Reminiscences Of The Nakuru Of 30 Years Ago

The Nakuru of 30 years ago has been in the district for 30 years, although at the start of the century it was only a small town.

It is the first of a series of articles by members of the Society of Kenya Farmers.

Mr. M. M. M. is the author, the oldest resident inhabitant of Nakuru and has some interesting memories of the early days to recall.

He concludes his article: "I am convinced that farming in the district has come to stay and that Nakuru is likely to continue and increase in importance as an agricultural centre."

Privilege Case 300 Years Ago

London, 24th July.—(London special.)—The House of Commons today passed a resolution which will give the King the right to appoint and dismiss Ministers of the Crown without the consent of the House of Commons.

The resolution was passed by a vote of 200 to 100. It is the first time since 1701 that the House of Commons has passed a resolution of this kind.

The resolution states that the King shall have the right to appoint and dismiss Ministers of the Crown without the consent of the House of Commons, provided that the Ministers are appointed and dismissed in accordance with the provisions of the Statute in that behalf made.

The resolution also states that the King shall have the right to appoint and dismiss Ministers of the Crown without the consent of the House of Commons, provided that the Ministers are appointed and dismissed in accordance with the provisions of the Statute in that behalf made.

Prisoner in the King

There came a day, in 1844, when the young Prince of Wales, who had just been crowned King, was sitting on the throne of his ancestors. He was surrounded by his Ministers and his Council, and he was about to give his assent to a bill which had been introduced into the House of Commons.

The bill was a bill for the purpose of giving the King the right to appoint and dismiss Ministers of the Crown without the consent of the House of Commons. It was a bill which had been introduced into the House of Commons by the Government of the day.

The King, who was then only a young man, looked at the bill with a curious expression on his face. He had never before seen a bill of this kind, and he was not sure what it was all about.

He looked at the Ministers who were sitting around him, and he saw that they were all looking at him with a curious expression on their faces. He was puzzled, and he was not sure what to do.

At last, he gave his assent to the bill, and the bill became law. It was a law which gave the King the right to appoint and dismiss Ministers of the Crown without the consent of the House of Commons.

JUNIOR

CORONA is marvellously simplified. That is one reason why it is so seldom gets out of order, and why it is so easy to repair.

SIMPLICITY

This is an important point to consider in the purchase of a portable typewriter and results from twenty years of engineering study.

It is almost impossible to wear out a Corona. Consistent with the needs of the modern typist in mind. It is easy to learn.

DURABILITY

Anyone can learn to write with a Corona because Corona is designed with the needs of the modern typist in mind. It is easy to learn.
