FINANCE MEMBER ANALYSES SALARY REPORT IN COUNCIL

Russia ties up food workers

Value for money must follow increased expense overhaul of organisation planned

THE RUSSIANS yesterday announced a two month strike on the equipment of 600 of the 7000 office employees who were due to transfer from the old building to the new administration building in the British

UNLESS a revision of this sort is carried out, unless salaries and conditions of service in the Civil Service have a reasonable relation to the salaries in other colonies and still more important, a reasonable relation to those in outside employment, it will be impossible for this country to have an efficient and incorruptible civil service.

That was one of the main arguments put forward by Mr. J. P. G. Doughton, Member for Finsbury, in the House of Commons in a report on the Civil Service Commission Report which he introduced in the House of Commons on Monday.

Allowing for the real element, the real salary increases average 5 per cent in the case of Europeans, Asians, 5 per cent and not 3 per cent in the case of "india" staff. But the purchasing power of civil servants at their 1963 levels. If European salaries in the report were increased by another 50 per cent over and above the recommendations and then only would the purchasing power be restored.

A tribute to the Commission

Mr. Troughton had begun his speech with a tribute to the Selinger Commission for its care, care and skill in looking at the problem which, because of its complexity, might well have been given up in despair.

The Commission had got to the core of the various problems and acknowledged the great fact which it understood and the conclusion to which its reports had made to the future of the Civil Service.

The report covered practically every facet of the structure, remuneration and superannuation of a complete Civil Service of mixed races. Therefore it did not leave any stone unturned which could be put to the test.

At the same time, various aspects which could be put to the test were covered with its recommendations, and the fullest possible understanding.

In order to provide full opportunities for the future, the Commission proposed that Council should have a committee of the whole Council to consider the series of resolutions.

Mr. Lester, Russian approval of all proposals, and the Commission had got to the core of the various problems and acknowledged the great fact which it understood and the conclusion to which its reports had made to the future of the Civil Service.

 To the Editor, "E.A. Standard."

It may be the last paragraph that I should like to see printed in the fact that there has been some increase in the cost of international cultivation. This paragraph may be better in an official communication, but the public should know that the price of wheat is increasing. It is not a matter of wheat, but of the fact that the price of wheat is increasing. It is not a matter of wheat, but of the fact that the price of wheat is increasing.

Inner Cleanliness comes first for Health!

More and more people are coming to realize that inner cleanliness with Andrews is the first rule of health. It is only when the body is clean inside that it can be healthy and with Andrews it is easy to make sure of inner cleanliness. A glass of sparkling Andrews is as refreshing as a glass of champagne. It purifies the whole system, weakens away toxic substances which are the cause of many distressing everyday ailments, such as constipation and indigestion. Drink and enjoy your regular glass of Andrews — you love it, like milk and ice-cream — and you are on top of your form. This is how Andrews begins to work for thorough cleansing.

First — Andrews cleans and refreshes the stomach and bowels.

Next — Andrews soothes the stomach and eases indigestion.

Then — Andrews opens up the liver and clears the bile.

Finally — The complete your inner cleanliness. Andrews purify clear the blood, soothe the throat, soothe the skin, soothe the eyes, soothe the nose.

Chess: NO 'SUPERIOR WOOD-SHIFTING' HERE

By E. BARTON - ECKETT

The following is a recitation of the play of the famous British player, the late J. H. Blackburne.

His playing career extended from 1820 to 1878 and, at his best, he ranked as one of the strongest players in the world.

He was a disciple of Morphy and one of the greatest chess players who set the black stone on the board. For his mastery and technique of the modern school he had little time and he preferred to play the game in the last days of his life.

Blackburne's greatest achievement was his defeat of the last of the great chess players, the late P. S. Smith, at the end of the century. In 1878 Blackburne defeated Smith in a match.

Blackburne's playing career was marked by many brilliant games. His most famous game was played in 1835, when he defeated the English champion, the late P. S. Smith.

ENGLAND CONTAINEE BEFORE AUSTRALIAN BOWLERS

LOWEST SCORE EVER MADE BY ENGLISH TEAM PLAYING AT HOME

Of the blackest days in the history of English Test cricket occurred on the opening of the Fifth Test match between the two nations in the first innings at Trent Bridge, Nottingham, on August 22. The lowest score they have ever made in England against Australia.

In the entire series of 15 matches only once have they been dismissed for a smaller total, and that in the second innings of the first Test at Sydney. The only slight consolation of the day was that the lowest score made by Australia, 10, was made by England.

Ray Lindwall, Keith Miller and Alan Davidson, the three bowlers who made the most of the day, were all in the first innings. Lindwall, who was the only bowler to take a wicket, was the only one to take a wicket in the first innings. He took the wicket of Alan Davidson, who was the only one to take a wicket in the first innings.

The English batsmen were in a state of confusion from the start. They were bowled out for 10 runs in the first innings. The only batsman to score was Keith Miller, who made 10 runs. The rest of the batsmen were out for 0 runs.

NEW MOLTOV TALK

NEW ENVOYS HOPEFULLY AWAIT

Decision on full conference likely before next weekend

OTTENBERG resigned in Moscow yesterday where, late in the day, the envoys of Britain, the United States and France were to have their sixth conference with the Soviet Foreign Minister, Vyacheslav Molotov, in the negotiations towards a full Four-Power conference on the German question.

