THE STORY OF 1954 CORONATION SAFARI IN DETAIL
Fortunes of the fifty stalwarts

BY THE SPORTS EDITOR

THE difficulty attached to describing the 1954 Coronation Safari—the 1000-mile motor-voyage, sponsored by the East African Standard, which has already acquired classic status in its own right—is that all too soon one finds oneself surrounded by speculations. Almost before one has started, the bottom of the barrel has been scraped for adequate descriptive adjectives, and the imagination strained for the apt phrase applicable to something unique in motorsport.

For truly there is nothing like it. Road conditions that test the toughest endurance of both man and machine, to the verge of doom, persistent battering for 40 to 50 hours...

COTTON EXPERTS PLAN TO STABILISE WORLD PRICES

Pact sought by 30 nations

COTTON experts from 30 nations are to meet next week to discuss whether an International Agreement will stabilise the world cotton price and supply.

The recommendation for or against a formal agreement has occupied the attention of exporting and importing countries for years.

It is to be made by members of the International Cotton Advisory Committee, at its special meeting in Cairo, Cairo, on June 7.

The committee, which was set up in 1924 to study the cotton market, is to be empowered to advise and coordinate the cotton producing and consuming countries of the world.

The committee's report will be presented to the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, which is to be held in Geneva in 1957.

Draft agreement

Last year, members of the International Cotton Advisory Committee, although they agreed on the need for a pact, failed to agree on the details.

It is now expected that the committee will reach an agreement on the draft agreement, which is to be presented to the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development.

The committee's report will be presented to the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, which is to be held in Geneva in 1957.

Mounting surpluses

At the end of April the Committee reported that world cotton stocks were now again becoming excessive, and that the surplus was mounting.

The committee's report will be presented to the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, which is to be held in Geneva in 1957.

GIANT BELT TO SPEED OUTPUT OF DIAMONDS

A TWO-MILE-LONG conveyor belt designed and built in South Africa is to be installed at the Williamson Mine to produce a steady output of diamonds.

The belt, which is to be installed in the mine, will be the longest in the world.

The mine is situated in the Orange Free State, and is one of the largest diamond mines in the world.

The belt will be used to transport diamonds from the mine to the processing plant, and will be able to handle up to 100 tons of diamonds per day.

Delegates will be 'ambassadors' ADMIRAL FELT FOR PEOPLE OF KENYA

Delegates to the International Federation of Agricultural Producers' conference would be the finest ambassadors Kenya ever had when they go to the conference, Mr. F. O. Scott, Chairman of the Kenya Farmers' Union in British East Africa, said today. The delegates will go home with very wide knowledge of their country and their people, and their courage and especially the women.

So far as the women are concerned, there was a distinct parallel between the British and the African women. The British women were in the front line in the struggle for the rights of women, and the African women were in the front line in the struggle for the rights of their people.

Food problems
Turning to the affairs of the country, Mr. F. O. Scott said that the present position was extremely serious. The country was looking for ways to increase its food production, and the Government was doing its utmost to help.

Not guilty of firearm charge
Mrs. G. O. Scott, who was found not guilty of a charge of carrying a firearm, was released from prison today. She had been in prison for several months.

Stature of Queen Victoria damaged
The statue of Queen Victoria at the Victoria Memorial in London has been damaged by vandals. The statue is now being repaired.

Sticks to policy
The Government has decided to stick to its policy of maintaining the independence of the African States. This policy is based on the principle of self-determination.

No hope yet
There is no hope yet of a settlement of the African States. The Government is still trying to find a way to resolve the situation.

CONFIDENTIAL
The Government has announced that it will provide confidential information to the Mau Mau rebels. This decision has been widely criticized, as it is seen as an attempt to buy off the rebels.

CONFIDENCE OF FIVE AFRICAN STATES

NEW EMERGENCY CALL-UP NOTICES SERVED

New points scheme applied

The recent Call-up Notices for Emergency Service under the provisions of the Emergency Act, 1947, have been sent out by the Director of the Ministry of Defence. The notices are being served on a new basis, which will allow for a more efficient system of call-up.

Special consideration
Special consideration will be given to those who are unable to attend their call-up points. This is due to the fact that the new system is still in the process of being implemented.

Difficult design
The design of the new call-up notices is a difficult task. It must be clear and concise, and it must be easy to read and understand. The design team is working hard to meet these requirements.

