STUDYING SQUATTERS - IN NAIROBI!

Kenya Committee Sits Only Two Days.

The Government's committee appointed to review the workings of the Resident Native Labourers Ordinance of 1925 has adjourned until October 3, at 10.30 a.m. The committee will be held on Monday and Tuesday at the office of the Chief Native Commissioner in Nairobi, under the chairmanship of the Attorney General. A number of memoranda were submitted, and these have been considered. The decision to adjourn was made to enable members of the committee to peruse the various memoranda, for they have to report their amendments to the Ordinance. At the October sitting it is probable that they will be able to concentrate on the form those amendments should take, so that the final report may be ready for presentation of the drafts for final consideration. It is understood that the Committee has not even discussed the question of visiting districts of the Colony where the squatter system is in force. The changes are likely to refer mainly to improvements in the law. The system itself will carry on undisturbed. WHAT IS EAST AFRICA DOING ABOUT THE SOY BEAN?

A Genuine Chinese Antique.

RAW MATERIAL FOR FACTORY AND FOOD SUPPLY.

East Africa should take an interest in that genuine Chinese antique—the Soy Bean.

Here are some of the uses of the vegetable—

- Oil for soap making. Oil for varnish and paint. Food for human consumption. Substitute for meat, eggs, and milk.

The Kenya Department of Agriculture has issued the following extract from an article entitled "The Soy Bean Industry in the United States."

An American View.

Although a few years ago the soybean was considered a curiosity, it is now being grown in large quantities in the United States. It is a valuable source of oil and protein...

Oil Milling.

The oilseed of the soybean is the most important oil produced in this country as long as its price is in a comparable range with competing oils.

For Food.

The average Chinese lives on but few cents a day. This is not a myth, for it is merely a sign of abject poverty. It is a simple statement of an economic abjectness of which China may not be proud.

Fall of Protein.

It was mentioned that the soybean contains, besides 20 per cent of oil, about 40 per cent of protein. This protein has been found by leading American and European authorities to be a complete protein. It is rich in lysine and methionine...

HEALTH AND HIGH FLIGHTS.

Result of Experiments by Doctors.

NO ILL EFFECT.

The doctors made special experiments to test the matter, both using experts in the theory of aviation. At Severn, himself a student of aviation, concluded: "We all want the benefit of aviation through the spheres. It is now clear that we have to wait much longer than we expected for the period to arrive which will enable us to navigate the stratosphere. It is not so much a matter of the flying as of the landing... the ability to descend properly... may be attained sooner. There is no doubt that the work of several contrivers which can save thousands of feet into the air is less than 20 miles... This is the consequence of the gradual improvement in the steady approach to perfection of compressors and of technical appliances to these under various names and of the increasing efficiency of pilots... The Pilot... But the pilot himself? In case of necessity with a supply of oxygen this could not be a man could live for a long time without it. The difficulty is presented by the problem of ascent and descent... Tests of the stratosphere... suffering flights at high altitudes... as far as medical air and air pressure are concerned... doctors tarsand and Strohl... They made experiments upon... Here is what the doctors infer... At present occasional specks of flying machines are not sufficient to cause either pilot or passenger any important complaint... Certain difficulties have occurred... They were due to fatigue or really present or to some trouble or one defect existing before hand... Miss Ethel Mauder... first woman stockholder, has been... of a ride of the Bradford Stock Exchange... other stock exchanges throughout the country... bearing witness... satisfied her own business as an individual broker...

Kenya Political Outlook.

LEADERSHIP NEEDED. To the Editor, "E.A. Standard." Sir—As may be commonly observed by the interested public, our political leaders and speakers are like a river in spate—spreading out in all directions, derived from a common current of thought but seemingly covering too much ground collectively to achieve any useful channel or to accomplish any definite end.

I have frequently remarked, during Lord Delamere's lifetime and since, that our past lamented leader was Kenya's one and only statesman; and I could not agree with this high estimate, though most letters today have come to recognize it. In fact, many of our contemporary leaders are like a river in spate—spreading out in all directions, derived from a common current of thought but seemingly covering too much ground collectively to achieve any useful channel or to accomplish any definite end.

