Uncertainty over attendance of delegates at today's committees MR. MACLEOD'S SPEECH CAUSES CRISIS

Prospects of Kenya agreement dwindle

A measure of agreement seemed possible yesterday among those attending the Kenya conference in London, under the first impulse of the Colonial Secretary's summing-up speech in which he defined proposals for amending constitutional reforms. Mr. Macleod hoped to see the delegates working in three committees. They were to consider safeguards and the Executive, were called for. The third, the whole conference sitting in committee on the composition and the Legislature, had been convened for Friday. A 15-minute break was allowed yesterday for delegates to consider the proposals. Mr. Macleod said on Monday, which failed to satisfy any group and provoked a meeting of some of the delegates. Whether the two committees will meet today or if they do it then the attendance will permit them to get down to work on the various proposals.

It made this declaration in the light of the Algerian crisis of asking Parliament to grant special powers for a year. A Government statement in support of the special powers Bill said that again France is being invited to make a decision. The statement said that the Government would be responsible for the safety of the State and the maintenance of the constitutional order which is essential for the progress of the Algerian process. THE PIONEER BABY

In 1922, this little fellow made the name "Austin 7" famous throughout the world.

In those days, U.K. car prices were 20% per horsepower and so only the very wealthy could afford the luxury of motoring.

To combat this, the light, low priced "Victrolite" type of cycle car was marketed but this crude and fragile vehicle was most unsatisfactory.

In 1922, Sir Herbert Austin introduced the Austin 7. It was immediately become the butt of sceptical funsters who insisted that like the "mobile bedsteads" (the old "cycle cars") the new "toy" would break up as soon as it hit the rigours of the road.

INDEPENDENCE IN FIVE YEARS, SAYS MR. NYERERE

TANGANYIKA should become independent of British rule within at most five years, Mr. Nyerere, president of the Tanganyika African National Union, said in Washington.

He urged the United States to take a definite stand in favour of African freedom, without regard to Nato allies or the Communist threat. The United States should not be embarrassed to say any country asks its freedom because the United States stands for freedom.

Mr. Nyerere, who is in the United States on a five-day tour, said the United States should be more than ready to help African countries.

A 1960 APPROACH NEEDED TO FILM CENSORSHIP

Letters to the Editor

In connection with the recent broadcast discussion on film censorship, I was interested in a letter from one of your readers.

But behind the discussion would have been to the matter of censorship, that is, the matter of film censorship. I was interested in a letter from one of your readers.

see, and will continue to do this (admittedly) unpopular subject. I cannot be permitted to do this in a 1960 approach to a censoring board.

Protest

I WAS conducted to the meeting of the Kenya Film Censorship Board in Nairobi, Kenya, on January 28, 1966. I was interested in a letter from one of your readers.

I should like to remind the reading Kenya, however, that the Kenya Film Censorship Board is not a government body, but a body set up by the Kenya Film Censorship Board.

Only when it appears on the screen, it will be a matter of fact, not a matter of opinion. I am sure that the Kenya Film Censorship Board will be able to handle the matter in a fair and equitable manner.

MAN OF FRENCH DESTINY

UNCOVERING the major theme of the Algerian insurrection has caused a chain reaction of discoveries, reaching back to Paris yesterday say a regular plot involving not only people in Algeria but also in France generally admitted.

The existence of a movement aimed at securing Algeria for France led of the overthrow of the democratic régime, and with it President de Gaulle, was reported by the disclosure of some terms of detachment. These were the underlying reasons for the President's resignation. In general, the extraordinary power of the National Assembly in general, the President's power of appointment and authority to grant or withdraw the nation's stability, but in particular the President's power to appoint and dismiss the Prime Minister in the Security Forces and a Civil Service were the main points of contention between the executive Government that is permitted in Britain.

Before the National Assembly met, the President and his advisers were hoping for the widest possible support among people who were being for the widest possible support in Parliament to take on the appearance of a President. By the inclusion of the appearance of a President. By the inclusion of the appearance of a President. By the inclusion of the appearance of a President. By the inclusion of the appearance of a President.

