THE LOGIC IS REMORSELESS

Britain learns the hard way

BY RICHARD DENHAM OF THE ECONOMIST.

RARELY in history has a nation been required to adjust itself so quickly to a changed economic status as the British people, to the post-war situation. Many hard discoveries have already been made by ordinary men and women who were accustomed to take the country's standard of living for granted.

It has been borne in on them that, during the war, Britain lost a great deal of wealth which she must recover; that the first step is to produce more; and that the second is to import more.

It has been borne in on them that, during the war, Britain lost a great deal of wealth which she must recover; that the first step is to produce more; and that the second is to import more.

For a Labour Government to put forth a proposition to the effect that Mr. Attlee did, cannot have been easy. It was a proposition that required a high degree of courage and a high degree of conviction. It was a proposition that required a high degree of courage and a high degree of conviction.

Reveident

Mr. Attlee's statement was clear and the position he outlined self-evident. It was a statement that required a high degree of courage and a high degree of conviction. It was a statement that required a high degree of courage and a high degree of conviction.

The threat

Mr. Attlee's statement had been no more than a restatement of the state of economic affairs. It was a statement that required a high degree of courage and a high degree of conviction. It was a statement that required a high degree of courage and a high degree of conviction.

Authority

Directly and indirectly, through centralisation or through various organs of financial control, the Government today has more authority than it has ever had before. It is a statement that required a high degree of courage and a high degree of conviction.

WHAT is the meaning of molar?

ODOL'S ORAL QUIZ

The Latin word "mola" means mill—there are 12 molars in a full set of teeth, six in each jaw, and they grind your food to help digestion. That is why your back teeth need so much attention as those which are seen. Odol cares for your teeth, makes them clean and sparkling, and refreshes the mouth. And you'll like the flavour.

1600 - 1947

CINCIONA BARK was used by the natives of Peru in the year 1600 for the treatment of MALARIA, and generally in health. Later the same constituent was introduced into the TOTAQUINA supply in Holland. The TOTAQUINA is the active alkaloid, including all the quinine present in the bark. The League of Nations Medical Commission, and the International League of Red Cross Societies, have both recommended TOTAQUINA. It is manufactured under strict supervision, and is free from any toxic substances.

In Nairobi National Park LAST WARNING TO RULE BREAKERS

The minority who won't behave

Marabout works at a water hole in Nairobi National Park.

The number of visitors who enter Nairobi National Park on weekdays evenings there are usually about forty to fifty cars in the park; at weekends the numbers run into hundreds.

On the 17th day of the week, the dust as far follows car almost nose to tail, so far from the pleasure is good, but there always appear to be a small minority who ignore the regulations. To them I can only give one warning—your order offenders. So beware.

Wild dogs A small pack of wild dogs, about ten in number, is still in the park. They are a part of the large pack of dogs which were about the park for some time.

Unidentified There were at one distance and I do not know who they are, but they are certainly they are large spotted ones. They looked very like the spotted ones which were seen in the park last night.

The battle I was told once by one of the old hunters in Kenya, who says that he had seen a lion once in a muddy pool, and that he had seen a lion once in a muddy pool, and that he had seen a lion once in a muddy pool.

Wanch for warning signals These little white signals which are placed at intervals along the roads, are a very useful device for warning drivers of the presence of a roadblock or other obstruction.

AFRICANS SEE DISNEY, CHAPLIN

The theory that Kenya Africans will only go to see industrial films if it is a case of a 'free show' is proved by the fact that the Welfare Department of the Nairobi Municipal Council, which recently bought a film projector and a supply of films, has had out of Nairobi to see the film 'The Circus' at the Municipal Native Dance Hall at a charge of thirty cents for adult entrance and ten cents for children and schoolgirls of small children free.

Mr. Wallis, the Council's Assistant Welfare Officer, stated that Africa and other parts of the world, supported by the Municipal Council, are interested in the films shown. He stated that the films will go into the way of bringing the films to the attention of the Africans.

Admission charges are ten cents, but the members of the Municipal Council, who are interested in the films, are allowed to see the films free of charge.

Withes, too? There have been held since the projector was bought in December, and since then, the Municipal Council has been holding films for the benefit of the Africans.

TRANSFUSION

THIS might you eye in the American Jersey Bulletin, "Wilson Wilhelm of Sherradott has a method to print which has attracted some in calves. When a calf is born he calls in a veterinarian to drain a pint of blood from the cow, and inject it under the skin of the calf, thus making the calf resistant to white scours the first day of its life.

Essential oil growing is not the short cut to making a fortune

A VERY great deal of interest is being evinced throughout East Africa in the subject of essential oils. Perhaps the very high prices which have been obtained during the past years have attracted some, perhaps the idea of producing a high value crop, the transport of which is relatively low, has attracted others, and some have been misled by the separation of the oils.

Most, however, have the ideal firmly fixed in their minds that all they need to do is to obtain the essential oil from the plant, and they are on a safe socket. There are many snags.

The essential oil market is rather peculiar. There are a few who have evolved formulae for the perfume industry based upon wild yam oils, but the rest of the market is the essential oil of the plant. The first step is to obtain a quantity of the plant, the quality of the plant is of the greatest importance. The essential oil is produced in the glands of the plant, and it is not easy to get a quantity of the oil which will enable the plant to produce the same quality of oil.

