Starehe boys help in building a nursery

Standard Staff Reporter

Thirteen boys from the Starehe Boys' Centre are giving up every Saturday to take part in a self-help project aimed at assisting about 300 children in Kibera area of Nairobi.

The boys are all members of the Starehe Young Volunteers. The scheme they are working on is a day nursery which, when completed before the end of this year, will replace the existing nursery which is now closed for further use. The people of Kibera have been collecting cash for the project and the Nairobi City Council is spending K2250 on materials. During the work and on Saturdays the workers are joined by the Starehe volunteers.

The "help others" idea is the brainchild of the president of Starehe Young Volunteers, Mr. Michael Akua Ndirangu, the vice-president, Mr. Dominus Waweru, and the secretary, Mr. Gabriel Muthoni.

At first they thought they could start an organisation aimed at empty tins cans — but decided after a short while that they were more helpful doing the work themselves.

They have now been working at Kibera for four Saturdays and will continue until their work is finished. Then they will move elsewhere.

Previously, the boys have worked on a nursery at Spring Forest and another at Karura Forest. The task of finding work for the boys was given to the Centre's director, Mr. Griffin, but apart from that the scheme is entirely operated by the boys.

The Nairobi civic representative for the area, Councillor Yussuf Ali, yesterday praised the work of the boys and said: "Their efforts are much appreciated by the local people. They have now made more friends here."

Sick cheetahs saved by U.S. vitamin supplement

Standard Staff Reporter

An international airline and a large American drug firm put their combined resources at the disposal of two Kenya cheetahs at the weekend by answering an urgent request to make up a medical prescription.

Both cheetahs belong to the Nairobi National Orphanage. One, an adult, was suffering from severe malaria and the other was a youngster convalescing from the effects of having been caught in a trap in the North Eastern Province. The youngster was being nursed for by a Nairobi wildlife vet, Dr. Sam Harbison.

On a previous occasion it was found that cheetahs and other large cats, benefited from an American mineral and vitamin supplement which is substantially in liquid form.

Dr. Harbison approached Mrs. Peter Ferguson, the wife of the American Ambassador, to see if there was any way of obtaining the supplement. Personal Mr. Ferguson at once went to help.

The Nairobi Standard celebrated the 50th birthday of the Missions Committee of the United Methodist Church, Monday, at the Hotel Nairobi, Nairobi, on the weekend. Mr. Charles M. Bower was the Minister for Finance. Mr. Charles M. Bower, from right, sitting next to Mr. J. J. Sharp, High Commissioner in Charge of the United Methodist Church in Kenya, Mr. J. J. Sharp, Mr. J. J. to Pan American World Airways, and in a few minutes the telephone to New York was buzzing.

In New York the makers of the supplement, the U.S. Vitamin and Pharmaceutical Corporation, drafted a supply for the cheetahs and it arrived about a Pan Am plane the day after Mrs. Ferguson's request.

Both cheetahs have been receiving it during the weekend and appear to be improving in condition. Dr. Harbison said they were now recovering well and the supplements had not been available for some time.

It is of great importance to cheetahs who are trying to recover to have a supplement of this nature," he said yesterday. To make sure the cheetahs were getting the supplement, Mr. Bower made a special trip to the orphanage. Mr. Bower said he was sure the cheetahs would be back on their feet in a few days.

At that occasion the Nairobi representative of the African Wildlife Leadership Foundation, Mr. Frank Mwangi had some Personal Development for Mr. Cade to try and Dr. Harbison also received some for a cheetah cub which was still on its last legs. The cub recovered.

Harambee school gets £100 from Government

The Western Provincial Education Officer, Mr. George, has presented a Government cheque for £100 to Naitondu, Harambee Secondary School in Marua area of the Kakamega District.

He said that the school will be Government aided from next year and become a boarding secondary school for boys.

Thanking the people of the area for the hard work put into the establishment of the school, he said the nursery was one of the leading harambee secondary schools in the Province.

The M.P. for the area, Mr. Miliano, who donated material worth K250, urged his people to work harder for the completion of the school and to follow the Government for the 1969 allocation. He said he would be glad to see the school continue to flourish.

He said he would be glad to see the school continue to flourish generally in this area.

£10m. five-year plan to improve Kenya's housing

Standard Staff Reporter, Nairobi

The Government is to make available at least £10,000,000 per annum over the next five-year period to be spent in improving the housing situation in Kenya's municipalities, main urban centres and in the rural areas, Mr. Minister for Housing, Mr. Nigel, who was speaking at the official opening ceremony of the town built with a loan of 14,000 from the Government through the National Housing Corporation, warned, however, that this amount was in no way sufficient to meet the housing demands of a growing population.

It is therefore expected that thousands of individuals will continue to be housed in the slums of the major cities. He said that the Government was aware of the housing problem and was taking steps to meet it. The five-year plan would provide for the construction of 100,000 new houses, but this would be only a start. AMATEUR THEATRE

Kenyan setting could have helped this play

The most striking thing about the production of 'The African' by the Kenya Amateur Theatre Society is the setting.

The setting of the play is a Nairobi slum. The play is set in a Nairobi slum and is a powerful commentary on the conditions of the poor in Kenya.

U.S. astronauts confident as they spin on

America's three Apollo-7 astronauts, sounding cheerful and confident, yesterday spun onto the third day of their 11-day mission with the Apollo commander, Walter Schirra, still suffering from a cold.

No major events were scheduled yesterday for the astronauts who spent during the first five hours of the day in the command module, but they were scheduled to have a press conference at 10:30 a.m. and a dinner at 7:30 p.m. Schirra was still taking aspirin and decongestant tablets for a cold, but he said he was feeling better and confident in their ability to complete the mission with ground control.

British High Commissioner to Kenya arrives

Sends at Nairobi Airport are the new British High Commissioner, Mr. Eric Norris (left), few in yesterday and was met by High Commission officials. With him, from left, are Mrs. Norris, the acting High Commissioner, Mr. MacGraith, the wife of the defence adviser, Mrs. R. Dalton, the counsellor, Mr. J. S. Arthur, and Mrs. Arthur.