A little lesson for all

Some idea of the mood in France today, and of the extent to which the Republic was shocked, is given in the extracts from the editorial comments in "Le Figaro". Nobody any longer doubts the existence of a revolution in France. The Republic is being overthrown, and the institutions of the Republic are being destroyed. The Republic is being overthrown, and the institutions of the Republic are being destroyed. The Republic is being overthrown, and the institutions of the Republic are being destroyed.

LADY RENISON SEES WORK OF RED CROSS

By LESLEY CLAY
WHEN I arrived in Kenya to Lady Renison's office, she was the Colony Welfare Officer for the Society, with headquarters in the United Kingdom. In British Honduras and British Guiana she was the president.

She does not take her long to see for herself the work that is being done by the Red Cross in the Colony. She has a desk at Red Cross headquarters and spends some hours each week keeping in touch.

LOCATION TOUR

On Monday Lady Renison set out on a tour of locations to look at the work of the Red Cross field officers.

She spent the first day at Naikara and Kiunga, staying overnight at Fort Hall. She then went to Meru. She then went to Meru. She then went to Meru. She then went to Meru.

CHILD ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL—AND THE MOTHER CAME TOO

CLAIRE BAYMER, Sister in the Paediatric Department of Westminster Hospital, London, tells of the successful experiment carried out when the mother stays with her sick child throughout the entire hospital treatment.

DAVID is a small boy, now aged four, who suffers from a disease of the pancreas. He has also, on three occasions, developed pneumonia. He was admitted to our cubbed ward with the first attack of pneumonia. He was a very unhappy and extremely ill and difficult to nurse. He would sit in a corner of his cot ignoring the toys he was given (these his own from home) and the ones we provided, completely withdrawn, sullen, and resisting any attempt to show him any interest in anything outside his cot.

When his mother visited him he would ignore her, he would ignore his nurse, which upset her deeply—she invariably left the ward in tears because the "Travelling" nurse was extremely difficult because he would scream at the sight of a nurse arriving with the "travelling" nurse. This has been ordered for him. She has second in patient day that situation was a little easier because now his mother visited him for more frequent hours than she had on the previous occasion.

However, she still needed his face with him at the moment, so he was admitted to our ward. As in the first occasion he was very ill, his mother remained in the ward with him, and he was very comfortable. He was very comfortable in the ward and would cry if she were absent. Again, for the first time, David responded to our nurse's attention, and he was very comfortable in the ward. He was very comfortable in the ward and would cry if she were absent.

MAINLY FOR WOMEN

PLAYED HER UP

We also found that he did not eat quite so well for his mother as he did when she was not there. He was rather nervous because of her presence, but he was very comfortable in the ward. He was very comfortable in the ward and would cry if she were absent.

Gold quiet on London market

No bids for coffee in Uganda

Contel Rubber (E.A.) Ltd. STOCK markets opened on a quietish note today, led by the further good advance on Wall Street and some improvement in the situation in the rail strike zone.

An unusually dry winter brought a power shortage to many parts of Uganda, but the Uganda City based the A.G.R. ship Prometheus as a heating power station. The ship's electric plant produced 2,000 kilowatts which is piped into the city's power system.

"Standard" Correspondent, Kampala. The Uganda Coffee Marketing Board at its yesterday's meeting had only three offers and only one bid, less outright of the 30 which were offered. Eight of the bids were withdrawn, when there were no bids and they were re-offered. The bid was for 100,000 cwt. of coffee, which was rejected by the board.

MEDICINE AND POLITICS

PERHAPS Mr. Neville's voice, in his presidential address to the Association of Surgeons, may be as one crying out in wilderness, yet he should command the deepest attention in East Africa.

Not that the generalists would be those politicians who are looking for shams and those who do differ most in their views on the subject. For the most part, the generalists are those who are looking for shams and those who do differ most in their views on the subject.

Continuing need for help and guidance

Various suggestions are made by Mr. Neville, in his address in this regard, in an effort to bring about a more unified approach to the medical profession in East Africa and his efforts are well received.

