

IT STARTED HERE — five years ago, Fitzgerald Baynes commenced the production of Pepsi-Cola, one of the world's best-known soft drinks, and Evervess, a fine club soda, in this modest Nairobi plant.

THEN HERE — before long, the Coast alone was clamouring for more Pepsi-Cola and Evervess than the Nairobi factory could produce. So Fitzgerald Baynes's Mombasa plant was opened on 1st January, 1953, to supply the coastal areas as far south as Tanga.

PEPSI-COLA & EVERVE

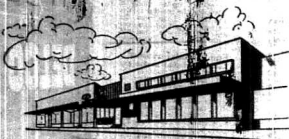

Celebrate their 5th annivers

IN 1954 — Fitzgerald Baynes's architects were again busy with plans — for a large entirely new Nairobi factory, and for the launch of a new plant at Eldoret. Nairobi's attractive modern building was opened on 24th September, 1954, with the most up-to-date manufacturing and bottling production line yet seen in East Africa. The Eldoret plant was opened for business in December, to supply — at a lower cost to the public — the overwhelming up-country demand for Pepsi-Cola and Evervess.

THE NEW SHEEP was the extensive re-design of the Mombasa factory, where demand was always at the limits of supply. The imposing new addition will be opened in March this year.

THE LATEST ADDITION to Fitzgerald Baynes's impressive list of operating plants is the trim factory at Moshi, which opened on 16th February, 1956, to ease the supply position in the Kilimanjaro area.

The past five years have seen unprecedented activity on the part of Fitzgerald Baynes & Co., Ltd., and Pepsi-Cola and Evervess are now available to no less than 6,000,000 consumers. With the continuing and much appreciated support of this enthusiastic public, it seems that the years to come will bring equal and gratifying progress.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY FOR THE MERU

Acting Governor points the way to progress

ANNOUNCING the Government's decision to separate the Meru District from the Kiambu Native Land, the Acting Governor of Kenya, Sir Frederick Crawford, said that the golden opportunity for post-war progress lay before the Meru people in the group.

40,000 people help
Forty-eight territories were surveyed for the operation in the last night, eight operations and the surveyors. He was glad to hear that so many people had been asked to join the operation, more than 40,000 people in all Meru before the start they had joined in the operation.

Loyalty expected
In order to bring forward more quickly the development of the Meru people, Sir Frederick Crawford said that the Government had a strong desire to separate the Meru people from the Kiambu Native Land and the Meru people were expected to help in the operation.

Danger remains
A few Mau Mau remained scattered about some hedges in the district and some had been seen in the Meru district. Sir Frederick Crawford said that the Government was determined to bring the Mau Mau to a complete end.

Injured boy may remain unconscious for 60 years
A 16-year-old Canadian boy injured in the collision in which both were killed, in which Sir Michael was involved, was expected to remain unconscious for 60 years.

people which would bring them more and prosperity. It is to be seen that this kind of indifference in the operation is maintained at all levels. Their report of the night against Meru Mau were a good example in the latter part of this Province, and the Government will do its best to see that the Meru people get the best of the post-war progress.

"On your guard"
"It is on your guard. There was in this district still a few Mau Mau who were still active in the district and the Government was determined to bring them to a complete end."

ATOM ENERGY FOR MERCHANT SHIPS

'Remarkable' progress made

ATOMIC energy as a source of power for merchant ships is about to be tested, says the annual report of Lloyd's Register of Shipping forecasts. The report adds that remarkable progress in nuclear reactor for ships though several problems have still to be solved.

It is revealed that 1935 was marked by increased activity in the shipbuilding industry throughout the world. With some quarters (lauded as increasing prosperously) other quarters, their orders were long overdue.

This will have the effect of increasing the number of vessels competing in the market, the report says.

Tanker increase
"During the year plans have been approved for the construction of 1,510 tankers, the highest in the classification of Lloyd's Register of Shipping. The total of the highest percentage figure recorded and included 900 steamers, 1,510 tankers to be constructed outside the United Kingdom."

The size of tankers had continued to grow. Many tankers of about 10,000 tons deadweight were being built, there was no order. (Reuters)

RESEARCH IN AIRCRAFT GOES AHEAD

Rudolf Heppner announces that he is working on the development of a small power unit for aircraft. He says that the unit is light-weight and easy to use. It is being developed in Germany.

