THEY WORK TO MUSIC AT MOSHI

When the acting Governor Tanganyika, Mr. E. R. E. Surridge, opened the new processing plant of the Tanganyika Coffee Curing Company at Moshi, discussions were held on closer combination between the coffee industries of Tanganyika and Kenya.

Mr. Ian Mathison, Executive Officer, Mr. Claude Desmarest, head of the Licensing Department, of the Kenya Coffee Marketing Board, as well as arrangements for the handling of the new season's crop.

Agreement was reached on all points, including the methods to be adopted for combining the European and East African coffee in the processing of the new season's crop.

The Acting Governor was received by the chairman, Mr. A. L. Brunson, who stressed the importance of the coffee crop to Tanganyika. He said the value of the crop was nearly £100,000,000, and that coffee was the main source of income for the country. It is expected that in this year the crop will be valued at over £100,000,000, and it is hoped that the Government will be able to meet all future needs.

Value of curing

It is expected that in this year the crop will be valued at over £100,000,000, and it is hoped that the Government will be able to meet all future needs.

After the start had been opened by the ceremonial cutting of a milk and the official party was conducted round the works by the manager, Mr. E. Mumford.

Co-operation

Later, the guests, about 200 in all, were entertained with champagne and Danish type "small change".

In a short speech, the Governor spoke of the close co-operation which had been achieved between different races in the project.

The company's manager afterwards said the plant was equipped with £100,000 worth of equipment.

Residents return

Mrs. Maryon, who is the wife of the late Mr. J. A. Maryon, who was a prominent member of the community, was the first to arrive at the plant. She was accompanied by her children and other family members.

The Governor then spoke of the importance of the project to the community and the role of the residents in its success.

New lake steamer named: Lugard II BUTIABA CEREMONY

WHEN Lady Robbins, wife of the East African Commissioner for Tanganyika, formally named the Railway Administration's newest paddle steamer, the Lugard II, at Butiaba, Lake Tanganyika, the ceremony was a deeply religious one. It meant for her the successful conclusion to nearly two years of hard, hot work. It meant, too, that she could at last go home to Newcastle on long leave—over a year late.

Mr. Gray was in the process of being constructed at Butiaba, Lake Tanganyika, when the material was first laid down in 1944. The material was then lying on the ground for nearly two years. They got the lead on the Butiaba, however, on the second day of the year and had her built together and on the water by April 1947.

There was a lot of labor in the work. The more so because to use the job finished. The long leave was over, but she was given permission to be allowed to stay on and complete the job.

Sir Ronald Robbins said a special tribute to Mr. Gray's work in erecting the Lugard II, the new steamer.

"Mr. Gray," he said, "has been for years a long tour—when the construction of the Lugard was in its early stages. He has been present at all the important stages of the construction of the Lugard II, from the laying of the keel to the fitting out of the ship. He has been a constant presence throughout the entire process, and his contribution to the success of the project has been invaluable."

Historic name

Sir Ronald referred to the historic name the ship bore—that of a great Colonial administrator—and the historic role that she would be playing. The ship was named after the late Sir Ronald Ross, who was a prominent member of the community and a pioneer in the field of medicine.

VAN DONCK BEATS RECORD LEADS IN MASTERS TOURNEY

WITH the only two overseas competitors leading the field after the first round, there was some sterling golf in the Dunlop Masters professional golf tournament at Sunningdale, Berkshire, on Wednesday.

Twelve of the 20 entrants finished 70 during the course of the day with the eventual leader, Floy van Donck (Belgium) breaking the course record on his first round.

The tournament is virtually Britain's championship of champions, one only the winners of the seven leading professional golf events, together with the winners of the seven overseas (18 in all otherwise qualified) are eligible to compete and the selected field numbers only a score two years. Bobby Locke (South Africa) was invited to take part but could not change his itinerary re-arranging his tour.

At the end of Wednesday's 36 holes the young Belgian, professional Floy van Donck, broke the previous record by van Donck with a score of 68 and 67 in the opening two rounds. The event is sponsored by Sunningdale Golf Club and is the only one of the British major golf events, the other three being the Adams, the Open and the PGA.

Three players only broke 70 in the opening but among those who did was the British player in the afternoon, Charles Wood (Little Aston) who shot an 80 on the first and a 70 on the second.

Wood's performance was the only one to be noted in the opening round. He had a 70 on the first and a 70 on the second, a total of 140. He was the only one to break 70 in the opening round. He had a 70 on the first and a 70 on the second, a total of 140.

Harris wins the 1948 Plateau championship

From a special Championship R. S. HARRIS, who finished as a member of the Sunningdale Golf Club, triumphantly won the 1948 Plateau Championship by beating J. Hopper by 3 and 1 in the final round.