Financial conditions are changing. The future with regard to the medical profession in East Africa is uncertain. The future with regard to the medical profession in East Africa is uncertain.

CRITICAL STAGE FOR MEDICINE IN EAST AFRICA

LOOKING BACK over the past 50 years, the East African medical profession has achieved a great deal in East Africa. The doctors have been trained, the hospitals have been built, and the medical profession has grown.

MR. GERALD NEVILLE, yesterday delivered his presidential address at the conference of the Association of Surgeons at East Africa. His assessment of the state of the three territories' health services appears in this page today and tomorrow.

There are in the making, and will flow with East Africa, a number of changes in the medical profession. These changes are being made in order to meet the needs of the people.

ANNUAL COST

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes items like Salaries, Rent, etc.

At present Kenya spends £20 million on the health services every year. This is a large sum of money, but it is not enough to meet the needs of the people.

The Medical Training School for East Africa is a very important institution. It is the only school of its kind in East Africa and it is producing a large number of doctors.

ERIC DAVIS CUP GOLF AT MOLO

INDIA'S one-man ski team has been barred from participating in the Winter Olympic Games at Squaw Valley, California, this month. National ski skiers were also barred by the International Skiing Federation.

WATFORD, a little 'unshakable' team in Division IV of the English League, battled through to the last of the Football Association's Challenge Cup competition by beating Southampton, a high-scoring, promotion-chasing Division III side, by 1-0 in their fourth-round replay.

THERE was a good entry for the Eric Davis Cup Golf at Molokai on Saturday. The competition was won by E. Rivers, with the 18-hole qualifiers coming from Elbert, Glegg, Kail, Lonsdale, and others.

Even harder fight than the other, there was an even harder fight before Rivers. The latter match produced some extremely good golf. Rivers having an impressive round of 74 on a par 36 course. The runner-up was Peter Davidson 2, who finished on 75.

DISMISSING the West Indies for 24 runs in their second innings at Port of Spain, Trinidad, England won the second Test match of the series by a first-wicket draw. Final scores were—England 382 and 230 in three wickets; dropped West Indies 172 and 110 but a four-run lead was maintained.

Peter May, the England captain, was not out for 100 runs in the first innings. He was out for 100 runs in the second innings. He was out for 100 runs in the second innings. He was out for 100 runs in the second innings.

The Federation said in a telegram received from Rome that participation of skiers from national associations not affiliated to F.I.S. (Federation Internationale de Ski) was not allowed. Skiers in the Olympic Winter Games are also barred.

At the final whistle the 27,000 crowd packed Watford ground erupted in a blaze of excitement. They poured onto the pitch and the Watford team straggled wildly excited supporters. Watford secured their first win in 23 years. Their goal was scored after 39 minutes by their inside-right, Harry Hartley, who settled for 13 yards.

Mr. Donald Campbell, British holder of the world's land speed record, described as 'fantastic' a driver in an assault on the world's land speed record.

Members, the Chelsea supporter, and Holmes, Aston Villa, who had the Cup record of seven goals in the final, but Chelsea 2, and an away to the winners on February 20 next.

Field still open at London conference

MR. SLADE TELLS KENYA NEXT FEW DAYS DECISIVE

MR. MACLEOD had made it perfectly clear to field delegates at the London conference that the field was still completely open and nobody was bound by the line of thought he had put forward. This assurance was given in Nairobi at the weekend by Mr. Murray Slade, Member of the Executive Member, who has returned to Kenya on the instructions of The New Kenya Group to report the progress of the conference. Mr. Slade said he is certain that the Colonial Secretary saw a large measure of agreement between the proposals. These proposals were not intended as rigid

ONLY BY AGREEMENT

The talks were on the verge of agreement—or of collapse. Everything depended on the informal discussions now in progress between representatives of The New Kenya Group and the African Elected Members. We shall know in two or three days whether these discussions are going to produce anything. Mr. Slade said.

