 COMPANY, HUNTER

The Safari Motor Corporation, East Africa's first motor car company, was launched yesterday in Nairobi which may make it the most successful in its four years' history.

The company is competing for nearly £1,000,000 cash prizes and supplies, the entry is higher and the prizes are more valuable. Safari officials are confident of the success of this year's safari, and are determined to put the event on the international scale to attract the finest drivers from all over the world.

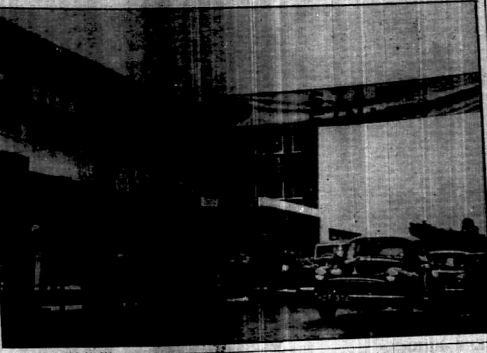

The Safari is a test of production models and the entries are expected to average 40-45 mph, in some cases possibly the most thrilling in the world. The cars are of the 900 cc type, and the very best from sea level to 9,000 feet.

The Safari also includes for the first time a speed trial. The results of the test will be made public.

The Safari also accounts for two drivers in the Safari, the chairman of the committee, Mr. P. B. Davies said. We are convinced that this year's Safari will be the most successful in its history, and we are confident that it will be a success.

LOW-COST HOUSING PLAN FOR SALISBURY

Move to overcome shortage

IOW-COST housing schemes are being planned by the Salisbury City Council in an attempt to overcome the city's acute housing shortage. The City Valuator and Estate Manager, Mr. D. Blandford, said that the council has already developed one estate and has several other projects in view.

Mr. Blandford said that the contractor was building 20 houses at Lower Hillside which would be completed by the end of June. They would have a built-in garage and would include single and double garages and a detached one.

Mr. Blandford said he would like to build 100 more but would keep this to himself for the moment. He mentioned that the Housing Committee would also approve of the next meeting of the council for the development of another estate at Hillside by a satisfactory form of contract.

Many other projects are being planned in the Salisbury area. A large South African construction company had recently made inquiries about starting a housing estate in Salisbury. The council's housing committee had been in the last 18 months.

The area was being populated as fast as Mr. Blandford said that the council was taking steps to make it an almost self-supporting community.

Africans appeal against order on equal pay

African activists are appealing to the Southern Rhodesian Government to withdraw the order which is being issued in Salisbury regarding the building trade which ordered equal pay for African and white workers. The order is being issued by the Building Trade Union which has been in existence since 1948.

Two of the building trade unions, the Bricklayers and the Plasterers, have already announced that they will not accept the order. They said that the order would mean that they would have to pay their African workers the same as their white workers. This would mean that they would have to pay their African workers 25% more than they are currently paying.

INDUSTRY

Land project in Rhodesia

PLANS to establish a growing-up and processing industry in the Fort Victoria area which will eventually be worth £20,000,000 a year—valuing the Colony's tobacco industry—were announced by the Southern Rhodesian Government.

The project was described by Mr. M. K. Pheasant, Southern Rhodesian Minister of Lands, as "the greatest single agriculture project ever contemplated in this country."

Mr. Pheasant said that negotiations between the Government and a Rhodesian company were so far advanced that the necessary papers had already been submitted to the Government. The project involves the development of 40,000 acres near the Triangle Sugar District.

Address of welcome

The Governor said that the Government was pleased to welcome the new members of the Rhodesian Legislative Council. He said that the council would be a more representative body than the previous one.

RHODESIA'S BIGGEST BRIDGES TO BE PAINTED THIS YEAR

Two of the Rhodesia's largest bridges, the Birmingham Bridge over the River Limpopo and the Orléans Bridge over the Orange River, will be painted this year. The painting will be done by the Rhodesian Road Corporation.

