RAIL EXTENSION RECOMMENDED

To link with copper mines

REPORT VISUALISES SPATE OF DEVELOPMENT

An expenditure of £4 million on the extension of the East African Railway system from Mbita to Kibera—by the East African Railway Corporation—is recommended by the members of the Economic Survey Commission appointed by the Government of Uganda to examine the new railway would pay its own way from the start, says a report of the committee, though its grade at the beginning would be steep. This belief is based on calculations of the earnings already available, apart from the prospective ore from Kibera mines.

The report indicates that a world-famous copper group, Messrs. Phelps Dodge, in partnership with the East African Company of London, will proceed with the development of the Kibera copper mines and that initial production will be in the region of 100,000 tons of copper-ore concentrate, which would yield 25,000 tons of metallic copper and coal.

There would be other developments of minerals and agriculture as a result of the railway extension, says the report, which is signed by Messrs. P. T. Latta (chairman), J. T. Simpson and H. M. Gordon. It also states that the Government should consider the possibility of other developments of minerals and agriculture which may be required to develop a viable alternative to the present situation.

Resettle
There is also some opportunity for settling the remaining of the settlement of the railway extension, says the report. It suggests that the Government should consider the possibility of other developments of minerals and agriculture which may be required to develop a viable alternative to the present situation.

CHRISTMAS FARE FOR THE TEAMS

Time when strong reserve forces count

CHRISTMAS and the New Year may be times of rest for most footballers but not for professional footballers. Between today and Monday, January 1, every Premier and Scottish League club plays four matches. And they have another full League programme facing them on Saturday, January 8.

Manchester and the other clubs have to play their League fixtures. The Premier League is particularly difficult because of the heavy programme of the top clubs. Manchester City and Arsenal are the only clubs in the country who have to play five games in the week. They will play their last three League games on Saturday, January 1, and on Sunday, January 2. They will then have a day's rest before their first game on Saturday, January 8.

Manchester's task is particularly heavy. They have to play five games in the week. They will play their last three League games on Saturday, January 1, and on Sunday, January 2. They will then have a day's rest before their first game on Saturday, January 8.

160 LEADING INDUSTRIALISTS FOR BIGGER OUTPUT

Boosting Europe's production

From GERRON HARRIS

THE 160 leading Western European industrialists and 125 leading American industrialists who attended the first annual Conference of Manufacturers held recently in New York City, must be wondering what the conference and the series of visits arranged by the Economic Cooperation Administration which preceded it will do to increase Europe's productivity.

The object of the conference was to increase the output per hour of the countries of Europe. The first group, made up of 125 American industrialists, met in New York City for a week and a half, and then the 160 European industrialists met in London for a week and a half.

The conference was held at the Hotel Waldorf Astoria in New York City. It was the first time that so many leading industrialists from both sides of the Atlantic had met together in person.

460 LEADING INDUSTRIALISTS FOR BIGGER OUTPUT

Boosting America's production

From SEYMOUR HARRIS

THE 460 leading Western European industrialists who met in the American conference of Manufacturers, held recently in New York, must be wondering what the conference and the series of similar visits arranged by the Economic Cooperation Administration which preceded it will do to increase Europe's productivity.

The object of the conference was to increase the output per man-hour of the countries of Europe.

The low output, based on hours worked, is a fact which has been pointed out as one of a list of problems which must be solved if Europe is to lead a general economic life which is not inferior to that of the United States.

It is not, however, a simple matter to increase the output per man-hour of Europe because in many of the countries of Europe the labor law, based on the principle of the eight-hour day, is not as strict as in the United States. In many of the countries of Europe the labor law is not as strict as in the United States.

Russia told: IMPROVING MACHINERY OF COLLECTIVE SECURITY

Not contribution towards peace

From NORA BELLOU

IT is a dangerous plan that if there is to be any practical contribution to peace by the United Nations, it will be not a contribution towards peace, but an improvement in the machinery of collective security.

