Ghana plan turned down in Lagos

MEETING THE MASCOTS

Deportation for S. Sudan missionaries

THE Sudan Government yesterday announced it would deport all the 526 foreign missionaries — Catholic and Protestant — working in south Sudan.

The 519 holders reports of recent uprisings and terrorist activity in the southern Bahr of Ghazal Province, have never and recently associated, was a Catholic-educated son of a Dinka chief.

Announcing the Government's decision at a Press conference yesterday, Sudan's Foreign Minister, Mr. Mohamed Ibrahim, said that the British, American and other foreign missionaries had been expelled from the Sudan because of their activities in the Sudan, which were considered to be a threat to the Sudan's security.

The British Prime Minister, Mr. Winston Churchill, said that he would like to see a negotiated settlement of the Sudanese situation.

The Cyprus crisis was also mentioned in the Prime Minister's speech. He said that the Government would continue to work for a negotiated settlement of the Cyprus situation.

Mediation plan planned

The committee also discussed and approved reports of the five special commissions dealing with O.A.U. housing matters before passing to the second and one of the most controversial points in the agenda.

This is the question of setting up permanent mediation, arbitration and conciliation commissions intended to deal with territorial claims and other disputes which might arise between member States. The report was understood to have said that such a commission would do away with the necessity of calling extraordinary sessions of the O.A.U.

Nairobi market active with interest in E.A.P. and L.

LONDON FIRM BUT QUIET
LONDON stock markets remained active on a quiet confidence note, but there was little movement in prices at first.
Auctioneers were steady at several important government sales. Auctioneers were busy at several important sales, including the sale of the Government's stock of gas turbines for the power industry. The sale, which was held at the Royal Exchange, was one of the largest of the year.
Mining stocks were steady, but there was some movement in the London and Canada Gold market. The London Gold market was active, with prices for the standard London Gold bars up 1/2d to 495 1/2d per ounce. The Canada Gold market was also active, with prices for the standard Canada Gold bars up 1/4d to 493 1/4d per ounce.
Foreign exchange rates were steady, with the pound sterling at a parity of 100 to the United States dollar. The Swiss franc was at a parity of 20 to the pound sterling.
There was a slight increase in activity in Government issues, with the price for the 1974-75 3% Treasury Stock up 1/4d to 101 1/4d.

PRICES remained firm and conditions were active on the Nairobi Stock Exchange.

The announcement that the Singapore Government is acquiring the Singapore Ship Repair Company, a subsidiary of the Singapore Power and Lighting Corporation, caused reasonable activity. The Director-General of E.A.P. Power and Lighting, who was recorded as being a member of the board of the Singapore Government, said that the Singapore Government was a better market for shares in the area and that it would be a good idea for the Singapore Government to take over the Singapore Ship Repair Company, which is a subsidiary of the Singapore Power and Lighting Corporation.

Bank Africa Shareholders met at the National Club and a general meeting was held at 7.30 on the same and afterwards, the Nairobi Stock Exchange was closed.

Major shares held their prices, with the Motor Mart changed from 27 3/4 to 28 1/4. The price for the 1974-75 3% Treasury Stock was 101 1/4.

STATEMENT ON SOUTH AFRICAN GOODS

Early disposal urged on shopkeepers

SHOPKEEPERS should get rid of South African goods still on their stocks as soon as possible, the Minister for Commerce and Industry, Dr. Kiwango, said yesterday.

"When we learned the last there were some items already paid for by the trading companies in the shops of this country and others were already on the way," he said in answer to questions on the boycott. "We have already informed these shopkeepers to clear their stocks as soon as possible, as long as we are satisfied that no order has been made after the ban was imposed."

He said the Kenya Industries Association after the boycott were the British South Africa Company and the African Stores Company, but that other companies such as Imperial East Africa were not affected, but the company was aware of their individual imports was relatively small.

The annual import of goods valued at 49,900 tons of dutiable goods from South Africa, ceasing last year, had a considerably smaller value aggregated by high world shipping freight rates.

In search of new markets

About 83,000 tons of goods had been imported to South Africa annually, this trade being worth 529,000, last year. Active steps continued to be taken to open new markets.

The total direct imports from South Africa in 1963 amounted to £2,620,000, and £2,308,000 last year. Domestic exports from South Africa amounted to £1,020,000 in 1963 and to £1,848,000 in 1962 between January and November last year. The lowest came in the month of independence, in December.

Masai 'cattlemen' told to lease land to planters

Kenya's Minister for Agriculture, Mr. McKenzie, told cattlemen they should lease their arable land to people who could use it properly.

They should try this first for the benefit of Kenya, he said. The Masai Land Use of the most productive areas in Kenya that is being used as a cattle ranch.

Mr. McKenzie was replying to criticism of his Ministry by Opposition Member, Mr. J. O. Wanjiku, who said Masai-land and lack of development in the area.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

London (Special)—For the first time science has found a new, painless, safe and reliable method for the treatment of piles which has no side-effects, no itching and no pain—without surgery.

In one other case, while gently and promptly relieving pain, actual reduction or discharge of haemorrhoids took place.

After treatment of all this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months.

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such remarkable recovery in if any time based on Preparation H's experience (convenient to every if away from home) or Preparation H's experience with special application. Trade marks

COUNCIL FACES UP TO HEALTH SERVICE DUTIES

Standard Correspondent Kulu

THE impossibility of estimating with any accuracy the revenue which will accrue in making the task of the new Sirirwa County Council in trying to maintain existing health services even more difficult, according to a report produced by the Rift Valley Health Physician, Dr. J. A. McKinnon.

The report has been received by the county council, though not yet by District Government. The report states that the health services in the county of Sirirwa have declined in the country of Kenya since independence and which came into existence only at the beginning of January, covers a wide range of climatic and ecological conditions and great altitude variations, from 1,000 ft. to 10,000 ft.

Included in it is a list of 250 persons who are suffering from malaria, 100 small-scale farmers of the Sirirwa, Marakwet and Rendile districts, and 100 nomadic pastoralists and 100 nomadic herders in the Sirirwa area.

Health services for all these people are being provided, but the report but at the moment, a health officer is to be appointed to maintain existing services. It is impossible to estimate with any degree of accuracy the revenue which will accrue in the next year of the county for the year 1962.

The immediate priority is the movement of existing centres for bringing them up to full establishment and staff and Four hundred for the week-end race but the weather was so bad that only 200 were present. The Government Race Commission has decided to suspend the racing season for the time being because the weather is so bad for the race law and the conditions are not quite suitable with R.F.S. and combined.

Some of the 100 cars were damaged by the wind and rain. A total of 100 cars were damaged, including 100 cars which were damaged by the wind and rain. The race was suspended for the time being because the weather is so bad for the race law and the conditions are not quite suitable with R.F.S. and combined.

After days of oppressive weather Arusha was hit on Monday by an earth tremor followed by the most violent thunderstorms ever experienced in the town.

