EAST AFRICAN TRANSPORT INCOME RECORD

£13,411,148 from the railways and harbours

RECORDING records of the East African Railways and Harbours Administration were broken last year. Gross revenue totalled £13,411,148—nearly £2,000,000 more than in 1950. Gross working expenditure went up also by £1,800,000. The total was nearly £10,600,000.

Passenger revenue was £2,352,324, out of which £991,740 was used to cover interest and sinking fund on the railway. The balance of £1,360,584 for operations—about £200,000 more than in 1950.

These figures are given in the General Manager's report for 1951, just published. Writing on the use of loan funds, it is a record of the year's financial progress. The determination in the value of money and the economy of the use of all materials, rolling stock and equipment, resulted in a reduction of the work done and in the amount of material required, against any good expenditure.

Capital expansion. The report is a record of the year's financial progress. The determination in the value of money and the economy of the use of all materials, rolling stock and equipment, resulted in a reduction of the work done and in the amount of material required, against any good expenditure.

Backlog up. The November backlog of the railway was reduced to less than half a million tons in December. However, the backlog of the railway was reduced to less than half a million tons in December. However, the backlog of the railway was reduced to less than half a million tons in December.

Kenya problem as television topic

OFFICIAL PAYS BUSY VISIT

ON Sunday, December 7, for 45 minutes, three and a half million people in Britain (if "viewer-research" estimates are to be trusted) will sit before television sets to see a programme now being developed to spotlight the race problem in Kenya. It is one of a series of programmes in which the B.B.C. plans to bring home to Britain the full effect of race relations on local and international peace.

And the idea was for the first time to be seen by the British public. The programme will be seen by the British public for the first time. The programme will be seen by the British public for the first time.

Big step. The Communist Party has taken a big step in its efforts to spread its influence in the world.

Background. It is a background of the world's news that is being reported in the press.

DISCOVERIES IN TANGANYIKA

Animal remains of quarter of a million years ago

It took the President, Mr. J. Hughes, and the guest speaker, Dr. G. S. R. Leakey, Curator of Caydon, Museum, all their time to lift the horns of a sheep after their heads to see that members attending yesterday's Rotary Club luncheon in Nairobi might see it. But the horns did not belong to an ordinary sheep. It was discovered recently by Dr. Leakey at Oldway Gorge in Tanganyika. With the fossil remains of other animals, it is one of the earliest remains of the Stone Age in Africa.

For the first time, Dr. Leakey has made the important discovery and his party made Oldway in 1937, of his hope that the Gorge may yet yield the fossil remains of other animals. It is one of the earliest remains of the Stone Age in Africa.

Unique. In a recent address, Dr. Leakey has made the important discovery and his party made Oldway in 1937, of his hope that the Gorge may yet yield the fossil remains of other animals. It is one of the earliest remains of the Stone Age in Africa.

DEATH OF GERMAN SOCIALIST

Man who dared oppose Hitler

DR. KURT SCHUMACHER, Chairman of the West German Socialist League, died at his home near Bonn, reports Reuters. He was 53. Eleven years in Nazi concentration camps had shattered his health.

He was a strong fighter for a reunited Germany, and clashed bitterly with the policy of the Chancellor, Dr. Konrad Adenauer, of cooperating with the West. He feared that it would lead to East Germany becoming a puppet State and the West being transformed into a puppet State and the West being transformed into a puppet State.

Humanitarian. The West World War, which interrupted his studies, led to a humanitarian approach to the world.

Agreement on coffee. The Kenya Coffee Marketing Board and the Government have reached an agreement on coffee.

KENYA SCOUTS TRAIN FOR HIGHEST AWARD.

By John G. Clark

PROBABLY you haven't the faintest idea how to tie a Fireman's Chair—one of the oldest knots for lowering an unconscious person from a height by means of a rope. It is still less likely that you would know how to construct a Lofted Bridge across a bushland river.

And very few people, particularly men, would be able to make much of a job of cooking a meal for six over an open fire in a hurriedly erected camp at night. And probably you won't need to do any of these things as long as you live—appreciating the fact that if the necessity ever did arise for you to tie the right knot, build a bridge or cook a hot meal it might mean the difference between life and death for someone.

There are, however, in Kenya 28 men—some of them European, some Asian and some African—who have just spent a week trying to prove to a body of experts that they know all those facts and many others like them at a camp out in the Ngong'ood Forest Reserve.

