AFRICA TO PLAN INDUSTRY

Kenya will be one of three 'exclusives' to be developed under the Kampala Agreement, which was published yesterday. The Governments are to set up a technical experts to examine and advise on the development and distribution of industry in East Africa.

The Kampala Agreement was originally drafted in 1962 at an emergency meeting of Prime Ministers at a time when it was feared that the possibility of a general strike would be a result of problems caused by the development in the three countries. In the last few months many further meetings have taken place and the original agreement was approved at a meeting in Kampala last week at which the agreement should be made the basis of working in the next few months.

POWER FOR ROLE OF KENYA

U.K. Foreign Secretary resigns

First work on Tana River scheme begins

At least 30 miles long and at places eight miles across in the Central and Eastern Region will be flooded by the Tana River to supply electricity to all of Kenya, in a project on which preliminary work is beginning. The first detailed description of the project was given to the East African Standard in Nairobi yesterday.

It will be some years before the people affected in the Tana basin will have to move, and game animals are not expected to be moved, and game reserves will be protected from Karibu in Rhodesia. Development of the new lake will be slow enough to enable animals to move clear.

Initial development will commence on the first stage of the Seven Forks Hydro Electric Development at Kindarua, in six weeks' time, with construction of a 10-mile access road will be put out in contract in a fortnight. The main engineering work is expected to begin about July.

Some 1000 men will come under water in the next year, by which time progress should have been made on the second and more major stage of the scheme, which will power what will be known as the Nairobi Station.

Further station later

The Kindarua Power Station, costing more than £5,000,000, including transmission, will be on the Tana River three miles downstream from the Seven Forks Rapids, and the Reserve Power Station will be three miles further in the distance with the River Thiba. Further in the distance will be the second station, which will be demanded in the country — the Olaria Power Station will be built, mainly underground, at a depth of some 200 feet, two miles west of the Seven Forks Rapids.

Need a truck that's built for hard work in close quarters?

CHOOSE THE SHORT-WHEELBASE FORWARD CONTROL TIPPER TRUCK.

You can get a 6 cubic yard tipper on a 9 ft. wheelbase which measures 15 1/2 ft. overall and a 3 1/2 ft. turning circle for easy maneuverability in working spaces.

You can buy it with a 108 h.p. 6-cylinder diesel engine (maximum torque 223 lb. ft. at 1500 r.p.m.), a heavy-duty 9 1/2 ton rear axle, and—if you wish—a five-speed synchromesh gearbox.

You can carry maximum loads with maximum safety in a truck with air-hydraulic brakes.

Air-hydraulic brakes are now an optional extra on all 6-cylinder Ford trucks.

Air-hydraulics respond much faster than vacuum-type systems and will stop the truck with up to 55% less pedal pressure—over the same stopping distance. This can driver fatigue—means that heavy payloads can be carried with maximum safety.

Ford Buses and Estate Cars give you the room you need . . . and the economy you want — the low-cost answer to your transportation problems.

Inside there's room for 10 people—and their luggage. No one is ever crowded. Seats are wide and comfortable. Wide-opening side and rear doors make getting in and out easy. And they're built to take the roughest handling problems.

Level 4-cylinder engines are engineered for years of carefree driving . . . and unmatchable economy.

Whatever kind of work you have to do, in close quarters or on the long open road, whether hauling payload or people, there's a Ford "made for the job." Don't take our word for it, ask the man who knows, the man behind the wheel.

COAST HAS GREAT MEAT POTENTIAL

There have been several attempts to return the coast to the British by a Yugoslav mission. The Yugoslav mission, which was headed by the Yugoslav Minister of Agriculture, Dr. J. Stambolic, and Dr. M. J. Stambolic, visited the coast in 1948 and 1949. They found that the coast was rich in meat potential and that it was possible to develop a large-scale meat industry there.

The Coast had a total of 1,000,000 head of cattle and sheep in 1948. This was a record for the coast and it was due to the fact that the coast was rich in meat potential and that it was possible to develop a large-scale meat industry there.