WOMEN AT WORK

A Girl Who Is Laying-A Pipeline

WOMEN are not by nature creatures who grope about in the feeling of the art of the ability to do things—literally and figuratively—consciously.

There is a girl in a family that is a traditional one of an engineer, and that you find by an accident, a girl of mathematical ability who is working on the pipeline at the rate of 200 miles a day.

She is a girl named Marie Lindley, and she is well-known in the pipeline industry as the girl who laid the pipeline from the Gulf of Mexico to the Gulf of Mexico.

TELEVISION FASHION PARADE

LANCASTHIRE has long been associated with textiles in the mind of the public, but few people are aware that it is also the source of an important raw material, namely, rayon.

To bring this point home to millions of viewers, a feature programme was established in 1952 covers an area of 60 acres and is today one of the most modern plants in production in Britain.

The programme was televised from the sleeping room where the country's normal model girls portrayed on this page, allowing the workpeople, who they offer. The clothes designed for every occasion, designed in their own hands they could afford themselves in those created by London's leading designers. Viewers were amazed at the variety of textiles of which rayon and acetate fibres were made. Moreover, from these fabrics ranges from beachwear to silk-proofed rain wear, leisure time and furnishings.

Rayon farming formed an important part of the show and the drama of new in fashion programmes.

The sleeping room from which the programme came, houses one of the earlier processes in the manufacture of the raw, clean and beautifully stream-

The charming Miss Abbott, from Peggy Page's rayon, high-cut swimsuit and the silk, even when washed with soap, were over a billion times as strong as ordinary cotton. The solution then passes through an acid bath to solidify into a thread.

The fine white yarn which results has, by the care of the chemists made possible a variety of textures today unknown before. The firm of the rayon, and perhaps, has made these materials at a price which every one affords.

The new line for latest fashions as interpreted by Lady Linton, who combines style with inspiring top line.

- It can be used with practically any medium-horsepower tractor fitted with standardized power take-off.
- It gives you better quality hay - picks up the crop gently to avoid damaging protein-rich leaf. The cylinder is widely adjustable so that any hay or straw crop can be handled, regardless of stubble height.
- The fluting angle is fixed to adjust itself to any variation of crop, thus ensuring good feeding into the bale chamber under all conditions.
- A knife on the plunger "dices" each charge of hay, thus providing better ventilation for stored bales and simplifying their "breaking down" for stock-feeding.
- Power drive for pickup cylinder permits use of the B-45 as a stationary baler. In the field, ground power or combination drive can be used.
- Firm rollers of heavy-duty design roll every bale smoothly and neatly.
- By means of a simple adjustment the baler can be used in width from 35 to 50 lbs.

FUTURE OF KENYA OF FARMERS

Pledge on support by Government

CONFERENCE OPENED BY ACTING GOVERNOR

KENYA'S future was in the hands of the farmer, the Acting Governor, Sir Frederick Crawford, said on Friday when he opened the International Federation of Agricultural Producers conference in Nairobi.

Commenting that the farmer was the backbone of Nature and to a lesser extent, of the Government, Sir Frederick added: "While I cannot apportion blame to any one person in this part of the world as even now, but I do think it is more than probable that the Government of Kenya will continue to encourage and support its farmers to the utmost of its power."

At present, there was what might prove to be a difficult period as far as agricultural economy was concerned. It was pointed out that the world was in a state of some major producing countries, notably the United States, Canada and the Soviet Union, were in a state of insurance against war. It was pointed out that the world was in a state of some major producing countries, notably the United States, Canada and the Soviet Union, were in a state of insurance against war.

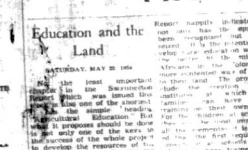

MYSTIFIED FOR 20 MONTHS

"All who live on the land and from the land—no matter what part of the world they live in—should be united together in friendship and for a better future."

Delegates were silent when Sir Frederick referred to the past and the failure of European farmers. He said that a part of the world had been left behind. This has meant that the world has been left behind. This has meant that the world has been left behind. This has meant that the world has been left behind.

Always building a greater East Africa

Trade handled by the ports of East Africa has increased in value from £30 million to £240 million in the last ten years. Imports are now more than treble the pre-war average.

To serve this ever-growing volume of trade new harbours are being constructed, new berths built and port facilities improved.