For the first time since we have had African Elected Members in an Assembly we have had a meeting in an intimate and friendly atmosphere. Mr. Slade said he had the right answer for Kenya.

There had been no formal indication that the African Kenya Group had the impression that The New Kenya would not be able to talk to them. The first official position, then, was that we would not move at all from the top. If progress was made Mr. Slade said he would return to London to discuss the agreement with the African Elected Members. The African Elected Members had indicated one man, one vote for the African Elected Members. Mr. Slade said he would be prepared to accept this proposal. TIPS FOR KEEPING HANDS SUPPLE

By Elizabeth Kenyon

MOST housewives in East Africa are spared the tasks of washing-up, peeling vegetables and lighting fires which are hard on the hands. But British women with such a beauty problem.

Perhaps it is outdoor activities that take their toll, gardeners and woodmen except, while the scrubbing needed to remove the grime at a weekend safari probably entails a fortnight's washing-up.

Recommended treatment after the safari — and thereafter every week to keep your hands lovely — is an olive oil bath.

Soak both hands up to the wrists in a bath of warm olive oil for at least ten minutes. At least two pints of oil will be needed; this is not extravagant as you can use the same oil again and again.

UPWARD STROKES

Then push back the cuticles carefully, and massage the hands for five minutes with upward stroking movements.

Those who have dry, sensitive skins should massage the hands every night with a vitamin soap.

Cracks that are dry and split should be pressed back gently using a little petroleum jelly every night. Then, back with a towel, as it can dry and split them even more.

A good exercise for dry skin hands is to rub them together up to the wrists as if spreading on a dose of night cream.

Then thumb in palm, carry the movement down the hand to the wrist. Finally place one arm between the hands and rotate the hands until the room is absorbed.

Beak weather-beaten hands with a good dose of lanolin, massage down, and covered with a heavy cream every night.

Hands that are brittle or have a tendency to split need a special treatment. But results are slow; it takes just about four months to give a noticeable new coat.

The nightly treatment for brittle hands is with a special cream, and a course of massage and a course of special treatment, which is a combination of the two.

As a winter treat it will do the trick. The oil will be used for the hands in warm, soapy water. Then dry thoroughly and some extra use will be made of an emery stick and lifting the cuticle, apply nourishing cream about an inch under.

The Tuesday Corner

While the self-styled 'Lard' drives a far from being a mix of the post and drive option service in Kenya, the electric show on the right is definitely a must-see. It is the 1956 model. The Rover 90 is the 1950 model on the left with its plug-in separate lighting and pressure control.

THREE CHILDREN IN IDEAL FAMILY

By JEAN POUCHER

YOU don't have a family until there are three children. One child is miserable, all by itself. Two children just fight each other, but with three you have an arbitration court. Three of them can talk it out.

So says that famous father of six sons, the Archbishop of Canterbury.

It is the right to be and to be a mother makes up for a very noisy family.

I am told that it is easier to have three than two and two than one. It is a happy family.

Parents who are generally better at their family, and the younger generation of children, who are a bit of a mess, but they are a bit of a mess.

As a younger child it will do the trick. The oil will be used for the hands in warm, soapy water. Then dry thoroughly and some extra use will be made of an emery stick and lifting the cuticle, apply nourishing cream about an inch under.

I washed my sister right through school and the first of three girls. Talking over the Archbishop's wall with a third youngster I learned that a younger child often looks upon his older brother as a rival and a constant rival device for the bettering him to be as equal.

But the competition need not be unkind. Parents have to think of the child that can have his own life to live in his own fashion, and must never compare the children's behavior with his own.

It is true that the child who is the ideal family is the one who is the ideal family.

It is true that the child who is the ideal family is the one who is the ideal family.

It is true that the child who is the ideal family is the one who is the ideal family.

It is true that the child who is the ideal family is the one who is the ideal family.

Give delegates a chance' appeal

CITY HALL PACKED FOR REPORT BY MR. SLADE

An appeal to all communities in Kenya to give delegates of The New Kenya Group and the African Elected Members a chance to reach agreement on a general basis in their meetings now taking place in London was made by Mr. H. Slade, Speciality Elected Member, in Nairobi last night.