Standard Staff Reporter

The new British High Commissioner to Kenya, Mr. Eric Norris, yesterday arrived in Nairobi yesterday to take up his appointment.

Mr. Norris, 56, replaces Sir Edward Pakenham who held the post for 12 months and, when he arrived at Nairobi, August 1966, together with his wife Pamela, he was met by the acting High Commissioner Mr. Bruce MacGraith and other High Commission staff.

Mr. Norris, a former Deputy High Commissioner to India, has seven months been dealing with the Commonwealth office in London.

He is a stock exchange broker and has been involved in a number of ways in the financial and public relations of the British Commonwealth in Kenya, Malaya and Singapore.

Mr. Norris was an assistant under-secretary of State in the Commonwealth office before being appointed High Commissioner to Kenya.

He was educated at Harlow Grammar School and St Catherine's College, Cambridge. During the Second World War he served in the Royal Corps of Signals and was decorated for his services.

He has been married in Kenya to Pamela, a former model.

Mr. Norris has three daughters, one of whom is in Kenya and two of whom are in Malaya.

A profile of Mr. Norris will appear tomorrow.

Send Sabah dispute to World Court—Manila official

SEN ANTONIO FLORES

A high-ranking official of the republic of the Philippines, who has just created a week's delay over the Philippine claim to Sabah to the International Court of Justice.

The official, Senator Antonio Flores, leader of the ruling party in the Upper House of the Philippine Congress, said in a press conference here that Sabah in his eyes is like his daughter.

He said he was in New York in connection with the Sabah dispute in Manila.

Sen. Flores is the author of the congressional bill which the Philippine President Marcos last month signed into law that he has been using as a bargaining chip with the Philippines in the Sabah dispute.

Sen. Flores said that Sabah as far back as 1962, when the bulk of the Sultan of Sulu's territory in Sabah was transferred to the Republic of the Philippines.

Leeds United keep lead in Division I

The top three teams in the English football league all won on Saturday as Leeds United remain in front with 22 points from 13 games.

Leeds United and Arsenal are the only teams in the top three who have not lost a game since they were promoted to the first division in 1967. Leeds' 2-0 win over Tottenham Hotspur on Saturday kept them in front with 22 points from 13 games.

Manchester United, who were second with 19 points, won 2-0 against Ipswich Town on Saturday. Arsenal, who were third with 18 points, won 1-0 against Tottenham Hotspur on Saturday.

Leeds moved into fourth place on Saturday when they beat Tottenham Hotspur 2-0 at Elland Road.

The women's captain's prize was completed for records at Neill Park, Mansfield. The 12 games included on five wins and one draw was good. The winner, Mrs. Lane Chapman, won the prize.

A fasty meal - made in America and served in Nairobi - is offered to this sick cheetah in the Animal Dispensary by Sgt. Philip Kuroh.

Sick cheetahs saved by U.S. vitamin supplement

Standard Staff Reporter

An international airline and a large American drug firm put their combined resources at the disposal of two Kenyan cheetahs at the weekend by answering an urgent request to make up a medical prescription.

Both cheetahs belong to the Nairobi Animal Dispensary. One, a male, was suffering from a severe anemia and the other was apparently convalescing from a case of having been caught in a trap in the North Eastern Province in the Nairobi Wildlife Refuge.

The youngest one is being cared for by a Nairobi wildlife vet, Dr. Sue Harbison.

In a previous occasion it was found that cheetahs and other large cats benefited from an American vitamin and vitamin supplement which is obtainable in Kenya.

Dr. Harbison approached Mr. Clifford Ambrose, the vice of the Kenyan Airline, and there was an easy way of getting a couple of the supplements from Nairobi. Mrs. Ferguson advised.

The Nairobi Wildlife Centre heard the only bottles of the Makinon Vitamin-Mineral-Hair Oil from Nairobi, Hall, in the East River, Nairobi, at the weekend. The guest of honor was Mr. Philip Kuroh, for Finance, Mr. Gichure (third from right), and Mr. Prasad, the India's High Commissioner in Nairobi.

Mr. Prasad, Mrs. Ferguson is senior on the staff of Mr. Gichure. The guest receives one of the supplies.

Starehe boys help in building a nursery

Standard Staff Reporter

Thirteen boys from the Starehe Boys' Centre are giving up every Saturday to take part in a self-help project aimed at assisting about 300 children in Kibera Area of Nairobi.

The boys are all members of the Starehe Young Volunteers. The scheme they are working on is a day nursery which, when completed, will be the end of the year will replace the existing nursery which is now too old for further use.

The people of Kibera have been awaiting such for the project and the Nairobi City Council is spending £2.5m on materials. During the week local people do much of the work and on Saturdays the workers are aided by the Starehe volunteers.

The "help others" idea is the brainchild of the president of Starehe Young Volunteers, Mr. Michael Akar, Ndungu, the vice-president, Mr. Dominic Waweru, and the secretary, Mr. Gabriel Muthaura.

At first they thought they could start an organization aimed at supplying training cash - but decided after a short while that they were more helpful doing the work, themselves.

Starehe Young Volunteers were playing the foundation stones for a day nursery at Kibera, watched by Coun. Yous. Ali (in a suit) and a technician from the Centre, Mr. D. J. Soper (left). Also joining them in the project is Mr. B. D. Wakala (in a cap), a senior welfare officer.

Kenya's appeal on Suez

It is estimated that it is costing the United Arab Republic about $100 million a year, a figure which bears in mind the low per capita income of that country's people. Admittedly the Soviet Union is not maintaining troops and bases in the Suez Canal, but even so it seems likely that the Egyptian blockade will cost the world more than $100 million a year.

Mr. Alexander Dubcek, the Czechoslovak Communist Party leader, and two of his colleagues were handcuffed, beaten, thrown into pig sties and satirized in films as part of a degrading process of brain-washing to prepare them for what have been euphemistically described as the Moscow talks.

THE FULL STORY OF SOVIET INTIMIDATION

The degradation of Mr. Dubcek

A special correspondent in Vienna who has been investigating what happened to the Czechoslovak leaders when they were arrested by Soviet troops in August reports his findings. Censorship and the natural desire of the Prague leaders not to provide the Soviet authorities into more drastic action has until now hidden much of the story under a blanket of silence.