They are all Scoutmasters or Assistant Scoutmasters aged 19 to over 40 who have been taking Part II of the Scout Wood Badge—the highest standard of achievement it is possible to reach in the Boy Scouts' Association. The week-long course—combining instruction and examination—was held at the Kenya Scout's open air, Bovenland Camp, and was very far from the Royal Agricultural Society's Show-ground at Mitchell Park.

Permission has just been given by the Chief Scout of the Empire, Lord Buxton, to use his name for the camp which he himself opened on his visit to East Africa two years ago.

'WINDBAG' LINE A SIGN OF THE TIMES

by Dorothy Barkley

YET another suggestion of the way you can look this season is given by up-and-coming Scottish dress designer Ronald Paterson. He calls his new look the "Windbag" Line because it features an inflated jacket which touches the shoulder blades and fits closely over the hips. He teams this jacket with straight skirts as well as full skirts. He concentrates on "warm" colours, suggesting navy, copper, or tan combined with black. Colours accents are green, purple, blue, white, and gold. Fabrics include doulton (a wool and crease-free), long-haired yak (comes in lavender, blue, and plaid), and chelon jersey (comes in green, blue, and white). He also suggests green wool, or midnight blue wool in copper-coloured wool.

Grasshopper look

BY way of contrast with the London look, comes the "Grasshopper" look from Miss Chappelow's Paris line. It is a line of dresses and suits in which the shape and form of grasshoppers is imitated. Miss Chappelow has imitated the long, thin, and curved body of the insect in the shape of a hat.

MAKING ANIMAL BISCUITS

HERE is a useful and economical recipe for animal biscuits to feed the heart of any child. Ingredients: Three ounces margarine, three ounces sugar, one egg, six ounces flour, one pinch of salt, one tea-spoon coloured ink or vanilla essence. Method: Cream the fat and sugar first. Add the flour and salt. Add a few drops of vanilla essence. Form the dough into small balls. Bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes on a greased tin. Put the tin on a tray and bake for 10 minutes. Cool and eat.

YOUR HAND AS A GUIDE TO HEALTH

Not many people in the world have heard of the Society for the Study of Physiological Patterns. It is a society of people who are interested in the study of the human hand. One of its founders and a founder member, however, is Miss K. B. Hutchinson, now resident in London.

The bodies, which exist to separate people in the world, are the fingerprints. It is the study of these fingerprints that is the basis of the Society for the Study of Physiological Patterns. The study of these fingerprints is the basis of the Society for the Study of Physiological Patterns. The study of these fingerprints is the basis of the Society for the Study of Physiological Patterns.

Miss Hutchinson is incorporating most of the knowledge of the Society for the Study of Physiological Patterns into a new book which is being published in the near future. The book is entitled 'The Hand as a Guide to Health'.

WEDDINGS

By DERYK JAMES

There has been an amazing sequel to a note I wrote in these columns two or three months ago. As I indicated in that article, the home town in England, the only one where I had a collection of postage stamps, was being sent to me by a young man who had written me a letter to say that he had found a copy of my note and was sending it to me. I was very glad to hear of it and I had had a letter from him a few days ago. I had had a letter from him a few days ago. I had had a letter from him a few days ago.

I will now indicate that I have been able to find out who the young man is. It is the "boy" who wrote to me in the first place. He is now in the army and he has been sent to the front. He has been sent to the front. He has been sent to the front.

When I reached the stage of my collection, I was very glad to hear of it and I had had a letter from him a few days ago. I had had a letter from him a few days ago. I had had a letter from him a few days ago.

KENYA SCOUTS' FIRST WOOD BADGE COURSE

The training staff photographed with the new work table. The officers.

First attempts of the camp after its training were, appropriately, these Scouts engaged on qualifying for one of the highest levels of knowledge and responsibility and fitness that it would be possible to attain.

First time
It is the first time that a course for the Wood Badge has been held in Kenya. It has been held in Kenya for the first time. It has been held in Kenya for the first time. It has been held in Kenya for the first time.

Lofted bridge
The all-Adrian "wood-better" Patrol had been built to hold a Lofted Bridge between two trees a good 100 feet up. It was built of bamboo and wood.

Long day
THIRD day was a long one, beginning with a long, hot breakfast and doing the camp chores. The day was long, hot, and busy.

RIFT BETWEEN GENERAL NEGUBI AND PREMIER

Disagreement over Army's land reforms

CLEAVAGE between General Negubi, leader of the camp which ousted King Farouk, and the veteran Premier Aly Maher, who was picked by the Government to lead the Government, is reported by reliable sources in Cairo.