Looking for something different? Try another sea. Israel offers a wide selection: Galilee, the Red one and the Dead one. They're quiet accessible now. All you have to do is take an El Al flight (you will find it's a Boeing 720, the Jet Jet) any Thursday night from Nairobi, and you will be in Israel on Friday morning. On Galilee, you can swim, sail, and water-ski. On the Red one, you can swim, sail, and water-ski. On the Dead one, you can swim, sail, and water-ski. But you'll probably spend some of your time by the Red Sea at the popular winter resort of Eilat. Ever since the Queen of Sheba stopped there on her way to visit King Solomon, Eilat's perfect climate and beaches have attracted beautiful women from distant lands. There's also a marine museum, and glass-bottomed boats, if you prefer that sort of thing. Of course, after you've tried them all, you just might decide that there's no sea quite like the Mediterranean. It's all right. We've had that one, too. Why not have a word with your travel agent about this.

Words which inspired wartime Britain

Sir Winston Churchill — the man whose lips had had his last education — used his great gift of eloquence to win some of the most enduring phrases of the Second World War. Many came at a time when Britain was alone, and they inspired the country to fight on.

He said, "I shall not flag or fail. I shall fight on the beaches, I shall fight on the landing grounds, I shall fight in the fields and in the streets, I shall fight in the hills; I shall never surrender." These words were spoken at the House of Commons on June 4, 1940.

"There is only one way to victory — and that is victory." This phrase was repeated by Churchill in the House of Commons on June 18, 1940.

said the maharajah: "All my friends will rejoice me if I allow a secret joy to flow into my heart. Because you are as it is now 15 years since my country became a republic. This was our blessed hour of jubilation when at last we became free. My East African friends in particular are understood if I feel joyful at the thought of this momentary. For their own cause, and especially because we are still so fresh as mountain dew in their ridges."

Permit me to express my sincere congratulations and my greetings on this occasion to the land of my birth. India!

Kenya's planned target for jobs criticised

Kenya's five-year development plan's target of providing 100,000 new jobs in 1970 was criticised as unrealistic by the Four-Nations Labour Conference held at Lancaster House last weekend.

The conference resolved that urgent consideration should be given to the target in view of the current high rate of unemployment and the number of young people leaving school each year. Its purpose was to consider aspects of the plan.

The conference was aware that any proposal for a more rapid rate of growth and a larger expansion of employment opportunities would go in hand with proposals for ways of raising extra funds for investment in development, a communiqué issued yesterday stated.

COMPULSORY SAVINGS IDEA

It was agreed that the suggestion should be put forward and savings, the purpose of which should be to examine ways in which the taxation structure could be altered to provide a more equitable and more efficient financial system. The conference also considered the possibility of providing a tax structure for the Malindi Development Commission which is now proposed should revise the Constitution, and of the level of both voluntary and compulsory savings and taxation which Kenya should aim to achieve in the future. It was felt that considerable consideration should be given to the possibility of introducing a compulsory savings scheme for the general public.

M.P.s MEET TO DISCUSS EXPANSION

DYNAMIC action was needed to improve life in the villages and break the cycle of poverty. This was the message of the Chief Regional Assembly meeting in Nairobi yesterday.

The main aim is to work together in the spirit of partnership to solve the problems of the rural areas. It is hoped that the meeting will lead to a more equitable distribution of income and a more rapid rate of growth.

Four points

We must ask the Government to speed up the process of industrialisation and to provide a more equitable distribution of income. We must also ask the Government to provide a more rapid rate of growth and to provide a more equitable distribution of income.

BARRINGTON JUSTICES 100 England 297-4 in fourth Test match

THANKS to an adventurous innings by Barrington, England finished the fourth Test match at Johannesburg only 21 runs behind South Africa, with an unbeaten 100 for the South African batsman in a 54-minute, England 297-4.

Cricket for the South Africans, declared his first innings closed at Saturday's end of 300 at the start of the day and it seemed that his decision was justified when Barrington was caught by Barber. The batsman was out for 100, but Barber and Dwyer put on 71 runs for the second wicket before Goddard had Dwyer caught behind. The wicket by Waite for St. John's was the only one which the score was in a position to catch before noon.

African coffee quota plan

COFFEE - PRODUCERS in African countries have approved a Brazilian plan for a quota system to be introduced in 1965 which would allow export quantities to be limited according to a quota system for each country to be introduced in 1965. The plan was approved at a meeting in London yesterday.

