NEED FOR CLOSER ASSOCIATION

Enormous possibilities THIS YEAR OR NEVER, SAYS SIR GODFREY HUGGINS

SIR GODFREY HUGGINS, Premier of Southern Rhodesia, said that a satisfactory form of closer association in the Rhodesias and Nyasaland were achieved the possibilities "that would be opened up would be enormous."

He declared in a speech at Salisbury "If closer association is rejected this year, it will be gone for all time and the three territories will go their own ways."

He said that Southern Rhodesia, Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland were "three territories which are geographically contiguous and which are bound together by a common history and a common future."

The Victoria Falls Conference, which is to be held in Salisbury in the next few days, will be the first of a series of meetings which will be held in Salisbury in the next few days. It was announced for nine months ago that Rhodesia was to be the main vehicle in the process of closer association.

Recording of radio talks

A SPANISH messenger of the United States transport ship Golden Eagle, doored in Liverpool after standing by the broken and drifting freighter Freighter until last night, said that the voice of Captain Kurk Kaur himself told of horrors that battered his ship to helplessness in the Atlantic, and of his own journey watch aboard her.

It was a voice recording, made by the Golden Eagle's radio operator, Charles Gallison, of radio conversations between Captain Kurk Kaur and the Golden Eagle's radio operator, William Dominic, during the 24 hours the Golden Eagle had stood by.

Despite somewhat incoherent Captain Kurk Kaur's voice came over clear enough and only in the later portions of the recording did his words betray the distress his ship had undergone.

When the wind shifted from the north, it appeared to blow off the Golden Eagle's deck and the radio operator said that the ship was being blown away from the Golden Eagle.

SEASON HAS PASSED ITS HALF-WAY MARK

Teams for the honours could be—

By ARCHIE QUICK

WITH half the football season over the clubs now face four hectic months of championship promotion, relegation and Cup struggles, with thoughts ever on the financial aspect.

What are the prospects? Arsenal, Manchester United, Liverpool, Portsmouth and Everton are at the top of Division I. M. F. Kelly, however, is for Newcastle as Division 1.

At the bottom of the table Fulham and Huddersfield are talked off and it is quite likely that Huddersfield with Stoke and Middlebrough immediately above them, have spent more money on new players since the season opened than any other clubs in the country.

The Sheffield club is at the 'dog end' of the table in that it has only three points against the top-five and has lost in all three.

Positive assurance and the Division being a completely new format every year may have led to the fact that the two highest clubs are Arsenal and Cardiff, who are talking of a possible meeting in 1947. The fact that Arsenal have secured M. F. Kelly as their top player since the season started is a definite indication.

In the third

Just a sign of the fact that the Division II clubs are beginning to feel the pinch. Tottenham Hotspur's season has been one of their worst since the war. Their manager, Archie Dorrance, is one of the few who are still in the job. He is a completely new man and it is a pity that he has not had time to settle in. Tottenham are a very strong team and they are likely to be in the top five.

Bottom strugglers

A Birmingham reaction is another sign that the bottom clubs are beginning to feel the pinch. Birmingham are a very strong team and they are likely to be in the top five.

Top five

The top five clubs in the Division I are Arsenal, Manchester United, Liverpool, Portsmouth and Everton. They are all strong teams and they are likely to be in the top five.

Match postponed

Due to the fact that the football season has passed its half-way mark, many matches have been postponed. This is due to the fact that the clubs are now in the middle of their winter break.

SOUTH AFRICANS START FAVOURITES TODAY

Twickenham last home international

PROVED all-round accomplishment and greater weight at forward makes the South African Rugby tourists favourites to beat England today—with the odds varying according to the conditions.

Twickenham, most famous in the world for its annual British Isles tour, is the stage for the last international appearance of the British Isles of the 1961-62 Springbok.

Although the South Africans should win the odds in their favour may not be great and the game may be a very close one.

England have not equipped their strength, and it is likely that they will have a good time of it. South African players will not come off their best at home, but the English side they have met in their tour has been stronger than most of their opponents in other countries.

If England achieve the feat of beating the South Africans at Twickenham, the English will look all the more likely to win the series and to win the Cup.

England have the advantage of playing at home and of having a good knowledge of the ground and the conditions.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

IMMEDIATE AIM OF COMMONWEALTH FINANCIAL CONFERENCE

The objective of the Commonwealth financial conference which is being held in London at the moment, is to co-ordinate the financial policies of the member states of the Commonwealth. The conference is expected to be the first of a series of similar meetings which will be held in other parts of the Commonwealth.

Officially inspired reports described the present state of the Commonwealth financial area in a deficit all round. What is perhaps not so widely appreciated is the extent of the deterioration in the middle of 1931. Our dollar deficit in the third quarter of last year averaged over 80 million dollars, and in the first quarter of 1931 it reached 100 million. It is estimated that at the end of 1931 it will have risen to 120 million. This is a serious situation for the Commonwealth as a whole, and it is essential that the member states should co-operate in order to meet this situation.

