PROMISE OF A NEW EXPORT TRADE

From Kenya's forests BRITISH EXPERT SEES OPPORTUNITY FOR HIGH PROFITS

Kenya's supply of softwoods in the future will be sufficient to meet internal needs but also to provide excellent scope for export trade...

It was noted by the Kenya Government... that the present value of Kenya's forests is estimated at about 100 million shillings...

Forestry is a long-term industry... and it is not possible to build up a forest in a few years...

It is noted that Kenya has very little softwood... and that the present value of Kenya's forests is estimated at about 100 million shillings...

THE SCOTTISH CHRONICLE NEW SECRETARY OF STATE MAKES A GOOD START

It is not surprising that the new Secretary of State for Scotland, Mr. James Douglas, has made a good start in his new post. He has been in Scotland for a few days and has already made a number of visits to various parts of the country.

Mr. Douglas has been seen in Glasgow, Edinburgh, Aberdeen, Dundee, Perth, and Inverness. He has also visited the islands of Orkney and Shetland. His visits have been well received and he has been seen to be in good rapport with the people of Scotland.

It is thought that Mr. Douglas will be able to do a great deal of good in his new post. He has a long and varied experience in public life and is well known to the people of Scotland.

His first visit to Glasgow was on Monday, March 13. He was accompanied by his wife and two children. He was seen to be in good health and in high spirits.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD

British girl who complains of pain in her slightly swollen arms and legs was thought to be suffering from acute rheumatism. Several weeks later she was removed to a hospital, incapable of movement.

Striking results

Checking on the experiments of the British doctor at the British Rheumatism Hospital, they found that after injection of a certain amount of arthritis fluid into a joint the pain was relieved for several hours. The success of the experiments means further the production of the arthritis fluid which has been shown to be a valuable remedy.

The battle to defeat rheumatic pain

BERNARD MINNS, UNESCO special writer tells the story of a new drug that is beating rheumatism.

A SEVEN-YEAR-OLD British girl who complains of pain in her slightly swollen arms and legs was thought to be suffering from acute rheumatism. Several weeks later she was removed to a hospital, incapable of movement.

She had wanted to ride and had the lot to be taken to her. It was too late to do so, but she had to be taken to the hospital. She was taken to the hospital and was found to be suffering from acute rheumatism.

EUROPEANS NEEDED IN GREAT NUMBERS

'To save Africa's soil'

WORLD-FAMOUS EXPERT CANNOT SEE AFRICANS MAKE PROSPERITY

Dr. W. C. LOWDERMILK, the world-famous authority on soil and water conservation, who has been touring British East Africa, says that the only way to save the soil of the continent is to bring in large numbers of European immigrants. In "great numbers" are required, he says. The South African newspaper, "The Star," in an interview, cannot be left to the Africans, whose methods of soil conservation are primitive. "The Africans should perhaps still supply their own wants as far as possible, but there is no question of their producing a surplus for marketing."

£3½ MILLION LOAN FIRST OF SERIES

High Commission conversion offer

THE East African High Commission has announced that it has converted the first of East African loans of £3,500,000 into sterling.

Open on Monday

LAVISH MEDIEVAL PAGEANT TO MARK NAIROBI'S CHARTER CELEBRATIONS

Fifty wagons in hour-long procession

THE Pageant of Nairobi on March 21 has been lavishly conceived in the style of medieval Europe when wagon pageants carried important events and honored distinguished persons such as the Charter of the new city westward.

George Ellis portrayed

An outstanding feature of the pageant will be an engraving of the portrait of Sir George Ellis, K.C., the first European settler in Nairobi.

All set for 'dress rehearsal'

WITH less than a week to elapse before the Charter Day pageant, the dress rehearsal was held on Monday morning.

A £2,000,000 'THANK YOU'

Sentence of Death

THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1950
The interval of two days between the sentence of the Supreme Court and the execution of the death sentence in a case of rape was unprecedented in the history of the Colony.

Whether Leopold can remember his own trial is a matter of conjecture, but it is likely that he will be able to do so. The evidence of the lesser offences is not so clear as that of the main offence.

THE death sentence is a landmark in the history of the Colony. It is the first time that a man has been sentenced to death for a crime committed in the Colony.

It is a pity that the case has not been more widely known. The public interest in the case is not as great as it should be.

TWO AFRICANS TO DIE FOR RAPE

You can expect no mercy from me - Judge

TWO of the three Kikuyu concerned in the Kilimani rape case are under sentence of death. They are Mwangi S/O Makoro and Kihoro S/O Ngoro.

They were brought to the High Court by His Lordship, the Chief Justice, Ransley Thackeray, sitting in the Supreme Court of Kenya.

The two defendants were charged with the rape of a young girl, aged 15, who was brought to the court by her father, Mr. Mwangi S/O Makoro.

The girl was brought to the court by her father, Mr. Mwangi S/O Makoro, who is a well-known and respected member of the community.

CHICKS NEED RIBOFLAVIN

A high level of Riboflavin (vitamin B2) is needed in the diet of the chick. In the United Kingdom this is secured by an order under the Feeding Stuffs Act which requires the manufacturer to add in least 5% of dried milk solids to any Chick Meal.