The plan is based on the principle that the total amount of coffee available in the world should be divided into a certain number of units which would be allocated to each country according to its production. This would mean that countries which produced more coffee would be allowed to export more coffee than those which produced less.

mini project to be financed joint venture

Standard Staff Reporter
Mwene-Tobeko
The Government and the tenants on the Nwena-Tobeko settlement scheme yesterday said a large-scale scheme to be financed by a joint venture which today amounted to 70 per cent of Kenya's total consumption.

The President made the announcement at a public meeting on the settlement scheme, which he had earlier toured accompanied by most of his Ministers and Assistant Ministers, as well as several Members of Parliament and senior civil servants.

The President said the meeting that he together with his Ministers "were very much impressed with what they had seen after touring the scheme."

"All that has been achieved on this settlement has been through co-operation, good management and hard work," he said. "Without discipline and strict observance to the rules you could not have achieved what you have today."

'WEALTH ONLY THROUGH HARD WORK'

The scheme was a good lesson to people in other areas to be attained through hard work which would cost only a few shillings.

"We will have Mwene-Tobeko to be an example to other of our own hands. Mwene-Tobeko was many years ago a plain area, a granary, not only for these people here but for the whole of Kenya."

The President stressed the importance of hard work and said that the scheme had shown that it was possible to have a granary, not only for these people here but for the whole of Kenya.

PRISON FOR CHIEF ON CAR DRINK CHARGE

The Chief of Kiambu Township, Peter Rotich, was sentenced to three months in prison by a Nairobi magistrate, Mr. Kenneth Souta, on four months' default in paying a fine of KSh 200 for a motor vehicle accident. The magistrate also ordered Rotich to pay KSh 200 for the cost of driving under the influence of alcohol.

Rotich was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and with driving without a valid licence. He was found guilty on both counts.

AN INTRODUCTION TO THE SPORT OF KINGS

BY OUR RACING CORRESPONDENT

With the first of a series of articles intended for those readers who seldom go to the races, we thought it best to show them how it is done. We shall start with the horse race.

The horse race is a sport which has been followed since the beginning of time, and it is one of the most popular of all sports.

HELPING HAND FOR TORTOISES

Sea turtles from the Duke of Gloucester Trust, Hawaii, did their good deed yesterday by digging a new pond in the hidden pit of the Hawaii Islands Park, beside the National Museum. The seven-seventeen several chickens of hatched eggs, some of which were hatched and there and then, producing several healthy-looking youngsters. Others were put in boxes of straw to incubate. "Operation Nest" started when a conservationist visited the reserve at Ahu, if there was any work to report there. Mr. Jones is planning to expand the reserve pit to include terrapin and Nile monitor and requested money for a boat. Left: Two of the young specimens in the pond.

Looking for something different?

Try another sea.

Israel offers a wide selection of Galilee, the Red Sea and the Dead Sea. Try them all.

They're quite accessible now. All you have to do is to take an El Al flight (you will find it's a Boeing 720B, the Fan Jet) any Thursday night from Nairobi, and you will be in Israel on Friday morning.

On Galilee, you can swim, sail, and water-ski. Or, if you like to take your water lying down, go and recline on the Dead Sea (which is so buoyant that even a stone finds it difficult to sink like a stone).

But you'll probably spend some of your time by the Red Sea at the popular winter resort of Eilat.

Ever since the Queen of Sheba stopped there on her way to visit King Solomon, Eilat's perfect climate and beaches have attracted beautiful women from distant lands. There's also a marine museum, and glass-bottomed boats, if you prefer that sort of thing.

Of course, after you've tried them all, you just might decide that there's no sea quite like the Mediterranean. It's all right. We have that, too. Why not have a word with your travel agent about this?

Pakistani batsmen are pinned down

PAKISTAN, pinned down by accurate bowling, lost eight wickets for 81 runs on the opening day of the second cricket Test against New Zealand at Eden Park, Auckland. For the first time in many years, New Zealand used seven bowlers in a Test match. All bowled steadily with the result that the Pakistani batsmen generally could score only off loose deliveries.

Need a truck that's built for hard work in close quarters?

CHOOSE THE SHORT-WHAIRBIE FORWARD CONTROL TIPPER TRUCK.

You can get a 4 cubic yard tipper on a 7 1/2, wheelbase which measures 154 1/2 overall and has a 35 1/2 turning circle for easy maneuverability in confined spaces.