MacKinnon Road town plans are shelved

PROPOSALS made some time ago for an ambitious township at MacKinnon Road and to serve the military supply base, have been held-up—'closed down' was the phrase—officially—while investigations are being made into the housing, sanitary and other problems.

Investigations are being made as to whether it is possible, having in view the nature of the territory involved, to establish a township which will be in order to serve the normal peacetime requirements of the base.

War conditions would change the status of MacKinnon Road and not necessarily bear any relation to the housing problem.

Medical authorities have pointed out that the danger of typhoid and other diseases on the moorland of Africa, which is without control, is a thing to be feared.

Freezing scheme One aspect of life at MacKinnon Road which is being treated as a rather serious in agricultural areas is the shortage of meat. Although this is a well known fact, it is not being dealt with by the Government.

It was suggested that medical services should be provided on a long-term basis at low interest.

These problems of the troops and the health of the troops are the main reasons why the Government has decided to shelved the MacKinnon Road township plans.

South Africa fought the scourge of Underpest on three battle fronts

Experts from all over the world met in conference at Nairobi on October 19 to discuss the underpest situation in Africa. They will consider the various methods of extermination in use in this continent. The following article is a summary of the views of the experts who met in the early days of the last year.

The South African Veterinary Research Institute, which was almost entirely responsible for the discovery of the scourge of underpest in the East African States, is the only one in the world which has been able to control the disease throughout Southern Africa.

The scourge of underpest in the East African States was first discovered in 1934 when the Government of the Union of South Africa sent a party of experts to investigate the disease in the East African States. The party was led by Dr. J. H. H. van der Stoep, who was then Director of the Veterinary Research Institute.

The party discovered that the disease was caused by a small fly, the larvae of which fed on the blood of the animals. The fly was found to be present in the East African States in large numbers, and it was found that the disease was caused by the larvae of this fly.

The party also discovered that the disease was spread by the fly from one animal to another. The fly was found to be present in the East African States in large numbers, and it was found that the disease was caused by the larvae of this fly.

Huge task

Next came the huge task of exterminating all the remaining cattle in Southern Tanzania, involving a huge operation with special jigs and machinery. The task was also very difficult because the flies were also very numerous. Long distances had to be covered on foot, and the flies were very numerous.

Mass extermination

After a series of conferences on the subject, it was decided in January, 1940, to carry out mass extermination of the flies in the East African States. The operation was carried out in the East African States, and it was found that the disease was caused by the larvae of this fly.

EGYPT

The beautiful Temple of Philae rises from the waters of the Aswan reservoir for a few months in the summer and autumn. For the rest of the year it is submerged in the Nile Valley.

To meet the ever-present demand for water the rulers of Egypt, from the earliest kings, tried to harness and control the seasonal flow of the great river. Their efforts met with varying success until the nineteenth century, when modern engineers began the construction of canals to meet the most important industry in Egypt and it is still a leading factor in the economy of the country. Full and up-to-date information from our brochures in EGYPT covering the history and other commercial activities is readily available on request.

£2-million allocated
Research for 1947

A SUMMARY OF THE REPORT

TWO million pounds was allocated to Colonial research during the year 1947-48, compared with £1,100,000 for the preceding year.

Accounts of the research involved—embracing medicine, social science, agriculture, animal health, forestry, administration, geology, insecticides, entomology, Colonial economics and other fields—are contained in the report on Colonial Research (Command 468, His Majesty's Stationery Office, Price 2s.).

More than 60 new schemes of capital development in agriculture were approved for grants under the Colonial Development and Welfare Acts, and nearly 90 supplementary schemes.

Some of the latter were of considerable importance, as they represented major schemes, evolved from a preliminary or pilot scheme. Nearly 2,000,000 lbs. of raw cotton were spun from such researches since 1943; more than half of which was spent during the year under review.

Proposed for the creation of a Colonial Research Service, the report deals, in an exceptional leading, it is hoped to crystallize at an early date. In terms of service, which will apply to officers appointed to undertake scientific research overseas in all fields.

Research for medical research (Research for Medical Research) is being developed, not only for the United Kingdom Scientific Civil Service, but also for the United Kingdom Overseas Service, which will be a subsidiary organization to the main service.

As chronicled

Research conducted in the report include: agricultural, animal health, health, medicine, social science, agriculture, animal health, forestry, administration, geology, insecticides, entomology, Colonial economics and other fields.

Building

Materials and methods used for building in various parts of the Colonies. Mr. G. A. Ashton has recently been appointed Colonial Liaison Officer at the Building Research Station of the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research. He will classify information on the materials and methods used in various Colonies, for the information of Overseas Colonies as the majority are—with a large building programme.

The first two volumes of "A Demographic Study of the Colonial Empire" by Dr. B. K. Karim have been published just before he died last year. These cover the African Continent, and the Indian sub-continent. They are a valuable contribution to the study of the Colonial Empire.