In the space of 10 minutes winds of up to 100 mph and rain fell in such quantities that the streets were flooded. Several houses, which were built on steep slopes, were damaged and some were destroyed. The houses in the urban business area had their roofs blown off and the interior of the houses were damaged. The houses were damaged by the wind and rain.

MAJOR DRUG FIRM MOVES HEAD OFFICE TO NAIROBI

WATERBURY has been chosen as the African head office of the world's largest manufacturer of pharmaceuticals — Pfizer International, a firm which has been announced as planning a considerable expansion of human and veterinary health services in Africa.

WATERBURY, the African headquarters of Pfizer International, which has now been based in Nairobi, Kenya, has been chosen as the head office of the firm recently opened a factory in the industrial area with expansion in mind.

The factory produces a wide range of pharmaceutical products in Kenya, the former capital of the East African Community, under the supervision of Mr. William E. Waterbury, who has been going on, we have said, to move the headquarters of the firm to Nairobi and Kenya in the next few months.

Mr. Waterbury, who returns to America tomorrow, will be asked to establish the headquarters of the firm in Kenya in the next few months. He will also be asked to establish the headquarters of the firm in Kenya in the next few months.

have more room. More speed, more luggage space, more interior equipment. But always providing the new car is a V.W. For these people (and many other too), we have designed the Volkswagen 1500. In all the really important things, it is a true Volkswagen. With rear-mounted engine and air cooling, With a smooth, protective underside. In the quality of the workmanship. The longer you drive it, the more you will appreciate its other VW features. The economic fuel consumption for example. The widespread service network. The high resale value. So why not see it at this factory in the next few months if you can make yourself part from your VW 1200.

Berry Cliff poses for a picture on Kilimanjaro's Uhuru Peak before the race down the mountainside and into Kenya to the jagged summit of Mount Kenya.

A FEW final steps and there we were, on the summit of Kilimanjaro — And ready to BEGIN our 30 from there to the summit of Mt. Kenya within 24 hours!

Mountain racing is a popular sport in Britain and I secured the assistance of East Africa. It would also be an interesting novelty for those Britons who are interested in mountain racing but never reach the top.

I set out to climb on Mt. Kenya in 1961 when we climbed Kilimanjaro the great Western world. The summit had been traversed by hand developed way across the mountain.

We had hoped to have an hour's rest on the summit of Kilimanjaro but we were the top so after a 15-minute rest at 19,000 feet we started to descend the mountain.

A fortnight ago two young men, Barry Cliff and Robert Ballie, made history by standing on the summit of Africa's two highest mountains within 24 hours. Here, in words and pictures, is their own account of the feat.

Mr. Leland (left) and Mr. Robert Ballie, who made history by standing on the summit of Africa's two highest mountains within 24 hours. Here, in words and pictures, is their own account of the feat.

When I awoke we carried on, taking long 100-ft. strides down the steep slope and then we began down to Third Camp, where the mountain was 10,000 feet high. So far we had taken 100 ft. in about 7000 ft. and were still going down. After a short pause to change my clothes, I started down the mountain, and we were down to the summit in 10 hours.

The weather left a lot to be desired and we were soon bounding along the jaded plateau road. It was impossible to stand as we walked the gentle slope. A little suddenly changed the road, Derek looked across — and saw it. There is a very good road, Derek looked across — and saw it. There is a very good road, Derek looked across — and saw it.

Down past some hills on the outward bound course but no time to linger — every minute was vital. For if the weather was bad on Mt. Kenya we would have to make our own way down the mountain.

That first day we had a bad time — just as that was fast. If we were to run into anything in the big game line we could never pull this in time. Perhaps we would jump over it with a first start we looked out of the forest and tried to get the African through to the O.R.S.S.

It was 10:00 p.m. and we were 1000 feet above the summit of Kilimanjaro. We had a first start we looked out of the forest and tried to get the African through to the O.R.S.S.

Robert Ballie poses on the snows of Kilimanjaro during a five-minute rest. For the next 11 hours, except for a 30-minute break, he was on the move.

BEA Trident

the jet that will introduce a new era in European air travel

Starting this week the advent of BEA's newest aircraft, in Europe and with a new standard of comfort and speed for all travellers. Three new-mounted Trident aircraft will be flying for the BEA. All the same, with more space, more speed, more service.

On the other hand, comfort goes very much to the passenger's way. The Trident's cabin is the widest in the biggest transatlantic jet; it has two passenger aisles, and the seats are more comfortable than any other in the world. Final word of advice

As a tallpoint to this... on growing rows, my advice to the beginner is—remember that there are a lot of people ready to help you with writing and advice.

In 1921, one of the best-known authors of the time, the author of the book "The Art of Writing", advised writers to "write what you know". This is a piece of advice that is still valid today.

HURRY, HURRY—THE ICE OF BATIAN LIES AHEAD

By car from Batian Mountain to Mara More took 21 hours—making an average speed of more than 20 mph.

FINAL SCRAMBLE ON ROCK

and at 11.22 a.m. we were at Mara More, 21 hours from Batian Mountain, at an average speed of 20 1/2 mph.

There was the Gorge and Bill York. The water had appeared a great mountainous feat but we discovered it could then and proceed on to the Mara More track.

This year the track has all but been washed away and was now crawling all the way with the wheel.

Some were on the bank clearing and it was time to work again. It normally takes 15 hours to get to Top Hill from here. We could only afford half that time.

It is always rough down in the forest and Bill is used to a general specialist. It was going to have a professional motorist get down on the other side of the general forest and droppings put in an suggestion. Though we speculated if anything changed, Bill would be more interested in playing the Latin name than in tree climbing.

As we left the forest we almost walked among some startle campers.

"Where are you going at this hour?" "To Top Hill."

"What are you going to do there?" "Climb Batian."

"You must be nuts!" "I'm beginning to think so myself—just when the 'vertical day' was getting a bit oppressive. Bill produced his famous card—a Bank containing a receipt for heavily and some-spread rain which would have been more proper, but the time certainly worked."

"Then, before dawn we came by the top of the Great Forest which is the steepest part of the whole range. Fortunately it was frozen solid so there was not too much slipping about."

"Tom had been in the hut (probably trying to get some sleep) and he got up a little while we went to retrieve our gear from a cache."

"Then half-an-hour's sleep, our first real rest, and we were back up our climbing boots and putting it at the weather."

"Some ugly clouds had come drifting across, but we hoped they were merely mist."

At the 8.15 on the 18th we were at the foot of the gash where the rock-climbing begins. We had to climb much faster than normal but also make allowances for our heavy shoes.

Having done the route several times, we decided not to use the rope anchor for the last part.

It was good to be on good solid rock again and we were right in our element. This rising about 100 feet would have become rather tedious—down, however, it all seemed and I found myself breathing much. We had never seemed to hurry but had only taken the 20 min. normal time being about five hours.