Several of our present popular representatives are in real earnest and are struggling hard against the many diverse currents, but it does seem to me, Sir, as more leaders, that the main direct in their views have not the qualities to lead and others who have the quality to lead are not considering among scholars.

There is a minor schism among us who would go so far as to call the civilly common goal of local self-government. Even such an otherwise bold speaker as Mr. O'Shea, seems to be more preoccupied as to what the Colonial Office may be likely to grant than strong on what the European community of settlers and colonists are determined to have. No British Colony yet has got what it wanted by the consistent pressure in the one main direction that their aims have been accomplished. Revolutions and rebellions are not the British way, but pure dogmatism in insisting that which they consider essential for their welfare.

Here the chief obstacle against political progress and self-control in local affairs is not the split in opinion, but lack of determined leadership. We want a spear head to utilize the pressure which is behind common public opinion to have things bettered along the lines of more popular control. This point of attack to achieve its purpose must attract all strings of opinion embracing the main purpose, ignoring, say threads which have neither point nor value. Lord Delamere's leadership was unchallenged despite all his critics because with all his inconsistencies he was consistent in his purpose, and he followed his line. Like Cecil Rhodes he knew what he wanted. He did not waver in what he wanted, and influences were disposed to give; it was what he wanted.

Yours truly, A. DAVIS. Nairobi, September 14, 1933.

THE COFFEE CONFERENCE.

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard." Sir—Let us hope the "Planter's Conference" will not go the way of many other similar conferences, the purpose of which is to discuss and then discuss without having reached the facts and to get over the old difficulties that beset the coffee industry.

Our delegates must pull the other end of Government out from the sand and put their eyes to the green meadows. Merely to bring financial assistance to the mind of many planters, just bolting up the situation and to not a definite cure. The coffee industry which has done so much in the past to enrich the country, will soon peter out through something to do to make the equivalent of downward-spiral prices. We must either alter our short and hazy views.

The general consensus is said to have been reached in the meeting of the new methods of regulating coffee export increase through better management of a number of coffee plantations. The London Conference of 1930, by a recent "Times" article, had pronounced that the situation had been improved by the introduction of a "quota" system, and that was what was so and three years ago, and it has been doing so well since then.

Yours truly, "CARPUS PLANTER." Nairobi, September 14, 1933. [The Conference has been postponed indefinitely owing to the illness of the Chairman of the Coffee Board but in the interval the office of planters on the table of the Conference will be welcomed—Ed. E.A.S.]

NEW ETON MASTERS.

Two Appointments Announced. [STANDARD] CORRESPONDENT. London, Sept. 4. Mr. Charles H. Hartley, new Headmaster of Eton, announced the following appointments to fill two of the vacant places in the House of the "House"—the "Houses"—has not yet been filled. The appointments of the new Housemaster are: Mr. Hartley will remain in their present quarters during the coming term. Both Mr. Hartley and Mr. Hartley have been Assistant Masters at Eton for some time.

THE CHURCH AND SOCIAL PROBLEMS.

Birth Control and Sterilisation. ExPELLED DOCTORS FROM GERMANY. Zionist and Medical Journals at Issue.

REASON VS. SENTIMENT.

[STANDARD] CORRESPONDENT. London, August 20. (By Mr. Mall.) Social problems are attracting a great deal of public attention in Great Britain and there is evidence of broadening thought and feeling with respect to, especially, Church circles.

For example, "Should an important person whose marriage has been broken up be given a second marriage of marriage license to the Church? The Church of England and the Church of Scotland have both refused to give a license to a second marriage. Modern "hardness" at a conference at Cambridge, a few days ago.

The general consensus is said to have been reached in the meeting of the new methods of regulating coffee export increase through better management of a number of coffee plantations.

The "Medical Journal" gives the practical common sense issues are not fully comprehended by the temporary, or by other papers that have discussed the matter from a "sentimental point of view."

Need for Progress.

The Church's efforts to be continued, but various methods to secure an extension of the admitted grounds for divorce, and particularly in the case of the soldier's wife, was not consistent with reason or morality to deny that the marriage relationship might be shattered quite as irrevocably by the parties for example.

"Another illustration of the need of a progressive attitude is the question of the emergence of the problem raised in our correspondence, one knowledge of the laws of heredity.

