Can you see two machines in this picture?

You can! That's because the new, full-automatic FACIT CA2-16 calculator is actually two machines in one. It is a machine for simple figure work and also a machine that can operate itself on highly grouped keyboard. It is fast for various reasons, among them automatic relocation of the wheelset in multiplication. It is accurate—you can always check set-up numbers before you start an operation. And it has a large capacity: the product range has room for 16 digits.

Other highlights of the new FACIT CA2-16: "Direct back-counter from both the product and multiplier registers by means of a single key." "Multiplicand and multiplier accumulation." "Automatic relocation of wheelset in back-transfer and accumulation."

Hard-hitting facts about the CORTINA ESTATE CAR

- HUGE LOAD SPACE
- UPWARD SWINGING TAILGATE
- AEROFLOW VENTURON
- SMALL CAR COSTS

The Cortina Estate car is an exceedingly good-looking, luxurious and lively saloon for normal town motoring and an incredibly spacious load carrier; ideally suited to a safari life. With the back seat in place you have an amazing 125 sq. feet of floor that can absorb loads that would do credit to a small truck. The Cortina Estate, not only gives you more carrying capacity for less money than any other vehicle in its class — but it gives by far the most striking combination of comfort, performance, space, ruggedness, good looks and low price.

Barter offer thought to be not well received

Barter offers thought to be not well received. The barter market has been slow to develop in the United States. Many businessmen are still skeptical of the barter system. However, some have found success. For example, a manufacturer of electrical equipment has found a market for his products in the barter system. He has been able to trade his goods for services and other goods that he needs. This has allowed him to expand his business without the need for cash. Other businessmen have also found success in the barter system. They have been able to trade their services for goods and services that they need. This has allowed them to grow their businesses and increase their profits. The barter system is a valuable tool for businessmen who are looking for ways to expand their businesses and increase their profits. It is a system that allows them to trade their goods and services for other goods and services that they need. This is a system that is becoming more and more popular in the United States. It is a system that is helping businessmen to grow their businesses and increase their profits. The barter system is a system that is worth considering for any businessman who is looking for ways to expand his business and increase his profits.

UGANDA RECOVERY AFTER BATTERING

Sunderland too strong for Feisal

Kenya allow victory to slip away

Kenya has taken the lead in their international football match at the moment, but their victory over Uganda is slipping away as the Ugandans are mounting a valiant recovery.

Kenya's attack has been based on the wing as the Ugandans have been unable to cope with the pace of the Kenyan attack. The Ugandans have been unable to cope with the pace of the Kenyan attack.

PRESIDENT'S VISIT PUT IN PRINT

A special brochure on the recent visit of President Kenyatta to Britain and Mauritius has just been published by the Press and Administration.

The brochure, which is available free of charge, contains a detailed account of the President's visit to Britain and Mauritius. It includes photographs and descriptions of the various events and activities that took place during the visit. The brochure is a valuable record of the President's official duties and his interactions with the people of the countries he visited.

Hard work 'way to progress'

The chairman of the Kenya African National Union, Mr. Jomo Kenyatta, has urged the people of the country to work hard and strive for progress. He emphasized that hard work is the key to economic development and social advancement. He called on the government and the people to work together to build a better future for Kenya.

Stabilisation of goods in Congo

The Ministry of Finance has announced a new scheme for the stabilization of goods in the Congo. The scheme aims to ensure that the prices of essential goods remain stable and affordable for the population. This is a crucial step towards economic stability and social justice in the region.

Expansion plan

The Government has announced a new expansion plan for the country. The plan includes the development of new industries, the expansion of existing ones, and the improvement of infrastructure. The government is committed to creating more jobs and increasing the standard of living for all Kenyans.

PIA flights - over 86% on time

For every hundred flights over PIA's extensive network last year, more than eighty-eight were precisely on time. This punctuality record, maintained over the last five years, is one of the best in the industry - and a direct reflection of PIA's own standards of operational conduct. Standards which have enabled this young and vigorous airline to grow quickly and confidently - so that today, we are only ten PIA established an unrivalled reputation for timeliness and punctuality, but envision the world over you too are great people to fly with.

Progress taken to all parts of Burma

Progress has been made in all parts of Burma in 1958 with the assistance of the Rotary Club of Bangon, (The name of the club was pronounced as "Bangon" and not "Bangkok" as some other clubs were named). The club has been successful in its efforts to bring about a better understanding of the people of Burma, but presently only the Clubs at Mandalay, Mergay, Bhamo, Yangon, and Bhamo, but presently only the Clubs at Mandalay and Bhamo.