The Premier has threatened to resign over the question of land reforms, as it is his opinion that they will be pushed through with too much speed and without adequate preparation.

General Negubi, pressed by the 15-man military council which backed him, is reported to be trying to force the Premier to enact agrarian reform immediately.

The Army regards the land reform plan as the first step in the process of nationalisation and the Premier is reported to be trying to force the Premier to enact agrarian reform immediately.

WATER SCHEME FOR MOMBASA

£2,500,000 tender for piping

MOMBASA should get the first water from the Mzimba Springs in December, 1952. This is the largest deal for water from the Hydroelectric project—longest of its type in the world—from the springs to the Changamwe. It is the longest in the world.

Work on the plant project which involves the largest contract ever handled in the P.W.D.'s history will start next July, by which time the factory to manufacture the pipes will have been completed.

The tender for manufacturing the pipes will be for pre-stressed concrete, a process not for use in other Great Britain in the Empire—has been awarded to a firm from the Societe des Eclairages, which has prepared a contract for £2,500,000.

Out of seven tenders and from Great Britain, the British firm offered the lowest price. VOTERS ACT NOW LAW AGAIN

Union High Court decision

SOUTH AFRICA'S new Voters Act is now law again after a decision by the Union High Court of Parliament has decided to set aside an Appeal Court decision invalidating the Act.

The Act removed Coloured voters from a common roll with white voters.

Earlier this year the Appeal Court, then South Africa's highest court, declared unconstitutional and invalid legislation enacted by the Government in 1946 to give Coloured voters from Parliament a separate roll with white voters.

The Appeal Court's decision was based on the grounds that the Act was a violation of the Bill of Rights in the Constitution, which provided that all citizens were to be treated equally before the law.

The Union High Court, however, has now ruled that the Act is valid and that the Appeal Court's decision is set aside.

The decision is expected to have a significant impact on the political and social life of South Africa, particularly in the context of the struggle for racial equality.

A BID FOR POWER BY BEVANITE GROUP

SIX left-wing Labour Members of Parliament, led by Mr. P. Bevan, are making a bid to establish a powerful Bevanite group in the House of Commons.

The group, which would include Mr. Bevan, Mr. George Lansbury, and other prominent left-wing Labour MPs, is expected to challenge the leadership of the Labour Party.

The bid for power is seen as a significant development in the Labour Party's internal politics.

Press report 'exaggerated'

Double Atlantic flight times checked

THE Canberra jet bomber flew the Atlantic from New York to London in 15 hours and 52 minutes, according to a press report. However, the Royal Air Force has stated that the flight time was actually 16 hours and 52 minutes.

The press report was based on an incorrect calculation of the flight time.

The Royal Air Force has clarified the flight time to avoid any confusion.

What is a Square Engine?

A "Square Engine" is an engine in which the diameter of the cylinder bore is equal to the length of the piston stroke.

In the new Vauxhall engine, the bore (3 1/2 in.) is actually greater than the stroke (3 in.), so that, in the modern idiom, the Vauxhall is a 'square engine'.

For 30 years, the shape of British motor car engines was influenced by the I.A.C. Horse power rating used as a basis for taxation. Neither a measure of power nor of capacity, this formula was based on the bore of the engine and the number of cylinders. Length of stroke was excluded from the calculation. As a result the horse power tax encouraged the development of small-bore, long-stroke engines in British motor cars, long after the rest of the world had moved towards a more logical and natural bore-stroke ratio.

SWISS RADIO PLANS SERIES ABOUT KENYA

SWISS Radio will soon be broadcasting a series of feature reports on the way of life in Kenya, ranging from the story of the White settlers to an account of the African tribes and their customs. The reports will be prepared by a first-hand writer-journalist team who left the home town of Zurich on an African tour one and a half years ago.

They are Hans and Charlotte Leuenberger, who have been in the country for about 18 months, writing travel experiences from field notes and sketches. They have just returned to the state of the Red Sea in the East African coast. They have been in the country for about 18 months, writing travel experiences from field notes and sketches. Bracken-clearing campaign to cure land shortage

WITH no farms and no landlords, a farming revolution is changing the face of the land, and changing, too, the whole economy and the way of living of the people in large areas of the district. The movement is spreading.

