NEW WAR AGAINST MALARIA

A NATIONAL malaria control programme has been launched in India to protect more than 125,000,000 people during the next three years.

The project believed to be the best of its kind ever proposed in any country is supported by about £1,110,000. It is a cooperative venture by the Government of India, the United States and the United Kingdom.

Malaria has long been a scourge of India and has hindered its economic and social progress. The development of a national malaria control programme is a step towards the eradication of this disease.

Two phases The programme is planned in two phases. The first is to control the mosquito, the second to control the human carrier.

The first part of the programme is the control of the mosquito. This is being done by the use of insecticides and by the use of screens and mosquito nets.

Tories would like an Election

LABOUR HANDICAPPED BY SPLIT WH the present Tory overall majority of 140 too small for the conduct of efficient Parliamentary business.

Sir Winston Churchill has been told by his supporters that if he were to call an election in any form between 70 and 100 seats, Labour leadership would be lost.

Mr. Attlee has had to decline the offer of a coalition with the Tories and his friends in order to remain in office. Mr. Bevan, while making these proposals, has also said that he would be in many instances a more effective leader than Mr. Attlee.

It is tempting to read a note on how to make a war film to its producers and writers of screen-plays.

AMONG THE NEW BOOKS

THE publication some weeks ago of 'Tarnish' gave its author, Mr. Stuart Christie, a secure position in the literature of the African continent.

SUMMED UP IN ONE WORD

BRILLIANT cast. The actor almost seem to have been made to order to fill a particular part.

His theme is ever larger and wider in scope than that of his earlier books. It can be summed up in one word—the 'Africa' that was very much of the conception—hate that the result may not be complete success.

It is a perfect contrast to this world we have the 'African' which has been a landmark of the continent in the East African scene.

It is to be admitted that the book is overworked with intricate plots and a mechanical structure.

It is a long time since I saw a film in which for two hours I was so completely involved. For once the dramatic grip does not let the story slip.

THE CRUEL SEA

It is a long time since I saw a film in which for two hours I was so completely involved. For once the dramatic grip does not let the story slip.

JACK HAWKINS, a top star now and the United States director, John Huston, has inspired the film with a long setting—in the movie itself, with characteristic detail and wonderful atmosphere.

ON THE SCREEN IN NAIROBI

THAT mistle of drivel, written, edited and directed by Walter Wallace, never wrote anything more thrilling than his story 'The Ringer'.

PLAYHOUSE

GRIEL and his friends, Emma and her friends, Laught and her friends, and many others, are playing in the playhouse.

Studio activity

IN United Kingdom studios there is much activity which will go on through the month of May.

THEATRE ROYAL

A new theatre and theatre company, the Theatre Royal, is starting to work in Nairobi.

Water problems solved

Wherever clean, piped water is required, 'Kuterlon' soft-temple, pliable copper tube is ideal. Available in long coil lengths, 'Kuterlon' is tough, light, easily handled and extremely resistant to acid corrosion.

IN TRUST FOR THE NATION: The English Lake District

SIR COMPTON MACKENZIE is broadcasting a series of talks describing a tour of the National Trust properties in England and Wales. This article is extracted from his first talk—on the English Lake District.

In 1831 the estate owners of Strough Cottle, where Strickland now lives, were "lucky" though the job-owner was not until 1840. The Trust had been built in the 10th century, and then George III, in 1760, and the 18th century. There was many Henry and Jacobite and a number of them collected by Sir John Strickland who was governing the Province of York which were in St. Germaine. The picture and the history which were sold in 1870 were bought back by the late Lord Strickland and are now once again in Strough Cottle.

IN TRUST FOR THE NATION: The English Lake District

It is appropriate to start with the Lakes because Canon Rawnsley's nationalistic ambition to protect the area against the encroachments of natural beauty, which means the inevitable penalty to be paid for material progress, resulted with Miss Octavia Hill's equally passionate ambition to preserve for the benefit of this world their inheritance, was the inspiring inspiration that founded the National Trust.
So take the "Lakes Express" from Eton and come with me to the Lakes. Do not hurry. We have time to enjoy the beauty of the lakes. We have time to enjoy the beauty of the lakes. We have time to enjoy the beauty of the lakes.