Electricity charges

I SHOULD be very interested to know why the increases in electricity charges in Salisbury are so high. It seems that the Rhodesian Electricity Board is overcharging its customers.

£8,000,000 TO SOLVE PROBLEMS OF HOUSING

Minister estimates cost of European and Asian needs

At least £8,000,000 is needed to solve the European and Asian housing problem in Kenya, the Housing Minister, Mr. W. B. Havock, said in moving the Estimates in Legislative Council. The Minister agreed that the European and Asian housing problem had become acute during the year. Rough estimates of the cost of solving the problem required £4,000,000 of housing.

The difficulty was to obtain the capital, but there was to be a considerable amount of schemes in which he hoped investors would be interested. Neighbourhood units were mentioned to provide economical housing to suit the needs of the European and Asian. The building society bill would come before the House in the near future.

There had been a "barrage" of applications for building societies, but the Minister said that he would be prepared to consider them. He would be prepared to consider the possibilities of extending the building societies bill to include building societies.

FASHIONED IN LONDON

Tall Girls Are Now The Belles

By Dorothy Barley

FASHION'S Cinderella, the taller-than-average girls, have turned out to be the belles of the ball. They can now find clothes in the styles and sizes they want in most shops here and are blossoming forth this year in extra-long versions of the latest fashion.

Of the tall girls—usually tallied with adjectives like "slender" or "wishing-hanger" as though their bodies were something to be ashamed of—can hold their heads up. They don't mind standing in a crowd any more. They long and shout as smart as anyone else, and, in fact, they are so smart that they are winning some of the most ready-made clothes in the market.

They formed their associates five years ago. Now there are 2,500 members in Britain and overseas. They bring-and-buy here (assured of success as all women are tall) and have tails by Halsey and closed their shop. Their anniversary has been marked in two ways.

First, with the debut of their own ready-made line. Second, with the first collection of designs especially for the over-tallescences, a substantial one—the "variety" clothes now made in the States.

For, in spite of their own long dresses, the girls have to buy men's shoes. They can buy men's shoes in size up to an American 12½ in the States. They have to have most of their clothes made. Part of it is a big variety by made and done for fitting sizes 6½ to 8½ in. And they can buy boys' stockings in an unobtainable length—a size 17½ in the country's biggest manufacturing store which sells boys' socks a certainty has them on sale.

The special collection just finished for over-tallescences girls takes the empire line and adapts it to over-tallescences. The line is flat at the top, has a very full skirt, a big variety by made and done for fitting sizes 6½ to 8½ in. And they can buy boys' stockings in an unobtainable length—a size 17½ in the country's biggest manufacturing store which sells boys' socks a certainty has them on sale.

ERROL FLYNN—NO 'PARTY' MAN

By Robert Robinson

THE pleasant Thames-side hamlet of Bray, where Errol Flynn is thronging up the family business. When a husband is paying almost 100,000 dollars in the red, it will be no little bit of money. It will be a much different Errol Flynn. The real reason for American TV is because they give Errol a chance to act regularly.

Early start

EVERY DAY at 5:30 a.m. Flynn, after the usual morning routine, is in the office of Arnela (christened by Mr. Flynn after the wife of the actor) who is the wife of the actor's mother, and goes down to face the camera at Missy Studio.

GERMANY TURNS TO THE SECOND GENERATION

WEST GERMAN films, in an attempt at rejuvenation, have turned to a second generation of actors—a different type of actor—a different type of actor—a different type of actor.

Some 25 successful pre-war actors have been re-made, some in colour stars in Chromacolour, and it is intended to produce new series of about 50 actors. In just over two years, eight of the second generation actors have been produced.

The most successful screen actor is Hans Schneider, 17-year-old, who has become the darling of the German public. He was one of the most successful actors of the second generation.