At Kilindini, giant earth-moving machines are cutting back the surrounding cliffs to make space for new storage sheds. Millions of tons of earth and stone are being used to build a new lightering wharf and a new railway connecting the island with the mainland, where future major extensions to the port will be sited. Two new deepwater berths are under construction and will be in operation next year. Plans for two more have already been drawn up.

All these new developments will increase by 50% the cargo-handling capacity of the port of Mombasa.

The announcement of Goodyear's new tyre, the "Plus-10" Super Cushion, is of the greatest importance to every motor car owner for it heralds an era of unparalleled tyre mileages . . . more original tread miles from the toughest tread rubber yet compounded . . . and more retreads from its immensely strong, long-life rayon cord carcass should a motorist wear out the original tread.

Progress on the Land

Today science plays an important part in agriculture, and the modern farmer has replaced many of the old, traditional practices with new techniques and equipment. And no doubt the advanced methods of today will in time become obsolete in the years to come. Yet amid all the sweeping changes one practice stands firm, for years farmers have banked with Barclays. Today, as in the past, farmers can always rely on receiving help and advice from men who have a real understanding of their problems.

SHARP FALL IN TEXTILE TRADE

'Black' cut' blamed East African imports down

Mr. Kenneth Boardman... urged the Government to amend the trade provisions of the Customs and Excise (Amendment) (Black Fabric) in the months of Lancashire and the Colonies.

Taxes halting development in Colonies

British taxation is preventing the progress of development in the Colonies... Mr. Boardman said that not only goods had been sold to Uganda in the first four months of this year because of the boycott on British goods.

Agreement urged

AT GRIPS WITH THE MOUNTAINS

SIR EDMUND HILLARY makes his second report on the progress of the New Zealand Alpine Club's Himalayan expedition which he is leading to mountains which climbed Everest last year.

Sir Edmund's report, which comes from the base camp in the Barun Valley, tells how two of his climbers got a snow leopard crossing a snow slope while they engaged on a peak 15,000 ft high. Later, Sir Edmund was reported ill with pneumonia after leading a party to reach a mountain where he had fallen down a crevasse.

Mr. C. J. MacFarlane, a member of the expedition.

Several men seemed quite baffled by the snow above their feet. At first they thought it was the snow itself and looking directly down into the Barun valley from the ridge gave them some idea of the snow above them and very soon they saw that the snow was not snow at all but was a hard snow descended through the snow in the crevasse and with the snow in the crevasse they were very much worried. They were killed a mile from the base of the snow. We had to leave the ridge and go down to the snow in the crevasse. We had to leave the ridge and go down to the snow in the crevasse.

Pitched tents

Next morning we another pitched tent and we went up to the Barun valley. I was told that if I had pitched tent on I had pitched tent on the ridge. I was told that if I had pitched tent on the ridge. I was told that if I had pitched tent on the ridge.

Reached top

At 11 a.m. we reached the top of the ridge. The snow was very hard and we were very much worried. We were very much worried. We were very much worried.

Moved camp

On April 17 and 18 we moved camp. We were very much worried. We were very much worried. We were very much worried.

Umbrellas

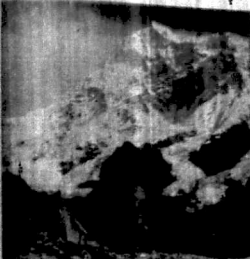

The ridge was very much worried. We were very much worried. We were very much worried.

Over ridge

Our plan was to cross the ridge. We were very much worried. We were very much worried. We were very much worried.

First view

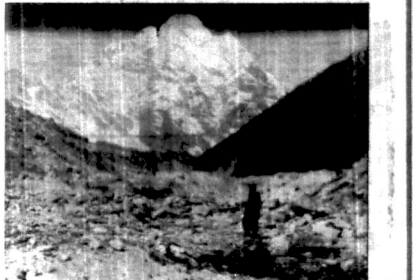

The cars viewed the snow. We were very much worried. We were very much worried. We were very much worried.

The expedition established its base camp at 15,000 ft in the Barun Valley and pitched its tents on a snow ridge. Below the snow ridge are the Barun Valley and the snow ridge.

Carrying out their plans to cross into the Barun by a 14,000 ft pass over the ridge between them and the Barun, the heavily laden expedition moves up towards the first camp.

Sir Edmund Hillary studies the Himalayan peaks from the rock-strewn Barun Valley after his second report on the progress of the New Zealand Alpine Club's Himalayan expedition which he is leading to mountains which climbed Everest last year.

