TOWARDS SELF-GOVERNMENT

'Needs patience' says report PROGRESS IN TANGANYIKA AND TUGOLAND REVIEWED

The new 'definitive progress' in political education in the territories of Tanganyika and Tugoland, according to a Government report published in London yesterday, is in its political development towards the attainment of the ultimate objects of the United Nations Charter, and it is a matter which should be reached by a process which will involve the responsibilities of self-government.

Leopoldists 'talk of betrayal'

The threat of a new Cabinet election hangs over Belgium, as the King Leopoldists' demands for a new government have been rejected by the King. The King has said he will not be bound by the three-party talk that ended in his agreement to abdicate in favour of his son.

Material gains

The report states that during the past year the Belgian Congo has made considerable material gains. The three main areas of progress are in the fields of agriculture, industry and commerce.

'You have sold us'

The Leopoldists' talk of betrayal has been met with a strong response from the King's supporters. They have said that the King has sold them out.

'Fall human rights'

The report states that the United Nations Commission on Human Rights has been set up. It will be the first time that such a commission has been established.

BATS DOMINATED DESPITE RAIN

Munden gets his first wicket—Compton's RAIN affected most batsmen when the current series in the country commenced on Monday.

They had been battered at Bristol, play stopped early at Chester-on-Sea, no play was possible after rain at Exeter and at Worcester, but the batsmen were not interrupted for shorter periods.

At Exeter, Munden (11) opened the batting and was dismissed by the bowler in the first over. He was out for 100 in 120 minutes for the first time in his life.

What to do when lies are not on the level

When standing where you feel close a club which you feel will get the distance and direction. You must try to hit the ball so that it will go straight and true. This is a matter of balance and control.

by GEN. VON LETTOW VORBECK
Thirty-six years ago today, when World War I broke out, began one of the most remarkable campaigns in African history. Here in the first of a series of four exclusive articles the famous commander of the German troops in Tanganyika, gives his version of the arduous skirmishes of the African campaign.

Above—the General with his wife on his right, poses for a recent family group on his homeward journey as he celebrated in Germany a few months ago. On the right—the General as he has done the African campaign—when he commanded one of the most amazing expeditions to be gathered together in the African Continent. General von Lettow is seen here in a public conveyance which did not know the meaning of the word desert.

So we went a further step and built a camp in the few days of a rain making it possible to maintain the momentum of the march with the seventh day of rest. This meant that the rain had not yet begun to fall and under the pressure of the seventh day, which had been prepared to be the quietest day of the march.

The march became rather tedious, but in spite of this the delay of the march was a welcome one. One of a party of three Europeans, two Africans and three camels had made up a caravan to take the mail to the next station. The camels were waiting for the caravan to start.

Thorn/fired gun
The train came, the noise of the engine and the whistles of the train. I was now an expert marksman and I had the honor of firing the first shot. The train was now moving and I was now an expert marksman.

Very hungry
One day a husband with a very young child, who had been very hungry, was seen in the train. The child was very hungry and the husband was very angry.

When the German troops were in Britain in 1914, a German agent in a Russian city wrote about the East African campaign during the first world war. This came as a surprise to me for I had no idea that my book had been translated into Russian.

It will be gathered that I had not any present. But all were very interested when I told them the story of the campaign. They were very interested when I told them the story of the campaign. They were very interested when I told them the story of the campaign.

Impoverishment

LANCS ON WAY TO ANOTHER VICTORY

Followers again in brilliant form

LANCASHIRE who have a clear lead at the top of the County Championship table were well on the road to securing another victory as a result of the first day's play of their match against Worcestershire, at Manchester.

Worcestershire, after winning the toss, decided to bat first on a batsman's C.A. Turner, who was out for 100 runs. Lancashire, who were out for 100 runs, were out for 100 runs.

A gamble fails

The new England captain, E. Brydon, never really got a chance in a match, as Lancashire's batting was brilliant throughout. Brydon was out for 100 runs.

Grave skittles the West Indies

On a pitch which gave the batsmen a good start, the West Indies were out for 100 runs.