Mr. Link explained certain difficulties in the local branches of the K.F.A. in the report. He stated that he had not understood why the work had not been undertaken in the past, through unfortunate having, many of the goods held by the K.F.A. were excessive and not of the best.

Criticisms

After dealing with many of the K.F.A.'s problems, including those in the Accounts Department, Buying Department, etc., the General Manager outlined the future policy of the Association and invited suggestions and constructive criticism.

One speaker, said that some of the articles now in stock would never sell in the local area and suggested that if recommendations of the Branch Manager were carried out, only items in general demand should be stocked. The speaker said that the Branch Manager would be available and that the Branch would have to stock only the most popular items, such as pens and fountain pens.

"My fever's gone... I took GENASPRIN"

GENASPRIN—the safe broad spectrum antibiotic drug to fight a fever and quickly dispel pain. It contains Penicillin, Streptomycin, Bacitracin, Chloramphenicol, and Dihydrostreptomycin. All are very safe and effective. At any time of fever, GENASPRIN is the best. It contains the following: Penicillin G Benzathine, 200,000 units; Dihydrostreptomycin Sulphate, 1,000,000 units; Bacitracin Zinc, 50,000 units; Chloramphenicol, 250 mg.; Streptomycin Sulphate, 2,000,000 units.

The plant whose leaf bears the name of Tom Crichton stands on the road from Kingston to Spanish Town and is named after the husband of "Tom Crichton's Log," an early nineteenth century publisher of the West Indian. Tom, a young naval officer in the line of his father, Mr. Madelaine Easy, deals with letters and printers in the company and effective manner expected of such heroes and the book also contains entertaining and informative descriptions of the way of life of the West Indian people in those days. Much has changed since the book was written but the great treasure is a link with the Jamaica that Crichton knew. The capital of the island was transferred from Spanish Town to Kingston in 1832 and the part of Kingston now handles a volume of trade which would have staggered the merchants of a century ago. Full and up-to-date information from our branches in Jamaica on industrial conditions and commercial trends in the island is available on request.

Life has Changed for the Family Man

Most men live longer than their grandfathers. Women have a better life expectancy, too. So have children — not only that, but children now enjoy years more of their years getting an education.
These facts have brought significant changes in the family man's financial obligations. They mean that he must be prepared to support someone in his family longer — including himself.
Fortunately, there is an effective way of meeting financial obligations of this nature — a well-planned insurance programme. Life insurance is a sure means by which a man can provide protection for his family in the event of his death or an income for himself should he live to retirement age.
The family man is wise to review his insurance requirements in view of changing conditions. If you would like expert advice, a representative of the Manufacturers Life will be glad to give it to you.

BOOKS: Doyen of Spanish story

CHARLTON Manolita is now the unexplained story of Spanish authors and on such topics as literature in his country is general public than among the literati.
All the sort of pen-and-ink by the best of the Spanish writers on the list of those who are well known in our country, but the list is not complete.
His outstanding achievements are generally agreed to be "Of Human Bondage" and "The Green Years" which work in the line of all literary writers, but he has also written and is now writing a series of novels to revitalize his neglected novel, "The Green Years" (1919).

An anthology of Judaism

WHEREIN IS GLORY: A series of Jewish Contributions to Moral Leadership with a Foreword by The Very Rev. The Chief Rabbi J. Anger, Published by the Anglo-Jewish Association by the Standard Press Publishing Co., Inc. (175 pages, $12.50).

Recreation

Like so many other outstanding writers of today he has recently turned to the past for material. It is probably too soon to say whether the reason for this tendency, but it is one which cannot pass unmentioned.
In "Then and Now" he turned to the current fiction, by Barker and others, and gave us a brilliant portrait of the past. He has also written a book, "Celtic and the past" which is a study of the past, which is a study of the past, which is a study of the past.
The disapproval is frankly somewhat unkind, suggesting as it does, history of the latter-natured "praise" it might allow to French if one should imagine Parnet writing about old Spain.

The miracle

A romance when it is a very impressive one in its form. It is the story of a girl who is the daughter of a girl to whom the Virgin Mary appears and gives her a brilliant portrait of the past. He has also written a book, "Celtic and the past" which is a study of the past, which is a study of the past.

Buffalo and lion have roles in Hemingway story

NOT LONG ago a few words spoken in the magic male-behave lives of several East African residents. Ernest Hemingway, after a short hunting trip in Africa, wrote a dramatic short story which he called "The Short and Happy Life of Francis Macomber." The motion-picture mogul decided it was a good starring vehicle for popular Gregory Peck and Joan Bennett with Robert Preston.

When a studio decides to film a story, the backdrops and settings, whether they are in Tibet or the Atlantic, are of little consequence. If for the exterior background shots, part of the attraction is the story's camera crew is called, given a copy of the script and told to do the story. The studio then plays the lead, a few weeks and they are done. The producer says "Go get the backdrops, make a list of local spots and pick up some standing for the start at the location. You should have two months to do the job."

