streets and machine gun everybody in sight. Yet amidst all the nerve-shattering noise, the chorus of the suffering and the destruction the frail human body is standing erect, strengthened by the unbreakable spirit of the people.

The King and Queen, and their children are sharing the experiences of their countrymen of the people. Their own home has been heavily damaged, they too have run the risks of sudden death. With their people they have sought the safety of public shelters where the immunities of "bomb-shelters" which are reducing them to the common level. They have gone down among the people sheltering them, sympathizing with them and sharing their magnificent confidence. It is not easy to be cheerful or confident in conditions such as these but the grand people of London, indeed the whole nation, are achieving a prize any country would be proud indeed of the example
they are setting the world
in human courage.

We are having an opportunity of paying our tribute to them.
They have not appeared to us as conquerors. They are the complains it did not give us.
But we can be sure that for what we can do for the sacrifices they can make to succeed them, they will be grateful. For our part, here in Kenya where we still enjoy an many of the good things of life, secured to us because the British people are so brave all we ask is the chance to help. Money is a poor tribute to courage, but in times
like these it has its good uses.

Three Day Search For Airmen

"WILLIAM" HERO OF EPISODE

In a recently published detailed account of the air tragedy on August 2 at which eight officers and other members of the East and South Africa Force were killed, the distinguished rescue parties in searching the Tanganyika bush, and the heroic actions of the airmen were shown very clearly.

The first four of an accident the night of August 2nd, when the Maasi wireless station stated that the aeroplane which had left Mombasa in the early morning had not reached its destination, which was Dodoma.

The rescue party consisted of a portable wireless promptly set out from Mombasa for the landing ground near Ndarua, where it was thought the plane might have been lost, but it was not there.

It was at this point that the party found a woman whose wireless station-hours later when they had nearly reached the crashed plane, they learned that the Kenyan Native Auxiliary party had reached the survivors, found their wounds and set off on an all-night trek to Kilimanjaro.

THE BIGGEST TYRE ADVANCE IN 25 YEARS!

Not since the first double ply tyre came back in 1913
with the Double Eagle tyre from the Goodyear plant in Akron, Ohio, as this new DOUBLE EAGLE

This latest of tyre engineering is new in appearance
— new in performance — new even in basic material.
The body of the Double Eagle is built with RAYOVIT — a silk-cotton cord developed by Goodyear that combines amazing strength with excellent lightness and resiliency.

So strong an engineer is built, is Resilient that it remains using a far longer, longer-wearing tread. So long is the tread-body that it brings an increased riding comfort and easy steering. In fact, the Double

Right rolls so smoothly that it smoothly decreases
frictional component!

Go to your Goodyear dealer and see this new
new tyre — equipped with either the traditional A.B.
Weather Center Traction tread or the new tread result. Fit a full new set and enjoy the modern safety, smoothness, and long mileage that no other tyre can offer you.

BELGIAN REFUGEES IN BRITAIN Skilled Men Now Idle Who Want To Work For Us

London. The problem of enemy aliens in this country is not the only one of its kind to cause heartburning and anxiety. The cause of certain kinds of public indignation is the number of Belgian refugees after the invasion of their country in 1940. In an official statement issued last week, the Minister of Labour, Mr. Ernest Bevin, said that most of them are not given the opportunity they desire to work in the Allied cause in any way or in any form with most undesirable results both to themselves and to their British hosts.

The most difficult case is that of the Belgian engineers. To begin with they furnish the largest contingent of engineers of any Allied nation. There are, in fact, some 15,000 of them in London and a few other cities. They are almost entirely dependent on public assistance. Few of them have any knowledge of English. Many come from the Flemish coast area, and converse habitually in their own native tongue. They are suffering under a special difficulty as compared with their Danish, Norwegian, Polish, Czech, and even French counterparts. It is not so far as the Belgians have to recognize the fact that their country is not a neutral one, and that they are not to be treated as such. They are not to be treated as such. They are not to be treated as such.

British workmen, many of whom are in the front line of human civilization, are in the latter of language exclusively alien. In the slightest and mentioning question of possible difficulties, they are liable to be regarded as the least fit in some possible quarters that exist in their intellectual mental scope, and in their ability to understand a person's language. It is not a person's language in case of human beings, and it is not a person's language in case of human beings.

An Unhallowed Tradition Until they left Belgium quite a number of these refugees were employed in one sort or another. Civil Service employees, engineers, and other professions, or in various capacities. The amount of these allowances would, of course, in no case be sufficient under the circumstances placed in this country.