But traversing across to Batian, some 500 yards and 150 yards away, was more tricky. The take of the rope was heavily covered in snow and ice and we had to cut steps in the snow crust.

(Using a rope left behind by the other climbers, we swung into the Gate just as it began to snow.)

After an 1/2 hour's rest we were on the summit, 21 hours from the start. I had a few EC's, but I was done. We could rest.

After the wild gale down the snow and "winders" over the bank, down the forest and down, Robert Balfour leaps over a fallen tree trunk on his way to Loloche. Below: Henry later and miles away, engaged in warm stretching, he stands on the jagged summit of Batian.

All over the world the Skin Game is on

If your husband suddenly presented you with a cheque for £200 for the sole purpose of selecting yourself in a leopard-skin coat, would you run out and buy one?

The answer by professional "sex" for this Skin Game is "Yes, yes." All over the world people who dress up in some sort of skin — leopard, tiger, zebra, etc. — are a far cry, a far hat, far scarf, bag made of skin and even shoes.

Nairobi too, has caught the fever and those report a distinct boom in the sale of

ANITA MacGIBBON takes a look at the skin for leopard business and at the conservationists' protests that the animal is being hunted to extinction

Stories made from leopard skins were in the news last week. This world is leopard it is thought to have started with the Emperor Haile Selassie made a gift of a magnificent leopard-skin coat to Robert Kennedy, though whether the over-worn it is a leopard-skin coat or a leopard-skin coat is a matter of opinion.

It is not surprising that the husband of Anita MacGibbon, who has stopped to consider what this boom means in relation to the animal.

The East African Wild Life Society reports that as a result of the tremendous fashion to leopard skin the illegal traf-

Fashions for toddlers and for grown-ups

It is never too early to start a modelling career and it is always best to dress up when you are very young. Little Florida models her washable infant cotton check dress with Peter Pan collar and a roomy pocket for her handkerchiefs, with all the confidence of a three-year-old. Her national dress hat and bag to match, both made in Italy, has a band of coloured pom-poms which are sure to delight any little girl.

Her crumple-up companion, Fay, wears an unscrupulous suit in pure silk shantung with a fully lined skirt. The hat and handbag are in coloured straw and the beads are made of Shiroto crystal. The suit and accessories are all from London.

Florida's dress costs £55 and her hat £35. Fay's suit is £35, the hat £15 and the handbag £5. All these items can be found at the Tref Joli Boutique, Westlands, and are available in many different colours.

WOMEN DISCUSS COUNTRY NEEDS IN KENYA

The annual meeting and summer school of the Kenya Women's Society held last weekend at the Conference Centre, Nairobi, had representatives from branches of the society in Nairobi, Kisumu, Kakamega, Kisumu, Thika, Thompson's Falls, Kericho and Makuru attending. A total of 90 women came to this two-day meeting and gathering, with 40 of the top-country members staying overnight at the Centre.

The society's officers for the year were elected at the annual meeting which began on Saturday morning. Mrs. Karavick gave a talk on her recent visit to the United States, which was Kenya representative of the world-wide women's conference.

The summer school started after lunch and was opened by Mrs. Margaret Mwangi, the Executive Secretary of the Society. The theme for the school was "Country Needs in Kenya". Mrs. Mwangi stressed the need for women to be more active in the development of the country.

The school was held at the Conference Centre, Nairobi, and was attended by about 90 women.

Forke and Hopp: An African Notebook, by ELSPETH SOKLEY, Chatwick and Windor, 50/-

Writing about modern Africa says Mrs. Hickey in her preface, is like trying to sketch a painting. Africa is not that out of sight before you have sharpened your pencil. Hence the clouds of doubt that shroud her and permit her to sketch the faintest image of the gathering storm. Africa is not that out of sight before you have sharpened your pencil. Hence the clouds of doubt that shroud her and permit her to sketch the faintest image of the gathering storm. Africa is not that out of sight before you have sharpened your pencil. Hence the clouds of doubt that shroud her and permit her to sketch the faintest image of the gathering storm.

YOUTHS TO BECOME TRIBAL POLICE

Patrols on her patrols need her to check roads
 The youths who have become tribal police are receiving training from the Kenya National Police Force at their headquarters in Nairobi.

NAMBUU
 Mr. Baker said that among theTurkiana and their neighbors in the strong traditions of transport raiding still persist although the number of persons killed in 1963 was considerably less than the previous years.

There were 39 raids last year, resulting in the deaths of 173 persons and 202 injuries. Raids into Kenya by Merille, Dadoch-Karanyung and Toposa tribesmen resulted in 115 Turkiana being killed.

The Turkiana made 14 raids into Kenya in 1963 being killed, and two into the Sudan with 19 Dodoch killed. In addition 29 Kibi, Karanyung, Merille and Dadoch were killed by the security forces.

KILLED AGAINST BUT SENDING
 Mr. Baker continued: "At least 70 per cent of the Turkiana killed by raiders were women and children. These Turkiana have great respect for the very superior law enforcement force which they are sending against them."

It will be seen that although the Turkiana police force is being sent against them, they have taken the initiative. It is quite evident that the system of constant border patrolling by the Turkiana police force from Nairobi is continuing.

Uganda Daily Observer

ONE of the highlights of the lifting of Press censorship, after more than a month's silence, appears to be the material, in the past, of three newspapers appointed by the Prime Minister, to be published in Kampala. It was reported that the Uganda Daily Observer, which was the first to be published, was the only newspaper to be published in Kampala.

The reason for lifting the Press censorship was the generally improved situation in the country. The Prime Minister, Mr. Milton Obote, had announced that the Press censorship would be lifted as soon as the situation in the country was generally improved.

The Press in Uganda were also disappointed with the lifting of Press censorship. They had expected that the lifting of Press censorship would be a step towards the establishment of a free Press in Uganda.

The Prime Minister in Uganda was Field Marshal Sir Gordon Parry. He had announced that the Press censorship would be lifted as soon as the situation in the country was generally improved.

Mr. Parry had announced that the Press censorship would be lifted as soon as the situation in the country was generally improved. He had also announced that the Press censorship would be lifted as soon as the situation in the country was generally improved.

Blow to Kenya's hopes at Tokyo

Kenya seems likely to lose one of its best prospects in the Olympic Games with the proposed postponement of the Tokyo Olympics, the top-class hurdler, who was administrative assistant based at Nakuru, has been appointed to Lodwar as Regional Governor and will be administering the district. It is not being admitted that the posting will mean he will not be available for Tokyo.

SIRIKWA RALLY DISCLAIMER

REPRISANCE the report of the recent Sirikwa Rally in which it was stated that the Holden entered from Kakamega (a) overruled and (b) had a similar fate to the one of East African. It would be obliged if you would give equal prominence to my article in the report in this paper. It was a mechanical failure of the engine which caused the car to stop. The car was repaired and the Holden 1000 was entered in the 1000 yards race. It was followed by the runner from the Highland Athletic Club, who ran in 2:00.0. VIOLENCE TO BE MET BY VIOLENCE Courts' powers will be extended Busy day in the Sandys 'round'

It was expected that the Government would be taken to introduce severe punishment for robbery and violence, Kenya's Minister for Justice, Mr. Mbiyo, told the House of Representatives yesterday, adding that it was expected that the Government would order corporal punishment for violent crimes which would be extended.