Some of the "second-generation" actors have already played in films. But with Hans Schneider's success, the truth for their careers in selecting them for the first time had possibly inhibited them from

ON THE SCREEN IN NAIROBI

FULL of thrills, adventure and spectacular action in the Sudan, John Phillip's production Over the Hills, through the Woods, and through the Fire is based on A.E.W. Mason's The Four Feathers.

THE story of courage, loyalty—the tale of a young man who joins the Army against his will in order to follow family tradition and discipline, and his four brothers—one from his father—when he meets Rosemary and discovers that she is his sister. He proves that he does not need to be a hero to display courage and bravery.

PLAYHOUSE

IT is something like the book—and the producers assure us that it is so. The Deceitful Hours is likely to prove one of the most exciting films we have seen for a long time.

THEATRE ROYAL

Under the threat of the country's gas the family company is to be seen in The Deceitful Hours. The drama gives Humphrey Bogart and Frederic March the chance to turn in the best performance of their careers.

POACHERS BY COUNCIL MEMBER

Mr. Cowie refers to despicable methods MOVE FOR INCREASE OF SENTENCES IN COURTS

"DESPICABLE methods" used by poachers in trapping and snaring wild animals were condemned on Wednesday by Mr. M. Cowie, Director of the Royal National Parks and a Government Nominated Member of Legislative Council.

Mr. Cowie was speaking in the House on the vote for the Ministry of Forest Development, Game and Fisheries. He said there was evidence of poachers in game reserves, "poachers" gangs and of black market trading in game trophies. There was a considerable traffic in the country in snaring birds, small rodents and other creatures. "It was easy to go to, and there were certain people who found it profitable."

He stated: "We have the privileged position of being hunted, but I doubt if that position ever had a mandate deliberately to destroy the lesser creature, Mr. Cowie stated."

The Minister for Forest Development, Mr. D. L. Blunt, told the House that officers of the Game Department had been instructed, when bringing prosecutions, to notify magistrates that poaching was "a prevalent crime" in the hope that sentences might be increased. He added that the whole question of poaching was now under consideration by the recently formed Wildlife Commission.

It was likely to make an early interim report.

The Council moved a vote of £17,540 for the Ministry—about £11,000 more than the year 1955-56.

CAREFUL SELECTION OF FAMILIES URGED

ASSURANCES that adequate supervision and care in the selection would be given to the families of those who are being chosen for settlement in forest areas of the country were made tonight by Mr. W. E. Crookall, Minister for Forest Development, during the debate on the 1956-57 estimates for revenue and expenditure.

Mr. Crookall asked if the Government was prepared to guarantee that the families of those who were being chosen for settlement in forest areas of the country would be given adequate supervision and care. He stated that the Government was prepared to guarantee that the families of those who were being chosen for settlement in forest areas of the country would be given adequate supervision and care.

NATURE OF FOREST

It had been stated that 600 poachers had been arrested last year. It appeared that the Government was prepared to guarantee that the families of those who were being chosen for settlement in forest areas of the country would be given adequate supervision and care.

PROTECTOR FOR GAME

On this subject Mr. Crookall said that the Government was prepared to guarantee that the families of those who were being chosen for settlement in forest areas of the country would be given adequate supervision and care.

REPORT BLAMES WOOD STOVE FOR TRAIN BLAZE

"Flashlike ignition" as door opened

STATEMENTS from more than 30 witnesses were taken by the committee of inquiry into the fire which broke out in the Mombasa-Nairobi train on May 23. The committee has now produced its report.

It concludes that the fire was caused by a door which was opened in the train. The door was opened by a passenger who was using a wood stove. The fire spread rapidly and caused the train to stop. The committee has recommended that wood stoves should be banned from trains.

CASE FOR PROTECTION

Mr. M. Cowie, Director of the Royal National Parks and a Government Nominated Member of Legislative Council, said that the Government was prepared to guarantee that the families of those who were being chosen for settlement in forest areas of the country would be given adequate supervision and care.

