3,000 will work for their country

The Cabinet is forming a National Youth Service, initially of 3,000 young men from all racial and tribal groups, to work on national and regional projects throughout the country.

This is the second of several proposals announced in preparation to ease unemployment and raise the country's productivity. The first, for the agricultural industry and details of another scheme concerning community projects are expected to be released either today or tomorrow.

The scheme is also working on further plans to ease the unemployment situation. But it is the National Youth Service which is regarded as one of the top priorities and the Prime Minister, Mr. Kenyatta, has told his Minister for Labour and Social Services, Mr. Mwendwa, to get it definite date when the service would begin operations — "but it is not going to take long."

Details to be worked out

Certain administrative details have yet to be worked out by a committee headed by Mr. Mwendwa and comprising the Ministers responsible for Home Affairs, Works, Agriculture, Education, Finance and Health. One of their first tasks will be to appoint a director and regional authorities to the projects which the youth venture initially, units of 500 young men and the Ministry of Labour and Agricultural Cooperation.

The scheme will involve co-operating 2,000-acre farms which will be used as bases for the service.

Recruitment will be on a voluntary basis and Mr. Mwendwa emphasized yesterday that "official assistance would be provided where necessary."

"Some of these young men," Mr. Mwendwa said, "may be employed on their own farms or as seasonal workers. Others will be employed on the farms of other people. These young men will be employed on the farms for a period of one year. The minimum service will be for a year, but some will receive their food, working clothes and other necessities. They will work in self-disciplined groups on irrigated fields which will be developed into a modern agricultural system."

The National Youth Service will consist of a core group of 3,000 young men, Mr. Mwendwa said yesterday, and will call for 10 per cent of the country's population. It will be an integral part of the country's development and will be helpful in providing employment for the youth.

The Minister said that the service will be organized as a voluntary one, but that it will be an integral part of the country's development and will be helpful in providing employment for the youth.

Two pitfalls

"There must be close liaison between the Government and the private sector," Mr. Mwendwa said. "If the Government is not in touch with the private sector, it will not be able to organize the service effectively."

Mr. Mwendwa said that the service will be organized as a voluntary one, but that it will be an integral part of the country's development and will be helpful in providing employment for the youth.

Farmers may be made to employ more

FARMERS in the Trans Nzoia are concerned at the prospect of the Government bringing in an order forcing them to increase their labour forces by ten per cent.

Although no official announcement has been made yet, it is known that the Government is formulating a plan in connection with the critical unemployment situation and it is widely concerned with the position in a number of areas, one of which has led to increased stock thefts and general lawlessness.

The Government is having private talks with representatives of employers and these are expected to result in an order which may be required to make labour force increases in their respective areas.

The case against employers correspondents in Kitale said that it is known that the Government is formulating a plan in connection with the critical unemployment situation and it is widely concerned with the position in a number of areas, one of which has led to increased stock thefts and general lawlessness.

BILL TO AID U.K. CITIZENS

THE text of a proposed British Nationality Bill aimed at helping citizens of the United Kingdom and the Colonies to resume or relinquish their citizenship was published in London yesterday.

It would enable anyone to renounce citizenship of the United Kingdom in order to be a citizen of another Commonwealth country, or to become a citizen of the United Kingdom.

Under an extension of the last provision, a person who has acquired British citizenship by descent may now apply to be a citizen of another Commonwealth country, or to become a citizen of the United Kingdom.

Minister for Kashmir

Jama's Minister of State Mr. Lal Bahadur Shastri has been appointed Minister for Kashmir. He will be responsible for the administration of the State.

Negro nominated

Eight members of the Parliament have nominated Mr. Jaganmohan Reddy as Minister for the Negroes. He will be responsible for the administration of the community.

Revolutionary settlement programme re-working

Mr. William Chorley is chairman of the cooperative society in addition to running his own 50-acre farm. Mrs. J. J. is out the ministry's latest acquisition, a tractor and trailer mainly intended to collect milk from the settler farms when weather conditions are bad.

With the aid of a loan from the Government, Mr. Chorley has managed to build his farm up to 50 acres in light of the Government's policy of settling new settlers on the land. Mr. Chorley has managed to build his farm up to 50 acres in light of the Government's policy of settling new settlers on the land.

Perhaps the most important of all is the attitude of the individual settlers and their willingness to pool together as a community. The Prime Minister has noted a word which describes what is required in a national state—'harmony'.

Mr. Chorley's message is to encourage the cooperative and to look after his own farm. But he does, with a lot of help from the Government. He has a tractor and a trailer which are the most impressive pieces of equipment which any of the 17 Chama settlers have.

The settlers there have formed their own cooperative society and the rapid progress this has made is nothing short of remarkable. Virtually all the settlers in the area have become members and are contributing their faith in the cooperative to its growing success.