"Here knowledge and power, with knowledge will cause a great deal of work in the prevention of heredity which are direct action, to be taken, and it is necessary to secure the best of the practice of offspring to run the quality of succeeding generations.

The one obstacle to the progress of the present position of heredity which are direct action, to be taken, and it is necessary to secure the best of the practice of offspring to run the quality of succeeding generations.

BRITISH LEGION FETE TRIUMPH

ing, and a good trade must have been done in the sale of Legion every tickets, fish ponds, an Aladdin's cave that delighted the youngsters, a scenic railway, and an aerodrome, well made aeroplane which took its flights along a steel wire which met door were the attractions.

The Serious Side.

On the more serious side of the Fete was the stall selling articles made by disabled soldiers and sailors, which appeared to do well, the cakes, and sweet produce and flowers, white elephant stall, ice cream.

A weakness of these functions is the commissariat department as a rule, but this Fete broke all records in the excellent tea supplied for one shilling. What more, it was made and served by a noble band of very charming young ladies, thereby ensuring good appetite among the customers. The hot dog stand met out attractive odours. In this department one can, of course, include the cocktail bar—a Cafe de Beaux Arts—and the bar, this latter just plain bar, but the trade of both must have suffered by the drinks given by the British to winners of lucky numbers, that is until it closed down, when the fair hordes came into their own.

There was potter music and fresh music throughout the afternoon—but no dancing for the public. Earlier on, there had been maypole and country dancing by pupils of a Nairobi school and exhibition dancing by a young lady. But it would have wound up the jollities of the day had there been a dance on the greenward after dinner, say.

However, one cannot have everything in this world. But the British Legion stalwarts did their best to supply as much as they could, and their effort certainly helped to take the edge of the existing depression.

For which much thanks from the public, who will hope that these combined contributions will have enabled a larger sum to be raised for the organisation than was the case last year. At that £500 takes a lot of beating, but so far as could be seen everyone was doing his and her bit with will.

THE "AGRICULTURAL INQUIRY"

each factor, was expressed, so that a mishap called the economic survey had turned into a pessimistic one. This consisted of a personal survey by an investigator who visited a considerable number of farms arranged with a questionnaire which he filled up by conversation with the farmer, and the larger number of returns obtained gave a more fully informed picture than the summary method, could. The method had been fairly thoroughly tested and had been found to work well in practice, provided that the basic requirement of a large number of observations was fulfilled and provided that the questionnaire used was properly designed.

This method was the only one which financial services, adopted in this Colony. Surveys on coffee and dairying had been conducted up to date. The Imperial Economic Commission recommended that the organisation of land production should be investigated by the same method, and it was hoped that it would be possible to carry out this recommendation. Also, as time went on, it may, not the general for such major industry, keep touch with developments and call for as possible, assist each to develop along the lines which seemed best.

Impersonal Data.

In actual practice, of course, the figures are immediately established with other, established bases and low their personal observations, but the method is impersonal data as much as findings of soil analysis or yields of milk. As the work develops farmers become interested to know how their results compare with others in various portions. The reasons are considered and for the improvement of new farms.

An agricultural economist deals mainly in statistics, but he is not interested in statistics per se. His work may be said to begin where the most detailed plan leaves off. He is concerned with the utilization of the statistics, these interpretations of the masses which may be drawn from them. For this very reason, of course, he must know how statistics are gathered and this means by which they are assembled. He must be able to judge whether particular statistical results are significant. He must be able to analyse price statistics into their component parts of long-time and short-time fluctuations and seasonal variations within the year, or his conclusions will often be entirely wrong. Statistics of production and consumption must be interpreted in the same way, or the movements in the market will be completely misunderstood. Whereas figures should follow the long-time trend, they should generally speaking go against short period fluctuations.

"The Agricultural Economist" is a journal which is appearing also in the political world, since it is expressing an increasing interest in the political world, which will be seen from my remarks that the field of agricultural economics is a wide one. A great deal of the work, perhaps the most immediately useful part to farmers, can only be done with the help of an inventive genius and foreknowledge on their part when asked hard questions. With this in mind, I suggested the "Agricultural Inquiry" as the title of my address. Capt. R. Allen, thanking Mr. Lawrence for his address, said, "The work of the economist, intelligently applied, could play a part in the solution of many farming problems and he was glad that Government had provided at least one agricultural economist."