From Rotarian Post, President, Dr. William L. Johnson, past president representative of Rotary International, President, M. G. P. H. Thompson.

"Allow me to wish all of you at the gathering on the beautiful West Coast of Africa a very happy and fruitful in the furthering of our Rotary ideal."

"Coming from many parts of one of the largest and most international districts in the Rotary world you should be in a position to establish friendships with me and to continue striving for the Unity of Purpose in Diversity of Circumstances."

"May you continue success in your endeavors."

From the President of the National Rotary Club, Mr. Eric Baumann, in memory of the club who are attending the Birmingham conference.

"There is an added pleasure in the prospect of attending the district conference in Government is a fellow countryman."

"Traditionally the annual conference is held in the same town as the Governor's home club. This Rotary year the District Governor is Past President Arner Fendley of the Rotary Club of Birmingham."

"I hope all those enthusiastic members of the Rotary Club of Nairobi who are accompanying me in Manchester are looking forward to the convention with the same keen anticipation and regard."

"To those members who have been denied this wonderful opportunity through lack of arrangement I say 'better luck next time!'"

GREAT VALUE OF COMMUNITY SERVICE

by Rotarian Past President PERCY COULTER

With such of Rotary clubs in existence in the world today, it is not surprising that the value of community service is being realized by more and more people. The Rotary Club of Bangon, for example, has been successful in its efforts to bring about a better understanding of the people of Burma, but presently only the Clubs at Mandalay and Bhamo.

"In my mind, good would not seem detailing. Those who benefit know the value even if at times they do not know the benefits that the club has to offer. It is the club that has the ability to help in the community service are large and the structure of Rotary is such that as long as it lives, there will be a ready response to any worthwhile project that has for its object the alleviating of suffering, hunger, disease and distress throughout the world."

The retiring president of Nairobi Rotary Club, Mr. P. A. Johnson, wishes his successor, Mr. Eric Baumann, with the chief of office in the president's inauguration ceremony for 1958 in July last year, to be the right in the former district governor, Mr. Eric Baumann, of the East and Central Africa District, Mr. J. Thompson, from the Rotarian Club, who has already afterwards left over his position to Mr. A. Fendley, of Miami, Fla.

You already own the best guidebook to Israel.

Israel is 270 miles long, and almost every inch of it is historically significant. The Bible is indispensable to Israel as more than a religious and spiritual work. If you've ever been reading the scriptures, you'll find the Bible is being used by archaeologists as a basic tool of research.

King Solomon's copper mines have been discovered, and there's a copper rock in every man's name.

A 3,000-year-old irrigation method has been rediscovered in the Negev desert because the Bible told us that there were many ditches.

Thousands of Biblical sites have been discovered, and you can trace how many of them were built.

But no one doubts that there will be more.

There are still so many areas in Israel and in the Bible that remain unexplored. And still so many questions that remain unanswered.

If you've ever been told that you should know about Biblical sites, they should be told by more than 2,000 years of history to each Christian.

Excuse for the return of Israel as a state in 1948, the imaginative people that Biblical sites that have made the new Israel.

Excuse, names and places come thundering down the ages.

Guides of Jerusalem, St. Peter's, France, Assy, Halls, Memphis, Casuarina, Richard's Landing, and the many other Jerusalem as a little church that was always there.

You can see that church now.

But since more interesting is the fact that you can see more in the Holy Land, now than Richard the Lionhearted did in the 12th century.

Simply because we know more now.

But the more you know, the more you want.

And out's getting pretty old.

When you take off for Israel with this Bible, you'll be in Israel. It will be 270.

DOUBTS OVER BUDGET 'Mr. Europe' will help to pave way for Britain's membership of Market

The London conference of the three yesterday leading to a draft budget is considered after a lengthy three-day session to have been a success. It is expected that the conference will produce a budget which will be presented to the European Council in Brussels on Wednesday.

The conference was held in a friendly atmosphere and the three leaders were seen to be in agreement on the main points of the budget. It is expected that the budget will be presented to the European Council in Brussels on Wednesday.

SEUNG LUKKY

CONGRATULATIONS were sent to the newly elected Prime Minister of the Republic of Korea, Mr. Yung Hui, on his appointment to the post. The congratulations were sent by the British Government and the British people.

Mr. Yung Hui is a well-known statesman and has served his country in various capacities. He is expected to lead his country towards a brighter future.

CHINA TOLD TO BE READY FOR WAR WITH U.S.