The sheep do well and some of them have been shown twice, the first clip yielding 100 lbs. and an average price of four shillings a pound, and the second clip, in a very noticeable improvement. Let's take a look at some of the other settlers on the Chama scheme, returning first of all to Mr. Chorley's farm.

She is a white one in grey.

Mrs. J. J. Chorley has two daughters, one of whom is a nurse. She is a very capable woman and has been able to help her husband in his work. She has also been able to help her husband in his work.

Second price

There were 18 in the East Africa Police against the Government. The Government has managed to build his farm up to 50 acres in light of the Government's policy of settling new settlers on the land.

The Reform Church of East Africa operates a twice-weekly clinic for the benefit of the settlers and residents in nearby areas. Mrs. Dr. E. W. Mason examines a young patient.

Back to normal after the mutiny

As a message to the nation, the military government in Tanganyika has been entirely content with the subsequent operation by British troops to disarm the soldiers of the Tanganyika Rifles.

With the last of the 45 British Marine Commando groups on Saturday, the tension which had been in the air through the previous week disappeared completely and life rapidly returned to normal.

Although the mutiny was not general, it had been widespread during Sunday afternoon.

The news yesterday that the British High Commissioner in Tanganyika, Mr. James Stewart, had returned to Dar es Salaam, was a sign that the situation was under control.

Mr. Stewart had been in the city since the mutiny broke out on Saturday. He had been seen in the city since the mutiny broke out on Saturday. He had been seen in the city since the mutiny broke out on Saturday.

I WOULD like to put my heartfelt congratulations to the three East African leaders for their appeal to the British Government to help them fight their forces to justice over in our three States.

To the British, I am very friendly to the sincerity of the appeal, but I am sure it will help to grant them the independence of their own countries.

Most of the world is waiting to hear what the three States have to say. It has been a long time since the British Government has heard from the three States. It should have heard from the three States before they were asked to help in any way.

A good soldier gives his life to serve in the army. He is not a cause of anything else but his own. He is not a cause of anything else but his own. He is not a cause of anything else but his own.

The three Governments should carry out their duty to their people. They should carry out their duty to their people. They should carry out their duty to their people.

We must allow our own independence to be threatened by the actions of other countries. We must allow our own independence to be threatened by the actions of other countries.

It is shameful and deplorable to keep the peace and the security of the nation to run into chaos through the destruction of the Government of the people and by the people for the people.

What happens when a civil war is started? It is not an attack on the nation, then it is high time we should be strengthened to keep law and order.

5 ways to try out a Volkswagen 1500

The VW 1500 was designed for two people, but for five. Therefore, try it out for all five people. One after the other. Be the driver. Adjust the seat, the backrest and seat till you are exactly the right distance from the instrument panel, the steering wheel and the pedals. The individual front seats are fully adjustable. Be the front passenger. Stretch your legs. Notice the grab handle over the glove compartment. The very thing when the driver has his hands sharply. Be the left rear passenger: Relax and make yourself comfortable, left arm resting on the well-padded armrest. Be the right rear passenger: Place your elbow on the right armrest. Solid comfort. Be the fifth passenger in the rear middle: You'll be surprised at how much room is left for another person on both your right and left. Because the VW 1500 is a five-seater, you might as well try it out five times. The nice thing about it is that it gets at any time. £873 AT THE COAST

Citizenship Bill another step ahead

THE British House of Commons has given its unqualified approval to a Bill to amend its citizenship laws and to amend its citizenship to get it back again. It is without fulfilling the normal residence requirements of the parent in the United Kingdom or a colony.

The Bill helps those who had to renounce United Kingdom and colonies citizenship to obtain or keep the citizenship of another Commonwealth country. Mrs. Mary Phipps, the House Under-Secretary, said the Bill was necessary because some new independent Commonwealth countries such as Kenya and Tanganyika did not allow dual citizenship.

WEEK-END STANDARD

Locally-produced vinegar can lead to new industry

Dr. A. R. Phanden examines aseptic acid bacteria. The flask in the centre of the tray contains pineapple juice being fermented to make pineapple wine and the flask to the right has yeastbacter culture in them.

The East African Industrial Research Organization's micro-biologist, Dr. A. R. Phanden, holding the pure aseptic acid bacteria which converts pineapple wine into vinegar.

The East African Industrial Research Organization — a department of the Common Services Organization which assists in the establishment of new industries, with special emphasis on the utilization of local materials — has manufactured a product which could give East Africa a new local industry.

The product is pineapple wine, the first national vinegar to be made in East Africa. Early last year the organization was asked to develop a commercial method for large quantities of pineapple juice being coming. A number of things were investigated, and it was found that some KALRO's research started experiments to make vinegar.

