Eldoret Cathedral consecrated

Kenya's Vice-President, Mr. Mui, attended the consecration exercises of Eldoret Cathedral and later cut a tape to open officially the new secondary school wing. Seen with him are the Archbishop of Nairobi, the Most Rev. J. J. McCarthy (left), and the Minister for Economic Planning and Development, Mr. Mbatia.

Mrs. Kiama, wife of the Minister for Education, Dr. Kiama, keeps a diary in a school of Othman Secondary School, Kisumu District, which was built by self-help. The Minister later opened a primary school for the district.

The chairman of the Kenya National Fund, Mr. Humphrey Shole, received a cheque for £12,500 from the chairman of the Kenya Charity Sweepstake, Mr. J. L. Leitch, a Leitch-Barnard, at Parliament building, Nairobi, yesterday.

Mr. Leitch said he was accompanied by the managing director of the Sweepstake, Mr. B. Rowden, who said that he had received a total of £12,500 from contributions made by the Kenya National Fund. They would be used to help in the building of a new school.

Mr. Shole said he was about on the right track for the design with the Sweepstake's Miss Mary Jane Nyeri, and that although the first purpose for which the fund was started had been accomplished, there was still to be done in the area of housing the community, which will help provide and building hospitals and schools.

Fifty members of the Israeli Embassy in Nairobi contributed the stipend of the children of the Displaced Children's Home to the Kenya National Fund. They were accompanied by Mrs. G. G. Margaret Kavirata, who attended the party, which was held with a luncheon by one of the children, who later entertained the guests with a variety play and a final song on the spot.

Uncertain monetary values

Will the world return to the underlying parity of currencies? Although West Germany has aimed to do so, it is not clear whether the balance of trade has a role in the determination of monetary values in a free world.

In simple terms, what happens when a situation arises which requires that the currencies of two or more countries be interrelated? The answer is that the currencies of the two countries are interrelated in a way which is determined by the balance of trade between them.

As a result of the fact that the currencies of two or more countries are interrelated, it is possible to say that the currencies of two or more countries are interrelated in a way which is determined by the balance of trade between them.

The general uncertainty which has arisen in the world since the outbreak of the Cuban missile crisis is a result of the fact that the currencies of two or more countries are interrelated in a way which is determined by the balance of trade between them.

Having now political freedom, will these countries continue to suffer under the financial burden which jeopardises their own currencies?

Mers El Kebir, the old French Naval base of Oran and Gibraltar are the prizes in the naval cold war being played out in the Mediterranean, where nearly 100 of the world's most powerful fighting ships, Russian and American, follow oceanic manoeuvres. COIN HART outlines developments in this article from Alexandria.

Russians in 'Med'—with eyes on Oran and Gibraltar

THE MEDITERRANEAN is the theatre of a naval cold war between the Soviet Union and the United States. The Russian fleet in the Mediterranean is the largest in the world, and it is the only one which is capable of operating in all parts of the sea.

HUMAN RIGHTS DAY

Giving the children a fair deal

Today is U.N. Human Rights Day. Children form more than half the world's population, and although the U.N. adopted a Declaration on the Rights of the Child in 1959, most are still denied their rights.

Kenya firms fear delays as metric changeover nears

Standard Staff Reporter
The coming conversion of all to the metric system is causing concern to firms dealing in commerce despite the promise of a massive boost for business. It also seems likely that the change in metric will produce a sudden increase in the number of small businesses dealing in scales, in a bid to take advantage of the need to have scales handled quickly.

Departments had not considered fully the implications of the metric changeover. A spokesman for the Kenya Institute of Standards and Quality Control said that the changeover to metric will be a massive task for the country. ## Discovering new methods to develop marine fisheries

Contemporary exploitation of the fish resources of the world is the best example in the present instance of food where an increase in production of about seven per cent over the last few years has exceeded the rate of increase in the world's population.

The main purpose of fisheries ship 'Masthoor' designed as a trawler, which can fish for tuna by longline, catch oysters by dipnet and carry out oceanographic research.