The only fact the Russians have used — and this has been done in a very subtle way — is that the Czechoslovak leaders had been arrested by Soviet troops in August 1968. This has been done in a very subtle way, and the Czechoslovak leaders have been portrayed as traitors and saboteurs.

£10m. five-year plan to improve Kenya's housing

Standard Staff Reporter

The Government is to make available at least £2,000,000 per annum over the next five-year period to be spent in improving the housing situation in Kenya's municipalities, main urban centres and in the rural areas, the Minister for Housing, Mr. Ngugi, disclosed in Nakuru at the weekend.

Mr. Ngugi who was speaking at the official opening ceremony of two housing schemes in the town built with a loan of £400,000 from the Government through the National Housing Corporation, warned, however, that this amount was in no way sufficient to meet the need of the country. He stated that the Government was committed to the provision of housing for all Kenyans and that the £2,000,000 per annum was only a start. British High Commissioner to Kenya arrives

Standard Staff Reporter
 The new British High Commissioner to Kenya, Mr. Eric Norris, arrived in Nairobi yesterday to take up his appointment.

Mr. Norris, 57, replaces Sir Edward Peck, who left Kenya some days ago. When he arrived at Nairobi Airport early yesterday he was greeted by a contingent of British Embassy and other African officials and other High Commission staff.

The High Commissioner in India has previously held the post of British High Commissioner in Kenya, a post which he held for several years. He was educated at Hertford College, Cambridge, during the Second World War when he served in the Royal Corps of Signals and the Royal Signals in India, where he held the rank of Colonel.

He has also served in the United Kingdom and in various posts under Mr. Malcolm Fraser, then High Commissioner in Kenya, where he was deputy secretary of the United Kingdom in Nairobi.

Mr. Norris will be accompanied by a wife and three children. He is accompanied by a special messenger to the Governor of Kenya.

Mr. Norris was an assistant secretary of State in the Commonwealth Office before being appointed High Commissioner.

Send Sabah dispute to World Court—Manila official

A high-ranking official of the republic of the Philippines, who has just ended a week's visit to Kenya, has challenged Malaysia to agree to submit the dispute over the Philippine island of Sabah to the International Court of Justice.

The official, Senator Antonio Tolentino, leader of the ruling party in the Upper House of the Philippine Congress and an independent member of the Senate, arrived in Nairobi at the invitation of the Kenyan government to discuss the Sabah dispute.

Son Tolentino is the author of the controversial bill which the Philippine Senate passed last month regarding an annexing Sabah with the Philippines.

The impression is, however, that the Philippines is not prepared to accept the terms of the proposed agreement.

As far back as 1962, when the terms of the Sabah Dispute between the Philippines and the Republic of Malaysia were under discussion, the Philippines, Malaysia and Indonesia agreed the dispute to be referred to the International Court of Justice.

By a document of January 2, 1963, the Sultan Ismail Sabah of Sarawak, an Australian national, who was then commander at Hongkong, and Alfred Dent, a British national, then general of 5,000 Malay Sabah officers, signed the Sabah Dispute with the Philippines.

In 1963, the rights of the Sabah Dispute were transferred to the British Government on June 26, 1966, by a document dated April 24, 1966, and September 10, 1966, the terms of the Sabah Dispute to the Republic of the Philippines and Indonesia.

In 1967, the Sabah Dispute was transferred to the British Government on June 26, 1966, by a document dated April 24, 1966, and September 10, 1966, the terms of the Sabah Dispute to the Republic of the Philippines and Indonesia.

Heavily latched door

Very much as it seems to minister very much to the British Commonwealth, the African countries are waiting for an indication of a possible settlement in Rhodesia. They have been waiting for months. The British Government's patience is getting played out. The British Parliament's patience is getting played out. Mr. Wilson has just given a statement from Mr. Wilson. Mr. Wilson said that he was expecting to give primary consideration to the votes at 18° campaign. This will mean votes at the election. Who should Mr. Wilson want?

What good did his over-achievement? Who should his over-achievement? He would be treated by Mr. Smith? Except for political and newspaper editors, who would be treated by Mr. Smith? Except for political and newspaper editors, who would be treated by Mr. Smith? Except for political and newspaper editors, who would be treated by Mr. Smith?

African countries, to quote Kenya's official statement, "It is our firm belief that the fearlessness has been muted. The breakdown prevents us from carrying the motion for renewal, where Tiger broke through."

Mr. Wilson knew all along there would be little chance of a compromise, who did he consent to go to Gibraltar? Alternatively, if a good chance existed for a solution, why was he so misled into failure and by whom?

The answer probably lies between a political manoeuvre to counter the Conservative and the operations of the Rhodesian White Paper. Mr. Smith, the chairman of the extreme Right wing of the Tories. It is, of course, a good newspaper.

Headway is being made in the Rhodesian White Paper, which subverters an credit through Japan for Mr. Wilson. It is, of course, a good newspaper.

RED TAPE 'DETERS TOURISTS'

Making visitors to Tanzania more comfortable before arrival was not a task which would put too much stress on the Government, it was said by a group of tour operators in a three-day study of tourist attractions in the country.

The group, composed of 75 individuals, took the top officials of the Tanzania High Commission in London for a week ago, and they were able to have tourists travelling as programmed because of this delay.

Mr. W. A. Elin, who represents Kenya, said that he had been told that the Government would not issue a permit, necessary for entry into Kenya, until the permit had been issued by the High Commission in London.

The demand for permits arrived at a point where it was necessary to issue a permit to the High Commission in London. It was also reported that the High Commission in London had put a stop to the issue of permits.

Threat of civil war hangs over Panama

The threat of civil war hangs over the Central American State of Panama following the deposed President Dr. Arnaldo Arias urged the population to stage an armed insurrection against the newly elected President.

Arias, who reportedly refused to accept the results of the election, said that he would lead a "people's army" to overthrow the government.

Dr. Arnaldo Arias, a Harvard educated surgeon, has been elected President of Panama in the election, but he was not allowed to take office because of the military coup.