Obscure origin
As in many countries, vinegar is rarely used here, which has been used as a food preservative. It is made from many different fruits, such as grapes, and is known as wine vinegar. It is also used in pickles and dressings and is said to have a good effect on the stomach.

All natural vinegars are made by alcoholic and subsequent acetic fermentation of fruit juices or other liquids containing sugar. Both stages are brought about by living organisms.

Any convenient local source can be used as a natural source for vinegar. France's standard vinegar is made from grapes, while that of America comes from cider, and French malt vinegar is prepared from barley malt.

Scientists to discover unworked micro-organisms, and prepared plans to isolate and grow it in a pure form. This was done in the laboratory.

Rosinase sinks
The first fermentation is usually complete after four to five days when the yeast residue sinks to the bottom of the container, leaving a clear, clear pineapple wine.

The second fermentation — the most difficult part of the process — is achieved by adding small quantities of the yeast residue and yeast slurry. The yeast residue is said to sink to the bottom of the container, leaving a clear, clear pineapple wine.

Two methods
Once the initial vinegar is obtained, there are two methods of production namely the Orleans process and the Generator process. The former is the oldest, and appropriate for quantities up to several hundred gallons a month, the latter is used only in large scale production.

The Orleans process, which originated in France, produces a superior vinegar to the generator method and is used for the KALRO product. The wine is mixed with about half its volume of vinegar, poured into glass, earthenware or wooden casks — metal is never used, mainly because of corrosion, which are three-quarters filled and the bung-holes left open to allow the access of air, since oxygen is needed for this final stage.

The casks are kept at an even temperature in the range 70-80 degrees for about three months, when the white yeast and sediment is filtered and the vinegar removed after three or four months. A successive fermentation is a continuous process.

Greatly superior
It is greatly superior to artificial vinegars — the only ones so far produced in East Africa — and is at least as good as the best imported natural vinegars, which cost 1/20 per pint and would retail at about half that price.

The manufacture of industry products like vinegar which cost 1/20 per pint and would retail at about half that price.

The generator process, which consists in allowing a mixture of wine and vinegar to trickle through a large container or generator filled with absorbent material, such as wood shavings or hard wood chips from the bottom, could be used for quantities up to several hundred gallons a month, the latter is used only in large scale production.

Mr. Phanden taking a sample of the pineapple vinegar from the container which is used to filter residue to the bottom of the container to clarify the vinegar.

Dr. Phanden preparing culture media in which the aseptic acid bacteria can be grown.

How to cope with the pests and diseases

Without thinking in terms of disease and pests that attack trees, it is not too far from the truth to say that the most important factor in the control of these pests and diseases is the health of the tree. Some of the most common pests and diseases are:

Scale: These are small insects that live on the leaves and suck the sap of the tree. They can be killed by using a strong solution of kerosene.

Mealybugs: These are also small insects that live on the leaves and suck the sap of the tree. They can be killed by using a strong solution of kerosene.

Fungal diseases: These are caused by fungi and can be prevented by using a fungicide.

It would seem to be no reason why an actor should not enjoy himself on the stage, but when John R. Macdonald, who has recently played the Duke in "The Captain," took his first stage job he was criticised for enjoying himself.

The actor says that the chief reason for his enjoyment of his first stage job was that he was able to go to the theatre and see the play which he was acting in. He says that he was looking forward to the first night of the play, and that he was very nervous on the night of his first performance.

Uganda takes up with farmers

A group of some elderly European farmers in a 71,000-acre Uganda plot in the Rift Valley Region have virtually given up farming because of the insecurity, the security situation and labour problems have caught up with them.

SCATTERED PROBLEM CAN RUIN FARMING

The chairman of the Rift Valley Regional Agricultural Board, Mr. R. Slaughter, said yesterday he had visited the area and was appalled to see the amount of abandoned land.

Most of them are surrounded by tracks of abandoned land or forest and, in the words of one of them, "all we do now is sit and hope" as cattle, when they are stolen, stores broken into and labourers are taken.

The triangle of land is bordered by the Anasapui Forest station, the Lesosio police station and the Kipkabus Railway station.

"It was a horrid sight," he added. "The Regional Assembly, in conjunction with the Central Government, is considering taking over abandoned or unmanaged land, and, if necessary, leasing it to suitable applicants."

Mr. Slaughter said that the British Government funds have apparently run out. There is no ray of hope in the future. "We cannot farm here because there is no hope of being bought out."

A European farmer said at the 3,000 acre plot, Mr. Slaughter said, the land is lying waste. Another farmer, said Mr. Slaughter, said that the British Government funds have apparently run out. There is no ray of hope in the future. "We cannot farm here because there is no hope of being bought out."

YURU F.A. FIGHTED Tribal League to be re-organized as crowd-puller

NAKURU football for the first time in the new constitution under the control of Africans, and the new constitution of the Nakuru Municipal Football Association, which was organized at a meeting which transferred equipment and facilities from the Municipal Council's Social Services department to the newly-constituted F.A.