There are many problems facing marine fisheries in East Africa. The four most important are: the area where fish are found, the methods of catching them, the quality of the fish, and the market for them.

The FAO has been assisting East Africa in many ways. It has organized expeditions to explore new fishing grounds, and has provided technical advice on the best methods of catching fish. It has also helped to improve the quality of the fish, and to find better markets for them.

Zanu's 4-point 'N'o' to Mr. Wilson

The African Standard has reported that the ZANU leadership has rejected the proposals that Mr. Wilson made in I.M.S. Frelimo - now the African nationalists, but have rejected them out of hand. JOHN PARKER reports on what the Africans have told Mr. Wilson's emissary, Mr. George Thomson.

Mini-skirt reprobated in U.A.R.

The Egyptian Ministry of Education has reprobated the mini-skirt, which has become a fashion craze in many countries. The ministry has issued a circular to all schools and universities, ordering them to prohibit the wearing of mini-skirts. The circular states that mini-skirts are considered indecent and are not suitable for the climate of Egypt. It also mentions that the ministry has received many complaints from parents and teachers regarding the wearing of mini-skirts by students.

F.A. of Kenya will field strongest side against Benadir

Standard Staff Reporter

Drastic changes are expected to be made in the Kenya Football Association XI for the Jubilee celebrations, according to soccer match against the Benadir XI from Somalia, at the Nairobi City Stadium on Thursday. Kenya have not won a Jubilee tournament yet and the F.A. feel that their only chance of doing so this year is to field their strongest combination.

The present XI is headed by 20-year-old forward, Jimmy Mwangi, who has been in excellent form since he was called into the F.A. team last year. Mwangi is expected to make the starting line-up, as will the 19-year-old forward, Peter Njiru. The 18-year-old forward, Peter Njiru, is also expected to make the starting line-up. The 18-year-old forward, Peter Njiru, is also expected to make the starting line-up.

Backstage U.N. move to halt ban on S. Africa

The United Nations Security Council has approved a resolution to halt the ban on South Africa, a move that has caused a major diplomatic rift between the United States and the United Kingdom. The resolution, passed on October 14, calls for the suspension of the arms embargo and the lifting of the travel ban on South African officials. The U.S. and U.K. had previously supported a resolution to maintain the ban, but the vote was split 11-5, with the U.S. and U.K. in the minority.

Cakes and biscuits for Christmas

By Elizabeth Richards

As usual at this time of year there will be a raft of children's parties, and as usual all the hard work and preparation will fall on Mums' shoulders.

However, few things can be done regarding what the hard work and thoughtful preparation, that the children's smiles and their "looks of delight when they see the party table laid out with pretty and unusual Christmas goodies.

Mums, children like cakes, but many dislike the heavy fruit cake that is a favourite with grown-ups. They have therefore found a better way to keep a plain and fresh or simple cake moisture as a base for children's Christmas cakes.

Children love biscuits, and the easiest varieties are very convenient to buy, it is much more economical to make your own. All you need for them are a large heavy and clear, leak-tight mixture, some cardboard shapes, coloured icing and a few decorations.

And the heavy cake, when made and cut into a square, round or oval shape, is a plain round cake, but children love the more elaborate shapes.

The following recipes for cakes and biscuits have always been a great success with my own children.

BASIC VANILLA CAKE MIXTURE

Ingredients: 4 oz. butter or margarine, 4 oz. sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. vanilla essence.

Method: Beat together the butter and sugar till fluffy, add the egg and beat again. Sift the flour and baking powder together and add to the mixture. Stir in the vanilla essence. Bake in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes.

BASIC BUTTER MILK MIXTURE

Ingredients: 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. vanilla essence.

Method: Beat together the butter and milk till fluffy, add the flour and baking powder together and beat again. Stir in the vanilla essence. Bake in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes.

Side-effects of the Pill

Even the most generous mind sometimes expects wonder just how far their donations to charity go in a world riddled with poverty and need.

Excess donation, by a huge or small amount, has been the result of comparable offerings on the part of the donor, yet it will be significant as it is swallower up by the ever-increasing abundance of want, and the desperate appeal for more give and cheerfulness.