COST OF LIVING IN NAIROBI

A RISE of 10 points between December 31 and the end of this year—the retail price index in Nairobi revealed in a bulletin published by the Kenya Department yesterday.

On April 30 the index register stood at the points, indicating that retail prices had almost doubled since August, 1949, which month was given a 100-point basis for the purpose of computing price variations.

Kampala's price level in 1949 was 181. In both cases the points quoted exclude local foodstuffs such as maize, beans, peas, and other vegetables. With these additions the Nairobi retail price index for 1949 stood at 194—3 points extra over the price level of Kampala's cost-of-living index which stood at 181. The index for Nairobi in 1949 was 194—3 points extra over the price level of Kampala's cost-of-living index which stood at 181.

Japan second

The article dealt with the cost of living in Japan, which was the second highest in the world. The index for Japan in 1949 was 215—12 points extra over the price level of Kampala's cost-of-living index which stood at 181.

AFRICANS TELL ASIANS—'SHOW US IN PRACTICE'

Congress debates freedom of the Press

BEFORE the 20th session of the East African Indian National Congress, the 100 delegates and 20 spectators held their first day of practical action for Indians to demonstrate to the Africans that they were not to be treated as a second-class citizen.

The Africans had been invited to the assembly but they were not allowed to vote. They had heard the majority of the 20 resolutions before Congress demanded that the Government should be asked to grant the Indians the right to vote.

Monday's results

Results of Monday's seven races were as follows:

1. 1000m: J. P. Kapila, 2:15.00. 2. 2000m: J. P. Kapila, 5:30.00. 3. 5000m: J. P. Kapila, 17:00.00. 4. 10000m: J. P. Kapila, 35:00.00. 5. 20000m: J. P. Kapila, 70:00.00. 6. 40000m: J. P. Kapila, 140:00.00. 7. 80000m: J. P. Kapila, 280:00.00.

The Constitution

If a united East African community is to be built in Kenya, the policy of dividing its people into different racial groups will have to be abandoned. It is the only way to build a united East African community.

Representation

Propositional representation, the system of voting and electing members to the East African Indian National Congress, was today discussed by Mr. J. P. Kapila, Secretary of the Indian Congress in Kenya.

PRICE REDUCTION ZONDAGAM CATTLE AND SHEEP DIP

We have pleasure in announcing that with effect from 1st August, 1950

the retail price of "Zondagam" Dip per gallon per container will be—

CAR. MAIROBI

Popular demand has made this small reduction in manufacturing costs possible.

Described by a distinguished B.O.Chemist of the East African Research Corporation as

"An entirely satisfactory B.C.C. Dip for East Africa"

The secret of Zondagam's success lies in the numerous and exhaustive tests carried out before it was introduced to the market.

We trust this reduction will help in some small way to keep down farmers' experimenting expenses.

Marketing schemes: British N.F.U. takes the lead

THE future of wool and food distribution has been brought into the limelight by the presentation to the British Parliament of two new producers' marketing schemes. One deals with wool, the other with leucocytes and cucumbers. Both are sponsored by the National Farmers' Union, which favoured the many similar schemes introduced during the 1940's. And, since they raise issues of distribution, monopoly, and the cost of living, both are shown at first sight to be far from innocuous.

The aim of the wool scheme, says the Union, is to encourage sheep farmers to improve the efficiency of production, marketing, processing and distribution. The wool scheme will consist of the national register of sheep, the national register of wool, and the national register of wool sales. The wool scheme will be introduced in the autumn of 1951. Fashion shows speeded up to put London AHEAD OF PARIS

In their London letter, EUSA M. SHERBES describe the fashion trends as evidenced in the summer-winter collections in a day, afternoon and evening wear.

ONCE upon the small gilt chairs were seated around the walls of the rooms of the London designers as they waited for the models to present their autumn-winter collections.

The atmosphere was highly tense, great heat of the summer days and the girls who rushed and hurried in and out of the trapezoidal room and to the computer-reading machines and to the telephone.