THE CORONATION REGALIA

By John Gale

THE Coronation Chair and the Regalia of England, to be used at the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II on June 2, have a long and intriguing history. At times, fact and legend are inextricably mingled.

The Coronation Chair has been in Westminster Abbey for 600 years. It has been used to convey Coronation stone that is given to the King of Scots. Edward I captured the stone from the Scots from the throne in 1296 and intended to replace it with a chair of his own design, which he called the King's workman, was made in London in fashion a chair of which completed in 1311 at a cost of one hundred shillings.

The Gothic Coronation Chair is a high plain back, mounting to a point in the centre, which is the seat of the monarch. In the past the chair has been built twice over in the 15th century schoolboys apparently carved their names on it. It was re-worked by sculptors so that the stone which is the seat of the monarch was brought up Walter of Durham the gifted medieval painter.

The Crown of the British Empire in the time of Charles II. The Crown of the British Empire in the time of Charles II. The Crown of the British Empire in the time of Charles II.

Stone of Scone

The Stone of Scone, also known as the Stone of Destiny, is a piece of the chair, found on a middle frame of the chair, which is the seat of the monarch. The Stone of Scone is a piece of the chair, which is the seat of the monarch. It is a piece of the chair, which is the seat of the monarch.

Some Scotsmen have a tradition that they took the Stone of Scone to Scotland in 1296. It is a piece of the chair, which is the seat of the monarch. It is a piece of the chair, which is the seat of the monarch.

Government giving planes to aero clubs

Kenya Legislative Council on Wednesday approved of the Government giving by flying clubs in the Colony six Tiger Moth aircraft, bought by the Government for an intended scheme to train pilots.

Additional members of the aircraft way, Mr. C. C. Turnbull, Deputy Chief Secretary and Member for Defence, said the scheme for training had worked out with the Air Officer Commanding and the Air Ministry.

It is his intention to train the K.A.F. Volunteer Reserve, which was established in Kenya in 1947, and to train the aircraft in Rhodesia which they will be available.

"This initiative and the thought that it had not been explained. The Air Ministry said it was unable to proceed with the scheme.

"We are offering them to the aero clubs as a free gift," he said, after Mr. Turnbull had said that the K.A.F. Wing could not use the aircraft.

Pool of pilots
Sponsoring Group Captain H. B. Bridges, Member for Mount Kenya, said tribute to the K.P.F. Air Wing and of the pilot members service as well.

With the aircraft pool of pilots was required. The Air Ministry said he would be hoped to meet the requirements of the Government to an ordinary squadron.

It is his intention to train the K.A.F. Volunteer Reserve, which was established in Kenya in 1947, and to train the aircraft in Rhodesia which they will be available.

Impetus to local government SEEN IN COUNTY COUNCILS

Speaking at the inauguration of Nakuru County Council for Local Government, Mr. Charles Morison said that among the changes which he hoped would result under the new system, would be the removal of the "day after tomorrow" which one sees today and which people who had been in the country a long time had come to accept complacently as part of their natural order of things. It was a condition that, within a short time, large would see them replaced by beautiful garden villages, which would be the pride and joy of inhabitants.

Mr. D. H. P. Hall, chairman of Nakuru district council, said that the new system of local government would be a great step forward, and that the Government of Kenya, Sir Evelyn Baring, and the County Councils should be commended for their initiative in this respect.

Stagnation
The speaker also pointed out that the new system would be a great step forward, and that the Government of Kenya, Sir Evelyn Baring, and the County Councils should be commended for their initiative in this respect.

Mr. Michael Blundell, told Nakuru County Council at a private luncheon, held in Nakuru after the inauguration of the new County Council, he was certain that the responsibilities adopted by the County Council would be "so conducted that the public would be immediately under the control of the Government of Kenya, Sir Evelyn Baring, and the County Councils should be commended for their initiative in this respect.

New outlook
The speaker also pointed out that the new system would be a great step forward, and that the Government of Kenya, Sir Evelyn Baring, and the County Councils should be commended for their initiative in this respect.

Opposition
"In short words," he said, "the new system would be a great step forward, and that the Government of Kenya, Sir Evelyn Baring, and the County Councils should be commended for their initiative in this respect."

Envisionable position
Mr. Blundell said that he had seen a picture of the future which he believed that the County Council would be "so conducted that the public would be immediately under the control of the Government of Kenya, Sir Evelyn Baring, and the County Councils should be commended for their initiative in this respect."