But there is a chance of overlooking the need of the recipient. It is to feel often and thank God for it, this very little help.

Meet the children from Kenya's homes

It is known to most people, not to be asked there, to be representative of them all, and here introduce you to some of their youngest heads.

The Kenyan's Homes, managed by 22 children at present, 15 boys and seven girls, before the final for senior children was opened earlier this year. The cost of building extensions are paid for by the British Council of the United Kingdom, but training units still have to be found locally.

Most of the young people at the homes have an unhappy history of ill health, but each case has to be investigated thoroughly and many of the have urgent cases are formed now.

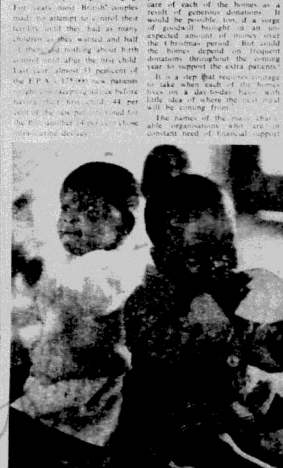

Most of the young people at the homes have an unhappy history, such as the complete when mother was charged with murder for throwing her child in a river. Some come from families where the mother has died in childbirth and the father cannot cope with a large family of children.

She learned this from her mother.

Stop and think. How many things about beauty and grooming and behaviour and clothes has your mother taught you?

And as you come into your teens, she's the person to go to for another piece of information: the why's and wherefores of internal sanitary protection.

Chances are she has used Tampax tampons herself. For more than twenty-five years this brand has been the most trusted name in its field. The Tampax tampons are made of pure surgical cotton, chemically treated for safety and protected by a salt-resistant applicator. It gives you freedom of action, freedom of dress, freedom of colour, freedom to wear what you want, do what you wish.

But the Tampax tampon would not be the choice of so many teenagers today if it weren't for its prior acceptance by mothers. Thank you, mother!

Africa quails before flocks of the Quelea

By GABRIEL SENEZALE

Little birds, just five inches long and weighing about half an ounce, do not sound like strong men. When the bird happens to be the Red-billed Quelea, then it appears as a predator with flock estimated in the thousands of millions.

In the Sudan it is estimated that a single flock of Red-billed Queleas has destroyed 100,000 acres of crops. The birds have also been known to destroy 100,000 acres of crops in the Sudan and 100,000 acres in the Sudan. ## Preserving oral culture of Africa

By a Unesco correspondent

Much has been written about the oral culture of Africa, but the oral culture of Africa is still being preserved. It is the oral culture of Africa that has been the subject of a conference of African writers and poets in Accra, Ghana, last week. The conference was organized by the Unesco Centre for International Co-operation in Education and Culture, and was held in the presence of the Ghanaian Minister of Education, the Ghanaian Minister of Culture, and the Ghanaian Minister of Information.

The conference was held in the presence of the Ghanaian Minister of Education, the Ghanaian Minister of Culture, and the Ghanaian Minister of Information. TEST CRICKET

South Africa may be allowed to tour England in 1970

It is possible that the South African cricket team will be allowed to tour England in 1970, according to a report from London. The report states that the International Cricket Council (ICC) has agreed to accept the South African team for the 1970 tour. This is a significant development as South Africa has been banned from international cricket since 1970 due to its apartheid policies. The report also mentions that the tour would be subject to certain conditions, including a ban on South African players from playing in England during the tour.

ASABI MARATHON Adcocks' time second best in the world

Marathon runner Adcocks has set a new world record in the Asabi Marathon. Adcocks, a British runner, completed the marathon in a time of 2 hours and 10 minutes. This time is considered to be one of the best in the world for a marathon. Adcocks' performance was highly praised by spectators and officials alike. The Asabi Marathon is a well-known event in the region, and Adcocks' achievement is a source of pride for the local community.

Haynes resigns after 17 days
A. Haynes has resigned from his position after 17 days. The resignation was accepted by the board. Haynes had been in the position for a short period of time, and his resignation was due to personal reasons. The board expressed their appreciation for Haynes' service during his tenure.