It was anticipated as one of the most important of their conferences—and possibly the last of the present series—and there were some speculations that the three envoys would accept Marshal Stalin before the negotiations close.

Preparations of the envoys' side were completed with another consultation between the three envoys—Mr. Frank Roberts of Britain, General Bebel Smith of the United States and Mr. Yves Chaigneau of France. It was asserted that they would indicate to Molotov when the series of talks is likely to end.

Russia anxious about eastern zone?

In Germany itself, the British, American and French military operations, General Sir Ben Robertson, General Louis Clay and General Kenney had a meeting with German leaders of the constitutional proposal for west Germany.

A hint that the Soviet authorities have less reason than they might be prepared to admit for satisfaction with the general situation in their zone of Germany is contained in a special dispatch from a Russian correspondent. He asserts that, while accumulating evidence that the situation is causing much anxiety in Moscow, the extension is not necessarily suggested.

Union is not on the cards

As a result, he reports, the presence of the Soviet authorities and their heathens has stimulated the German people, who are consequently less spurred to more open resistance and that these are being met by a Russian counter-offensive. He asserts that the blockade of Berlin and to the evidence of German strength over the German capital.

200,000 interned

He comments—in view of the enormous masses in view of the Soviet authorities, the fact that the German people are held in their zone in a concentration camp, the number held in their zone in a concentration camp, the number held in their zone in a concentration camp.

THE UNION MEANS TO BE READY

To share in the age of atomic power

ALTHOUGH the use of atomic power is not just round the corner, the South African Atomic Research Institute is making a beginning in training men both in South Africa and overseas so that the Union will be ready to share in such a development.

Dr. E. F. Schreindorfer, president of the Council, who is an atomic scientist of international reputation, told this at a joint meeting of the South African Institute of Engineers and the University of the Witwatersrand.

Dr. Schreindorfer, who was recently stated by a Member of the African House to be one of the South African possessors of large quantities of uranium.

Ten years' case

"It has proved to be the case," he went on, "that most scientists who were trained in this country, or who were trained in other countries, but who came back to South Africa, have not been able to put their knowledge to use in the industry."

Guarding secrets

In consultation with the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research the Board may undertake to institute a system of scientific secrecy, or to make arrangements for the retention of secrets by individuals.

And so for the other side of the switch so to speak, you can assure that in our standard case into everything possible, of every single end of all sizes, with the best of electrical materials, we maintain the most reliable and economical quality in every connection.

ENGLAND BATSMEN FAIL AGAIN IN FIFTH TEST

Only modest batting by Len Hutton averts complete disaster

WHEN the umpires stopped play half an hour before the tea interval on the third day of the Fifth Test Match between England and Australia at Kennington Oval, they found a situation which was not in England's favour. Once again, only Len Hutton saved the England batsmen from a complete disaster.

For all their good work on the field on the second day England could not compensate for their failure in their batting collapse. They have a total of 327 runs, which is less than their opponents have scored. The only batsman to have scored more than 50 runs was Len Hutton, who scored 57 runs. The other batsmen who scored were: G. Gurney, 40; J. C. Laker, 30; and J. G. Doolan, 20. The England batsmen were out for 115 runs in 115 minutes.

England's batting was completely out of the question. The only batsman to have scored more than 50 runs was Len Hutton, who scored 57 runs. The other batsmen who scored were: G. Gurney, 40; J. C. Laker, 30; and J. G. Doolan, 20. The England batsmen were out for 115 runs in 115 minutes.

MEMBER SUSPECTS 'A THE CAMPAIGN TO RAISE OF KENYA' CHURCH

Attack on the 'income' figures

An EARLY attack on the Civil Service salaries Commission Report, in the continuing debate by Kenya Legislative Council on its 1946-47 income figure and taxation and Government proposals, yesterday launched by Mr. W. B. R. Hoare, the Member for the Nairobi constituency, against the best interests of the civil service and the Colony.

His speech was not confined to the report. He criticized the Commission's method of income figure and taxation and opposed the cutting of customs duties as a means of reducing the cost of living.

Mr. Hoare asked, did the national income figure Mr. Hoare had given in the debate on Thursday, "What do you mean? What does a 200-million national income really mean? And what he felt that Mr. Hoare-Jones had "flung this astronomical figure into the debate and lodged the minds of the people."

"Only last night," he said, "I was called by someone, a friend of mine, who said that a certain party increases its income by 20 per cent. I said, 'What party?'"

Mr. Hoare-Jones intervened with, "I made it clear it was not the Government."

Salaries proposals mean higher taxes

"I know," responded Mr. Hoare. "But there are others who have made the same remark. I don't doubt it."

He continued that he felt Mr. Hoare-Jones was trying to make out that the Colony's income was now so large that it is in a position to make good a greater proportion ought to be in taxes.

"I suggest that this pronouncement may be the beginning of a prepositional confession to consider as that is a subject which should be a greater proportion ought to be in taxes."

Mr. Hoare said the salaries proposals still make it necessary, if accepted, to increase taxation and revenue.

He said that the estimated current revenue of the Colony for 1946-47 was £2,000,000. He said that the estimated current revenue of the Colony for 1946-47 was £2,000,000. He said that the estimated current revenue of the Colony for 1946-47 was £2,000,000.