Mr. Ombura, who is also secretary of the Nakuru Football Union, played for the Nakuru and Naika from 1935 to 1937 before he turned to refereeing. He is now a grade one referee.

The first job he had to do in the organization of the new league was to select a referee, which he did in a matter of days.

In every way it is hoped that the "shaky" situation of the Nakuru soccer is at least back to the credits by the African League.

No break-away
Mr. Ombura is also determined that the African League will stay in the National League. He says that the break-away was not the intention of the African League.

He believes that the initial football-champy season, with the new constitution, will show the National League fixtures should remain on the ground.

The new secretary of the Nakuru F.A., who is also secretary of the All Stars and Kenya Indian Football Clubs, is Mr. J. M. Ombura, who is also secretary of the Social Services, is an enthusiastic member.

Eldoret tennis is 'flourishing'
Mrs. Ombura has been selected as the new captain of the Eldoret tennis club, with Mrs. P. J. Treadwell as secretary.

The club, which was formed in 1935, has been flourishing since Mrs. Ombura took over. Last season, the secretary, Mrs. Treadwell, was elected captain and she has been successful in securing a new tennis court for the club.

U.K. TROOPS TO BE REPLACED Tanganyika will get help from Africa

Ceasefire in Cyprus after 50 die

The Council of Ministers of the Organisation for African Unity last night accepted Tanganyika proposals for the replacement of British troops in the country by forces from other African countries.

Missionary killed by buffalo at Coast

A missionary by the name of Mr. Morton Joseph was killed in a buffalo attack on the South Coast of Tanganyika.

The four-point proposals which the Council of Ministers accepted were recommended by a 12-member sub-committee. They included the replacement, as quickly as possible of the British troops in Tanganyika by troops from independent African States, according to informed sources.

Tanganyika reserved the right to decide which African States should be approached to supply troops and the duration of their stay would depend upon how long it took Tanganyika to train a new, loyal and disciplined army.

The African troops which would be supported by members of the O.A.U. would be under the direct control and command of the Tanganyika Government, it believed the force may also include an air wing.

'All is running smoothly'

The conference has now gone on to consideration of the Somalia-Ethiopia border question. One delegate said the matter is not night. 'All is running smoothly within the four countries are completely demonstrating their solidarity.'

The conference is expected to end today or tomorrow. While most delegates were in favour of allowing the Ethiopia and Somalia border dispute to be aired at the meeting, some said they felt they were without a mandate to make a positive decision on the matter and it might be better to defer it to the full session of Foreign Ministers in Lagos in February 1964.

100 AFRICAN MAGISTRATES IN KENYA BY JULY

It is planned to have about 100 African magistrates in Kenya by July this year and have a further 100 people able to carry out all the country's magisterial work in five years.

This was revealed by the Attorney-General and Constitutional Affairs, Mr. Mbiya, when he gave further details yesterday of the Government's plan for reviving certain aspects of Kenya's legal system.

The Minister, although he seemed to have enough local people to act as magistrates within five years would depend on the training offered themselves for Africans with legal training as "candidate magistrates" who would be given increasing responsibilities as they gained experience.

The Public were being asked to train their officers to give prosecutors in the primary courts and be by planning to give them the opportunity of becoming lawyers.

DISCRIMINATION TO BE REMOVED

Mr. Mbiya, speaking at a Press Conference given on Monday's plans was to remove discrimination in the Government included the abolition of the Ad Hoc courts and their replacement by primary courts in which selected persons could be represented by lawyers.

The different tribal laws were to be replaced by the law of reference and Parliament would be asked to consider the law of inheritance. Mr. Mbiya said he would like to avoid the kind of situation in the past which had arisen because of the complications in ownership of property and land.

In the case of land, there had been a situation where one man owned the land but the title was in the name of another man. Mr. Mbiya said the new law would ensure that the landowner would have the title in his name.

He also mentioned that the new law would ensure that the courts would be able to deal with the inheritance of property and land.

The Minister said that the new law would ensure that the courts would be able to deal with the inheritance of property and land.

Mr. Jamison, who came from the tobacco family of Uganda, had been working in the finance business since he was 17.

Mr. Stewart-Lochart, who worked with the company's marketing department, had worked to lay the foundations of the present marketing system. Later, before entering public relations, he took on the task of formulating the advertising policy.

"His ability to do well in the varied jobs he has done is probably why he has become Jimmy, who is no mean specialist in his various fields," Mr. Stewart-Lochart said.

Mr. Stewart-Lochart said he was "pleased to have Jimmy's services and I trust he won't be forgotten by his many former employers."

Mr. Jamison is expected to spend the remainder of his time in London.