Macomber affair

To make the action scenes in the film as realistic as possible, the African background was of great importance. The studio was in Africa and began their operations with the film.

They wanted either Robert Leslie Mcomber or Ernest Hemingway to write the script. The studio was in Africa and began their operations with the film. The studio was in Africa and began their operations with the film.

Three White Buffaloes were engaged to do the shooting. As this was no sportsman's hunt, the animals were not to be shot. The animals were engaged to do the shooting. As this was no sportsman's hunt, the animals were not to be shot.

Buffalo

It took about two weeks of hunting from dawn to dusk, in the plains about 200 miles to get to a buffalo scene.

Avert disaster

There was wild excitement in the camp when the party returned with the news. We had all ridden out in an effort to get only the best of the animals.

Seven strangers

Behind the great, proud moose lion with three hooves and a two-toed tail are back in their own haunts in the bushy valley.

A swift end

Washing the lower part of the ten shaving cuts in the Lion's eye one evening last week, many visitors saw a jackal killed.

Lookout-rhino!

A rhino moved up into the brush this week. He was seen on the foot hill. Visitors moved from the area most keenly a deep look.

Oratorio to be sung in Nairobi shortly

PIRE A Contribution

A further chapter in Kenya's musical history will be written on November 12 at the Empire Theatre, when Marjorie O'Connell and staff will perform in conjunction with the choir of the Kenya High School and Prince of Wales School.

In the first half of the programme the orchestra—20 musicians—conducted by Joan de Middlebury, Director of the East Africa Conservatory of Music, play Mendelssohn's "The Heavens Telling of the Glory" and the famous violin concerto in which the soloist will be Elizabeth Hunt.

Music lovers will remember her record in July at the Theatre Royal with the orchestra of the Kenya High School and her recent work with the choir of the Kenya High School.

In the second half of the programme, Marjorie O'Connell will be joined by a chorus of 120 singers chosen from the two schools, and will render the first of the oratorios—"The Story of the Creation"—written by the late Sir George Dyson. The oratorio is in three acts and is based on the Bible. The first act is in G major and is in 4/4 time. It is a dramatic and powerful work, and is one of the best of its kind.

The oratorio will be divided equally between E. A. Conservatory and King and the Musical Pupils of the Schools.

EXCELLENCE OF THE QUEEN'S INDIAN DEFENCE

By F. J. W. GIBSON

The following game was played in the Glasgow International Tournament of 1933. It is an excellent and satisfactory Queen's Indian Defence, one of the most popular and satisfactory of the modern openings.

As the time control at the tournament was very strict, the players were in serious difficulty when the game was over. Black's defence was excellent, and White's attack was not so successful as it might have been.

The game was played in the Glasgow International Tournament of 1933. It is an excellent and satisfactory Queen's Indian Defence, one of the most popular and satisfactory of the modern openings.

First missionaries to the Highlands came 50 years ago

By Rev. R. G. M. Colquhoun
Secretary to Church of Scotland, British Consulate

THE year 1886 was an important one in Kenya's history—it was then the railway reached Nairobi, and the opening up of the Highlands began. Nairobi itself was born then, although it did not become the capital till several years later. So that 1886 is a Jubilee year in many senses.

The mission then took the form of a railway and business terms. The first of the Highlands began, Nairobi itself was born then, although it did not become the capital till several years later. So that 1886 is a Jubilee year in many senses.

He was closely followed by the Rev. W. F. Knapp and Mrs. Knapp, then beginning a long and devoted career in Kenya. Knapp, in the service of the Gospel Missionary Society, was one of the first to enter the interior, and his first mission station was at Ugunja, and missions were established at other points. In 1886, with the arrival of Rev. Thomas Watson of the East African Scottish Mission, a permanent and systematic settlement among the Kikuyu took place.

Thomas Watson was a minister of the Free Church of Scotland. He was the first survivor of a devoted band of missionary pioneers who had been settled at Ugunja in 1881 by the Rev. James Mackenzie and a group of the directors of the Imperial British East African Company. The Mission was then under the leadership of Mr. James Watson, a Christian Mission organization and ran to a commercial company. He must be almost unique.

Mr. Watson, assisted by Mr. John Paterson (the first man to plant coffee in Kenya), had established a mission station at Kikuyu and many other places. Some of these were in the form of a commercial company, and the first mission station at Kikuyu was in the form of a commercial company.

Like his predecessor, Dr. Arthur took part in the wider life of the Colony. He organized and led the Kikuyu Mission, and he was one of the first to introduce modern education, agriculture, and commerce to the Kikuyu people, and has taken the credit and honor of these achievements. He has his place of honor among the pioneers of the Colony, and the founders of the Church of Christ among the African people.