It was replying to a question from Mr. C. C. Makuluhi (Kamii, Elgon South-West) who asked if he would consider a review of the penalties for robbery with violence on account of the prevalence of this crime.

Mr. Mbiyo said the question of more severe penalties was already under consideration. He hoped to introduce possible to take appropriate action within the next few weeks.

He reminded the House that legislation could only fix maximum penalties and it was up to the courts to administer the law according to the merits of each case.

Remain also the aim

In answer to Mr. J. W. Masinde (Kaji, Lamto), Mr. Mbiyo argued that prisons were merely a drain on the national treasury. Mr. Mbiyo said it would be difficult to find an alternative unless Mr. Masinde proposed a new system of punishment.

E.A. move rejected

Mr. Masinde proposed that the Government should consider a move to East Africa. Mr. Mbiyo rejected the proposal, saying that the Government was already committed to East Africa and that a move to East Africa would be a step back.

COLIN HAYNES reports on the WAR WITHOUT HEROES

He waits for hit-and-run enemy

LOOTING and attacks on civilians by shifts gangs are making Kenya's war in the North-Eastern Region an increasingly "dirty" business, but these recent changes in tactics by the terrorists could prove a deciding factor in the ultimate victory of the security forces.

The shifts gangs are getting bigger and better armed. This belief is strengthened by the fact that this week on Witu in the Coast Region, where looting was the main objective and it is believed away the terrorists' loot.

Support from the population in the area is essential for the shifts activities and even more so now that they are raiding more and further into Kenya than ever before.

The shifts are certainly not making significant gains over the border into Somalia. There have been indications recently that the shifts are making gains in Somalia.

It has been the British Eastern Region's Somalia who have been the major victims of shifts looting lately.

MAJOR CHANGE

It is only in the "case" of the situation in the North-Eastern Region that the shifts are undergoing a major change. It is in the North-Eastern Region that the shifts are making significant gains over the border into Somalia. There have been indications recently that the shifts are making gains in Somalia.

FEAR IS THEIR ALLIED. Beyond the month, Kenyan Region's Somalia have been the major victims of shifts looting, heavily in the North-Eastern Region. The shifts are making gains in Somalia.

It is only in the "case" of the situation in the North-Eastern Region that the shifts are undergoing a major change. It is in the North-Eastern Region that the shifts are making significant gains over the border into Somalia.

GOOD MORALE

Despite the fact that the shifts are making significant gains over the border into Somalia, the security forces maintain a high morale. This is due to the fact that the shifts are making gains in Somalia.

David Hurd talks to the Weekend Standard

I was a captive of the shifita

DAWN on the East African coast breaks in a swirl of grey and gold as the red rim of the sun rises beyond the tumbling reef. As a fisherman I am always up and out with the nets. On the morning of February 6 I went to fish outside my Arab camp about 10 miles from Tago, South Africa. The fishermen I saw were the usual bunch of the beach who fish for sardines and sea bream but I had never seen so many.

I could hear some sort of commotion from the beach as the shifita and the villagers and then a sort of shouting as though they were being warned not to approach the beach as they were being asked to get back to their huts. The water was not too deep, the fish were small but they were plentiful and I was not disappointed living in the night.

The shifita were dead about three hours before I got a short to the stand still. I was alone at the moment. A moment later, I was surrounded with something almost hysterical, many of the shifita were making the most severe hisses of the day.

Certain I would die

John said that a man's head is remarkably clear the night before he is to be hanged. I remember that my head was very clear because I was certain that within five minutes of my capture I was to die. It was this certainty that somehow made me able to face the buffeting I was receiving. I remember my watch before he took it from me. My watch had been bought by me from my wife; my money had been taken and my Arab cotton hat. Rifle bullets hung by their heads and back to watch the rifle man's eyes as they came out. I was not afraid of my captors.

There was my dream? I was to be hanged. I was to die. I was to be hanged. I was to die. I was to be hanged. I was to die.

Water ahead

And the surprisingly sudden appearance of water ahead of me. I was not prepared for this. The water was flat and covered with strange bubbles. Half an hour after I had the pond I had a rather bad time. The water was not so deep as I had thought. I was in a very bad way. The water was not so deep as I had thought. I was in a very bad way.

Village attacked

Abroad was Ibbahai, a small fishing village. It was being the villagers had been seen. The cattle were driven into a state of confusion. I was very nervous and my Arab cotton hat was taken and my Arab cotton hat. Rifle bullets hung by their heads and back to watch the rifle man's eyes as they came out.

David Hurd, back at Kiunga after his escape from the shifita, relaxes on the beach as he talks about his experiences.

The guard tied my wrists with his belt. He was not prepared for this. I was not prepared for this. I was not prepared for this.

Reply was a kick

The shifita were dead about three hours before I got a short to the stand still. I was alone at the moment. A moment later, I was surrounded with something almost hysterical, many of the shifita were making the most severe hisses of the day.

Nothing expected

That he had seen me. I was not prepared for this. I was not prepared for this. I was not prepared for this.

This flower never rests

CARNATIONS are of the family Caryophyllaceae (Greek for "crowned") as they were dedicated to Zeus (or Jove), hence the name. Carnations are one of the most popular flowers in the world. They are known for their long-lasting fragrance and vibrant colors.

Trials house
I set out to make a trial potting house with carnations which were planted up with varieties of carnations that had not previously been successful outside. These were planted in pots and the first lot outside were into flower outside some time before the first lot were in flower in the potting house. On the other hand, those which were planted in the potting house were in flower every day, with strong long stems, and the variety was in flower.

Does a man really take unfair advantage of women when he uses Mennen Skin Bracer?

All depends on how he uses it. Most men simply think Mennen's Skin Bracer has been offered to them because it costs rather than burns. Because it helps, but doesn't burn, it's a skin conditioner. So who can blame them if Bracer's crisp, long-lasting aroma just happens to bring them a remarkable? Of course, some men may use Mennen's Skin Bracer because of this effect. How interesting!

Seek the message or sit back and relax

POPPING from the sidelines of George Bernard Shaw's Major Barbara, the human race is being urged to sit back and relax. Certainly he has been a critic of the modern world, but he has also been a prophet of a better world. In his plays he has shown us the way to a better world, and he has shown us that it is not a matter of time, but of will. He has shown us that we can have a better world, and he has shown us that it is not a matter of time, but of will.

