CRISIS OVER MOROCCO

M. Faure asks for confidence vote

GAULLIST REVOLT: THREE MINISTERS DISMISSED

M. Faure today decided to stake the life of his seventh-month Government on a vote of confidence in his North African policies. The Cabinet authorized the move after being split as a Gaullist revolt over the handling of the Moroccan situation.

Faced with Gaullist demands that he should make way for a 'Government of National Solidarity', M. Faure dismissed three Gaullist Ministers and the Gaullist Under-Secretary for Overseas Territories. A Government spokesman said that the Premier would replace some or all of the Ministers within a few days.

The National Assembly was asked for an urgent debate today by M. Faure to defend his policies. Only one Gaullist Minister remained in the Government—Minister for Transport, M. Comblain-Moulinier. The dismissed Ministers were the Minister of Defence, Gen. Koening; the Minister for Overseas Territories, M. Palewski; the Minister for Ex-Services, M. Triollet; and the Minister for Agriculture, M. P. Blundell.

He said that the willing cooperation given by many farmers in food denial measures was gratefully recognized. It was the Government's intention that the sacrifice they were called on to make should not be unavailing.

"An insistence of food denial is an great, however, that I would like to see make any considerable valuation," the Minister added.

He was replying to a question by Mr. Humphrey Shute (Abertawe) who asked if the reduction of military force in the Emergency zone was not a sacrifice of commercial interests to the Government's intention of a real relaxation of effect on the food situation.

Reduction justified
 Mr. Blundell said that the reduction in military force was justified, partly by the general improvement in the Emergency situation and partly by the increased support in the police and Administration to maintain law and order in the Emergency zone. He said that the reduction was only one of the steps which had been taken to bring about a real relaxation of effect on the food situation.

Some of the groups were asked to bring "water food targets" in the settled areas and from that time on the first instance, no further reduction was possible. He said that the Government was now in a position to reduce the force in the Emergency zone and to bring about a real relaxation of effect on the food situation.

"Those being reduced would not be offset by a corresponding increase in the police force. It would be a corresponding increase in the police force."

C.P.A. gift to Legislative Council

KENYA TO RAISE £2,500,000 LOAN

Development plan finance

A SILVER intimated, the gift of the Government of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association, which was presented to the Kenya Legislative Council yesterday.

The presentation was made by the Minister for Finance, Mr. Vanyu, who is a member of the C.P.A. Government.

Before he handed the intimated to the Speaker, Mr. Vanyu read a letter from Mr. Harold Black, Chairman of the Government of the C.P.A., who referred to the gift and said that the Government would have to raise as much money as possible to finance the development plan for 1955-56.

The loan programme to finance the development plan has been stated to be £1,715,000.

A Treasury official said yesterday that the amount of £2,500,000 to help finance projects under the 1954-55 development programme, it will be the kind of two or three loans to be raised before June, 1957. The bulk of the loan—£2,100,000—will be guaranteed and the balance undertaken by the Government.

Farm guards to be more mobile

AGGRESSIVE ROLE IN FOOD DENIAL DRIVE

PLANS are being made to make farm guards more mobile and more aggressive in their role in the food denial drive. It was the Government's intention that the sacrifice they were called on to make should not be unavailing.

"An insistence of food denial is an great, however, that I would like to see make any considerable valuation," the Minister added.

Rebels still pinning down 2,000 French troops

Rif Mountains of Morocco

RIF tribesmen are still pinning down 2,000 French troops in the Rif Mountains of Morocco, according to a French Army spokesman at Fez yesterday. He said that white flags had begun to appear at roadside villages between Aknoul and Bouvel, where Foreign Legionnaires and Spahis fought their way out of an Arab trap.

It was said that the Arab trap was set in the hills of Aknoul, where a French unit of about 2,000 men was pinned down by 400 tribesmen. The French unit was pinned down for several days, but was eventually rescued by a French unit from the southern edge of the Rif Mountains. INCENTIVE FOR NEW INDUSTRIES

Development in S. Rhodesia

GOVERNMENT departments are taking place in Rhodesia with a view to setting up an Industrial Development Corporation to assist with the establishment of industries needed to advance the country's economy. The Government has decided to offer, as an incentive to those industries, a 10 per cent rebate on the income tax payable on profits.