The young mission then passed into the hands of the Church of Scotland, and was vigorously developed by two men with long experience in the big Scottish Mission at Blantyre, in New Zealand, both of whom left their mark on the history of the Colony.

Rev. D. C. Russell Scott, D.D., a professional evangelist and the architect of the Cathedral Church at Blantyre, carried on Mr. Watson's work, and started agricultural education, and a mission station at Ugunja, and a mission station at Ugunja, and a mission station at Ugunja.

From 1887 to 1897, and was succeeded by Rev. Henry E. Scott, a medical missionary from Scotland, of proved administrative ability. By this time a definite revenue was apparent on the part of the Kikuyu people.

In four short years the died in 1913. Dr. Scott established boarding schools for boys and girls, and the houses built there are still a station, at Ugunja in the Colony, and he has done more than any other man in Kenya to lay the foundations of modern education in the Highlands.

The Scottish Agricultural Laborers, originally built as a cooperative, have commemorated his services in the name of the "Wider Life" Mission.

From 1897 to 1917 the Mission was built with vision and enthusiasm by Rev. Dr. J. W. Arthur, who had already served as a medical missionary at Kikuyu for six years. Dr. Arthur's work followed in the tradition of his predecessors, and he was one of the first to bring the message of the Gospel to the people of the Highlands.

News from Rhodesia: 'MUD HUTS' SOLVE HOUSING PROBLEM AND AVERT A NATIONAL CRISIS

Standard Bulawayo Correspondent
What about the mud 'huts'—that was the ironical jibe flung by immigrant artisans in the teeth of many a United Party candidate attempting during the recent Southern Rhodesian elections, to justify the government's housing record since the war.

The jibe was always good for a laugh. Yet the "mud hut"—the 1,000 odd purpose-built houses built in the last 18 months—has done more than any other form of housing to crack Southern Rhodesia's appalling accommodation problem.

And these purpose-built houses, built on the best of modern earth with walls of asbestos roof, and built on the best of modern earth with walls of asbestos roof, and built on the best of modern earth with walls of asbestos roof.

The difficulty in Southern Rhodesia was that the purpose-built houses were intended only as a temporary remedy, and that if it was to be of any real value it had to be done on a large scale. The Colony had all the materials right on the spot, and the cost of construction was very low.

EAST BEATS WEST IN ANNUAL MATCH AT KAKAMEGA

BY winning the fourth annual counter between the two sides East have conclusively won three times to the West's one in the annual golf competition played at Kakamega for the trophy presented by Sir Philip Mitchell, who again captained the winning team.

This trophy, an ivory crocodile, remains in the possession of the Kakamega golf club and is played each north and south and the winning captain gets in a small golf pennant on the side which lost.

As already reported, East won by 163 points to 81. The two halves between the sides consisted in five matches to East and two to West and lost one. The four foursomes East won three and two and the two two and two and one. The two two and two and one. The two two and two and one.

Team changes
There were two team changes. D. T. Doble taking the place of E. M. Cary in the East's side and D. Kelly in the West side being taken by C. J. Donohoe, owing to Kelly's indisposition.

The contest was in perfect condition and on the whole, good. But rain was a factor for the competitors all Saturday afternoon and the weather was not ideal.

In the foursomes, the East's best three couples were two, one and three up respectively at the last, with the last pair finishing all squares with three couples after those below when Patterson and Moore were the winners.

Moreover, Patterson and Moore and Dale and Palmeran were the winners with something in hand and Moore were even at the end of the day, two matches to play.

In Sunday's singles, the East won five matches to the West's two with Sir Philip Mitchell leading with five and Norman Page of Nyeri had a high haul, having won two in a very useful 56, while both he and Michael West were hitting prolifically.

Many of the matches on Saturday played for prizes to win the Kanyo jump rope while Dale had the morning's longest win.

In the afternoon foursomes, the East's two couples had a high haul, having won five matches to the West's two and one.

Machakos hears of the centre union abattoir scheme

STANDARD Machakos Correspondent

A STRONG probability of an acute shortage of slaughter cattle in the future was mentioned by General Edwards when he spoke on the Meat Marketing Board to the Machakos District Association when it met under chairmanship of Mr. G. B. Mousley.

The Board, he said, had two main objects—good prices for the farmer with due regard to the interests of the consumer; and the encouragement of the production of better quality cattle and greater numbers of slaughter cattle.

General Edwards said he felt that at present the job was not being done very well. He said that there was that the abattoirs had many shortcomings to which they were fully aware. One of these was that the provisions of the various abattoirs were not being carried out in a uniform manner. He said that the various abattoirs were not being carried out in a uniform manner.

ELDORET AFRICANS AIR THEIR COMPLAINTS

The Eldoret Africans have been told to get rid of their stock by 1951. I think they ought to be allowed to keep three to five cattle per acre because the African has long become accustomed to drinking milk. He will find it difficult to get by on anything other than milk. He is allowed no cattle at all. Also the Government has taken away five acres on the farm where they live to cultivate—the one acre a family unit is given to a man with children who must depend on his own crops to live.

