CANCER DETAILS STOLEN

Documents and papers regarding the life of a cancer research worker who died in London while on the home and disbanding of the American League for Cancer Research.

Among the papers were some records of details of Dr. Magrath's treatment of cancer with glucose extracts.

Doctors had not investigated the matter on the theory that other men's burials were not responsible. Police photographers later took pictures of some that were not taken and covers that were left open. A few other papers and models were the only other articles stolen.

It has been discovered that the burglar was either dead or had fled.

The fruit was poisoned with glucose and a letter to the doctor's cancer researches.

If they have eaten any of it they will be suffering from acute diabetes or may be dead.

A man aged 60 was found lying in the room of the house where the doctor lived.

Three other doctors have examined the body at the doctor's home and their reports were all dismissed, though further tests taken from them for fear of an outbreak.

Dr. Magrath's family and wife had been at the house when the dead man was found.

British Holidays For British

Margate is taking the lead in rejecting British holidays for a complete rejection of Continental holidays.

Although a law of holiday periods has been proposed, there is a feeling in Margate that Continental holidays are unattractive.

In a letter to the Association of Mayor of Margate, written by H. P. Jones, who is secretary of the Association, it is stated that it is desirable if it is possible to have a complete rejection of Continental holidays for a complete rejection of Continental holidays.

The Mayor of Margate, Mr. H. P. Jones, writes in his letter: "I am writing to you regarding the proposed law of holiday periods which is being introduced in the House of Commons. It is desirable if it is possible to have a complete rejection of Continental holidays for a complete rejection of Continental holidays."

Magic for the African

Congratulations

Mr. HENSHAW!

PROBABLY by now you are beginning to get a little tired of hearing the talk about "Snow White" but I simply must add one more word to my other comments.

You see on Thursday afternoon I went to see the special showing for the Africans. I went with no little trepidation, and, happily, that it might be spoiled for me, but we all enjoyed ourselves very much, thank you.

The show, first part. Bookings were very good. The show was well attended and the audience was very much interested. There were some very fine scenes and the show was very well presented.

There was a very fine scene in which the two boys were playing a game of hide-and-seek. The scene was very well presented and the audience was very much interested.

A GERMAN VIEW ON SPAIN

A German view of the Spanish war, and "revelations" of British and French policy are contained in an article in the official "Volksrecht" magazine.

France has a double interest in the existence of the Spanish Republic, which will last for some time. This powerless Spain (says the magazine) whose leaders were once the champions of France through the Algeiras-Morocco route, would have no interest in the Spanish Republic, which would give France the opportunity to transport her troops by the shortest route of Oran-Cartagena with a fraction of the expense needed for the Algeiras-Morocco route. Further, the shorter route was open to guns or mines. It is not impossible that these countries which now press the bringing to an end of the anti-Franco policy and at the last moment are attaching themselves to the winning side in Spain do so from this consideration.

France would a strong and independent Spain just as little as they had done. Germany and Italy do not think that France should be asked to transport her colonial troops by the shorter route. Her interest was only in the case of war. France and Britain are enemies of strong Spanish Spain.

After the War

The official Foreign Office organ, the "Diplomatic Correspondence," writes in the report to the French press that Italy will retain Majorca after the Franco civil war is ended, and that Germany is building naval bases on the Canary Islands and that therefore Minorca and Spanish Majorca may have to be occupied by France until the Germans and Italians have been.

It says that, apart from the political operations of the Spanish Republic, these countries stand in direct contradiction to the binding declaration of the Axis Powers that they are pursuing no territorial or power interests in Spain. They rightly perceive in an independent national Spain the necessary guarantee against the setting up of a Communist zone in the Mediterranean.

It further appears that the most sensational and dangerous war news service which newspapers return to proposals of the Axis Powers that Spanish agents such as Spanish Majorca and Minorca and demand the security for the line of communication in face of the danger of foreigners establishing themselves permanently in Spanish territory.