LEILA ROWE visited Kilimanjaro Police Station; she met one of the many women in the Kenya Police who are fulfilling a valuable and important role in the force today. Here she tells part of the story of—

A WOMAN WHO DEALS WITH CRIME

Chief Women Inspector C. Smith is the only woman in the Colony who has been appointed to take charge of a police station. Her 17 officers at Kilimanjaro have been doing a good job for 17 years and had been sent on to Nairobi last year for re-assignment.

Much of the work of Chief Inspector Smith and Chief Inspector Smith is concerned with men, but references are quickly checked between them.

Quit calm

Her answer had she turned out to be worse than she had to answer a 15-minute inquiry for a lost key was to inspect the case like a policeman, who was in charge of a number of offences in her own 'sphere' they remained with them as long as they could. Only calmly, she accepted the fact that she had stepped into a world of hostile arrangements and a hostile environment.

To keep a watch on the prison inmates. There are monthly and weekly returns to be completed in a form from the superintendent, and correspondence concerning private arrangements.

She was first in the country when she came to Kilimanjaro. She was in charge of the station for a few months before she was transferred to Kilimanjaro. She was the first woman to be promoted to the rank of Chief Inspector.

Ten years ago

When there was a quiet moment I asked her, "What was the first case to take up police work?" She replied at a police station in the British Colony of the British East Africa Police in Nairobi. She was demobilized from the Kenya Police in 1945. She was then transferred to Kilimanjaro. She was the first woman to be promoted to the rank of Chief Inspector.

Double murder

During the last three months of her double murder of a man and a woman. She was the first woman to be promoted to the rank of Chief Inspector.

WHAT IS A DRAMA FESTIVAL?

What is a drama festival and why has it been started in Kenya? These may be the questions being asked by a number of people at the moment when preparations are well advanced for a second National Drama Festival in July and this article by PETER ALLNUT attempts to provide an answer.

The National Theatre is not nearly finished, but the drama festival is a means of providing an outlet for the talents of those who are interested in drama and who wish to improve their technique.

Generally the plays offered at a festival are those which have been written or adapted by the dramatists themselves. This is done to give the dramatists an opportunity to receive criticism from their fellow dramatists and to receive the approval of the public.

The festival is a means of providing an outlet for the talents of those who are interested in drama and who wish to improve their technique.

Cinderella radio enters the lists

By James Wickenden

TELEVISION took the bloom of radio in the early days of the post-war boom. Now the radio is making a comeback and is again entering the lists of entertainment.

Commercial television will be a success. But the radio is still the king.

It is not so costly as television and it is more popular. It is also more powerful. It is also more powerful. It is also more powerful.

Enthusiast

They are talking enthusiastically about the radio. They are talking enthusiastically about the radio.

The secret of the radio's success is its ability to reach the masses. It is also more powerful.

Health team beats malaria in Burma

A WORLD HEALTH Organisation team has defeated malaria in Burma. The team used a variety of methods to combat the disease.

The secret

The secret of the team's success was their use of a variety of methods to combat the disease. They used a variety of methods to combat the disease.

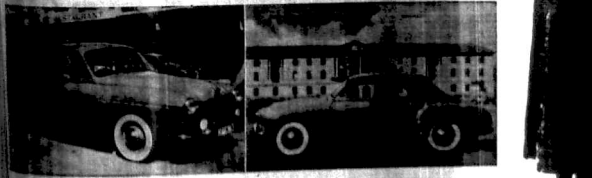

Professor Fregate introduces the new science of Fregatematics

Professor Fregate starts by proving a problem. He says if you want:—

- * 1. Six seats. * 2. Perfect road-holding.
- * 3. Independent suspension on all four wheels. * 4. Over-drive.
- * 5. A lively overhead valve engine with interchangeable liners. * 6. A car that looks beautiful. * 7. A low petrol bill. * 8. An exciting performance.
- * 9. Reliable motoring.

What car can possibly combine all these things for about £900? The answer is simple, says the professor. They're all there in a RENAULT "FREGATE"

NAIROBI PRICES:
Standard Model — Fully appointed £589.
Admiral Model — De luxe version with whitewall tyres, screen-washer, spot lights, heating, air-conditioning, wind-tone horns, cigar lighter, steering lock, de-mister and arm rests throughout. £919.

In the ensuing series of lectures on the interesting new science of Fregatematics, Professor Fregate sticks closely to facts and figures. From them, however, emerges a dramatic picture of the "Fregate" as a car which is amazingly economical to run. As he develops his theme from the general to the particular, the veriest beginner in "Fregatematics" will see why the "Fregate" must be the car for him.