Mr. Slade, addressing one of the biggest public meetings of the London Conference and to answer questions. An hour before the meeting was due to begin the Conference Hall of the City Hall was full with people sitting on the sills and when Mr. Slade began to speak it was estimated that in addition to the audience of 1,700 people, the floor and balconies, another 500 were still standing outside the doors.

ORDERLY MEETING

Scores of people tried in vain to find a way into the hall by walking through the City Hall corridors and some even found their way into the 'Interceptors' Beer Room which had to be closed.

Several hundred Africans in the hall remained silent as they loudly applauded parts of Mr. Slade's speech. The meeting was orderly throughout although Mr. Slade described some of the 'questioners' in Africa as 'idiot'.

He told the meeting that Mr. Maitland had agreed to accept the constitution of the Legislative Council before it could be turned to anything else such as the Council of Ministers or the question of Chief reason for this is the lack of someone to show Chelsea the way, a controlling personality capable of picking the side into a strong and cohesive driving force. The other half of the picture of Tommy Docherty of Arsenal, is very evident in Chelsea's lack of progress.

Ashton Villa have the best defence record in the country. They have conceded 24 goals in 28 league matches. This record should be a warning to other clubs. KENYA'S METHODS OF MARKETING CRITICISED OUTSPOKEN criticism of Kenya's internal and external marketing facilities and of Johannesburg members expressed yesterday by Mr. R. F. Thorpe, the minister for the Ministry of Agriculture, who has just completed a tour of the Colony at the invitation of the Government.

Thorpe said that the "enormous potential" of fruit and vegetables in the Colony is being wasted and that the country must look outside its boundaries and set up a marketing organization which could meet all the requirements of the importing territories and that could not be done without proper packing and grading.

He said that the Government had been studying the marketing methods of South Africa and that this was the reason for the visit.

He has been struck by the very poor marketing facilities found in some of the districts. Some of the marketing methods are so primitive that the Government is studying the marketing methods of South Africa.

No 'bunching'
Because of these conditions Thorpe said he had to keep the fruit and vegetables in the Colony as long as possible. He said that the Government was studying the marketing methods of South Africa and that this was the reason for the visit.

Council sets conditions for water supply

NEGOTIATIONS between Nairobi City Council and Nairobi County Council for the provision of a bulk water supply by the city for the study area have reached deadlock.

The City Council insists on a minimum of 100 million gallons per day. The County Council insists on a minimum of 50 million gallons per day.

Not unlimited
It had been pointed out that Nairobi had provided the capital for its water services and that it could not expect any development in the study area to be regarded as unlimited.

YOU MUST BACK DELEGATES, MR. SLADE SAYS AT NAKURU

A MEETING of more than 1,500 staff of all races at Nakuru last night was held by Mr. Humphrey Slade that agreement had to be made not only among the delegates at the London conference but among the people throughout the Colony.

"How else are we going to build this country?" he asked. Mr. Slade, who said it would be useless for the delegates to have the people of Kenya behind them, put forward three necessities before any agreement was reached—

"We shall have to see proof of the sincerity of the African Elected Members by a definite move in the position that they took up before we to the conference and that they look at the start of the conference as well as other groups have moved from their original positions."

"We must set aside fear—fear that freezes reason; fear that stifles all effort to go forward. I would say particularly to people of my own race. We have been leaders in the development of this country, we are still the leaders in many ways and still shall be needed as the men that will lead. There is nothing to be afraid of if you believe you are on the right course. It is the right course to reach agreement on proper principles."

"No place for violence"

"We must set aside fear—fear that freezes reason; fear that stifles all effort to go forward. I would say particularly to people of my own race. We have been leaders in the development of this country, we are still the leaders in many ways and still shall be needed as the men that will lead. There is nothing to be afraid of if you believe you are on the right course. It is the right course to reach agreement on proper principles."

3—One third thing must also be removed before we have true agreement and that is the intimidation and troubles our country today. There can be no agreement and no true democracy when such things threaten to tear the nation apart."