India will not ask for Koh-in-noor

INDIA will not ask Britain to return the Koh-i-noor diamond which forms part of the Crown Jewels.
 Mr. Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the Education Minister, made this clear yesterday in a debate in a Constituent Assembly.
 Earlier this week Mr. Azad's deputy, Mr. K. M. Desai, told a committee in the House of the People that the Government was trying to get back the Koh-i-noor.
 Mr. Azad said that the Koh-i-noor was a "Crown Jewels" and that it was not to be returned to India.
 He said that the Koh-i-noor was a "Crown Jewels" and that it was not to be returned to India.

Willing consent
 Mr. Azad said yesterday "I want to make it clear that the Government of India has not at any stage contemplated asking for the return of the Koh-i-noor."
 He said that the Koh-i-noor was a "Crown Jewels" and that it was not to be returned to India.
 He said that the Koh-i-noor was a "Crown Jewels" and that it was not to be returned to India.

DRIER CONDITIONS ARE FORECAST

With nothing to suggest any marked change in the general situation, the East African Meteorological Service, in its forecast for the week ending on May 13, states that in the absence of disturbances, considerable rain will be expected in the north and south-eastern parts of the country.
 In the north, rain is expected to fall over Northern Tanganyika and Eastern Kenya. There is a possibility of a prolonged rain on the coast, but showers will occur mainly north of Dar es Salaam and will be separated by dry periods.
 Little change is likely in Uganda where showers are expected to continue with local thunderstorms in the north and north-west. There is a possibility of a prolonged rain on the coast, but showers will occur mainly north of Dar es Salaam and will be separated by dry periods.

FASHION PICTURES FROM PARIS

NEW ideas in fact-colored French designs seem to have gathered in this way to hold opposing opinions on what fashion-conscious women shall wear this summer. For example, Jean Doucet views that black is necessary for the demure or the delicate. Lucienne Lazonne thought, however, that shades and a lot of white.

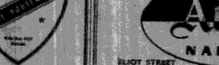

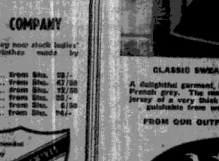

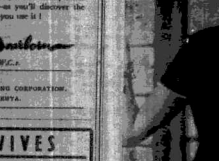

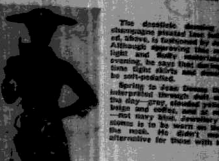

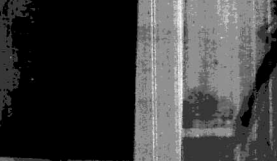

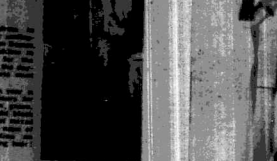

Chances are, you, too, and there is no doubt of it, will have to choose between the black and white of the fashion-conscious and the soft, delicate colors of the demure. The black and white of the fashion-conscious is not only a matter of color but also of texture. The black and white of the demure is not only a matter of color but also of texture. The black and white of the fashion-conscious is not only a matter of color but also of texture.

MISS PEARL SAGE The increasing beauty of Miss Pearl Sage, a well-known actress, was the subject of a recent article in the "Illustrated London News". She is now married to Mr. J. E. Stubbings.

ARE YOUR THREE DIMENSIONS UNDER CONTROL?

WHILE Hollywood is raving about the three-dimensional films, we in London are being told to watch that other thing called "three-dimensional measurements".

With this programme ranging in her ears, the poor woman whose whole dinner table attention has started chattering with a host of other of the 3-D's. Dieting, Department of Health. Most women find dieting a trial. Like the original 3-D, they find the temptation of forbidden fruit irresistible. So if diet you must, keep your- self on the straight and narrow.

Discipline

BUT beware the 3-D's. In an effort to control your appetite, you may find yourself slipping into a state of depression. This is a state of mind which is not only a waste of time, but also a waste of money.

Discipline is the key to success. It is the only way to control your appetite and keep your weight under control. It is the only way to control your appetite and keep your weight under control.

Millionaires' Train To Milan's Fair

By Conrad Pollen

A magnificent effort to explore the Italian and European capitals. These are the days of the great exhibition, the 1936 Milan Fair, which is being held in the city of Milan, Italy, from May 1 to June 1, 1936.