TIMBER WASTE THROUGH BAD CUTTING

Government held responsible

WASTEFUL methods of timber cutting and logging by Government Departments and statutory bodies are commented on in the fifth annual report of the Southern Rhodesia Mining Timber Control Board. In the report, the Board states that the Government is responsible for the waste of timber. It says that the Government has failed to set up an appropriate system of control and that it has not been able to enforce the rules. The Board also criticizes the Government for not providing adequate training for timber cutters and for not having a proper system of licensing.

TrIBUTE TO MINES

The report discusses the amount of tribute for which permits were issued in the mining industry amounted to some 4,000,000 Rhodesia Pounds. It also points out that the mining industry is one of the main sources of revenue for the Government and that it is essential for the Government to have a fair and equitable system of tribute.

Freehold scheme for farm land

The Southern Rhodesia Government has accepted a scheme for the granting of freehold title to agricultural land. The scheme is designed to encourage the development of agriculture and to provide a more secure tenure for farmers. It will apply to land in the rural areas of the country.

Handicaps to health from religious beliefs

Cyprus

In his latest lecture in the series on the health of the people in Cyprus, Dr. Michael Gelland, consulting physician of the Salisbury Hospital, told the members of the Cyprus Association of Associated Country Physicians of the World in Salisbury.

He pointed to the African's religious beliefs as a major handicap to his health. He said that many of these beliefs are based on superstition and are often in conflict with modern medical science. He gave the example of the belief that a person should not be treated for a disease until they have performed a certain religious ceremony.

Dr. Gelland also discussed the importance of education in improving health. He said that many of the health problems in Cyprus are due to a lack of knowledge about basic hygiene and nutrition. He called for more health education programmes to be implemented in the country.

He also mentioned the need for better medical services in Cyprus. He said that there is a shortage of doctors and nurses, and that the existing facilities are often inadequate. He called for more investment in the health sector.

Dr. Gelland concluded his lecture by saying that the health of the people in Cyprus is a complex problem that requires a multi-faceted approach. He called for a combination of education, better medical services, and a change in religious beliefs to improve the health of the country.

Bombay Customs

Sir, — We should like to express our appreciation for the information provided in your issue of September 15, 1954, regarding the proposed changes in the Customs Act in Bombay. We are particularly interested in the proposed changes in the definition of 'goods' and 'dutiable goods'.

We are of the opinion that the proposed changes are necessary to bring the Customs Act in Bombay in line with the provisions of the Customs Act in other parts of India. We believe that the proposed changes will help to simplify the Customs Act and to reduce the burden on traders.

We are also of the opinion that the proposed changes will help to increase the revenue of the Government. We believe that the proposed changes will help to reduce the number of cases of evasion and to increase the number of cases of detection.

We are sure that the proposed changes will be well received by the public. We believe that the proposed changes will help to improve the efficiency of the Customs Department and to increase the confidence of the public in the Customs Department.

Keen and exciting show jumping attracts big crowds

From a Special Correspondent

THIS show jumping at the Royal Show at Mitchell Park last weekend proved spectators with a full measure of interest and excitement during the four days on which it took place. A large crowd packed the arena for each open competition final and the championship, which took place on the last day. They concerned the same three horses in the final day, although six jumpers took part in the event.

This year's open jumping was held on the 25th and 26th of October. The winner was a further £200 in the three classes. The prize money was awarded and presented to the winners by the Kenya Jockey Club.

Good prize money
 The stakes for driving so much for a win and so little for a loss have, will have serious consequences. Not only the prize money but the fact that the prize money is not awarded until the horse has been shown to be sound and fit to go to the final round.

The winner was Mr. Hart's horse, Bay Bridge, ridden with great skill by Mr. John Sprague, who celebrated his 50th birthday on the day. The horse was owned by Mr. Hart's wife, Mrs. Hart, who is a very successful business woman. The horse was trained by Mr. Hart's brother, Mr. Hart, who is also a very successful business man.

 This is the first time that the Kenya Jockey Club has presented a show jumping competition. The prize money was awarded to the winners by the Kenya Jockey Club.

Number of murder cases halved

KENYA POLICE 1954 REPORT

CASES of murder, attempted murder and manslaughter in Kenya dropped by more than a half in 1954, it is revealed in the Kenya Police report for the year. There were 71 cases as compared with 152 in 1953. In most serious offences, terrorists were responsible. Offences against property fell by 62 per cent to 12,804, but offences against persons rose from 1,216 in 1953 to 1,521.

At the end of 1954 the force required 146 Europeans, 97 Asians and 328 Africans to reach full establishment. The racial composition of the force then was 1,131 European, 106 Asian, and 3,682 Africans.

