi-final bout.

Today East Africa, and Kenya in particular, is likely to win another gold medal when Serafinio Amato runs in the final of the 220 yd. Amato's bout with the New Zealand boxer and his partner, who was the longer runner in the second round when he won, was the longer runner in the final.

FRENCH PREFER LYONS AS OLYMPIC VENUE

The French Olympic Committee has decided to hold the 1954 Olympic Games at Lyons. The committee said it believed the Lyons bid would have a reasonable chance of success. They pointed out that to now the Olympic Games have been held alternately in a European country and outside Europe. The fact that the 1964 Games are being held in Tokyo should enhance Lyons' chances.
