Among the flowers akuru shoo

MANY NEW EXHIBITORS

OVERLY clusters of blooms, shrubs, individual roses on stems, money plants, guinea rack gardens in miniature and many really beautiful flowers in the bulbous rooted class were the feature of the Horticultural Section of the Nakuru Show.

Jumping took public eye

Everybody who could go was there

EVERYBODY went to the Nakuru Show fully determined to make it a first-class one—and such a combined effort simply could not fail. What the Secretary and his staff worked out and done by way of construction and organization, despite the heat that at their disposal, was remarkable for its smoothness and success and they were amply backed by both exhibitors and spectators.

It was on this note that the Show proceeded from strength to strength up to the minimum of July 2. There were no more visitors, but the show was a noticeable example of duty—helped by the fact that even grass which had been laid on the road for a certain distance outside the ground.

The cattle section, throughout these days, held pride of place as the greatest attraction. It was a magnificent display of the best of the breed, and the quality of the stock was of a high order. The show was a notable example of duty—helped by the fact that even grass which had been laid on the road for a certain distance outside the ground.

The Jersey Ring. Ring events were, as they always are, the real magnet with jumping the star attraction. Throughout the three days whenever the ring was infrequently closed, the real life crowds collected.

The Jersey Year. In the past has always been remembered in the light of the show, by the fact that it was the only year in which the "Jersey" Patriotic was carried off by the first prize. The latter fact was a tribute to the quality of the stock.

The Jersey Bull. The Jersey Bull was a magnificent specimen of the breed, and the quality of the stock was of a high order. The show was a notable example of duty—helped by the fact that even grass which had been laid on the road for a certain distance outside the ground.

For the Hospital. A building which was well equipped for the hospital was a notable example of duty—helped by the fact that even grass which had been laid on the road for a certain distance outside the ground.

Novelty. The novelty section, which was a notable example of duty—helped by the fact that even grass which had been laid on the road for a certain distance outside the ground.

The Police Band went the Retreat with the "Lovers' Farewell" as their theme.

Beauty. This it is to be a beauty, and indeed the fragrance and refreshing quality of the perfume, which is the charm and beauty, transcending all the other virtues of the perfume.

The cattle section. The attracting feature of the Cattle section was the extremely high quality of the bulls, transcending the quality of the other sections.

The Fruit. Township could be heard to gasp with amazement when they inspected the fruit exhibits in the show.

Judging Rings. The Standard had the opportunity of talking to several of the judges, who only critics of arrangements who had had three years under their belts and were not likely to be misled by the flattery of the exhibitors.

Traffic. Nakuru itself must have benefited considerably in additional trade, and it is no fair to say that the show was a failure.

MERINOS WON THE MUTTON CLASS

Produce. TAKEN as a whole the farm produce and dairy produce sections were interesting from the point of view of general interest, but less convincing from the other angle of the agriculturalist. Entries were by no means lacking, but there was not enough competition in some classes which ought to have attracted public interest.

Goats. This small section proved that mutton goat keeping in Kenya is very profitable on the increase and exhibitors like Mrs. Shale, Mrs. Blackwood and Mrs. Secombe presented their animals up from the Nairobi show on an exhibit which was extremely well prepared.

Districts. Judges were the winners in the Districts section and the moment of the judge's decision was a subject of much concern among farmers.

Sheep

It was a great pity that so few sheep were on the Show, despite the excellence of the exhibits produced. Kenya's wool clip and mutton output certainly a former could be higher.

SCHOOL FEES MAY RISE IN 1949

Committee's recommendations COMMUNAL responsibilities TO MEET RISING COSTS

THE KENYA Government is to suggest examining the terms in the Report of the Committee on Educational Expenditure submitted by the Council on Education and will be made in an early date. Mr. C. H. Thornley, Deputy Chief Secretary and member of the committee, yesterday announced the conclusion that although all the members did not regard the principle of communal responsibility as an ideal solution, they were prepared to accept it as a practical necessity provided that each community concerned is assigned an equitable share of the cost of the education that Government can afford to make towards non-education.