The report discloses that seven European inspectors, one Asian inspector and 254 Africans were dismissed during the year for breaches of discipline. Of these, 41 were dismissed after criminal conviction.

Amendments to African Marriage Law Proposed
The Marriage and Divorce (Amendment) Bill, 1954, was given a second reading in Kenya Legislative Council on October 27. It was introduced by the Attorney-General, C. J. W. O. G. who said that the proposed amendments were considered desirable by the Council.

Temporary churches
The request, which has been granted only in respect of buildings made of corrugated material. The created difficulties in Kapsambere, where there were churches built of temporary material. Marriage could now be performed at such places.

Another object of the Bill was to allow conversion marriages to be contracted before licensed ministers as well as before the Registrar in the usual position of the Registrar under the Ordinance.

Change in Crown Land fund
Kenya Legislative Council has approved a motion which will transfer to the Government the fund for the purchase of land for the Government.

PASSENGER RECORD FOR EAST AFRICAN AIRWAYS

Profit of £7,817 during 1954

WHEN the East African Airways Corporation prepared its estimates for 1954 it expected an operating loss of about £45,000 and a final deficit of £63,000. But the actual profit was £7,817 during the year.

The airline, which was started in 1946, has since then expanded its services to include routes to London, Cairo, Baghdad, Bombay, Madras, and Colombo.

The airline's success is due to a number of factors, including the introduction of the jet engine, which has allowed the airline to reduce its operating costs.

The airline's success is also due to the fact that it has been able to attract a large number of passengers, particularly from the East African region.

AMONG THE NEW BOOKS

THE Royal Family have recently added an activity to their many-sided activities by taking part as exhibitors at a 1955 Royal African Jubilee. Many of us will have a good idea of the occasion. But I wonder if you have heard of the Queen Mother's Jubilee. This is a book which has been written up down in the form of a diary by the author, who has been with the Queen Mother and her family during the Jubilee. It is a very different copy of the book, but it is a very good one. It is a very good one. It is a very good one.

LONDON'S NEW TECHNIQUE — THE ITALIAN CUT

By Dorothy Barkley

HAIR-STYLING changes with the whims and fancies of passing fashion as much as dress itself changes. Short cuts are the vogue, and long hair is next—there's no limit to the variety.

But now in London there is one new technique in hair-styling—the Italian cut—which draws to all the changes in fashion an underlying link. For the best style, in the same matter what the style, and it positions a soft, natural look, encouraging the hair's nature, at will.

The few hairdressers who have brought this new fashion to London say they call it the Italian cut. Mr. Richard and Mr. Henry explain that it has been helped by new tools. The cold permanent waving has brought a new softness, and the use of vegetable dyes, in place of chemical dyes—two things which the hair highlights and softens in a matter of minutes.

The Italian cut, which came to London in a small way just after the war, now looks as if it is here to stay. So far they have opened three salons in London, all of them giving the same technique to their clients. To keep the assistants up to date in style, and to train the new apprentices, Mr. Richard and Mr. Henry teach night classes at one or other of the salons every night.

Every hairdresser works towards creating the ideal shape of hair—the oval shape, says Mr. Richard. "Hair is not done or brushed out to give this illusion. A hairdresser after all changes a woman's outlook more than a hat," and it is worth as a skill or dress.

They are, however, a super-hairdresser which is the new line and it decides the natural hair-styling technique. It will have heavy suits and an Italian style of hair.

FROM Ronald Paterson, of the hairdressers of the Top Theatre, comes a new fashion which will continue to be one of the definite and most secret. It is a hairdresser which is the new line and it decides the natural hair-styling technique. It will have heavy suits and an Italian style of hair.

outside colours have taken their place," he says. Many of these are created by waving two tones together, brown with black, or gray with grey, for instance.

Worship of the hair—choice is the use of hair-weight qualities. The heavier and denser wavy hair is fashion sense. A highlight of the collection will be a featherweight one which, though light and soft, wears in waves, yet has sufficient back for long curls and tresses with machine curlers.

Another new word is waves on pure silk material, and featherweight and cordular.

Other fashions suggest that history is to be the supreme of the new collection. For Ronald Paterson has also picked velvet tulle, with delicate colored fringes, pattern, some in medieval design, and some in a style which is reminiscent of gold thread.

Miss Bakers, one of our best-known fabric producers who has helped make British silk, nylon and rayon among the best in the world, is now competing with the French.