It would be washed away by the first rain if it was not planted, but since planting grass is the whole object of the campaign there is no danger there. The more difficult part was to get the job done. The D.O. (Colonial Development) has tackled this part; he has provided the information, he has provided the money, he has provided the land, he has provided the labour.

Scores reflect condition of greens

"Horse" Golf Commences

FOR many golf clubs, the Captain's Polo has been the event of the year. Fairway and green grass, mown, new holes are cut in every green, painted and new flags hoisted.

So it was at the Hill Course last weekend when over 50 members gathered to play for the very attractive prizes presented by Mr. (Trustee) Captain of the Royal Nairobi Golf Club.

After their new "fast-living" treatment, the greens are in better order than for the last 18 months and the expected 50 members gathered to play for the very attractive prizes presented by Mr. (Trustee) Captain of the Royal Nairobi Golf Club.

To help the partnerships

Mr. John Stonehouse, who travelled from England on the maiden voyage of the Uganda, has just arrived in the Protectorate with his wife and two children to join the Federation of Protectorate of Uganda African Farmers. He stated yesterday that some in Uganda had the intention of the Federation and would be writing with him in the near future.

Mr. Stonehouse had been associated with the Cooperative movement in England and had been manager of International Trade Organisation.

He was a Labour Party candidate in the last two British elections and had been defeated by Sir Harry Gowers, who was in the Ministry of Agriculture.

Mr. Stonehouse said he had been engaged by the Federation in view of his experience in the field of his work.

He was accompanied to the Uganda by his wife and two children. He has been largely in the field of his work.

Support for action on land problem

TANGANYIKA WHITE PAPER

MEMBERS of all three—European, African and Asian—in Tanganyika Legislative Council have supported a Government White Paper on the Maru land problem. The White Paper, which was presented to the Council by the Governor, Sir Edward Twining, made an address from the chair, both in which he regretted that the present Government had not been able to deal with this case, which to the United Nations Trusteeship Council has been referred, and to the public through the Press. There have been a number of factors which have made the good name of the Government in this respect somewhat tarnished.

It was understood that the Maru land problem was a very serious one, and that the Government had been unable to deal with it in a satisfactory manner. The White Paper, however, was well received by the members of the Council, and it was stated that the Government's action in this respect was in accordance with the interests of the people of Tanganyika.

THE African interpreter who failed to present himself to give evidence for Mr. D. O. Brumage at Kibondo on Tuesday said yesterday that he did not attend the court because he had been informed that he was not to be called.

The case concerned the alleged murder of a European settler, and the African interpreter was one of the witnesses. His failure to appear in court was a significant development in the case.

SCIENTISTS AT WORK ON CATTLE DISEASE

Experiments with mice in effort to defeat foot-and-mouth

SCIENTISTS fighting foot-and-mouth disease which has cost the British Government £2,000,000 in compensation since last November are trying new experiments with unweaned calves of the Friesian breed. The calves, which have been infected with all the strains of virus originating from outside, might be used as a source of virus for further experiments.

The experiments are being conducted at a research station, and the results are being closely monitored. It is hoped that this work will lead to a more effective method of controlling the disease.

Water factor in expansion of Kenya

HOW water conservancy

It could lead to an increase in the number of the human population of Kenya. The water conservancy department is working on a project to develop the water resources of the Rift Valley. This project is expected to have a significant impact on the region's economy and population.

The conservancy department is also working on other projects to improve water supply and irrigation in the area. These efforts are seen as crucial for the long-term development of Kenya.

COOKING FAT TO COST MORE: CHEAPER ORCHARDS PRODUCTS

KIMBO, along with certain other cooking fats, came off the Price Control list last Monday. Few people noticed the fact for the price did not immediately shoot up. Most Nairobi grocers—members of the Kenya Wholesale Merchants' Association—are still selling at the price of last week, and it is not until the next week that they will be able to raise their prices.

The price of cooking fats is expected to rise significantly, which will likely lead to an increase in the cost of many other products. This is a concern for consumers and businesses alike.

Control off-haircut fees go up

HAIRDRESSING charges for men and women will rise in Nairobi from the beginning of September. The rates vary between 1/6 and 1/2. This increase is due to rising costs of materials and labor.

Customers are advised to budget accordingly for their hairdressing appointments. The increase is expected to be in line with other inflationary pressures in the economy.

Amenities

In a letter to the Government has promised a scheme for the betterment of the amenities of the Maru land. The scheme involves the construction of roads, bridges, and other infrastructure to improve the living conditions of the people in the area.