AID CUT URGED BY CANDIDATE

The Right-wing American presidential candidate, Mr. George C. Wallace, urged the U.S. Government to cut off aid to the Communist Party during the U.S. Government's campaign to force the Cuban Government to release the American prisoners.

Greaves can hold league leaders

By Bob Arnold
 London. (Special) Greaves' unbeaten run in the League Division I football season against Luton and Fulham was shattered by a 2-1 defeat by the latter at home on Saturday. The London team, in their second season in the top division, were held by the visitors in a match which was decided by a goal from Greaves' captain, Les Fothergill.

LEAGUE DIVISION I
 Luton 2-1 Greaves
 Goals: Greaves 1, Fothergill 1, Greaves 2.

At an evening meeting held at the P.N.E. in front of 200 people, the club's secretary, Mr. J. D. Greaves, said that the club's financial position was sound and that the club was well placed to meet any challenge.

Now we know Vaguely Noble was a bargain

As I watched Vaguely Noble last night at Fulham, I was struck by the fact that he had been bought for a world of work.

Uganda Head warns British businessmen

Standard Staff Reporter. President Obote of Uganda privately warned British businessmen earlier this year against putting all their eggs in one basket. The warning was issued by Mr. W. N. Nyabingi, leader of the Uganda Chamber of Commerce and Industries, during a recent meeting in Kampala. He said the businessmen should diversify their investments in Uganda, particularly in the manufacturing sector, rather than rely on the export of raw materials like coffee and tea.

Taking up his point, Mr. Nyabingi said that the country's economy was too dependent on a few commodities. He urged businessmen to invest in sectors like manufacturing and services to create jobs and diversify the economy. He also mentioned that the government was planning to diversify its own portfolio.

Farm handed over to ranch co-operative

Standard Mail Reporter

With a reserve fund of more than £10,000 (Kibungo) Ranching Co-operative) Society handed over to Kibungo farm, to help the Government alleviate the burden of landless people, the chairman of the society, Mr. Wera Kamau, who is also MP for Kibungo, said yesterday at the formal handing over to the society of the former Mitchell Cotts (P.A.) Farm of Ruira.

The 270-acre farm was purchased by the society for £120,000 more than 1960 families of members of the society will be settled there.

Most have been living in the former shanty village.

Mr. Kamau said he had been very co-operative at all times.

Mr. Gore said he hoped members would farm property and become rich. He pointed out that 1,000 acres were mainly for soil farming. The rest of the land was for ranching. The company had grazed 1960 cattle during an occupation of the farm.

After a tour of the farm and an inspection of living quarters the handing over of the keys and the farm itself was performed by Mr. J. J. Baker, a chartered surveyor with Evers Ltd.

Later, one of the members of the society, Mrs. Rebecca Thuku, said she was happy to see the handing over because people had been telling her that they were being deceived.

She said she had no hand and was happy that she was going to be able to settle down and do some work on the land adding that she was going to build a house on the farm tomorrow she would do it.

Below: Mr. Kamau holds the keys of the farm while Mr. Gore, who handed over the keys, and his right hon. colleague, also in the picture are Mr. Baker and Mr. B. M. Kamau (white shirt).

Astronauts' main tasks end with seven days left

Three American astronauts aboard the Apollo 7 space capsule have now completed their flight's main tasks, reports the flight director, Dr. Gene Kranz, said at Houston Space Centre, Texas, today.

The failure of the flight's main tasks should be important enough to merit a flight of the same nature to carry them out, he said. The astronaut, Walter Schirra, Don Eisele and Michael Collins, have no critical more than one day to complete their main tasks, 11 day. Space ship Apollo 7 is the first of four in a series of seven that will be launched from the Apollo program down from 121 days.

Learning about things in Mexico

The manager of the Kenya women's contingent at the Olympic Games, Miss Salome Njoroge, talks with some Mexican girls during a sightseeing tour of Mexico City. Although Kenya's male athletes have done so well, the women of the team, Lydia Stephens, Elizabeth Chene and Tekla Chemutai, have still largely to show their best form. The girls are very young and inexperienced and Miss Njoroge recalls the Mexico trip as a preparation for better things in the future.

New ways to serve salad

A new series in cookery in East Africa by Elizabeth Richards.

It is very easy to make a salad. All you need is a bowl, a fork and a spoon. You can use any vegetables you like and mix them together. You can also use fruit, nuts, and cheese. There are many different ways to serve a salad. You can serve it in a bowl, on a plate, or in a glass. You can also use a salad as a garnish for a main course. Here are some ideas for new ways to serve a salad:

- 1. Pineapple Cherry Salad:
 - Ingredients: 1 Slice fresh Pineapple, 4 Slices Apples, 1 Cup Mixed Nuts, 1 Dessertspoon grated Cheddar Cheese.
 - Method: Chop the pineapple and apples into small cubes. Mix with nuts and cheese. Dress with a mixture of oil and vinegar.
- 2. Chicken-Fruit Salad:
 - Ingredients: 2 Cups cooked chicken cut into small pieces, 1 Cup Fresh Pineapple (chopped), 1 Cup Grapefruit Sections, 1 Cup Celery (chopped), 1 Cup Diced Avocado, 1 Cup Romaine Lettuce, 1 Cup Diced Fresh Apple.
 - Method: Mix the chicken, pineapple, grapefruit, celery, and avocado. Dress with a mixture of oil and vinegar. Serve on a bed of lettuce.
- 3. Beef Salad:
 - Ingredients: 1 Cup Beef, 1 Cup Potato, 1 Cup Carrot, 1 Cup Onion, 1 Cup Cucumber, 1 Cup Tomato, 1 Cup Lettuce.
 - Method: Cook the beef and potatoes. Chop the carrots, onions, cucumbers, and tomatoes. Mix with lettuce. Dress with a mixture of oil and vinegar.

The smart child's fashion choice

For those of us born more than 24 years ago there is a certain nostalgia in looking back at the sort of clothes we used to wear as children. For children's clothes today are so different that we could have come from another world.

It is hard not to envy today's children, as prettier and better clothes are being turned out for them every season. The smart fashion houses of London have created a direct line to the children's fashion in design.

London designers still say that their clothes for children are still influenced by today's adult fashions, but they do not think that their two children in mind and they are conscious of the fact that they are designing for the children's clothes which are different from those of the adults.