The successful evolution of a practical atomic engine for aircraft depends on the further development of the atomic energy source. It is being developed in Germany.

Heppner says, "On the other hand, the atomic energy source is being developed in Germany. It is being developed in Germany."

LUO AREA 'BLACK SPOT' IN NYANZA PROVINCE

Neglect of soil conservation methods

Unless there is "a definite change of heart" towards conservation measures, experts believe that the Luo area of Nyanza will be deserted in ten years. The Provincial Commissioner, Mr. C. H. Williams, states in his 1934 report. He writes: "On the important subject of soil and water conservation, it can be said that throughout the Luo area, soil conservation measures, largely grass strips, which cost 10 per cent effective, and there is little erosion in cultivated land in either of these areas."

"In parts of North Nyanza they are also effective, but it is regrettable that in the whole of Central Nyanza they are very much less so."

"There is little doubt that the erosion in the Luo area is the result of the neglect of the soil conservation measures, and that the response to the efforts of the Agricultural Department and Administration has been little fruit and give little encouragement for the future."

"The fact that experienced agricultural officers present, that erosion there is a definite change of heart the Luo area will be deserted in ten years. In Central Nyanza a new system has been introduced, and soil conservation measures have proved to be successful in each of these areas. It is to be hoped that this has done something to help the Luo area."

AMONG THE NEW BOOKS ABOUT LOVE, A LIBERTY MAN AND A WRITER

THE new fiction for 1934 is only just beginning to arrive in Kenya, and I cannot, therefore, hope to devote this review entirely to the latest titles published. An unusual Collins is first in the field with a popular new novel by Mr. Elinor Glyn.

The young actress is Catherina, and made a name for herself as a war correspondent, leading with the Third Canadian Division on the Somme. Her husband is dead. She is married to a man who is a writer. This novel is the story of her life. It is a story of a woman who has been through a great deal of suffering and who has been through a great deal of suffering and who has been through a great deal of suffering.

It is a story of a woman who has been through a great deal of suffering and who has been through a great deal of suffering and who has been through a great deal of suffering. There's power in your engine - use it!

The motor spirit of to-day needs ICA - only SHELL has it

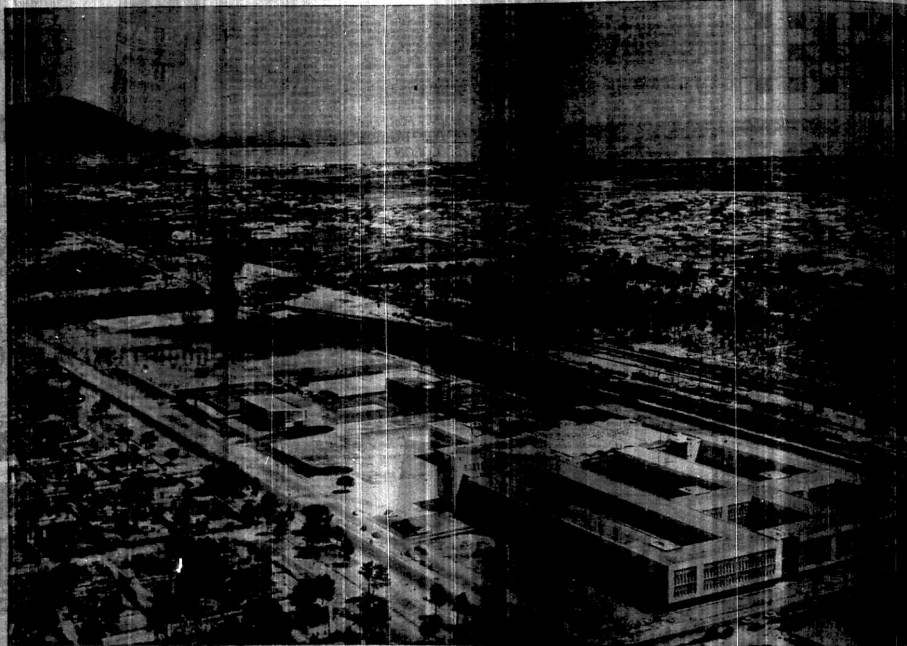

In every car, in your car, deposits in the engine's combustion chambers will rob you of the full power of your motor spirit - IF YOU LET THEM. These deposits glow red-hot when the engine warms up and cause power-crippling pre-ignition. They also foul spark plugs. How can you beat them? BY CHOOSING SHELL WITH I.C.A.