Chick Meal and Grower's Mash made by Unge Limited both include a Riboflavin concentrate which, from actual analysis, contains nearly three times as much Riboflavin as dried skim milk.

In this article COLIN MAHER questions the still-prevalent practice of burning off the stubbles in the Kenya Highlands

A burning question: The stubble problem in Kenya

NOT all the blue haze which obscures the distant views during the dry season in many districts of Kenya is due to gas fumes. Substantial amounts of smoke are still contributed by burning stubbles on the wheat lands just by scorching surplus maize straw.

Organic matter disappears rapidly enough in all countries during cultivation and the cereal stubbles which remain after harvest is frequently the only source of replacement organic material to be added under current systems of large-scale crop farming.

Even under a more advanced farming system, where the farmer cannot afford to invest in tractors or combine harvesters, the straw is burnt off.

Some of the straw is burnt straight in a crop field, but the effect on the succeeding crop is due to competition for water and nutrients for the soil.

Ploughing. Frequently, the straw is burnt in order to facilitate a neat and easy ploughing of the top soil.

Experiments. Long-term cultivation experiments have been started at the C.I.C. Dada.

Measurably, we must rely on some new recipe of a synthetic fertilizer which have been obtained in East Africa during the past year.

Dollar shortage helps Tanganyika tobacco

THE Southern Highlands Non-Native Tobacco Growers Union have sold approximately one million pounds of the 1950 crop on forward contracts at prices ranging from Shs. 2,500 for Grade 1 to Shs. 1,750 for Grade BX.

Last year, 4,800 acres under cultivation yielded 1,150,000 lb. of tobacco. This year 5,600 acres have been planted and it is hoped that production will reach 1,400,000 lb.

Mr. Landless, who purchased some of the 1949 crop, was reported to be particularly satisfied with the lighter grades. A contract has now been signed for 20,000 lb. of the 1950 crop at 50 per cent of grades 1/4 and 1/2 per cent of grades 3/4 and 1/2.

Higher prices. Mr. H. T. Constantine, chairman of the Union, says that the prices are about 30 per cent higher than the level of the previous year. They have sold on forward contracts to give the growers security.

The Union had a disappointing year from Malindi on last year's cigarette market. The tobacco was sent up to Mombasa and there are reports that the Malindi growers are being asked to supply the market.

A chance. "Owing to the dollar shortage," says Mr. Constantine, "we have a wonderful opportunity to export tobacco to the market as firmly as we can. The chance that we can lose that market is very small."

SULTAN OF ZANZIBAR PAYS FIRST VISIT TO MOMBASA SINCE 1936

A SULTAN of 21 guns... hundreds of men from the Coast Battery, just about eight o'clock on Thursday... His Highness Al-Hajj, accompanied by His Highness Sir Harub... G.B.E. Sultan of Zanzibar on a one-day State visit to Mombasa, entered Kilimanjaro Harbour. It was the first time Sultan has visited Mombasa since 1907, when he was returning to Zanzibar after the death of his crowned son...

In one of the most colourful ceremonies witnessed in Mombasa, for many years, the Sultan of Zanzibar opened the new Arab Secondary School and inspected the Mombasa Institute of Muslim Education.

Good teeth stay good because Kolynos foam cleans IN-BETWEEN

It's known to all that danger lies. That's where bacteria multiply and go to work—producing the acids that cause decay. Kolynos foam penetrates straight to the danger spots. Kolynos foam contains special ingredients that neutralize the acids, destroy bacteria. Expert laboratory tests have proved that Kolynos' cleanser on 98 per cent of bacterial mouth bacteria. Kolynos helps to keep teeth healthy—keeps them wonderfully white and clean.

Mars are the most marvellous chocolate bars you've ever tasted

When a Mars and your rich milk chocolate combine—then the rich, buttery flavoured chocolate layer—then the marvellous coating of chocolate makes Mars the most marvellous chocolate bar in England. Ask for Mars by name. On all confectionaries.

When reading the address, Dr. Rana handed it to the Sultan, who as His Highness left the date to complete the building, he was accompanied by the Mombasa Post Scout Troop, who formed a guard of honour for him, looking very smart in their uniforms. His Highness passed and returned while they were playing.

After the ceremony, there was an official luncheon party at Government House. During the afternoon the Sultan and his party, accompanied by the Governor of Kenya, visited the Mombasa Institute of Muslim Education, where His Highness held a reception for the staff and students, which lasted until 4 p.m. His Highness was accompanied by Sir Philip Mitchell, who called the following meeting.

It's pleasant to read about normal people for a change

Today's review is a continuation from last week and covers a further selection from the great variety of novels appearing during the present London Spring publishing season.

VARIETY of theme and treatment is usually maintained in these four books, no two of which belong to the same category.

Robert Storey's novel Motherhood is a very pleasant story about a normal English woman who, minded, do still exist in the world.

Mr. P. H. Rafter's The Bookies is a novel set on the London scene, and the characters are very different from the old-fashioned type of book that the first of the Londoners was when they first appeared on the London scene, and the novel is a very different type of book that the first of the Londoners was when they first appeared on the London scene.

The author's main aim is to keep up the family of an old, but, Anna, a girl, in this section in the country.