It is suggested that an attractive oil is produced, the results of which will enable the plant to produce the same quality of oil. The essential oil market is rather peculiar. It is suggested that an attractive oil is produced, the results of which will enable the plant to produce the same quality of oil. The essential oil market is rather peculiar. There are a few who have evolved formulae for the perfume industry based upon wild yam oils, but the rest of the market is the essential oil of the plant. The first step is to obtain a quantity of the plant, the quality of the plant is of the greatest importance. The essential oil is produced in the glands of the plant, and it is not easy to get a quantity of the oil which will enable the plant to produce the same quality of oil.

FEED FROM WASTE

TO BE have grain value to the world, research scientists of the United States Department of Agriculture have been working to obtain livestock and poultry feed from such vegetable waste.

At Wyndover, Pennsylvania, as you know and cattle, and regional laboratories in Pennsylvania have succeeded in growing a new type of vegetable waste which is suitable for use as a feed for livestock and poultry. The waste is prepared by cutting green feed blades on a moving belt through a compressor of 100 degrees Fahrenheit about 35 minutes until they are brittle.

A rotating screen separates the blades from the stems and a hammer mill pulverizes the dry blades. Other types of vegetation are prepared as a whole crop without separating stems and cuttings.

BRITAIN LOPS 224,000 OFF ARMED FORCES TOTAL

Army will get most of new men next year to cost taxpayers close on £700,000,000

ALTHOUGH admitting the effects of constitutional changes within the British Commonwealth and Empire, Britain leaving the Empire, withdrawal of troops from India and Pakistan, and from Palestine, gives an example, the White Paper on Defence presented to Parliament yesterday by the Minister of Defence, Mr. A. V. Alexander, makes no specific reference to the equipment of an East African base.

While stating the "prevention of war is still the supreme object of British policy" and admitting that it was the tangible evidence of our intention and ability to withstand attack, the White Paper projects a reduction of the armed forces from the 440,000 men, agreed on for March this year in last autumn's review, to 716,000 by the end of the 1946-47 financial year.

Call-up of conscripts to be smaller

Division of manpower and financial cost of the three Services set out as follows:

	Manpower	Cost
Royal Navy	149,000	£145,000,000
Army	324,000	£305,000,000
Royal Air Force	261,000	£173,000,000

Because of the necessity of restricting the intake of National Servicemen this year, the call-up to be regarded and the 1946-47 intakes will be 200,000 to the Navy, 100,000 to the Army and 48,000 to the R.A.F.

Projections in the year of about 15,000, to 37,000, in the civil manpower engaged on defence matters is forecast. The average expenditure on defence in 1946-47 is £61,000,000 included for the defence total of £200,000,000. The Ministry of Supply and £200,000,000 for the defence total.

Trim emulates Larwood in British Guiana

INJURIES and sickness are again dogging the M.C.C. touring team in the West Indies, and may well prejudice their chances in the British Guiana match at Georgetown.

At close of play on Saturday, England had made 63.50 runs behind the M.C.C.'s first innings total. Trim headed a brilliant century, and Trill headed another.

Smart fielding

Christian made 121 before being out, but Larwood and Thomas were run out as a result of a smart piece of fielding. The side that made 144 were:

Howard and Brown both saw their bats cut out on Saturday.

Hulton goes early

Hulton was caught by a wicketless bowler, adding to the troubles which have beset the addition of Hulton to the team.

Laker's few tricks

Mr Laker, despite suffering from a strained abdominal muscle, put up a brilliant bowling performance.

Club night is now on Tuesdays

There has been a change in the night of the Nairobi Swimming Club from Wednesday to Tuesday.

Today's Hockey

Parbhudas will play Prince of Wales at Parklands this afternoon.

Advertisement for East African Power & Lighting Company Limited, featuring text: 'Once transformed into electricity, the original power of the hydro, diesel or steam engine can be transmitted by cables at high pressure or voltage and stepped up or down to higher or lower voltages at convenient points by transformers. This almost infinite flexibility in distributing and recovering energy justifies the description of electricity as "one of the most important and characteristic features of our civilization." The illustration shows a "sub-station" taking the 2,300 volt output of one of our steam generating stations into a main supply system at 40,000 volts.'

THE WORLD OF SPORT— M.C.C.'s 7th consecutive draw in W. Indies

AFTER one of the most disappointing days of cricket of the tour, the M.C.C. drew their seventh match with British Guiana at Georgetown.

This was the seventh match and the seventh consecutive draw of the tour, an indication of the defensive cricket necessitated by the long and M.C.C. injuries and sickness.

Remaining at the end of the tour, the M.C.C. will play a final match with British Guiana at Georgetown on Saturday. The M.C.C. will play with only one week's rest, after a long tour of the West Indies.

In Brief ARSENAL APPEAR TO 'HAVE IT IN THE BAG'

NOT for many seasons have the Football League promotion and relegation problems appeared to be so cut-and-dried. Arsenal, Birmingham and Lincoln City appear to have leadership in the bag, with most of the interest centered in whether or not Cardiff City can emulate Charlton Athletic's feat of rising from Division III to Division I in two seasons.