The report also mentions that the tour would be subject to certain conditions, including a ban on South African players from playing in England during the tour. The ICC has agreed to accept the South African team for the 1970 tour, which is a significant development. The tour would be a major event in the cricketing calendar, and it is expected to attract a large audience. The conditions for the tour are being discussed, and it is hoped that a final agreement will be reached soon.

BLOODSTOCK SALES £3,850,893 PAID AT TATTERSALLS

Tattersalls has reported a record sale of £3,850,893 for bloodstock. The sale took place at Tattersalls' auctioneers in London. The sale included a wide range of horses, including thoroughbreds and other breeds. The total value of the sale is a testament to the popularity of horse racing and the quality of the stock available at Tattersalls. The auctioneers expressed their satisfaction with the results of the sale and the interest shown by buyers.

GAS POWER

The New Ronson Comet makes other lighters as old-fashioned as matches

Because the new Ronson Comet runs on clean, safe, stress gas, which means it lights first time, every time; gives you thousands of lights on each filling; never leaks and never smells. What's more, you can adjust the flame height for cigarette, cigar or pipe. That's gaspower. And Ronson's international reputation is behind its design. So its looks match its efficiency.

See the range of four different colours at high-class shops throughout East Africa. For such a modern idea, you'll find the Comet very modestly priced.

JAMHURI, 1968

I would like to say that 1968 has been a steady year of progress during which because of the activities of Government in all fields and the untiring efforts and leadership of our President, His Excellency, Mzee Jomo Kenyatta, we have continued to build our Nation, enjoying stability and the necessary climate of confidence in which every individual can play his or her own part. As we celebrate Jamhuri this year we wish His Excellency our President, many happy years of long life so that he may continue to enjoy under his wise and distinguished leadership the fruits of freedom that he so dearly fought for and brought to our people. Mr. Mui

Bright future for livestock

Kenya's livestock is the most rapidly growing of the country's major industries. It has been due to the rapid growth of the industry, which is now valued at over 100 million shillings, that the Government has decided to invest heavily in the sector. The Government's policy is to encourage the development of the industry by providing technical assistance, veterinary services and other facilities.

Over the last few years, the production of livestock has increased significantly. This is due to the introduction of modern breeding techniques and the use of improved feedstuffs. The Government has also established a number of research stations to study the various aspects of livestock production.

The Government's policy is to encourage the development of the industry by providing technical assistance, veterinary services and other facilities. This is being done through the establishment of a number of research stations and the provision of training courses for farmers and technicians.

Five flashing years

Five years have flashed past since Kenya attained independence. Today the East African Standard marks both the start and the fourth anniversary of the country's freedom as a Republic.

The Editor of this new nation, President Kenia, has in many more ways than one, expressed his deep appreciation of the role of "The Star" in the past five years. On this occasion when the magazine is celebrating its fifth anniversary, I think of those who, as a student and teacher, and in the years to come, will be the torch-bearers of the new nation. I would like to say that there has been a steady flow of progress, during which Government in all branches and the individual efforts and leadership of our President. We are committed to build our nation on stability and the necessary sharing of confidence in which every individual can plan his own part. We can celebrate January the 12th as we wish to see the President's happy years of long life and leadership in all branches of the Government. We are committed to build our nation on stability and the necessary sharing of confidence in which every individual can plan his own part. We can celebrate January the 12th as we wish to see the President's happy years of long life and leadership in all branches of the Government.

...and it has been shown that the African and European nations have not only shared the same political and economic ideas but also the same political and economic ideas. The President's example of leadership in the past five years has been a shining example of leadership in the past five years. The President's example of leadership in the past five years has been a shining example of leadership in the past five years.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor's policy was 'off target'

As a missionary member of the Church in Kenya, I have read with great interest the recent issue of the magazine 'The East African Standard' which, in a few days, rightly devoted its columns to the Church's activities. The magazine is a valuable asset to the Church in Kenya, and it is a pleasure to see it being published so regularly.