World scientists welcome Kenya space project

THE news that the Italian Space Commission is to carry out experiments in Kenya in the near future to investigate the upper atmosphere is being warmly welcomed by scientists in this country because of its special interest in understanding the behaviour of our atmosphere as a whole.

Prof. A. N. Hunter, Professor of Physics at the Royal College and Chairman of the East African Commission for Geophysical Research, who is co-operating in the project with Prof. Luigi Piccoli, chairman of the Italian Space Commission.

Much to be done

It is clear, however, that much more work has to be done before the results of the observations can be used to advantage. It is necessary to discover new methods of observation which will enable the observations to be carried out in the most favourable conditions.

W.V.S. CLUBS CAN BE FOUND ALL OVER THE WORLD

In the standard English dictionary a welfare worker is defined as one who, by his efforts, "makes his worth living for employees." It is not doubtful that the British Army welfare worker is one of the best of his kind, but they do try to make his life a happier one when he is far away from home.

They provide clubrooms, staffed and run by women voluntary workers in which a Government can rest when he is off duty. These welfare workers belong to the British branch of the Women's Voluntary Service, an organization formed in Britain in 1917 by the Dowager Marchioness of Reading to meet the needs of a country on the verge of war.

Today the W.V.S. in it is not only in Britain but in 100 other countries. In the United States, the British Red Cross and the American Red Cross are the main organizations in the United States. The W.V.S. is a non-profit organization and is not connected with any political party. It is a voluntary organization and is not connected with any political party. It is a voluntary organization and is not connected with any political party.

By ANITA MACBIBBIN

It is not a matter of course that the welfare worker is a woman. In fact, the vast majority of welfare workers are women. This is because women are more likely to be available for such work than men. The W.V.S. is a women's organization and is not connected with any political party.

SECRETS OF A RISOTTO

MAKING a risotto is a simple but delicate art. It involves the use of a special rice, a good stock, and a little butter. The secret is to stir it constantly and to add the liquid gradually. The result is a creamy, tender dish that is both simple and elegant.

THE SECRET OF HAPPY MARRIAGE

Is marriage a failure? Why have so many marriages gone wrong since the advent of the Catholic Church? Why have many who marry today regretted the decision? Do Catholics "run away with it" or something else?

There are countless worth-remembering. The Church has always been a source of strength and support to those who are truly in love. It is not the Catholic Church that has caused the divorce rate to rise. The Catholic Church has always been a source of strength and support to those who are truly in love. # RUGBY PROBLEMS WORRIES, SAYS CAPTAIN

A major gripe — some with a few more wistful ones — is that the Athletic Club rugby pitch will be used for other sports in the lowland. The N.A.C. will be led by the 1956-57 season and it is hoped to be able to stay top side in the country.

The club's secretary has problems, but the captain, Watson, is not worried about their prospects. All the team's players are from the N.A.C. and XV players are likely to be available.

For Alan, the captain has a good idea of what he wants. He is looking for a team that is strong in the scrum, has a good outside and a good center. There should be a good number of players who are good in the scrum, and two or three who are good in the scrum.

They are both with the Kenya club at Lamu and it is expected that they will be in the club for some time.

He said that he has been to the club and has seen the players. He is looking for a team that is strong in the scrum, has a good outside and a good center.

Dormant out of National

The trainer, Mr. Neville Cross, announced that Dormant will not play in next month's match against the Kenyan XV.

Although well handicapped and one of the best players, Dormant has always been a doubtful starter, and this time is still a young horse, with only one start under his belt.

Mr. Cross, who has been in charge of the national team since 1954, said that he had spoken to the players and they had agreed to play in the match.

Nairobi clubs are barred UP-COUNTRY ONLY HOCKEY TOURNAMENT

A HOCKEY tournament open to any club or club in the Nairobi area is being organized for the first time in Nairobi next month. The competition will be restricted to the upper country, which is the area outside Nairobi, although it is actually held in Nairobi.

A handbook reply has been received from the Nairobi Hockey Association, which has agreed to the tournament.

The competition will take place on the weekend of March 6 and 7, and there is more than a dozen teams only. The Nairobi Hockey Club will be the only team from Nairobi.

The view is that Nairobi has enough players to field a team in the hockey world, and the tournament will be a good one for the city.

All the games will be played on the 15th and 16th of March. Each entry must be accompanied by the 20/- entrance fee, and the 10/- deposit for the trophy.

Race to beat rains

Standard Correspondent, Nairobi.
ENGINEERING teams at the Kisumu Council are working against the clock to complete a water-lifting scheme in the water's Chapungu area before this year's rains begin.

The scheme involves the preparation of 181 small earthen dams to provide water for cattle and domestic purposes. Finance for the development has been forthcoming from the Kisumu County Council, the Fordist Aid Society, and the County Council.