The second line features matching tops and skirts with a wide collar and a large pocket. The tops are made in a bright color and the skirts are in a contrasting color.

Today's children's style is very different from that of the past. Children today are more fashion-conscious than ever before. They want clothes that are smart and stylish, just like the adults.

Next spring there will be an abundance of floral materials. Filled and fluted skirts, many white, orange, and purple, will be in vogue.

Embroidered fabrics are including many accessories with their line. They include handbags, handkerchiefs, and shoes.

Designs are in all shapes. The dress has long sleeves, but the skirt is short and flared.

Skin Beauty an Asset Beyond Price

TODAY a beautiful skin is all the enchanting attributes of youthfulness in possession and cherished by women who have long ago accepted that their 40th birthday simply being young does not necessarily exclude these days of looking after these days of knowing about the remarkable advances made by modern skin treatments.

Science's progress has particularly highlighted the unique beauty benefits afforded by a cream which contains vitamins and nutrients which are essential for the skin's health. In all skin care, the most important of these is the skin's ability to retain its natural moisture. This is why it is so important to use a cream which contains vitamins and nutrients which are essential for the skin's health.

CHICKEN-FRUIT SALAD

Ingredients: 2 Cups cooked chicken cut into small pieces, 1 Cup Fresh Pineapple (chopped), 1 Cup Grapefruit Sections, 1 Cup Celery (chopped), 1 Cup Diced Avocado, 1 Cup Romaine Lettuce, 1 Cup Diced Fresh Apple.

Method: Mix the chicken, pineapple, grapefruit, celery, and avocado. Dress with a mixture of oil and vinegar. Serve on a bed of lettuce.

BEF SALAD

Ingredients: 1 Cup Beef, 1 Cup Potato, 1 Cup Carrot, 1 Cup Onion, 1 Cup Cucumber, 1 Cup Tomato, 1 Cup Lettuce.

Method: Cook the beef and potatoes. Chop the carrots, onions, cucumbers, and tomatoes. Mix with lettuce. Dress with a mixture of oil and vinegar.

Slim fast the easy way

All over the world men and women are striving to lose weight. The secret is not in a new diet, but in a new way of eating. The key to slimness is to eat less and to eat better. This means eating smaller portions and choosing foods that are high in fiber and low in fat.

U.S. PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

It all points to victory for Mr. Nixon

PLUS GEORGE KOTLIKAN "East African Standard" reporter currently visiting the United States, sends his first report on the Presidential race.

With only five weeks remaining in the American presidential campaign it is becoming increasingly likely that Mr. Richard Nixon will win with a clear majority of electoral votes.

Both the Republican and Democratic candidates are tired of the impact of the "China paper" Mr. George Wallace, conservative and African studies to whom I spoke and it was also possible that Mr. Nixon would win.

Although election fever has spread the United States there is still a great deal of apathy and cynicism among the Americans, particularly the intellectuals.

Washington the big talk of the election campaign affecting about 25 per cent of the electorate has been the subject of the Democratic South and California.

'Why the Fearless talks failed'

Standard Staff Reporter, London.

Dad the Fearless talks between the British Prime Minister Mr. Wilson, insisted on Westminster having reserve powers in any new constitution for Rhodesia.

Mr. Wilson's insistence on Westminster having reserve powers in any new constitution for Rhodesia was a major factor in the failure of the talks.

Without essential powers there is no way possible for Britain to prevent Salisbury seceding from the Commonwealth.

Should negotiations on Mr. Wilson's insistence on Westminster having reserve powers in any new constitution for Rhodesia be a major factor in the failure of the talks.

Girl takes over art gallery

An attractive Ugandan girl with a degree in art from Makerere University, Kampala, has taken over the running of the art gallery in Kampala.

The gallery, which has been in existence for several years, has been run by a series of trustees, but the girl's appointment is a landmark in the history of the gallery.

The girl, who is a member of the art society at Makerere, has been in charge of the gallery since she took over from the previous trustees.

Dr. Mungai praises servicemen who fought shifita

Standard Staff Reporter
High praise for Kenya's servicemen who fought against shifita terrorists in the North-East Province came yesterday from the Minister for Defence, Dr. Mungai, when he flew to Mandera and Waiba.

The Minister was collecting money raised by local people in former shifita-affected areas for the new Armed Forces Memorial Hospital in Nairobi, in which work has already begun on a site near Kanito National Hospital.

He was accompanied on his flight in a Kenya Air Force Anson Commando by the Air Force Commander, Major B. Ndalo, and the Assistant Commissioner of Police, Mr. H. M. Masau, representing the District Commissioner and a cadet-in-charge at Mandera and Waiba.

Dr. Mungai arrived at Mandera at 11.22 a.m. and was met by a party of 1200, including local administrators, officials and civil guards. At a baraza addressed by Dr. Mungai, the people congratulated him on his visit to the spot.

Dr. Mungai arrived at Waiba, the border of Ethiopia and Somalia, on a mid-morning flight. He was accompanied by the Kenya Air Force Wing, which was to arrive shortly after his arrival. The flight was a fault about 50 minutes from Mandera through a mountainous low cloud, the pilot, Sgt. Derek Wells, said.

Minolta CDS cells give you accurate meter reading.

Minolta SR-T 101 has a metering system which is equalled by no other camera. Minolta call it CLC (Contrast-Light Compensation) and works like this: Two CDS cells are located in the top of the pentaprism, each covering a little more than half the picture area which baffles to prevent light entering from the viewfinder. The light passing through the lens is measured by these cells, which is electrically linked in a unique circuit to compensate perfectly for difficult lighting conditions even when there is a high degree of contrast. The result is correct exposure - every time.

Favourite for Guineas is difficult to find

By Michael Cooper
The first Guineas of the season will be run over the 1,000 yards of the first day of the Tinker Fisher Cup at Sandown on Saturday. The overall quality of this year's race is decidedly above average and it is no longer one of the final four or five that are still possible.

The race is not one for long-legged stallions but a handier, well-coupled group. The race was first run in 1871. It is worth remembering that the favourite has finished in the first three in seven out of the 11 winners of the race.