DRIFT TO TOWNS

The constant drift of people from the rural areas to the towns is a matter of concern to the Government. This drift is caused by a number of factors, including the search for better living conditions and the desire for education and employment opportunities.

INFORMATION AND BROADCASTING MR. JAMES OSOGO

Full coverage at low cost

As a result of our Republic's first year of independence, the Ministry of Information takes as a matter of course the achievement of its annual targets and as a result of the fact that it is a fully developed country, it has in 1964, when the Ministry had a year of its own, achieved a record of performance which is a tribute to the Ministry's efficiency and to the success of its policies. The Ministry's achievements in 1964 are a result of the fact that it has been able to secure the necessary resources for its operations and to ensure that these resources are used to the best advantage. ## Lawyers trained in Kenya

It was reported that the Kenya School of Law has graduated its first class of lawyers. A total of 100 graduates were conferred with the degree of Bachelor of Laws. As a result, the Kenya School of Law has produced its first class of lawyers. The graduates will be admitted to practice in Kenya.

The Kenya School of Law was established in 1963 to provide a practical professional education for lawyers in Kenya. The school has since then produced a steady stream of graduates who have gone to work in various parts of the country.

The graduates of the Kenya School of Law will be admitted to practice in Kenya. They will be able to provide legal services to the public and to the Government.

Vital lifeline

With over 3,660 miles of rail track, nearly 3,700 miles of inland marine services and more than 2,600 miles of Road Services, the E.A.R. & H., system forms the vital lifeline for Agriculture, Commerce and Industry in East Africa.

And the story of every mile covered is the story of East Africa's development. E.A.R. & H. is an expanding system — expanding efficiency and improved facilities to meet every special transportation need, thus increasing the flow of exports to the markets of the world. This is just one way E.A.R. & H. is helping to build the nation and laying the foundation to a greater future.

E.A.R. & H.
Doing a great job for East Africa.

Reliance on home resources

I do not see any alternative to an anniversary of our independence. During those last years, we have, as a nation, made remarkable progress. Although at the time of independence there were those who can do with the ability to produce rapidly. I do not think that anyone who looks at Kenya today can deny that such results have been produced through the leadership of our President. More credit, however, can be given to the strength of the people.

The development of a country is a task of states to see the all that has to do with its economic growth. In the past, we have seen that the country has changed very markedly since independence. The years ago, with no building program up as a result of our progress and a limited, few of the necessary infrastructure works of the transport.

But in the last few years, the rate of growth has been rapid. In the past, we have seen that the country has changed very markedly since independence. The years ago, with no building program up as a result of our progress and a limited, few of the necessary infrastructure works of the transport.

Science of state or nation has been developed and many more are being planned. Numerous roads and bridges have been constructed and improved in order to make easier the transporting of agricultural products to the towns and to markets abroad, and in order to facilitate the transport to the rural areas of the manufactured products which are increasingly produced for export to other countries.

But although one does not need all the details, it is clear that the country has made a great deal of progress in the last few years. The rate of growth has been rapid. In the past, we have seen that the country has changed very markedly since independence. The years ago, with no building program up as a result of our progress and a limited, few of the necessary infrastructure works of the transport.

EDUCATION Dr. J. G. KIANO

Teacher training the main task

As in previous years, the Ministry of Education will conduct Kenya Government Scholarships and Bursaries for eligible students wishing to pursue various fields of study.

At the same time, the Ministry will also take select courses of direct Scholarships for the Government to sponsor for overseas tertiary education. The Government has placed the highest priority on the training of teachers.

The total number of Kenya students studying in Africa has increased to 1,000. The Government will continue to support these students.

The Government has approved the proposal for the establishment of a new school of education in Kisumu. This will be a major step towards expanding teacher training.

COMMUNICATIONS AND POWER: MR. JAMES NYAMWEYA

Cheap power in rural areas

Mr. Nyamweya has had a very successful year and clearly proved of substance made over the last year, despite a number of problems.

Since the last January, the Government has envisaged a forward looking policy in those fields in which it should be the economic and social targets will be met.