The immediate aim of the Commonwealth conference is to improve upon the outside world's impression of the Commonwealth's financial position. It is essential to maintain this position, and it is in this connection that it is decided that the Commonwealth should co-operate in order to meet this situation. The immediate aim of the Commonwealth conference is to improve upon the outside world's impression of the Commonwealth's financial position.

The main objective of the conference is to co-ordinate the financial policies of the member states of the Commonwealth. The conference is expected to be the first of a series of similar meetings which will be held in other parts of the Commonwealth.

Can an antiseptic be gentle and strong at the same time?

It is not so long since the only known antiseptics were poisonous, and definitely unuseful in any but qualified hands. Happily, that day has gone; now we have a modern antiseptic, 'Dettol', which, though deadly to the germs that cause so many common infections, is at the same time so safe that it need be a child could use it.

THE PROBLEMS AUSTRALIA WILL BRING TO THE LONDON MARKETS

SINCE the fall in the price of wool, Australia has been running into a serious financial deficit and that deficit is reflected out by the Minister's Guardian will be one of the most difficult matters to be dealt with at the coming meeting of Commonwealth Finance Ministers in London.

Partly because of the Government's immigration policy, the Australian population is increasing by 2 1/2 per cent but there is nothing like enough available to match this increase and a programme is being worked out to support national resources.

A new country which wishes to expand rapidly may be expected to run into difficulties for some years. Since the middle of 1918 Australia has financed a large surplus of imports by running down her sterling balances in London to £200 million.

These balances, which represent the foreign exchange reserves of Australia, were very much depleted by receipts from wool exports in the 1930-1931 season. They were then topped up only about £100 million and since that time have been steadily falling. It is estimated that they are probably now far from the lowest level since Australia came to exist.

The Minister's Guardian goes on to say that naturally, the Government and the banks for the whole area, and the basic issue in the probable future evolution of the sterling area is the 'solventy' of the banks of the area.

The financial risk in economic conditions and later that many of them brought into

Special reasons

"It is true, of course," he goes on, "that we have been unable to carry out a steady programme of defence production to play a full part with our Allies in the defence of the free world. Inevitably the claims of defence on our engineering capacity will not allow us to do all we should like to promote our export trade at the moment. But these are also real material problems to be overcome through the use of world shortages."

... there are special reasons why we in Britain should maintain our export programme. The British Isles have almost all the raw materials essential to an industrial country not at the moment can provide only a bare half of the food needed to keep the population fit. So our economy depends on our being able to pay for vast quantities of food and raw material imports.

"We are therefore giving very special attention to the needs of the export industries and I believe that, once this is realized, it materially alters the picture which the 1932 R.I.P. might otherwise present. I would, therefore, urge our business friends overseas to make the journey and find out by personal inspection how far we are able to offer goods which are superior or substitution elsewhere."

The 1932 Fair opens simultaneously in London and Birmingham on Nov. 5.

Service men are settling in.

BRACKS AT SALISBURY

The first batch of National Servicemen are settling in the Salisbury barracks block which is open for the next six months.

The group, which will be made up of men being sent to the barracks in the next few weeks, is being housed in the barracks which were built by the Army for the purpose of housing the first batch of National Servicemen.

New Income Tax Act

Legal appeals in connection with the act. At present such cases are dealt with by the courts.

It is proposed to allow an appeal from the courts to the High Court in the case of a taxpayer who is dissatisfied with the decision of the courts.

The act also provides for the appointment of a new tribunal to deal with appeals from the courts.

Precision New Advisory Council

An East African Advisory Council, an agricultural advisory body, has been set up by the East African High Commission.

The council will advise the Government on the agricultural situation in the East African territories.

The council will be composed of representatives from the East African territories and the High Commission.

Delayed Arrival

The delay in the arrival of the first batch of National Servicemen is due to the fact that the barracks are not yet ready for occupation.

The barracks are being built by the Army and will be ready for occupation in the next few weeks.

The delay is not expected to affect the service of the men.

THE OBJECTION TO LARGESCALE EMIGRATION FROM BRITAIN

It has been asked frequently during the last few weeks whether a proposal to British emigration is not emigration, that is, to other countries of the Commonwealth, a claim for rest for the nation.

This is the question put by the late Mr. Winston Churchill, the Prime Minister, in a speech made on January 12 last, and it is the significance of this speech, especially in its reference to emigration, which is the subject of the present article.

As a means of relieving the unemployment situation, Mr. Churchill said, "I do not think it is wise to suggest that a large number of our unemployed should be sent to other countries."

Even the aliphatic compounds have a character which would not be lost in emigration. They would not only be transported, but they would be treated as well as the rest of the world's produce.