There is a large number of such unqualified Belgian workmen, some of whom are in the front line of human civilization, and some of whom are in the front line of human civilization.

DEATH OF FAMOUS HOAXER Known as "North Pole Ananias"

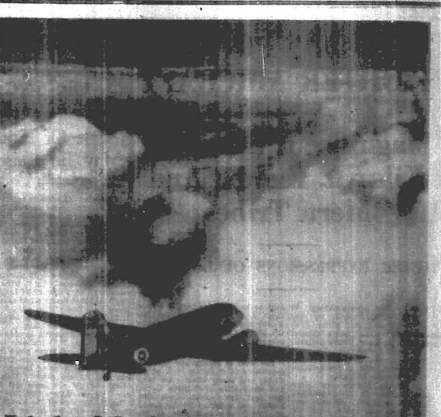

London. One of the world's greatest hoaxes, the story of the discovery of the North Pole, died yesterday, according to the Daily Herald.

Cook was appointed surgeon to one of Lord Ponsonby's Arctic expeditions. This gave him his taste for exploration. He took an expedition of his own to Greenland in 1895. It was a failure and he was expelled almost the following year.

British journalists rushed to Copenhagen to get the latest news on the expedition. They were disappointed to find that the expedition had failed. The expedition had failed.

A Week-end Sermon Today is the Age of Miracles

Turning to his disciples Jesus said privately "Blessed are the eyes which see the things that I say, which ye do not see. For I tell you that many prophets and kings have desired to see the things which ye see and have them not, and have heard them and have heard them not."

That our Lord was able to send out into the country disciples less than 70 specially selected Messengers, is a fact which is a considerable indication of the power which he had at his disposal at that time.

It is rather strange to find that the Lord selected His messengers and sent them out, when He Himself was in the village where He was to preach.

They were not even to take a pocket or a wallet, nor an extra pair of sandals. They were to be like soldiers, not in active service, but ready to march at a moment's notice.

No doubt our Lord followed His own rule, and it is not surprising that some time after this when He had gone on to Jerusalem, He was to find that the Jews were not even to take a pocket or a wallet, nor an extra pair of sandals.

GEN. SMUTS AND HITLER

Following is the weekly South African News Summary, supplied by S.A.P.A. South-West Africa has followed up its recent donation of £2,000 to the Merchant Marine and Navy Department by contributing £1,100 for the purchase of a motor launch.

Our Lord's contemporaries, except for those who followed Him, completely failed to understand that they were living in the dawn of a special revelation. So blind were they to this fact that they crucified the Lord of Glory.

That we are living in days when things are happening which can only be rightly understood by those who believe in unseen and spiritual things, is a fact which is becoming more and more apparent.

These were the views expressed by the Prime Minister, General J. C. Smuts, in a speech at the Cape, Cape Town, where a petition, bearing the signature of 250,000 South Africans, asking for "Peace through Victory" was handed to the Prime Minister.

Back of every Goodyear tyre stands a mountain of skill and experience gained by the largest rubber manufacturer in all the world. This pays rich dividends to the motorist in terms of long mileage, great dependability and safety, as brilliantly proved in Goodyear's great new tyre—The DeLuxe All-Weather. Here is the amazing tyre whose famous All-Weather Center Traction Tread has been improved for still greater safety. . . . No tyre manufacturer—not even Goodyear—has ever been able to better that basic diamond block pattern for non-skid traction, for fast starts and quick stops. . . . But, by a rearrangement of the All-Weather Tread, the DeLuxe All-Weather is even more sure-footed, and quiet rolling, more resistant to skidding in all directions, than former Goodyears. . . . A new and improved Superwrist Cord body and greater inbuilt strength in the sidewall area are further improvements that mean peak quality throughout for this new tyre. Yet, with all this, the DeLuxe All-Weather costs you nothing extra—costs no more than you're accustomed to paying for good tyres.

WHY CAN'T WE SIT ON OUR SHOULDER-BLADES!

It is a melancholy fact that even the most conscientious search of Kenya, Uganda or Tanganyika would hardly reveal a single specimen of the long wicker chair. You know the kind of chair, with special cubby-holes in its arms to accommodate glass and bottle. No magazine illustration of life in the Tropics is complete without one. They abound in the films. But out here we seek them in vain.