The Government has approved the proposal for the establishment of a new school of education in Kisumu. This will be a major step towards expanding teacher training.

The Government is further giving such a high priority to the development of the power sector in the country. The Ministry endeavours to coordinate the activities of both the power and the telecommunications sectors.

Big contribution made by self-help

The Department of Co-operatives and Social Services, under the leadership of Mr. Ronald Ngala, has made a significant contribution to the development of the country through self-help initiatives. The department has been instrumental in the formation and growth of numerous co-operative societies across the country. These societies have played a vital role in the economic and social development of the rural areas. The department has also been successful in providing social services to the needy, particularly in the areas of health, education, and housing. The success of these initiatives is a testament to the power of self-help and community cooperation.

Many roads under way

The most spectacular and significant achievements which have been hitherto made by my Ministry in the last year are the successful completion of a number of projects, both in transport and in housing.

Although roads and housing projects are prominent they are supported by several other projects, both administrative and technical.

At the end of the year, the Ministry of Works has completed a number of projects, both in transport and in housing, which are the result of the Government's policy of development.

It is a pleasure to note that the first time a road has been completed in the last year, it was a road which was completed in the last year.

In addition to this, the Ministry of Works has also completed a number of projects, both in transport and in housing, which are the result of the Government's policy of development.

The outbreaks diminish

The outbreaks of cholera and other diseases which have been reported in various parts of Kenya since the beginning of the year have diminished in intensity and frequency. This is a welcome development, particularly in view of the fact that the disease has been reported in several parts of the country in the past few months.

The Ministry of Health has been keeping a close watch on the situation and has taken steps to ensure that the disease does not spread further. These steps include the provision of clean water, the use of disinfectants, and the isolation of patients.

The outbreaks have been particularly severe in the coastal areas, where the climate is hot and humid. This is a favorable environment for the growth of the bacteria which cause the disease. However, the situation in the interior has been much less serious.

The Ministry of Health has also been working to improve the general standards of health and sanitation in the country. This includes the provision of clean water, the use of latrines, and the disposal of refuse.

The outbreaks of cholera and other diseases are a serious public health problem. It is essential that the Ministry of Health continue to take steps to prevent the disease from spreading further.

HOUSING: MR. PAUL NGEI

The big building boom

Good housing is one of the basic needs of a healthy and happy nation. It is essential for the well-being of the people and for the development of the country. The Government has recognized this and has taken steps to provide good housing for all its citizens.

The Housing Finance Corporation has been established to provide financial assistance to the private sector in the construction of housing. This is a welcome development, particularly in view of the fact that the Government has been unable to provide enough housing for its citizens.

The Housing Finance Corporation has been successful in providing financial assistance to the private sector. This has resulted in a big building boom in the country. The number of houses under construction has increased significantly in the past few months.

The Government has also been working to improve the general standards of housing in the country. This includes the provision of clean water, the use of latrines, and the disposal of refuse.

The big building boom is a welcome development. It is essential that the Government continue to take steps to provide good housing for all its citizens.

Sharing the burden

LOCAL GOVERNMENT: MR. LAWRENCE SAGINI

The five years since independence has seen the rapid growth of local government centres in the form of new schools, health centres and dispensaries, roads, new water supply and sewerage schemes, and new water schemes, and drainage schemes.

The additional burden has also been placed on local authorities and Municipal Councils, which have had to deal with the rapid growth in the population of the country. In 1964, the population of Nairobi was 117,000, an increase of 25 per cent since 1959. This has placed a heavy burden on the local authorities, which have had to deal with the rapid growth in the population of the country.

The Government has taken steps to meet this growing demand for services. It has established a Ministry of Local Government, which is responsible for the development of local government in the country. This Ministry has been working closely with the local authorities to help them to meet their needs.

The Government has also established a Local Government Fund, which is used to provide financial assistance to local authorities. This fund has been a great help to the local authorities, and has enabled them to carry out their duties more effectively.

The Government has also established a Local Government Training Centre, which provides training for local government officials. This centre has been a great help to the local authorities, and has enabled them to carry out their duties more effectively.