So said the chairman of the Eldoret branch of the Kenya African Union during a recent branch meeting. He also had a good deal to say regarding the housing of Africans in the town. The Municipal Council, he alleged, had erected houses for them and had placed them in the town. He said to get down to it and provide housing for them at their own expense. He said that the Municipal authorities in Eldoret were not doing their duty in this respect.

Dominions eager to trade, but Britain won't be committed

IS the Commonwealth falling apart? Certainly some of the facts are not encouraging. India and Pakistan are about to go to the States and will be free to trade with the United States. While three of the dominions are Asian, they share the same geographical position and South Africa as part of a general policy of racial expansion.

It is significant, however, by his own admission, that the Commonwealth is not falling apart. It is merely being re-formed. The Commonwealth is a group of nations, each of which has its own interests and its own policies. It is not a single entity.

In an article in the "Financial Times" it is stated that the Commonwealth is a group of nations, each of which has its own interests and its own policies. It is not a single entity.

LIVESTOCK ROUTES FROM FRONTIER TO COAST WILL IMPROVE MEAT SUPPLY

Standard Special Correspondent.
KENYAN European stock industry looks forward to the day when it will export quality meat to the world's markets. It is already active consideration, designed to provide a Central Abattoir scheme and full control of the livestock industry, take into account not only meat marketing under existing conditions, but also the improvement of stock, destocking of overland reserves, and the supplying of an increasingly greater local market. These proposals are very fully described in the Vaivaker report.
Destocking, or even indeed the normal selling of a reasonable annual take-off of cattle from the native lands, requires more than an organisation for buying and selling.
The animal must be got from its pasture to the sales market, and it is essential to prevent the spread of disease, that it should do so under central every step of the way.
From the fact of northern Kenya, the districts and from the adjacent (Kisumu) lands, there are no facilities for exporting and for the transport of cattle from the area and beyond. Routes from the East Coast road through to the Coast road comparatively heavy, and loss of stock is inevitable. It is never in anything like the condition which it should be in, and it is a worse condition than elsewhere.
Stock routes are the answer, where rail facilities do not exist, to provide the best facilities for the watering and feeding of herds on their way to the market. A glance at the map of the rear Frontier areas and the routing of herds to the coast, which the route leading with least trouble to the railway area from Garissa north of Kitui to Kisumu—and this route last, in fact, been suggested as a possible development in the near future.
It would span a larger part of the 400,000 head of cattle in the Kenyan country and the frontier of the East African States. It would be a water speaking on this route, but it is estimated, would be needed in order to provide the water, but it has to be remembered that there would be a wide area of waterless lands on either side of the route, and that the water would have to be carried over it.
Cattle-raising tribes part with their stock reluctantly. Educating them in proper methods of rearing, providing a steady stream of cattle for the native market, and the increase meat marketing, which was described in the East African Standard, were essential considerations on the examples of Southern Rhodesia, and can be native values of Tanganyika. For some years, and in fact, has been developed in Tanganyika, but they are not in Kenya.
Mwingi sale
Such sales have recently been opened at Kitui and Mwingi, in the former country and are being run by the Veterinary Department. Mwingi, for example, has a considerable yard with cattle crushes and a distillery with suspended tanks. The officer is paid and offered to the potential buyer, who is free to accept or not.

500 Exhibitors want space in Rand Show

WITH nearly 500 applications already received for display space, and others arriving daily, the Witwatersrand Agricultural Society's 1949 Easter Rand Show surpasses every other year's effort in its range of South African manufactured products. Colonel G. D. Henderson, secretary of the society, says:
The show will be held at Silver Park from April 6 to April 18, with advance booking for trade representatives on April 7.
"Our plans for the show are already taking shape," said Henderson.
"On the livestock side there are already indications that there will be a very much bigger entry of stock than in previous years. At the first time entries exceeded 1,000 head of pedigree stock."
500 applications
The 500 applications for industrial display space include about 150 that did not exhibit this year. Some of these have been on the waiting list for space since October 1948. In March of this year industrialists both South African and overseas, occupied the local exhibition space, but they will have an area of approximately 12,000 square feet of floor space.
The floor space in the Hall of Industry has been extended from the 100,000 square feet available last year to local sites to 150,000 square feet. Hall space has been reserved for the Transvaal Chamber of Industries, the Steel and Engineering Industries Federation of South Africa.
A newcomer among overseas exhibitors will be the Australian Government, which will exhibit in the Empire Hall. It will rent about 2,000 sq. ft. of space. Australian produce, wool, meat, butter and tallow, together with products of the mineral, dairy and food industries, and pictures showing the country's rural attractions.
Negotiations are proceeding with representatives of the Netherlands Government, which has exhibited for the past two years for the management of the Netherlands Pavilion, and its conversion into the Pavilion for the Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg. The proposal is awaiting the approval of the Design Government.
There has been the usual large number of applications from British manufacturers.