SUPERVISORY TRAINING FOR SUPERVISORS

At the centre November 15 - December 1, 1968
At the centre January 8 - February 1, 1969
At the centre February 15 - February 28, 1969

*Mornings only

The course will benefit your organisation by strengthening the supervisory level, thus making overall management control more and more effective.

Its objectives are to meet those who directly supervise two or more employees.

Increased control, reduced waste and fewer accidents are some of the gains which result from improved supervision.

Higher morale, better communications and greater job satisfaction are also the results of improved supervision.

The course concentrates on making a supervisor more efficient and a good manager. It is designed to improve and guide his leadership qualities to achieve better performance and assist him in the development of good human relations of great leadership.

The course includes sessions in Supervisory Responsibilities, Principles of Management, Communications, Human Relations, Planning, Motivation, Methods, Industrial Safety, Work Sampling, Labour Record Keeping, etc.

The first three weeks are spent at the centre, after which participants attend to their places of employment and are advised by the centre leader as to any practical projects. The final week is spent at the centre.

Since the course is an intensive one, the supervisors can be back on the job at the conclusion. The sessions are highly participative and make use of all the latest teaching aids.

For application form please phone Nairobi 54111 or write to: P.O. Box 2978, Nairobi. Certificate of participation awarded.

Gold and silver for Kenya BIWOTT and KOGO IN 'STEEPLE' DUEL

KENYANS WON BOTH GOLD AND SILVER MEDALS IN THE 3,000 METRES STEEPLECHASE IN MEXICO CITY EARLY THIS MORNING. TO GIVE THE NATION ITS GREATEST OLYMPIC TRIUMPH.

In a grandstand finish which had the crowd roaring, Amos Biwott finished ahead of his more experienced team-mate Benjamin Kogo to take the Gold.

It had been the race to remember, because Young of the U.S. took the Bronze but had to accept a defeat.

Biwott won with a time of 24 minutes and 45 seconds, Kogo took silver in 25 minutes and 45 seconds, and Young took bronze in 26 minutes and 45 seconds.

Kenya's victory was a triumph for the nation, which has won only one Olympic medal in the 3,000 metres steeplechase.

The race was held at the Estadio Olimpico in Mexico City, and was the first of the day.

High Court rejects Railway rates claim

A High Court judge yesterday rejected an attempt by East African Railways and Harbours to have their existing valuations in Nairobi reduced. He ordered the R.A.H. to pay the costs of the action. The judge, Mr. Justice Farrell, said that he did not think there was any increase of value which would justify a reduction in rates from the Railway's existing valuations. He said that the Railway's existing valuations were based on the value of the property at the time it was acquired.

AVIATION Plea for protection by existing air charter firms

The East African Air Charter Board does not appear to have any jurisdiction over the operations of the existing air charter firms, which are now operating under the provisions of the Kenya Air Charter Board (Kenya) Act, 1967. The Board is urged to take steps to ensure that the existing air charter firms are not unfairly treated.

The Air Charter Board (Kenya) Act, 1967, which was passed by the Kenya Legislative Assembly, provides for the establishment of a Board to regulate the operations of air charter firms in Kenya. The Board is to be composed of representatives of the Government, the existing air charter firms, and the public.

Time for decision

Mr. Wilson has stood by his fundamental principles... He has not wavered in his determination to see Rhodesia achieve its independence...

How else, they conjectured, could Mr. Wilson hope to have Mr. Smith into acceptance? The White Paper... proposals show certain modifications were introduced...

WORLD COMMUNISM

Events in Prague and Peking cast a long shadow

By a Special Correspondent

What happened in Budapest? The preparatory, or consultative, meeting of the Communist world conference being promoted by Moscow began in the Hungarian capital on September 30. It was to have lasted ten days...

It ended weeks ago, with a decision to postpone temporarily the world conference, which is now scheduled to open on November 27. The postponement behind the head desks of Budapest's Head Gasser were, from all corners of the world...

The main reason for the failure of the Budapest meeting was, of course, the Soviet Union's military occupation of Czechoslovakia in another to be found in the recent change of attitude by Moscow on her ideological front...

As a series of articles published in Communism, the theoretical organ of the Soviet Communist Party, in the course of the summer, intended to use the Moscow conference for launching a more active anti-Chinese policy within the world movement...

Mr. Wilson says clearly 'there has been no sell-out... no deal has been struck... Mr. Smith cannot honestly come to any decision without first testing the country's opinion...

JOHN ELLGON'S DIARY Sloop takes shape in Nairobi garden

A Nairobi couple are busy at work on their garden which they hope to turn into a sloop. Before November 1970 they had a small boat built, painted and used as a toy sloop...

Mr. Alderson, Commercial Manager of the Kenya National Bank, is the designer of the sloop. He has been working on it for some time and has already had it built...

Mr. and Mrs. Alderson and their children are seen in the garden. The sloop is a small boat with a mast and sails, built from wood and canvas.

AUSTRALIA AND EAST AFRICA

An Australian Trade Mission arrives in Nairobi today as part of a visit to Eastern African countries to seek new markets for a wide range of Australian products.

The Mission will visit Kenya for one week till October 24 before departing for visits to Uganda, Ethiopia, Tanzania and Zambia.

Trade between Australia and East African countries has been steadily increasing in recent years.

With its highly developed industries, Australia is more than able to compete in terms of price and quality with Eastern Africa's traditional suppliers.

A further important factor in the closing of the East Coast has meant that Australia is less than half the size of from Eastern African ports than either Europe or North Africa. This means more competitive freight rates and more rapid deliveries.

The members of the Australian Trade Mission represent a wide range of industries, including automotive spare parts, agricultural machinery, radio and electronic, machine and hand tools, building materials and prefabricated structures.

Leader of the Mission is Mr. R. Mackinlay from Fremantle, Western Australia, who is a director of an Australian-wide company, J. Gaddes Pty. Ltd., and a member of the Australian Manufacturing Industries Advisory Council.

The Australian Trade Commissioner in Nairobi, Mr. J. Burcham will assist the Mission and will arrange contacts with importers, agents, and commercial organisations.