Not that the "Big Four" disarmament talks will be abandoned, but that the machinery of collective security will be improved.

The plan is to improve the machinery of collective security by the United Nations, and to make it more effective.

Nationalist Party attacks Oppenheimers

From COLIN LEGUM
London
The Nationalist Party has launched a political campaign against the two principal members of the present Government—Oppenheimers—Oppenheimer's mineral and diamond interests in South Africa; Oppenheimer's and his son, Mr. Harry Oppenheimer, in the United Kingdom; and Oppenheimer's interests in the diamond mines of the world. The Government has been accused through the Nationalist Party of being a "diamond cartel" and of being "a group of international financiers, controlling the diamond industry throughout Africa."
The Oppenheimer interests, according to the Nationalist Party, own a considerable interest in the diamond and gemstone industry of South Africa.
Both the father and his son, and his son-in-law, Mr. Harry Oppenheimer, have been named in the Nationalist Party's attack. Mr. Oppenheimer's interests in the diamond mines of the world are valued at £1 million for the purposes of the Government's financial policy.

EAST AND WEST AFRICAN SHIPPING FEES COMPARED

AS SHIPMENT in shipping freight rates between Britain and West Africa during the past year, rising claims will show that the East African shipping charges are, on average, 10 per cent higher than those of the West African shipping charges in London.

The difference in rates is not unexpected, as the East African shipping charges are based on the cost of the goods, while the West African shipping charges are based on the cost of the goods plus a fixed charge.

For many years, the East African shipping charges have been higher than those of the West African shipping charges. This is due to the fact that the East African shipping charges are based on the cost of the goods, while the West African shipping charges are based on the cost of the goods plus a fixed charge.

EVENTFUL YEAR FOR KENYA GOLF

Burt took worthy championship winner

Standard Golf Correspondent

THIS year has been an eventful one for Kenya golf. We have seen three of the best professionals in the British Empire in exhibition matches throughout the Colony, we have seen one of the local men in his element not only the local ladies but also the local men in their element, we have seen our National course improve beyond all recognition, there has been a phenomenal rise in the number of golfers and to those last but not least, individuals who have given us much of their spare time to make these courses a pleasure to play on.

The various professionals all returned that the going was hard and that the year had not been a very easy one. This must be admitted, but considering the youth of our game we have certainly achieved very many things. It is good to see the young players who have played this year at all levels. YOU will sometimes hear the older Scots complaining that the Scottish tradition of Hogmanay of New Year is dead, or if not dead is weakened in spirit. It is not only a ghost of its former self, but what they mean by it is not what it used to be. It is not a ghost of its former self, but what they mean by it is not what it used to be. It is not a ghost of its former self, but what they mean by it is not what it used to be.

Christmas had almost the one of its last days. This, that one of the main events of Hogmanay in Scotland had been without incident. The day was a busy one, and the people were busy with their preparations for the New Year. The day was a busy one, and the people were busy with their preparations for the New Year.

THE whole of the New Year Day in Scotland is still a day of friendship and affection and hope. The day is a day of friendship and affection and hope. The day is a day of friendship and affection and hope.

SCIENCE DEVELOPS NEW USES FOR FARM CROPS

In his second and final article, FRANK YEATON, continues the story of the successful search for new foods, drugs, pulp and livestock feeds, and industrial products which is going on in the laboratories of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Vegetable waste
The eastern laboratory has developed a process for the preparation of a high quality vegetable waste from high protein, high-vitamin crops. This waste is suitable for use as a feed for livestock and as a fertilizer. The process involves the use of a special enzyme which breaks down the cell walls of the vegetable waste, making it more digestible for livestock. The waste is also rich in vitamins and minerals, making it a valuable supplement to the diet of farm animals.

Tanning hides
Researchers, seeking a plant which would be suitable for tanning hides, have found a plant in the United States which is rich in tannin. This plant, known as the 'tannin tree', has been found in the southern part of the United States. The tannin extracted from this plant is being used to tann hides, and it is found to be more effective and less expensive than traditional tanning methods.