NOT PLEASED WITH THE PREMIER

Mr. Chamberlain's statement upon the Spanish situation, which the "Diplomatic Correspondence" says the British Government "regards as a serious disappointment," has been criticized by the "Observer" (London) where it is not regarded as the general opinion. Mr. Hillier's speech, which has been criticized by the "Diplomatic Correspondence" as being "a serious disappointment," has been criticized by the "Observer" (London) where it is not regarded as the general opinion. LONDON AIRPORT PROBLEM

London will have to wait another three years before an airport of the first order for modern air liners is available.

The Air Ministry official told the "Western Morning News" that the existing airport at Croydon cannot be enlarged at a prohibitive cost of taking over the flying fields on the west side of the airport.

The Air Ministry have taken steps to remedy the deficiency by purchasing the existing airport at Croydon and by preparing plans for extending it. The airport will not be completed until 1943.

It is said that the airport will probably have cost a million pounds by the time it is ready.

The City Corporation has voted £250,000 for laying out their own airport at Farnborough. It will be three or four years before the airport is ready for use by the Air Ministry.

London is to have a third airport at Luton, near Swindon Junction, but the land has not yet been purchased for development and it will take as long to prepare this site.

Most of the Cardinals who are to meet on February 23 to elect the new Pope are already in Rome, but others are hastening from America and England to attend the funeral services and the Conclave. The body of His Holiness is now lying in state in St. Peter's.

One of the queerest stories of the week is the disappearance of a Liverpool woman who was reported to have been seen in London only 24 hours after she was reported to have been seen in Liverpool. The woman, Mrs. George Davies of Moseley Hill, Liverpool, was reported to have been seen in London on the 11th of the week, but she was not seen in Liverpool until the 15th. The woman's disappearance is a mystery, and it is not known whether she is still in London or whether she has returned to Liverpool.

Buying a Car

— ARTICLE No. 2 —

In our last article we suggested to the intending purchaser of a new car that it was advisable carefully to compare values.

Motor car buying foretells keener, more careful procedure than ever. Buying a car in this day and age, calls for getting value received, possibly as never before. We welcome the turn, for we have long believed in careful buying, and have long supported the idea of analysing in detail just how much the purchase price gives the motorist in value.

Such a bold challenge to the intelligence of the car buying public calls for a product well able to back it. The experience of Dodge, Chrysler and Plymouth owners in the past is that they have found that support most adequate. And in the new 1939 models of these cars the high measure of value promises again to increase the numbers of those who own Chrysler productions.

For, if there ever are cars that give the buyer more for his money, that abound in extra value, they are these new models of a distinguished line.

You will find improvements that modern design pronounces outstanding—from the New Engine, Remote Control Gear Shift, Independent Front Wheel Suspension down to the increased chassis length and more roomy body. These are only a few of the many developments introduced to give the motorist of East Africa greater pleasure and comfort and smoother riding no matter how rough the road may be.

DODGE PLYMOUTH CHRYSLER

Allow us to prove to you that all the above statements are correct.

RODWAY MOTORS LIMITED

THEY MAKE "DEAD" TYRES TALK

TO BRING YOU THE IMPROVED TYRES YOU WANT TODAY, THE STILL BETTER TYRES YOU'LL NEED IN THE FUTURE—GOODYEAR ANALYSTS ARE UNCOVERING NEW SECRETS BY PROBING AND PRYING INTO TYRES THAT "DIED" TOO YOUNG.

THE big, handsome, mile-defying Goodyear tyres you get today are marvels of toughness and safety.

And they owe a big part of their outstanding merit to tyres that have gone out of service before their time.

If you could visit that section, in the Goodyear plant, called the "probing room" you would soon see why.

Here, these tyres are torn apart, studied, analyzed. Here, scientists make the old tyres yield up their secrets—for the benefit of new tyres to come.

All this study and research are made necessary because driving conditions are constantly changing, constantly demanding more and more of tyres.

As a motorist, you know that you drive a bigger car today. You drive faster. You kindle more heat in your tyres.

You turn curves faster. Your brakes stop you quicker.

And it becomes the obligation of the leading tyre-maker to build you a tyre capable of meeting those five "worst enemies of tyre-life."

Goodyear has gladly accepted that obligation—has even extended it to include the job of building you tyres capable of meeting new emergencies even before you become aware of them.