Sheep-shearing with speed and efficiency

During his visit to the Nairobi State President Kenyatta (left) showed a great interest in the new operation and the sheep shearing equipment made by the Kenyan Government of Australia. During an interview with several farmers Kenyatta stated that the equipment which was used with great speed and efficiency by Mr. Phillip H. is very different from what is used in the West.

Mutual paths to progress

MESSAGE FROM THE LEADER OF THE DELEGATION

Today we arrive in Kenya, Australia's first official Trade Mission to Eastern Africa. I would like to tell you some of the reasons why we are here and which led to the acceptance of the Australian Government's invitation to lead this Mission.

We are a diverse group of companies, suppliers, manufacturers, exporters, metal workers and engineers.

Our industrial revolution is in its infancy and we are looking for the problems of developing a large size economy.

We have had to develop our own industries and create new types of equipment to solve these problems.

Kenya is an earlier stage in her industrial revolution, still grappling with the complex problems of rural development, establishing secondary industries with all the associated difficulties of production, building business confidence, increasing employment, and building the base for a higher standard of living for Kenyans.

We in Australia have gone far in surmounting these problems but they are fresh to our mind and we come to Kenya not merely to sell our products but to talk with you and to be engaged in the challenges which you face in building a nation and producing a better life for your people.

Kenya is an earlier stage in her industrial revolution, still grappling with the complex problems of rural development, establishing secondary industries with all the associated difficulties of production, building business confidence, increasing employment, and building the base for a higher standard of living for Kenyans.

We in Australia have gone far in surmounting these problems but they are fresh to our mind and we come to Kenya not merely to sell our products but to talk with you and to be engaged in the challenges which you face in building a nation and producing a better life for your people.

Our industrial revolution is in its infancy and we are looking for the problems of developing a large size economy. We have had to develop our own industries and create new types of equipment to solve these problems.

Trade grows every year

Australia, one of the world's top trading nations, has achieved this position by supplying quality products to satisfy importers' needs. In the past year Australia has been making strong efforts to demonstrate to East African countries the advantages of trading with Australia in the stability of Australian products for African conditions and the interest of Australian manufacturers in poor countries and increasing investment.

The Australian trade mission which I receive African countries between October 17 and 24 is a combination of these efforts. It includes representatives of leading Australian manufacturers of standard fields such as agricultural equipment, building materials and motor vehicle parts.

Equally important is the fact that more and more Australian AEF businessmen are visiting each other's countries on their own initiative. Australia is delighted that closer trade and economic relations will flow from these contacts and be mutually advantageous.

In these years Australia looks to participate in a greater degree in the economic development of Africa and to play the substantial part which is her responsibility in the world.

These figures demonstrate the favourable trade balance the Eastern African group of countries enjoys with Australia. In the case of Australia exports it is not surprising to see the increasing range of manufactured products now so desired by East African importers. The Australian trade mission is an important step towards increasing trade between Australia and the East African countries.

Message from the Minister for Commerce and Industry, Mr. Kibaki

I have much pleasure in welcoming the Australian Trade Mission to Kenya. Australia is a substantial buyer of Kenya's products, and particularly those of the petroleum industry.

Australian products, on the other hand, offer a growing impetus in the development of Kenya in the field of agriculture. Australian equipment has proved particularly suited to conditions in this country.

I look forward to discussing with Mr. Mackinlay and his Mission staff how to achieve a greater exchange between Kenya and Australia and why Tough reliable Massey-Ferguson farm implements from Australia find East African conditions home from home.

Farmers looking for fast clean cultivation can team up with the Massey-Ferguson MF34 offset disc harrow and the MF560 toolbar.

The MF34 disc harrow is fully mounted and non-adjustable enough to get in close to the tenderest vine or fruit tree. You can offset it to the right or left, extend the rear gang an additional 20 1/2" to the right.

There's a choice of discs too... 20" or 22" plain or scalloped discs, or shallots or deep concavities. Discs are spaced 9" apart and run on heavy bearings that never need lubricating. Your harrow can be steered to take 12, 16 or 20 discs.

7' length. Spring tie, coiled spring tie or rigid tie attachments will meet your needs. Compare your prices, we result Quality built and competitively priced. Massey-Ferguson farm machinery is made in Australia and serves East Africa. It's the many other countries MF implements make a perfect match with. Ferguson System tractors give precise hydraulic control and outstanding performance.

Get further information from your Massey-Ferguson distributor for East Africa, Farm Machinery (Distributors) Ltd., Glasgow Road Industrial Area, Nairobi, Kenya. They will explain why it's more economical to buy and use MF's range of tough, reliable agricultural implements. Ring 8 837 for prompt, efficient service.

Products that fill a need

Today we greet the Australian Trade Mission to the Eastern African States, the Republic of Kenya and her neighbouring countries.

Over the past few years Australia's trade with Kenya has developed steadily through increasing exports, business and investment, and the growing realization that the two countries have much to offer each other.

It would be difficult to find an Australian who has not tasted Kenya coffee and used products made from Kenyan salt and potassium. I wonder if you realize just how many Australian products you use?

I am sure you have used Kenyan soap made with Australian wool, and Kenyan motor oil made with Australian components. Perhaps you also know Kenyan beer made from Australian malt and brewed with Australian ingredients, have seen the palm oil used in Kenyan soap made of Australian palm.

If you are in the building industry you may want to buy cement manufactured with Australian limestone. In Australia one of the world's largest suppliers of asbestos is the Kibuli asbestos mine in Kenya. Asbestos is used for the manufacture of asbestos cement pipes, asbestos roofing sheets and asbestos insulation.

PREFABRICATION

Farms 'off the shelf'

Many farmers in Australia are using their produce and housing their machinery and equipment in ready-made buildings which can be bought 'off the shelf'.

The farms the ready-made, prefabricated buildings advantages is that they can be erected in a few days and are ready to use. They are also available in a wide range of sizes and designs to suit the needs of a particular farm or market which the farmer might wish to be able to use.

Many Australian farmers have these advantages. Whangarei provides a good example. Australia is one of the world's major wheat-growing nations and is the third largest wheat export country. The wheat produced in the area is also produced in other parts of the world, and the grain is often shipped to other countries.