You can buy it with a 108 h.p. 4-cylinder diesel engine (maximum torque 233 lb.-ft. at 1500 r.p.m.) a heavy duty 91 ton rear axle, and—if you wish—a five-speed synchromesh gearbox.

You can carry maximum loads with maximum safety in a truck with air-hydraulic brakes.

Air-hydraulic brakes are now an optional extra on all 4-cylinder Ford trucks.

Air-hydraulic respond much faster than vacuum-type systems and will stop the truck with up to 55% less pedal pressure—even the same stopping distance. This cuts driver fatigue—means that heavy payloads can be carried with maximum safety.

Ford Buses and Estate Cars give you the room you need . . . and the economy you want — the low-cost answer to your transportation problems.

Inside there's a room for 10 people—and their luggage. No one is ever crowded. Seats are wide and comfortable. Wide-opening side and rear doors make getting in and out easy. And they're built to take the toughest hauling problems.

Lively 4-cylinder engines are engineered for years of carefree driving . . . and unmatched economy.

Slim Sweetener

WITH SWEETEX

Whatever kind of work you have to do, in close quarters or on the long open road, whether hauling payload or people, there's a Ford "made for the job." Don't take our word for it, ask the man who knows, the man behind the wheel.

NEW BUSES FOR DAR SOON

Member Staff Reporter, Dar es Salaam

As a Darwin conference in East Africa, the United Transport Co. is expected to spend £70,000 on new vehicles. Mr. C. David-Walker, the managing director of United Transport Overseas Ltd. and a director of D.M.T. when he visited the capital Mr. Bruce-Walker said that there had been recent talks with the Government about a programme which would be a part of an improvement of the road traffic system. The new passenger vehicle had been made more reliable and more comfortable than any other available in East Africa. The delay in delivery was due to the difficulty in procuring the required spare parts. The passenger vehicles, which are being built by Leyland in Great Britain, are expected to arrive in the next few months.

As a result of the recent publicity given by local newspapers, a substantial price rise in Kenya National Savings stamps, I have received enquiries from many people suggesting that the authorities should also buy Kenya National Savings stamps. It is suggested that the Government should consider buying a large quantity of these stamps, in order to bring the price of these stamps down to the level of the other Government securities. The Government should also consider buying a large quantity of these stamps, in order to bring the price of these stamps down to the level of the other Government securities. AFRICAN GOODS VANISH BY HEADLINE

British African goods have disappeared from the shelves of many shops in Kenya. The disappearance is being blamed on the Government's ban on the sale of African goods.

Other oil companies operating in Kenya have been told of the Shell action. They were urged to say whether they would be following suit, though some indications are that they will not. It is understood the company is not changing the price of its products in Uganda at present. It was reported last night that no announcement had been made in Uganda.

The statement by Kenya Shell Ltd. and B.P. Kenya Ltd. made it clear that the increases were caused mainly because petroleum oil dropped to a new level, though higher freight charges were also a factor in the upcountry prices.

HEAVY COST INCREASES

A spokesman explained that though the overall volume of sales of petrol products had increased in recent years, there had been increases in sales of automotive fuels, which are the most profitable. Against this, there had been heavy increases in costs, and these had not been passed on to the customer previously.

TRIBUTE TO KEENYA 'MIRACLE'

Commons praise for President's success

Standard Staff Reporter London. Mr. Duncan Sandys, the former British Commonwealth Secretary, yesterday described the voluntary merger of Kenya and her partner in the coming together of divided tribal groups under the leadership of a "little short of a miracle".

The tribute was echoed by the present Minister of State for Commonwealth Relations, Mr. Clewlyn Houghton, who praised Kenya's "remarkable and most laudable progress under the leadership of a remarkable President".

The tributes were paid during a House of Commons debate on the Second Reading of the Kenya Republic Bill, a technical measure converting Kenya's new republican status as it affects British interests.

Mr. Sandys recalled that the independence conference had been conducted with two apparently irreconcilable groups, with both Kama and Kado making threats if their views did not prevail.

'Strength of one man'

A regional compromise had enabled the country to achieve independence with a degree of unity but within a year a one-party State had been achieved "not by suppressing the Opposition but by winning them over".

In disposing with the more cumbersome "constitution" of the original Constitution, as well as the "rights and human rights" had been preserved. All that remarkable achievement of one man who had made much of all this tributes they found part of the Kenya Republic Bill.