Thus any Goodyear tyre you buy is the best tyre for its purpose. And, because Goodyear builds and sells so many tyres, you pay nothing additional for Goodyear's extra superiorities.

Fit a full set of new Goodyear tyres—and enjoy the great comfort, the long mileage, the maximum safety of tyres built to meet the motoring needs of today—and tomorrow.

GOODYEAR CENTER TRACTION TREAD—provides sure-footed traction, maximum protection against skids in all directions.
THICK, BROAD, TOUGH TREAD—gives long smooth rolling, trouble-free mileage.
EXCLUSIVE SUPERTWIST CORD—puts protection against bursts and bruises into every ply.

KENYA'S ZEAL FOR EDUCATION

Governor's Speech at Indian School Ceremony

One of the many notable things about Kenya is the zeal to education among all classes and communities, and I think, it is fair to say that it is most marked among the Indian community and His Excellency the Governor, when he laid the foundation stone of the new Indian Boys' Elementary School in Fort Hall Road yesterday afternoon.

His Excellency stressed the importance of using education as a stepping-stone to education, and also reminded the pupils of their duty to their community and to the British Empire.

His Excellency stated that the Government is anxious to see that the best use of the new school is made. He stressed the importance of the Indian community working together to support the school and to ensure that it is well equipped and well managed.

His Excellency also mentioned the need for parents to be actively involved in their children's education and to provide a good home environment for their studies.

The ceremony was attended by a large number of guests, including members of the Indian community and other officials. The school is expected to be opened in the near future.

About Ploughing

ONE OR TWO A YEAR?

"I think there would be a great deal to be said about the advantages of ploughing once or twice a year instead of once a year. It is a matter that is being discussed in many quarters."

It is a matter of fact that the soil in Kenya is very fertile and requires little fertilization. However, the use of manure and the ploughing of the soil are still considered important for maintaining the fertility of the land.

Czech Germans Dissatisfied

The Czech-Germans in Kenya are dissatisfied with the way in which their interests are being protected. They feel that the Government is not doing enough to ensure that their rights are maintained.

The dissatisfaction is based on various factors, including the lack of representation in the Legislative Council and the perceived bias in certain government policies.

The Government has been urged to take steps to address these concerns and to ensure that the interests of all communities are properly represented.

Sheth Bros. Case

A QUESTION OF PROCEDURE

Attention is drawn to the fact that the Sheth Bros. case is now a question of procedure. The matter is being dealt with by the courts and the outcome will be determined by legal principles.

The case involves a dispute over the ownership of certain property and the right to use it. The Sheth Bros. claim that they have a valid title to the land, while the other party disputes this.

The court will now have to decide on the procedural aspects of the case, such as the admissibility of evidence and the proper parties to the proceedings.

FOOTBALL: HOW THE AFRICAN IS IMPROVING

Great Battle In Maxwell Knockout Cup

Association football in Kenya, as far as the European community is concerned, is popular in its own right. It does it draw such large crowds, as was the case twenty years ago. There are many reasons for this: the rise of Kenya and its adoption in the schools, the greatly increased facilities for tennis, golf and other games, but least the fact that it costs less to play a number of games than formerly and the presence of unusual spectators.

With the relative course of the Maxwell Knockout Cup in the Colony and other team games it is not necessary to dwell.

But in one direction, this lack of funds and resources has not been a beneficial effect. That is in the improvement of the game among Africans. A number of teams of standard players, many past their playing days, have given their time to the training of the African and have achieved remarkable results. This may be seen by anyone who attends the various league games, especially the senior one, in Nairobi.

Uganda and the East area have always been able to turn out first class players to provide such enabled matches, with relatively few Kenyan players to draw upon, to maintain standard to match for many years.

HOCKEY: THE RUBBER MATCH AT PARKLANDS

Season's Last Europeans vs Indians Game

The last of the present hockey season's representative matches, between Kenya and the Indian Sports Association, took place at Parklands this (Wednesday) afternoon.

The event is a rubber match, the tally of which is set at 54 points. The Kenyan side is captained by James having won a game each, and should be just, most qualified to represent Kenya.