To help them handle this grain, farmers need a variety of buildings, including a storage shed, a grain elevator, a grain mill, a grain dryer, and a grain elevator. These buildings are available in a wide range of sizes and designs to suit the needs of a particular farm or market which the farmer might wish to be able to use.

A common feature of many of the 15,000 Australian wheat farms is a common method of grain storage. The grain is stored in prefabricated bins which are elevated above the ground. These bins are made of galvanized steel and are available in a wide range of sizes and designs to suit the needs of a particular farm or market which the farmer might wish to be able to use.

The floor of the bins is raised about 12 feet above the ground to match the height of a truck in order to facilitate the loading and unloading of the grain. The bins are supported by a concrete foundation which is also elevated above the ground.

Another large group of farms are those who keep their stock and their machinery in a shed. These sheds are made of galvanized steel and are available in a wide range of sizes and designs to suit the needs of a particular farm or market which the farmer might wish to be able to use.

All modern building and construction methods are being used in the ready-made buildings. The buildings are made of galvanized steel and are available in a wide range of sizes and designs to suit the needs of a particular farm or market which the farmer might wish to be able to use.

AGRICULTURE

Still basis of wealth

AUSTRALIAN SUPPLEMENT

Although rapid material development has increased the interest in Australia's industrial growth, the country remains highly dependent on its primary production for its national wealth.

Mineral output may change the balance in the future, but farming will always contribute strongly to the country's economy.

Another cultivation method widely used in Australia is the rotary hoe. This is ideal for topsoil covering.

The rotary hoe may be used to:

- Kill weeds before they start to grow.
- Chop and thoroughly mix soil in which produce a special soil or animal manure and other material.
- Working cultivation in orchards, to allow trees working more freely.
- Working on matted pastures.

The rotary hoe is a simple, but effective, machine which can be used in a wide range of sizes and designs to suit the needs of a particular farm or market which the farmer might wish to be able to use.

MOTOR VEHICLES

Big place in world trade

The rapid development of Australia's motor vehicle industry has placed it in the front ranks of the country's manufacturing activities and provided its penetration into world markets.

The industry's growth has been accelerated by strong internal competition and it is estimated that the value of funds employed exceeds $A1,200 million. It has emerged as the largest single employer of labour and accounts for more than one-third of the nation's wage and salary earners.

The big growth in the industry in Australia has occurred since 1950, when there were 174,000 vehicles on Australian roads. In 1967, the figure had doubled and by 1967 it had risen to 3,000,000. It is likely to reach more than 4,000,000.

The industry broke all previous records last year in terms of the volume of new motor vehicles registered.

In the 12 months ended December, the number of vehicles registered was 411,152. The previous best was in 1964 when the figure was 406,750.

Of the 42 companies manufacturing motor vehicles in Australia, half are beyond the stage of 1,000 units, completely finished designs for the manufacture of buses and engines.

Australia's motor vehicle industry is geared this year for record sales to approximately 1,000,000 cars and commercial vehicles — a 10 per cent increase on the healthy economy of the country.

Since 1950, investment spending has more than doubled while spending on buying and operating vehicles has gone up three times.

In 1952-53, Australians spent $A781 million on the purchase and operation of motor vehicles. By 1966-67, the amount had jumped to $A2,611 million. Over the same period, money spent on the purchase of cars rose from $A110,000,000 to $A444 million.

Recent large-scale market developments in the industry in Australia have been in the light car sector and sharp competition is expected to centre around British Motor Corporation cars, Ford, Corvair and Holden Toros.

The typical Australian car, made by the "Big Three" manufacturers, General Motors-Holden's Ford Australia and Chrysler Australia — has a six cylinder or V8 engine of three to five litres capacity displacing 115 to 210 brake horsepower, and a sub-car body. These medium size cars, as they are called, account for about 65 per cent of the total market.

Vehicle exports from Australia have recorded an outstanding increase since the late 1950s. The total value of vehicles (mostly cars and light commercial) exported in 1957-58 was $A15,200,000, in 1962-63 exports were valued at $A46,900,000.

Vehicles and parts are exported to about 80 markets and an export drive for which Australian manufacturers are preparing could increase the volume and the volume of exports in the next few years.

Included in the markets are East Africa (Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania), which in 1966-67 imported complete motor vehicles valued at $A152,149 from Australia. In the same period, Australia's imports of motor vehicles from Australia were valued at $A9,137.

In addition to the export of vehicles, General Motors-Holden's plant preparation is in progress which it received orders from Volkswagen in England and Opel in Germany for large converter components for automatic transmission.

It also exports steel to England and Germany from its facility on Melbourne, the only one of its kind in the southern hemisphere.

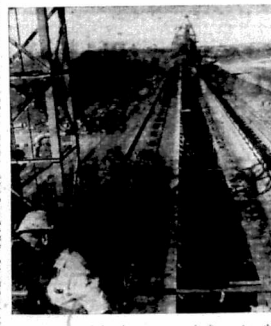

The steel parts industry has expanded and is meeting not only the Australian demand, but also parts have also been found in several countries including the west coast of Africa. It is being and economy in the industry for enabled spare parts to be made factored and sold overseas at prices lower than those of the domestic market.

The Melbourne firm, Repco Ltd, achieved a remarkable performance to win the Formula 1 racing championship in 1965 and 1967 with an engine of its own design. It was the first engine Repco had built and it was successful in its first racing season.

The all-Australian engine now being raced by the world champion Jack Brabham went on to the track's with him in the system. It was driven into third place in the German Grand Prix in August, 1968.

Australian manufacturing industry has grown spectacularly in the past 20 years and now accounts for more than a quarter of the Gross National Product. This photo shows precision drilling of engine components in the air-conditioned hot boring room of a large motor company's plant at Geelong, Victoria.

Waruige's cut not serious

Kenyan runner Warren Kiprugut, a multiple Olympic gold medalist, is not expected to be troubled by the cut in his performance in the 1000m race.

Waruige's best time in the 1000m was 1:41.4 in the 1972 Olympics. He was the world champion in 1972 and 1976. He was also the Olympic champion in 1980. He is expected to be in good form for the 1000m race.