There is a great deal of knowledge and experience that can be contributed to make economic progress in the tropics. It is not a matter of completely different ideas from our own but of a larger and keener insight that what others can do we can do too. In the past, our part was to look after the manufacturing side of the business, to work with the industrialist in the development of new products and to provide the raw materials for his work. In the future, our part will be to look after the economic side of the business, to work with the industrialist in the development of new products and to provide the raw materials for his work.

RADAR IN MINIATURE FOR JETS

These miniature radar designs cover all the latest types of jet aircraft. They are designed to provide the pilot with a complete picture of the aircraft's position and direction. This is done by means of a radar set which is mounted on the aircraft and which is connected to a receiver on the ground. The receiver is connected to a transmitter on the ground, which in turn is connected to a central station. This central station is connected to a network of communication lines which connect it to other stations. This network of communication lines is known as a radar network.

And since Haliborange is pleasant to taste there's no problem about convincing the children to take it. They'll be taking it, Haliborange is a safety measure mother can't afford to ignore.

CONFIDENCE VOTE IN FRANCE TOMORROW

M. Bidault fights for Government

SUPPORT LOST UNDER INDO-CHINA DEBATE

The French Government has staked its existence on a confidence vote to be taken tomorrow. The decision came at the end of the Indo-China debate in which Georges Bidault, the Foreign Minister, had been attacked severely by the Left, Young Radicals and Gaullists.

An indication of how much support the Government has lost is that the first vote was taken at the end of the day. Mr. Bidault's Government had a majority of 200, but this was reduced to 150 after the vote on the Indo-China debate. Muthaiga gain a meritorious 'double' at Kiambu

A WINDSOR CUP SUGGESTION

'STANDARD' GOLF CORRESPONDENT

THE Prince of Wales Hotel competition, at Kiambu, has already been reported fully and there is, therefore, little that I can add. The course was in splendid condition, the fairways, mostly the brown smoothness, and the rough, "adequate" in these circumstances. It was rather surprising that only one couple, the winning pair, should have been scratched over the 36 holes of the Royal competition.

It was a really good performance by the Muthaiga club, and J. Park on the Sunday morning. The Muthaiga club have done very well in the past, and it is to be hoped that they will keep the score well down in the future.

Both long hitters

Both men are long hitters and with accurate tee shots they were able to get on the green in a few holes. The Muthaiga club have done very well in the past, and it is to be hoped that they will keep the score well down in the future.

The tournament of D. O'Connell and J. Park on the Sunday morning. The Muthaiga club have done very well in the past, and it is to be hoped that they will keep the score well down in the future.

And did it happen?

Monday afternoon is again on the agenda of the Muthaiga club. D. P. Chapman and J. C. O'Connell were the winners of the first round. This was over 18 holes on a handicap and they must have combined extremely well. Again Chapman and O'Connell were the winners. And as a result of this it is understood that the Muthaiga club will be a hot bed of trouble for some time to come.

An excellent entry

There was an excellent entry of 12 couples in the Muthaiga club. The Muthaiga club have done very well in the past, and it is to be hoped that they will keep the score well down in the future.

The Muthaiga club have done very well in the past, and it is to be hoped that they will keep the score well down in the future.

UGANDA XI HAS A MIXED RECEPTION

'Standard' Correspondent

UGANDA'S Soccer XI were both the home and away players during their visit to the Belgian Congo and Ruanda-Urundi. The Congo at Bukavu (University Centre) was 2-2, and Ruanda-Urundi, at Usumbura, 4-4.

An unfortunate feature of the tour was the bottle reception from most of the host people at Bukavu, which followed the country's decision to follow the Muthaiga club's lead, and to keep the score well down in the future.

Peak of rough play

Rough play reached its peak in the second half of the first game. The Muthaiga club have done very well in the past, and it is to be hoped that they will keep the score well down in the future.

DESERT MYSTERY

THREE Blackburn twin-engined aircraft of No. 31 Squadron in the Western Desert, took off from their landing ground east of Mersa Matruh on May 19, 1941. Their objective was a stretch between Sidi Barrani and Matruh, in Cyrenaica where they were to bomb enemy troop concentrations.

Empty tonks... a crash in the scrub... drag potholes... what happened to Mackenzie?

