Soil Erosion Expert's Grave Warning To Union

Dr. H. B. Stewart, Director of the Bureau of Soils, has issued a grave warning to the African people regarding the state of their soil. He states that the soil in many parts of the continent is being washed away at an alarming rate, and that this is due to the removal of the topsoil by erosion. He warns that if this continues, the land will become barren and the people will be unable to grow crops. He urges the people to take steps to conserve their soil, such as planting trees and using terracing methods. He also calls for government action to protect the soil and to provide the people with the necessary tools and knowledge to do so.

Stock Problems In The Eldoret District

The rains, which continued well into September, came to a stop just before the end of the season. This has meant a good deal of anxiety, and has been causing a serious shortage of stock feed. The situation is becoming more and more serious as the season advances. It is estimated that the stock feed available in the district is only enough to last for a few weeks more.

The Government has taken steps to deal with the situation. It has issued orders for the distribution of stock feed to the districts. It has also issued orders for the distribution of stock feed to the districts. It has also issued orders for the distribution of stock feed to the districts.

Maria Ney

PEOPLE are always talking about the "traditional method" in Shakespeare, but what do they mean? asks Maria Ney. She is appearing in Nairobi on November 17 and will be giving a performance of "Shakespeare's Women" at the Theatre Royal, probably on November 22. Her programme will include speeches by Puritan, Juliet, Ophelia, Desdemona and Lady Macbeth and some others. She believes that there is as much to be learned from Shakespeare as there is from the modern writers. She says that if you read Shakespeare's plays, you will find that the modern writers have not yet learned the art of Shakespeare. If you like to do so, we will send you a copy of her book, "The Women of Shakespeare".

CONSISTENT EXCELLENCE...

There are many different types of dip washes on the market. Some are more effective than others. Some are more expensive than others. Some are more difficult to use than others. Some are more likely to cause irritation than others. Some are more likely to be washed off than others. Some are more likely to be used than others. Some are more likely to be recommended than others. Some are more likely to be used than others. Some are more likely to be recommended than others.

COOPER'S COMMUNIQUE

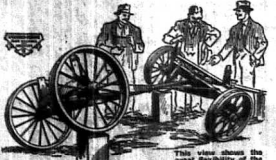

HOW TO TAKE SAMPLES OF DIP WASH FOR ANALYSIS.

The results of dip analysis are necessarily those of the sample received. Unless the sample is representative of the contents of the dipping tank, the results of an analysis are of very little value as a means of measuring the strength of the dip wash. Accurate samples can only be taken from a well-stirred bath. The sample can best be taken after a number of cattle have been through the dip. It is important to do this, the wash must be thoroughly stirred with a blunger (a more pole is better). The blunger must be worked up and down the whole length of the tank, and then run from end to end several times before sampling.

The sample must be taken in a clean bottle, which must be filled before the surface of the dip. Before filling the bottle, it is important that it be rinsed out at least twice with dip wash to ensure that the sample is not contaminated. The bottle must then be corked with a clean cork. At least a pint of dip should be sent for analysis.

The bottle must be labelled with the name and address of the owner, the type of dip being used, and the dilution (i.e. whether 3 day, 5/7 day, or 14 day dipping).

Put Your Farm Loads on the McCormick-Deering All-Steel, All-Purpose Truck

The McCormick-Deering All-Purpose Truck is a remarkable unit for hauling farm loads. Built entirely of steel, for use with tractor or axle, it has a capacity of 2 tons. Two roller bearings on each axle assure exceptionally light draft.

Unusual flexibility is made possible by the steel frame-ranch coupling. Front wheels have the auto-bearing feature. The truck is standard, wheelbase is adjustable from 66 to 116 inches. The truck will take any box, run, or other standard equipment.

It will give you many years of good service—a few are serving shortly. Particulars permit required.

Permanent Agriculture

THE IMPORTANCE OF ANIMAL HUSBANDRY

It is in the opinion of the author that the future of agriculture in the Highlands must depend on the social and economic conditions of the country. The author is of the opinion that the future of agriculture in the Highlands must depend on the social and economic conditions of the country. The author is of the opinion that the future of agriculture in the Highlands must depend on the social and economic conditions of the country.

Every Agricultural Officer can quote a dozen farms where the standard of livestock is several generations behind that of the surrounding country. The reason for this is that the farmer is not interested in the improvement of his stock. He is only interested in the production of a few pounds of wool or a few gallons of milk.