The Squatter System.

Should it be abolished? To the Editor, "E.A. Standard," Sir,—I enclose, for publication, a copy of the memorandum I have submitted to the Chairman of the Committee appointed by the Government of Kenya to consider the proposals in the Resident Native Landholders Ordinance.

Yours etc. JOHN BOYER, Nairobi, September 16, 1932.

Sir,—I hereby beg to submit this memorandum to the Commission on Native Squatters. In my memorandum to the Commission I have endeavored to give you in my opinion the whole of the Native Administration should be seen into and altered especially, as respects squatters and I shall hold this opinion for the following reasons:—The Commission will be in time the leading industry in the country. It is the largest and heartiest to carry on this industry under the present squatter laws, for the following reasons:—The Agricultural Census, 1928, states that the number of squatters on European farm holdings are as follows: Whites 30,393, Womas 38,383, Children 50,124. Total, 118,900. Cattle 300,604, Sheep 150,961, Goats 200,949 and this does not include the squatters and stock living in the forest reserves which must be two figures for the Agricultural Department to find out. And on the top of all this we have the Small Squatter with his stock in every township in the Colony, and in all of Africa's reserves have small squatters of our own Native, to avoid paying taxes to the African Administration.

European owned stock: Cattle 320,110, Sheep 159,500, Goats 208,500. Total 688,110. Under these conditions it is very reasonable how the European farmers would be to carry on the most astonishing how he has kept his cattle alive. It would be very interesting to know the death rate through along by the (then) Government of stocks. I myself have lost thousands, principally brought about by native stock abating the grazing grounds of the whole of Kenya Colony in methods of a single Kaffir farm.

It would also be very interesting to know the loss of the Colony is not to be unusual alone. It is not getting on par with African who the white nation suffer from tsetse-borne, when a man is not considered normal if he has one tsetse-borne. It is all a farce, no need to go into details.

KARENBERG OBSCURER CORRIDOR.

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard," Sir,—I am desirous to bring to the following expert opinions given by old miners and scientists might be of some value. There is no difference between gold lodes, vein, and strata in the depth, you merely rely on the amount of veins with depth. Yet the lodes, veins, and strata are downwards. Not only this, but it is to follow any horizontal direction where they have been from the top. Washed, they are called "flats," moved down the slope slowly in thousands of years, a brownish, soft matter with layers of broken quartz and other rocks that might be slipped to big boulders, a brownish matter which you must look the flat, apparently the same but without broken pieces and with quartz veins. The latter has been moved and is much thicker than the floor, going down to as far as 120 feet. You can readily say from what kind of rock the washed matter is derived. It is of use to call it a porphyry.

ELDEROT HOSPITAL CHARGES.

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard," Sir.—Recent correspondence in the East African Standard has been published, resolution by the Kenya Hospital Association has been severely criticised as an attempt by the Eldoret Hospital to prevent the Government Hospital at Nairobi.

Yours etc. JOHN BOYER, Nairobi, September 16, 1932.

The Eldoret District now has a splendid hospital giving first-class service at charges that compare very favorably with those of any other in the country. That is not economically shown by the fact that last year's cost of maintenance, which has been used purely to reduce charges and partly to build up a small reserve on account of business lines.

It is most remarkable that the Government has given free medical advice. The cost of the operation is that the Doctor's salary in addition to the considerable sums he is to be paid by the taxpayer of whom there are many in the Eldoret District. These residents of the Eldoret District are also being compelled to assist in maintaining a hospital that the Eldoret Hospital, with consequent possibilities of reducing the charges still further.

Yours etc. J. H. SYMONS, Eldoret, Nov. 28, 1930.

A CURIOUS INCIDENT IN RECKENHAM.

transferred from Palace Road with grave after considerable difficulties owing to the absence of roads.

Opinion is England.

London, September 14. Revolver underarms that the Colonial Office has received Viscountess Bessie's report on Tabaekid and is considering his decision which will be announced in due course.

