F. J. PERRY WINS THREE KENYA TENNIS TITLES

There are few holders this year of the Kenya lawn tennis titles in all sections save the women's singles, where Mrs. Dowdell retained her championship.

F. J. Perry is now singles doubles (with F. D. M. Flower) and mixed doubles (with Mrs. C. Dowdell) champion but it was unfortunate that Mrs. Dowdell's illness prevented her from competing in the mixed doubles final.

Other notable play in the singles was by Mrs. Dowdell, who defeated Mrs. C. Dowdell in the first set, but lost the second set, and the match was decided in the third set. Mrs. Dowdell's play was very good, and she was very accurate in her shots. Mrs. C. Dowdell's play was also very good, and she was very accurate in her shots.

COMMONS DISCUSSES SEYCHELLES

M.P. makes three suggestions to the Colonial Secretary

I think the matter had better rest with the House. I would not care to make any statement on this matter. The Secretary of State has already made a statement on this matter in the early days of the trouble in the Seychelles and on the day after that of what was happening and when we were assured of an end of the Government's intervention in the Seychelles.

At the same time, Mr. Chamberlain read an extract of the Seychelles Provisional Constitution which was already in effect. It is a very interesting document and it is a pity that the Government has not yet published it. It is a pity that the Government has not yet published it.

Mr. Chamberlain made three suggestions to the Secretary of State: (1) that an independent committee be appointed to inquire into the situation in the Seychelles; (2) that the Government should be asked to publish the Provisional Constitution; and (3) that the Government should be asked to publish the Provisional Constitution.

Mr. Chamberlain said he was sure that this measure would be welcomed in the Seychelles. He said that he was sure that this measure would be welcomed in the Seychelles. He said that he was sure that this measure would be welcomed in the Seychelles.

Longonot, one of the most striking features of Kenya's landscape FROM FLOOD, FIRE AND UNSTABLE EARTH ROSE THE PERFECT CINDER CONE

How long is it since Longonot erupted? It is a question everyone asks. An eminent geologist thinks that one of the cinder cones between Longonot and the gorge was formed during the last 100 years.

Mr. A. M. E. Champion, C.M.G., and Gold Medalist of the Royal Geographical Society, has a fairly accurate estimate. Longonot itself is not erupted, for something like two thousand years.

In the following article Mr. Champion writes of Longonot, one of the most striking and interesting of many interesting features of the Kenya landscape.

The typical volcano of school books, looked somewhat like a cone above sea level at its highest point on the lip of the crater.

In blue-green shadows live a lovely feathered tribe

HAVING written of the birds of the plains and the birds of the forest, this week's notes of Harnden writes of some of the birds of the forest.

Like all forest creatures, these birds are shy and more retiring than those of the open. They are harder to see among the dark shadows moving about their blue-green tree world.

Some of the most beautiful I think are the hoaroes, or plantain eaters, and the forest babbler. The only bird to be seen in the forest is the hoaroe, or plantain eater.

'Normal rules' will be waived to allow full discussion

Kenya Legislative Council resumes in the Memorial Hall on Monday, at 10 o'clock today for a sitting which is likely to go on daily for the next three days.

Thompson, the Member for the East African Standard, has introduced a resolution that the Council should discuss the report of the Kenya Standard's committee on the Press and the public, for the East African Standard's report on the Press and the public, and a full discussion unhampered by normal rules of debate — which, of course, prevent a Member from speaking more than once except on a point of order or explanation.