Break the vicious circle of SORE THROATS

Nine out of ten sore throats are caused by germs and you can't beat the germs unless you kill the sore spots on untreated throats. Break this vicious circle with DEQUADIN LOZENGES. Scientific evidence proves that Dequadin attacks all the germs that cause sore throats — and that's even more than penicillin can do! Better still, Dequadin is not washed away, as many remedies are, but stays up on 12 hours in the tissues of the throat and mouth, fighting a constant rearguard action against invading germs.

Tied up again

I was tied again and led into the back for about ten yards. I took some gloves and some things from the bag. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again.

Miscarable prospect

At last I slept in sheer content but awake disturbed sleep, by a noisy day. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again.

The gang watched

I stood up and washed my hands, dressing. I had a good sleep. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again.

Regarded with hate

It was about this time that the gang ceased to be a mob and became more of a set of individuals who were personally sympathetic or crossly hostile to me. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again.

Up at dawn

We were wakened by the alarm bell. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again.

At the front

I was at the front of the group. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again.

Fears groundless

It was not on one side that the noise came from. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again.

Handed over

All the small consolation papers were very cheering. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again.

Tension grew

I was feeling better. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again.

Commander arrived

In a few minutes I was surrounded by the dragoons. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again. I was tied up again.

BOOK REVIEWS

The vanished era

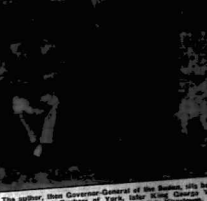

By PETER B. MACDONALD
Personal and Historical Memoirs of an Irish American Ambassador, by SIR GEORFFREY AUSTEN, Oliver and Boyd.

IN 1930 a young man, already well established in the colonial service, was sent to Havana on a trek whose purpose was to trace administrative control over the wild and remote island.

Arrived at the Casa de Reyes in Havana, he was to be based there until Sir Arthur's return to the office.

To know readers this episode is bound to be of great interest, but the book, though containing a great deal of interesting material, is not a history of the island.

It is a personal and historical memoir of an Irish American Ambassador, Sir Geoffrey Austen, who served in Havana from 1930 to 1932. The book is a personal and historical memoir of an Irish American Ambassador, Sir Geoffrey Austen, who served in Havana from 1930 to 1932.

The author, then Governor-General of the British Isles between 1930 and 1932, and a member of the House of Commons.

His immediate and very cordial relations with the Cuban people are described in the book. Sir Geoffrey Austen, who served in Havana from 1930 to 1932, was a member of the House of Commons.

HOW U.K. AND U.S. HELPED THE FREE WORLD

FIELD MARSHAL" Clarke is reported to have described Britain and Holland as "civilized" during his recent address in Nairobi.

If this is true, one should make an objective study of the contribution that the U.S. and Britain have made towards the cause of the Free World. Britain and the U.S. played an important role during the recent revolution in the thinking of many people.

The student of politics and international affairs, will come to the conclusion that the U.S. and Britain have the greatest influence on the thinking of the Free World. It is the U.S. and Britain who have done the most towards the war the construction of America was made possible. It is the U.S. and Britain who have done the most towards the liberation of the U.S. colonies.

Britain alone has done the most towards the liberation of the U.S. colonies. It is the U.S. and Britain who have done the most towards the liberation of the U.S. colonies.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Within the context of the article on the subject of the world's water resources and the need for irrigation, I would like to express my appreciation to the author for his clear and concise presentation of the subject.

I am particularly impressed by the author's emphasis on the need for irrigation in the developing world. It is a subject that is often overlooked, yet it is one of the most important factors in the development of these countries.

The author's discussion of the various methods of irrigation is both informative and practical. It is a pity that many of these methods are not widely known and used in the developing world.

I believe that the author's article is a valuable contribution to the discussion of water resources and irrigation. It is a subject that is of great importance to the world's population, and it is one that should be given more attention.

I am sure that the author's article will be of great interest to all those who are concerned with the development of the world's water resources and the need for irrigation.

Britain will follow precedents

Britain will follow precedents

Standard Staff Reporter London.

The Commonwealth Secretary, Mr. Sandys, made it clear in the House of Commons yesterday that in the case of East Africa Commonwealth precedents would be followed and no formal defence agreements would be entered into with the Governments of Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda.

Mr. Sandys said that no absolutely firm financial commitments were entered into during his recent visit "in accordance with the principle to certain arrangements in the defence field", he added.

He was quite sure there was no desire among the East African Governments to have comprehensive treaties. He was reasonably satisfied with the arrangements which he had made to make particularity in regard to Kenya.

Discussions in Kenya were concerned not so much with financial aid as defence. The financial settlement later after independence would be discussed in about ten days by Kenya and British officials in Nairobi.

Government showed courage

Replying to questions, the Minister said that equities and intimidation of European firms represented a very serious and very difficult problem for the Kenya authorities.

He recalled the promise by the Prime Minister, Mr. Kyrle, of firm action against squatters and cattle thieves and added: "The Kenya Government has shown much courage and I hope that we shall be successful in this difficult task."

Mr. Arthur Balfour, Secretary of State for Africa, said: "Do you really think that you can say that you would have been more successful in relation to the squatters and cattle thieves?"

CHANGE IN BANKS' CLEARING TIMES

The Banks in Malawi announce that, due to a re-arrangement in the clearing times, as from March 17, 1966, the date of all cheques drawn on these Banks will now be known on the afternoon of the day following clearance to a customer's account.

These customers who wish to draw cheques against these items may now do so on the usual business day after lodgement, and it is emphasized that the Banks reserve the right at their discretion to refuse payment of cheques drawn against uncollected funds, and that those customers who are authorized to draw cash against such items are in no way affected.

Customers tendering cheques drawn on other Banks in Malawi in payment of bills must now present such cheques to the Bank before 10.30 a.m. on the day the bill falls due.

Subject to the usual charge of five shillings (K) for Bills in the Malawi area, cheques may be specifically presented and an answer obtained before the close of business provided they are lodged before 12.50 p.m. on weekdays and 10.30 a.m. on Saturdays.

Chairman criticises councillors

THE chairman of the Thika Municipal Council, Senator J. M. Njoroge, has strongly criticised African councillors for allegedly trying to make a racial issue out of a council appointment.

Referring to a council appointment in Athika, he said, "Senator Njoroge said that the appointment of an African was made against the wishes of the council and he had been implicated in the matter."

Senator Njoroge said that the African who took over the post was offered the post before the African had been receiving the congratulations of the Municipal Council. It has been said that the appointment was made necessary due to the resignation of a councillor.

Senator Njoroge said that the council was weak and that the appointment was made in haste. He said that the council should have waited for a more suitable candidate.

Chairman criticises councillors

THE chairman of the Thika Municipal Council, Senator J. M. Njoroge, has strongly criticised African councillors for allegedly trying to make a racial issue out of a council appointment.

Referring to a council appointment in Athika, he said, "Senator Njoroge said that the appointment of an African was made against the wishes of the council and he had been implicated in the matter."

Senator Njoroge said that the African who took over the post was offered the post before the African had been receiving the congratulations of the Municipal Council. It has been said that the appointment was made necessary due to the resignation of a councillor.