The foreign exhibitors are of 70 nations, and the number of exhibitors has been increased to 100.

This year, however, the British pavilion is being built on the site of the old pavilion, which was destroyed by fire in 1929. The new pavilion is being built on the site of the old pavilion, which was destroyed by fire in 1929.

The fair is a magnificent opportunity for the British people to see the latest in Italian and European art and architecture. It is also a chance to see the latest in Italian and European fashion and design.

New Westleigh, industrial city in the English Midlands, plans to observe its 25th Jubilee by celebrating the Coronation.

How My TOWN Will CELEBRATE THE CORONATION

Written by HARLEY V. USILL, who is Coronation Mayor of Epsom in the English county of Surrey.

In every part of Britain, towns and villages are completing their arrangements for celebrating the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II in Westminster Abbey on June 2. Every conceivable kind of event is being planned.

On the Sunday before and on the eve of the Coronation and on any other day that the self may feel will matter in some way, it is a matter of course to take part in special thanksgiving services. These are of the religious character of the Coronation Service which the church itself will dedicate itself to the service.

Having appointed committees to investigate and advise on the many details which were put forward, local and national organisations—sport, drama, music and entertainment for all kinds of ages and entertainments for the children, the Pops, Dance and fireworks displays in the evening—and a committee was constituted to deal with each.

The children about 6,000, will be entertained to see a number of exciting theatricals, with a Punch and Judy show, concerts, and marionette shows at each of the schools. I will admit to a private party for the 1000 and boys in the school.

No difficulty

In a country so rich in history and tradition, it is not surprising to find that the Coronation has been the great event in British history. The coronation of King Charles II in 1685 was the last of the coronations in England. In the English north of Yorkshire and in the banks will be holding, writing and printing for the Coronation in the north of the West and those of the last century, Canterbury, in the Southern English, in the Southern English, has passed a wilder course, and the famous cathedral town will celebrate the centenary of the coronation of King Charles II in the Millennium.

In my own town of Epsom, with a population of about 20,000 people, I shall be organising a Coronation week and have already had most to do with the plans for the celebration. As the scene of the Derby, which is the most famous horse race in the world, it is one of the best places to hold a Coronation at least in London.

The Derby

This year the Derby takes place on the last day of the Coronation, and Queen Elizabeth II is expected to attend. But the most exciting on Wednesday which is the last day of the Derby.

Major problem

STREET decorations present the first major problem. The committee appointed to deal with this matter has been working on it since the beginning of the year. It is a matter of course to take part in special thanksgiving services. These are of the religious character of the Coronation Service which the church itself will dedicate itself to the service.

MAU MAU AND EDUCATION

23,000 children not at school

ABOUT 23,000 Kikuyu children, representing some 50 per cent of the school-going children in the Kenya, Fort Hill and Kiambu Houses, are now absent from their respective schools, according to a statement issued on Friday by the Education Authorities in Nairobi.

The absence of more than 100,000 of the school-going children, representing about 15,000, and a further 10,000 are being kept away from school because of their reluctance to attend. The Education Authorities will co-operate in the approved initiative to bring these children back to school.

The statement points out that the Government has made it clear that it is not prepared to be the maintainer of a school which is not attended by the children of the area concerned. It is stated that the Government has no intention of continuing to support schools which are not attended by the children of the area concerned. It is stated that the Government has no intention of continuing to support schools which are not attended by the children of the area concerned.

Three ways of Keeping Africans away from school

Colonial Secretary says Conquer and convince

With a cheery "Here we are smiling broadly," Mr. Oliver Lyttelton, Secretary of State for Colonies, stepped from a Dakota aircraft of the East African Airways Corporation at Nairobi West Airport yesterday afternoon to be greeted by the Governor, Sir Evelyn Baring. He told the Governor he was feeling fit and looking forward to his visit.

Before leaving London Airport, reports British Mr. Lyttelton had said that the Mau Mau problem was "conquer and convince." He said: "We must conquer the armed rebellion and we must convince by words and not only by words that there is a prosperous future for men of all races—African, Asian and British—in the Kenya of the future."