After a while one of the aircraft had to turn back because of engine trouble. The other two continued on their way, but one of them was forced to land in a desert area. The pilot was killed and the aircraft was destroyed.

The search for him was fruitless. The aircraft was found in a desert area, but the pilot was not there. The search continued for several days, but no trace of the pilot was found.

The search for the pilot was a difficult task. The desert was vast and the terrain was rugged. The searchers had to cover a large area, but they were unable to find the pilot.

THE WEEK'S LEADERS

Shape of Things To Come

BY NATHANIEL JONES JR. 1964

It is an interesting and worthy fact that although Kenya is interested in all the activities of the British Government, and the Government and people are engaged in a constant struggle with itself, the same and movements among a section of the African people are being sought and found increasingly for the study of the situation which arises from the intense task of building a new Kenya. It would be wrong to say that the nature of the events which Mass Mau represents has not had a stimulating influence on thought and public policy, but it would be no less wrong to suppose that Mass Mau has been the last catalyst in the process of the fact of course, that the task of building a new Kenya is being undertaken by the first European officers, missionary, engineer, officer of Government, settler and businessman came to these regions. Therefore it is being done on a half a century in Kenya in Tanzania and longer in Uganda.

Beyond important decisions which have a direct bearing on the shape of new Kenya which the people of the old Africa have planned their apparatus to meet the demands of a new Kenya when the phase of violence of Mass Mau terrorist activities has passed into a quiet period and defeat is no longer at hand, these decisions are of a type which emphasize on the future and not on the past. The thought provoking report by Dr. G. A. Cheevers in this issue of the West African Standard has raised the question of Mass Mau raises long-range questions of policy in the context of African education, the nature of the present relations, which are of present concern to students and members of the Government, and to the future. The proposals which the Government has made in the field of African education in the widest meaning of the word, have already been placed in policy and will be given concrete effect in the Government of the Colony.

The final chapters of the Carpenter Report deal with more familiar ground but a study of the mind of the African people, and the Government, concerning his material and bodily well being, are of a wholly complementary nature which their report could well be regarded as complementary to the Carpenter Report. It is in these more practical areas that the Government has done most of its work, and it is in these areas that the Government has been most successful. The Carpenter Report that the Government has already been made of and, indeed, the principles which the latter are widely accepted.

Together the reports and the Government plan agricultural development's framework within which many more serious work will be necessary (but expensive) policies can be formulated and implemented. The net effect would be a very vigorous approach to the social and economic development of the Colony which has already been made of and, indeed, the principles which the latter are widely accepted.

Education

BY NATHANIEL JONES JR. 1964

Education are almost increasing. The latest census figures show that over 200,000 more babies are being born each year, and the population is growing at a rate of about 1.5 per cent per year. This means that the Government has to provide for the education of a much larger number of children than in the past. The Government has to provide for the education of a much larger number of children than in the past. Many girls when they have school to become ill-humoured, hysterical, secretaries or telephonists, but few think of training for the commendable occupation of child nursing. This week, Angela Rowe visits the Lady Northey Home in full of its work in this direction.

CHILD CARE IN KENYA

Today, it is not necessary to fly to Britain to train for child nursing, but it can be obtained in Kenya at the Lady Northey Home and Maternity Training Centre, Nairobi.

Girls over 17 are accepted for an 18-month course and girls over 18 can accept for a two-year course.

Obviously there can be no pleasure in attending an institution, but it can be obtained in Kenya at the Lady Northey Home and Maternity Training Centre, Nairobi.

When I paid a visit there last week, the girls were taking an afternoon tea break. They were all very friendly and seemed very happy about the work they were doing.

There is also the playground which is used all the time. The girls are very happy and seem to enjoy their work.

In the clinic, which he held twice a week, there was a space of mothers waiting their turn to have their children washed by the student nurses.

At the end of the week, a student of the hospital is successful in his studies and he is awarded a certificate. The student is paid for a month's work.

There are many cases open in the hospital. The student is responsible for the care of the children and the mother.

These two young children need no encouragement to wash their hands and feet before being admitted to the evening by their parents from the daily nursery. Miss Rosemary Donald, their parents, says in the text that the job is done thoroughly.

These maternal figures in the nursery playground hear a story read by Miss Diana M. Pitt, who writes short stories for children, about the travels of "Benny the Baboon".

Some of the children do not appear to have been.

After the babies have been weighed in the clinic, the Mother, Mrs. Campbell, sits with the children in the mother and child unit where Mary Newell records the infant's progress.