The Government is committed to providing these amenities as part of its development program. This is seen as a key step towards economic growth and social progress in the region.

Representation

Making his motion in the House, Mr. C. O. B. S. said that the Government should take steps to ensure that the interests of the people are properly represented. He called for greater transparency and accountability in government actions.

The House is expected to discuss this motion in detail, and it is likely that the Government will be asked to provide more information on its plans for the future.

Mass debate

Invitations to attend the mass debate on the Maru land problem will be sent to all members of the public. The debate is expected to be a significant event, as it will allow citizens to voice their opinions on the issue and influence government policy.

The Government is committed to listening to the views of the people and making decisions that are in their best interests. This debate is a key part of that process.

Power interlocked

The attention of the public is drawn to the fact that the power supply in Nairobi is now interlocked with the power supply in the surrounding areas. This is a result of new infrastructure projects and is expected to improve the reliability of the power supply.

Customers are advised to report any power outages or problems immediately to the relevant authorities. This will help to ensure that the power supply remains as stable as possible.

Balance

An official said: "We decided to balance the budget for the year 1952-53. This is a necessary step to ensure the long-term financial stability of the Government. It involves a number of measures, including cuts in expenditure and increases in revenue.

The Government is committed to maintaining a balanced budget and to ensuring that public services are not affected. This is a difficult but necessary task.

Bribe charge dismissed

Mr. G. O'Connor, Resident Magistrate at Mwanza, has dismissed a charge of bribery against a local official. The official had been accused of accepting a bribe in exchange for a favor, but the evidence was found to be insufficient.

The dismissal is a relief for the official, who has been cleared of all charges. The case highlights the importance of a fair and transparent legal system.

Holiday work for youths urged

The Ministry of Labour is urging employers to provide holiday work for young people. This is seen as a way to provide them with valuable experience and skills, and to help them gain a better understanding of the workforce.

Employers are encouraged to take advantage of the opportunities available to young people during their school holidays. This will benefit both the young people and the economy.

New police precautions

(Continued from page 1, col. 2) and that court proceedings were held in the presence of a large number of witnesses. The police have taken additional precautions to ensure the safety of all involved.

The case is being closely monitored, and the police are committed to providing a fair and transparent trial. This is a priority for the authorities.

Two deaths on Kampala road

In a road accident in Kampala, two people were killed and several others injured. The accident occurred on a busy road, and the cause is still under investigation. The police are working to identify the factors that led to the tragedy.

The families of the victims are being supported, and the police are committed to ensuring that such accidents do not happen again. This is a sad event for the community.

Latest aid

British aid workers in Africa have received a new batch of supplies. This aid is intended to support the development of the continent and to improve the lives of the people. The supplies include food, clothing, and other essential items.

The aid workers are grateful for the support and are committed to using the supplies to the best of their ability. This is a testament to the generosity of the British people.

Technical College Needs Endowments

It was highly desirable that the Technical College in Nairobi should be provided with endowments. This would ensure the long-term sustainability of the college and allow it to continue to provide high-quality education to the students.

The Government is committed to supporting the development of technical education in the country. This is a key step towards economic growth and industrialization.

Today's Cause List

At 10.30 a.m. the following cases were listed for trial: A case of breach of contract involving a local business. A case of assault involving a young man. A case of theft involving a woman. The court is expected to hear these cases throughout the day.

The court is committed to providing a fair and timely trial for all cases. This is a fundamental principle of the legal system.

Significant

In Nairobi the police stated that a significant number of people had been arrested in connection with a recent protest. The protest was held in support of a cause, and the police are working to identify the individuals involved.

The police are committed to maintaining law and order, and to ensuring that the rights of all citizens are protected. This is a priority for the authorities.

Holiday in India

Mr. A. N. M. M. has announced that a holiday will be observed in India on a certain date. This holiday is a day of national mourning and is observed by millions of people across the country.

The holiday is a significant event in the Indian calendar, and it is a day when people reflect on the challenges and achievements of their nation. This is a day of unity and solidarity.

Overseas troops fund

The list of names of those who have contributed to the Overseas Troops Fund is published. This fund is intended to support the families of British troops serving overseas, and to provide them with financial assistance during difficult times.

The fund is a testament to the generosity of the British people, and it is a way of showing their support for the armed forces. This is a noble and commendable cause.