"I am going out to Kenya because nothing is there which can replace personal contact and personal persuasion," he said. "Every Mau Mau fighter cannot be hunted by people 7,000 miles away but must be tackled by words," he declared.

"His Majesty's Government can help, and will. Owing to a delay in the Commission of Enquiry, we will arrive in Nairobi tomorrow. Four hours before that."

With the Governor to welcome him, Mr. Lyttelton will be met at the airport of Nairobi (M.A. Dr. Z. E. O'Brien), and will then go to the East African House, where he will be met by the Chief of Staff, Major General Sir Philip Gurnea, and the General Manager, Sir John Gurnea, and other officials.

Lord Bruce, chairman of the Kenya Commission of Enquiry, will be met at the airport by the Governor and will then go to the East African House, where he will be met by the Chief of Staff, Major General Sir Philip Gurnea, and the General Manager, Sir John Gurnea, and other officials.

Proposals to multiply herds of Highlands cattle

MEASURES proposed by Mr. L. G. Troup to increase the present estimated cattle population of 500,000 by 500,000 within five years

The present number of cattle in the Highlands of East Africa is estimated to be 500,000. It is proposed to increase this number to 1,000,000 within five years. This can be done by increasing the number of calves born each year. The following measures are proposed:

1. To increase the number of calves born each year by 50%.

2. To increase the number of calves born each year by 50%.

3. To increase the number of calves born each year by 50%.

4. To increase the number of calves born each year by 50%.

5. To increase the number of calves born each year by 50%.

Patenting system

The patenting system for inventions in the Highlands of East Africa is being improved. This will encourage inventors to develop new inventions and to patent them. The following measures are proposed:

1. To increase the number of patents granted each year by 50%.

2. To increase the number of patents granted each year by 50%.

3. To increase the number of patents granted each year by 50%.

Boran virtues

The Boran breed of cattle is known for its hardiness and ability to withstand drought. It is a valuable breed for the Highlands of East Africa. The following are some of its virtues:

1. Hardiness.

2. Ability to withstand drought.

3. Ability to produce large quantities of milk.

4. Ability to produce large quantities of meat.

Few large flocks

The number of large flocks of sheep in the Highlands of East Africa is decreasing. This is due to a number of factors, including a decrease in the number of sheep and a decrease in the number of flocks. The following are some of the reasons for this:

1. Decrease in the number of sheep.

2. Decrease in the number of flocks.

3. Decrease in the number of sheep.

...the extent of the epidemics of European blood will have to be explained by the fact that the number of sheep is increasing rapidly. This is due to a number of factors, including a decrease in the number of sheep and a decrease in the number of flocks. The following are some of the reasons for this:

1. Decrease in the number of sheep.

2. Decrease in the number of flocks.

3. Decrease in the number of sheep.

...the use of such a large flock of sheep is not only a waste of money but it is also a waste of time. This is because the number of sheep is increasing rapidly. This is due to a number of factors, including a decrease in the number of sheep and a decrease in the number of flocks. The following are some of the reasons for this:

1. Decrease in the number of sheep.

2. Decrease in the number of flocks.

OVER-MECHANISATION AND THE OX CART

DIALING with agricultural machinery, Mr. Troup, in his report comments that he had the impression that the section by saying there are still a few farmers who are over-mechanized, and that too many of them are using ox carts. This is because the number of ox carts is increasing rapidly. This is due to a number of factors, including a decrease in the number of ox carts and a decrease in the number of oxen. The following are some of the reasons for this:

1. Decrease in the number of ox carts.

UN study of Union racial legislation

FOLLOWING a meeting in Geneva of the three main countries of the United Nations Commission set up to study racial discrimination in South Africa, Mr. Herson Santa Cruz, of Chile, said, "Whatever the results will be, the attitude of the South African Government of the Commission will be to study it successfully."

Lack of co-operation by the United Government will lead to a special handling but would not lead the Commission from completing its work.

Other members of the Commission are Mr. Henry Langford of France and Mr. Jaime Belandier of Chile.

Mr. Santa Cruz said the rest of the General Assembly's resolution will be to demand that the Commission investigate the situation in South Africa, which constituted the Commission with a request for cooperation, but, he said, he has not received a reply.

Objective report

The Commission would study the possibility of visiting the country to carry out investigations, and the committee would be open to all other ways during the year.