CHINA yesterday told the world to prepare for the possibility of a conflict with the United States. The Chinese government issued a statement in which it warned that it was ready to meet any challenge from the United States.

The statement was a direct response to the recent actions of the United States in the Far East. It is expected that this will lead to a deterioration of relations between the two superpowers.

NO PARDON FOR CONGO REBEL LEADERS

PRÉSIDENT Mobutu has refused to pardon the leaders of the Congo rebellion. He has ordered that they be tried for their part in the recent civil war. This move has been welcomed by the international community.

The rebellion in the Congo has caused significant suffering and destruction. President Mobutu's decision to bring the rebels to justice is seen as a step towards restoring order and stability to the country.

AVIATION DESIGN FOR USE IN AFRICA

Plans for an adaptation of the bi-motored, high-wing aircraft for operations in East Africa have been drawn up by a group of British and American working men and organized an organization of such specialists as well as local operators.

Mr. Paul Stammers, who has a job with a British firm, says that the aircraft he has in mind is a four-engine bi-motored aircraft with a wingspan of 12 to 15 ft. and a length of 18 to 20 ft. The engine is mounted in the fuselage, and the propellers are of the type known as "pusher" propellers. The aircraft is designed to be able to operate on rough airfields and to be able to land on a runway of 100 to 150 ft. The aircraft is also designed to be able to operate in high altitudes and to be able to operate in high temperatures.

Taking a rest as time goes by

Mr. Stammers has tested his model aircraft and the results are very encouraging. He says that the aircraft is very easy to fly and that it is very reliable. He also says that the aircraft is very economical to operate and that it is very easy to maintain. He says that the aircraft is also very safe and that it is very comfortable to fly in.

ROYAL NAVY BOARDS TANKER

Wrecked and diverted near Beira

The oil tanker Mannock was intercepted and boarded by the Royal Navy frigate H.M.S. Berwick as she steamed southwards from Beira, Mozambique, the oil port for Rhodesia. The Mannock, a British-registered, oil tanker, is carrying 15,000 tons of crude oil.

The Defence Ministry announcement that the Mannock was intercepted by the British anti-submarine frigate H.M.S. Berwick near Beira, Mozambique, has caused speculation that the tanker had anything to do with the Beira blockade.

James V still at anchor

The James V is still at anchor in Beira. The tanker was intercepted by the Berwick on the night of April 19. The Berwick was on a mission to intercept the Mannock and the James V was seen to be in the area.

Call for war on Saigon Government

Some people of South Vietnam yesterday heard a call from the nation's powerful Buddhists to take action against the military government of the late President Diem in Saigon. In the words of one monk the call amounted to a declaration of war on the ten-month-old regime.

The Buddhists declared they no longer had any confidence in the Government. Units of the South Vietnamese Marine Corps had already taken the rebellious Northern garrison town of Da Nang but soon leaving anti-Government forces still in control.

At a Press conference in Saigon the Buddhists said they had no confidence in the Government. Units of the South Vietnamese Marine Corps had already taken the rebellious Northern garrison town of Da Nang but soon leaving anti-Government forces still in control.

rescued the crew of the sinking 2,000-ton West German frigate Frederik-Heinrich, Amberg, in pounding Atlantic sea, off Cornwall, South-west England.

Forty-three members of the crew of the Frederik-Heinrich were rescued on April 19. The carrier Amberg was on a mission to transport the crew to safety in the North Atlantic.

TUSSELE FOR LEAD IN NORTHERN LEG

BERT Shankland and Chris Rothwell in their Peugeot 604. The Peugeot 604 has a clear lead as the 14 remaining cars in the East African Safari sped over dry roads last night towards the finish at Nairobi.

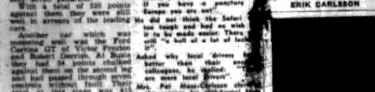

They had a 50-point lead over the Ford Cortina GT being driven by Vic Preston and Bob Lynch (peaking at 20 points) at Chongweini. In third place was the Ford Falcon driven by Peter Hughes and Ed Sayer (44th on the Safari) entered its last hours.

They were followed by Jaguar 440 which was in fourth place with 20 points. The car was then topped into the lead by the Ford Falcon.

Carlsson plans to try again

SPITE the bad luck which still dogs his bid for victory in the Safari, the Swedish rally champion Erik Carlsson intends to try again, he said today at Safari H.Q. yesterday that he would be back "if some one will lend me a car".