Substitute for wood
What raw skin is being used to make leather can be replaced by a synthetic material. This material is made from a vegetable waste and is being used to make synthetic leather. This synthetic leather is being used in the manufacture of shoes, handbags, and other leather goods. It is found to be more durable and less expensive than natural leather.

Frozen food
Another laboratory of the U.S. Bureau of Agriculture and Industrial Chemistry has developed a process for making a meat canister which is suitable for use in the production of frozen food. This process involves the use of a special material which allows the meat to be frozen without losing its flavor or nutrients. This material is being used to make canisters for frozen meat, and it is found to be more effective than traditional canisters.

Printer's ink
A new printer's ink has been developed by the U.S. Bureau of Agriculture and Industrial Chemistry. This ink is made from a vegetable waste and is found to be more durable and less expensive than traditional printer's ink. It is being used in the printing of books, newspapers, and other printed matter.

Industrial alcohol
Large quantities of what was formerly known as industrial alcohol are being used in the production of a new type of fuel. This fuel is being used in the production of aircraft and other high-speed vehicles. It is found to be more powerful and more efficient than traditional fuels.

Animal products
The laboratory has developed a process for the production of a new type of animal product. This product is made from a vegetable waste and is being used in the production of a new type of food. This food is found to be more nutritious and more digestible than traditional foods.

The laboratory has also developed a process for the production of a new type of animal product. This product is made from a vegetable waste and is being used in the production of a new type of food. This food is found to be more nutritious and more digestible than traditional foods.

AN OVERALL PLAN FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF AFRICA

DISCUSSING in The Contemporary Review the broad outlines of an overall plan for development in equatorial Africa, Mr. A. H. Harner says that European nations have neglected Africa if they are helping the interests of the indigenous inhabitants and if they are farming vast lands which are of no benefit to the people who are increasing in numbers.

Practical men will benefit the land and some industries which will give an uplifting example to primitive peoples surrounding them. Existing farms, being cleared with the best of the indigenous methods, and the best of the good land to plant new crops, self-sufficiency, and the use of modern machinery, are some of the things that have been done in Africa. It is not enough to have a few farms, but to have a large number of farms, and to have them in the best of the land.

The forests
The indigenous forests are generally poorly managed, and the timber which is cut is often of a poor quality. The forests should be managed in a way which will allow them to produce a large amount of timber, and to do so in a way which will be beneficial to the people who live in the area.

The rotation
Crops, livestock, and crops in rotation should be the order of development in the hot regions of equatorial Africa. Crops to be raised should be those which are suitable for the soil and climate, and which will be of benefit to the people who live in the area.

LOOKING BACK AT THE OLD YEAR

As 1951 draws to a close, we present a selection of pictures which record a few of the events that have added to Kenya's history.

THE year brought many distinguished visitors to East Africa. Immediately above is the former Sultan of Brunei at the arrival of Lord Mountbatten in January to open the Court of Appeal in Nairobi, Africa.

Below is to be seen the Moderator of the Church of Scotland, the Rev. Mrs. Patricia Thelma Wright, at the dedication of the new St. Andrew's Church in Nairobi in March while at the top right Lady Mountbatten, who came in February, shakes hands with Barbara Smith, a guest in the King's Military Hospital, Nairobi.

In the centre is Mr. James Griffiths, former Colonial Secretary who toured Kenya in May, and below Lady Malherbe, granddaughter of Sir Haile Selassie in Nairobi in March while at the top right Lady Mountbatten, who came in February, shakes hands with Barbara Smith, a guest in the King's Military Hospital, Nairobi and Mrs. J. M. Maxwell.

It was to come when 1951 is recalled by the people of East Africa as well as the rest of the world. The year that saw the birth of a new Kenya. The year that saw the birth of a new Kenya. The year that saw the birth of a new Kenya.