For the new growing fashion fabrics in England and having them made in the heart of the French silk producing country at Lyons. And, what SNATCHED INTO SPACE?

It is well-known now how the ship's development, a kind of spiritual or, if you prefer, a kind of personality, like the Mary Celeste, illustrates this in a most striking manner.

After reading the account of how she was discovered, one is struck by the fact that she was found in a position which could not be explained by any theory of the drift.

The dramatic discovery of her crew was a most interesting one. The ship was found in a position which could not be explained by any theory of the drift.

'This could explain the MYSTERY OF THE MARY CELESTE'

REFORE I specify what I believe to be the most probable cause of the disaster, I must consider several other possibilities.

Here is a list of a few ones which I believe to be possible causes of the disaster.

On a calm day near Cape Cod, the ship was seen by a fisherman. The fisherman was on the shore, and he saw the ship in the distance. The ship was seen by a fisherman. The fisherman was on the shore, and he saw the ship in the distance.

to explain and damage the vessel, without causing any other damage.

Not only that, but the damage in respect from a lightning strike was not confined to the ship, but it was also seen in the air.

In February, 1921, when the ship was found with all the crew dead, the fact was also noted that the ship was in a position which could not be explained by any theory of the drift.

THE New York Times, of the 12th of February, 1921, discusses the disappearance of the ship, and the fact that the ship was found in a position which could not be explained by any theory of the drift.

The ship was found in a position which could not be explained by any theory of the drift. The ship was found in a position which could not be explained by any theory of the drift.

DAMAGE done to the ship by lightning strikes is a common feature of these events and clearly indicates activity above the ship or at least near it.

May I also suggest that there is a possibility that the ship was struck by lightning. The ship was found in a position which could not be explained by any theory of the drift.

THE vessel, a small narrow boat, was seen by a fisherman. The fisherman was on the shore, and he saw the ship in the distance. The ship was seen by a fisherman. The fisherman was on the shore, and he saw the ship in the distance.

The ship was found in a position which could not be explained by any theory of the drift. The ship was found in a position which could not be explained by any theory of the drift.

Now let us see what records a bit closer. First of all, the ship was found in a position which could not be explained by any theory of the drift.

WEST'S STRATEGIC BRANDEL AS CHIEF OF STAFF

Closer ties urged by Lord Montgomery

NEED FOR UNIFIED AIR FORCE AND COMMAND

FIELD-MARSHAL Viscount Montgomery, NATO Deputy Supreme Commander, told Service chiefs in London yesterday that, in his view, the West's organisation for war was totally and completely unsuited to modern times.

He said that the first thing to be clear about was the question of strategy—"get that wrong and the whole thing is cooked". In global war in the foreseeable future, air power was the dominant factor. Therefore, the object in the West's strategy must be to win command of the air.

The Western Alliance would never be masters of the air; however, unless its air forces were organised and controlled into one single agency.

Lord Montgomery advocated bringing the three Service corps together—even to the extent, if necessary, of combining them into one. The staffs had been reduced to standard divisions should be formed and the army and infantry divisions, as known today, should be abolished.

The Western Alliance had to have the means of centrally controlling all the movements of global strategy—particularly of the air command. "You must establish a single political authority for the direction of global war," he continued. "The Western nations must do so and would do so that authority in North America. KEEN RACING ON
ELDORET TRACK

C. Little (Cooper) wins four
From our Special Correspondent

THE Western Kenya Motor Club, a very lively body, held a meeting on their track near the Eldoret racecourse on October 10 and produced some exciting racing, and at least one "unlamented aviator" before an outdoor crowd in perfect weather. It was a well-run meeting and the only race (barring that which followed concerning the race and dusty nature of the track) that was of a high class.

The track is situated in lovely country and the racecourse is well equipped with a grandstand and a refreshment bar. The race was well covered but a thoroughly enjoyable one. The most interesting feature was the fact that the race was won by a small motor car from a country which is very new to the club.

Nice day's work
C. Little took up his remarkable well-known Cooper-JAP Formula 1 car and handled the tricky little race car like a real master. In fact, he won the race and set a new record. The race was very well covered and the weather was perfect. The race was a real success and the club was very well served.

Production tours
A party of 10 from the club went on a production tour to the Eldoret racecourse. The tour was very well organized and the club was very well served. The tour was a real success and the club was very well served.