The last driver by Carlsson and Peter Archer had been second until he had a mechanical failure. Carlsson said he would like to have a car that was reliable and could handle the rough terrain of the Safari.

ERIK CARLSSON

Classic finish forecast

There is any real ground for optimism. The Peugeot 604 is the car of the moment. It has a clear lead as the 14 remaining cars in the East African Safari sped over dry roads last night towards the finish at Nairobi.

They had a 50-point lead over the Ford Cortina GT being driven by Vic Preston and Bob Lynch (peaking at 20 points) at Chongweini. In third place was the Ford Falcon driven by Peter Hughes and Ed Sayer (44th on the Safari) entered its last hours.

No chance

He and his co-driver, Stuart Thomson, started in a Peugeot 604. They were in the lead until they had a mechanical failure. Carlsson said he would like to have a car that was reliable and could handle the rough terrain of the Safari.

Durable Detours

Of the last Japanese Detour, the Peugeot 604 is the car of the moment. It has a clear lead as the 14 remaining cars in the East African Safari sped over dry roads last night towards the finish at Nairobi.

Third place

They were followed by Jaguar 440 which was in fourth place with 20 points. The car was then topped into the lead by the Ford Falcon.

Green light

Asked if President Diem's statement would affect the Government's policy of support for the military government of the late President Diem in Saigon, the Buddhists said they had no confidence in the Government.

At a Press conference in Saigon the Buddhists said they had no confidence in the Government. Units of the South Vietnamese Marine Corps had already taken the rebellious Northern garrison town of Da Nang but soon leaving anti-Government forces still in control.

Police arrested

Police arrested a number of people in Nairobi. They were charged with disturbing the peace. The police said they had no confidence in the Government.

The Southern Leg of the 1962-63 Safari had its proved tough and its places almost impassable. The lot of cars remained with every hour, and it showed the inevitable Edie Carlson, his wife, the widely known Fountains-Gary and other well-known drivers. Left: The leaders at the end of the leg — Sheppard and Hartwell in their Peugeot 404. Inset: A group of about 200. Killameters on the way back from Dur to Salomon. The leaders were 248 minutes late reaching the start of the second leg. Many cars fell by the way with water in their engines due to horizontal rainfalls. Some drivers had to drive with as much as six inches of water inside their cars.

Above: One of the early leaders, Buck and Sherry in the Buick Wildcat, led by the Mount Co. of Japan, through the mud and water of the so-called "Kinko Pass". They tried for the lead for a long way with Sheppard and Hartwell. Their efforts were soon beaten by the Peugeot.

Left: Another of the Duran team, Mr. 48, Miller and Ains, leaving the camp at Salomon to start negotiating the road turned into a river by the horizontal rain of the start of the section. They pulled before Dur at Salomon, which took the heaviest toll of the Safari. One control official — usually arrived in swimming trunks — verifies the appalling conditions on the Southern Leg.

Below: Every Safari produces a hero with the public. This year the efforts of Buck and Sherry in the new VW 1500 in getting through the Southern Leg set with the leaders. They received more commendation than any other entry. On the Northern Leg they were leading in "Kinko Pass".

WATER, WATER — EVERYWHERE

One of the last surviving members of the Safari was the 1962 Buick Wildcat, led by Buck Sherry, who pulled through 248 minutes late to the Southern Leg. Above: Jaguar Singh shows his Volvo, having made a short haul at Salomon on the Southern Leg leading for Dur at Salomon. He was third overall of the half-way stage.

Below: Packed roads watch the Tennessee-made Peugeot 404 in the lead by Sheppard and Hartwell, the way in the lead, and others. It was not of Peugeot control in the way in the lead, and others. It was not of Peugeot control in the way in the lead, and others.

Below: The Mercedes 230 250 of Walford, Logan and Portman was the last to reach Salomon. It was in good shape at Salomon, but it was not to last. The car was in good shape at Salomon, but it was not to last.

Above: Amid a cloud of dust and flying stones the Citroen DS19 of Collinge and Javies hurtles along the road to Kajondo and a well-earned rest in Nairobi. The Citroen was second overall of the start of the Northern Leg, but dropped out with engine trouble. The car used was the same one that competed in the 1965 Safari.

BEST PROVING GROUND IN WORLD PROVES ITS WORTH

A N elegant sedan car is Nairobi . . . a heavy-haulage vehicle grunting up steep slopes in the Himalayas . . . a speedy police vehicle in the back country of Thailand . . . a suburban bus in Rangoon . . . a tax transporter in Ceylon.