The report recommends "as a practical solution" that the education made from general revenue should be equally divided between Asians and Europeans. It also recommends the balance is rejected and an average in school fees to meet the balance as more open to acceptance. Having regard to all the factors and with the object of providing for a minimum of education for European children of five years during which no additional fee may be paid, the committee recommends the following increase in fees with effect from January 1949: European Primary: from £10 to £12; European Secondary: from £10 to £12; African Primary: from £10 to £12; African Secondary: from £10 to £12. The committee also recommended that the Government should contribute towards the cost of the education of children of five years during which no additional fee may be paid, the committee has calculated that the probable increase of school fees next year would exceed the increase of £10 per cent in the case of Indian children, £12 per cent in the case of European children, and £10 per cent in the case of African children. The committee has also calculated that the probable increase of school fees next year would exceed the increase of £10 per cent in the case of Indian children, £12 per cent in the case of European children, and £10 per cent in the case of African children.

Priorities

Thinking to Indian education, the Government has decided to reduce the amount of money to be spent on education in the next financial year. The committee has recommended that the Government should contribute towards the cost of the education of children of five years during which no additional fee may be paid, the committee has calculated that the probable increase of school fees next year would exceed the increase of £10 per cent in the case of Indian children, £12 per cent in the case of European children, and £10 per cent in the case of African children.

Tempered Wind

Sir Bertrand Glass, who was expected to resign from the committee, has been asked to continue his work. The committee has recommended that the Government should contribute towards the cost of the education of children of five years during which no additional fee may be paid, the committee has calculated that the probable increase of school fees next year would exceed the increase of £10 per cent in the case of Indian children, £12 per cent in the case of European children, and £10 per cent in the case of African children.

Debits ahead AMBASSADORS

It was clear that next year the United States and New Zealand are to raise the rank of Ambassador. The committee has recommended that the Government should contribute towards the cost of the education of children of five years during which no additional fee may be paid, the committee has calculated that the probable increase of school fees next year would exceed the increase of £10 per cent in the case of Indian children, £12 per cent in the case of European children, and £10 per cent in the case of African children.

SCOTS ON THE WARPATH: SPIRIT OF RUGBY

London Correspondent.—RUGGING by the form of the experimental XI which signally defeated Wales on October 21 at Cardiff, Scotland may well make a bold bid this season for supremacy in the international championship.

Writing on the present trends in Rugby football on the Sunday Dispatch, Bob Marshall expresses the view that the Rugby Union needs to do some strategic talking to the so-called top-class clubs. Scotland were forward tactics and spirit of the game. This season has been the most successful in the history of the game, and Scotland have been the most successful in the world. The point was underlined as Scotland's third goal in the 30th minute. The victory was backed by the entire team, and the fact remains that the team of the late Mr. J. G. Stewart, who was the captain, was the most successful in the world.

Minor-suit vs. no-trump

By JOSEPH GILBERTSON There is always a temptation, when holding a long solid minor suit, to try for game at notrump.

Often, that instinct is best. It pays, though it is not always so, to think of the contract as being a typical case.

Shifting to the South hand, it is almost enough that South might have had one spade instead of jumping to notrump.

SHANGHAI IN THE BATTLE AREA

Evacuation plans speeded up

Martial Law Proclaimed in Nanking Area

Martial law was yesterday imposed on about 60,000 square miles surrounding Nanking, the Chinese capital, as Government and Communist forces were locked in battle for its gateway to the north.

The area over which the law is effective stretches from Shanghai about 170 miles south-west of the capital, to Anking—about the same distance south-west, and from Hangchow, about 100 miles north, to Pengtao, 100 miles north.

Remaining portions of the martial law, also ordered to take effect last night over the entire area from 10 p.m. until 6 a.m. today.

Communist columns converging on Hangchow from the north and west met with strong resistance from Government troops.

Government reinforcements, including the vanguard of General Tu Yu Ming's 31st Army, evacuated by sea from Communist Manchuria, had arrived in the area to bolster the Government's eastern defenses earlier threatened by the defection of General Hsing Kwei-chang's 2nd Army.

The Government High Command was also reported to be transferring to Hangchow from Tzuoyun, capital of Shantung, 200 miles away, to join in the crucial battle around Hangchow.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is believed to have ordered the evacuation of the area to hasten the Government's withdrawal from Nanking.

The martial law commander in Shanghai is General Hsing Kwei-chang. He declared in a proclamation that he would lead the Government forces in the area and threatened to "drive" Communist forces out of the area.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is believed to have ordered the evacuation of the area to hasten the Government's withdrawal from Nanking.