SNARING OF GAME

The number of wild animals which remained in parts of Kenya was obviously low, and therefore if the killing went on, the number of animals would be further reduced. Mr. Cowie stated that the Government was prepared to guarantee that the families of those who were being chosen for settlement in forest areas of the country would be given adequate supervision and care.

PRODUCTIVE DEVELOPMENT

Mr. Cowie returned to the Tavo National Park as a settlement for the development and control. When the land was being settled, the Government was prepared to guarantee that the families of those who were being chosen for settlement in forest areas of the country would be given adequate supervision and care.

REACHING SURVIVAL

But their importance lay in that they made it possible for the Government to guarantee that the families of those who were being chosen for settlement in forest areas of the country would be given adequate supervision and care.

BLACK MARKET

There are approximately 120 poachers in the country. They are engaged in the black market trade in game trophies. The Government is taking steps to control this trade.

The Man Who Makes Americans Laugh At Themselves

THE man with the shocked expression, peering in front of a mirror, is one of the best-known and most-admired illustrators in the United States.

It is the expression of a man whose rare gift of humor combined with a remarkable artistic skill to create pictures of such acute perception of the foibles of Americans which have made him famous at home and abroad. He is Norman Rockwell, who has laughed at Americans — and made them laugh at themselves — on countless magazine covers and calendars, in books and on television.

Deeply interested in the life of his contemporaries and their attitudes towards each other, Norman Rockwell betrays the nature of his work in the average man, his sense of the conditions and his struggles. His subject is the American — along with his wife, children, power, harbor, ship-builder, doctor, hotel proprietor, and his neighbors. He approaches each subject with the sagacity and insight and each of his cartoons reflects sympathy and kindly humor.

It is rarely surprising for the man or woman whose life he has captured, for the character which his illustrations bear. Once he has found the person or the scene, Rockwell will do anything to get it, paying his money to get to the scene. There, he waits until he can sketch until he gets exactly

The title of the expressive magazine cover above, which appeared in 1941, is "The Front of Life". In "The Goggles" below, all the people were, Rockwell and his wife, are drawn from life. of costume, and wore-out clothes with which to dress his models.

Rockwell has known hard work all his life. He was born in New York City on February 7, 1894, where at the age of 15 he gave up a promising career in art to work for a bank. During the summer holidays he worked in a bank, but he was not content with the following fall. In the morning he studied at the National Academy of Design, and in the afternoon, at the Art Students League. Two years later he got into the Marine Corps, where he served as a private. He was discharged in 1917, and he returned to New York City to work for a publishing firm to draw illustrations for a children's book. It was a success. Later he illustrated stories for several boys' magazines and schoolboy novels.

When the United States entered World War II in 1941, Rockwell was called in the Navy. Three days after his arrival he reported to the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland. He was assigned to the staff of the United States Naval Academy. He was discharged in 1945, and he returned to New York City to work for a publishing firm to draw illustrations for a children's book. It was a success. Later he illustrated stories for several boys' magazines and schoolboy novels.

The Saturday Evening Post, the American weekly magazine, contracted for a number of Rockwell's illustrations since his first cover appeared on 1941. During the 10 years following the war, Rockwell has been the most successful of American illustrators. He has been the cover artist for the Saturday Evening Post for 15 years. Rockwell's reputation as a book illustrator has been established by the quality of his product, since he has made a number of books. He has made a number of books. He has made a number of books. He has made a number of books.

He had a model, in Manhattan, Missouri, to use the scene of Clark's building, located in a quiet residential neighborhood.

During World War II, Rockwell painted a number of war posters, of which the most successful were the "Four Freedoms" of the Atlantic Charter — freedom of speech and expression, freedom of worship, freedom of travel, and freedom of trade. It took him two years to complete the picture in which the faces of these "Four Freedoms" were stated in terms of every American life.

In 1938 Rockwell and his family moved from Philadelphia to Arlington, Virginia. In 1941, he moved to Stockton, California. In 1945, he moved to New York City. In 1947, he moved to New York City. In 1947, he moved to New York City.