THIS WAS THE SHOW THAT THE QUEEN SHOULD HAVE SEEN

By Brian Parkes

IN the ranks of The King's African Rifles—and other fighting units in East Africa Command—the soldier is no longer the plodding, ignorant African many still imagine him to be. He is a fully trained infantryman who, according to many of his officers, is just as competent as his job as a British National Serviceman.

Some soldiers from various services and air forces all over the world will take back this impression to their countries. For they have now—in a demonstration which should have been seen early this year by the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh—had what the soldier is, what he does and more important, the "African" smooth machine he becomes with training.

These pictures tell the story. First the raw recruits—in this case, Jahung in their tribal dress with buffalo-hide shields and antelope-horn headdresses.

Close the book on the progress—P.T., P.T. and more P.T. scientific—so-called—exercises are carried out so that the recruit knows from the start the most important maxim of a soldier's fighting formation— teamwork.

PROOF of the remarkable adaptability which the soldier shows towards his modern weapons is evident in the picture of the three-inch mortar detachment—and their snail-like target.

Do it not forget in the modern R.A.F. that the soldier "lays up" and shows in the picture that he is well up to the efficiency of any unit anywhere. — the Command's only "heavy unit"—armoured cars, which sometimes are equipped with 4,000 miles per hour.

And that to show that these modern fighters have not forgotten their old methods of waging war, an officer of the Armoured Cars confided: "On order my boys still take out their bows and arrows. They still like to shoot game that way."

At the top of its class—the Renault 750 goes from strength to strength. Here, in the 1932 form, is proved again to the 4-cylinder engine of more than 2000 cc. adds extra comfort and safety for 4 passengers—yet the Renault 750 still gives you all the sporting sensations you need. Its leather-trimmed interior, its elegant and efficient handling—yet with something always in reserve. But the 750's extraordinary petrol economy remains unaffected—a test by The Motor showed 30 m.p.g. at a steady 40 m.p.h.

All this plus improved telescopic shock absorbers and bigger brakes to provide extra comfort and safety for 4 passengers—puts the Renault 750 on a high quality level—unparalleled in light car motoring.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES OF KENYA

The Accent Is On Antiquity

THIS week's house, situated at Limuru, belongs to a well-known Nairobi businessman who has long been resident in the Colony—Mr. L. H. Treiman.

It is simply built of white and dark painted brick and white in the Suffolk style and faces onto a lawn of lush green from the end of which there is a splendid view towards Kilimangaro.

ONE of the many intriguing features of the house is the "spike" window of diamond leaded pane seen in the picture below, for interior lighting too.

The main part of the house was intended to be only a temporary African labourer's house but it decided to add on the stone-built dining room, picture on the top of the page.

Once inside the lounge, the impression of possession is emphasized by the huge fireplace, brass brackets, a copper watering can, a landing lamp and a pair of rare old prints flanking the big Dutch Baroque clock on the mantelpiece.

At the end of the lounge a handsome Welsh dresser holds an array of shining pewter and copper and old style Windsor kitchen chairs with upholstered seats. One of the chairs is a very early Windsor chair, here from the Louis XIV. period, which hangs an ornamental Regency mirror over the mantelpiece. Japanese vases and a William Morris grandfather clock, circa 1750.

TRAVELLING the driveway into the dining-room, which has a highly decorative ceiling, one notices the woodwork, one gets a view through the window and back "wall" into the terrace-courtyard garden.

At the end of the terrace, a well-lit lawn, two tennis courts and a swimming pool, are situated. The house is a fine example of a house built in a style which is a combination of the best of the old and the new. It is a house which is a credit to the architect and the builder.

In the afternoon, before Puyo, we stopped at a small settlement in the jungle. It was a small settlement in the jungle. It was a small settlement in the jungle.

Towed with ropes

Called for a while—two hours—before we were able to get the raft through. It was a small settlement in the jungle. It was a small settlement in the jungle.

THE THINGS THEY SAY

are quotations from S.B.C. files. I've ever seen were the drunk monkeys of Montaña. The monkeys were drunk from cotton seed oil, which is the foundation of the whole civilization of the Amazon. Man's essential work

In a party of six men, nearly as many of it spent in the forest. I had to be on the alert at all times. I had to be on the alert at all times. I had to be on the alert at all times.

Who'd be a film star?

"I would like to take this opportunity of celebrating the life of the so-called 'Cinderella' of all film actresses. Every week I see a picture of her. I see a picture of her. I see a picture of her. I see a picture of her. I see a picture of her.
