ARMY CORPS PLAN FOR ISRAEL Sir Anthony opens Ottawa talks

TRADE AND DOLLAR GAIN UNDER REVIEW

WORLD problems in general and trade relations in particular were among the subjects discussed when the British Prime Minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, began talks yesterday in Ottawa with the Canadian Government.

Apart from briefing the Prime Minister, Mr. Sir Anthony, and the Minister of External Affairs, Mr. Lester B. Pearson, Sir Anthony and his Foreign Secretary, Mr. Geoffrey Lloyd, will attend the Canadian for their respective proposed corps for maintaining peace on the Egyptian-Israeli border.

Canada may play an important part in such a plan as E. L. M. Burns, chief of the trade organization, has indicated. But before it is put into operation, it is a more actively recommended by the proposal on the effective lines in another scheme to the main status quo of Israel's frontiers. According to diplomatic observers in Washington, it is to be put to France for approval and is believed to include a Western task force composed of British troops in Cyprus and Libya and United States 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean, since they would strike at any country guilty of aggression. As reported in the East African Standard on Thursday, Sir Anthony has accepted an invitation to visit Ottawa.

Mr. Robinson said that in January, 1954, he was told that the sealithor cement was to be used in the construction of the dam. He said that he was suspicious of the cement and that he had asked for a sample to be tested.

ETHIOPIA

The plateau on which Addis Ababa stands is not unlike the Kenya Highlands—ever green and abounding with wild flowers—on whose mountain slopes cling mushroom-roofs of villages often hidden in cloud.

Ethiopia is a beautiful country, with lakes and unsurpassed views, and good hotel accommodation can be found at most beautiful spots. Addis Ababa, the Capital, is built on hills and is the terminus of the Djibouti Railway on which most of the prosperity of the Country depends.

The Group operate in the Capital and have branches at Dire Dawa, Amara, Massawa and Asseb, and assist in no small way to the economy of the country by the many exports and imports handled. Butter, bacon and ham are flown to Addis Ababa by Ethiopian Airlines, direct flights, and many households enjoy the goodness and freshness of these Kenya products.

Growing discrimination alarms Uganda Chamber

PROGRESS HINDERED

GROWING discrimination in favour of Uganda's indigenous population is deplored in a memorandum on the Royal Commission's report prepared by Uganda Chamber of Commerce and Industry at a meeting of African Chambers next month.

"We feel that the earlier it is removed, the better it will be for the country," the memorandum states. Development of a country is hindered if it is held up by racial discrimination and the negative effect of the restrictive immigration and capital for knowledge should be allowed to assist in development.

The remarks were contained in a sub-committee dealing with immigration. The committee on the other hand would consider the immigration of capital and skill, they need to be encouraged to come to Uganda.

"The sub-committee described immigration legislation as the negative effect of the restrictive immigration and capital for knowledge should be allowed to assist in development. The remarks were contained in a sub-committee dealing with immigration. The committee on the other hand would consider the immigration of capital and skill, they need to be encouraged to come to Uganda."

POLICE ADMIT NO CHALLENGE MADE Inquiry into death of disguised men

Police constables who were with the patrol which killed Mr. Donald Halliwell, a 19-year-old police field intelligence officer and three other members of his party on a farm on the North Kikuyu on October 12, admitted what the Inquirer reported on February 10. They had not challenged the supposed gangsters in any way.

Constable A. C. Carol said he had never been instructed to challenge anyone about to be shot. He would have done so had he known that the men were armed. He said that he was not in the patrol when the men were shot and that he was following the tracks on Van Norder's farm and saw a man sitting in a car on the road. 'Violence will not dictate decisions'

MR. NEHRU WARNS INDIANS

That the decisions of the Government and the Congress Party would not be dictated by violence—'whether it is the violence of this country or any country'—was the message of a resolution—passed unanimously at the Congress Party conference—concerning the Indian message of 'non-violence'.

Mr. Nehru condemned recent violence in Bombay and parts of India and expressed his confidence in the Indian message of non-violence.

'We talk of non-violence, but we do not act in it', he said. 'We have seen in recent days and weeks in India the narrowest, narrowest, narrowest persecution, hatred and violence.'

The Prime Minister said that the story of the struggle against British rule, was not one of violent excesses, but of the freedom of the country, and that the Congress Party had no intention of using violence as a means of attaining its ends.

Friends with England
Even during the 'independence' struggle in India, the Indian people, with unbroken loyalty to the British Empire, have been the friends of the British people.

He said the world has not seen such a struggle since the days of the American Revolution. He said the world has not seen such a struggle since the days of the American Revolution.

MINISTER SEES CRACKS IN NEW HOUSES

Belgian doubt on eventual unity of Territory

Foundations on Mombasa estate faulty

EVENTUAL independence of the Belgian-administered Territory of Ruanda-Urundi, as envisaged by M. Perno Heyckmans, Belgian representative in the United Nations Trusteeship Council, said he doubted if the two States would ever be united.

He said he believed that the people would be more ready to accept a federation rather than one State. But "there was no question" of this, he said.

M. Heyckmans said the administration of the Territory, however, was not a question of the future of the Territory, but of the present. He said that the people of Ruanda-Urundi were not ready to accept the establishment of a common State, and that the only way of settling the question, apart from the Trusteeship Council, was by force.

The Council meets today.

CRACKS in 12 single-story houses on the Changamwe estate at Mombasa, caused by the ground on the lower part of the estate, were seen by Minister for Local Government, Health and Housing, Mr. Haycock, during a visit on Monday.

Homes for 3,700

Officials said that the Kipwe estate nearby should be completed and made permanent to carry over 3,700 people, and that the Government would be ready to accept the scheme, which is planned to be completed by February, 1935, but it is expected that about 100 per cent of the single-story detached houses will be ready for occupation by September.