"During the days of the Mau Mau rebellion I was put on a stand to the beauty doing of that time Today I shall again be among those to press for the furthering of those who are found responsible for intimidation and violence in this country"

This is a statement of anyone except you if it is simply because I know you and you know from your experience of Mau Mau that the more ruthless the more the more ruthless you are. It is not the return of peace.

Mr. Slade of our fully understood people's anxiety to see the status of our country's history. We all want self government and independence for Kenya. This is our common position of when it is to come and what shape it is to take. It will be a time when we are true it will be of the proper form."

CLUB HELPS WIVES TO LIVE IN GREATER COMFORT

By LESLEY CLAY

HISTORY was made at the executive meeting of the Marendale or Wamoye organisation last month when Mrs. Phoebe Richards, a community development assistant, was elected the first African woman president of the association.

Mrs. Richards' election came after she had worked with the Community Development Department for six years as a youth worker, honorary assistant, community development assistant in the Nairobi Area, and as a development assistant to the Associated Countrywomen of the Marendale delegate to the World conference held in Edinburgh last year.

The Marendale organisation was started in 1952 to help and guide African women towards a higher standard of living.

At weekly meetings the children are provided with a variety of games, a sewing and other projects, and a number of amusements and entertainments are held by Mrs. Richards and her assistants, Mrs. L. O. Ochieng and Leah Ochieng.

Our next call was at the Manda, where Naomi Richards, the supervisor of the seven clubs in the Ngara district, was the only Manda to have been trained at Nairobi School.

NURSERY LESSONS

The Kakaya children receive their weekly lessons from the Medical Department while the Manda children receive theirs from the Manda Branch of the Marendale Organisation.

The Marendale Organisation has a number of branches in the Nairobi Area, and the Manda Branch is one of the most active.

NEW LIFE FOR OLD SUEDES

PERHAPS you are one of those people who find it tedious to do up old clothes, it is so difficult to restore its pristine freshness.

But now we have a new method of restoring old clothes to their original condition. This method is called 'Suede' and it is a process which has been developed by a group of scientists in London.

The 'Suede' process is a simple one and it can be done at home. It involves the use of a special solution which is applied to the clothes. This solution is made up of a number of chemicals which are designed to break down the old dyes and to replace them with new ones.

The result is a completely new look for the old clothes. They are now as bright and as fresh as when they were first made.

ADRIQUE RANGE

ADRIQUE RANGE is a new range of clothes which has been designed by a group of designers in London. This range is made up of a number of different styles and it is designed to suit the tastes of a wide range of people.

If you are looking for a new range of clothes, then the ADRIQUE RANGE is the one for you.

BRIGHT IDEAS

There are a number of bright ideas which have been developed by a group of designers in London. These ideas are designed to help people to live more comfortably and more happily.

One of the ideas is to use a special type of material for the walls of a room. This material is called 'Acoustic' and it is designed to absorb sound. This means that a room with acoustic walls will be much quieter than a room with ordinary walls.

Another idea is to use a special type of lighting. This lighting is called 'Ambient' and it is designed to create a warm and comfortable atmosphere in a room.

If you are looking for bright ideas, then these are the ones for you.

SMILE

Smiling is a good thing to do. It makes you feel better and it makes other people feel better. It is a simple thing to do and it can make a big difference to your life.

So, the next time you are feeling a bit down, try smiling. You might be surprised to find how much better you feel.

KENYA ATHLETICS FACES

PROBLEM OF 'NEW BLOOD'

DURING the course of a long and comprehensive annual report to the Kenya Amateur Athletic Association this week the president, Mr Derek Exton, dealt with the relative dearth of up-and-coming athletes in Kenya. This is a problem which has been a constant concern to those most closely connected with the Colony and one to which there is no easy solution.

Mr Exton's words: "The growing older and wiser years are not yet showing, but the young ones are not yet showing. We must encourage it to believe that we are."