Improving the 'Tote' facilities
It is understood that in the near future the Jockey Club of Kenya propose to install a Totalisator approx. 1000 yards in length at the Ngongu Forest course. Nairobi, similar to those at English racecourses where electric Totalisators are not operated. This would result in the approximate odds payable on a bet for a win, according to the money wagered, at 1 to 1 and one minute before the advertised starting time of the race. This would be a considerable improvement on the present system of giving backers a fair bet on the odds, which is not until the race has started. It is understood that in addition to the usual Totalisator facilities, it is proposed to introduce a forecast betting for all races where more than three horses are declared to start.

Only seven retired
He won the Uganda Motor Club Prix de £20 and a set of gold plated type presented to him by the club. Seven cars retired out of 10 starters.

A Tweedie family final at Turbo
The open handicap tennis tournament for mixed singles for the Leaving Cup was held at Turbo country club recently and attracted a far larger than usual attendance. It was arranged by Mr. W. Tweedie, who was assisted by Mr. D. Douglas, Mr. D. Skinner, Mr. K. and Mrs. M. and Mrs. B. C. Tweedie, who were the usual Turbo Club members.

District cricket
Over the Queen's Day holiday period, the First Hill C.C. played its first match at Ngongu and lost to the club by seven wickets. Good weather was enjoyed and the match was very well covered. The match was a real success and the club was very well served.

HOW TO STOP A HEADACHE
Why Phenico is better than aspirin

MEDICAL research is always going on. For instance, doctors all over the world are studying pain—why we have it and how we can get rid of it. They can now measure the intensity of pain with a hand-held, and test the power of different drugs to kill it.

AN INTERESTING FACT
In their research, our scientists have discovered that Aspirin does not kill pain—it only dulls it. Phenico, on the other hand, actually kills pain. When you take Phenico, you feel the pain go away, and you feel better, and you feel stronger.

PHENICO
contains aspirin, phenacetin and caffeine. For HEADACHE, ALLIERS, COLIC, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, BRUISES, BURNS, SCALDS, AND ALL OTHER PAINFUL AFFECTIONS.

HOLIDAYS IN EAST AFRICA

A 'NIAGARA' ON OUR DOORSTEP

By Michael Holmberg

MURCHISON FALLS, in Northern Uganda, is probably the finest of the Nile's waterfalls...

There is the long wide river, the Nile, the Nile, the Nile, the Nile, the Nile...

But it is supposed to be a holiday, a holiday, a holiday, a holiday, a holiday...

Fortunately, these details are printed in the Nile...

The warden will give you a permit to visit the Government rest camp and go up the river on a motor launch.

It is not an expensive trip, you need allow yourself only enough for fuel, say two nights in hotels and two or three hours for the launch trip and enough food for three or four good meals.

One way to visit Murchison Falls is to take a overnight journey on an East African Railway and Hotel launch from Rutaba, on Lake Albert.

On the journey, you can go by motor road and return by motor. The best way is to take the afternoon and reach Entebbe before night.

This is a real outdoor holiday for the motorist, with a lot of new-parade motor cars and a lot of new-parade motor cars.

By road, it was probably the most beautiful of the Nile's waterfalls, but the scenery is generally very dry and barren, and the river is rather inclined to be unproductive...

A lot of water, which is very well contained in the Nile, is used for irrigation, and the water is used for irrigation, and the water is used for irrigation...

In the center of Gulu, I found a large signpost which pointed in the direction of the Nile. It was a signpost which pointed in the direction of the Nile...

Amur and Anaka to be in reasonable condition. You drive through open bush country with a fair sprinkling of game...

But there the excitement ends. At the end of the steps, you find a magnificent waterfall, and the Nile is in the foreground, and the Nile is in the foreground...

From a landing which spans the creek, you can watch the water falling, and the water falling, and the water falling...

The river suddenly narrows to a narrow channel, and the water is used for irrigation, and the water is used for irrigation...

These groups of people move about aimlessly, but the launch does not go with them, as though the bees have broken through the electric wire...

At least this gives you an opportunity of seeing the Nile, and the Nile is in the foreground, and the Nile is in the foreground...

England, you would find it for work on a motor launch, and the Nile is in the foreground, and the Nile is in the foreground...

The Nile is in the foreground, and the Nile is in the foreground, and the Nile is in the foreground...

The African guides of the Nile, are first class at their work, and they are first class at their work, and they are first class at their work...

You want a good photograph of the Nile, and the Nile is in the foreground, and the Nile is in the foreground...

At least this gives you an opportunity of seeing the Nile, and the Nile is in the foreground, and the Nile is in the foreground...