Devon Cattle Breeders' show and sale

THE 11th show and sale, held under the auspices of the Devon Cattle Breeders' Society took place at Exter in its glorious Autumn weather.
The first day was devoted entirely to judging. Competition was keen in all classes. The oldest class of bulls provided a very even test and included very few plain animals. The second class was a little more open to the usual standard and the judge had a very difficult task. The youngest bulls provided the best class of this age for some considerable time.
Generally speaking, the bulls were well turned out and were a credit to the breeders in these days of scarcity of food and labour. The females showed considerable improvement generally, and standard as compared with the last show and sale.
Champion bull
The championship of the bull class was awarded to Mr. H. R. Hooper of Chew, Alwinton, South Devon, a breeder of the younger generation Centre, Mr. Hooper's champion, his yearling, Cleve Bull, was well grown and very well set up and under very admirable coat and head and of ideal colour. Mr. Cecil Bivett of Camp, Callington, Cornwall, secured the reserve championship with a 21-month-old bull, Champ Flash. Fourth, although not quite so good on paper, was a very even type of bull with good lines and well-sprung ribs. In the female classes, Mr. Alex

Film groups would suit East Africa

THE wardrobe worn by Susan Shaw in the new film "The Garden" is a striking example of the new style in East Africa. The wardrobe is made of light-colored fabric, which is easy to wash and dry in the sun. It is also comfortable and practical for the climate. The film is a good example of the new style in East Africa.

Day and evening "mixable" ensembles are popular in the smart circles. One who has had a long and busy day can mix and match their wardrobe for a casual evening.

It is habitually among most big-game hunters that the animal is shot and the trophy is taken home. One is not supposed to be a sportsman unless he is a collector of trophies. For a brief spell each year, when the rains fall upon Kenya's OVERNIGHT THE DESERT BLOOMS, FILL AND SPRINGS OVERFLOW

By Merrick Dalton

By simply how they passed the Northern Frontier of Kenya during the dry season, one could be forgiven for regarding the magical transformation that takes place over this desert country at the beginning of the rains. No matter how dry and desiccated the ground, it needs a few showers to bring up the first shoots of herbage, even the delicate grasses of lava, on which you would think no life could ever grow. It is covered with grass and grows over with flowers and ferns until it is thick that it is hard to believe the staves were ever there at all. Almost overnight, it seems, the trees and shrubs burst into leaf and, over the lower parts of the great mountain side, thousands of acres of green grass appear, some of them being taller than the trees that stand here. The first rain that falls in the desert is a great blessing, for it brings down the first rain that has been withheld for so long. It is a great blessing, for it brings down the first rain that has been withheld for so long. It is a great blessing, for it brings down the first rain that has been withheld for so long.

Migrations

As soon as the rains commence a great lesson seems lifted off the earth, and the tribesmen are freed from the pressure of the dry season. They are free to move about as they please, and to go where they wish. They are free to move about as they please, and to go where they wish. They are free to move about as they please, and to go where they wish. They are free to move about as they please, and to go where they wish.

FIRST BRITISH PILOT TO FLY TO AFRICA

THIRTY years ago, a two-engine Handley-Page 400 aircraft landed at Abkhari, near the first flight from England to Egypt and the first flight from England to any destination outside Europe. The pilot was British General Sir David White, who was the first to fly from England to Africa. He was the first to fly from England to Africa, and he was the first to fly from England to Africa.

Then and now: a study in models

Thirty years ago, Air Vice-Marshal A. B. Barton, then Brigadier-General Barton, completed the first England-Egypt flight. He was the first to fly from England to Africa, and he was the first to fly from England to Africa. He was the first to fly from England to Africa, and he was the first to fly from England to Africa.

IT IS surprising that the majority of the Africans living in Kenya today have little knowledge of the game of the country. They have little knowledge of the game of the country, and they have little knowledge of the game of the country.

There are many folk-tales about animals which they tell among themselves, and they tell to note that "the rabbit is a great character." They tell to note that "the rabbit is a great character." They tell to note that "the rabbit is a great character."

Chess: A GAME THAT WILL REPAY CAREFUL STUDY

By H. H. HARRINGTON

IN no other country in the world today has chess such a prevalence as in the United States and Russia and the general standard of play in the United States and World Championship down to the level of the amateur in his home—must be considered in its character as a study.

The following very fine game which was played in a recent tournament for the U.S.S.R.
Championship will well repay study.

White's sacrifice on the third move is a beautiful example of chess art.

Ten steps to stardom

Directed and starred round of the
L. Arthur Rank Organisation David Hemery, leaded the film world with his first feature film star.