The Indian side is captained by the appointment of an Indian umpire, in addition to one of the Kenyan Association representatives.

The match was played at Parklands and was a very hotly contested one. It is expected that the Kenyan XI will give a good account of themselves against the Indian side, who are captained by James.

DEMONSTRATIONS AGAINST TWO MINISTERS

Criticism of National Service Plans

The Minister for Civilian Defence had rather a stormy meeting at Glasgow when he was interrupted by demonstrators, largely of women, had to adjourn. At a similar meeting on Manchester the Minister of Labour was subjected to a complete hail of interruption.

NAIROBI'S POPULATION INCREASE

Tenth Annual Report Of Medical Officer

An estimated increase in Nairobi's population during 1935 of 3,705, a remarkable decrease in the death rate for all communities and a decided improvement in the infant mortality rate are noted in the Tenth Annual Report of the Medical Officer.

The report, however, again draws attention to the lack of housing accommodation for Asians and Africans and to the consequent overcrowding and unsatisfactory conditions.

The annual report on sanitary conditions in Nairobi is a valuable document, showing the progress made in the city's health services.

The report also mentions the need for better housing and sanitation facilities for the growing population.

It was noted that the death rate for all communities has decreased significantly over the past year.

ARCHDEACON OWEN STATES HIS CASE

Archdeacon Owen who has returned to Kenya, was invited to state his case, in our columns, on the subject of Child Labour.

He has done so in two articles, and the first is published today.

The articles have an added interest in the fact that, the manuscript was originally prepared with a view to publication in Britain. They have not been altered in any way by Archdeacon Owen before being presented to the East African public.

At the first of these articles, the author states that the child labourer is a creature who is not a human being, but a machine.

He further states that the child labourer is a creature who is not a human being, but a machine.

Continuing his examination, he asked witnesses: "Now all the other boys who had been following this girl for the purpose of getting a job with you, what do you remember about the conversation that took place on that night?"

"About 4,000 miles of ocean were between us," the witness testified, "and I heard that they entered into with the Embassy office within 100 miles actually received."

"Did you reply to the Magistrate when he asked that the 'sacred' contract was in the hands of the Embassy?" he asked.

"Yes," he answered, "and the note of the examination of the Embassy was in the hands of the Embassy."

Addressing the court at the close of his case on the first charge, Mr. Kaplan drew His Honor's attention to messages in the communication received from the Embassy, which he said had been omitted from the transcript.

"I showed to the court," he said, "the fact that the contract was in the hands of the Embassy and that the Embassy had been notified of the fact that the contract was in the hands of the Embassy."

"I have been notified of the fact that the contract was in the hands of the Embassy," he said, "and that the Embassy had been notified of the fact that the contract was in the hands of the Embassy."

"The people did not know me," he said, "and I did not know them." He testified that he did not know the man who had been arrested in connection with the case.

ASSEMBLY has turned the corner after four weary months of waiting for a away victory, but their score of 3-1 against the Villa failed them. Two of the goals came in the last ten minutes.

Port Gloucester, the great-hearted Welsh international center forward of Grimsby Town, has at last reappeared. Racked by leg trouble, rheumatism and fears that his playing days were over, he was cheered on by the directors of his club, Grimsby Town. On January 25, he played his first game of the season in the First Division of the League, and scored the only goal of the game in which Grimsby beat Blackpool by 3-0.

HERALD Hibbs' Champion outfit has also come back. He had to learn to walk after his legbreak, but he is now ready to play. He was named captain of the team on January 25, and he scored one of Charlton's three goals against Blackpool.

EVERY week there is a surprise man player. Recently we selected by Manchester University and Arlington Athletic—and word warfare with the latter.

Through the two night gruelled minutes the two packs went hammer and tongs at each other, but gently through the Welsh eight victory, struggled, they could not pass through the heavy super-forward on the day, and they were responsible for the only goal scored by the Welsh.

THROUGHOUT the match, the Welsh were in the lead, but they were not long at each other, but gently through the Welsh eight victory, struggled, they could not pass through the heavy super-forward on the day, and they were responsible for the only goal scored by the Welsh.