I.C.A. does what even the most powerful motor spirit cannot do - it makes these deposits harmless and stops power loss right at the source. Only Shell has it. That's why Shell with I.C.A. is the motor spirit that gives you full power all the time.

THE MOST POWERFUL MOTOR SPIRIT YOU CAN BUY

THE OLD MUTUAL completes the biggest

New Head Office Buildings at Mutualpark, Pinelands, Cape.

Largest Office Building in the Southern Hemisphere

Larger even than the United Nations Secretariat Building in New York, the new Old Mutual Head Office buildings are situated in Pinelands, Cape Town, and will be completed in 1957.

On the 20th March at Mutualpark,

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF SOUTH AFRICA,

DR. THE HON. E. G. JANSEN, will unveil a Statue of Wellness and a Plaque commemorating the official opening of the new Head Office of the South African Mutual Life Assurance Society.

This historic event will mark the opening of yet another chapter in the growth and development of the nation's own life assurance office. Old Mutual policyholders throughout Africa are given this special preview of their Society's magnificent new offices, and also the reasons for the decision to move the Head Office away from the centre of Cape Town to suburban Pinelands.

The planning behind the move to Pinelands

In 1939, on the eve of World War II, the people of Cape Town and visitors to the "mother city" gained an impression of South Africa's tallest building, the new Head Office of the South African Mutual Life Assurance Society. This precious skyscraper, standing majestically 261 feet above ground level, had been the pride of Cape Town for many years. Yet within a few years, the need for more office space than the building could accommodate became an urgent necessity as the Society grew. The solution was to build the tallest building in the world, a building that would be a landmark for the nation. The planning behind the move to Pinelands was a monumental task, involving the construction of a new city and the relocation of the Society's headquarters. The new building, located in Pinelands, is a masterpiece of modern architecture, designed to provide a spacious and efficient working environment for the Society's staff. The move to Pinelands was a bold decision, one that has proven to be a success. The new building is not only a landmark for the nation, but also a symbol of the Society's commitment to excellence and growth.

APPRECIATION

On behalf of all Old Mutual policyholders, the South African Mutual Life Assurance Society takes the opportunity of conveying their warm appreciation to the staff of the various companies and organisations for their contributions to the design, construction and equipping of the Society's Head Office. The Old Mutual is proud to report that officials of similar organisations in other parts of the world have made visits to South Africa for an inspection of the buildings. They have all expressed a great admiration for the concept, design and construction of Mutualpark.

You'll never BOB they said in 1948, but—

THE MAULES PROVED THEM ALL WRONG

By A Special Correspondent

In last Friday's edition of the Rap African Standard the prospect of a new company to be known as the Dorson Maule Theatre Ltd. was announced. The company is certainly new, but the name Dorson Maule has become a household word wherever the theatre is appreciated and discussed. It was not always so.

Several years' hard work, enterprise and expenditure have gone into the creation of the new famous company which plays throughout the year in Belmont.

"What's on at the Maule's?" is the question asked by the man with an inquiring, almost nervous, but friendly, air of wondering what the weather is like in Belmont. There is, however, a danger in this word-association. The Maules have become such a integral part of the life of Belmont that it is hard to see that they may be taken down for granted—Belmont and their Maule's!

LOVE OF THEATRE

No enterprise is really worth anything unless it is worth it to the man. Progress is an end in itself, and the man who knows Don and Mollie Maule, the dynamic

HE LEFT HOME FOR A REFUGEE CAMP

By Gary Levy

WHAT makes a 32-year-old university lecturer, suffering from heart disease, married and father of two children, leave his £2,000 a year job in comfortable surroundings in East Germany for the uncertainty of a refugee camp in West Britain? What makes him risk poverty and unemployment?

Dr. Johannes Baumbach, Lecturer in Zoology at the University, did just that.

The risk of unemployment was all the greater for him, because he was an East German Parliamentary Deputy, which was something no public and thinking man would like to do.

Dr. Baumbach is a man who has lived in East Germany since 1947, when he returned from his home town in Thuringia, from a Berlin, which was then the citizens elected him Parliamentary Deputy.