1. Acting is acting and film work needs stage training, acting ability is wanted without training.

2. Don't worry about your level but don't model it on an established star.

3. Good department is essential, never stop thinking about the way you work—until general movement becomes a habit.

4. A healthy temperament allied with concentration is essential.
Some unknown in the theatre.

5. Adaptability to the ability to play the part of a Swedish count one day and a hoodlum the next.

6. Decisive and training in speech.

7. Height for men 5 ft. 8 in. for women 5 ft. 3 in. These heights help with casting but if you have ability, height is secondary.

8. Respectful facial structure.

9. And a good figure.

10. Winked twice and far women, small nose, thin lips. In addition to these qualities are the ability to act and can follow for success. Jean Simmons, with her nose and thin lips, was her best feature by winning the Venice Festival Award for the best performance of the year as Oppelia in Hamlet.

One of the more spectacular of the cinema numbers in The Pirate is the Capitol.

In the Capitol, which particularly in the life story, the rich but old and paunchy Doc Poddy (Walter Brinkley) love for her does not smooth course. And with Judy Kelly's love, the doctor's situation becomes still more complicated.

THEATRE ROYAL

A scene The City Dancer
which was one of the hits of 1923 brings again to the screen the old-time dancing partners Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers.

Advance publicity assures us that the diverse angle will not offend, it is done in a spirit of comedy.
The production is lavishly staged with sparkling dance numbers, and abounds with Hollywood humour.

The film is interesting from the clothes angle. What women wore and how they did their hair 25 years before the last war should make an interesting comparison with the new look of today.

GRAND CONSTANTIA

A casual observer of the architecture on the Union of South Africa would probably place more emphasis on the skyscrapers of the Rand than on the open-plan Early Dutch houses which form such a pleasant diversion to the countryside of Cape Province.

There are, however, numerous examples of this attractive form of architecture still remaining. Many of them, as in the case of Great Constantia near Cape Town, were designed as chairman for the years which still surround them and have served as centres for the wine industry ever since the seventeenth century.

NEWS FROM RHODESIA

South welcomes immigrants but housing is still a problem

"Immigrant" emigration commissioner FIGURES released here last week reveal that the number of immigrants entering Southern Rhodesia during August reached the record figure of 1,000 (declared by 259 of them totalled 1,003).

This was no sudden jump. While in 1928, the August figure was only 200 more than the record, and only 25 per cent greater in June, when the previous only record was set. August, September and October will probably produce similar figures. The bulk of the immigrants are arriving in Bulawayo, but most of the Colony's industry and business is centred here.

Bulawayo in fact received 877 of the 1,003 immigrants, were admitted, and that 104 of them were going to be expected in an expanded industrial country such as this into various manufacturing concerns.

Other towns and some 250,000 in each case—come from the United States, Canada, and the United Kingdom, and the United States, Canada, and the United Kingdom.

The rush

The recent August figure included 1,003 British subjects, of whom 1,192 came from Britain—215 of them by air. The overland rush by truck and car has also increased since the North African war, and the Government has been encouraged to encourage the use of the motor car.

Thomson's Falls October races

"TASMANIA" correspondent THE Thomson's Falls race course, situated as it is at the foot of rising hills dotted with the vivid green of wheat and the darker green of forest, surely one of the most scenic provided a perfect setting for the October race meeting.

Residents from Napier had turned up in force among them Captain J. B. Scourie, who never misses a meeting. Captain and Mrs. Williams were talking to Mrs. Hutchinson and Mr. and Mrs. B. A. C. Brown.

Mrs. W. D. Lockwood, who was accompanied by her husband, I. Collier, and Mrs. Leitch had come from O. Arabell.

Employment

Industrial classifications showed that 1,001 men were admitted, and that 104 of them were going to be expected in an expanded industrial country such as this into various manufacturing concerns.

Radio-activity and plant life

"THE effect of radio-activity on seed germination is being studied in the next few months at the Government agricultural station at South Africa.

A small quantity of radio-activity has been used to study the growth of plants in the presence of the element.

£15 MILLION FOR UNION'S OIL-FROM-COAL-PLANT

Standard Industries Corporation A £15,000,000 oil-from-coal industry is to be established in the Union.

South Africa has very great reserves of cheap low-grade coal not yet suitable for burning in furnaces or gas, but suitable for conversion into liquid fuel.

Union's petrol

According to the Liquid Fuel and Oil Act, of 1927, liquid fuel and oil produced in the Union under licence is considered to be South African.

Fulder-carbons

"It could hydro-carbon as a basis for an extensive chemical industry, and in this way serve to reduce our dependence on overseas sources for the supply of many chemicals, which may also be required in time of war.

The value of such an industry to the Union has also been stressed by Dr. R. F. Schindler, President of the South African Council of Scientific and Industrial Research.

At the beginning of the industry, it is understood, will not produce more than one-quarter of the Union's petrol requirements.