Memorable well-informed circles suggest that the real situation does not apply to the immediate history. It is believed that the position is that Tabaekid will be suspended from the chairmanship pending the Major's pleasure, with suspension to continue while the position is being considered by Government.

The line taken up in some quarters in England is that Tabaekid was selected by high royal authority, and that Tabaekid took up an attitude that was immune from the propaganda relating to the trials of Europeans, because he was the son of the late Chief Khama with whom there was real intimacy. This and other constitutional aspects are under investigation.

Press Comment.

“REDAK” correspondent writes: The Tabaekid case is being widely discussed. The “Daily Mail” says that it is being speaking the truth when it is said that had he been properly appointed to British authority by the British Government, he would not see, that the sentence upon Tabaekid was really unjust.

“The Times” is editorially silent but its Cape Town correspondent writes that opinion is in favour of Tabaekid, and the public is almost unanimous in thinking that Maitland should wherever he gets. “The Daily Mail” stresses that when living men have advanced upon him a moral responsibility for upholding the prestige of their country and institutions points out that the “Daily Herald” is completely pro-Tabaekid.

All agree with the Colonial Office further investigation is essential. “The Bannawgwa” is the principal paper in Reckensham, Tabaekid, is the report during the minority of Serote, the hereditary Chief Khama, was one of the most influential and progressive of African rulers and was a most loyal friend of the British in South Africa. He expected to be able for his territory to be placed under the protection of British law, to the satisfaction of Transvaal who ruled the territory, and was, temporarily, two months, Bechuanaland and Goshan.

DISTINCTION

Modern civilisation, it has been said, tends to suppress individuality—to cast all things in the same mould. Even now Britain seems the last stronghold of the desire to make the best, rather than the most. The characteristics which distinguish Castrol, for example, are developed more strongly, each day. It is stimulating to know that each day Britons prove more conclusively their regard for such distinction.

NAIROBI, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1953.

One of the World's Most Promising Goldfields.

WELL-KNOWN MINING JOURNAL'S VIEW OF KAKAMEGA

Courageous Policy Advised.

TIME DECLARED TO BE OPPORTUNE FOR FURTHER DEVELOPMENT.

The time has definitely arrived when a more optimistic view may be taken, for in our belief Kenya will yield results that will ultimately add to the world's stores of the precious metal.

There is a striking similarity from a special article in "The Mining World" giving a comprehensive survey of the Kakamega goldfield in the course of which competitive and hydrostatics are strongly advised to invest money in the industry in Kenya.

What is admitted that there's almost always a risk in mining, the financial states that in the case of the Kenya goldfield the prospects are far more decidedly encouraging.

It is the view of the writer of this article that the time is opportune for further development and he concludes: "Whether the gold will flow at depths still remains to be proved, but enough has been said to show that there are distinct possibilities that a new and extensive goldfield has been found in Kenya's Victoria."

A Comprehensive Survey.

The "Mining World" which is the leading journal of the world, has published a comprehensive survey of the Kakamega goldfield in the course of which competitive and hydrostatics are strongly advised to invest money in the industry in Kenya.

An Important Question.

"With the political conditions which have been prevailing in Kenya, it is not surprising that the mining industry has been suffering from a lack of investment and development."

AMAZING POSITION OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES INSPECTION.

Native Areas Never Visited.

DISTRICTS UNAWARE SUCH AN ORGANISATION EXISTS.

There is only one Inspector. It is a physical impossibility for him to visit all the scales in the country.

He is his own mechanic and his own clerk. When he goes on "vacation" or on leave, his office is shut.

No inspection has ever been carried out in the Native Reserves and under the present system no system can be arranged.

Last year the Inspector tested 15,700 weights and measuring appliances in his office and on tour, yet he could only deal mainly with the larger townships.

A Curious "Museum."

"Applicant" of Kakoni, an African complained in a letter to the East African Standard, how that when he brought his scales to an Indian dealer in the Harardini Bazaar, a fine weight was used instead of an five weights to represent half a pound while the scales were being weighed with some sticks substance. It was not until the dealer had found had not (hitherto) been detected.

"Applicant" should visit the office in Nairobi of the Inspector of Weights and Measures, for there he will find:

A measure with a false wooden bottom, by which the weights were being defrauded of their just dues.