While in East Africa, the study will also be in the hands of the Commission.

At the end of the year, the Commission will be in the hands of the Commission.

CLOUDY, BUT LITTLE RAIN EXPECTED

During the first part of the period a relief from the unrelenting drought south of Nairobi will extend to East Africa. However, weather may occur over the north Tanganyika Coast, but inland over Kenya and Tanganyika there will be fairly dry subsiding air giving mainly fair afternoons for the first few days.

Scattered showers will occur throughout the period over the Kenya Highlands and East Africa. These will be low showers, falling from the base of the clouds. In the evening, showers will be more frequent, but these will be low showers, falling from the base of the clouds. CAPTIVE IN KOREA-2 By Philip Deane

"You're back down a detailed list. You've not only been in the front line, you've been in the rear line. All this will be returned to you in good time." I am still smiling.

"That's all right," said the Chinese. "I have a detailed list of your names and ranks. I will return it to you in good time."

"Thank you," said I. "I will be waiting for it."

"You will be waiting for it," said the Chinese. "I will be waiting for it."

In English law, a person is considered a prisoner of war if he is captured by the enemy. This is the case with the Chinese. They consider you a prisoner of war if you are captured by them. This is the case with the Chinese. They consider you a prisoner of war if you are captured by them.

and his victory still. And this is the case with the Chinese. They consider you a prisoner of war if you are captured by them. This is the case with the Chinese. They consider you a prisoner of war if you are captured by them.

There's what your relatives have you got? Captain, what do you think you have? I have a detailed list of your names and ranks. I will return it to you in good time."

"I have a detailed list of your names and ranks. I will return it to you in good time."

A BIG BIRTHDAY IN STRATFORD

This year over 350,000 people will visit Stratford to see Shakespeare's plays. Not just to visit his birthplace, but to go to the unique Memorial Theatre, which celebrated its 21st birthday on April 30, 1953.

After 21 years of successful operation, the theatre has become a landmark in the town of Stratford-upon-Avon. It was founded by a group of enthusiasts who believed in the power of drama to educate and entertain. The theatre has since become a major cultural institution, attracting visitors from all over the world. The building itself is a masterpiece of modern architecture, designed by Sir Herbert Morrison. It has a seating capacity of 1,000 and is equipped with the latest facilities for comfort and convenience. The theatre's success is a testament to the power of community effort and the enduring appeal of Shakespeare's works.

Three years later Anthony Quinn succeeded by Barry Gray as director, and left with the Stratford company to the United States. Quinn was the first American to direct at Stratford. He was succeeded by Gray, who was the first Englishman to do so. The theatre has since been directed by a number of other notable figures, including Laurence Olivier and C. D. Odgers.

The work they supervised is something like that there are 100,000 people in the theatre each season, and they were decided on before last season. The leading players, and most of the company of 120 actors (some of whom) were selected last November. Most leading actors have parts for a year or two.

THROUGH MY HAT

By Kenneth Meadows

NO wish usually to recall Woodman's victims. Widely recognized, I must, that when it comes to insinuation, bores and snuffed calm the chap has bucketful and better to figure. Just quote an instance.

You know when you visit your favorite bar, the order and program's cake. And the waiter returns with the order. And you see the change neatly applied on the tray—well, a rascal sort of looking heavily on the fringe like someone who has missed the bus and is waiting to be picked up.

Well, I, whether most people order date, these and experience a strong inclination to wrap the tray round the waiter's neck. I've seen Woodman pick up the tray (including the money) and he had already seen his money and facing the waiter with a steady eye, announced cheerfully: "Thank you, my man. Heaven will reward you."

colored roadster, driven by what was obviously a Long. Leds had, started just at 10.00.

Anybody who's ever seen a roadster driven by what was obviously a Long. Leds had, started just at 10.00.

The motorist arrested on following a few yards behind Woodman. The motorist looked up at his car, pressed round the corner and opened the door with a fury of the softest that would have ignited the faces of grateful eyes in a tailor's doorway. He had mistook the fair one on the bench and was engaged in a good deal of trifling perdicade when a bicyclist-

Deep shoulder bars for muddy roads.

Highway centre-tread for fine weather, good roads.