The argument which should induce farmers not to delay unduly in putting their stock down to grass is not only concerned with the wool of the sheep. There is also an irrefutable economic argument. If the land is cultivated too long the farmer receives less, or less, more indifferent harvests. He reaps three harvests at the end of the long winter. He can have two or three seasons of crops in the year. He can have a permanent grass which will give him a permanent income. He can have a permanent grass which will give him a permanent income.

It is a mistake to suppose that the farmer is not interested in the improvement of his stock. He is only interested in the production of a few pounds of wool or a few gallons of milk. He is only interested in the production of a few pounds of wool or a few gallons of milk.

On the other hand the improvement of livestock has frequently lagged behind the raising quality of the cattle. There is a thoroughly correct fact which shows that the farmer is not interested in the improvement of his stock. He is only interested in the production of a few pounds of wool or a few gallons of milk.

CURE FOR FOOT ROT

To the Editor, "P.A. Standard,"

Since the War Effort brings the necessity of wearing a pair of heavy boots, I have been afflicted by Foot Rot.

I am from the East African Highlands, and I am in the 1st Battalion of the 2nd East African Brigade. I have been in the front line for some time, and I have been wearing heavy boots for some time.

Very often I get a sore on the sole of my foot, and it is very painful. I have tried many remedies, but I have not been able to cure it.

Yours sincerely,
John S. M. M.

Rough Grazing Can Become Arable Land

By J. F. LIPSCOMB

THIS is not a scientific paper because I have no scientific qualifications. It is a record of my personal opinion and experience after working on this subject for nearly twelve years, and it is written in the hope of obtaining information from others who have been working on similar lines, and from those who can give scientific opinions.

Nearly 70 per cent of the white soil in the highlands of Kenya is rough grazing. It is a waste of land, and it is a waste of the lives of the people who are dependent on it. It is a waste of the lives of the people who are dependent on it. It is a waste of the lives of the people who are dependent on it.

CURING OPHTHALMIA

Cattle suffer from infectious Ophthalmia, commonly known as blindness, which is caused by a bacillus, and a venereal form of Ophthalmia caused by a small, round, white worm which infects the surface of the eyeball under the eyelids. Both forms of Ophthalmia can be cured with Cooper's Ophthalmia Cure.

As soon as an animal's eyes start watering, they should be treated with Cooper's Ophthalmia Cure, and repeat daily, if necessary. Only a very small quantity of the remedy is necessary, just sufficient to wet the eye ball thoroughly. It may easily be dropped into the eye, squirted in with a small syringe, or applied with a feather.

Sold in 2-oz. and 16-oz. bottles.

HOUSEWIVES IN WARTIME
Quick steps into busy days in Britain

"It is one of the basic facts of our life today," says the author of "Housewives in Wartime," "that the housewife is working a double shift. She has to do her own work, and she has to do the work of the nation. She has to be a housewife and a worker. She has to be a mother and a citizen. She has to be a wife and a patriot. She has to be a woman and a woman of war."

THE WORLD FOLLOWS BRITAIN'S LEAD.

RAILWAY TRANSPORT

RAILWAY locomotives, which have hauled the major portion of the world's long traffic for the last part of a century, were invented and developed in Britain, and British steam railways still the fastest and safest in the world.

Not least among the many other discoveries and inventions for which the world owes a debt to Britain, is the development of rayon by the firm of Courtauld. It is almost entirely due to the enterprise shown by Courtauld that the development of rayon has advanced with such giant strides. The pioneer work done by this British firm has been the means of creating a vast industry in England, the United States and other countries.

The World's greatest inventions and discoveries originated within THE BRITISH EMPIRE

The black portions on the map indicate the size of the British Commonwealth and its vast possessions for agricultural, mineral and industrial development.

THE WEEK'S LEADERS

Financial Secretary when introducing them to Council. The figures by comparison with previous years are remarkably high. These seemed nothing in Mr. Arnold's attitude indicating reserves unless we were to take national estimates of revenue from Customs and Excise as proof of need and as a basis for a firm of taxation which has materially increased the cost of living in many ways. It must not be permitted to encourage the optimism of spending money on luxuries and to encourage an era of development and we hope to see in Government proposals recognition of the rate of spending on development which will relate to the increase in unemployment figures. It would seem to be the case for the entrance of the non-official members.