When the sun goes down, we in East Africa must take to wall and or orthodox bar stools which are neither comfortable as a perch than the top of a flag-pole. But that goodness we can get Rose's Lime Juice for our Ginlets and long drinks. For Rose's is the pure juice of fresh fruit. It's squeezed out of the fruit, not poured out of a test tube. Rose's are quite sure about this, as they grow the limes themselves. Naturally Rose's Lime Juice costs a little more than synthetic concoctions, but you do get the real thing.

EVENTS IN A

from SIMLA

INDIA'S central position as a producer of war supplies East of Suez is emphasised by the impending visit of a Minister of Supply Mission headed by Sir Alexander Rogers, and the decision to hold the Eastern Group Conference in Delhi in October.

Arrangements are being made for the October Conference on the assumption that it will hold a six-week session. Representatives of Australia, New Zealand South Africa, Southern Rhodesia, Burma, Hongkong, Ceylon, Malaya and the Netherlands East Indies are expected to attend, which will attend, will be predominantly Governmental.

Described as a "spin and minus conference" it is not a general economic discussion but the settlement of a joint war supply policy for the Eastern Group under which the participating countries will make the existing and potential capacity for war supply of each nation.

It is hoped that the policy itself will make the conference the Eastern Group as far as possible self-sufficient for war supply purposes, the deficiencies of one participating country being made good from the available or potential resources of the others. Any surplus production would, if the general war effort of the Empire, be made available for the general war effort of the Empire.

The possibility is visualised here of the opportunity being taken by members of the Conference to establish contacts in connection with general problems of supply that those which fall strictly within the framework of the Conference. There are, it is pointed out, large quantities of commodities available for instance—wheat are supplied in the Conference in general, but it is pointed out, large quantities of commodities available for instance—wheat are supplied in the Conference in general, but it is pointed out, large quantities of commodities available for instance—wheat are supplied in the Conference in general.

Sulphur Comment

Evolution, one ponderously pronounced an expert, is based on nothing save a commentator in The Statesman. In other words, the amount of sulphur sold in a country may be the measure of the civilization. Like most expert opinions this exaggerates the effect of the production of sulphur, but it is a good idea to attend the Conference has given a new impetus to the industry, and it is a good idea to attend the Conference has given a new impetus to the industry, and it is a good idea to attend the Conference has given a new impetus to the industry.

Motiv to be happy with

WHATEVER your occupation is these days - and there is a handy answer - who has an occupation at all - sooner or later, because of weary work or what-ever things go sour on you and you want more than anything, to get away from it all.

Last week I wrote of a rather wretched lot of going to the coast and by this time this appears in print, please Heaven, I'll be there. But this inevitable occasion has not blinded me to the fact that there might be many people living up-country, both in towns and in farms, who just can't get away long enough to make it worth while going that distance. For them, and particularly the town-workers, I advise a week-end, or even a day in the country.

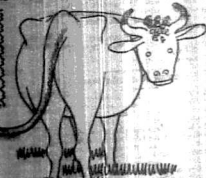

And when I say "in the country" I mean the hills. Open spaces, and a horizon here however far away and under a blue sky. The joy of seeing a green valley or running hill, and a road leading to the plain, which would be as new to the man who has spent his life in the city as you have time for when you can only manage an all-day picnic.

There are plenty of places to go to enjoy your time in the country and a suburban air you need for it. And the most useful way to get to the nearest river, or to the coast, is by the motor car. The car is the most useful way to get to the nearest river, or to the coast, is by the motor car. The car is the most useful way to get to the nearest river, or to the coast, is by the motor car.

The Hunter, complete with a few dogs at his disposal - and after his game or wild fowl, or a few sheep camp in the open, the complete hunter just sitting, smoking and eating, just sitting, smoking and eating, just sitting, smoking and eating.

But even those who are not hunters, or who do not wish to go to the coast, can enjoy the country. There are many ways to enjoy the country. There are many ways to enjoy the country. There are many ways to enjoy the country.

BUCKINGHAM PALACE BOMBED AGAIN

The greatest number of British fighter planes ever seen over London at one time succeeded in beating of two determined Nazi attempts to raid the Metropolis on Saturday afternoon.

This reverse to the enemy, coupled with even more effective anti-aircraft fire during last night's attack, gave Londoners one of their longest respites early on Sunday morning.

It is also reassuring news that both casualties and damage in the London area have been on a correspondingly reduced scale, though one or two big public buildings have been hit.

Further information about the damage which has been done to London includes a statement that an unexploded bomb has fallen near St. Paul's.