Stray Thoughts About MOTURING

I WAS GLAD TO LEARN THAT... I WAS GLAD TO LEARN THAT... I WAS GLAD TO LEARN THAT... I WAS GLAD TO LEARN THAT...

THIS summer Imperial Airways are starting a regular air service to Canada and possibly the United States. Perhaps they will carry passengers and perhaps they will not.

However, if they did decide to start this year, they would not have far to look for passengers to fill their cabins. Besides, there has been a marked increase in the number of people who have booked seats on the airlines...

This waiting list by the way reveals an interesting fact. It shows that the number of people who have booked seats on the airlines...

They had a first flight, which took place on the 1st of January. It was a very successful one...

That taken into account, it is not surprising that the number of people who have booked seats on the airlines...

Among that handful was Sir Walter. He had been invited to join the service...

Meanwhile Imperial Airways are quietly and constantly at work on the technical side...

Palestine

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1939. After long and weary months of negotiation, with the hope of finding a solution of the question which more than almost anything has threatened the security of the Empire in the Mediterranean and Middle East areas, and fostered more bitterness than any imperial issue of a generation. But a solution will not be easy to find, certainly not without heavy sacrifices on both sides.

At the opening of the conference, as was expected, the Arabs have demanded the abandonment of the idea of a Jewish National Home and the Mandate system and have asked for complete independence. They have promised to discuss measures for the protection of Jewish interests and of the Holy places. On their part the Jews have based their case on the Balfour Declaration and have brought to their aid the urgent arguments which the present refugee problem has created. For two years there has been a riot of violence in Palestine, and Great Britain has not only been a victim of opposition and criticism from both parties to the bitter dispute.

The Palestine question in its present phase goes back to wartime promises when in time of stress sovereignty was held out both to Jews and Arabs as a reward for their support. For two hundred years the Arabs have occupied Palestine and it is not difficult today to discover ample reason for their opposition to a solution of the age-old Jewish question when it is remembered that they were not in fact consulted about the proposals and promises of the British Government to grant sovereignty to another race if their number was warranted. Extreme Nationalism on both sides has been the outcome and Britain stands committed not only as a mediator, but as the responsible Mandatory Power, an one with vital interests in Palestine peace. There has been little evidence of courage, resource or adherence to a determined and considered policy on the part of the British Government. Partition, with the prospect of providing a place for both Jew and Arab, has not proved acceptable, nor has it been adopted by Britain as a possible basis for a settlement. The Royal Commission appeared to be acceptable by the Imperial Government but instead of pursuing the policy vigorously, the Imperial authorities by hesitation and by reservation merely encouraged misunderstanding and a renewal of the conflict. The subsequent Technical Commission which was intended to work out the details of partition, instead turned down the proposal and all we have today is the statement by the Colonial Secretary, made in November that if the conference fails the British Government will take full responsibility for a policy The Arab States has now received the support of the adjoining Arab States and it is also a matter of profound public interest in the United Kingdom. The Americans by virtue of a Treaty of Commerce with Syria are however that intervention is only to impose the levy on bank exports.

The purpose of the tax and its justification, is to create a fund for marketing and research to export British citrus fruits. The possibilities of a federation embracing several new States, being canvassed as a basis of solution and it may be that some such lines there will be found what The Times recently described as "diplomatic ground for a water scheme which would do much to ensure the political stability and territorial integrity of the Arab States. It seems probable, too, that as the British Government is doing its utmost to try to find homes for Jewish refugees, the Empire will undoubtedly do still more if the result would be to ease the pressure of unemployment necessary to qualify the Balfour Declaration in the light of present conditions. The Empire put a stop to the uncontrolled immigration of Jews into Palestine where, although it is a community sufficiently large to warrant claim that Great Britain has a duty in the face of great difficulty, to carry out that wartime promise.

It is generally assumed that Cardinal Pius XII will be the successor of the late Pope Pius XI. The Italian Government has been asked to give the details of the appointment of the new Pope. It is expected that the appointment will be made in the next few days. The Italian Government has been asked to give the details of the appointment of the new Pope.