England, you would find it for work on a motor launch, and the Nile is in the foreground, and the Nile is in the foreground...

The Nile is in the foreground, and the Nile is in the foreground, and the Nile is in the foreground...

A view of the Nile in the wide reaches below the Falls.

It is the fact that dogs so slowly but surely we are beginning to discover that we are living in a dog's world. Statistics show that human beings are rather dull.

It is the fact that dog-finders have been busy in the canine and pet world. The results are revealing and fascinating.

In the United States, the dog population is increasing at a rate five times greater than that of the human population. At least there are more than 2,000,000 dog-owners in that country, many of whom are their own best friends. Sweden Builds Glass Houses For Glass Blowers

GLASS houses are one of the most interesting experiments in modern building technique. In Sweden, where the climate is so severe, the glass houses are built to protect the glass blowers from the cold. The houses are built of glass and are heated from below. The blowers work in the houses for long hours, and the houses are built to protect them from the cold. The houses are built of glass and are heated from below. Smokers Feel The Pinch - Of Stuff

THE recent scare linking smoking with lung cancer, plus the high cost of tobacco and cigarettes, have rocked the world of stuff in Britain, where the habit has been steadily growing in popularity since 1920. In many parts of Britain, smoking is now a necessary part of life. The cost of tobacco and cigarettes has risen sharply, and the health risks are becoming more apparent. Smokers are feeling the pinch, and many are looking for ways to reduce their consumption.

Exports
One firm up in Kendal, Lancashire, is now producing a new pipe that is made of a special material. The pipe is designed to be more durable and to last longer. The firm is also producing a new cigarette case that is made of a special material. The case is designed to be more durable and to last longer.

In favour of SHUFF-TAKING

SHUFF-TAKING has been found to be a very effective method of reducing the risk of lung cancer. The method involves taking small amounts of tobacco and cigarettes throughout the day, rather than a large amount at one time. This method has been found to be more effective than other methods of reducing tobacco consumption.

QUESTION

Were they WATCHED INTO SPACE?

LITTLE more than an interest in the countless verified reports of the strange and extraordinary movements of persons from one country and another—many miles distant.
But as we consider the possibility that they are being watched into space we must look again. Having gone to the trouble of identifying those who remain here to earth, it is not surprising that those who receive a special invitation to travel may be an element of interest. Perhaps, for the most part, the reasons for their departure are not so important as those of their return. But their choice of where to go is not a wise one.

FROM what we know about the speed of movement and the vast areas which can be covered by U.F.O.'s it is not surprising that the pilot who was probably the first to be discovered and the kidnapped person set down here.
The U.F.O., however, has a great deal of guidance that it does not realize that it is not putting the person down in relatively the same place. They can readily say that if they are that intelligent they'd know they weren't getting the person down in the same place. Perhaps it is just why would they care?

From these thoughts in mind we can review our first case of a kidnapping of October 25, 1952 (relative Don Luis Hernandez) in the Los Angeles area. The man was a soldier dressed in the uniform of the Philippine Army. He was captured in Manila, Philippines, and was taken to the Philippines. He was held there for more than 4000 hours. He was then taken to the United States. The authorities there were told that he was a spy.

Many of the things that he could not tell them were that he had been in Manila for some time. He had been in Manila for some time. He had been in Manila for some time.

The Riddle Of The Missing Airmen

BY M. K. JESSUP

Dr. Antonio de Murga, high judge of the criminal court of New Spain, in his Sharpe's Law book, has a chapter on a kidnapping. It is a chapter on a kidnapping. It is a chapter on a kidnapping.

From these plans to a point where they could be levitated without injury to themselves or damage to the plane. He was often seen. On November 25, 1949, Benjamin Harkup, returning from a flight in a biplane, was seen by a British representative. He was seen by a British representative.

Nobody knows to this day. Many suspect imposture but that doesn't fit the known circumstances. In view of some of our modern knowledge regarding prisoners, he may have been subjected to brainwashing.

CHILD Day and Stewart captured by the British in the starting from a point 400 yards from the plane. That both Bodomo could not be thought of as having no knowledge of the plane, and a search was made for a renewal of tracks. Patrols searched and found no tracks beyond the point in Bodomo. The tracks were found shortly after these tracks to the "Y" marker.

Too many people with the same name. There are thousands of people called Norko in Czechoslovakia, and far too many of them have the same first name as the man who disappeared. The writer, a doctor, lived at three Flatlands, New York. He was a doctor, and he was a doctor.
