East Africa In London

The East African Commissioner in London, Mr. Roger Norton, returned to Britain this week after a very unfruitful visit to the Territories and visits to the Territories are essential for the proper functioning of the work of the London Office. Conditions here are changing rapidly and an annual tour by the Commissioner would not be too much.

East Africans are inclined to take the London Office for granted. That is a tribute to Mr. Norton and his staff, and to the smooth success of their work for the Territories, but it is not good for anybody concerned. East Africa should always be mindful of the fact that it is represented by an organization in London, should understand its purpose and know its achievements, and, particularly, should be looking constantly for new opportunities to make full use of it.

Mr. Norton's task is to ensure that the London Office is kept up to date and that the Territories are kept up to date. It is a task which is not always appreciated. Every new scheme proposed by the Territories is sent to the London Office for approval. Every new scheme proposed by the Territories is sent to the London Office for approval.

It is essential for the best interests of the Office that it should remain in touch with the Territories. The London Office is the only link between the Territories and the Government. It is the only link between the Territories and the Government.

Round the bend

Taking corners at speed was a waste of tyre, a strain on the chassis, and a danger to life and limb even in 1939. Nowadays, of course, the crime is an unspeakable one—your car is probably not quite so young as she was, and stresses and strains might easily break something you can't replace. Tyres today are not of pre-war quality and to roar round the bend at forty causes a hideous distortion which is liable to tear off the rubber and weaken the walls to the extent of putting your tyres beyond the aid of "Tyrosol". Taking corners at speed is sheer madness, so change down, round the bend safely and allow pedestrians and your tyres to live to a ripe old age.

You can "Tyrosol" your tyres again and again because the process does them no possible harm. "Tyrosol", by the way, is part of the... of Motor Mart Service.

THE BOAT RACE

UNIVERSITY CREWS IN FINE FETTER

Fifty Year Old Records Broken

Both University crews have completed their training and reported to be in the fine fettle and in the best of preparation for tomorrow's race on the Putney to Marble Cove course of some 4 1/2 miles.

The record time made in 1911 by Oxford, of 19 minutes, 20 seconds, is not likely to be broken, but both crews have made marked progress since coming to the city on a two weeks ago.

Whether the weather does take on anything like a hint of rain, is not likely to be a factor in the race, as the crews are in the best of preparation for any conditions.

During the last two days Cambridge and Oxford crews have been working hard on the Putney to Marble Cove course, and it is expected that they will be in the best of preparation for tomorrow's race.

General opinion is that the race will be a close one, and that the crews are in the best of preparation for any conditions.

PEACETIME CONSCRIPTION

Churchill Compliments the Government

KING OF GREECE DEAD

A KING TO RULE IN SPAIN AGAIN

Franco's New Constitution

THE greatest risk threatening the British Government is the result of some of its supporters over peacetime conscription and service conditions, according to some political quarters, is that a considerable number of its members may be absent when it meets in Parliament tonight there is a vote at the end of the National Service Bill debate.

The Minister of Defence, Mr. A. V. Alexander, is expected to reply for the Government today.

During yesterday's debate one Labour rebel described the Government's action as "tyrannous" who was Britain going to fight next? he asked. If we were going to fight Russia on a manpower basis, we were defeated before we started.

The Labour Members, who oppose the Bill, compare Peacetime, that he holds that Britain cannot maintain armed forces on the scale contemplated by the measure in the absence of industrial manpower and these will be the main reasons for the Government's foreign policy being restricted to conscription.

The Liberal Party, which supports the Bill, expressed the view that conscription is a necessary condition for the maintenance of the present level of armaments and that the Government's foreign policy is not restricted to conscription.

The Minister of Labour, Mr. George Lansbury, said that the reason for the Bill was that the regular components of the Army were seriously run down, and that the regular components of the Army were seriously run down.

The Government considered that the measure was necessary to ensure the safety of the country in the event of a sudden emergency.

Mr. Churchill, the Opposition leader, complimented the Government for its courage in taking the step of passing the Bill, but he said that he would support the Government's action.

To Retain Family Pride...

Suppose a family is living on £50 a month. Suddenly the income earner is removed from the scene. His estate provides only £20 a month. This necessitates a sudden drop—a dramatic change in the standard of living. How much easier it would be if it could be accomplished in easy steps—say to £30 the first year, £40 the second, £50 the third and then to the level at which they must carry on.

E.A.P. AND L. Co's SILVER JUBILEE

The March 10th, 1927, East African Standard contains the following notice:

The celebration of the jubilee of the late King George V, which will be held in London on the 22nd of May, 1927, has been celebrated in the East African Standard by the publication of a special issue on the occasion of the late King's death. This issue, which was published on the 10th of March, 1927, contained a special feature on the late King's life and reign, and was a fitting tribute to the memory of the late monarch.

The East African Standard is proud to have been able to contribute to the celebration of the late King's Silver Jubilee, and is sure that the special issue will be valued by all who read it.

NAKURU MUNICIPAL BOARD Eager To Aid Britain

The NAKURU MUNICIPAL BOARD is eager to aid Britain in the celebration of the late King George V's Silver Jubilee. The board has decided to hold a special meeting on the 10th of March, 1927, to discuss the possibility of holding a similar celebration in Nakuru.

The board has also decided to purchase a special issue of the East African Standard on the occasion of the late King's death, and to distribute it to all the members of the board.

Her RHEUMATISM Gradually Went Away

After suffering for several years from rheumatism, Mrs. J. M. Smith writes: "I was unable to walk, and my joints were so stiff that I could not move. I tried many remedies, but nothing helped. Then I read of Assanand & Sons' Rheumatism Remedy, and I bought a bottle. I took it as directed, and in a few days I was able to walk again. In a few more days I was able to do all my usual work. I am now completely cured, and I can thank Assanand & Sons for what they have done for me."

Round the bend

Taking corners at speed was a matter of tyres, a strain on the chassis, and a danger to life and limb even in 1928. Nowadays, of course, the crime is an impossible one—your car is probably not quite so young as she was, and chassis and struts might easily break something you can't replace. Tyres today are not just pre-war quality and to roar round the bend at forty comes a hideous distortion which is liable to tear off the rubber and weaken the walls to the extent of putting your tyres beyond the aid of "Tyrostat." Taking corners at speed is sheer madness, so change round, round the bend safely and allow pedestrians and your tyres to live to a ripe old age.