The London designers for 1964, however, were not so nervous as they were in the previous years. They had their act. The models were not so nervous as they were in the previous years. They had their act. The models were not so nervous as they were in the previous years. They had their act.

First woman to be President of Royal College

At the end of last year Professor Hilary Lyle made medical history by being elected President of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists.

This is one of the three great medical colleges in Britain—the other two being the Royal College of Physicians and the Royal College of Surgeons.

The three doctors distinguished themselves in the 19th century as founders of their respective societies or societies.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH KENYA

Some women, when invited to give their views on this subject, said they would far rather talk about what is RIGHT with Kenya. There are two sides to every question and here three women make an outspoken comment on the faults of the Colony - and how they would put them right.

20's

A young new-comer to the Colony, 20-year-old Sue Ward, now working on a typist in Nairobi, gives her views with reservations and even apologies, because of her short time in the country.

30's

THE first thing that struck me when I came to Kenya was the lack of... Mrs. Shough Anley is representative of many... Mrs. Shough Anley is representative of many...

realize that in certain extreme cases the women must work to earn their money. But I think in most instances the family financial position could be greatly improved if the women could be encouraged to work.

And last, but certainly not least, I notice a certain lack of community spirit here. This is noticeable in the way the people appear to be so much interested in their own affairs and not in the affairs of their neighbors.

number of advantages, but one of the drawbacks is that all members of the community—regardless of their financial position—are in a position of economic dependence on a few individuals who are in a position of economic independence.

WHEN GENERAL SMUTS WAS AT DEATH'S DOOR

GENERAL SMUTS has thought that his own greatest battle—the fight for life at 84 years of age.

Five times within a month he was at the point of death, when he lay on his back, and his concentration started what seemed to be the inevitable end.

Then he rallied, was nursed by his family gathered round his bed, and he was able to get up and walk.

As he lay apparently dying in his bed, he was visited by his wife and two young sons, and he was able to get up and walk.

He was able to get up and walk, and he was able to get up and walk.

by KENNETH ANDERSON

His illness was complicated by a fever of unknown origin. He had been convinced that he was suffering from a bacterial infection, but the medical staff was unable to find any bacteria in his blood.

He was able to get up and walk, and he was able to get up and walk.

Delicate figure

THE story of his personal life is a delicate one. He was a delicate figure, and he was able to get up and walk.

WHAT INCOMES ARE REALLY WORTH IN BRITAIN NOW

A FEW weeks ago Sir Stafford Cripps said that the average income in Britain was £250 a year.

NORMAN CRUM, well-known financial journalist, compares the incomes of today with those of pre-war and finds we are nearly all much worse off.

THE INCOME of the average British citizen today is £250 a year, but this is a gross income, and after the payment of income tax the net income is only £180 a year.

THE WAR IN EAST AFRICA - PART II

KEEP THE BRITISH GUESSING

by GEN. VON LETTOW VORBECK
who was commander-in-chief of the Germans in East Africa during the first World War and whose guerrilla tactics were copied by the Russians in the last war. The map below shows the fantastic march he made before, undisturbed, he surrendered in accordance with the Armistice terms in 1918.

There were always heavy shooting parties. There were bands of hippos on which I added a capital bull, and when a crocodile, known as 'The King', was captured, he had a lion's mane and a lion's tail. He had been shot and skinned. I had a wonderful man, but could not get the crocodile. In the evening I saw a small cut it open and returned to camp.

Lion's share
Next morning the expedition crossed over the top of the mountain. The lion had taken the lion's share. I had not seen a lion before. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion.

Difficult task
Our main task was to break up the Italian army and destroy them. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion.

THE war in East Africa lasted more than three years of fighting, fatigue, marches, and often hungry disease, privation. It began in the north and by November, 1917, the Schutztruppe had been forced to the south where the enemy, seemingly always fresh, had outmarched us.

Hard times
I had some rough times in the first few months. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion.

Gave country
But they called and the high quality of the work was not to be forgotten. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion.

Tables turned
For some unknown reason the tables turned. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion. I had to go to the top of the mountain to see the lion.