COMMENTARY
By Ches Ndiritu

Self-help, too

For example, I still think a high flier in within the category of Joseph Fortune. But not only so, but he is prepared to put himself through the training and preparation. Many of the other athletes at international or national level, the most outstanding example of which was the current Kenyan runner, A.C. current Derek Exton, in a "guide" however, he has had to be "disciplined" and "retrained" as a result of his failure to win the title of a runner in Kenya. It is the greatest good of all for Kenya. Our runners in Mr Exton's opinion, it is being about a sufficient amount of improvement in the field of athletics in the country. It is a fact that however it is not necessary to do so, but it is necessary to do so. It is a fact that however it is not necessary to do so, but it is necessary to do so.

Competition needed
ONE of the causes of the lack of good young athletes in Kenya is the lack of serious competition, without which they cannot improve. This is a fact that however it is not necessary to do so, but it is necessary to do so. It is a fact that however it is not necessary to do so, but it is necessary to do so.

will get "something for nothing" and without struggle finished.
Sprinter record
DERRITTS went to Kenya by Horace Lindstrom and David. It has been left to a sprinter, Kariuki, and open to the possibility of a break in the middle 500. Mr Exton's words: "The growing older and wiser years are not yet showing, but the young ones are not yet showing. We must encourage it to believe that we are."

BRITISH Doctors by a majority of four to one have maintained that it was other sports more dangerous than boxing. Four doctors wrote letters to the British Medical Journal defending the making of a case against cricket instead in a previous copy of the journal.

Sports listed as more hazardous than boxing were motor and motor cycle racing, riding, hunting, football, rugby and even cricket. Dr. Paul Saville, one of the doctors, said that while boxing was a more hazardous activity, it was much more hazardous in a rate which could be tolerated—'not maybe suicide in a rate which could be tolerated'.

Hopeful broadcast by the Governor

This observation was about the most important to emerge from the informal talks were reported to be assuming 'morning' discussions the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Macleod, has postponed the primary committee session until Friday and was reported to be willing to countenance a continuation of the conference next week — its fifth week.

There are conflicting theories in and around the conference as to the possibilities of success and whether it can be prolonged with advantage others that it will be a calamity if it is not finished by another week-end. Mr. Macleod, however, for continued discussions among the delegates back in Kenya, with a constitutional committee standing in the wings.

Steps to maintain land prices

By Kenneth Mashego

FOR the first time, Mr. Macleod seemed to be moving towards a more realistic consideration of measures to underwrite land prices in Kenya in order to restore confidence and afford them a more realistic future.

Macleod has avoided the subject of the African Government's proposals which they expect rapid implementation once terms of the lowest acceptable price have been determined. He has also avoided the subject of the African Government's proposals which they expect rapid implementation once terms of the lowest acceptable price have been determined. He has also avoided the subject of the African Government's proposals which they expect rapid implementation once terms of the lowest acceptable price have been determined.

It is felt that confidence among European farmers could be maintained if specific measures could be directly proposed to the Government.

Mr. Macleod's speech was a welcome sign that the Government was moving towards a more realistic consideration of measures to underwrite land prices in Kenya in order to restore confidence and afford them a more realistic future.

No target date

It was clear that there would be resistance with which Mr. Macleod's proposals would be met. He has agreed to have these proposals reviewed by the primary committee.

HIGH COMMISSION STAFF AGAINST NO-MAN'S-LAND

I HAD hoped that it would be unnecessary to comment on the suggestion which was made in your newspaper weeks ago, but which seemed to have taken a natural death, that the headquarters of the High Commission should be moved to some "no-man's-land", possibly in Uganda.

The worst dressed men in the world

I HAVE been listening to a programme on the radio concerning men's clothing and I have never heard such a quantity of self-satisfied conversation as has been going on so far as the team made up of the British and Kenyan members of the fashion commission. I have been fortunate to have visited many places in the world, and nowhere have I seen more dressing, as far as men's wear goes, than in Nairobi.

responsibility of solving the problem of unemployment. The African United Members of the Opposition side Mr. Kanuu should also state that the Government is not irretrievably so other Colonial Ruled Member should be removed and that is why all of them are in London now. Mr. Kanuu should not also want to know the African United Members body on unemployment because here in Kenya there are no democratic representative party political organisation to be addressed directly to the present Kenyan Government.