A Kisumu family waits on a hillside for water to be pumped from the dam to form the rest of one of the 181 dams.

KISII 'TENSE' OVER EDUCATION LACK

THE Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Justice and Constitutional Affairs, Mr. James Nyagwaya, wrote a letter yesterday to the Minister for Education over the lack of facilities for secondary education in Kisii.

Mr. Nyagwaya stated that the Government was not doing enough to meet the needs of the Kisii people. He pointed out that the Kisii District had 18,000 students at the Kenya Preliminary Examination, but only 100 were given places in secondary schools. He urged the Government to take steps to increase the number of places.

Mr. Nyagwaya said that although the Kisii people appreciated the limited resources of the Government and local authorities, they felt that something should be done, however small it might be, to help a few of the students to enter secondary schools. He suggested that the Ministry should give a target intake in Kisii and Machakos districts in the next year.

He also suggested that the Ministry should consider the possibility of providing more places in the Kisii District. He stated that the Government should give priority to the Kisii District in the next year.

THE Nyasaland Premier, Dr. Banda, has offered five police officers (two inspectors, two sub-inspectors and one sergeant) to the Republic of Zanzibar in aid of the training of the Zanzibari Police Force.

Coast milk scheme has record year

THE total milk collected within the Mombasa Milk Scheme area in the Coast Region and processed at the two plants during 1963 exceeded 1,000,000 gallons, a record for the scheme. Of this, three-quarters came from Kibaha District and the remainder from the respective county councils.

During the year the total milk produced in the Mombasa Milk Scheme area was 1,000,000 gallons. This was an increase of 10 per cent on the production of 900,000 gallons in 1962.

The increase in production was due to a number of factors, including the expansion of the scheme to include the Mombasa Milk Scheme area in the Mombasa District. This area had a population of 1,000,000 people and a large number of small-scale milk producers.

The expansion of the scheme was made possible by the Government's decision to provide more places in secondary schools in the Kisii District. This decision was a result of the pressure exerted by the Kisii people and the Government's commitment to provide education for all.

Article and photographs by JAMES ASHE

Mr. James Ashe, the author of this article, holds a male snake in his garden at Ash River. These snakes, which are non-venomous, are of enormous importance in rodent control.

Away from its normal surroundings, but equally well camouflaged as it sits on the ground, is this striped grass snake. The striped grass snake has a powerful venom, but it is so effective on little lizards that it is a common sight.

NEW BRILLIANCE! NEW CLARITY! New Pilkingtons' float glass outdates plate glass

PILKINGTONS'

GLASS

FLOAT-INVENTED AND MADE BY PILKINGTONS

Float glass is a Pilkington achievement—the biggest advance in glassmaking for more than a quarter of a century. This answer to the glassmaker's dream of making a glass with the distortion-free parallel faces of plate glass without the need for grinding and polishing was invented by a Pilkington research team and has been developed to a full production programme by Pilkingtons' technicians. Now Float glass, the glass that sets standards in window and mirror brilliance is being produced by one of the largest glass furnaces in the world. Until Pilkingtons produced Float Glass, plate glass was recognized as the top quality glass. (Most plate, incidentally, is still made by plate developed by Pilkingtons' engineers. New Float has made plate out of date.)

London's new landmark, the Victor's Building on Millbank is glazed with Float.

PILKINGTONS—A WORLD-WIDE SERVICE

Pilkingtons' glasses are available from glass merchants everywhere, and in every region there is a Pilkington representative or agent in direct contact with the company's vast manufacturing, advisory and research departments ready to help on any application—immediate.

PILKINGTONS the greatest name in the world of glass

PILKINGTONS LEAD THE WORLD IN RESEARCH

At Latham in Lancashire, Pilkingtons have built the world's largest and most up-to-date glass research laboratories. The Latham Laboratories, with their staff of 500, are constantly exploring new developments in glassmaking aimed at giving the designer and builder better and more exciting materials to work with. Pilkingtons operate, too, the world's largest glass analytical laboratory, which keeps a constant check on the products of Pilkington factories all over the world.

KENYA-BRED DOGS ARE PREFERRED BY POLICE

WHILE Kenya's police dogs are being bred higher and higher there is concern in Britain that the quality of the five-legged breeders of the law may fall even as they are preferred more than two or three feet of the ground.

British veterinarians have issued their views on the breed of dogs used by the Kenya police, and the Police Dog Training School at the Police Dog Training School, which has been in operation for over 10 years, has issued a report that British dogs are being imported for them and imported from Germany.

It is believed that many of the 100 police dogs in Kenya are of the type known as the Police Dog Training School type, which is a cross between the German Shepherd and the English Setter.

It is not clear why the Kenya police are so keen to get to run into the country of the Police Dog Training School, which is a cross between the German Shepherd and the English Setter.