The debate had earlier been called by an intervention by the Prime Minister, Mr. Clement Attlee, who expressed his admiration for the Kenya Republic Bill, which had been passed by the House of Commons on the previous day.

Mr. Attlee said that the Bill was a "great achievement" and that it was "a tribute to the strength of one man".

Does it make any difference what brand of tire you buy?

IT DOES when one maker has never compromised with its high standards of quality since the company was founded in 1900.
IT DOES when one maker spends millions of dollars for research and development to make his product better. New Super-R-Tw' rubber is the latest development.
IT DOES when the quality of the tire has earned a world-wide reputation for dependability and service.
 Firestone research and development engineers have formulated a new synthetic rubber, Super-R-Tw', which provides from 2,000 to 10,000 extra miles per tire — and all at extra cost. Super-Strength cords provide a super-strong, extra-wide cord body. Firestone's Super-Wall construction holds the tire tread firm to the cord body providing extra safety.
 Firestone tires manufactured in every Firestone plant around the world include Super-R-Tw' rubber to give you extra mileage and extra safety wherever you drive. We have Firestone tires with Super-R-Tw' rubber in 28 year and year driving requirements. Come in and see our display for a new set of Firestone tires.

DOCKERS STRIKE GOES ON

U.S. dockers remained on strike along the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico coast yesterday despite an appeal by President Johnson that work resume in ports where contracts have been signed with shipowners.

Contract talks took place in Philadelphia between the International Dockworkers Union and the American Dock Owners Association. The union rejected the offer.

The strike has caused a shortage of shipping capacity and has led to a rise in freight rates. The American Dock Owners Association has offered a 10 per cent wage increase and a 5 per cent cost-of-living allowance.

for the little ones you love PLAIN FRUIT JUICE IS NOT ENOUGH

As every mother and father, there are certain food supplements that all babies must have to help them prosper and healthy. Many do not realize, however, that the Vitamin C they supply to their babies is not enough by itself. Every baby must also have Vitamin A for growth and good eyesight, Vitamin D for strong bones and teeth. Doctors are alarmed about the number of babies who are getting only Vitamin C supplements, and there have even been reports in the medical press of cases of rickets - a bone disease caused by lack of Vitamin D.

You can't afford to risk the health of the little ones you love. Make sure they have Haliborange every day. Haliborange gives babies all three vital vitamins A, D, and C - it tastes sweeter than ordinary orange juice, and babies and young children simply love it!

The first water restriction - Keays, Mohr, Culley and Tatal - announced that the Shell refineries would be closed for six to eight months. Although Mohr stated that the price of Kerosene at Montreal would be a very slight increase, the refineries there would only be closed for a few days.

He also added: "These prices are necessary to cover our significant expenses. We have not had an increase in our selling prices for five years. Although we have had some increase in our operating expenses, such prices have been due to higher taxes, duties and railway charges."

A total agreement on the new prices was not reached. He said that apart from the oil companies, the Canadian government has a large part in getting water. The government is trying to get a 10-cent increase in the price of water.

But African sources commented, they wanted to know "where do we go from here?"

It was impressed on Mr. Wilson and on the Commonwealth Secretary, Mr. Arthur Bellamy, that while the African States would appreciate British leadership, some do not risk another Congo and a Rhodesian Government in exile would present difficulties for Tanzania.

President inaugurates new firm today

MARKETS QUIET AS BUYERS PLAY WAITING GAME

LONDON (Associated Press)—The new firm inaugurated today by the Government is the result of a long and hard-fought battle between the Treasury and the Ministry of Finance.

The Government has announced that it will set up a new firm to handle the sale of the assets of the Ministry of Finance. The firm will be a joint venture between the Treasury and the Ministry of Finance.

The Treasury has been pushing for the sale of the assets of the Ministry of Finance for some time. It has argued that the sale would allow the Government to raise money to finance its operations.

The Ministry of Finance has been reluctant to sell the assets. It has argued that the sale would result in a loss of control over the assets and that it would be difficult to find a buyer for the assets.

The new firm will be responsible for the sale of the assets. It will be a joint venture between the Treasury and the Ministry of Finance. The Treasury will own 51 percent of the firm and the Ministry of Finance will own 49 percent.

The firm will be set up in the form of a public limited company. It will be listed on the London Stock Exchange.