United Nations Charter as basis for peace

MESSAGE FROM MR. LIE

NATIONS must find the way back to real negotiation for a common peace. It is not only a matter of peace, but of the security of the United Nations Charter. It is urgent that we should all join together to help attain the goal of a new world order, a new brotherhood that is being built by the United Nations.

Mr. Lie foresees that in a period of about a year there will be a series of events that will lead to a new world order. He says that the danger of a third world war is not a remote possibility. It is a real possibility. It is a danger that we must all be aware of. We must all be united in our efforts to prevent it. We must all be united in our efforts to build a new world order, a new brotherhood that is being built by the United Nations.

Ugahppy year behind the Iron Curtain

THIS has been an unhappy year behind the Iron Curtain. Month after month, in one country after another, the story has been one of falling living standards, unsuccessful harvests, and mass deportations.

In China, one of the countries where food production is the key to life and health, the year has been one of disaster. The harvest has been one of the lowest in years. The living standards have fallen to a level that is almost unbearable. The government has been unable to do anything to help the people. The people are suffering and dying.

In the Soviet Union, the year has been one of hardship. The harvest has been one of the lowest in years. The living standards have fallen to a level that is almost unbearable. The government has been unable to do anything to help the people. The people are suffering and dying.

Brotherhood

History shows clearly that there is no real peace without brotherhood. It is a fact that we must all be aware of. We must all be united in our efforts to build a new world order, a new brotherhood that is being built by the United Nations.

Mr. Lie foresees that in a period of about a year there will be a series of events that will lead to a new world order. He says that the danger of a third world war is not a remote possibility. Day of debacle for most league leaders
FOOTBALL'S last Friday of 1951 was a spoils of big scores, both by teams and individuals, and heavy defeats by the top teams of the English divisions. Only Liverpool City in the Division III (Fourth) tier had a good day.
Bury's 1-0 win over Middlesbrough was a feature of the Division's malaise. Centre-forward Haddock and midfielder Morris each scored three times. The rest of the scoring came from the new arrivals of Division III. In the Southern League, Newcastle United's victory over Wolves, and their subsequent 3-0 win over Ipswich, were the only goals scored in the Division.

PARKLANDS PITCH TAKES ITS TOLL

Low scoring in European-Asian match

The Parklands wicket made itself felt on Saturday during the first day's play yesterday in the series of annual European-Asian cricket matches. The Kampans were dismissed in their last innings for 122 and by the close of play the visitors in reply had lost eight wickets for 73 runs.

Due to the accuracy and consistency of the Asian bowlers, a newcomer to representative cricket, the Kampans were held to the lowest total they have yet recorded in the history of these matches. The batsmen were not the usual high scorers and the wicket underfoot was a real test for the batsmen.

The first run came after 10 minutes in the first over when the Kampans were bowled out. The first wicket was taken by the Kampans when the first over was bowled. The Kampans were bowled out for 122 and by the close of play the visitors in reply had lost eight wickets for 73 runs.

ENGLAND RECOVER FROM FASTEST LAP YET AT SHAKY START IN TEST

Fifth wicket pair take score past 200

WHEN the new England's captain, Nigel Howard, declared yesterday that the wickets of the first Test with India started at cricket's lowest level, he was not far from the truth. The state of the scoreboard at the close of play which time Frank Leach, the Yorkshire opening bat, injured a finger of his left hand and a batsman was omitted from the team. His place was taken by Cyril Cooke, who, in the first over, gained his first English Test run.

Had he had the same taste as that of the other batsmen, England would have been in a better position to open up the game. Instead, the pitch opened up for the first time when play began. The pitch opened up for the first time when play began. The pitch opened up for the first time when play began.

The state of the scoreboard at the close of play which time Frank Leach, the Yorkshire opening bat, injured a finger of his left hand and a batsman was omitted from the team. His place was taken by Cyril Cooke, who, in the first over, gained his first English Test run.

Had he had the same taste as that of the other batsmen, England would have been in a better position to open up the game. Instead, the pitch opened up for the first time when play began. The pitch opened up for the first time when play began.