... in a costing of £1m.

A big step in the establishment of Kenya was taken at Thika yesterday when a £1 million textile factory owned by United Textile Industries Ltd. was opened.

The manager has been identified as a representative of the firm's Japanese parent, United Textile Industries Ltd., and a Japanese cotton spinners' association, Nippon Spinning Co. Ltd.

By the time the factory is fully productive it will be making 10,000,000 yards of cotton cloth a year and will be fully "vertical" — making the cloth all the way through from the fields to the ground for the first time in Kenya's textile industry.

The factory was founded by Dr. Kioko and his group in last the first of a three-stage plan. It has cost about £2,000,000 and is geared to an annual production of 10,000,000 yards of cotton cloth. Later stages in the development will provide spinning facilities so that the company will be able to spin cotton grown in East Africa, and possibly a weaving mill for the production of patterned and checked cloth.

'Shining example'

Speaking about this project, the Japanese Consul-General, Mr. Yamamoto, has said that Japan was eager to participate in the industrialization of Kenya and he hoped other companies would follow this lead.

Tenders submitted for the largest proportion of Japanese exports to Kenya last year were from the new textile mill in Kenya, said officials.

The chairman of U.T.I., Mr. Lakhnani Shah, said this week that the project was a "shining example" of the three-stage industrialization drive launched by Kenya last year. The first industrial asset, he said, cost about £1,000,000 and was being produced by the new Japanese mill at Thika.

Of the £1,000,000, about half had gone to the ... machinery, wiring and other equipment, and the building of the factory. The mill is situated on the site of the former Kenya Cotton Spinning Co. Ltd. mill, which was closed in 1952 and was used for the production of 100,000 yards of cotton cloth a year.

The mill will have a capacity of 10,000,000 yards of cotton cloth a year. It will be the largest textile mill in Kenya and will be the first to be built in Kenya since 1952.

Future plans

Although getting was an early objective, the mill will also produce a wide range of textile products, including woven and knitted fabrics.

Kenya's cloth

But it was not possible that the Kenya textile industry would be established in the next few years. The industry is still in its infancy and it will take some time to become a major sector of the economy.

... explained the need for U.T.I. to create a specialized "Kenya" variety of cloth which was suitable in the future market for "Kenya-made" goods.

The first stage of the factory has been in operation for some months and the first batch of cloth has been produced. The factory is now producing 10,000,000 yards of cotton cloth a year.

From British and other sources the various partners, Germany and Britain, and the powder drive and the mill, which is a product of Germany and Japan. One local industrialist has said that the mill will be the first to be built in Kenya since 1952.

Technical staff have been brought in from Japan to help in the design of the mill. The staff will be working within a few months of the factory's opening.

The cotton yarn arrives at the mill in large bales which come by sea from Japan. Here Hajiro Wanjiru unpacks the quarter-pound bales of yarn and hangs them on racks ready for the dyeing process.

Chairman of the United Textile Industries (Kenya) Ltd., Mr. Lakhnani R. Shah, is seen above inside the new mill at Thika.

It was he who evolved the idea of producing cotton cloth in Kenya after visiting Japan on business for Hemraj Bharmal Ltd.

Left: For special orders the company prepares specific dyes. Mr. Peter Karikau has been experimenting in recent weeks with colors in the firm's laboratory. The results have been most satisfactory.

Although the East African territories are at present primarily concerned with the production of agricultural crops, it is essential for the economic progress of the people and the raising of their standards of living that other sectors of development are developed.

Numerous industries have been established in recent years and with the assistance of Training Within Industry skilled craftsmen are making their place in factories and workshops.

The bunks of yarn, dyed in many colours, are taken to this temporary drying shed before being woven into cloth. Right: The so-called mechanical transfer the dyed yarn is directed on to wooden cones in preparation for a later stage in the weaving process.

FAR EAST TRIP STARTED IDEA FOR TEXTILE INDUSTRY IN EAST AFRICA

SINCE 1959 Mr. Lakshmi Shetty, a director of Hemraj Bhargava, has been visiting Japan regularly on business trips. It was while he was being shown over the giant Shikoku textile works that he thought of his idea. East companies instead of having to import cotton cloth from Japan.

In 1961 he met two Japanese industrialists who were interested in such developments and with them he formed Takashika Textile Ltd. This company started in Dar es Salaam with 10 looms and has now grown to 100 looms producing 2,000,000 yards of cotton a year and employing 600 workers.

The company could increase its output still further but the industrialists set up by Hemraj Bhargava, Lakshmi Shetty and the Japanese textile makers. Masaru Shigen, former director of textile industry in Japan, was invited to establish a blanket-manufacturing plant in Dar es Salaam. Production started in 1962 at the rate of 1000 yards a month. The plant now manufactures 2000 yards a month.