Every farmer or truck-operator knows the costly hours wasted by tyres clogging up on muddy roads. Firestone Dual Purpose tyres get on with the job, in all weathers, on all roads. On highways the conventional tread means smooth, comfortable riding—on muddy tracks the self-cleaning traction bars come into operation.

GOOD on cars... and GREAT on TRUCKS

Car-owners who have to do much travelling over muddy roads will find that Firestone Dual Purpose tyres give easier, surer motoring. On trucks, of course, these tyres are a time-saving "must".

There have been close to a dozen expeditions to Mount Everest since the commencement of the mountain in 1921. Those who have made the ascent have included Sir George Everest's nephew, the first of the party, and it is said that those thought should turn to their own expeditions.

It is said that the British Expedition led by Colonel Hunt for the first ascent on the 29,002-foot-high peak. Sir Percy was a member of the 1933 and 1936 expeditions and reached a height of 28,000 feet. Since 1949 he has been Governor of Gambia prior to which he was Kenya's Chief Native Commissioner, having served many years in the Colony's Administration.

KIKUYU GUARDS NUMBER 9,000

'Peace in your hands,' says PC

The transfer to the Kikuyu people on Monday—particularly 10 members of the Kikuyu Guard—by the Provisional Government of Kenya, Mr. C. O. O'Connell, O.T.S.A., Commissioner for the Kenya Territory, has been announced. The transfer is the result of a decision by the Kenya Government to disband the Kenya Guard and to transfer its members to the Kenya Police. The transfer is being carried out in a peaceful and orderly manner. The Kenya Government has expressed its confidence that the Kenya Police will be able to maintain law and order in the Kenya Territory.

Goods train derailed on way to Nairobi

THE engine and a number of wagons of an 'up' goods train became derailed on the slopes of Mt. Kenya, near the main line between Sultan Hamud and Kima on Sunday afternoon. The train was carrying a large quantity of goods, including sugar, coffee, and other commodities. The train was derailed by a landslide, and the goods were scattered over a wide area. The railway authorities are investigating the cause of the accident.

Waruhiu murder: Appeals are dismissed

THE appeal by the widow of the late Waruhiu Chege against the conviction of her husband for the murder of a woman in Nairobi, has been dismissed by the High Court. The court found that the evidence against Waruhiu was sufficient to support the conviction. The court also dismissed the appeal of Waruhiu's co-accused, who had been convicted of the same crime. The court's decision is final.

What it costs to live in Kenya

FAMILY BUDGETS SURVEYED

A survey of the cost of living in Kenya has been carried out by the Kenya Government. The survey was conducted in various parts of the country, and the results show that the cost of living is generally high. The survey also found that the cost of living is higher in the urban areas than in the rural areas. The Kenya Government is taking steps to reduce the cost of living, including the introduction of subsidies for essential commodities.

New-type plastic helmets for Kenya Police

Members of the Kenya Police are being issued with new-type plastic helmets. The new helmets are made of a strong plastic material and are designed to provide better protection than the old helmets. The new helmets are also lighter in weight and more comfortable to wear. The Kenya Police are pleased with the new helmets and believe they will improve the safety of the officers.

Chief Eliud again foils Mau Mau murder attempt

20 GANGSTERS KILLED

Chief Eliud, the head of the Mau Mau movement, has again foiled an attempt to murder him. The attempt was made by a group of 20 gangsters who were hired to kill Chief Eliud. The gangsters were killed by Chief Eliud's men in a gun battle. Chief Eliud has expressed his appreciation for the loyalty and bravery of his men.

Post destroyed

A post office building in Nairobi was destroyed by a fire on Sunday. The fire started in the early morning and spread rapidly, destroying the building and the contents inside. The Kenya Post Office is investigating the cause of the fire.

CAMPS FOR KIKUYUS TO BE CLOSED

The Kenya Government has announced that it will close the camps for Kikuyus. The camps were established to house Kikuyus who were suspected of being involved in the Mau Mau movement. The government believes that the Kikuyus in the camps are now peaceful and can be reintegrated into society. The government is taking steps to provide the Kikuyus with the necessary support and assistance.

Dogs in pursuit

A pack of wild dogs is pursuing a herd of wildebeest in the Serengeti National Park. The dogs are hunting the wildebeest for food, and the wildebeest are running away from them. The scene is a dramatic example of the predator-prey relationship in the savanna.
