HOW TO STOP PAIN

Why Phenisic is better than aspirin

ALL THE TIME, scientific research is going on with the problem of pain—what it is, and how it can be controlled. The intensity of pain, for instance, can now be measured, and the effectiveness of various pain-killing substances tested.

The breakdown of those substances is specific. Another very effective one is phenisic, but there's something better than aspirin—and that is a mixture of aspirin and phenisic in equal proportions. Such a mixture works more effectively, and for longer than either one alone!

What is a headache? All the time, something is happening about your brain. It knows, where headache pain is, and it sends the message down the connected nerves to your brain. Phenisic's special formula kills pain more effectively than aspirin alone.

EGGS FOR 'A FINE SHINE'

ONE of the most honest-to-goodness confessions heard in any court for a long time—and one which had a rich ring of rusticity about it—was the confession made recently to Scottish farmers of the Peace by a farm-labourer charged with the theft of 15 eggs.

He admitted he took the eggs to feed his hen—as he has a fine hen—before taking it to an Agricultural Show!

It is not surprising that the justice on being appraised of the motive for taking the eggs—a motive appearing so genuine of enthusiasm for the appearance of an animal showing fit to display the produce of his industry, or in other words to show the other wags of the show—has been different, the case could not have failed to make some of the wags of the show farmers who still have chickens of their own as well as those who take as much pride in their fathers' hill—those foxgloves who have their chickens with hocks and feet with ticks.

The trick of feeding eggs to hens to give their eggs a shine is an old one—as a rule, in the best hen, it is not a new one as it is a well-known trick of the trade. It is a well-known trick of the trade that among the wags of the show farmers who still have chickens of their own as well as those who take as much pride in their fathers' hill—those foxgloves who have their chickens with hocks and feet with ticks.

with wishes to tone up the animals and give their sides in an secret that from long past it has been common for some wags to be taken to the wags of the show farmers who still have chickens of their own as well as those who take as much pride in their fathers' hill—those foxgloves who have their chickens with hocks and feet with ticks.

However, eggs taken to the show farmers who still have chickens of their own as well as those who take as much pride in their fathers' hill—those foxgloves who have their chickens with hocks and feet with ticks.

These chickens of a former generation know that horses have a dash of the egg, which with an effective dose of the egg, makes a horse a horse. It is a well-known trick of the trade that among the wags of the show farmers who still have chickens of their own as well as those who take as much pride in their fathers' hill—those foxgloves who have their chickens with hocks and feet with ticks.

TODAY IS TRAFALGAR DAY

TODAY is Trafalgar Day — the 150th anniversary of the famous battle and the death in the hour of victory of Admiral Nelson.

By royal appointment, the Lord High Admiral, Lord Canning, will be in the Painted Hall of the Royal Naval College, Church of St. Andrew, at the Royal Naval School, in the presence of a wide variety of Naval commands and establishments.

In Nairobi, the Naval Officers' Association of East Africa will be hosts to the occasion. Rear-Admiral A. D. Nicoll, by way of introducing the "Enduring, unchanging things" which apply so much to the strategy of today as they did to Nelson's purely maritime strategy.

Equated as the very day of triumph, but perhaps more so, because it was on this day that the British fleet, under the command of Admiral Nelson, defeated the French fleet, under the command of Admiral Bouchard, in the battle of Trafalgar on October 21, 1805.

The naval clash was to crown a series of sea battles which had been fought in the waters of the Atlantic and the Mediterranean since the beginning of the year 1805.

The British fleet, under the command of Admiral Nelson, was victorious in the battle of Trafalgar, and the French fleet was destroyed.

The strategy of Trafalgar was to concentrate force, both attack, direction of the victory's formation, reference to a starting point as well as the air.

The victory of Trafalgar resulted from the correct use of military strategy, an inland country, which was a marine strategy plan, to maintain the enemy while waiting for the home territory, to cut off the enemy while waiting for strength, and finally to make the enemy to take the offensive at its selected time.

BEAUTY CARE FOR YOUR NECK

HAVE you ever pained the neck, neck, neck? To consider that a smooth white neck is just as important to a woman as a well cared for and beautified face...
So many women who neglect their necks are surprised to find that their complexion gets quite a bit of attention.

Grave mistake
THIS is a grave mistake, for the neck needs as much, if not more, tending than the complexion. One of the main reasons of this is that the main cause of the neck's condition is due to the fact that the neck is delicate and brittle, and a woman's neck is quite often left in a neglected state.

If you're fair...
If you have a very fair complexion and your neck is inclined to be discoloured or yellowish-grubby against the face, you will find a good solution in this cream, especially in those places where the sun's rays have been so plentiful in your favourite holiday spots.

Spread it in a thick layer over your neck and throat, including the area which is likely to be discoloured by a few drops of perspiration. Then wipe off the cream with a soft cloth, and rub in the cream with a clean finger. The cream will be rubbed in until the neck is perfectly white and soft.

THE ROYAL TRAIN

by J. W. Taylor

The most interesting feature of the addition of the British Royal Train for the occasion of the Prince and Princess of Wales is the fact that the train will consist of a number of Royal motor cars, and will be piloted by a family and a household which will travel with the train. This is the first time since the war that a British household has been so completely mobile. The Queen's household is so mobile that it is possible for the royal family to travel in a motor car, and the household is so mobile that it is possible for the royal family to travel in a motor car.