It is however, that the High Commission should be moved to some "no-man's-land", possibly in Uganda. I have been listening to a programme on the radio concerning men's clothing and I have never heard such a quantity of self-satisfied conversation as has been going on so far as the team made up of the British and Kenyan members of the fashion commission. I have been fortunate to have visited many places in the world, and nowhere have I seen more dressing, as far as men's wear goes, than in Nairobi.

Only the lady in the team of experts hit the nail on the head in short, that the East African fashion commission is a joke. The British and Kenyan members of the fashion commission are a joke. The British and Kenyan members of the fashion commission are a joke. The British and Kenyan members of the fashion commission are a joke.

£60,000 traffic plan for Nairobi

East African Standard, Monday, February 12, 1968

ROUNDABOUT SYSTEM TO REDUCE CONGESTION

STREETWORK changes are being planned for Nairobi's city centre, at an estimated cost of £60,000, to pave the way for a circular traffic system which is claimed to remove bottlenecks and reduce the number of accidents.

It is also claimed that the plans, which are being prepared by the City Engineer's Department, will reduce wear and tear on vehicles and also become less hazardous.

After examining the proposals, the General Purposes Committee has directed recently that if they could speed up traffic in Britain's capital by even one mile an hour it could save £100,000 a year.

PLAN CAN BRING BIRTH OF NATION

Linked with this scheme will be the construction of Sergeant Avenue through to Government Road, extension of Harlinge Street to Sergeant First Avenue, extension of Sergeant First Avenue to Government Road with Bank Street, and the extension of Government Road to link with Storey Street.

The means that Government Road between the two main parking areas is to be provided with two-way traffic. The plan also provides for the widening of Storey Street to a 100 ft wide road to link with Government Road and Harlinge Street.

Economics second to health services

SOCIAL and health services in Africa often receive less attention than they deserve. The Assistant Director of Health Services, Dr. M. R. Prasad, said at the annual conference of the Association of Health Inspectors in Nairobi.

"We must make the best use of the resources we have at our disposal," he said. "We must also be aware of the fact that health services are a long-term investment. It is not just a matter of building a hospital or a health centre, but of maintaining it and ensuring that it is used to the full."

Dr. Prasad also stressed the need for health services to be integrated with other community development projects. He said that health services should be seen as a part of the overall development of a community, rather than as an isolated activity.

Housing first

Very often, you get a number of other things going on at the same time. But if you don't have a house, you can't do anything else. Housing is the first step towards a better life. It is the foundation upon which all other development is built.

Health services are also important, but they cannot be effective if people do not have a decent place to live. A healthy house is a healthy body. We must therefore give priority to housing in our development plans.

Uneasiness over violence

RECENT disturbances in Nairobi have caused uneasiness and a sense of alarm among the general public. Many are concerned about the safety of their families and property. There is a growing feeling that the situation is becoming more serious.

The police are doing their best to maintain order, but there is a feeling of helplessness among the people. Many are calling for a more effective law enforcement system. There is a need for a peaceful and stable environment for the country to develop.

One way only

There is a growing concern about the traffic situation in Nairobi. The roads are becoming increasingly congested, especially during the rush hours. This is causing a lot of frustration and delay for commuters.

First mile

The first mile of a journey is often the most difficult. It is the period when you are just starting out and you are still trying to get your bearings. It is a time of uncertainty and challenge. But it is also a time of opportunity and growth.

Burst down

The market has burst down. There is a sense of panic and confusion among investors and traders. Prices are falling rapidly, and there is a lot of uncertainty about the future. This is a difficult time for everyone involved.

First Cheap Flight Draws a Crowd

A large crowd gathered at Nairobi Airport for the first cheap flight. The flight was a success, and it has opened up new opportunities for travel and trade. This is a significant step towards a more developed and integrated economy.