A pair of scales with a Dumbbell and a weight.

A scale of a pair of scales with a weight and an another marked in 10.

A pair of scales with a weight and a weight of a metal pan.

Three weights filed with various Indian weights imported from Bombay.

He will likewise only find three scales if the office is open, for the scales have been packed up service by defauling shopkeepers.

STRONG FAITH IN FUTURE OF EAST AFRICA.

Big Firm Extending Its Local Interests.

PRINCIPALS VISIT.

Mr. A. Hamilton, managing director of Messrs. Milford and Co., Ltd., of London, a firm with large interests in Africa, as well as other parts of the world, on his first visit to East Africa. This is the first time since the fact that a business house, so many others, should send a representative to Africa to discuss the future of the continent. It is still more encouraging when that executive comes to East Africa with the possibilities of a country and which might increase expenditure and a development of the East African continent.

The welcome of the visit to Kenya by Mr. Hamilton is a sign of the confidence in the development of the East African continent, which the firm's interests are making. For example, when Mr. Hamilton and Mr. (East African Standard) visited the East African continent, the operations are to be extended to cover the larger growth of the goldfields, both present and future.

The firm's interests in East Africa are being extended to cover the larger growth of the goldfields, both present and future.

Weighted in the Balance.

The public are really being helped and slow to waken in Africa. The fact that the Government has been visited and the fact that the Government has been visited and the fact that the Government has been visited...

the case from Kinyondo and the report of Kinyondo certainly suggests that there are swamps to a high degree. Something must be done. To have the position as it would be utterly preposterous. The museum of dumb-bells and motor car parts is a grotesque commentary on the rank and file of the Colony. It is not to be considered a disgrace. There is only one way to get a serious clean-up throughout the country. Long before that time the Government would be as good as a corpse of swamps. The answer is that the same cannot be given to explain why one man has been asked to operate an Optimiser for five years. It is not, however, merely a question of cost, but of the fact that the man sending them to bust down the swamps must be qualified. Past experience has shown that special training is required of an Inspector of Weights and Measures can obtain the Board of Trade certificate. That means only to be allowed to work for another year or more. If Government is worried about expense, it might be suggested that the present receiver in fees would go a long way to financing a larger staff, at least for the first year. Or, if the Government might be placed more directly upon the shoulders of the traders, a complete list of all traders—no matter how small—might be made up. After all, Government possesses a complete list of all traders—no matter how small—might be made up. After all, Government possesses a complete list of all traders—no matter how small—might be made up.

"WHEN frying fish I always give it a coating of Bisto in place of egg and bread crumbs or flour. Just wash and dry your fillets of fish, place some Bisto on a plate and dip your fish in it. I now fry in the ordinary way, making sure your fat is boiling. You will find your fish turns a nice trouting brown, and what's more it tastes as good as it looks."

DOCTORS WHO SUFFER FROM INDIGESTION

DOCTORS know that some cases of indigestion disappear on their own, but it is only when they themselves get as well as their patients, that they realize the value of taking "Bismaglin". It is only by their own experience that they can tell you how good it is. If you are suffering from indigestion, try it for a few days. You will find that it is a most reliable and effective remedy. It is a most reliable and effective remedy. It is a most reliable and effective remedy.

DISTINCTION

Modern civilisation, it has been said, tends to suppress individuality—to cast all things in the same mould. Even now Britain seems the last stronghold of the desire to make the best, rather than the most.

The characteristics which distinguish Castrol, for example, are developed more strongly, each day. It is stimulating to know that each day Britons prove more conclusively their regard for such distinction.

Conference in London.

A UNIFIED SCHEME.

[NATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.] London, September 14. The whole question of settling the rights of Jews in Germany and settling German Jews in Palestine and elsewhere will be dealt with at a conference of Jewish societies in London in October, which it is hoped will establish a unified scheme of action in which Jews of all countries will be able to participate. In this connection the Zionist organization has decided to establish a special central office in London, headed by Dr. Weizmann. A member of the Zionist Executive will be established in Palestine to deal with agricultural and settlement work, and Professor Brodsky will have charge of the whole political work in England.