Technically varied, geographically scattered, yet each has something in common with the others — it is an export product of Australia.

For years the sales of Australian-built passenger cars have been gaining ground in more than 80 countries. More recently, however, there have been marked increases in the wide range of commercial motor vehicles manufactured by Australia.

Heavy trucks, through a variety of applications, ranging from the transport of goods and materials, to the transport of passengers, are being used in many parts of the world. COMPANY MAKES 4,000 SAFETY BELTS DAILY

GROWING AWARENESS of road dangers has greatly increased world demand for safety belts in motor vehicles. This has been accompanied by increases in the industry in Australia and the standards of the equipment.

One of Australia's largest manufacturers of safety belts produces 4,000 a day.

Production of the most modern and latest automotive weaving machinery and safety belts is being carried out in the new factory at the factory site.

Early concern about safety belts is being reflected in the fact that the number of accidents involving motor vehicles is being reduced.

Every type of braking system Key of braking system

THE high density of both commercial and passenger traffic on the world's roads today demands good brakes.

Braking requires the maximum performance of a motor vehicle and its components.

One type of braking system is the hydraulic system.

Another type of braking system is the mechanical system.

A third type of braking system is the electric system.

A fourth type of braking system is the pneumatic system.

A fifth type of braking system is the vacuum system.

A sixth type of braking system is the drum system.

A seventh type of braking system is the disc system.

An eighth type of braking system is the parking system.

A ninth type of braking system is the emergency system.

A tenth type of braking system is the anti-lock system.

An eleventh type of braking system is the power steering system.

A twelfth type of braking system is the power windows system.

A thirteenth type of braking system is the power seats system.

A fourteenth type of braking system is the power mirrors system.

A fifteenth type of braking system is the power locks system.

A sixteenth type of braking system is the power windows system.

The whole world is buying more and more Australian Cars and Automotive Equipment . . . because Australian cars are built to perform and built to last. (In 1964-65, Australia exported $438,400,000 worth of cars and automotive equipment). Australia is the third most car-conscious nation in the world, with three homes out of every four owning at least one car. Australian-built cars are thoroughly tested and proven, handling slow city crawls and 100-mph non-stop runs with ease under a wide range of climatic conditions varying from desert-dust to tropical downpours. Australian cars, trucks and equipment are precision-made. Take a close look at Australian cars and automotive spare parts, and test their reliability.

Springs designed for 'washboard' roads

CAR suspension springs — which Australian reports to Keys — have to be good because Australia's country "washboard" roads put demands on car and truck where do springs work harder. Nowhere do automotive engineers face tougher problems.

The springs have to be designed to absorb the shocks of the road. They must be able to support the weight of the car and its passengers, and they must be able to absorb the bumps and potholes of the road.

The Australian Holden Premier, featuring the forward-off look, has a new three-bar shock absorber, a new grille and front fenders. The new look gives a robust, blue-grey appearance.

Engineer's invention exported

A WELSH, however valued in the automotive industry in many parts of the world is obtained by an Australian engineering firm.

The invention is a new type of engine component that is designed to improve the performance of the engine. It is a small, lightweight part that is easy to install and maintain.

Uganda likely to take action on 'plotters' soon

Assistant Chief Justice, Kenya
It is estimated that action is likely to be taken against a number of persons in prominent positions, who are alleged to have been active in the Uganda plotters, who were deported and detained in February.

Reporting this at the weekend, the Kampala newspaper, The Progress, which supports the U.P.C., says investigations into the activities of the five former Ministers had revealed that a number of other people were involved. The Government was said to be planning a series of "bold measures to clean out undesirable elements from important posts, and to sort out the conduct in the country."

It is estimated that action is likely to be taken against "plotters" within the next two weeks, and during that period the five Ministers who were deported and detained in February will be appointed to advise the Prime Minister.

STRIKE LETTING LIKELY

According to the Progress, the Government's proposals were regarded as being the best course of action to be taken. It is stated that further voting of candidates had been arranged for the Government's support.

SIKHS CONFIRM SUPERIORITY

Fifth Gold Cup hockey victory

SIKHS (above) confirmed their superiority in the Fifth Gold Cup hockey tournament by defeating the United States 3-0 in the final at the City Park Stadium, Nairobi, yesterday.

The Sikhs have treated a large crowd to some fine hockey during the week. The whole team covered a wide variety of hockey skills, but the most notable was their speed and agility. The Sikhs' goalkeeper was in the top class and his great saves were a big factor in their success.