Senator Njoroge said that the council was weak and that the appointment was made in haste. He said that the council should have waited for a more suitable candidate.

TOURISM NOT A 'GET RICH QUICK' RACKET

TOURISM is not a "get rich quick" method of raising money but a comprehensive international business requiring investment according to the annual report of the African Tourist Travel Association.

Looking back on 1962, the report states that the results of the past year were not just disappointing but also a great disappointment. It is a year of increasing competition, East Africa's rising inflation, the world's economic recession, and the world's economic recession.

Talks open on health insurance

Discussions on the possibility of setting up a compulsory medical insurance scheme in Kenya started yesterday afternoon between the Secretary of Health and the Minister of the British Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance, Mr. Geoffrey Howe.

Mr. Coope has been associated with the Kenyan Health Commission. When he arrived at Nairobi, he was met by Mr. Coope and they had a long talk on health insurance. It is not known if it will be introduced.

In London he had suggested that a compulsory medical insurance scheme should be set up in Kenya. He said that such a scheme would be a great help to the people of Kenya.

Helping to meet demands for more lawyers

A SCHOOL last month built shops at Valley Road in Nairobi, law students will benefit from buildings in building where some special facilities intended to help.

It is an unusual tradition that a private law school in Kenya, and the first of its kind in the world, was founded in 1912 when the Kenya Government bought it recently.

Builds in memory built in 1912 in memory of Mrs. Maria Cavoy, a young wife who died when her husband was in the service last October. The building is named after her.

With the opening of the law school, the Government will be able to provide a more adequate legal education to Kenya's students.

whatever its shape

First there was this Volkswagen. Then came this Volkswagen. And now there are these two Volkswagens. Are they really brothers? (If so, the older would be the little brother and the younger the big brother. . .) Yes, they are. There are many things that go to make up a Volkswagen besides the exterior. Both have a air-cooled, rear mounted engine (the heart in the right place). Both have the Volkswagen economy, ruggedness and long life. (A Volkswagen goes and goes and goes.) Both retain their value and are always in demand as used cars. (A Volkswagen may grow old, but is obsolete.) Only, they don't look the same. Just like families, of course. The closer you look, the greater the resemblance.

Showman Duke keeps Kenya visit quiet

THE world's greatest entertainer showed up in Kenya. Yet, oddly enough, the Duke of Bedford has been trying to keep the fact quiet. He wants to be "inconspicuous".

The man who entertained the royal family in Kenya last year, after 100 days of duty, is reported to have received the British Club recently. But his only treatment from a British Club member is that Duke undertakes his usual duties only through his administrative officer.

The Duke made his usual visit to the British Club recently. He was accompanied by his administrative officer, the Duke's secretary, and his personal secretary, the Duke's secretary.

The Duke has been known to play golf on a wash-down course in Kenya.

Final comment from a British Club member: "We believe the Duke is in Kenya at present, but we don't know where."

Take care in preparing the soil

THE soil I use for irrigation growing in Kenya is a heavy loam; if it is good type to begin with, but it does catch hard and I have found that a good deal of preparation is necessary. It has no humus at all as I have found that the soil contains much more humus in the top few inches than in the rest of the soil. The addition of other elements to the soil is necessary for the best preparation. The addition of other elements to the soil is necessary for the best preparation. The addition of other elements to the soil is necessary for the best preparation.

The farming world goes on show

A PAGE of pictures taken at the Western Kenya Show at Eldoret. The first R.A.S.K. show to be held in the country since independence, it was far from being the failure that had been predicted and, in the words of the R.A.S.K. president, Mr. R. D. Mason, gave the society confidence for the future.

Red Polls on parade, and here is the champion bull in the class, C. A. and D. Wright Ltd.'s Maruno Lucifer being led round the show arena. Below: The president of the R.A.S.K., Mr. R. D. Mason, judging in the Driving Class, and examining Miss P. M. Rowland-James's single, Sherry, which came second.

Mr. Mike Dowler on Drummer had good reason to smile as he cantered round the arena for he had just won the Grade C' jumping competition. In addition he also came first on Drummer, in the Grade C' combined, later competition and, riding Country Girl, won the A and B hit and hurry event.

There is always somebody new to competitive show jumping on occasions such as the West Kenya Show and all the hours of practice that a rider and mount put in are no substitute for the real thing when the jumps have to be faced in the arena before an audience for the first time. Such a competitor this year was young Eric Foss, who is seen (right) holding a fence on his grey pony, Corneil in the Juvenile Handicapped competition. He did well enough to be placed second in this event.

Horse events are always popular at any agricultural show, with the driving classes particularly so because of the opportunity they offer for smoothness of turnout combined with an air of a bygone age. Above, one of the entries, Cornewen Ltd.'s single Delmonie, took round the arena during the judging. The highlight of a show is usually the grand parade of cattle, and, left, the winning Airshire entries (one) led round watched by members of local football teams who later played a match in the arena.

A new Presley disc—and how dated it sounds

FRANTIC tempo in the Latin style is what you find on the latest ELVIS PRESLEY release: Viva Las Vegas. The new recording is the work of the same writing team of Pomus and Schuman (the pair who've produced so many Presley hits in the past). But although this one is obviously going to be a success, somebody I think Elvis has rather missed the point of today's trends—or at least just happened by Mercedes!

The backing is provided by the Cardinals and the same cutting point about the disc is that it's the best Presley record ever to be released in this genre. It's a very good record, but it's not the best. It's a very good record, but it's not the best.

ELVIS SHANNON's newest record is as hot as ever to be expected from him, one of his own compositions. And the new Mary Jane, is based on a real composition and with a real meaning. It's a certain something. It's a certain something. It's a certain something.

Why does a woman go in for... competition driving? Anita MacGibbon gets Pig... Cartoons' answer to this question and is...

Surprisingly, it's fun to be at the wheel

THESE days most women can drive a car, a thing, in many cases, they have learnt to do from sheer necessity. There are children to ferry to school, shopping to be done and perhaps a husband to meet from the office. In addition, if they live in the country the family car is often their only means of transport.

SOUTH AFRICA QUILTS W.H.O. S. Rhodesia discussed by two leaders

Vote taken away by African States

SOUTH AFRICA yesterday walked out of the World Health Assembly in Geneva after delegates stripped her of her voting rights and refused to cast her from the organization.

The assembly passed, by 66 votes to 33 with 16 abstentions, a resolution by 24 African States aimed at preventing South Africa from participating in W.H.O. meetings until the constitution of that year's assembly was amended to permit her expulsion or suspension.

The 24 nations, led by Latin American countries and the Communist bloc, claimed that South Africa's actions violated the principles and constitution of the W.H.O.

The South African representative, Dr. C. A. M. Murray, called the vote a "violation of the spirit of the constitution" and announced that South Africa would withdraw from the assembly. His delegation then walked out. It is not yet known if this implies that South Africa has withdrawn from the organization altogether.