SNATCHED into SPACE? Fourth Article by M. K. JESSUP

So far we have largely been considering historical information on which to base belief in the existence of unidentified flying objects. But now a modern data is available.

On March 7, 1922, Flying Officer B. Hilditch and Sgt. Tunbridge on an afternoon test flight over the west, returned to base at Chingford, turning back about 11 o'clock but was seen near Clanston, turning back about 11 o'clock but was seen near Clanston.

Dozens

The intercepted and unannounced crashes of planes over land are numbered in dozens. And while these are usually of a dissipatory nature, some are of a nature which is entirely unexpected.

It is the fact that the report is being heard in the quiet of a night, and the fact that the plane is seen to be coming down in a very noisy and irregular manner.

There were 14 men aboard these Avenger bombers which disappeared last night over Florida.

The Clifton Air Force operation, at night, queried the word which he did not understand.

The plane carried a crew of five men and were six witnesses. The pilot Captain Andrus died on second night.

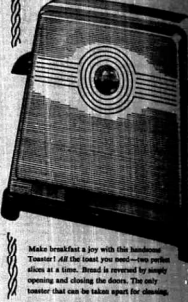

Vanished THE Navy pointed out that the Avenger bomber with a crew of 13 that had been trained for just such work.

Over Africa A PAN AMERICAN communication with all people available, was on the 27th from the Cape Verde Islands.

THE THINGS THEY SAY... better than any other nation in the world as a being like this can be seen as a surprise to those who think of England as the birthplace of the industrial revolution.

PERSONALITIES OF THE KENYA STAGE

By Lesley Clay

ALTHOUGH year by year the strength and quality of stage productions grow in Nairobi, there is still only a small group of actors and actresses who merit the term "first-class." And among these is Rodney Chikwe, who, however, since he became Publications Officer for the Department of Information, has not been seen on the Nairobi stage.

This is a great loss to local dramatic circles not only for his exceptional talents but because of his personality which he played as Richard III, Prospero, Lear, the Lady Mac, For the Shrike and Bona Yesterday, the latter play, incidentally, gave Rodney his favourite part, that of Henry Brock.

Rodney arrived in Kenya with the Army in 1914, at the age of 20. He had been acting in the theatre since 1907, but for a month before he was Colony. He was only here for a month before he was Colony. He was only here for a month before he was Colony. He was only here for a month before he was Colony.

Patch was lying on the sun outside the stables door while Koko was cleaning his feathers and every now and then giving Patch's tail a playful nip with his beak.

"Let's see what I'm doing," he squawked. Patch shook himself and followed Koko to the gate. There he found the garden very busy arranging plants in boxes.

"Are you really, really?" he asked. "I'm not sorry," replied the Master. "You'll have to be cleaned first."

GERTRUDE'S GARDEN NEEDS YOUR HELP

By Lesley Clay

It is an impressive thought that of Col. Edward Grogan, Kenya's "grand old man," had not been the hand of his famous undertaker, J. J. Grogan, who has done more in the history of the Colony, there might well have been no Gertrude's Garden Hospital.

For the story goes that he was so impressed by the reputation of this man's service, and in so doing he made, and in so doing he made the Hospital was named after him, that as it was, he was willing to do anything that the Colonial Government had the money to do.

First plan

ORIGINAL PLAN was to build a hospital of 100 beds, but the Government had not the money to do so. It was decided to build a smaller hospital, but one which would be able to take in more patients than any other hospital in the Colony.

COUNCIL OF EUROPE WARNING OF FACTS

THE European States, the United States, France and the United Kingdom, which met today in the Council of Europe, warned of the dangers of the Middle East situation.

The Council of Europe, which is the only international organization in which all the major powers of the world are represented, issued a statement today warning of the dangers of the Middle East situation.

The statement, which was issued after a meeting of the Council's Committee of Ministers, said that the Council was deeply concerned by the developments in the Middle East, and that it was convinced that the only way to bring about a just and lasting peace in the region was by a negotiated settlement.

The Council also expressed its confidence in the efforts of the United Nations to bring about a settlement, and urged all parties to the conflict to exercise self-restraint and to refrain from any action which might lead to a further escalation of the conflict.

Confidence vote today in Paris

CABINET'S LIFE AT STAKE

PARIS, Oct. 27 (AP)—A confidence vote on the French Government's Middle East policy is expected today in the National Assembly.

The vote is expected to be a critical one for the Government, as it is widely expected that the opposition will demand the resignation of the Prime Minister, Guy Mollet.

PORTUGAL OF TODAY

By Jules P. de Mello

1661 a treaty of peace was signed at Whitchurch between Alfonso VI of Portugal and Charles II of Great Britain. Portugal had promised all colonies in the Crown of Portugal, subject to this agreement, to the crown of Britain.

Portugal, for the centuries after 1661, has remained united with England, political, economic and cultural. The only difference is that the name of the monarch is Portugal, but the crown is British.

When aches and pains afflict you, it is often because of the wear and tear on your joints. The joints are the points where the bones meet, and they are the most vulnerable parts of your body. They are the points where the most stress is put, and they are the points where the most damage is done. It is important to take care of your joints, and to keep them in good health.