NEW LOOK AUSTRALIANS FAR FROM CONVINCING

Bowling may be sacrificed to bolster up the batting

By LEN HUTSON, Manchester, Wednesday

THE new look 1500 Australians took the field at Trenton on Wednesday for their all-England test match against Lancashire, a match which they badly need to win. From the moment the field was set for Lindwood it was obvious that the tourists were not in the mood for a first appearance of the new ball. The batting policy which they had adopted was to play a defensive game, a policy which they had followed in the past. It is not surprising that they have not been able to score more than 100 runs in their first two innings. ### Forecast of increased spending on rehabilitation

It was expected that the Emergency situation in Kenya would continue to improve during 1956/7 as a consequent reduction in the proportion of expenditure devoted to rehabilitation and reconstruction would be greater than in past years.

This was stated in the 1956/66 annual report of the Colonial Office published in London. It said there was a general rise in the value of imports into all colonial regions amounting to 10 per cent in East Africa, 73 per cent in Malaya, 20 per cent in West Africa, 18 per cent in the West Indies and 18 per cent in Hongkong.

Gain from increased income

This increase in imports has led to a corresponding increase in income tax revenue in Kenya, Malaya, West Africa, the West Indies and Hongkong.

MINISTER WELCOMES UGANDA MOVE TO CUT LIVING COSTS

UGANDA citizens were at last showing signs of doing something themselves to reduce the cost of living—instead of criticizing the Government. Mr. C. Handley Bled, Minister of Commerce and Works, said in Kampala, He was addressing the first meeting of a newly formed Housewives' Protection Society, which aims at keeping down the cost of living, and protecting the interests of householders.

Much imported
"Uganda produced no butter, and only a limited quantity of fruit. For all these things, because of the high cost of living, it is necessary to import them from other countries."

On June 23, Mr. Neville plans to visit the Mau Mau Memorial Book at Nairobi, and to meet the Mau Mau Memorial Book Committee at Nairobi, on June 24.

On June 25, Mr. Neville plans to visit the Mau Mau Memorial Book at Nairobi, and to meet the Mau Mau Memorial Book Committee at Nairobi, on June 26.

Mr. Leonard Kinyanjui, Minister of Agriculture, is seen with Mrs. Mary Kinyanjui, wife of the Minister, at the opening of the Mau Mau Memorial Book at Nairobi, on June 23.

Kabaka switches on the new and blows out the old

The Kabaka of Uganda switched on electricity lighting at the new power station in Kampala, on Wednesday evening, bringing to an end the operation of the old power station in the town. The new power station is a large, modern building with a central tower and several wings. It is situated in the town of Kampala, and will provide electricity for the town and the surrounding areas.

It's getting monotonous! 7 out and 7 home... all with a trouble-free run, in the 4th Coronation Safari, 1956

MAKINDI PRICE OF THE VOLKSWAGEN IS £574
By the cheapest car in the Class "B" entries

Seven V.W.s set out and seven completed the courses within the required time. The mechanical trouble whatsoever. Here are some impressions of some of the drivers:— Mohamed Ismail (Nairobi): "I have driving cars such as a distinctly unnumbered car." Monty Banks: "The weather was against us. It was far too good!"

Ben Richardson: "Yes, the course was much too rough. What we needed was 200 miles of road work for many years in Tanganyika, and after our comfortable and trouble-free run in this safari, I am more than ever convinced that the V.W. is the best value for money in the motoring world today."

SWEDEN FINDS HOLIDAY THAT IS DIFFERENT

TRAIN cruises are the problem of finding a holiday that is different. Other countries organize cruises in steamers, large and small, round their coasts and explore the interior of the country by river.

Sweden has the coast for those who want them; and she also has steam cruises on her many beautiful lakes and rivers.

Advantages SPECIAL trains become a more or less frequent feature in Sweden. They make it possible to travel the day time for night-sleeping.