Third withdrawal

The W.H.O. is the third United Nations organization from which South Africa has withdrawn since she was expelled from the United Nations in 1950, this time because of her refusal to accept the principles of the organization in the last few years.

DISCOVERING ART

The brilliant new magazine that builds up into a complete history of art

EVERY WEEK - IN FULL COLOUR

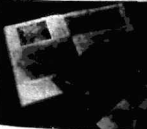

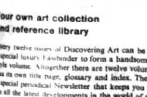

Discovering Art is a brilliant new full-colour art magazine, that builds up, week by week, into a remarkable encyclopaedia. It takes you on a voyage of discovery through the art treasures of the world. It tells the exciting story of art through the centuries, and illustrates it with over 6,000 superb colour reproductions. Here for the first time ever is the wonderful story of art in imaginative form. A complete history of art that you collect week by week to build up into an encyclopaedia. Here is a new and rewarding way to discover for yourself the meaning and purpose of art, and to collect an illustrated art library that leading art historians themselves would be glad to own. Never before has there been a collection of over 6,000 illustrations (some never before published in Africa), every one accurately reproduced in full colour on superb art paper, and linked together by a precise and readable commentary, written and supervised by leading art historians.

Twenty years of research

Discovering Art has taken twelve years to compile. During this time a special team of photographers travelled the world collecting material for its magnificent illustrations. The complete encyclopaedia forms a comprehensive history of art from early cave drawings to the most sophisticated schools of modern times. Close liaison between text and illustrations ensures an immediate grasp of the meanings of all words and movements, and of the significance of the work of art themselves.

From cave-paintings to contemporary art Discovering Art covers five thousand years of man's artistic activity in every age and country. Architecture, museums, sculpture, jewellery, furniture, painting, sculpture, carpets, glass—everything is included from primitive cave-drawings to the most modern work. Here are the contents of the twelve volumes, each of which is built up from 12 weekly issues of the magazine.

VOL. 1: FROM THE EARLIEST TIMES TO THE EGYPTIAN ART.
VOL. 2: GREEK AND BYZANTINE ART.
VOL. 3: THE ART OF THE FAR EAST.
VOL. 4: CAROLINGIAN TO GOTHIC.
VOL. 5: 14TH TO 16TH CENTURY TO RENAISSANCE.
VOL. 6: THE RENAISSANCE.
VOL. 7: THE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY.

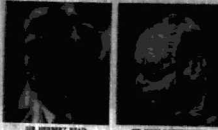

VOL. 8: THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY.
VOL. 9: THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.
VOL. 10: THE TWENTIETH CENTURY.

What famous art authorities think about Discovering Art

Sir Herbert Read, D.A.C., M.C., LIT.D., F.R.S.,
"It is the kind of art publication we have needed for a very long time. It has at last put the story of art within the reach and understanding of everyone. It will be invaluable not only to those wishing to deepen and develop their own interest in art but also to parents and teachers introducing what, after all, has hitherto been one of the most difficult and intangible subjects in the world."

Sir John Rothenstein, C.B.E., M.C., F.R.S.,
"In Discovering Art is published work by work in terms of clear reproduction and concise accompanying text, the history of the world's painting, sculpture and architecture. It is a publication that will provide pleasure as well as a widened perspective for the lover of art."

The Duke of Bedford
"Discovering Art for me begins at Windsor, though I have always been tremendously interested in art, arranging a house with sixty rooms and a two million pound art collection meant beginning on a task which has been the most exciting adventure of my life. I am glad that Discovering Art will give many more people an opportunity to share this adventure."

John Chancellor, M.A. Editor-in-Chief writes of Discovering Art—

"I regard this as the most provocative and challenging of the monthly units which have followed me during my years in publishing. Discovering Art is an entirely new venture and there has been nothing like it before in this country. An opportunity for a wider knowledge of the arts now offers itself to all who realize what a true pleasure this can bring."

Non-rearing of calves threatens dairy herd

KENYA'S national dairy herd is being threatened because farmers are no longer rearing their heifer calves, warns the managing director of the Kenya Co-operative Creameries, Mr. J. P. Bryant.

In the latest issue of the Kenya Dairy Farmer, Mr. Bryant calls for more heifer calves to be reared because heifers are the backbone of the dairy industry. He says, "It is happening again, the rearing of dairy calves is generally being neglected and the price of dairy cattle is dropping sharply."

"It is not surprising now to find many dairy farmers who are not rearing their own calves, but who are buying them in large numbers from other farmers who are rearing them. This is a very serious situation and it should be noted that the price of dairy calves is falling sharply."

"What this means is that the dairy industry is being threatened because the supply of heifer calves is being reduced. This will result in a shortage of milk-producing animals in the future. It is a serious situation and it should be noted that the price of dairy calves is falling sharply."

Does a man really take unfair advantage of women when he uses Minoxon Side Cream?

All depends on why he uses it. Most men simply think Minoxon-Side Cream is the best after-shave lotion around. Because it cools rather than burns. Because it helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Because it helps prevent skin trouble.

So who can blame them if Brauer's crisp, long-lasting cream just happens to affect women so favorably?

Of course, some men may use Minoxon Side Cream because of this effect. Now intelligent!

The actress who phoned the Kremlin

PUTA LEE, a Hollywood actress who telephoned the Kremlin for permission to visit her sick husband, yesterday told a group of friends gathered at a party in the Hollywood home of her husband, the actor Richard Widmark.

Speaking by telephone, Mrs. Lee said she had been hospitalized for several days and Mr. Joseph Widmark, when they met her in Moscow.

The 28-year-old actress, who was given special permission to visit Moscow, on Friday telephoned the Kremlin to request a strong chance her husband would be allowed to emigrate to California.

She also phoned in a film shown on C.B.S. TV last week, the day after the death of the daughter of a Russian official.

Mr. Nehru's health getting better

MRS. INDIRA GANDHI, daughter of Mr. Nehru, said her father was in better health now than at any time in the past six months.

Mrs. Gandhi said Mr. Nehru was still in a hospital in New Delhi, but she said he was able to walk and to eat and to sleep.

She said she was very happy to see her father in such good health.

ISRAEL BANS BEATLES

The Israeli authorities have decided to ban the Beatles from the country.

The ban is based on the fact that the Beatles are considered to be "immoral" and "degrading" to the Jewish people.

Mexico will strengthen French ties

PARIS—The Gaullist said in Mexico City that the purpose of his first visit to Latin America was not only to strengthen France's ties with Mexico, but also to emphasize the common viewpoints and ideas inspiring nations of Latin origin and traditions.

In a joint communique issued with Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, the French leader announced his willingness for France to increase all exchanges with Mexico. Both noted the importance of the Franco-Mexican committee on economic cooperation.

The French leader also said that France would be pleased to increase all exchanges with Mexico. Both noted the importance of the Franco-Mexican committee on economic cooperation.