The plant is the possibility of forming a textile manufacturing company in Kenya started in 1961 when Mr. Shetty was visiting Japan. The Japanese firm was one of the biggest weaving companies in the world and the Hemraj Bhargava Company - a textile manufacturer, spinners, miners and exporters and co-operations, agreed to support the

In the same year it was announced that the Minister for Commerce and Industry, Dr. Kiambu and the then Permanent Secretary in the Ministry, Mr. S. A. Mwachia, were seen on the site.

The plant now manufactures 2000 yards a month. It is a joint venture between the Japanese company and the Hemraj Bhargava Company. The plant is now producing 2000 yards a month. It is a joint venture between the Japanese company and the Hemraj Bhargava Company.

Dress factory planned

A CLOTHES factory which would make dresses and skirts from the cloth woven at Thika may eventually be built by U.T.I. next to the mill.

The chairman, Mr. L. B. Shah, said this week that originally he had suggested this to Japanese collaborators but it was decided to establish a mill as a first priority. A dress factory would not take all the mill's output but it would give U.T.I. with complete technical production from the cotton fields to the shops.

At present, all the rolls of cloth produced at Thika will be sent through Nairobi. The cloth would retail at between 25 and 35 a yard, Mr. Shah said.

Far cheaper

As U.T.I. did not have to bear heavy transport costs, their cloth would be far cheaper than the equivalent quality of imported cloth.

In the production of 2,000,000 square yards of cloth a year, the factory expects to use 10,000 bales of 2,000,000 lb. of cotton yarn.

It is unlikely that the later stages of development will include the opening of shops to sell the firm's output. The three participating firms—Kenya Industrial (Kenya) Ltd., the company and will distribute the cloth produced at Thika. Because of this, their company starts with a good knowledge of the types of cloth and designs wanted in Kenya. It will produce a highly coloured gingham and twills to be made into shirts, dresses and curtains. Checks come from a Maitai woad for a striped or check cloth woven cotton fabric. Twill is a cloth with a "ribbed" effect brought by weaving the weft more over and under the warp.

Staff facilities

U.T.I. hopes to have some of the most modern staff facilities in Kenya with a canteen, shop, and its own staff housing. At present, housing for the mill workers now employed is being rented from the Thika town. About ten percent of the labour force is female. The Board is considering a scheme to send performing young workers to Japan for more specialized training with the Japanese company. These students will then bring the Thika factory abreast of all the latest developments and techniques for the industry.

The company has been aided by the Thika Board in employing young people to be trained. The amount of training considered, and some amount may be based on telephone operators and postmen.

The sales of the United Textile Industries factory of Thika had exceeded its target for the last year, the Clerk to the Thika Municipal Council, Mr. A. W. Procter, said yesterday. He noted the factory was booming.

Clean air

It is an important thing for us is that it means more clean air for the town. Procter said that the factory would also have a water and sewerage system.

The first of which U.T.I. had bought all the land for the project was vested for the Government and used as a site for an industrial zone.

The Thika Council president, Mr. J. B. Shah, said that the Government is to improve roads and the drainage system. He said that the U.T.I. would be the main beneficiary.

Finally, the cloth is woven on one of the factory's 108 power looms. Here a signaller supervisor, Mr. Masanda Oduho, from Oduho, who is leaving African workers to operate the looms, watches the shaftless loom from side, weaving tartan cloth.

Recent expansion

Recently the company has expanded its facilities and has built a new building for the manufacture of the United cotton articles.

The expansion of the company is a result of the growth of the Japanese textile industry and the demand for Japanese goods in Kenya. The company is now producing a wide range of Japanese goods, including cotton and mixed fibres.

First there was the outcome of the London conference of the International Coffee Council at which agreement was reached to allow Uganda to export another 20,000 tons of coffee this year, and then the Prime Minister announced a rise in the export price from 45 to 50 cents a lb.

The London conference did not give Uganda all it wanted, but the relaxation was welcome. # TARGET FOR KENYA ATHLETES

A.A.A. plan fixture with eye on Tokyo

With the chance of selection for the Tokyo Olympic Games in sight, Kenya's top athletes will have a rewarding target at which to aim in 1964. A.A.A. has arranged a season's fixtures accordingly. Many of the season's fixtures in Kenya will take part in the Western Districts of East Africa. The Kenya A.A.A. is also taking steps to ensure that its top country runners and sprinters will be in good form for a month-wide endurance test in Europe.

The season's top country athletics fixtures have not yet been completed, while the date for the Kenyan A.A.A. fixtures for the Kenya Districts has yet to be decided upon.

But in view of the mounting pressure on the Kenyan athletes, the Kenya Olympic selection committee has decided to hold a preliminary trial in July or early August. This will give the Kenyan athletes a chance to show their form and to be selected for the Tokyo Olympic Games.
