Jones-Harrison Wedding

THE wedding, the beginning of a new union, was the occasion for the wedding of Mrs. Doreen Harrison, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Jones, of Victoria, and Mr. Oswald Jones, son of Mr. D. J. Jones, of the Victoria Department and the late Mrs. Jones. The ceremony took place at the Cathedral of the Highlands, which had been decorated in honor of the bride and groom. The officiating was by the Rev. Fr. Walsh, S.M.C. The bride, who was given away by her father, was in an ivory beaded dress, wearing a crown of pearls and with a long, sweeping train. Her suit was held in place by four, and her bouquet was of lilies and white carnations. Mrs. Doreen Harrison was a native of Victoria, and Miss Doreen was a native of Victoria. They were in love since they were young, and they were married in Victoria, British Columbia, on Saturday, June 25, 1944. The bride's father, Mr. D. J. Jones, was the best man. The ceremony was held at the Blue Room, where about a hundred guests were present. Mr. Harrison was in a dark suit and white shirt, and Mrs. Harrison was in a dark dress with a white collar and white gloves. The ceremony was a simple one, and the bride and groom were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony. The bride's father, Mr. D. J. Jones, was the best man. S.G.C. in war — as in peace at the service of the Empire

The correct illumination of docks and harbours is an electrification field in which the G.E.C., the largest British electrical manufacturing organization in the Empire, has specialists. In the days before the war, "G.E.C." was a name which was always in the mind of engineers when complete electrification schemes were being considered. A G.E.C. installation is always an example of British enterprise and thoroughness. Just now, the Company's vast research and manufacturing resources are devoted to providing equipment to help win the war quickly. When peace comes, however, the big technical advances made by the Company in all applications of electricity, including the important use of thermionic, as a result of the urgent and ever-changing problems connected with the needs of war, will be available to all concerned with electrification plans in any part of the world.

FOOD
To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"
The "E.A. Standard" has been very kind to publish my letter on the subject of the "E.A. Standard" and I would not be surprised if you have already received a copy of it. I am glad to see that you are so interested in the subject and as my grievance in company with many others is to be made known to the public. They are not only interested in the subject but also in the means of solving it. I am glad to see that you are so interested in the subject and as my grievance in company with many others is to be made known to the public. They are not only interested in the subject but also in the means of solving it.

FOOD
There is no doubt that shortage of food is a serious problem in the East African territories. The Government should take steps to ensure that the food supply is adequate for the needs of the population. This can be done by increasing the production of food crops and by importing food from other countries. The Government should also take steps to ensure that the food is distributed fairly to all sections of the population. This can be done by setting up a food control system and by subsidizing the price of food. The Government should also take steps to ensure that the food is of good quality and is safe for consumption. This can be done by setting up a food inspection system and by enforcing the food laws.

MUNICIPAL REFORM
The Municipal Councils in the East African territories should be reformed to ensure that they are representative of the people and that they are able to carry out their duties effectively. This can be done by increasing the number of members of the Councils and by ensuring that they are elected by the people. The Councils should also be given more powers and responsibilities and should be held accountable to the people. The Government should also take steps to ensure that the Councils are able to carry out their duties effectively. This can be done by providing them with the necessary resources and by supporting them in their work.

HOSPITALS
The hospitals in the East African territories are in a state of neglect and need to be improved. The Government should take steps to ensure that the hospitals are well equipped and staffed with qualified medical personnel. This can be done by increasing the number of hospitals and by providing them with the necessary resources. The Government should also take steps to ensure that the hospitals are accessible to all sections of the population. This can be done by building more hospitals in rural areas and by providing transport facilities for patients.

CHURCH OF CHRIST MISSIONARY
The Church of Christ Missionary Society should continue to work for the betterment of the East African territories. This can be done by providing education, health care, and social services to the people. The Society should also work to promote the Christian faith and to build up the Church in the territories. The Society should also take steps to ensure that its work is carried out in a fair and equitable manner and that it is in the best interests of the people.

MADE FOR CHANGED FARMING CONDITIONS, WILL BE AVAILABLE. A new era will come.

Conservation and planning due to scarcity do not apply only to commodities, including farming implements. It is necessary to safeguard the soil—to conserve its fertility—to prevent soil erosion, and at the same time, increase production. Farming implements are the tools of conservation of the soil and increased production with which the name Massey-Harris is inseparable.

How The Red Cross Helps Our Prisoners Of War

THIS is an account of the Red Cross activities at sea how they have been working for the prisoners of war. It is written by Guy Moore on his way back from England.

I had just written a short account of the Red Cross work I have seen in London on my way to the various departments of the Red Cross when I was asked to write a story about the work that the Red Cross has done for the prisoners of war. I have seen a great deal of the work that the Red Cross has done for the prisoners of war. I have seen a great deal of the work that the Red Cross has done for the prisoners of war.

captures the full sense of the Red Cross work. There are 145,000 British and Dominion prisoners of war in Europe, and nearly 20 million in China. The Red Cross has been working for the prisoners of war since the beginning of the war. It has been working for the prisoners of war since the beginning of the war. ## The World follows Britain's lead...

ANTISEPTICS IN SURGERY

The marvels of medicine would fill any volume were the sum of their achievements to be told. But amongst the greatest of the discovery and application of antiseptics in surgery by Lord Lister in Britain has been that in a century. In science, and chemistry, in engineering and in building, in industrial and commercial enterprise, the British Commonwealth has been a trail of progress. Britain has been a trail of progress. MIDGES CAUSE BLUE TONGUE AND HORSEICKNESS

An article in the South African Farmer Weekly described the discovery of the midge which is the carrier of horseickness and blue tongue.

The group of midges which have been mentioned as the probable transmitters of these two diseases have not previously been considered of transmitting any infectious disease at all. It is therefore an entirely new field for its inflicting. The work will involve the study of the life-history and habits of the species. Horse-ickness and blue-tongue are