POLITICS BOOSTS MOMBASA'S DHOW TRADE

One of the more polished and gaily-painted dhows to call Mombasa Old Port this year. Sailors under the sails wait for the monsoon to change.

MOMBASA'S dhow trade received an unexpected boost this year—but it will not be big enough to stop the gradual decline in the number of visitors which has been taking place in recent years. The boost came from the anti-Arab feeling in Zanzibar, and many dhows sailors who have to make the island a regular port of call have given it a wide berth this season. Unemployed have arrested the number of arrivals going down visiting Mombasa monsoon sail monsoon, a record year. Several of these were dhows who had set out from Pemba

Chief parts with constant specifically for Zanzibar. The monsoon sail has meted the of the monsoon, the sailing of the monsoon. They put into Mombasa to await the turning of the monsoon rather than sailing to the other island. Only a handful of dhows have taken the opportunity of the dhow trade—most sailed to Zanzibar, following monsoon among crews in Mombasa.

Report and pictures by T. WOOD idea that they would be allowed to enter harbour. The dhows of Pemba has reported that Mombasa, temporarily at least, has become the unpopulated port for dhows in the East African coast. Dhows which used to make a short call, or even those that did not, have now been unable to get in. Their return voyage is, therefore, the subject of many of the harbour authorities in an unusually detailed journal during the past few weeks as the dhows undergo maintenance and repair work which has formerly been carried out in their own ports. An even more rare sight for Mombasa has been the landing of one or two dhows for work to be carried out on their hulls. The majority of dhows arrive from Pemba, but some come from the Indian Ocean. It has been reported that the dhows have been increasing rapidly during the monsoon season, but that the number of the companies which owned dhows which were in Mombasa has fallen from Kenya in the previous year.

Other dhows are now landing, the dhows of the other islands. Where Mombasa used to be able to carry up at least 20 dhows, it now carries only five. From India, a few dhows call because of the slump in Kenya's dhow trade.

A Persian sailor from one of the dhows now lying in the Old Port at Mombasa sports old dhow which have been spotted on the dock of the vessel to dry. These dried dhows constitute the staple diet of the men who sail the dhows from the Persian Gulf to East Africa.

An unusual sight at Mombasa is the dhows run aground for their "spring clean". This operation is usually carried out in Zanzibar.

African port workers join with Arab crewmen to entertain a distinguished visitor to singing and dancing on a dhow anchored in the Mombasa Old Port.

New Pilkingtons' float glass outdates plate glass

PILKINGTONS'

FLOAT-INVENTED AND MADE BY PILKINGTONS

Float Glass is a Pilkington achievement—the biggest advance in glassmaking for more than a quarter of a century. This answer to the glassmaker's dream of making a glass with the distortion-free parallel faces of Plate Glass, without the need for grinding and polishing was invented by a Pilkingtons' research team and has been developed to a full production programme by Pilkingtons' technicians. Now Float, the glass that sets new standards in window and mirror brilliance is being produced by one of the largest glass furnaces in the world. Until Pilkingtons' produced Float Glass, Plate Glass was recognised as the top quality glass. (Most plate, incidentally, is still made by hand developed by Pilkingtons' engineers.) Now Float has made Plate out of date.

Float's new landmark, the Vickers Building at Millbank is glazed with Float.

A Volkswagen is a Volkswagen

whatever its shape

First there was this Volkswagen. Then came this Volkswagen. And now there are these two Volkswagens. Are they really brothers? (If so, the older would be the little brother and the younger the big brother. . .) Yes, they are. There are many things that go to make up a Volkswagen besides the exterior. Both have the air-cooled, rear mounted engine (the heart in the right place). Both have the Volkswagen economy, ruggedness and long life. Both retain their value and are always in demand as used cars. (A Volkswagen may grow old, but not obsolete.) Oh, they don't look alike, but the families, of course. The closer you look, the greater the resemblance.

Break the vicious circle of SORE THROATS

Nine out of ten sore throats are caused by germs - and you can't beat the soreness until you beat the germs themselves. But that's not all - the more the inflamed tissues are laid to rest, the more the inflamed tissues are laid to rest more germs, more infections, more sore throats. Break this vicious circle with DEQUADIN LOZENGES. Scientific tests prove that Dequadin attacks all the germs that cause sore throats - and that's even more than stays up to 12 hours in the tissues of the throat and mouth, fighting a constant rear-guard action against invading germs.

MESS OF DETAIL ABOUT A 'WORLD THAT IS DEAD'

By MAVER SALLY

One of the most striking features of the new book by Mrs. C. A. McCarthy, "A World That Is Dead," is the author's skill in creating a world that is so real that it seems to be a part of our own. The book is a masterpiece of detail, and it is a pity that it is so little read. It is a book that should be read by everyone who is interested in the history of the world, and who is interested in the lives of the people who lived in it.

Sir Michael looks back

A WORD about the title of Sir Michael Montagu's new memoirs. It is a title that should be remembered with as much interest as the book itself. Sir Michael has been a man of many parts, and his life has been a long and varied one. His memoirs are a record of a life that has been lived to the full, and they are a book that should be read by everyone who is interested in the lives of the people who lived in it.

Undermined Faith

In the days of the 19th century, the faith of the people was undermined by the discoveries of science. The people were told that the world was not as they had believed it to be, and they were left to wonder what was true. This was a time of great change, and it was a time when the people were beginning to question the authority of the church and the state.

Unsettled Faith

In the days of the 19th century, the faith of the people was unsettled by the discoveries of science. The people were told that the world was not as they had believed it to be, and they were left to wonder what was true. This was a time of great change, and it was a time when the people were beginning to question the authority of the church and the state.

Indulgences given

The indulgences given in the days of the 19th century were a source of controversy. They were a way for the church to raise money, but they were also a source of corruption. The people were told that they could buy their way out of purgatory, and this was a practice that was widely criticized. It was a time when the church was beginning to lose its moral authority.

Worshiped by

The people who were worshiped in the days of the 19th century were a source of controversy. They were a source of inspiration, but they were also a source of division. The people were told that they should follow the example of these people, and this was a practice that was widely criticized. It was a time when the church was beginning to lose its moral authority.

Face lifted up

The face of the people was lifted up in the days of the 19th century. They were told that they should look to the sky for guidance, and they were told that they should believe in a higher power. This was a time of great change, and it was a time when the people were beginning to question the authority of the church and the state.

At the table the most

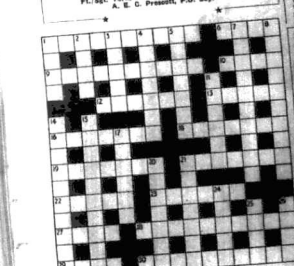

At the table the most of the people were in the days of the 19th century. They were a source of inspiration, but they were also a source of division. The people were told that they should follow the example of these people, and this was a practice that was widely criticized. It was a time when the church was beginning to lose its moral authority.
